§ 28. The improvement bonds issued hereunder shall take the place of and have the same force, validity and effect as assessment liens that the assessments would have had if no bonds had been issued, and the lien of said bonds shall not be held or construed to be merely contractual. Said bonds shall by their issuance be conclusive evidence of the regularity and validity of all proceedings leading up thereto. The amount due upon any such bond shall be a lien upon the lot described in such bond superior to all other liens, charges and encumbrances, except the liens of prior assessment and of municipal, state and county taxes.

Sale of bonds.

§ 29. Improvement bonds or any number of such bonds, issued hereunder, except as otherwise provided in this act, shall be sold to the highest cash bidder, after advertisement for bids, which advertisement shall be published for at least three times in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or if there be no such daily newspaper, then such advertisement shall be published at least once in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper so published and circulated, or shall be sold in such other manner as the legislative body may determine. If any bond be sold for an amount in excess of par such excess shall be paid into such fund of the city as the legislative body thereof may prescribe. The proceeds of the sale of such improvement bond shall be paid into the fund of the proceeding to represent assessments in which said bonds were issued.

Unsold bonds turned into fund. Contractor may advance incidental expenses.

§ 30. Any bonds not sold at the full expiration of fifteen days after the completion of the publication of the advertisement provided for in the preceding section shall be turned into the fund for the improvement for which the assessment is made, and shall be deemed and treated as so much money in said fund, and shall upon final acceptance of said improvement be issued to and accepted by the contractor for the work, or his assigns, in payment pro tanto of the contract price of said improvement, provided there is sufficient money in the said fund to pay all incidental expenses and all awards of damages that must be paid prior to the doing of the work. Whenever in the proceedings for any improvement bonds are authorized under the provisions of this act, and at the expiration of fifteen days after the completion of the publication of said advertisement, there is not sufficient money in the fund for the improvement to pay the incidental expenses and the amount of any award or awards or damages that must be paid prior to the doing of the work, the contractor may advance to the fund for said improvement an amount sufficient to pay said incidental expenses and damages, and receive therefor bonds in sufficient amount, at their par value, exclusive of any accrued interest thereon, to equal the amount advanced by him. If the said contractor in such event fails, neglects or refuses for a period of ten days after written notice from the city treasurer that said fifteen days from the completion of the publication of said advertisement has expired, and that there is not sufficient money in said fund to pay said incidental expenses and said awards of damages, to advance to said fund a sum sufficient for said purposes, the legislative body of the municipality may, in its discretion, declare said contracts forfeited, and said contractor shall thereupon lose all rights under said contract.

Bonds in satisfaction of damages.

§ 31. The owner of any property assessed, to whom damages have been awarded, as provided in this act, may take such bonds, or any thereof, in lieu of, or in satisfaction pro tanto of, such damages. When so taken such bond shall be deemed to have been sold to such owner and the amount of damages to which he is entitled shall be reduced by the amount of such bonds so taken at their par value. Such owner may, also, at any time after such assessment becomes payable, and before the sale of said property for non-payment thereof, demand of the street superintendent that such assessment, or any number of such assessments, be offset against the amount of damages to which he is entitled. Thereupon, if the amount of such damages be equal to or greater than such assessments, including any penalties and costs due thereon, the assessments shall be marked "paid by offset"; and if said amount be less than said assessments, and any penalties and costs due thereon, the person demanding such offset shall at the same time pay the difference to the street superintendent in money, and the assessment shall, on such payment, be marked paid, the entry showing what part thereof is paid by offset and what part in money.

Advance from general fund to pay incidental expenses.

§ 32. The legislative body of any municipality may, in its discretion, upon the failure of any contractor to advance sufficient money to the fund devoted to any improvement to pay the incidental expenses and the awards of damages as hereinabove provided, advance from the general fund, or from such fund as said legislative body may designate, to said fund the amount necessary for such purposes. Whereupon the city treasurer shall issue to said city bonds of the improvement in an amount equal at their par value to the amount of money so advanced by the said city, and in any event it shall be competent for the city to advance to the appropriate fund the par value of all or any part of said bonds, in which case the said bonds shall be issued to the city, and the said city shall have the same rights in respect to the enforcement and collection thereof as other purchasers. Where the city advances money as in this section provided, it shall have full authority at any time to sell said bonds at a point acceptable to the legislative body thereof.

Remaining bonds treated as cash.

§ 33. Whenever the contractor or the city has advanced to the appropriate fund an amount sufficient to pay the incidental expenses and awards, and has received bonds at their par value in an amount equal to the sum so advanced, as hereinbefore provided, the bonds remaining shall be turned into said fund, and shall be treated and regarded as so much money in said fund, and shall upon final acceptance of the work be issued to and received by the contractor in payment pro tanto of the contract price of said improvement.

Sale of lots for delinquent interest on bonds.

§ 34. Whenever, through the default of the owner of any lot or parcel of land upon which such bond is issued to represent the assessment, payment, either of the principal or of the interest, is not made when the same has become due, and the holder of the bond thereupon demands, in writing, that the city treasurer proceed to advertise and sell said lot or parcel of land as herein provided, then the whole bond or its unpaid remainder, with its accrued interest, as expressed in said bond, shall become due and payable immediately, and on the day following shall become delinquent.

Publication of notice. Notice served on owner.

§ 35. Upon the application of the holder of any bond that is now or shall hereafter become delinquent as hereinbefore provided the said city treasurer shall publish twice in a newspaper of general circulation, to be designated by him, published in the city where his office is situated, a notice which must contain the date, number, and series of the delinquent bond, a description of the property mentioned in said bond, and the name of the owner of such property (if known), and if unknown, the fact shall be so stated, the amount due thereon, and a statement that unless the amount of said bond and the interest due thereon, together with the cost of publication of such notice are paid, the real property described in said bond will be sold at public auction on a day to be therein fixed, which shall not be less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of the first publication of said notice, and the place of such sale, which must be in or in front of the office of the said city treasurer. A like notice shall not less than fifteen days before the day of sale so fixed be served upon any such owner if known either personally or by depositing the same in the postoffice at such city addressed to such owner at his address if known with the postage thereon prepaid. At any time prior to the sale, the owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale under the provisions of this act may pay the whole amount of said bond then due, with costs, and such bond shall thereupon be canceled; but in case such payment is not made by such owner or person in possession, or by some one in behalf of such owner, or person in possession, the property subject thereto shall be sold at public auction to the bidder offering to pay the amount due on the bond with costs for the least portion of such lot or parcel of land offered for sale.

Affidavit of publication.

§ 36. The city treasurer, before the day of sale hereinafter provided for, must file with the city clerk a copy of the publication, with an affidavit of the publisher of such newspaper, or some one in his behalf, attached thereto, that it is a true copy of the same; that the publication was made in a newspaper, stating its name and place of publication and the date of each issue thereof in which such publication was made, on which affidavit is prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein.

Expenses.

§ 37. Th city treasurer must collect, in addition to the amount due on such bond, the cost of the publication of such notice, and fifty cents for the certificate of sale delivered to the purchaser as hereinafter provided.

City treasurer's record.

§ 38. The city treasurer, before delivering any certificate of sale, must, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, enter the date, number and series of the bond, description of the lands sold, corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of sale, purchaser's name, the amount paid, regularly number the descriptions on the margin of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection during office hours, when not in actual use, and he shall enter on the record of the bond the words "canceled by sale of the property," giving the date of such sale.

Purchaser's lien on property.

§ 39. Immediately on the sale, the purchaser shall become vested with a lien on the property, so sold to him, to the extent of his bid, and is only divested of such lien by the payment to the city treasurer of the purchase money, including costs herein provided for, with interest thereon, at the rate of one per cent per month from the date of sale.

Redemption of property.

§ 40. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner of the property, or any party in interest, within twelve months from the date of purchase, or at any time, prior to the application for a deed, as hereinafter provided. Redemption must be made in lawful money of the United States, and when made to the city treasurer he must mark the word "Redeemed," the date and by whom redeemed on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made, and credit the amount paid to the purchaser named in the certificate, and pay the same to such purchaser, or his assignee, upon the surrender of the certificate of sale, and upon satisfactory proof of an assignment thereof, if any.

Deed after one year. Notice to owner. Fee for service.

§ 41. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by the provisions of the foregoing section, the city treasurer, or his successor in office, upon application of the purchaser, or his assignee, must make to said purchaser, or his assignee, a deed to the property, reciting in the deed, substantially, the matter contained in the certificate, and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption. The treasurer shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser two dollars for making said deed, which shall be deposited in the city treasury for the use of the city after payment has been made therefrom for the acknowledgment of said deed; provided, however, that the purchaser of the property, or his assignee, or agent, must, thirty days prior to the expiration of the time of the redemption, or thirty days before his application for a deed, serve upon the owner or agent of the property purchased, if named in such certificate of sale, and upon the party occupying the property, if the property is occupied, a written notice, stating that said property, or a portion thereof, has been sold to satisfy the bond lien, the date of sale, the date, number, and series of the bond, the amount then due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire, or when the purchaser will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely, until such notice shall have been given and said deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties, and costs in this act required. In case of unoccupied property, a similar notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property at least thirty days before the purchaser applies for a deed; and no deed to the property sold, in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be issued by the city treasurer to the purchaser of such property until such purchaser shall have filed with such treasurer an affidavit showing that the notice hereinbefore required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavit shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as other records kept by him in his office. Such purchaser shall be entitled to receive the sum of fifty cents for his service of such notice and the making of such affidavit, which sum of fifty cents shall be paid by the redemptioner at the time and in the same manner as the other sums, costs and fees are paid.

Deed as evidence.

§ 42. The deed, when duly acknowledged or proved, shall be conclusive evidence of all things which the bond upon which it is based is conclusive evidence, and prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings subsequent to the issue of the bond, and conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, free of all encumbrances, except the lien for state, county and municipal taxes.

Abandonment of proceedings. Readvertisement for bids.

§ 43. The legislative body of any municipality may, in its discretion, at any time prior to the letting of the contract for any improvement under this act, determine that said proceedings shall be abandoned, which determination shall be declared by ordinance or by resolution entered upon its minutes. Such legislative body may in like manner abandon such proceedings after the letting of such contract in any case where the contractor has failed to begin work within the time provided in this act, or has failed to complete the same within the time specified in the contract, or has failed to diligently prosecute the said work after beginning the same. Such legislative body may also in like manner abandon said proceedings when the contractor has failed, neglected or refused for a period of ten days after receiving the notice from the city treasurer that there is not enough money in the fund for the improvement to pay the incidental expenses and the awards of damages, as hereinbefore provided, to advance to said fund an amount sufficient for such purposes. Such legislative body may in any of the contingencies specified in this section, instead of abandoning the said proceedings, direct the superintendent of streets to readvertise for bids for the doing of said work, or any part thereof, and the said contract may be re-let as in the first instance, but the bid of any contractor who has failed in any of the obligations imposed upon him by this act, or by his contract, shall not be considered in any subsequent bidding for the same work.

Description by reference.

§ 44. In all resolutions, notices, orders and determinations subsequent to the ordinance or resolution of intention a description of the assessment district by reference to the ordinance or resolution of intention shall be sufficient, and in all resolutions, notices, orders, and determinations subsequent to the "Notice of street work" a description of the work by reference to the ordinance or resolution of intention shall be sufficient.

Definitions: "lots or parcels of land."

§ 45. The term "lots or parcels of land" whenever mentioned in this act shall be deemed to include, and shall include, property owned or controlled by any person, firm or corporation, as a railroad, street, or interurban railroad right of way, and whenever a railroad, street, or interurban railroad right of way shall be included within any district to be assessed for the cost of any improvement provided for in this act such railroad right of way (whether the same is owned in fee or as an easement or under a franchise) shall be included in the assessment, and shall be assessed in the same manner and with the same effect as other lots or parcels of land are assessed, as provided in this act, and such railroad, street, or interurban railroad right of way shall be subject to sale for nonpayment of assessments as in this act provided.

§ 46. The following words and phrases shall, where used in this act, have the following meaning:

"Improvement."

1. The term "improvement" includes all work, construction, reconstruction and improvements mentioned in section one of this act.

"City."

2. The term "city" includes every incorporated city, city and county, or other corporation organized for municipal purposes.

"City treasurer."

3. The term "city treasurer" includes any officer who has charge and makes payment of the city funds.

"Superintendent of streets."

4. The term "superintendent of streets" includes any officer or board whose duty it is by law to have the care or charge of streets or the improvement thereof in any city. In any city where there is no superintendent of streets, or such board, the legislative body is hereby authorized to designate some other officer of the city, or other person, to perform the duties imposed by this act on the superintendent of streets, and all of the provisions hereof applicable to the superintendent of streets shall apply to the officer so designated.

"Owner."

5. The term "owner" or the term "any person interested" is deemed to be the person owning the fee, or the person in whom on the day any protest is filed, the legal title to real property appears by deeds duly recorded in the county recorder's office of the county in which said city is situate; or any person in possession of real property as the executor, administrator, trustee under an express trust, guardian or other legal representative of the owner, or any person in possession of real property under written contract of purchase, duly recorded.

"Incidental expenses."

6. The term "incidental expenses" shall be held to mean and include all the necessary expenses and disbursements of the commission, the cost of making the assessment, and all expenses necessarily incurred by the city in connection with the proposed improvement for maps, diagrams, plans, surveys, the mailing of any notices, and other matters incident thereto.

“Delinquency.”

7. The term “delinquency” as herein used shall mean delinquency in the payment of an assessment made under the provisions of this act, and the expression “time of delinquency” shall mean the time in this act fixed when assessments become delinquent. [Amendment of May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 975.]

Act of 1909 repealed.

§ 47. An act entitled “An act to provide for the improvement of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities, in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement, and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby,” approved April 21, 1909, is hereby repealed; provided, that proceedings taken under the act hereby repealed, commenced prior to the taking effect of this act, may be continued to completion under the provisions thereof with the same force and effect as if said act were not hereby repealed.

Acts not repealed.

§ 48. Except as to the act hereby expressly repealed this act shall in no wise affect any other act or acts on the same subject, nor apply to any proceedings taken thereunder, but is intended to and does provide an alternative system for making the improvements provided for by this act; and it shall be within the discretion of the legislative body of any city to proceed, in making said improvements, under the provisions either of this act or of such other acts; but when any proceedings commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendment thereof as may be hereafter adopted, and no other, shall apply to all such proceedings, and any provisions contained in such other acts or any acts in conflict herewith shall be void and of no effect as to the proceedings commenced under this act.

Title of act.

§ 49. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to promote the objects thereof. This act may be designated and referred to as the “Street Improvement Act of 1913.”

1. Traffic tunnel—Los Angeles charter authorizes city to proceed under act.—The Los Angeles charter amendment of 1917 authorizes the city to proceed in constructing a traffic tunnel in this act.—Hayes v. Handley, 182 Cal. 273, 187 Pac. 952.

2. Same—Same.—The charter does not isolate Los Angeles from the rest of the state so as to prevent it from constructing such a tunnel under the general law.—Hayes v. Handley, 182 Cal. 273, 187 Pac. 952.

3. Same—Not an additional burden.—A traffic tunnel does not impose an additional burden upon the use of a city street so as to require additional compensation to the abutting property owner.—Hayes v. Handley, 182 Cal. 273, 187 Pac. 952.

4. Publication of notice—Selection of newspaper.—The requirement as to publication of notice was sufficiently complied with by publication in a newspaper designated by the council, the act having made no provision as to what body shall have the power of selection.—Hayes v. Handley, 182 Cal. 273, 187 Pac. 952.

“CHANGE OF GRADE ACT OF 1909.”

ACT 4954—An act to provide for changing or modifying the grade of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts, or other places, within municipalities.

History: Approved April 21, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 1018. Amended April 10, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 854.

Power of city council to change grade.

§ 1. The city council of any city is hereby empowered to change or modify the grade of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts, or other places therein, in the manner herein-after provided.

Resolution of intention. Publication of notice. Posting of notice.

§ 2. Before any change or modification of grade is ordered, the city council shall pass an ordinance or resolution of intention to order such change or modification of grade. Said ordinance or resolution of intention shall state the name of, or otherwise designate the public street, lane, alley, court or other place the grade of which, or any portion thereof, is proposed to be changed or modified, and shall set forth the change or modification of grade proposed to be made. One or more public streets, alleys, lanes, courts, or other places, or portions thereof, may be included in the same ordinance or resolution of intention. Said ordinance or resolution of intention shall be posted conspicuously for two days on or near the chamber door of said city council, and published by two insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city, and designated by said council for that purpose. If no such newspaper is published and circulated in said city, such ordinance or resolution of intention shall be posted for two days on or near the council chamber door, and in two other public places in said city. The street superintendent shall thereupon cause to be conspicuously posted along all public streets, lanes, alleys, courts, or other places, or portions thereof designated in the said ordinance or resolution of intention, where such change or modification of grade is proposed to be made, at not more than one hundred feet in distance apart, notices, but not less than three in all, of the passage of said ordinance or resolution of intention. Said notice shall be headed "Notice of Change of Grade," in letters of not less than one inch in length, and shall in legible characters state the fact of the passage of the said ordinance or resolution of intention, its date, the name or other designation of the public street, lane, alley, court, or other place, or portion thereof, the grade of which is proposed to be changed or modified, and shall refer to the ordinance or resolution of intention for further particulars. He shall also cause a notice similar in substance to be published for six days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, and designated by said city council for that purpose, or in cities where there is no daily newspaper, by two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published, circulated and designated. In case there is no daily or weekly newspaper published in said city, said notice shall be posted for six days on or near the chamber door of said council, and in two other public places in said city.

Protest of owners. Findings of council. Intersecting streets; protests.

§ 3. Any person or persons owning any real property fronting upon any public street, lane, alley, court or other place, or portion thereof, where such change or modification of grade is proposed to be made, may, within thirty days after the first publication of the notice of the passage of the ordinance or resolution of intention, or within thirty days after the first posting thereof, where no publication thereof is made, as hereinbefore provided, file a written protest with the clerk of the city council against such proposed change or modification of grade. Every such protest must contain a description of the property owned by each signer thereof, sufficient to identify the same, and if signed by more than one person, must be accompanied by the affidavit of one of the signers that each signature thereto is the genuine signature of the person whose name purports to be thereto subscribed; and in case any signature is made by an agent, there must be attached to the protest the affidavit of the agent that he is duly authorized to sign such protest. Any protest not complying with the foregoing requirements shall not be considered by said city council. The clerk of the city council shall indorse on every such protest the date of its reception by him; and at the next regular meeting of the city council after the expiration of the time for filing protests, shall present to said city council all protests so filed with him. If the city council finds that such protests are signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on the public street, lane, alley, court, or other place, or portion thereof where such change or modification of grade is proposed to be made, all further proceedings under said ordinance or resolution of intention shall be stayed and barred for six months from and after the filing of such majority protests, except as herein-after provided, unless the owners of a majority of such frontage shall in the mean time petition the same change or modification of grade to be made; but a new ordinance or resolution of intention to make a different change or modification of grade of such public street, lane, alley, court, or portion thereof, may be passed at any time.

In the event that the ordinance or resolution of intention designates any public street, lane, alley, court or other place, or portion thereof, the grade of which is proposed to be changed or modified, and there be included in said ordinance or resolution of intention any other public street, lane, alley, court or other place, a portion thereof, intersecting therewith or terminating therein, the grade of which is also proposed to be changed or modified, the change or modification of grade of such public street, lane, alley, court or other place, and of such other public street, lane, alley, court or other place or portion thereof, so intersecting or terminating, shall not be stayed or barred by any protests, made and filed as hereinbefore provided, unless such protest be signed by the owners of a majority of the total frontage of the property fronting on all such public streets, lanes, alleys, courts or other places, or portions thereof, where such change or modification of grade is proposed to be made. If the city council finds that such protests are not signed by the owners of a majority of the property fronting on the public street, lane, alley, court or other place, or portion thereof, where such change or modification of grade is proposed to be made, or if the proposed change or modification of grade extends for a distance of not more than one block, and the grade of such public street, lane, alley, court, or other place, for at least one block thereof immediately adjacent to such block where such change or modification of grade is proposed to be made, on each side thereof, has already been established, or if the proposed change or modification of grade extends for a distance of not more than one block, at the end of a public street, lane, alley, court or place, and the grade thereof for at least one block thereof immediately adjacent to such block has already been established, the city council shall thereupon fix a time for hearing such protests not less than ten days after the meeting of the council at which such time is so fixed and shall cause notice of the time and place of such hearing to be published for two days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or by one insertion in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated; and if no daily or weekly newspaper be published and circulated in said city, then said notice shall be posted for two days on or near the council chamber door, and in two other public places in said city; and such publication or posting shall be completed at least five days before such hearing. The city council shall hear said protests at the time and place appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be continued, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If such protests are sustained, no further proceedings shall be had under said ordinance or resolution of intention, but a new ordinance or resolution of intention to make the same, or a different change or modification of grade may be passed at any time. If such protests are denied, the proceedings shall continue as if such protests had not been filed.

Jurisdiction, when acquired.

§ 4. If no protests are filed within the time hereinbefore provided, or if protests are filed, and after hearing are denied, as herein provided, the city council shall acquire jurisdiction to order the change or modification of grade described in the ordinance or resolution of intention to be made. Having acquired such jurisdiction, the city council shall be ordinance or resolution, order the change or modification of grade to be made as proposed by and described in the ordinance or resolution of intention. Said ordinance or resolution ordering the change or modification of grade shall be published by two insertions in a daily, or by one insertion in a weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city; or, if no such newspaper be published and circulated therein, the same shall be posted for two days on or near the council chamber door, and in two other public places in said city.

Who deemed to be owner.

§ 5. Except as otherwise hereinafter provided the person owning the fee, or the person in whom on the day any protest or petition is filed the legal title to real property appears, by deeds duly recorded in the county recorder's office of the county in which said city is situated, shall be deemed to be the owner thereof for the purposes of this act; provided, however, that any person in possession of real property as the executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, or other legal representative of the owner, or any person in possession of real property under written contract of purchase duly recorded, shall be deemed to be the owner thereof for the purposes of this act. In the case of property held by tenancy in common, if any cotenant sign a protest under this act, only the proportionate share of the frontage thereof represented by his interest therein shall be counted in determining the amount of frontage represented by such protest. In the event that the change or modification of grade proposed by the ordinance or resolution of intention is only on one side of any public street, lane, alley, court or other place, or portion thereof, only the owners of the real property fronting on the side of such public street, lane, alley, court or other place, or portion thereof where such change or modification of grade is proposed to be made, shall be entitled to make or file a protest under the provisions of this act. If the grade of any public street, lane, alley, court, or other place, or portion thereof, has been heretofore, or shall be hereafter changed or modified, nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent any subsequent change or changes, modification or modifications of grade of any such public street, lane, alley, court or other place, or portion thereof.

Affidavits of publication and posting of notices.

§ 5a. Proof of publication of any notice required by this act shall be made by affidavit, as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure, and proof of the posting of any such notice shall be made by the affidavit of the person posting the same, setting forth the facts regarding such posting. It shall be the duty of any officer who is required by this act to have any notice published or posted, to obtain and file in his office the affidavit or affidavits in proof thereof; provided, that his failure so to do shall not affect the validity of any proceedings under this act. Any such affidavit so filed shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated regarding such publication or posting. [New section approved April 10, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 854.]

Meaning of certain words.

§ 6. The following words and phrases, where used in this act, shall have the following meanings:

1. The terms "municipality" or "city" include every incorporated city, city and county, or other corporation organized for municipal purposes.
2. The terms "city council" and "council" include any body or board in which by law is vested the legislative power of any city.
3. The terms "clerk" and "city clerk" shall include any person or officer who shall be clerk of the city council.
4. The term "superintendent of streets" includes any officer or board whose duty it is by law to have the care or charge of streets, or the improvement thereof, in any city. In any city where there is no superintendent of streets, or no such board, the legislative body is hereby authorized to designate some other officer to perform the duties imposed by this act on the superintendent of streets, and all the provisions hereof applicable to the superintendent of streets shall apply to the officer so designated.

Certain acts not affected. Intention of act. Name of act.

§ 7. This act shall in no wise affect an act entitled "an act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885, or amendments thereto; or an act entitled "An act to amend an act [entitled] 'An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places, and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities,' approved March 18, 1885, by adding thereto certain new and additional sections, to provide the mode of carrying into effect certain provisions of said act relative to changing grades," approved March 31, 1891, or amendments thereto, or any other acts on the same subject; but is intended to and does provide an alternate system of proceedings for changing or modifying the grades of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts, or other places in municipalities; and it shall be within the discretion of the city council of any municipality to proceed in making any such change or modification of grade, either under the provisions of this act, or under the provisions of said acts hereinbefore mentioned, or amendments thereto; but when any proceedings are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendments thereto as may be hereafter adopted, and no other, shall apply to all such proceedings, and any provisions contained in said acts, or in any acts in conflict with the provisions hereof, shall be void and of no effect as to the proceedings commenced under the provisions of this act. The election of the city council to proceed under the provisions of this act shall be expressed in its ordinance of intention to order any change or modification of grade. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to promote the objects thereof. This act may be designated and referred to as the "Change of grade act of 1909."

§ 8. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Notice of hearing of protests—Actual appearance of protestants, and hearing of.—Where all the protestants appear before the board of trustees and present their protest, and are given a hearing thereon, this was all that was necessary to give the board jurisdiction to proceed with the work, although no notice of the time and place of the hearing was given as required by the act.—Federal Construction Co. v. Kneese, 37 Cal. App. 659, 174 Pac. 694.

2. Same—Notice to non-protesting owners not required.—No notice of time and place of hearing of protests need be given to non-protesting owners.—Federal Construction Co. v. Kneese, 37 Cal. App. 659, 174 Pac. 694.

SPECIAL IMPROVEMENT BOND ACT OF 1911.

ACT 4955—An act providing for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent certain special assessments for public improvements, and providing for the effect and enforcement of such bonds.

History: Approved April 11, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1192.

"Street opening act of 1903." "Park act." "Street improvement act of 1909." "Improvement bond." "Assessment." "Delinquency." "City council."

§ 1. The expression "street opening act of 1903" as herein used shall mean the act entitled "An act to provide for the laying out, opening, extending, widening, or straightening, in whole or in part, of public streets, squares, lanes, alleys, courts, and places within municipalities, for the condemnation of property necessary or convenient for such purposes, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expenses of such improvement," approved March 24, 1903 (Stats 1903, p. 376), and acts amendatory thereto.

The expression "park act" as herein used shall mean the act entitled "An act to provide for the acquisition by municipalities of land for public park or playground purposes by condemnation, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expense of acquiring such land," approved April 22, 1909 (Stats. 1909, p. 1066).

The expression "street improvement act of 1909" as herein used shall mean the act entitled "An act to provide for the improvement of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities, in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement, and for the assessment of the costs, damages, and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," approved April 21, 1909 (Stats. 1909, p. 1042).

The expression "improvement bond" as herein used shall mean a bond issue under the provisions of this act.

The terms "assessment" or "assessment-roll" as herein used shall mean a special assessment made under the provisions of any of the acts herein in this section specified.

The term "delinquency" as herein used shall mean delinquency in the payment of an assessment made under the provisions of the acts herein in this section specified and the expression "time of delinquency" shall mean the time in said acts fixed when assessments become delinquent. The expression "city council" as herein used shall mean the legislative body of the municipality.

Council may determine the issue of improvement bonds.

§ 2. The city council of any municipal corporation of this state may, in its discretion, at or before the time of the confirmation of any assessment or assessment-roll in proceedings had and taken under the street opening act of 1903, the park act or the street improvement act of 1909, determine that improvement bonds may issue to represent such assessments, which determination shall be made by resolution or ordinance.

Owner of lot may elect to pay assessment in installments.

§ 3. Whenever it is determined as provided in section 2 hereof that improvement bonds may be issued to represent assessments, the owner of any lot or parcel of land against which an assessment has been made, when the amount of such assessment is fifty ($50) dollars or over, may at any time prior to delinquency, elect to pay such assessment in installments and to have an improvement bond issued against such lot, in the form and manner and with the effect in this act [provided]; provided, there be no other bond or bonds outstanding against said lot representing any special assessment.

Election to be made in writing. Rate of interest. Form of agreement. Records of assessment. Improvement bond. Mistake in description.

§ 4. Such election shall be made by such owner or his agent thereunto duly authorized in writing filed with the superintendent of streets, or if said assessment is in the custody of the city tax collector with such tax collector, an affidavit made before a competent officer that he or his principal, as the case may be, is the owner of the lot or parcel of land in question, which affidavit must be accompanied by a certificate of a searcher of records, that he or his principal is such owner and also by filing with such officer a written agreement upon the form hereinafter fixed, waiving all objections of whatsoever kind or nature against the assessment and all proceedings thereto and undertaking to pay the amount of such assessment in either five or ten annual installments, each of which shall be due on the first day of July of each year, and the first of which shall be due on the first day of July next following the date of such bond, with interest on all deferred payments at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable at the same time as the installments of principal. Said agreement shall contain a provision to the effect that in case of default in the payment of any installment of the principal provided for therein, or interest accrued on deferred payments, at the time called for by said agreement, then and in that event, the entire remaining unpaid installments shall become immediately due and payable, and that the same, and all liens and agreements which are security therefor, may be collected and enforced as in this act provided. Said agreement shall be in the following or substantially the following form (filling blanks):

The undersigned, being the owner of the lot assessed in the assessment for — said lot being assessed therein for the sum of — ($—) dollars, does hereby expressly waive and release all objections of whatsoever kind or nature against the said assessment and all proceedings prior thereto, and in consideration of the benefit of said improvement and of the extension of time for paying therefor herein requested, do undertake and agree to pay the amount of said assessment, to wit: the sum of — ($—) dollars in — yearly installments, at the time, in the manner, and with the interest, specified and provided in — (title of act), and do request and elect to have a bond issued against said lot in the manner and form and with the effect provided in said act, and do expressly agree that in the case of default in the payment of any installment of the principal provided for in said bond, or interest accrued on deferred payments, then, and in that event, that the entire remaining unpaid installments shall become immediately due and payable, and that the same, and all liens and agreements which are security therefor, may be collected and enforced as in this act provided.

Upon an election being effected as herein provided the superintendent of streets, or other officer having in his custody said assessment, shall make a note thereof in his records opposite the assessment as to which such election is made. All agreements and affidavits made and filed hereunder shall be bound in a substantial book and kept among the records of the superintendent of streets, or other officer having custody of such assessments. At the time of delinquency, such officer shall advise, in writing, the city treasurer respecting the assessments as to which the owners have elected to pay in installments. The city treasurer shall thereupon prepare a separate bond representing each assessment as to which such right of election has been exercised, running for either five (5) or ten (10) years, as specified in the agreement made as herein provided, which bond shall be in the following or substantially the following form (filling blanks):

IMPROVEMENT BOND.

Series —

No. —

Under and by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of — (title of act), I, out of the fund for the above designated improvement bonds, series — will pay to bearer the sum of — ($—) dollars with interest at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum, as is hereinafter specified, at the office of the city treasurer of the city of —, state of California. This bond is issued to represent an assessment for — in the city of — as the same is more fully described in the assessment therefor. Its amount is the amount assessed in said assessment against the lot numbered — therein and in the diagram attached thereto, and which now remains unpaid; but until paid, with accrued interest, is a first lien upon the property affected thereby, as the same is described herein and in said recorded assessment with its diagram, to wit: the lot or parcel of land in the city of —, county of —, state of California, described as follows:

and it is issued in accordance with the written request therefor on file in the office of — the — of said city.

This bond is payable exclusively from said fund, and neither the city of — nor any officer thereof is to be holden otherwise for its principal or interest. The term of this bond is — years from July first, 19—, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid shall be due and payable; but on the first day of July of each year, after the date hereof, an even annual proportion of its principal is due and payable upon presentation of the coupon therefor, until the whole is paid, with accrued interest at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum.

The interest is payable annually on the first day of July in each year hereafter upon presentation of the coupons therefor, the first of which is for the interest from date to the first day of July, 19—, and thereafter the interest coupons are for the annual interest.

Should default be made in the first, or any succeeding payment of the principal, or in any payment of interest, by the owner of said lot, or any one in his behalf, the holder of this bond is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable, and shall thereupon have a right to collect the same and to enforce all liens and agreements which are security therefor as in said act provided.

At said city —, this — day of —, in the year one thousand nine hundred and —.

— —, —,
City Treasurer of the City of —.

Said bonds shall be payable to the bearer and no mistake or error in the description in the bond of the lot assessed shall affect the validity or lien of the bond, unless the mistake or error is such that the lot can not be identified, and in such event the holder of such bond may have the same corrected upon application to the city treasurer and the officers or board who or which made the assessment to represent which such bond is issued.

Records of bonds issued.

§ 5. The city treasurer shall enter in a book kept for that purpose in his office, a record of each bond issued hereunder, specifying the date of its issue, the amount for which issued, to whom delivered, its duration and a description of the lot against which issued. Payments of principal and interest on account of any bond issued hereunder shall be made to the city treasurer, who shall keep a separate account of all such payments (entering the same in the record herein required to be kept), and place the same in appropriate funds for the payment of principal and interest of the bonds on account of which paid, and who shall, upon the surrender of the coupons attached to said bond, pay to the holder thereof, or his order, the amount called for by said coupons out of the funds in his possession applicable thereto.

Validity of proceedings.

§ 6. Improvement bonds issued hereunder shall by their issuance be conclusive evidence of the regularity and validity of all proceedings thereto. The amount due upon any such bond shall be a lien upon the lot described in such bond superior to all other liens, charges, and encumbrances except the liens of prior assessments and of municipal, state and county taxes.

Sale of bonds. Advertisement.

§ 7. Improvement bonds or any number of such bonds, issued hereunder, except as otherwise provided in section 9 hereof, shall be sold to the highest cash bidder, after advertisement for bids, which advertisement shall be published for at least three times in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or if there be no such daily newspaper, then such advertisement shall be published once in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper so published and circulated; provided, however, that said bonds shall not be sold for less than par. If any bond be sold for an amount in excess of par such excess shall be paid into the general fund of the city.

Proceeds of sale.

§ 8. The proceeds of the sale of such improvement bonds shall be paid into the fund of the proceeding to represent assessments in which said bonds were issued.

City may advance funds.

§ 9. It shall be competent for the city to advance to the appropriate fund the par value of all or any part of said bonds, in which case said city shall have the same rights in respect to the enforcement and collection thereof as other purchasers. Where the city advances money as in this section provided it shall have full authority at any time to sell said bonds to reimburse itself therefor.

Holder of bond may demand sale of lot when payment is not made.

§ 10. Whenever, through the default of the owner of any lot or parcel of land upon which such bond is issued to represent the assessment, payment, either of the principal or of the interest, is not made when the same has become due, and the holder of the bond thereupon demands, in writing, that the city treasurer proceed to advertise and sell said lot or parcel of land as herein provided, then the whole bond or its unpaid remainder, with its accrued interest, as expressed in said bond, shall become due and payable immediately, and on the day following shall become delinquent.

Procedure of sale. Prior to sale owner may pay whole amount due.

§ 11. Upon the application of the holder of any bond that is now or shall hereafter become delinquent as hereinbefore provided, the said city treasurer shall publish twice in a newspaper of general circulation, to be designated by him, published in the city where his office is situated, a notice which must contain the date, number, and series of the delinquent bond, a description of the property mentioned in said bond, and the name of the owner of such property (if known), and if unknown, the fact shall be so stated, the amount due thereon, and a statement that unless the amount of said bond and the interest due thereon, together with the cost of publication of such notice are paid, the real property described in said bond will be sold at public auction on a day to be therein fixed, which shall not be less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the day of the first publication of said notice, and the place of such sale, which must be the office of the said city treasurer. A like notice shall not less than fifteen days before the day of sale so fixed be served upon any such owner if known either personally or by depositing the same in the post office at such city addressed to such owner at his address if known with the postage thereon prepaid. At any time prior to the sale, the owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale under the provisions of this act may pay the whole amount of said bond then due, with costs, and such bond shall thereupon be canceled; but in case such payment is not made by such owner or person in possession, or by some one in behalf of such owner, or person in possession, the property subject thereto shall be sold at public auction to the bidder offering to pay the amount due on the bond with costs for the least portion of such lot or parcel of land offered for sale.

§ 12. The city treasurer, before the day of sale hereinafter provided for, must file with the city clerk a copy of the publication, with an affidavit of the publisher of such newspaper, or someone in his behalf, attached thereto, that it is a true copy of the same; that the publication was made in a newspaper, stating its name and place of publication and the date of each appearance in which such publication was made, which affidavit is prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein.

Costs collected.

§ 13. The city treasurer must collect, in addition to the amount due on such bond, the cost of the publication of such notice, and fifty cents for the certificate of sale delivered to the purchaser as hereinafter provided.

Record of certificates of sale by city treasurer.

§ 14. The city treasurer, before delivering any certificate of sale must, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, enter the date, number and series of the bond, a description of the land sold corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of sale, purchaser's name, the amount paid, regularly number the descriptions on the margin of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection during office hours when not in actual use, and he shall enter on the record of the bond the words "canceled by sale of the property," giving the date of such sale.

Purchaser's lien.

§ 15. Immediately on the sale, the purchaser shall become vested with a lien on the property so sold to him, to the extent of his bid, and is only divested of such lien by the payment to the city treasurer of the purchase money, including costs herein provided for, with interest thereon at the rate of one per cent per month from the date of sale.

Redemption within twelve months.

§ 16. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner of the property, or any party in interest, within twelve months from the date of purchase, or at any time prior to the application for a deed, as hereinafter provided. Redemption must be made in lawful money of the United States, and when made to the city treasurer he must credit the amount paid to the person named in his certificate, and pay it on demand to him or his assignees.

Record of certificates of sale by recorder.

§ 17. On receiving the certificate of sale, the recorder must file it, and make an entry in a book similar to that required of the city treasurer, the fee for which shall be fifty cents, and on presentation of the receipt of the city treasurer for the total amount of the redemption money, the recorder must, without charge, mark the word "redeemed," the date, and by whom redeemed, on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made.

Deed to property not redeemed. Notice to owner thirty days prior to application for deed. Notice posted on property.

§ 18. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by the provisions of section 16 hereof for its redemption, the city treasurer, or his successor in office, upon application of the purchaser, or his assignee, must make to said purchaser, or his assignee, a deed to the property, reciting in the deed, substantially, the matter contained in the certificate and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption; the treasurer shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser two dollars for making said deed, which shall be deposited in the city treasury for the use of the city after payment has been made therefrom for the acknowledgment of said deed; provided, however, that the purchaser of the property, or his assignee, or agent, must, thirty days prior to the expiration of the time of the redemption, or thirty days before his application for a deed, serve upon the owner or agent of the property purchased, if named in such certificate of sale, and upon the party occupying the property, if the property is occupied, a written notice, stating that said property, or a portion thereof, has been sold to satisfy the bond lien, the date of sale, the date, number, and series of the bond, the amount then due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire, or when the purchaser will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely, until such notice shall have been given and said deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties, and costs in this act required. In case of unoccupied property, a similar notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property at least thirty days before the purchaser applies for a deed; and no deed to the property sold, in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be issued by the city treasurer to the purchaser of such property, until such purchaser shall have filed with such treasurer an affidavit showing that the notice hereinbefore required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavit shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as other records kept by him in his office. Such purchaser shall be entitled to receive the sum of fifty cents for his service of such notice and the making of such affidavit, which sum of fifty cents shall be paid by the redemptioner at the time and in the same manner as the other sums, costs and fees are paid.

Evidence of regularity of proceedings.

§ 19. The deed, when duly acknowledged or proved, shall be conclusive evidence of all things which the bond upon which it is based is conclusive evidence, and prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings subsequent to the issue of the bond, and conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, free of all encumbrances, except the lien for state, county, and municipal taxes.

PART I.

Public streets defined.

§ 1. All streets, lanes, alleys, places or courts, in the municipalities of this state now open or dedicated, or which may hereafter be open or dedicated to public use, shall be deemed and held to be open public streets, lanes, alleys, places or courts, for the purpose of this act, and the city council of each municipality is hereby empowered to establish and change the grades of said streets, lanes, alleys, places, or courts, and fix the width thereof, and is hereby invested with jurisdiction to order to be done thereon any of the work mentioned in this act under the proceedings hereinafter described.

What work may be done.

§ 2. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the city council is hereby authorized and empowered to order the whole or any portion or portions, either in length or width of any one or more of the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places or public ways of any such city graded or regraded to the official grade, planked or replanked, paved or repaved, macadamized or remacadamized, graveled or regraveled, piled or repiled, capped or recapped, oiled or reoiled, and to order the construction or reconstruction therein of sidewalks, crosswalks, culverts, bridges, gutters, curbs, steps, parkings and parkways, sewers, ditches, drains, conduits and channels for sanitary and drainage purposes or either or both thereof, with outlets, cesspools, manholes, catch basins, flush tanks, septic tanks, connecting sewers, ditches, drains, conduits, channels and other appurtenances; pipes, hydrants and appliances for fire protection; tunnels, viaducts, conduits and subways, breakwaters, levees, bulkheads and walls of rock or other material to protect the same from overflow or injury by water; and poles, posts, wires, pipes, conduits, lamps and other suitable or necessary appliances for the purpose of lighting said streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places or public ways; the planting of trees thereon, and the construction or reconstruction in, over or through property or rights of way owned by such city, of tunnels, sewers, ditches, drains, conduits, and channels for sanitary and drainage purposes or either or both thereof, with necessary outlets, cesspools, manholes, catch basins, flush tanks, septic tanks, connecting sewers, ditches, drains, conduits, channels and other appurtenances, pipes, hydrants and appliances for fire protection and breakwaters, levees, bulkheads and walls of rock or other material to protect the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, public ways and other property in any such city, from overflow by water, and to order any work to be done which shall be deemed necessary to improve the whole or any portion of such streets, avenues, sidewalks, lanes, alleys, courts, places, or public ways or property or rights of way of such city.

Resolution of intention to improve street.

§ 3. Before ordering any work done or improvement made, which is authorized by this act, the city council shall pass a resolution of intention so to do referring to the street by its lawful or official name, or the name by which it is commonly known, and briefly describe the work. Said resolution shall contain also a notice of the day, hour and place when and where any and all persons having any objections to the proposed work or improvement may appear before the legislative body and show cause why said proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with said resolution; said time shall not be less than fifteen nor more than forty days from the date of the passage of said resolution. Said resolution of intention shall be published twice in one or more daily, semi-weekly, or weekly newspapers published and circulated in said city, and designated by said council for that purpose. The city council may include in one proceeding, under one resolution of intention and in one contract, any of the different kinds of work mentioned in this act and any number of streets and rights of way or portions thereof contiguous or otherwise, and it may except therefrom any of said work already done upon a street to the official grade. The lots and portions of lots fronting upon said excepted work already done shall not be included in the assessment for the class of work from which the exception is made; provided, that this shall not be construed so as to affect the special provisions as to grading contained in subdivision 9 of section 20 of this act. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1464.]

Work chargeable on district.

§ 4. Whenever the contemplated work or improvement, in the opinion of the city council, is of more than local or ordinary public benefit, or whenever, according to estimate to be furnished by the city engineer, the total estimated costs and expenses thereof would exceed one-half the total assessed value of the lots and lands assessed, if assessed upon the lots or land fronting upon said proposed work or improvement, according to the valuation fixed by the last assessment-roll whereon it was assessed for taxes for municipal purposes, and allowing a reasonable depth from such frontage for lots or lands assessed in bulk, the city council may make the expense of such work or improvement chargeable upon a district, which the said city council shall, in its resolution of intention, declare to be the district benefited by said work or improvement, and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof.

Notice of passage of resolution to be posted.

§ 5. After the adoption of the resolution of intention, the street superintendent shall cause to be conspicuously posted along the line of said contemplated work or improvement, at not more than three hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all, or when the work to be done is only upon an entire crossing or intersection or any part thereof, in front of each quarter block or irregular block liable to be assessed, notices of the passage of said resolution. In case the work is chargeable upon a district as herein provided, copies of said notice shall also be posted along all the open streets within such district at not more than three hundred feet in distance apart but not less than three in all on each street. In every case all the posting must be fully completed at least ten days before the day set for hearing protests or objections as provided in section three hereof.

Said notices shall be headed "notice of improvement" in letters of not less than one inch in length; and shall, in legible characters, state the fact of the passage of the resolution of intention, its date, and briefly, the work or improvement proposed, and refer to the resolution of intention for further particulars. Said notices shall contain also a statement of the day, hour and place when and where any and all persons having any objections to the proposed work or improvement may appear before the legislative body and show cause why said proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with said resolution. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1465.]

§ 6. At any time not later than the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed work as provided in section three hereof, any owner of property liable to be assessed for said work may make written protest against the proposed work or against the extent of the district to be assessed, or both. Such protest must be in writing and be delivered to the said clerk of the city council, and no other protests or objections shall be considered. At the time set for hearing protests the city council shall proceed to hear and pass upon all protests so made and its decision shall be final and conclusive; provided, however, that when the protest is against the proposed work, and the cost thereof is to be assessed upon the property fronting thereon, and the city council finds that such protest is made by the owners of a majority of the property fronting on the proposed work, or when the protest is against the proposed work and the cost thereof is to be assessed upon the property within a district, and the city council finds that such protest is made by the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property to be assessed for said improvements, no further proceedings shall be taken for a period of six months from the date of the decision of the city council on said hearing, unless the said protest be overruled by an affirmative vote of four-fifths of the members of the city council. The words "proposed work" as used herein, shall mean and include all the work described in the resolution of intention. The city council may adjourn said hearings from time to time. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1465.]

Jurisdiction acquired.

§ 7. If no protests or objections in writing have been delivered to the clerk up to the hour set for hearing provided in section three hereof, or when a protest shall have been found by said city council to be insufficient, or shall have been overruled, or, when a protest against the extent of the proposed district shall have been heard and denied, immediately thereupon the city council shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order the proposed improvements. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1466.]

Plans and specifications.

§ 8. Before passing any resolution for the construction of improvements, plans and specifications and careful estimates of the costs and expenses thereof shall be furnished to said city council, if required by it, by the city engineer of said city; and for the work of constructing sewers, specifications shall always be furnished by him.

Description by reference.

§ 9. In all resolutions, notices, orders and determinations subsequent to resolution of intention and notice of improvement, it shall be sufficient to briefly describe the work or the assessment district or both and to refer to the resolution of intention for further particulars.

Inviting sealed proposals.

§ 10. Before the awarding of any contract by the city council for doing any work authorized by this act, the city council shall pass a resolution ordering the work. Notice, with specifications, shall be posted conspicuously for five days on or near the council chamber door of said council, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing the work ordered. Notice inviting such proposals, and referring to the specifications posted or on file, shall be published twice in a daily, semi-weekly, or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city, designated by the council for that purpose, and in case there is no newspaper published in said city, then it shall only be posted as hereinbefore provided. The time fixed for the opening of bids shall be not less than ten days from the time of the first publication or posting of said notice. All proposals or bids offered shall be accompanied by a check payable to the city certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal, or by a bond for the said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify, before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk of the said city council, and said council shall, in open session publicly open, examine and declare the same; provided, however, that no proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by said check or bond satisfactory to the council. The city council may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and also the bid of any party who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the municipality, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any reasonable bidder, and may award the contract for said work or improvement to the lowest responsible bidder at the prices named in his bid. If the bids are rejected or no bids received the city council may within six months thereafter readvertise for proposals or bids for the performance of the work as in the first instance, without further proceedings, and thereafter proceed in the manner in this section provided, and shall thereupon return to the proper parties the respective checks and bonds corresponding to the bid so rejected. But the checks accompanying such accepted proposals or bids shall be held by the city clerk of said city until the contract for doing said work, as hereinafter provided, has been entered into, either by said lowest bidder or by the owners of three-fourths part of the frontage, whereupon said certified check shall be returned to said bidder. But if said bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the the contract to perform said work or improvement, as hereinafter provided, then the certified check accompanying his bid and the amount therein mentioned, shall be declared to be forfeited to said city and shall be collected by it and paid into the general fund, and any bond forfeited may be prosecuted, and the amount due thereon collected and paid into said fund.

Notice of award of contract posted.

§ 11. Notice of such award of contract shall be posted for five days, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for the posting of proposals for said work, and shall be published twice in a daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city and designated by said city council; provided, however, that in case there is no newspaper published and circulated in such city, then such notice of award shall only be kept posted as hereinbefore provided. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1466.]

Owners may do work.

§ 12. The owners of three-fourths of the frontage of lots and lands liable to be assessed, or their agents, and who shall make oath that they are such owners or agents, shall not be required to present sealed proposals or bids, but may within ten days after the first publication, or first posting in case there is no publication, of said notice of said award, elect to take said work and enter into a written contract to do the whole work at the price at which the same has been awarded, and all work done under such contract shall be subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance of the city council. Should the said owners fail to elect to take said work, and to enter into a written contract therefor within ten days, or to commence the work within fifteen days after the date of such written contract, and to prosecute the same with diligence to completion, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of streets to enter into a contract with the original bidder to whom the contract was awarded, and at the prices specified in his bid. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1466.]

Re-advertising for bids.

§ 13. But if such original bidder neglects, fails or refuses, for fifteen days after the first publication of the notice of award, to enter into the contract, then the city council, without further proceedings, shall again advertise for proposals or bids, as in the first instance, and award the contract for said work to the then lowest regular bidder. Should no bids be received in response to this second call for proposals, the council may again advertise for bids under the same proceedings, at any time within six months from the time set for the last reception of bids, and let the contract to the then lowest bidder, and such delay shall in no way affect the validity of any of the proceedings or assessments levied thereunder. The bids of all persons and the election of all owners, as aforesaid, who have failed to enter into the contract, as herein provided, shall be rejected in any bidding or election subsequent to the first for the same work.

Delinquent contractors.

§ 14. If the owner or contractor, who may have taken any contract, does not complete the same within the time limited in the contract, or within such further time as the city council may give him, the superintendent of streets shall report such delinquency to the city council which may relet the unfinished portion of said work, after pursuing the formalities prescribed hereinbefore for the letting of the whole in the first instance.

Bond for faithful performance.

§ 15. All contractors, contracting owners included, shall, at the time of executing any contract for street work, execute a bond to the satisfaction and approval of the superintendent of streets of said city, with two or more sureties and payable to such city, in a sum not less than twenty-five per cent of the amount of the contract, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract; and the sureties shall justify before any person competent to administer an oath, in double the amount mentioned in said bond, over and above all statutory exemptions.

Protesting erroneous proceedings.

§ 16. At any time within ten days from the date of the first publication of the notice of award of contract, any owner of, or other person having any interest in any lot or land liable to assessment, who claims that any of the previous acts or proceedings, relating to said improvement are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty, may file with the clerk of the city council a written notice specifying in what respect said acts and proceedings are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty. Said notice shall state that it is made in pursuance of this section. All objections to any act or proceeding occurring prior to the date of the first publication of the aforesaid notice of award, in relation to said improvement, not made in writing and in the manner and at the time aforesaid, shall be waived, provided, the resolution of intention to do the work has been actually published and the notices of improvement posted as provided in this act.

Advancing incidental expenses.

§ 17. Before being entitled to a contract, the bidder to whom the award was made, or the owners who have elected to take the contract, must advance to the superintendent of streets, for payment by him, the cost of publication of the notices, resolutions, orders and matters required under the proceedings prescribed in this act, and of such other notices as may be deemed requisite by the city council, together with all other incidental expenses. And in case the work is abandoned by the city before the letting of the contract the incidental expenses incurred previous to such abandonment shall be paid out of the city treasury.

Authority to make contracts. Work may be done under city engineer.

§ 18. The superintendent of streets is hereby authorized in his official capacity, to make all written contracts, and to receive all bonds authorized by this act, and to do any other act, either express or implied, that pertains to the street department under this act; and he shall fix the time for the commencement, which shall not be more than fifteen days from the date of the contract, and for the completion of the work under all contracts entered into by him, which work shall be prosecuted with diligence from day to day thereafter to completion, and he may extend the time so fixed from time to time, under the direction of the city council. The work must, in all cases, be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets and the materials used shall comply with the specifications and be to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets and all contracts made therefor must contain a provision to that effect; provided, however, that if the city council by resolution adopted within ten days after the passage of the resolution ordering the work so directs the work shall be done under the direction of the city engineer and the materials used shall comply with the specifications and be to the satisfaction of said engineer, instead of said superintendent of streets, and in such case the contract shall contain a provision to that effect. Said contract shall contain also express notice that, in no case, except where it is otherwise provided by law or the city charter will the city, or any officer thereof, be liable for any portion of the expense, nor for any delinquency of persons or property assessed. The city council may, by ordinance, prescribe general rules directing the superintendent of streets (or the city engineer, in the cases herein provided) and the contractor as to the materials to be used, and the mode of executing the work, under all contracts thereafter made. The assessment and apportionment of the expenses of all such work or improvement shall be made by the superintendent of streets in the mode provided by this act. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1467.]

Bond for labor and material. Lien for materials furnished.

§ 19. Every contractor, person, company or corporation, including contracting owners, to whom is awarded any contract for street work under this act, shall, before executing the said contract, file with the superintendent of streets a good and sufficient bond, approved by the mayor, in a sum not less than one-half of the total amount payable by the terms of said contract; such bond shall be executed by the principal and at least two sureties, who shall qualify for double the sum specified in said bond, and shall be made to inure to the benefit of any and all persons, companies, or corporations who perform labor on, or furnish materials to be used in the said work of improvement, and shall provide that if the contractor, person, company, or corporation to whom said contract was awarded fails to pay for any materials so furnished for the said work of improvement, or for any work or labor done thereon of any kind, that the sureties will pay the same, to an amount not exceeding the sum specified in said bond. Any laborer, materialman, person, company or corporation, furnishing materials to be used in the performance of said work specified in said contract, or who performed work or labor upon said improvement, whose claim has not been paid by the said contractor, company or corporation, who executed the said contract, shall severally have a first lien upon and against the assessment, any partial assessment, any reassessment, and any bonds which may be issued to represent any assessment or reassessment. Such laborers, or materialmen may, at any time prior to thirty days after the recording of the assessment for said work, file with the superintendent of streets, a verified statement of his or its claim, together with a statement that the same, or some part thereof, has not been paid. At any time within ninety days after the filing of such claim, the persons, company, or corporation, filing the same or their assigns, may commence an action either to enforce the aforesaid lien, or on said bond, for the recovery of the amount due on said claim, together with the costs incurred in said action, and a reasonable attorneys fee to be fixed by the court; for the prosecution thereof. [Amendment of May 10, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 480.]

Frontage assessment. Method of assessment.

§ 20. Subdivision 1. The expenses incurred for any work authorized by this act (which expense shall not include the cost of any work done in such portion of any street as is required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, nor include work which shall have been declared in the resolution of intention to be assessed on a district benefited) shall be assessed upon the lots and lands fronting thereon, except as otherwise in this act specifically provided; each lot or portion of a lot being separately assessed, in proportion to the frontage, at a rate per front foot sufficient to cover the total expense of the work.

Main street crossings.

Subdivision 2. The expense of the work done on main street crossings shall be assessed at a uniform rate per front foot of the quarter blocks and irregular blocks adjoining and cornering upon the crossings, and separately upon the whole of each lot or portion of a lot having any frontage in the said blocks fronting on said main streets, half way to the next main street crossing, or to the end of such street if it does not meet another, and all the way on said blocks to a boundary line of the city where no such crossing intervenes, but only according to its frontage in said quarter blocks and irregular blocks.

Subdivision 3. Where a main street terminates in another main street, the expenses of the work done on one half of the width of the street opposite the termination shall be assessed upon the lots in each of the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering on that side, according to the frontage of such lots on said main streets, and the expense of the work on the other half of the width of said street when the work is sewerage of the terminating street only, shall be assessed upon the lots fronting on the termination and the lots adjacent to said lots on each side half way from the termination to the next terminating or intersecting street, according to the frontage of such lots on that side, and in all other work done on the termination, the property fronting on the termination shall be considered frontage and be assessed as set forth in subdivision one of this section.

Alley and main street crossings.

Subdivision 4. Where any alley or subdivision street crosses a main street, the expense of all work done on said crossing shall be assessed on all lots or portions of lots half way on said alley or subdivision street to the next crossing or intersection, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another.

Alley and subdivision street crossing.

Subdivision 5. The expense of work done on alley or subdivision street crossings shall be assessed upon the lots fronting upon such alley or subdivision streets on each side thereof, in all directions, half way to the next street, place or court, on either side, respectively, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another.

Alley terminations.

Subdivision 6. Where a subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court terminates in another street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, the expense of the work done on one half of the width of the subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court opposite the termination, shall be assessed upon the lot or lots fronting on such subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court so terminating, according to its frontage thereon, half way, on each side respectively, to the next street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, or to the end of such street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, if it does not meet another, and the expense of the work on the other half of the width when the work is sewerage of the terminating subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, shall be assessed upon the lots fronting on the termination and the lots adjacent to said lots on each side half way from the termination to the next terminating or intersecting street, according to the frontage of such lots on that side, and in all other work done on the termination the property fronting on the termination shall be considered frontage and be assessed as set forth in subdivision one of this section.

One side of street.

Subdivision 7. Where any work mentioned in this act (manholes, sewers, cesspools, culverts, crosswalks, piling and capping excepted) is done on one side of the center line of any street, or sewerage or re-sewerage is ordered to be done under the sidewalk on only one side of any street for any length thereof, the assessment for the expenses thereof shall be made only upon the lots and lands fronting nearest upon that side of the street and for intervening intersections only upon the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering upon that side.

Public property.

Subdivision 8. Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States, or to the state of California, or any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution, or institution for the feeble-minded or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, shall front upon the proposed work or improvement, or be included within the district declared by the city council in its resolution of intention to be the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, said city council may, in the resolution of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment thereafter to be made to cover the costs and expenses of said work or improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said resolution be omitted from the assessment, then the total expense of all work done shall be assessed on the remaining lots fronting on the work or improvement, or lying within the limits of the assessment district without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event that the council shall, in such resolution of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned as aforesaid, or any of them, shall be included in the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, then said city shall be liable for such sum or sums as may thereafter be assessed against any such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used, and so included in the assessment by reason of the aforesaid declaration, or such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used respecting which the resolution of intention makes no declaration, which shall be payable by the said city out of the general fund unless the legislative body shall in its resolution of intention designate another fund.

When owners may grade.

Subdivision 9. It shall be lawful for the owner or owners of lots or lands fronting upon any street, the width and grade of which have been established by the city council, to perform, at his or their own expense (after obtaining permission from the council so to do, but before said council has passed its resolution of intention to order grading inclusive of this), any grading upon said street, to its full width, or to the center line thereof, and to its grade as then established, and thereupon to procure, at his or their own expense, a certificate from the city engineer, setting forth the number of cubic yards of cutting and filling made by him or them in said grading, and the proportions performed by each owner, and that the same is done to the established width and grade of said street, or to the center line thereof, and thereafter to file said certificate with the superintendent of streets, which certificate the superintendent shall record in a book kept for that purpose in his office, properly indexed. Whenever thereafter the city council orders the grading of said street, or any portion thereof, on which any grading certified as aforesaid has been done, the bids and contracts must express the price by the cubic yard for cutting and filling in grading; and the said owner or owners and his or their successors in interest, shall be entitled to credit, on the assessment upon his or their lots and lands fronting on said streets for the grading thereof, to the amount of the cubic yards of cutting and filling set forth in his or their certificate, at the prices named in the contract for said cutting and filling; or, if the grade meanwhile has been duly altered, only for so much of said certified work as would be required for grading to the altered grade; provided, however, that such owner or owners shall not be entitled to such credit as may be in excess of the assessments for grading upon the lots and lands owned by him or them, and proportionately assessed for the whole of said grading; and the superintendent of streets shall include in the assessment for the whole of said grading upon the same grade the number of cubic yards of cutting and filling set forth in any and all certificates so recorded in his office, or for the whole of said grading to the duly altered grade so much of said certified work as would be required for grading thereto, and shall enter corresponding credits, deducting the same as payments upon the amounts assessed against the lots and lands owned, respectively, by said certified owners and their successors in interest; provided, however, that he shall not so include any grading quantities or credit any sums in excess of the proportionate assessments for the whole of the grading which are made upon any lots and lands fronting upon said street and belonging to any such certified owners or their successors in interest. Whenever any owner or owners of any lots and lands fronting on any street shall have heretofore done, or shall hereafter do any work (except grading) on such street, in front of any block, at his or their own expense, and the city council shall subsequently order any work to be done of the same class in front of the same block, said work so done at the expense of such owner or owners shall be excepted from the order ordering work to be done; provided, that the work so done at the expense of such owner or owners, shall be upon the official grade, and in condition satisfactory to the street superintendent at the time said order is passed.

Diagram of assessment district.

Subdivision 10. Whenever the resolution of intention declares that the cost and expenses of the work and improvement are to be assessed upon a district, the city engineer shall make a diagram of the property affected or benefited by the proposed work or improvement, as described in resolution of intention, and to be assessed to pay the expenses thereof. Such diagram shall show each separate lot, piece or parcel of land, the area in square feet of each of such lots, pieces or parcels of land, and the relative location of the same to the work proposed to be done, all within the limits of the assessment district; and when said diagram shall have been approved by the city council, the clerk shall certify the fact and date thereof. Immediately thereafter the said diagram shall be delivered to the superintendent of streets of said city, who shall, after the contractor of any street work has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets or city council on appeal, proceed to estimate upon the lands, lots or portions of lots within said assessment district, as shown by said diagram, the benefits arising from such work, and to be received by each such lot, portion of such lot, piece or subdivision of land, and shall thereupon assess upon and against said lands in said assessment district the total amount of the costs and expenses of such work, and in so doing shall assess said total sum upon the several pieces, parcels, lots or portions of lots, and subdivisions of land in said assessment district benefited thereby, to wit: Upon each respectively, in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by each of said several lots, portions of lots, or subdivisions of land. In other respects the assessment shall be as provided in the next section, and the provisions of subdivisions one, two, three, four, five, six and seven of this section shall not be applicable to the work or improvement provided for in this subdivision.

Railroad property.

Subdivision 11. The terms, lot, lots, lands, piece or parcel of land wherever mentioned in this act shall be deemed to include and shall include property owned or controlled by any person, firm or corporation as a railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way, and whenever a railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way shall front on or abut or parallel or be included with or divide longitudinally any street improved under the provisions of this act or shall be included within any district to be assessed for the cost of any improvement provided in this act, such railroad right of way (whether the same is owned in fee or as an easement) shall be included in the warrant, assessment and diagram and shall be assessed in the manner and with the same effect as other lots, lands or pieces or parcels of land are assessed as provided in this act, and such railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way shall be subject to sale for nonpayment of assessments as in this act provided. [Amendment approved April 25, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 78. In effect Aug. 10, 1913.]

Assessment to cover work.

§ 21. After the contractor of any street work has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of the street superintendent of said city, or the city engineer, if such power has been delegated to him, as hereinbefore provided, or of the city council on appeal, the street superintendent shall make an assessment to cover the sum due for the work performed and specified in said contract (including all incidental expenses), in conformity with the provisions of the preceding section according to the character of the work done; or, if any direction and decision be given by said council on appeal, then in conformity with such direction and decision, which assessment shall briefly refer to the contract, the work contracted for and performed, and shall show the amount to be paid therefor, together with all incidental expenses, the rate per front foot assessed, if the assessment be made per front foot, the amount of each assessment, the name of the owner of each lot, or portions of a lot (if known to the street superintendent); if unknown the word "unknown" shall be written opposite the number of the lot and the amount assessed thereon, the number of each lot or porton or portions of a lot assessed, and shall have attached thereto a diagram exhibiting each street or street crossing, lane, alley, place or court, on which any work has been done, showing the relative location of each district, lot, or portion of lot to the work done, numbered to correspond with the numbers in the assessments, and showing the number of feet fronting or number of lots assessed, for said work contracted for and performed. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1467.]

Warrant.

§ 22. To said assessment shall be attached a warrant, which shall be signed by the superintendent of streets, and countersigned by the mayor of said city. The said warrant shall be substantially in the following form:

FORM OF WARRANT.

By virtue hereof, I (name of the superintendent of streets), of the city of, county of (or city and county of), and state of California, by virtue of the authority vested in me as said superintendent of streets, do authorize and empower (name of contractor) (his or their) agents or assigns, to demand and receive the several assessments upon the assessment and diagram hereto attached and this shall be (his or their) warrant for the same.

(Date)

(Name of superintendent of streets.)

Countersigned by (name of mayor).

Assessments lien on lands. Warrant, etc., delivered to contractor.

§ 23. Said warrant, diagram, and assessment, together with the certificate, if any, of the city engineer of the quantity and character of the work done, shall be recorded in the office of said superintendent of streets. When so recorded the several amounts assessed shall be a lien upon the lands, lots, or portions of lots assessed, respectively, for the period of two years from the date of said recording, unless sooner discharged; and from and after the date of said recording of any warrant, assessment and certificate, all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of the record thereof. After said warrant, assessment, and certificate are recorded, the same shall be delivered to the contractor, or his agent, or assigns, on demand, but not until after the payment to the said superintendent of streets of the incidental expenses not previously paid by the contractor, or his assigns; and by virtue of said warrant said contractor, or his agents or assigns, shall be authorized to demand and receive the amount of the several assessments made to cover the sum due for the work specified in such contracts and assessments. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1468.]

Demanding payment.

§ 24. The contractor or his assigns, or some person in his or their behalf, shall call upon the persons assessed, or their agents, if they can conveniently be found, and demand payment of the amount assessed to each. If any payment be made, the contractor, his assigns, or some person in his or their behalf, shall receipt the same upon the assessment in presence of the person making such payment, and shall also give a separate receipt if demanded. Whenever the person so assessed, or their agents cannot conveniently be found, or whenever the name of the owner of the lot is stated as "Unknown" on the assessment, then the said contractor, or his assigns, or some person in his or their behalf, shall publicly demand payment on the premises assessed.

Warrant returned. Unpaid assessments.

§ 25. The warrant shall be returned to the superintendent of streets within thirty days after its date, with a return attached thereto, signed by the contractor, or his assigns, or some person in his behalf, verified upon oath, stating the nature and character of the demand, and whether any of the assessments remain unpaid, in whole or in part, and the amount thereof. Thereupon the superintendent of streets shall record the return so made with the record of the warrant and assessment either in the margin of said record or in the same book with and immediately following the record of the assessment; and also the original contract referred to therein, if it has not already been recorded at full length in a book to be kept for that purpose in his office, and shall sign the record. The said superintendent of streets is authorized at any time to receive the amount due upon any assessment list and warrant issued by him, and give a good and sufficient discharge therefor; provided, that no such payment so made after suit has been commenced, without the consent of the plaintiff in the action, shall operate as a complete discharge of the lien until the costs in the action shall be refunded to the plaintiff; and he may release any assessment upon the books of his office, on the payment to him of the amount of the assessment against any lot with interest, or on the production to him of the receipt of the party or his assigns to whom the assessment and warrant were issued; and if any contractor shall fail to return his warrant within the time and in the form provided in this section, he shall thenceforth have no lien upon the property assessed; provided, however, that in case any warrant is lost, upon proof of such loss a duplicate can be issued, upon which a return may be made, with the same effect as if the original had been so returned. After the return of the assessment and warrant as aforesaid, all amounts remaining due thereon shall draw interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum until paid, said interest to be computed from the date of the recording of the return. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1468.]

Final objections.

§ 26. The owners, whether named in the assessment or not, the contractor, or his assigns, and all other persons directly interested in any work done under this act, or in the assessment, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the superintendent of streets in relation thereto, or who claim that the work has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner, or having or making any objection to the correctness or legality of the assessment or other act, determination, or proceedings of the superintendent of streets, shall, within thirty days after the date of the warrant, appeal to the city council as provided in this section, by briefly stating their objections in writing, and filing the same with the clerk of said city council. Notice of the time and place of the hearing, as fixed by the council, briefly referring to the work contracted to be done, or other subject of appeal, and to the acts, determinations, or proceedings objected to or complained of, shall be posted conspicuously by the clerk, on or near the chamber door of the council chambers, for five days. Upon such appeal, the said city council may remedy and correct any error or informality in the proceedings, and revise and correct any of the acts or determinations of the superintendent of streets relative to said work; may confirm, amend, set aside, alter, modify or correct the assessment in such manner as to them shall seem just, and require the work to be completed according to the directions of the city council; and may instruct and direct the superintendent of streets to correct the warrant, assessment, or diagram in any particular, or to make and issue a new warrant, assessment, and diagram, to conform to the decisions of said city council in relation thereto, at their option. All the decisions and determinations of said city council, upon notice and hearing as aforesaid, shall be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to appeal under the provisions of this section, as to all errors, informalities, and irregularities which said city council might have avoided, or have remedied, during the progress of the proceedings, or which it can at that time remedy. No assessment, warrant, diagram or affidavit of demand and nonpayment, after the issue of the same, and no proceedings prior to the assessment, shall be held invalid by any court for any error, informality, or other defect in the same, where the resolution of intention of the council to do the work, has been actually published as herein provided, and said notices of improvement have been posted along the line of the work, as provided in section 5 of this act, before the passage of the resolution ordering the work to be done.

Contractor may sue. Attorney's fee. Warrant, etc., evidence.

§ 27. At any time after the period of thirty-five days from the day of the date of the warrants, as herein provided, or if an appeal is taken to the city council, as provided in section 26 of this act, at any time after five days from the decision of said council, or after the return of the warrant or assessment after the same may have been corrected, altered, or modified, as provided in said section 26 (but not less than thirty-five days from the date of the warrant), the contractor or his assignee may sue, in his own name, the owner of the land, lots or portions of lots, assessed on the day of the date of the recording of the warrant, assessment, and diagram, or any day thereafter during the continuance of the lien of said assessment, and recover the amount of any assessment remaining unpaid, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum until paid. And in all cases of recovery under the provisions of this act, where personal demand has been made upon the owner or his agent, but not otherwise, the plaintiff shall recover such sum as the court may fix, in addition to the taxable cost as attorney's fees, but not any percentage upon said recovery. And when suit has been brought, after a personal demand has been made, and a refusal to pay such assessment so demanded, the plaintiff shall be entitled to have and recover the sum of fifteen dollars as attorney's fees, in addition to all taxable costs, notwithstanding that the suit may be settled or a tender may be made before a recovery in said action, and he may have judgment therefor. Suit may be brought in the superior court within whose jurisdiction the city is in which said work has been done, and in case any of the assessments are made against lots, portions of lots, or lands, the owners whereof can not, with due diligence, be found, the service of each of said actions may be had in such manner as is prescribed in the codes and laws of this state. It shall be competent to bring a single action under any such assessment irrespective of the number of lots assessed where the parties defendant are identical, and where separate actions are brought, the same may be consolidated by order of the court. The said warrant, assessment, certificate and diagram, with the affidavit of demand and nonpayment, shall be held prima facie evidence of the regularity and correctness of the assessment and of the prior proceedings and acts of the superintendent of streets and city council upon which said warrant, assessment and diagram are based, and like evidence of the right of the plaintiff to recover in the action.

Complaint.

In a complaint in any such action it shall be held sufficient to allege briefly that the city council ordered the work, the performance of the work under the contract, the making of the assessment, the issuing of said warrant and certificate and the making of said diagram; that an assessment (naming the amount) was levied against that certain lot or parcel of land (describing the same) which, according to the information and belief of the plaintiff, is owned by the defendant; that payment of said assessment has been demanded in the time, form and manner prescribed in this act and that the same has not been paid.

Description of lots.

In describing said lot or parcel of land in said complaint it shall be sufficient to refer to the same by its number upon said diagram, provided a certified copy of said warrant, assessment and diagram shall have been previously filed in the office of the recorder of the county or city and county in which the same is situated. It shall be the duty of such recorder to so file any such certified copy presented to him upon payment of the filing fee therefor, which fee is hereby fixed at fifty cents. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1469.]

New assessment permitted.

§ 28. Whenever, in any suit, the lien of an assessment or reassessment, or of a bond issue for the cost of such work, shall be held invalid for any cause arising subsequent to the publication and posting of the resolution of intention and the posting of the notices of improvement along the line of work, or because the work or any part thereof is not sufficiently described in the resolution of intention, the contractor or his assigns, or the holder of such bond, shall have the right, within sixty days thereafter, to apply for and receive a new assessment for the cost of the work done and sufficiently described in the resolution of intention or specifications on file, such cost to be assessed upon the property and in the same manner as provided in sections 20 and 21 of this act; and the street superintendent shall, within twenty days after such application, make and deliver to said applicant a new assessment, warrant and diagram in accordance with the law governing the issuance of originals of such documents, and the mayor shall in like manner countersign the said warrant, which reassessment shall be a lien on the property so assessed for two years from the date of the recording of said reassessment and warrant and be enforced in the same manner as an original assessment would be enforced. If an appeal be taken from the judgment in which such an assessment is held invalid, the time herein provided for making application for a new assessment shall not begin until such case be in some manner finally disposed of.

Selling premises on execution.

§ 29. The court in which said suit shall be commenced shall have power to adjudge and decree a lien against the premises assessed, and to order such premises to be sold on execution, as in other cases of the sale of real estate by the process of said courts; and on appeal, the appellate courts shall be vested with the same power to adjudge and decree a lien and to order such premises to be sold on execution or decree as is conferred on the court from which an appeal is taken. Such premises, if sold, may be redeemed as in other cases. In all suits now pending or hereafter brought under this act to recover street assessments, the proceedings therein shall be governed and regulated by the provisions of this act, and also, when not in conflict herewith, by the codes of this state.

Partial assessment.

§ 30. The city council, instead of waiting until the completion of the improvement, may, in its discretion, and not otherwise, upon the completion of two blocks or more of any improvement, order the street superintendent to make an assessment for the proportionate amount of the contract completed, and thereupon proceedings and rights of collection of such proportionate amount shall be had as provided in the preceding sections.

Repairs.

§ 31. When any portion of any improved street, avenue, lane, alley, court, or place in said city, or any sidewalk constructed thereon shall be out of repair, or pending reconstruction, and in condition to endanger persons or property passing thereon, or in condition to interfere with the public convenience in the use thereof, it shall be the duty of said superintendent of streets to require, by notice in writing, to be delivered to them or to their agents personally, or left on the premises, the owners or occupants of lots or portions of lots fronting on said portion of said street, avenue, alley, lane, court, or place, or said portion of said sidewalks so out of repair or needing reconstruction as aforesaid, to repair or reconstruct, or to do both, forthwith, said portion of said street, avenue, lane, alley, court, or place, to the center line of said street in front of the property of which he is the owner, or tenant, or occupant; and said superintendent of streets shall particularly specify in said notice what work is required to be done, and how the same is to be done, and what material shall be used in said repairs, or reconstruction, or both. If said repairs, or reconstructions, or both, be not commenced within three days after notice given as aforesaid, and diligently and without interruption prosecuted to completion, the said superintendent of streets may, under authority from said city council, make such repairs, reconstructions, or both, or enter into a contract with any suitable person, at the expense of the owner, tenant, or occupant, after the specification for the doing of said work shall have been conspicuously posted by him in his office for two days, inviting bids for the doing of said work, which bids shall be delivered to him at his office on or before the second day of said posting, and opened by him on the next day following the expiration of said two days of posting, and the contract by him be awarded to the lowest bidder, if such lowest bid, in the judgment of said street superintendent, shall be reasonable. All of said bids shall be preserved in his office and open at all times after the letting of the contract to the inspection of all persons, and such owner, tenant, or occupant shall be liable to pay said contract price. Such work shall be commenced within twenty-four hours after the contract shall have been signed, and completed without delay to the satisfaction of said street superintendent. Upon the completion of said repairs, or reconstruction, or both, by said contractors as aforesaid, to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets, said superintendent of streets shall make and deliver to said contractor a certificate to the effect that said repairs, or reconstruction, or both, have been properly made by said contractor to the grade, and that the charges for the same are reasonable and just, and that he, said superintendent, has accepted the same.

Suit for repairs.

§ 32. If the expenses of the work and material for such improvement, after the completion thereof, and the delivery to said contractor of said certificate, be not paid to the contractor so employed, or his agent or assignee, on demand, the said contractor, or his assignee, shall have the right to sue such owner, tenant, or occupant, for the amount contracted to be paid; and said certificate of the superintendent of streets shall be prima facie evidence of the amount claimed for said work and materials, and of the right of the contractor to recover for the same in such action. Said certificate shall be recorded by the said superintendent of streets in a book kept by him in his office for that purpose, properly indexed, and the sum contracted to be paid shall be a lien, the same as provided in section 23 of this act, and may be enforced in the same manner.

Additional penalty for neglect.

§ 33. In addition, and as cumulative to the remedies above given, the city council shall have power, by resolution or ordinance, to prescribe the penalties that shall be incurred by any owner or person liable, or neglecting, or refusing to make repairs when required, as provided in section 31 of this act, which fines and penalties shall be recovered for the use of the city by prosecution in the name of the people of the state of California in the court having jurisdiction thereof, and may be applied, if deemed expedient by the said council, in the payment of the expenses of any such repairs not otherwise provided for.

Tenant may pay assessment.

§ 34. Any tenant or lessee of the lands or lots liable may pay the amount assessed against the property of which he is the tenant or lessee under the provisions of this act, or he may pay the price agreed on to be paid under the provisions of section 30 of this act, either before or after suit brought, together with costs, to the contractor, or his assigns, or he may redeem the property, if sold on execution or decree for the benefit of the owner, within the time prescribed by law, and deduct the amount so paid from the rents due and to become due from him, and for any sums so paid beyond the rents due from him, he shall have a lien upon and may retain possession of the said land and lots until the amount so paid and advanced be satisfied, with legal interest, from accruing rents, or by payment by the owner.

Service of notice.

§ 35. Notices in writing which are required to be given by the superintendent of streets, under the provisions of this act, may be served by any person, with the permission of the superintendent of streets, and the fact of such service shall be verified by the oath of the person making it, taken before the superintendent of streets, who for that purpose, and for all other purposes, and in all cases where a verification is required under the provisions of this act, is hereby authorized to administer oaths, or other person authorized to administer oaths or such notices may be delivered by the superintendent of streets himself, who must also verify the service thereof, and who shall keep a record, of the fact of giving such notices, when delivered by himself personally, and also of the notices and proof of service when delivered by any other person.

Records of street superintendent.

§ 37. The superintendent of streets shall keep a public office in some convenient place within the municipality, and such records as may be required by the provisions of this act. The records so kept and signed by him, shall have the same force and effect as other public records, and copies therefrom duly certified, may be used in evidence with the same effect as the originals. The said records shall, during all office hours, be open to the inspection of any person wishing to examine them, free of charge.

Duty of street superintendent.

§ 38. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of streets to see that the laws, ordinances, orders, and regulations relating to the public streets and highways be fully carried into execution, and that the penalties thereof are rigidly enforced. He shall keep himself informed of the condition of all the public streets and highways, and also of all public buildings, parks, lots, and grounds of said city, as may be prescribed by the city council. He shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give bonds to the municipality, with such sureties and for such sums as may be required by the city council; and should he fail to see the laws, ordinances, orders, and regulations relative to the public streets or highways carried into execution, after notice from any citizen of a violation thereof, he and his sureties shall be liable upon his official bond to any person injured in his person or property in consequence of said official neglect. He shall superintend and direct the cleaning of all sewers, and the expense of the same shall be paid out of the street or sewer fund of said city.

Damages. Defective streets.

§ 39. If, in consequence of any graded street or public highway or sidewalk, being out of repair and in condition to endanger persons or property passing thereon, any person, while carefully using said street or public highway, or sidewalk and exercising ordinary care to avoid the danger, suffer damage to his person or property, through any such defect therein, no recourse for damages thus suffered shall be had against such city; but if such defect in the street or public highway shall have existed for the period of twenty-four hours or more after written notice thereof to the said superintendent of streets, then the person or persons on whom the law may have imposed the obligations to repair such defect in the street or public highway, and also the officer or officers through whose official negligence such defect remains unrepaired, shall be jointly and severally liable to the party injured for the damage sustained; provided, that said superintendent has the authority to make said repairs, under the direction of the city council, at the expense of the city.

Partial expense from treasury.

§ 40. The city council may, in its discretion, order, by resolution that the whole or any part of the cost and expenses of any of the work mentioned in this act be paid out of the treasury of the municipality from such fund as the council may designate, in which case it shall be so stated in the resolution of intention. Whenever a part of such cost and expenses is so ordered to be paid, the superintendent of streets, in making up the assessment heretofore provided for such cost and expenses, shall first deduct from the whole cost and expenses such part thereof as has been so ordered to be paid out of the municipal treasury, and shall assess the remainder of said costs and expenses proportionately upon the lots, parts of lots and lands fronting on the streets where said work was done, or liable to be assessed for such work, and in the manner heretofore provided.

§ 41. The city engineer, or where there is no city engineer, the county or city and county surveyor, shall be the proper officer to do the surveying and other engineering work necessary to be done under this act, and to survey and measure the work to be done under contracts for grading and macadamizing streets, and to estimate the costs and expenses thereof; and every certificate signed by him in his official character shall be prima facie evidence in all courts in this state of the truth of its contents. He shall also keep a record of all surveys made under the provisions of this act, as in other cases. In all those cities where there is no city engineer, the city council thereof is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint a suitable person to discharge the duties herein laid down as those of city engineer, and all the provisions hereof applicable to the city engineer shall apply to such person so appointed. Said city council is hereby empowered to fix his compensation for such services.

Superintendent of work.

§ 42. The superintendent of streets (or the city engineer, if the city council has by resolution directed that the work be done under his direction and to his satisfaction, as provided in section 18 of this act) shall, when in his judgment it is necessary appoint a suitable person or persons to take charge of and superintend the construction and improvement of any work authorized by this act, whose duty it shall be to see that the contract made for the doing of said work is strictly fulfilled in every respect and in case of any departure therefrom to report the same to the superintendent of streets, or to the city engineer, if appointed by him. Such person shall be allowed for his time actually employed in the discharge of his duties such compensation as shall be just, but not to exceed five dollars per day. The sum to which the party so employed shall be entitled shall be deemed to be incidental expenses within the meaning of those words as defined by this act. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1470.]

PART II.

Modification of grade.

§ 43. The city council is hereby empowered to change or modify the grade of any public street, lane, alley, place or court, and to regrade or repave the same, so as to conform to such modified grade, in the manner as hereinafter provided. Before any change of grade is ordered the city council shall pass a resolution of intention to make such change or modification of grade, and it shall have power at the same time and in the same resolution to provide for the actual cost of performing the work of regrading, repaving, sewerage, sidewalk, or curbing of said street or portion of street, with the same or other material with which it was formerly graded, paved, sewerage, sidewalked, or curbed; and that the cost of the same shall also be assessed upon the same district which is declared to be benefited by such changed or modified grade. One or more streets or blocks of streets may be embraced in the same resolution. Such resolution shall be published twice in the newspaper in which the official notices of the city council are usually printed and published, to be designated in such resolution and shall describe the proposed change or modification of grade or regrading, and shall designate and establish the district to be benefited by such change or modification of grade or regrading, and to be assessed for the cost of the same. The superintendent of streets shall also cause to be conspicuously posted within the district designated in the resolution, notice of the passage of said resolution. Said notice shall be the same in all requirements of contents and posting as the "notices of improvement" provided for in section five of this act. If no objection to said proposed change or changes, or modifications of grade, shall be filed with the clerk of the council within thirty days from the first publication of the resolution of intention hereinbefore mentioned, or, if objections are presented, and after due notice and hearing are overruled by the council, the city council shall have power to order and declare such grades to be changed and established in conformity to said resolution, which order shall be posted by the clerk on the chamber door of the council for five days. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1471.]

§ 44. Within thirty days after the first posting of said order, as aforesaid, any person owning property fronting upon said portions of the street or streets where such change of grade is made, may file a petition with the clerk of the city council showing the fact of such ownership, the description and situation of the property, its market value, and the estimated amount of damages over and above all benefits which the property would sustain by the proposed change if completed. Such petition shall be verified by the oath of the petitioners or their agents.

Commissioners.

§ 45. Whenever such petition or petitions have been filed, the mayor, engineer or surveyor, and superintendent of streets of the city, or city and county, or board of public works if there be such a board acting as a board of commissioners, shall assess the benefits, damages, and costs of the proposed change of grade upon each separate lot of land situated within such assessment district showing the same by a plat as said lot appears of record upon the last city, or city and county assessment-roll. The commissioners shall be sworn to make the assessments of benefits and damages to the best of their judgment and ability, without fear or favor. The commissioners shall have power to subpoena witnesses to appear before them to be examined under oath, which any one of said commissioners is authorized to administer.

Damages and benefits.

§ 46. The commissioners having determined the damage which would be sustained by each petitioner, in excess of all benefits, shall proceed to assess the total amount thereof, together with the costs, charges, and expenses of the proceedings, upon the several lots of land benefited within the district of assessment, so that each of the lots shall be assessed in accordance with its benefits caused by such work or improvement; and during the progress of their work shall make a report to such city council as often as it may be required.

Report of commissioners.

§ 47. The commissioners shall make their report in writing, and shall subscribe to the same and file it with the city council. In their said report they shall describe separately each piece of property which will sustain damage, stating the amount of damages each will sustain over and above all benefits. They shall also give a brief description of each lot benefited within said assessment district, the name of the owner, if known, and the amount of benefits in excess of damages assessed against the same. In case the three commissioners do not agree, the award agreed upon by a majority of them shall be sufficient. In designating the lots to be assessed, reference may be had to a diagram of the property in the district affected; such diagram to be attached to and made a part of the report of the commissioners. If in case the commissioners find that conflicting claims of title exist, or shall be in ignorance or doubt of the ownership of any lot or land, or any improvement thereon, or any interest therein, it shall be set down as belonging to unknown owners. Error in the designation of the owner or owners of any land or improvements, or particulars of their interest, shall not affect the validity of the assessment.

Notice of hearing report.

§ 48. On the filing of said report, the clerk of said city council shall give notice of such filing by publication twice in one or more daily newspapers, or in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper so published and circulated; and said notice shall require all persons interested to show cause, if any, why such report should not be confirmed, before the city council, on a day to be fixed by the city council and stated in said notice, which day shall not be less than twenty days from the first publication thereof.

Objections to report.

§ 49. All objections shall be in writing and filed with the clerk of the city council, who shall, at the next meeting after the date fixed in the notice to show cause, lay the said objections, if any, before the council, which shall fix a time for hearing the same; of which time the clerk shall notify the objectors in the same manner as are notified objectors to the original resolution of intention. At the time set, or at such other time as the hearing may be adjourned, the city council shall hear such objections and pass upon the same, and at such time shall proceed to pass upon such report, and may confirm, correct, or modify the same, or may order the commissioners to make a new assessment, report, and plat, which shall be filed, notice given and had, as in the case of an original report.

Advertising for bids.

§ 50. In case the resolution of intention also provides for the assessment upon the district the cost of regrading or repaving such street or streets to such changed or modified grade, after the report of the commissioners as to the damages caused by such change of grade has been passed upon by the city council, it shall then advertise for bids to perform the work of regrading, repaving, sewerage, sidewalking or curbing such street or streets with the same or other material with which the same had been formerly graded, paved, sewerage, sidewalked, or curbed; first causing a notice, with specifications, to be posted conspicuously for five days on or near the council chamber door, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing such work, and shall also cause notices of said work, inviting said proposals and referring to the specifications posted or on file, to be published twice, in a daily, semi-weekly, or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city, and designated by the city council for that purpose. All proposals or bids offered shall be accompanied by a check, payable to the city, and certified by a responsible bank, which shall not be less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposals; or by a bond for said amount, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify under oath in double said amount over and above all statutory exemptions. Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk of the said city council, and said council shall in open session publicly open, examine and declare the same; provided, however, that no proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by a check or a bond satisfactory to the council. The city council may reject any and all bids, and may award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder. If not accepted the city council may readvertise for proposals or bids as in the first instance, and thereafter proceed in the manner in this section provided. All checks accompanying bids shall be held by the clerk until such successful bidder has entered into a contract, as herein provided; and in case he refuses so to do, then the amount of his certified check shall be declared forfeited to the city, and shall be collected and paid into its general fund, and all bonds so forfeited shall be prosecuted, and the amount thereof collected and paid into such fund. Notice of the awards of the contracts shall be published and posted in the same manner as hereinbefore in this section provided for the posting of proposals for said work.

§ 51. After such contract has been awarded and entered into, the clerk of the city council shall certify to the city council that fact, together with the total amount of the cost of the same, whereupon the city council shall cause to be forwarded to the commissioners a copy of such certificate; whereupon such commissioners shall proceed to assess the cost of doing such work upon all the lots and land lying within the district to be assessed, distributing the same so that each lot will be assessed for its proportion of the same, according to the benefits it receives from the work, and in the same manner in which the damages caused by the change of grade were assessed upon the same. Such commissioners in making such assessment shall show the total amount for which each lot or tract is assessed, in excess of all benefits, for the total cost of changing and modifying the grade of the street, as well as the regrading, repaving, sewerage, sidewalk, and curbing of the same, and costs or damages connected therewith. The provisions of part I of this act in regard to the mode or manner of the assessment of the cost of such work shall not apply to the work in this part contemplated; neither shall the provisions of this act in regard to the issuing of bonds to represent the cost of the same, nor the provisions in regard to the right of protest against the work apply.

Assessment-roll.

§ 52. The clerk of said city council shall forward to the street superintendent of the city a certified copy of the report, assessment, and plat, as finally confirmed and adopted by the city council. Such certified copy shall thereupon be the assessment-roll, the cost of which shall be provided for by the commissioners, as a portion of the cost of the proceedings therein. Immediately upon receipt thereof by the street superintendent, the assessment therein contained shall become due and payable, and shall be a lien upon all the property contained or described therein.

Collecting assessments.

§ 53. The superintendent of streets shall thereupon give notice, by publication twice in one or more daily newspapers published and circulated in said city, or city and county, or in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper so published and circulated, that he has received said assessment-roll, and that all sums levied and assessed in said assessment-roll are due and payable immediately, and that the payment of said sums is to be made to him within thirty days from the date of the first publication of said notice. Said notice shall also contain a statement that all assessments not paid before the expiration of said thirty days will be declared to be delinquent, and that thereafter the sum of five per cent upon the amount of such delinquent assessment, together with the cost of advertising each delinquent assessment will be added thereto. When payment of any assessment is made to said superintendent of streets, he shall write the word "paid" and the date of payment opposite the respective assessment so paid, and the name of the persons by or for whom said assessment is paid, and shall give a receipt therefor. On the expiration of said thirty days, all assessments then unpaid shall be and become delinquent, and said superintendent of streets shall certify such fact at the foot of said assessment-roll, and shall add five per cent to the amount of each assessment so delinquent. After the date of said delinquency no assessment shall be received unless said five per cent together with all costs be paid therewith.

Sale of property.

§ 54. The said superintendent of streets shall, within five days from the date of such delinquency, proceed to advertise the various sums delinquent, and the whole thereof, including the cost of advertising, which last shall not exceed the sum of fifty cents for each lot, piece or parcel of land separately assessed. Said list of delinquent assessments, with a notice of the time and place of sale of the property affected thereby, shall be published twice in one or more daily newspapers published and circulated in such city, or in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated before the day of sale for such delinquent assessment. Said time of sale must not be less than seven days from the date of the first publication of said delinquent assessment list, and the place must be in or in front of the office of said superintendent of streets. If any assessment together with said penalty and costs be not paid before the time of sale the street superintendent shall proceed to sell and shall sell each lot, piece or parcel of land separately assessed at public auction to the bidder offering to pay the amount due for the least portion of such lot, piece or parcel of land so offered for sale, and shall issue a certificate therefor. If there be no bidder said property shall be struck off to the municipality.

Redeemable within one year.

§ 55. All property sold shall be subject to redemption for one year by the payment of the amount of the assessment, penalty and costs and interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum from the date of sale. The superintendent of streets shall, if there is no redemption, make and deliver to the purchaser at such sale, or his consignee, a deed conveying the property sold, and shall collect for each deed one dollar. The deed of the street superintendent, made after such sale, in case of failure to redeem, shall be prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings hereunder, and of title in the grantee.

Separate funds.

§ 56. The superintendent of streets shall from time to time pay over to the city treasurer all moneys collected by him on account of any such assessments. The city treasurer shall, upon receipt thereof, place the same in a separate fund, designating each fund by the name of the street, square, lane, alley, court, or place for the change of grade for which the assessment was made. Payments shall be made from said fund to the parties entitled thereto, upon warrants signed by the commissioners or a majority of them.

Notice of damages awarded.

§ 57. When sufficient money is in the hands of the city treasurer, in the fund voted for the proposed work or improvement, to pay the total cost for damages, as well as for the cost of doing the work, and all other expenses connected therewith, it shall be the duty of the commissioners to notify the owner, possessor, or occupant of the premises damaged, and to whom damages have been awarded, that a warrant has been drawn for the payment of the same, which can be received at the office of such commissioners. Such notification may be made by depositing a notice, postage prepaid, in the postoffice, addressed to his last known place of residence. If, after the expiration of three days the service or deposit of the notice in the postoffice, he shall not have applied for such warrant, the same shall be drawn and deposited with the city treasurer, to be delivered to him upon demand.

Condemnation proceedings.

§ 58. If the owner of any premises damaged neglects or refuses, for ten days after the warrant has been placed in the hands of the city treasurer, subject to his demand, to accept the same, the city council may cause proceedings to be commenced, in the name of the city, to condemn said premises, as provided by law under the right of eminent domain. The resolution of intention shall be conclusive evidence of the necessity of the same. Such proceedings shall have precedence, so far as the business of the court will permit, and any judgment for damages therein rendered shall be payable out of a special fund in the treasury for that purpose. At any time after the trial and judgment entered, or pending appeal, the court may order the city treasurer to set apart in the city treasury a sufficient sum from said fund to answer the judgment, and thereupon may authorize or order the municipality to proceed with the proposed work or improvements. In case of a deficiency in said fund to pay the whole assessed judgment and damages, the city council may, in its discretion, order the balance thereof to be paid out of the general fund of the treasury, or to be distributed by the commissioners over the property assessed by a supplementary assessment; but in the last named case, in order to avoid delay, the city council may advance such balance out of any available fund in the treasury, and reimburse the same from the collection of assessments. The treasurer shall pay such warrants in the order of their presentation; provided, that warrants for damages and for costs of performing the work shall have priority over warrants for charges and expenses, and the treasurer shall see that sufficient money remains in the fund to pay all warrants of the first class before paying any of the second. The provisions of section 1251 of the Code of Civil Procedure, requiring the payment of damages within thirty days after the entry of judgment, shall not apply to damages rendered in proceedings under this act. All provisions contained in parts I and IV of this act, which provisions are not in conflict herewith, shall apply to all matters herein contained.

PART III.Serial bonds may be issued.

§ 59. The city council of any municipality in this state shall have the power, in its discretion, to determine that serial bonds shall be issued in the manner and form hereinafter provided to represent assessments of twenty-five dollars or over for the cost of any work or improvement authorized in part I of this act.

Life of bonds. Interest. When payable. Owner may pay.

§ 60. Said serial bonds shall extend over a period not to exceed nine years from the second day of January next succeeding their date, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable, by coupon, on the second day of January every year after their date, until the whole is paid, and the interest shall be payable semi-annually, by coupon, on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year, at the rate of not to exceed ten per cent per annum on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid.

Said bonds and interest thereon shall be paid at the office of the city treasurer of said municipality, who shall keep a fund designated by the name of said bonds, into which he shall place all sums paid him for the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon, and from which he shall disburse such sums, upon the presentation of said coupons; and under no circumstances shall said bonds or the interest thereon be paid out of any other fund. Said city treasurer shall keep a register in his office, which shall show the series, number, date, amount, rate of interest, payee and indorsees of each bond, and the number and amount of each coupon of principal or interest paid by him and shall cancel and file each coupon so paid.

The owner of or any person interested in any lot or parcel of land upon which a bond has been issued under the terms of this act may at any time before commencement of proceedings for sale pay off such bond and discharge the land described in the bond from the lien of the assessment, by paying to the city treasurer, for the holder of such bond, the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, all interest thereon which has accrued and is unpaid, and all penalties accrued and unpaid, together with the two semi-annual installments of interest which will next thereafter become due according to the terms of such bond. Upon such payment being made to the city treasurer he shall report the same to the street superintendent, who shall forthwith mark paid on the margin of the record of the assessment, the assessment to represent which such bond was issued, and thereupon the lien of said assessment shall cease and the city treasurer shall forthwith notify the holder of the bond and call in the same. The city treasurer shall enter in his record of such bond the amount paid and the date of payment, and upon the lien of the assessment being extinguished as aforesaid, shall cancel said bond and file it in his office. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1471.]

Notice in resolution of intention.

§ 61. When said city council shall determine that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the expenses of any proposed work or improvement under this act, it shall so declare in the resolution of intention to do said work, and shall specify the rate of interest which they shall bear. The like description of said bonds shall be inserted in the resolution ordering the work, in the resolution of award, and in all notices of said proceedings required by this act to be either posted or published; and also a notice that a bond will issue to represent each assessment of twenty-five dollars or more remaining unpaid for thirty days after the date of the warrant, or five days after the decision of said council upon an appeal, shall be included in the warrant provided for in section 22 of this act.

Notification to treasurer.

§ 62. After the full expiration of thirty days from the date of the warrant, or if an appeal be taken to the city council as provided in this act, then five days after the final decision of said council, and after the street superintendent shall have recorded the return, as provided in section 25 hereof, the street superintendent shall make and certify to the city treasurer a complete list of all assessments unpaid, which amount to twenty-five dollars or over, upon any assessment or diagram number; and said treasurer shall thereupon make out, sign, and issue to the contractor, or his assigns, payee of the warrant and assessment, a separate bond, representing upon each lot or parcel of land upon said list the total amount of the assessments against the same, as thereon shown. And if said lot or parcel of land is described upon said assessment and diagram by its number or block, or both, and is also designated by its number or block, or both, upon the official map of said municipality, or upon any map on file in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said municipality is situated, then it shall be in said bond a sufficient description of said lot or parcel of land to designate it by said number or block, or both, as it appears on said official or recorded map.

Street improvement bond.

§ 63. Said bond shall be substantially in the following form:

STREET IMPROVEMENT BOND.

Series (designating it), in the city (or other form of the municipality) of (naming it).
$ 100. No.

Under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the state of California (title of this act), I, out of the fund for the above designated street improvement bonds, series, will pay to, or order, the sum of dollars ($) with interest at the rate of per cent per annum, all as is hereinafter specified, and at the office of the treasurer of the of, state of California.

This bond is issued to represent the cost of certain street work upon, in the of, as the same is more fully described in assessment number, issued by the street superintendent of said, after the acceptance of said work, and recorded in his office. Its amount is the amount assessed in said assessment against the lot or parcel of land numbered therein, and in the diagram attached thereto, as number, and which now remains unpaid, but until paid, with accrued interest, is a first lien upon the property affected thereby, as the same is described herein, and in said recorded assessment with its diagram, to wit: the lot or parcel of land in said of, county of, state of California.

This bond is payable exclusively from said fund, and neither the municipality nor any officer thereof is to be holden for payment otherwise of its principal or interest. The term of this bond is years from the second day of January next succeeding its date, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid shall be due and payable; but on the second day of January of each year after its date an even annual proportion of its whole amount is due and payable, upon presentation of the coupon therefor, until the whole is paid, with all accrued interest at the rate of per centum per annum.

The interest is payable semi-annually, to wit: On the second days of January and of July in each year hereafter, upon presentation of the coupons therefor, the first of which is for the interest from date to the next second day of, and thereafter the interest coupons are for semi-annual interest, except the last, which is for interest from the semi-annual payment next preceding and to date of the final maturity of this bond.

This bond may be redeemed by the owner or any person interested in any lot or parcel of land described herein, in the manner provided in said act, at any time before maturity, and before commencement of proceedings for sale, upon payment to the city treasurer, for the holder of this bond, of the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, all interest thereon which has accrued and is unpaid and all penalties accrued and unpaid, together with the two semi-annual installments of interest which will next thereafter become due according to the terms of said bond.

Should default be made in the annual payment upon the principal, or in any payment of interest from the owner of said lot or parcel of land, or anyone in his behalf, the holder of this bond is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable, and to have said lot or parcel of land advertised and sold forthwith, in the manner provided by law.

At said of this day of , in the year one thousand hundred and City treasurer of the of Limitation, twenty-five dollars.

§ 64. In case the amount of unpaid assessments upon any lot or parcel of land shall be less than twenty-five dollars, then the same shall be collected as is hereinbefore provided in part I of this act.

Owner may stop issuance.

§ 65. If any person, or his authorized agent, shall at any time before the issuance of the bond for said assessment upon his lot or parcel of land present to the city treasurer his affidavit, made before a competent officer, that he is the owner of a lot or parcel of land in said list, accompanied by the certificate of a searcher of records that he is such owner of record, and with such affidavit and certificate such person notifies said treasurer in writing that he desires no bond to be issued for the assessments upon said lot or parcel of land, then no such bond shall be issued therefor, and the payee of the warrant, or his assigns, shall retain his right for enforcing collection as if said lot or parcel of land had not been so listed by the street superintendent.

To whom payable. Coupons. Record of bonds.

§ 66. The bonds so issued by said treasurer shall be payable to the party to whom they issue, or order, and shall be serial bonds, as is hereinbefore described, and shall bear interest at the rate specified in the resolution of intention to do said work. They shall have annual coupons attached thereto, payable in annual order, on the second day of January in each year after the date of the bond, until all are paid, and each coupon shall be for an even annual proportion of the principal of the bond. They shall have semi-annual interest coupons thereto attached, the first of which shall be payable upon the second day of January or July, as the case may be, next after its date, and shall be for the interest accrued at that time, and the last of which shall be for the amount of interest accruing from the second day of January or July, as the case may be, next preceding the maturity of said bonds to the maturity thereof. The city treasurer shall, in addition to his other duties in the premises, keep a record of all bonds issued by him, of all payments on said bonds with the dates thereof and of all penalties accruing thereon; and he shall report all payments of coupons or penalties upon said bonds, with the dates thereof, to the street superintendent, who shall forthwith endorse the same upon the margin of the record of the assessment to the credit of which the same are paid, and said assessment shall be a first lien upon the property affected thereby until the bond issued for the payment thereof, and the accrued interest thereon and the penalties, if any, shall be fully paid according to the terms thereof. Said bonds, by their issuance, shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings thereto under this act. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1474.]

Penalty for non-payment.

§ 67. In case any annual or semi-annual coupon, representing either principal or interest, is not paid at the office of the city treasurer within fifteen days after the same is due, immediately a penalty of ten per cent of the amount of such coupon shall be added thereto and to the amount due on the bond to which it was or is attached, and shall be immediately due and payable.

Whenever payment on any such bond, either upon the principal, or of any interest, or of any penalty, is not made when the same is due, and the holder of the bond while any of the same remains unpaid demands, in writing, that the said city treasurer proceed to advertise and sell the land described in such bond as herein provided, then the whole bond or its unpaid remainder, with its accrued interest, as expressed in said bond, shall become due and payable immediately, and on the day following shall become delinquent. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1474.]

Notice of delinquency of bond.

§ 68. Upon the application of the holder of any bond that is now or shall hereafter become delinquent as hereinbefore provided, the said city treasurer shall publish twice in a newspaper of general circulation, to be designated by him, published in the city where his office is situated, a notice of which must contain the date, number and series of the delinquent bond, a description of the property mentioned in said bond, the amount due thereon, and a statement that unless the amount of said bond and the interest due thereon, together with penalties and the cost of publication of such notice are paid, the real property described in said bond will be sold at public auction on a day to be therein fixed, which shall not be less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the day of the first publication of said notice, and the place of such sale, which must be the office of the said city treasurer.

Like notice shall not less than fifteen days before the day of sale so fixed be deposited by the city treasurer in the post office at such city, addressed to the person to whom said property is assessed upon the last assessment roll of such city (or if the city has no assessment roll, upon the last assessment roll of the county in which such city is situated), at his address if known, and to all record lien holders, with the postage, thereon prepaid. When the addresses of such persons are unknown the notice shall be mailed to them at the city in which said property is located.

Owner may pay before sale.

At any time prior to the sale, the owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale under the provisions of this act may pay the whole amount of said bond then due, with penalties and costs, and such bond shall thereupon be canceled; but in case such payment is not made by such owner, or person in possession, or by some one in his behalf of such owner or person in possession, the property subject thereto shall be sold at public auction to the bidder offering to pay the amount due on the bond with penalties and costs for the least portion of such lot or parcel of land offered for sale. [Amendment of May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 555.]

This section was also amended June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1475.

Treasurer's affidavit.

§ 69. The city treasurer, before the day of sale hereinafter provided for, must file with the city clerk a copy of the publication, with an affidavit of the publisher of such newspaper, or some one in its behalf, attached thereto, that it is a true copy of the same; that the publication was made in a newspaper, stating its name and place of publication and the date of each appearance in which such publication was made, which affidavit is prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein.

Costs, fees and penalties. Collection of penalties.

§ 70. The city treasurer must collect, in addition to the amount due on such bond, the penalties hereinabove provided for and the cost of the publication of such notice, and one dollar, being for the certificate of sale delivered to the purchaser as herein-after provided and for the cost of filing the duplicate thereof as hereinafter provided. [Amendment of May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 556.]

This section was also amended June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1475.

Certificate of treasurer.

§ 71. The city treasurer, before delivering any certificate of sale must, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, enter the date, number and series of the bond, a description of the land sold corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of sale, purchaser's name, the amount paid, regularly number the descriptions on the margin of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection during office hours when not in actual use, and he shall enter on the record of the bond the words "canceled by sale of the property," giving the date of such sale.

Purchaser's lien on property. Certificate of sale.

§ 72. Immediately on the sale, the purchaser shall become vested with a lien on the property so sold to him, for the amount of the purchase money, and is only divested of such lien by the payment to the city treasurer for the purchaser of the purchase money, and in addition thereto ten per cent thereon, with interest on said purchase money at one per cent per month from date of sale.

The city treasurer shall issue for each sale an original and a duplicate certificate of sale referring to the proceedings, describing the parcel sold and giving the name of the purchaser and the amount for which said parcel was sold and shall deliver the original certificate to the purchaser and shall file the duplicate in the office of the recorder of the county in which the land sold is situated. [Amendment of May 16, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 556.]

This section was also amended June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1475.

Redemption.

§ 73. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner of the property, or any party in interest, within twelve months from the date of purchase, or at any time prior to the application for a deed, as hereinafter provided. Redemption must be made in lawful money of the United States, and when made to the city treasurer he must credit the amount paid to the person named in his certificate, and pay it on demand to him or his assignees.

Duplicate filed by recorder.

§ 74. On receiving the duplicate certificate of sale, the recorder must file it and make an entry in a book similar to that required to be kept by the city treasurer, the fee for which shall be fifty cents. He shall also, when requested, without other charge, endorse the fact of filing the duplicate certificate on the original certificate. On redemption, the city treasurer shall issue his receipt for the total amount of the redemption money and shall file the same with the recorder, who must, without charge, mark the word "redeemed," the date, and by whom redeemed, on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1474.]

Deed to property not redeemed. Notice of sale and application for deed. Affidavit that notice has been given.

§ 75. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by the provisions of section seventy-three hereof for its redemption, the city treasurer, or his successor in office, upon application of the purchaser or his assignee, must make to said purchaser, or his assignee, a deed to the property, reciting in the deed, substantially, the matter contained in the certificate and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption; the treasurer shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser two dollars for making said deed, which shall be deposited in the city treasury for the use of the city after payment has been made therefrom for the acknowledgment of said deed; provided, however, that the purchaser of the property, or his assignee, or the agent, of either of them, must at least thirty days prior to the expiration of the time of redemption, or thirty days before his application for his deed, serve upon the owner of the property purchased, and upon the occupant of such property, if the same is occupied, a written notice stating that said property, or a portion thereof, has been sold to satisfy the bond lien, the date of sale, the date, number and series of the bond, the amount then due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire or when the purchaser, or his assignee, will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely until such notice shall have been given and said deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties and costs in this act required. Where said owner resides out of the state, or has departed from the state, or can not after due diligence be found within the state, or conceals himself to avoid the service of said notice, or is a corporation having no managing or business agent, cashier, or secretary, or other officer upon whom summons may be served according to law, who, after due diligence, cannot be found within the state, and the fact appears by affidavit filed in the office of the city treasurer, service of said notice shall be made by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks before the expiration of the time for redemption or before the application for a deed, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county wherein said property is situated. In case of publication, where the residence of a non-resident or absent owner is known, a copy of said notice shall, within three days after the first publication of the same, be deposited in the post office, directed to the person to be served, at his place of residence, postage thereon prepaid. Where the residence of said owner is unknown then a copy of said notice shall within three days after the first publication of the same be deposited in the post office directed to the person to be served at the city in which said property is located postage thereon prepaid. The owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely until notice shall have been given as herein provided and said deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties and costs in this act required. No deed to the property sold in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be issued by the city treasurer to the purchaser of such property, or his assignee, until there shall have been filed with such city treasurer an affidavit or affidavits showing that the notice hereinbefore required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavits shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as are other records kept by him in his office. The cost of publication of notice of delinquent sale and the cost of publication of notice of application for a deed shall each become a lien against the property at the time of the first publication thereof. The purchaser or his assignee shall be entitled to receive the sum of three dollars for his service of such notice and the making of the affidavit thereof, where the notice is served personally, and the cost of publication together with fifty cents for the affidavit of due diligence and fifty cents for the affidavit of publication where service is made by publication, all of which sums shall be paid by the redemptioner at the time and in the same manner as the other sums, costs and fees are paid. [Amendment of June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1476.]

Absolute title.

§ 76. The deed, when duly acknowledged or proved, is primary evidence of the regularity of all proceedings theretofore had and shall be conclusive evidence of all things of which the bond upon which it is based is conclusive evidence, and prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings subsequent to the issue of the bond, and conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, free of all encumbrances, except the lien for state, county, and municipal taxes.

Railroad property.

§ 77. Whenever any railroad track or tracks of any description exist upon the street or streets upon which the city council of any city has ordered an improvement to be made, and has excepted therefrom the portions used by the track, between the rails and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks if there is more than one, the said order, unless said city council shall by resolution theretofore passed have declared the contrary, shall be deemed to be and constitute a requirement that the person or company having said railroad track or tracks thereon shall improve the said portion with improvements similar in all respects to, with the same materials, under the same specifications and superintendence, and to the like inspection and satisfaction as those ordered to be performed by said order ordering the work; provided, however, that the city council may by ordinance require increased depth of concrete between, to the full depth of, or under the ties, or both, where and whenever the city council shall, in its judgment decide that this method of construction is necessary. The city council may also require by ordinance or otherwise, any person or company aforesaid, to pave alongside of and contiguous to its rails with special types of brick or paving blocks. The resolution of intention and notice of proposed improvement shall be construed and are hereby declared to be notice to said person or company of the intention to order the same. Thereupon it shall be the duty of said person or company having such track or tracks on such street or streets to notify in writing the superintendent of streets if such person or company elects to enter upon the direct performance of such work at its own charge and expense; said notice must be delivered to the superintendent of streets within ten days after the first publication of notice of award of contract. The omission or neglect to make such election shall be construed as constituting the superintendent of streets the agent of the owner of said track or tracks, with authority to enter into a contract made in accordance with the provisions of this section for making the said improvements. Said superintendent of streets shall advertise for bids for the improvement of said portions of the street or streets lying between the rails and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks, if there be more than one. It shall be the duty of said city council to award the contract for the making of said improvements to the lowest regular responsible bidder. Such bidding and awarding of contracts shall be made in the same manner hereinbefore provided for the awarding of contracts for improvements excepting that no notice of award shall be published. Immediately upon the award, the superintendent of streets shall enter into a contract with the person to whom said contract was awarded for the making of said improvement or improvements upon the portions of the street or streets described in said notice inviting bids, and at the price stated in said bid. The contractor shall execute bonds in the manner required by section 15 of this act. Upon the completion of the work and its acceptance, the street superintendent shall make a certificate of such completion, together with a statement of the amount due under the terms of said contract for the performance of said work. Such certificate shall be countersigned by the mayor of said city, and shall be recorded in the office of said superintendent of streets. The contractor thereupon shall be entitled to payment of the full amount of said contract price, and the recording of such certificate shall be sufficient notice to the owner of such track or tracks that said contract price is due and payable. In the event that such amount is not paid within thirty days from the date of the recording of said certificate, the contractor may file a sworn statement to that effect with the superintendent of streets, who shall record the same in his office in the book in which the certificate of acceptance has been recorded. Said contractor shall thereupon have a cause of action against said person or company owning said tracks for the amount of said contract, together with a reasonable attorney's fee, and shall also have as a security for the recovery of such amount, a first lien upon the track and franchises of said railroad, between whose rails or tracks the said work has been performed, contained within the corporate limits of the said city. In such suit, the certificate of the superintendent of streets, hereinbefore mentioned, shall be and constitute prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings, and of the right of the contractor to recover judgment against said person or company. Execution may be taken out upon the entry of judgment, and levied upon any property of said person or company subject to execution. In the event that said person or company shall file the written election to enter upon the direct performance of such work at its own cost and expense, no further proceedings shall be taken in the matter unless such person or company neglects or fails for thirty days, or for such further time as the city council may grant, to make said improvement. In the event that the improvement of the portions of the street or streets above described between the rails and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks, if there be more than one, shall not be made with diligence, as herein provided or in all respects similar to the improvement of the rest of the street, or with the same materials or under the same specifications, and to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets, the city council of said city may, by resolution entered in its minutes, prescribe such terms and conditions as to it may seem fit and proper before permitting the said person or company to continue with the said improvement. If the said person or company shall, after three days' notice of the adoption of said resolution, fail to comply with the terms and conditions so prescribed, the city council may declare said person or company to have forfeited its privilege of performing such work under its own direction. Whereupon the street superintendent shall advertise for bids for the performance of such work, or such portion thereof as may remain uncompleted, and the contract therefor shall be awarded and entered into in the same manner hereinbefore provided for the awarding and execution of contracts where said person or company has not elected to make the improvements under its own direction; and upon the completion of the improvement, the contractor to whom such contract may be awarded, or his assigns, shall be entitled to a certificate from the street superintendent similar to that hereinabove provided for, and shall have the right to collect from said person or company by suit the amount specified in said certificate in all respects the same as hereinbefore provided where the contract is let for such improvement in the first instance. The city council may, by ordinance, prescribe and enforce such additional regulations and penalties as it may deem necessary to compel the improvements as herein provided of any portion or portions of any such street or streets so occupied by any such railroad track or tracks.

Improvements by railroad companies.

§ 77a. Whenever any railroad track or tracks of any description exist upon any street in any city which has been paved, macadamized, graveled, capped, or oiled either for the whole or any portion of the width of the roadway thereof along or near the line of such railroad track or tracks, and the roadbed thereof has not been improved similar in all respects to and with the same materials as such street along the line of such tracks or tracks; or where any portion of such roadbed, whether so improved or not is out of repair or is not on the official grade of such street or has small hummocks or ridges or loose rock upon or along such roadbed or the materials composing such roadbed next to the rails of such track or tracks are not flush with the top of such rails or the sides thereof, the city council of any city may, by resolution, require and order the person or company having or owning such railroad track or tracks to improve the roadbed thereof by making repairs or by bringing the roadbed to the official grade or removing the hummocks or ridges or loose rock upon or along such roadbed or making the roadbed and the materials thereof flush with the top or sides of the rails of such track or tracks. Such city council may require and order any or all of said work or improvement as may be designated in such resolution and to be done in the manner therein designated.

The city council may also require, by resolution, any person or company aforesaid to pave alongside of and contiguous to its rails with special type of brick or paving blocks or other material.

The resolution to require and order said work or improvement shall be personally served upon the person or company having or owning such railroad track or tracks, or service thereof may be made upon any agent or representative of such person or company or any officer of such company, and upon such service being made, such resolution shall be construed and is hereby declared to be notice to said person or company of the intention to order the work or improvement as designated in such resolution.

Thereupon, it shall be the duty of said person or company to notify, in writing, the superintendent of streets of the city where such work or improvement is to be done, if such person or company elects to enter upon the direct performance of such work or improvement at his or its own charge or expense. Said notice must be delivered to the said superintendent of streets within ten days after the service of such resolution as aforesaid.

The omission or neglect to make such election by delivering such notice shall be construed as constituting the superintendent of streets the agent of the owner of said track or tracks with authority to enter into a contract made in accordance with the provisions of this section for doing said work and making said improvements.

Said superintendent of streets shall thereupon be vested with authority to and he shall advertise for bids for said work or improvement for at least two days in some newspaper published and circulated in such city, and fix the time in such notice for receiving bids not less than five days from the first publication thereof.

It shall be the duty of such city council to award the contract for doing said work or making said improvements to the lowest regular, responsible bidder.

All bids offered shall be accompanied by a check or by a bond and shall be delivered, opened and award of contract made, all as provided by section ten of said act, except that no notice of award shall be published.

Upon the award being made, the superintendent of streets shall enter into a contract with the person to whom said contract was awarded for doing said work or making said improvement described in said notice inviting bids, and at the price stated in said bid.

The contractor shall execute bonds in the manner required by section fifteen of said act. Upon the completion of the work and its acceptance, the street superintendent shall make a certificate of such completion, together with a statement of the amount due under the terms of said contract for the performance of said work. Such certificate shall be countersigned by the mayor of said city, and shall be recorded in the office of said superintendent of streets. The contractor thereupon shall be entitled to payment for the full amount of said contract price, and the recording of such certificate shall be sufficient notice to the owner of such track or tracks that said contract is due and payable. In the event that such amount is not paid within thirty days from the date of the recording of said certificate, the contractor may file a sworn statement to that effect with the superintendent of streets, who shall record the same in his office in the book in which the certificate of acceptance has been recorded. Said contractor shall thereupon have a cause of action against said person or company owning said tracks for the amount of said contract, together with a reasonable attorney's fee, to be fixed by the court, and shall also have as a security for the recovery of such amount, a first lien upon the track and franchises of said railroad contained within the corporate limits of the said city. In such suit, the certificate of the superintendent of streets, hereinbefore mentioned, shall be and constitute prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings, and of the right of the contractor to recover judgment against said person or company. Execution may be taken out upon the entry of judgment, and levied upon any property of said person or company subject to execution. In the event that said person or company shall file the written election to enter upon the direct performance of such work at its own costs and expense, no further proceedings shall be taken in the matter unless such person or company neglects or fails for thirty days, or for such further time as the city council may, by resolution, grant, to make and complete said work or improvement.

In the event that the said work or improvement shall not be made with diligence as herein provided, the city council of said city may, by resolution entered upon its minutes, prescribe such terms and conditions as to it may seem fit and proper before permitting the said person or company to continue with the said improvement. If the said person or company shall, after three days' notice of the adoption of said resolution, fail to comply with the terms and conditions so prescribed, the city council may, at any time thereafter, declare said person or company to have forfeited its privilege of performing such work or improvement under its own direction. Whereupon the street superintendent shall advertise for bids for the performance of such work, or such portion thereof as may remain uncompleted, and the contract therefor shall be awarded and entered into in the same manner hereinbefore provided for the awarding and execution of contracts where said person or company has not elected to make the improvements under its own direction; and upon the completion of the improvement, the contractor to whom such contract may be awarded, or his assigns, shall be entitled to a certificate from the street superintendent similar to that hereinabove provided for, and shall have the right to collect from said person or company by suit the amount specified in said certificate in all respects the same as hereinbefore provided where the contract is let for such work or improvement in the first instance. The city council may, by ordinance, prescribe and enforce such additional regulations and penalties as it may deem necessary to compel the work or improvement as herein provided of any portion or portions of any such street or streets so occupied by any such railroad track or tracks.

The word "roadbed" herein used shall be deemed to embrace that portion of any street used by the track of any railroad between the rails and for two feet on each side thereof and between the tracks if there is more than one, including the rails of such track or tracks. [New section approved June 10, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 540. In effect August 10, 1913.]

§ 78. None of the provisions of part I of this act in regard to a protest against the work shall apply to any work contemplated by the preceding section. All provisions of part I of this act not inconsistent with the provisions hereof shall apply hereto.

PART IV.

Definitions.

§ 79. First. The person owning the fee, or the person in whom, on the day the action is commenced, appears the legal title to the lots and lands, by deeds duly recorded in the county recorder's office of each county, or the person in possession of lands, lots, or portions of lots or buildings under claim, or exercising acts of ownership over the same for himself, or as the executor, administrator, or guardian of the owner, shall be regarded, treated, and deemed to be the "owner" (for the purpose of this law), according to the intent and meaning of that word as used in this act. And in case of property leased, the possession of the tenant or lessee holding and occupying under such persons shall be deemed to be the possession of such owner.

Second. The words "work," "improve," "improved" and "improvement," as used in this act shall include all work mentioned in this act, and also the construction, reconstruction and repairs, of all or any portion of said work.

Third. The term "incidental expenses," as used in this act, shall include the compensation of the city engineer for work done by him; also the cost of printing and advertising as provided in this act; also, the compensation of the person appointed by the superintendent of streets to take charge of and superintend any of the work mentioned in this act; also the expenses of making the assessment for any work authorized by this act. All demands for incidental expenses mentioned in this subdivision shall be presented to the street superintendent by itemized bill, duly verified by oath of the demandant.

Fourth. The notices, resolutions, orders or other matter required to be published by the provisions of this act, shall be published in a daily newspaper, in cities where such there is, and where there is no daily newspaper, in a semi-weekly or weekly newspaper, to be designated by the council of such city, as often as the same is issued, and no other statute shall govern or be applicable to the publications herein provided for; provided, however, that in case there is no daily, semi-weekly, or weekly newspaper printed or circulated in any such city, then such notices, resolutions, orders or other matters as are herein required to be published in a newspaper, shall be posted and kept posted for the same length of time as required herein for the publication of the same in a daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper, in three of the most public places in such city except where herein otherwise specifically provided. Proof of the publication or posting of any notice provided for herein shall be made by affidavit of the owner, publisher, printer or clerk of the newspaper, or of the poster of the notice. No publication or notice, other than that provided for in this act, shall be necessary to give validity to any of the proceedings provided for therein. The word "twice" as used in this act, referring to the number of times notices, resolutions or other matters shall be published, shall be held to mean the publication of the same in two entire issues of a newspaper, one being on one day and the other issue being on a subsequent day of the same or a subsequent week.

Fifth. The word "municipality" and the word "city," as used in this act, shall be understood and so construed as to include, and is hereby declared to include, all corporations heretofore organized and now existing, and those hereafter organized, for municipal purposes.

Sixth. The words "paved" or "repaved," as used in this act, shall be held to mean and include pavement of stone, whether paving blocks or macadamizing, or of bituminous rock or asphalt, or of iron, wood or other material, whether patented or not, which the city council shall by ordinance or resolution adopt.

Seventh. The word "street," as used in this act, shall be deemed to, and is hereby declared to, include avenues, highways, lanes, alleys, crossings, or intersections, courts and places, which have been dedicated and accepted according to law or in common and undisputed use by the public for a period of not less than five years next preceding, and the term "main street" means such actually opened street or streets as bound a block; and the word "blocks," whether regular or irregular, shall mean such blocks as are bounded by main streets, or partially by a boundary line of the city.

Eighth. The terms "street superintendent" and "superintendent of streets," as used in this act, shall be understood and so construed as to include, and are hereby declared to include, any person or officer whose duty it is, under the law, to have the care or charge of the streets, or the improvement thereof in any city. In all those cities where there is no street superintendent or superintendent of streets, the city council thereof is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint a suitable person to discharge the duties herein laid down as those of street superintendent or superintendent of streets; and all provisions hereof applicable to the street superintendent or superintendent of streets shall apply to such person so appointed.

Ninth. The term "city council" is hereby declared to include any body or board which, under the law, is the legislative department of the government of any city.

Tenth. In municipalities in which there is no mayor, then the duties imposed upon said officer by the provisions of this act shall be performed by the president of the board of trustees, or other chief executive officer of the municipality.

Eleventh. The terms "clerk" and "city clerk," as used in this act, are hereby declared to include any person or officer who shall be clerk of the said city council.

Twelfth. The term "quarter block," as used in this act, as to irregular blocks, shall be deemed to include all lots or portions of lots having any frontage on either intersecting street halfway from such intersection to the next main street, or, when no main street intervenes, all the way to a boundary line of the city.

Thirteenth. The term "city treasurer" as used in this act shall be held to mean and include any person who, under whatever name or title, is the custodian of the funds of the municipality.

"Places" defined.

§ 79a. The word "places" as used in this act, shall be deemed to, and is hereby declared to include any public pleasure ground and common which has been dedicated and accepted according to law, and this act shall include the improvement of a public pleasure ground and common. [New section approved April 22, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 57. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Hearings.

§ 80. Whenever in proceedings hereunder, a time and place for hearing by the city council is fixed, and, from any cause, the hearing is not then and there held or regularly adjourned to a time and place fixed, the power of the city council in the premises shall not thereby be divested or lost but the city council may proceed anew to fix a time and place for the hearing, and cause notice thereof to be given by publication by at least one insertion in a daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper, such publication to be at least five days before the date of the hearing, and thereupon the city council shall have power to act as in the first instance.

Publication and posting.

§ 81. Whenever any resolution, order, notice, or determination is required to be published or posted, and the duty of posting or procuring the publication or posting of the same is not specifically enjoined upon any officer of the city, it shall be the duty of the city clerk to post or procure the publication or posting thereof, as the case may be. No proceeding or step herein shall be invalidated or affected by any error or mistake or departure herefrom as to the officer or person posting, or procuring the publication or posting, of any resolution, notice, order or determination hereunder when the same is actually published or posted for the time herein required.

Construction of act.

§ 82. This act shall be liberally construed to the end that its purposes may be effective. No error, irregularity, informality, and no neglect or omission of any officer of the city, in any procedure taken hereunder, which does not directly affect the jurisdiction of the city council to order the improvement, shall avoid or invalidate such proceeding or any assessment for the cost of work done thereunder. The exclusive remedy of any person affected or aggrieved thereby shall be by appeal to the city council as herein provided.

Saving clause.

§ 83. This act shall in no wise affect an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885; or an act entitled "An act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvement within municipalities, and also for payment of said bonds," approved February 27, 1893; or an act entitled "An act to provide for local improvements upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities, such act to be known as the 'Local Improvement Act of 1901,' " which became a law February 26, 1901, or an act entitled "An act to provide for the improvement of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts, and places in municipalities, in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement, and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," which became a law April 21, 1909, or amendments to any of said acts, or any other acts on the same subject, or apply to proceedings had thereunder, but is intended to and does provide an alternate system for making the improvements provided for by this act; and it shall be in the discretion of the legislative body of any city to proceed, under the provisions either of this act or of such other acts; but when any proceedings are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendments thereof as may be hereafter adopted, and no other, shall apply to all such proceedings, and any provisions contained in said acts or any acts in conflict herewith shall be void and of no effect as to the proceedings commenced under this act. This act may be designated and referred to as the "Improvement Act of 1911," and shall take effect and be in force on its passage and approval.

The amending act of May 30, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 358, in effect August 10, 1913, contained the following section:

Act not affected.

§ 2. This act shall not be construed as amending or repealing the provisions of an act of the legislature, entitled, "An act relating to the liability of public officers for damages resulting from defects and dangers in streets, highways, public buildings, public work or property"; nor as in any way limiting, modifying or qualifying the operation of the provisions thereof.

1. Section 2, Vrooman act.—Referred to in the interpretation of section 2 of the Vrooman act.—Thompson v. Hance, 174 Cal. 572, 575, 163 Pac. 1021.

2. Constitutionality—Due process.—An express declaration in the resolution of intention that the district assessed is the district to be benefited is not necessary to due process of law, or for compliance with any other constitutional provision.—Watkinson v. Vaughn, 182 Cal. 55, 186 Pac. 753.

2a. Same—Interest of city board—Due process.—Interest of members of the board of trustees arising from the ownership of property is not such a disqualification to act as would render action void as not constituting due process of law.—Federal, etc., Co. v. Curd, 179 Cal. 489, 2 A. L. R. 1202, 177 Pac. 469.

3. Same—Fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution.—The installation of a system of street electrolliers and conduits for the purpose of lighting, at the expense of the property owners, to be physically connected with a public utility corporation's lines temporarily, but which is to be the property of the municipality, does not violate section 1 of article XIV of the amendments to the constitution of the United States.—Park v. Pacific, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 112, 173 Pac. 615.

4. Same—Title broad enough to cover sewer construction.—The title of the act is broad enough to include the construction of sewers in the public streets, avenues and lanes of a city.—Watkinson v. Vaughn, 182 Cal. 55, 186 Pac. 753.

5. Same—Section 24, article IV, of the constitution not violated.—The provision of the constitution that every act shall embrace but one subject which shall be expressed in its title, is violated by the act.—Park v. Pacific, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 112, 173 Pac. 615.

6. Same—Assessments according to benefits.—The street improvement act of 1911, fairly interpreted authorizes assessments to be made according to actual benefits and is constitutional.—Rockridge Place Co. v. City Council, 178 Cal. 58, 63, 172 Pac. 1110.

7. Same—Richmond charter.—The Richmond charter contains no provision for the mode of exercising its power to improve its streets, and it was authorized to adopt the provisions of this act by resolution of intention to improve its streets, and such resolution was not invalid under section 6, article XI, of the constitution.—Cutting v. Vaughn, 182 Cal. 151, 187 Pac. 19.

8. Same—Confiscatory assessment—More than assessment for taxes.—The mere fact that the amount assessed against property, because of their situation, exceed the amount at which they had been theretofore appraised for taxation does not necessarily lead to the conclusion that the assessment was confiscatory.—Hutchinson Co. v. Coughlin, 29 Cal. App. Dec. 556, 184 Pac. 435.

9. Construction and application—Act not repealed by public utilities act.—The act was not repealed by implication by the public utilities act.—Park v. Pacific, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 112, 173 Pac. 615.

10. Same—Applies to all municipalities—Posting notice where no newspaper is printed and circulated.—The act is applicable to all municipalities in the state, and notice by posting where no newspaper is printed and circulated is provided.—Coleman v. Spring Construction Co., 41 Cal. App. 201, 182 Pac. 473.

11. Same—Street lighting systems—Act includes.—The word "work," defined in section 79, subdivision 2, was intended to include street lighting systems.—Park v. Pacific, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 112, 173 Pac. 615.

12. Resolution of intention—Jurisdictional.—The resolution of intention is jurisdictional.—Watkinson v. Vaughn, 182 Cal. 55, 186 Pac. 753.

13. Same—Recital that district assessed is the district benefited.—Under the provisions of section 16, a property owner can not, after the completion of the work, say for the first time that the proceedings were not properly taken because the resolution of intention failed to recite that the district assessed was the district benefited, provided only that the resolution has been actually published and the notices of improvement posted as provided in the act.—Watkinson v. Vaughn, 182 Cal. 55, 186 Pac. 753.

14. Same—Recital as to the bond period.—The resolution of intention need not state the specific number of years the bonds are to run, but may state the period in the language of the act (§ 61).—Shepherd v. Chapin, (Cal. App.) 188 Pac. 571.

15. Same—Sufficient recital.—Where the resolution of intention states that the bonds will be issued in the manner provided by the act, it thereby incorporates the provisions of the statute, it is sufficient.—Federal, etc., Co. v. Ryan, 32 Cal. App. Dec. 347, 191 Pac. 69.

16. Same—Description of streets—Official or popular name.—The resolution of intention in this case held not to comply with the provisions of the act which require that the resolution of intention shall refer to the streets to be improved by official or popular name.—Park v. Pacific, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 112, 173 Pac. 615.

17. Same—Same—Same—Need not be named by official name.—The act does not require the streets to be referred to by their official names, if they are referred to by the names by which they are commonly known.—Federal, etc., Co. v. Kneese, 37 Cal. App. 659, 174 Pac. 694.

18. Same—Uncertainties helped by accompanying plans and specifications.—Uncertainty in the resolution of intention may be made certain by the plans and specifications accompanying the resolution and referred to therein.—Federal, etc., Co. v. Kneese, 37 Cal. App. 659, 174 Pac. 694.

18a. Construction of act—Notices—Posting.—Under its own provisions the act is to be liberally construed to effect its objects, and the provisions relating to posting notices are to be read in the light of the purposes to be accomplished.—Gordon v. Ransome-Crummey Co., 37 Cal. App. 755, 174 Pac. 906.

19. Same—Same—Affidavit—Location of improvement and notices.—The affidavit of posting in this case sufficiently describes location of the improvement and the notices.—Gordon v. Ransome-Crummey Co., 37 Cal. App. 755, 174 Pac. 906.

20. Same—Completion of posting, date of.—An affidavit of posting which recited that "affiant posted said notices on the twenty-fifth day of May, A. D. 1911" is a sufficient statement that the posting was "completed" was the date named.—Gordon v. Ransome-Crummey Co., 37 Cal. App. 755, 174 Pac. 906.

21. Same—Defective posting of notice of resolution of intention cured by issue of bonds.—The provision of the act making the issue of bonds conclusive evidence of the regularity of the proceedings cures an error in posting notices of resolution of intention three hundred and nine feet apart along the improvement, instead of three hundred feet as required by the act.—Gordon v. Ransome-Crummey Co., 37 Cal. App. 755, 174 Pac. 906.

22. Same—Notice of hearing of objections—Sufficient notice.—The posting of the notice provided for in section 6 is sufficient notice of objections to improvement.—Watkinson v. Vaughn, 182 Cal. 55, 186 Pac. 753.

23. Same—Posting notices of improvement—Waiver of objection by failing to object.—A property owner who fails to object that the notices of improvement were not posted "immediately" after the publication of the resolution of intention, until after the work is completed will be deemed to have waived such objection.—Watkinson v. Vaughn, 182 Cal. 55, 186 Pac. 753.

24. Same—Printing and circulation both essential.—Notice by posting is authorized in a city where a newspaper is both printed and circulated.—Coleman v. Spring Construction Co., 41 Cal. App. 201, 182 Pac. 473.

25. Same—Variations in size of letters.—A hairbreadth variation in the prescribed size of letters in a notice of street improvement does not invalidate the same.—Shepherd v. Chapin, (Cal. App.) 188 Pac. 571; Coleman v. Spring Construction Co., 41 Cal. App. 201, 182 Pac. 473.

26. Same—Objections to defects of publication and posting—Waiver under section 16.—Under section 16 defects as to publication and posting notices are waived unless objected to before the council in ten days after notice of award.—Shepherd v. Chapin, (Cal. App.) 188 Pac. 571.

27. Street superintendent—Vested with power to accept work and make assessment.—Under the act the street superintendent is vested direct with power to accept the work and make the assessment.—California, etc., Co. v. Boone, 181 Cal. 35, 183 Pac. 447.

28. Same—Same—No provision for certificate of final acceptance.—There is no provision in the act that there shall be a certificate of final acceptance made by the superintendent of streets.—California, etc., Co. v. Boone, 181 Cal. 35, 183 Pac. 447.

29. Protests—Time to file—Cities where no newspaper is printed and circulated.—The fact that the act fixes no time to file protests where the notice is posted, and not published, does not make it inapplicable to cities where no newspaper is printed and circulated.—Coleman v. Spring Construction Co., 41 Cal. App. 201, 182 Pac. 473.

30. Same—Time of decision.—The city council does not lose its jurisdiction to proceed further by its failure to pass upon protests at the next regular meeting after the expiration of the time within which protests may be made.—Farley v. Reindollar, 174 Cal. 703, 165 Pac. 19.

31. Same—Same—Loss of jurisdiction.—No court would hold that the city council lost jurisdiction to proceed with a matter which it had regularly taken up for hearing because it continued that hearing to some other not unreasonable nor forbidden date, even if the statute did not authorize, as this one does, an adjournment of the hearing from time to time.—Farley v. Reindollar, 174 Cal. 703, 165 Pac. 19.

32. Same—Same—Defense of non-protesting owner.—A non-protesting owner can not urge, in defense of an action to foreclose an assessment lien against his property, that the city council did not acquire jurisdiction to make the assessment because of irregularities in hearing and passing upon the protests of other owners.—Farley v. Reindollar, 174 Cal. 703, 165 Pac. 19.

33. Same—Same—Same—Ultra-technicalities.—The law looks with steadily decreasing favor on property owners who sit by without urging any objections which they may have to proceedings about to be taken, for the hearing of which the law affords ample opportunity, and then, after their property has been approved, endeavor to deprive the contractor of his just remuneration by ultra-technicalities.—Farley v. Reindollar, 174 Cal. 703, 165 Pac. 19.

See, also, Harney v. Benson, 113 Cal. 314, 45 Pac. 687; O'Dea v. Mitchell, 144 Cal. 374, 77 Pac. 1020; Haughawout v. Raymond, 148 Cal. 311, 83 Pac. 53; McCaleb v. Dreyfus, 156 Cal. 204, 103 Pac. 924.

34. Same—Finality of proceedings.—The rule as to the finality of judgments applies to street assessment proceedings.—Hutchinson Co. v. Coughlin, 29 Cal. App. Dec. 556, 184 Pac. 435.

35. Same—Same.—The decision of the local governing body, in street improvement proceedings, in the absence of fraud, or arbitrary action amounting to fraud, is as conclusive as a judgment in a civil action.—Hutchinson Co. v. Coughlin, 29 Cal. App. Dec. 556, 184 Pac. 435.

36. Same—Failure to make—Can not urge lack of jurisdiction—Strict observance of statute.—A property owner who fails to file a protest can not urge against an assessment, lack of jurisdiction on the part of the city council to proceed with the work because of its failure to observe strictly the statutory requirements in the hearing and determination of the protests that were made.—Farley v. Reindollar, 174 Cal. 703, 165 Pac. 19.

37. Same—Same—Jurisdiction not lost by failure to act at next regular meeting.—The city council does not lose jurisdiction to hear and determine a protest, under section 6, by failing to take final action thereon at the next regular meeting after the expiration of the time within which protests might be made, if the protest was taken up at that meeting and postponed for further hearing to a later and reasonable date.—Farley v. Reindollar, 174 Cal. 703, 165 Pac. 19.

38. Same—Estoppel of property owner.—If a property owner, having a right to defend against an erroneous assessment for work ordered after jurisdiction has been established, fails to assert that right in an administrative tribunal, which is vested with power to correct the error, he may not be heard, either as plaintiff or defendant, in litigation involving the validity of such assessment, to assert its invalidity without showing fraud or the exercise arbitrary and harmful power on the part of the tribunal.—Hutchinson Co. v. Coughlin, 29 Cal. App. Dec. 556, 184 Pac. 435.

39. Same—Waiver of property owner by agreement with the contractor.—Where the owner of land assessed under the authority of this act waives right of protest against the performance of the work and the validity of the district, by written agreement with the contract, it will not be allowed to complain of any matter within the terms of this waiver.—Cutting v. Vaughn, 182 Cal. 151, 187 Pac. 19.

40. Proposals—Notice inviting proposals—Irregularity in notice.—The omission of the notice inviting proposals to recite the alternative of a bond in not less than ten per cent of the aggregate amount of the proposal, the resolution of intention providing for such bond or certified check for that amount, does not invalidate the contract.—Federal, etc., Co. v. Wold, 30 Cal. App. 360, 158 Pac. 340.

41. Resolution of award—Correction of.—The city council has authority under section 16 to correct an omission in the resolution of award that serial bonds would be issued to represent the cost of the improvement, by the adoption of an amended resolution and ordering reposting and republishing of notice.—Federal, etc., Co. v. Ryan, 32 Cal. App. Dec. 347, 191 Pac. 69.

42. Resolution of award—Amount of contract bid.—A recital in the resolution of award that the contract was awarded to the stated bidder for the amount of his bid, and in the notice that the board of trustees had awarded the contract to the lowest responsible bidder was a sufficient compliance with the act without stating the amount of the bid.—Federal, etc., Co. v. Ryan, 32 Cal. App. Dec. 347, 191 Pac. 69.

43. Same—Letting—Duty of board ceases when—Duty of superintendent of streets.—When the board of trustees makes its award its duties in respect to letting the contract ceases, and it is then the duty of the street contractor to cause the contract to be entered into, either by the original bidder, or by the property owners, if they elect to take it over.—Wentland v. Clark, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 34, 173 Pac. 480.

44. Same—Same—Same—Notice to board by property owners.—A notice given by the property owners to the board of trustees conferred no rights on them and imposed no duty on the board of trustees.—Wentland v. Clark, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 34, 173 Pac. 480.

45. Plans and specifications—Error immaterial—Absence of appeal.—Where the resolution of intention and specifications correctly and sufficiently describe the improvement, a mistake in the plans accompanying the specifications as to the exact frontage of the lots of two property owners is immaterial in the absence of an appeal therefrom.—Wentland v. Clark, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 34, 173 Pac. 480.

46. Same—Not invalid for indefiniteness.—Plans and specifications calling for culverts of corrugated iron "or steel" were held not invalid in the absence of a showing what was the difference in cost, if any, or how it might injuriously affect the property owner.—Shepherd v. Chapin, (Cal. App.) 188 Pac. 572.

47. Same—Same—"Trap rock or granite" gravel.—Specifications calling for gravel of "trap rock or granite" composition, "equal to the gravel found in the San Joaquin river," are not invalid for uncertainty and indefiniteness.—Shepherd v. Chapin, (Cal. App.) 188 Cal. 571.

48. Extension of time—Failure to ask and grant—Does not void contract, when.—The failure of the contractor to request and of the council to permit an extension of time for the completion of work actually going on in good faith until the day after the term of the original contract had expired, taken with the action of the council in granting said extension on the day after such expiration by a resolution which it is conceded they could have legally and regularly enacted the day before the contract had expired, would seem to be such a mere irregularity not jurisdictional in character as section 26 of the act was intended to remedy.—Oakland Paving Co. v. Whittel, etc., Co., 32 Cal. App. Dec. 563, 195 Pac. 1058.

49. Acceptance of work—Binding as between city and contractor, and on material man seeking to recover on the bond.—The resolution ordering the assessment with the certificate of the superintendent of streets together constitute a legal acceptance of the improvement as completed, binding between the city and the contractor, and binding upon a material man seeking to recover on the bond.—California, etc., Co. v. Boone, 181 Cal. 35, 183 Pac. 447.

50. Same—Acceptance of work piecemeal.—The fact that the contractor requested that the work be accepted piecemeal as provided in section 30, and that the board of trustees granted the request, can not change the plain provisions of the act that "the work must in all cases, be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets," and that he alone, therefore, has power to accept the work as completed.—California, etc., Co. v. Boone, 181 Cal. 35, 183 Pac. 447.

51. Same—Refusal of street superintendent to accept.—If the street superintendent refuses to accept the work the contractor may appeal to the council.—California, etc., Co. v. Boone, 181 Cal. 35, 183 Pac. 447.

52. Notice of completion—Single improvement—Separate portions—Notice sufficient.—Where the contract price for a street improvement under improvement act of 1911 was a lump sum and the improvement was a single one, although the improvement was in two portions, and two different sorts of paving was required, a notice of claim filed within the time prescribed by section 19 of the act after the completion of the whole work is sufficient.—Hub Hardware Co. v. Aetna Accident & Liability Co., 178 Cal. 265, 269, 173 Pac. 81.

53. Completion of work—Actual acceptance not date of certificate.—The work was completed on the day actually accepted by the superintendent of streets and not on the date of his certificate of acceptance, and a materialman's claim against the contractor must be filed within thirty days thereafter.—California, etc., Co. v. Boone, 181 Cal. 35, 183 Pac. 447.

54. Lien—Mistake in recording contract does not invalidate.—A mistake in recording the contract, showing the date when the work was required to be completed as eighty days, whereas the original contract showed "one hundred eighty days" and the work being actually completed within the latter period, does not invalidate the lien, since under the act the lien existed before the record was made.—Wentland v. Clark, etc., Co., 37 Cal. App. 34, 173 Pac. 480.

55. Recordation of papers—Must be in the usual way.—The recordation of assessments, warrants and diagrams, must be made in the way usual with official documents by copying them at length in a book of records kept for that purpose.—Federal, etc., Co. v. Curd, 179 Cal. 479, 177 Pac. 473.

56. Appeal—Council acts judicially.—The city council acts judicially on an appeal involving the validity of the assessment district, and no appeal being provided, its action is conclusive, when collaterally attacked.—Cutting v. Vaughn, 182 Cal. 151, 187 Pac. 19.

57. Same—Lien—Time.—The time for appeal to the council does not begin to run nor does the contractor's lien attach until the warrants, assessments, and certificates have been recorded.—Federal, etc., Co. v. Curd, 179 Cal. 479, 177 Pac. 473.

58. Appeal—Readjustment—Apportionment of increase—Consistent with benefits.—Where, on readjustment of an assessment for a street improvement by the city council, after appeal from street superintendent's assessment, the assessment of some lots was increased and of other lots was decreased, the fact that the amount of the aggregate increases was divided equally among the remaining lots so as to increase their assessments $0.0006 per square foot of area is entirely consistent with the conclusion that the increased assessment was one according to the benefits of the several lots.—Rockridge Place Co. v. City Council, 178 Cal. 58, 61, 172 Pac. 1110.

59. Same—Same—Same—Finding conclusive on certiorari.—A finding by a city council in a street improvement proceeding "that said several lots . . . are benefited by said work and improvement in the proportions and in the amounts set forth," unless assailed by something in the record, is conclusive on certiorari.—Rockridge Place Co. v. City Council, 178 Cal. 58, 62, 172 Pac. 1110.

59a. Same—Reassess—Power implied.—The power to reassess in case of error is implied in view of the provision of section 82 that irregularities not jurisdictional shall not avoid an assessment.—Stotts v. Meese, 39 Cal. App. 334, 178 Pac. 727.

60. Delinquent payments—Defects in sections 68, 70, 72 remedied by amendment of 1919.—Defects in the amendment of 1915 to sections 68, 70, 72, as to the collection of money due on a bond after a payment becomes delinquent, were remedied by the amendment of 1919.—Shepherd v. Chapin, (Cal. App.) 188 Pac. 571.

61. Sale of property covered by assessment bond, without deposit of cost of search.—A street assessment is a contract and the statutes in force at the time are a part thereof, and a holder of an assessment bond issued prior to the 1919 amendment, could compel the city treasurer to sell the property, without depositing the cost for a search of the records for other lienholders.—Oakland, etc., Co. v. Fitzmaurice, (Cal. App.) 190 Pac. 499.

62. Claim of materialman—Time of filing.—A materialman need not wait the completion of the work to file his claim with the superintendent of streets.—California, etc., Co. v. Boone, 181 Cal. 35, 183 Pac. 447.

63. Surety bond—Liability extends to assignees of contractor.—The liability of a surety on a bond for labor and materials given under the provisions of the street improvement act of 1911 extends to the assignees of the contractor.—Hub Hardware Co. v. Aetna Accident & Liability Co., 178 Cal. 265, 266, 173 Pac. 81.

64. Same—Failure of city council to establish grade before contract—Liability of surety not affected.—The invalidity of a contract for a street improvement under the street improvement act of 1911, because of the failure of the city council to establish the official grade of the street proposed to be improved, prior to entering into the contract, if such is the fact, does not affect the liability of the surety on the bond for labor and materials required by the act.—Hub Hardware Co. v. Aetna Accident & Liability Co., 178 Cal. 265, 268, 173 Pac. 81.

65. Same—Failure to complete contract in time—Liability of surety not affected.—Whatever may be the effect of the failure of the contractor to complete his contract for a street improvement under the improvement act of 1911 within the time fixed in the contract, as between him and the city, that fact can not affect the liability of the surety on the bond for labor and materials given under the provisions of the act, whether such labor and materials were furnished before or after the expiration of such time for completion.—Hub Hardware Co. v. Aetna Accident & Liability Co., 178 Cal. 265, 268, 173 Pac. 81.

66. Injunction—Void improvement casts no cloud on property owner's title—Not ground for equitable relief.—An improvement bond void on its face for failure to recite that it may be redeemed by the owner at any time, casts no cloud on his title, and is no ground for equitable relief.—Coleman v. Spring Construction Co., 41 Cal. App. 201, 182 Pac. 473.

BOUNDARY IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1911.

ACT 4957—An act to provide for work upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts and places forming the exterior boundaries of any municipality, whether partly, or wholly, within or without said boundaries, and providing for the construction of sewers, drains and sidewalks thereon and in connection therewith.

History: Approved April 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1018. Amended June 2, 1913, in effect August 10, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 371.

Streets forming boundaries of cities deemed public streets.

§ 1. All streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, or places forming the exterior boundaries of any municipality of this state, whether partly, or wholly, within or without said boundaries, now open or dedicated, or which may hereafter be opened or dedicated to public use, shall be deemed and held to be open public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, places or courts for the purposes of this act, and the city council of each municipality, and the board of supervisors of the county in which said municipality is located, are hereby empowered to establish and change the grades of said streets, lanes, alleys, avenues, places or courts, and fix the width thereof, and are hereby invested with jurisdiction to order to be done thereon any of the work mentioned in section 2 of this act, under the proceedings hereinafter described.

Council and supervisors may order such streets improved.

§ 2. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, said council and said board of supervisors are hereby authorized and empowered to order the whole, or any portion, either in length or width, of any streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, places or courts forming the exterior boundaries of any municipality, whether partly, or wholly, within or without said boundaries, graded or reggraded to the official grade, planked or replanked, paved or repaved, macadamized or remacadamized, graveled or reggraveled, piled or repiled, capped or recapped, oiled or reoiled, sewered or resewered, and to order sidewalks, manholes, culverts, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks to be constructed therein, and to order storm-water ditches, channels, breakwaters, levees or walls of rock or other material to protect the same from overflow or injury, and to order any other work to be done, which shall be necessary to complete the whole, or any portion of said streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places or sidewalks, and they may order any of said work to be improved; and also to order a sewer or sewers with outlets for drainage or sanitary purposes, in, over, or through any right of way granted or obtained for such purposes.

Council and supervisors have concurrent jurisdiction.

§ 3. The council of each municipality, and the board of supervisors of the county in which said municipality is located, shall have concurrent jurisdiction of all proceedings under this act, and the council, or board, passing the resolution of intention hereinafter provided for shall thereafter have exclusive jurisdiction of all work and proceedings covered by said resolution, except as herein otherwise provided.

Posting and publication of resolution of intention. Majority may object. Plans and estimates. When expense chargeable against district.

§ 4. Before ordering any work done, or improvement made, which is authorized by section 2 of this act, the said council, or the said board of supervisors, shall pass a resolution of intention so to do and describing the work, which shall be posted conspicuously for two days on or near the chamber door of said council, or board, and published by two insertions in one or more daily, semi-weekly, or weekly newspapers published and circulated in said municipality, and designated by said council, or board, for that purpose. The street superintendent of said municipality, when the resolution is passed by said council, or the county surveyor, when the resolution is passed by said board, shall thereupon cause to be conspicuously posted along the line of said contemplated work or improvement, at not more than one hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all, or when the work to be done is only upon an entire crossing, or any part thereof, in front of each quarter block and irregular block liable to be assessed, notices of the passage of said resolution. Said notice shall be headed "Notice of Street Work," in letters of not less than one inch in length, and shall, in legible characters, state the fact of the passage of the resolution, its date, and briefly the work or improvement proposed, and refer to the resolution for further particulars. He shall also cause a notice, similar in substance, to be published for six days in one or more daily newspapers published and circulated in said municipality, and designated by said council, or board, or in municipalities where there is no daily newspaper, by one insertion in a semi-weekly or weekly newspaper so published, circulated and designated. In case there is no such paper published in said municipality, said notice shall be posted for six days on or near the chamber door of said council, or board, and in two other conspicuous places in said municipality. The owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on said proposed work or improvement, where the same is for one block or more, may make a written objection to the same within ten days after the expiration of the time of the publication and posting of said notice, which objection shall be delivered to the clerk of the council, or board, who shall indorse thereon the date of its reception by him. Said council, or board shall, at its next meeting, fix a time for hearing said objections not less than one week thereafter. The clerk of said council, or board, shall thereupon notify the persons making such objections, by depositing a notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing of said objections in the postoffice of said municipality, postage prepaid, addressed to each objector, or his agent, when he appears for such objector. At the time specified said council, or board, shall hear the objections urged, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. At the expiration of twenty days after the expiration of the time of said publication of said notice given by said street superintendent, or county surveyor, and at the expiration of twenty-five days after the advertising and posting, as aforesaid, of any resolution of intention, if no written objection to the work therein described has been delivered, as aforesaid, by the owners of the majority of the frontage of the property fronting on said proposed work or improvement or if any written objection has been overruled by the said council, or board, the said council, or board, shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order any of the work to be done, or improvement to be made, which is authorized by this act; which order or resolution, when made, shall be published for two days, the same as provided for the publication of the resolution of intention. Before passing any resolution for the construction of said improvements, plans and specifications and careful estimates of the costs and expenses thereof shall be furnished to said council, or board, if required, by the city engineer of said municipality, or the county surveyor, and for the work of constructing sewers, specifications shall always be furnished by him. Whenever the contemplated work of improvement, in the opinion of the council, or board, is of more than local or ordinary public benefit, or whenever, according to estimate to be furnished by the city engineer, or county surveyor, the total estimated costs and expenses thereof would exceed one-half of the total assessed value of the lots and lands assessed, if assessed upon the lots or land fronting upon said proposed work or improvement, according to the valuation fixed by the last assessment-roll whereon it was assessed for taxes for county purposes, and allowing a reasonable depth from such frontage for lots or lands assessed in bulk, the council, or board, may make the expense of such work or improvement chargeable upon a district, which the said council, or board, shall, in its resolution of intention, declare to be the district benefited by said work or improvement, and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof. Objections to the extent of the district of lands to be affected or benefited by said work or improvement, and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, may be made by interested parties in writing, within ten days after the expiration of the time of the publication of the notice of the passage of the resolution of intention. The council, or board, shall, at its next meeting, fix a time for hearing said objections not less than one week thereafter. The clerk thereof shall thereupon notify the persons making such objections by depositing a notice thereof in the postoffice of said municipality, postage prepaid, addressed to each objector. At the time specified the council, or board, shall hear the objections urged, and pass upon the same, and its decision shall be final and conclusive. If the objections are sustained, all proceedings shall be stopped; but proceedings may be immediately again commenced by giving the notice of intention to do the said work or make said improvements. If the objections are overruled by the council, or board, the proceedings shall continue the same as if such objections had not been made.

Majority of owners may petition.

§ 5. The owners of a majority in frontage of lots and lands fronting on any street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, or of lots or lands liable to be assessed for the expense of the work petitioned to be done, or their duly authorized agents, may petition the council, or board, to order any of the work mentioned in this act to be done, and the council, or board, may order the work mentioned in said petition to be done, after notice of its intention so to do has been posted and published as provided in section 4 of this act.

Notice inviting bids. Certified check. Bids, contracts, etc.

§ 6. Before the awarding of any contract by the council, or board, for doing any work authorized by this act, the council, or board, shall cause notice, with specifications, to be posted conspicuously for five days on or near the council, or board, chamber door, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing the work ordered, and shall also cause notice of said work, inviting said proposals, and referring to the specifications posted or on file, to be published for two days in a daily, semi-weekly, or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said municipality, designated by the council, or board, for that purpose, and in case there is no newspaper published in said municipality, then it shall only be posted as hereinbefore provided. All proposals or bids offered shall be accompanied by a check payable to the order of the mayor of the municipality, or president of the board of supervisors, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal, or by a bond for the said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and by two sureties, who shall justify, before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double the said amount, over and above all statutory exemptions. Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk of said council, or board, and said council, or board, shall, in open session, examine and publicly declare the same; provided, however, that no proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by said check or bond satisfactory to the council, or board. The council, or board, may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and also the bid of any party who has been delinquent and unfaithful in any former contract with the municipality or county, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said work or improvement to the lowest responsible bidder at the prices named in his bid. If not approved by the council, or board, without further proceedings, the council, or board, may readvertise for proposals or bids for the performance of the work as in the first instance, and thereafter proceed in the manner in this section provided, and shall thereupon return to the proper parties the respective checks and bonds corresponding to the bid so rejected. But the checks accompanying such accepted proposals or bids shall be held by the clerk of said council, or board, until the contract for doing said work, as hereinafter provided, has been entered into, either by said lowest bidder or by the owners of three-fourths part of the frontage, whereupon said certified check shall be returned to said bidder. But if said bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract to perform said work or improvement, as hereinafter provided, then the certified check accompanying his bid and the amount therein mentioned, shall be declared to be forfeited to said municipality, or county, and shall be collected by it and paid into its fund for repairs of streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts and places herein mentioned, and any bond forfeited may be prosecuted, and the amount due thereon collected and paid into said fund. Notice of such awards of contracts shall be posted for five days, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for the posting of proposals for said work, and shall be published for two days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said municipality and designated by said council, or board, or in municipalities where there is no daily newspaper, by one insertion in a semi-weekly or weekly newspaper so published, circulated and designated; provided, however, that in case there is no newspaper printed or published in any such municipality, then such notice of award shall only be kept posted as hereinbefore provided. The owners of three-fourths of the frontage of lots and lands upon the street whereon said work is to be done, or their agents, and who shall make oath that they are such owners or agents, shall not be required to present sealed proposals or bids, but may, within ten days after the first posting and publication of said notice of said award, elect to take said work and enter into a written contract to do the whole work at the price at which the same has been awarded. Should the said owners fail to elect to take said work, and to enter into a written contract therefor within ten days, or to commence the work within fifteen days after the first posting and publication of said award, and to prosecute the same with diligence to completion, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, to enter into a contract with the original bidder to whom the contract was awarded, and at the prices specified in his bid. But if such original bidder neglects, fails or refuses, for fifteen days after the first posting and publication of the notice of award, to enter into the contract, then the council or board, without further proceedings, shall again advertise for proposals or bids, as in the first instance, and award the contract for said work to be then lowest regular bidder. The bids of all persons and the election of all owners, as aforesaid, who have failed to enter into the contract as herein provided, shall be rejected in any bidding or election subsequent to the first for the same work. If the owner, or contractor, who may have taken any contract, does not complete the same within the time limited in the contract, or within such further time as the council, or board, may give them, the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, shall report such delinquency to the council, or board, which may relet the unfinished portion of said work, after pursuing the formalities prescribed hereinbefore for the letting of the whole in the first instance. All contractors, contracting owners included, shall, at the time of executing any contract for street work, execute a bond to the satisfaction and approval of the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, with two or more sureties and payable to such municipality, or county, in such sums as the council, or board, shall deem adequate, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract; and the sureties shall justify before any person competent to administer an oath, in double the amount mentioned in said bond, over and above all statutory exemptions. Before being entitled to a contract, the bidder to whom the award was made, or the owners who have elected to take the contract, must advance to the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, for payment by him, the cost of publication of the notices, resolutions, orders, or other incidental expenses and matters required under the proceedings described in this act, and such other notices as may be deemed requisite by the council, or board. And in case the work is abandoned by the council, or board, before the letting of the contract, the incidental expenses incurred previous to such abandonment shall be paid out of the treasury of the municipality, or county.

Duties of superintendent of streets.

§ 7. The superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, is hereby authorized, in his official capacity, to make all written contracts, and receive all bonds authorized by this act, and to do any other act, either express or implied, that pertains to the street department under this act; and he shall fix the time for the commencement, which shall not be more than fifteen days from the date of the contract, and for the completion of the work under all contracts entered into by him, which work shall be prosecuted with diligence from day to day thereafter to completion, and he may extend the time so fixed from time to time, under the direction of the council, or board. The work provided for in section 2 of this act must, in all cases, be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, and the materials used shall comply with the specifications and be to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, and all contracts made therefor must contain a provision to that effect, and also express notice that, in no case, except where it is otherwise provided in this act, will the municipality, or county, or any officer thereof, be liable for any portion of the expense, nor for any delinquency of persons or property assessed. The council, or board, may, by ordinance, prescribe general rules directing the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor and the contractor, as to the materials to be used, and the mode of executing the work, under all contracts thereafter made. The assessment and apportionment of the expenses of all such work or improvement shall be made by the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, in the mode herein provided.

Contractor's bond covering labor and materials.

§ 8. Every contractor, person, company, or corporation, including contracting owners, to whom is awarded any contract for street work under this act, shall, before executing the said contract, file with the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, a good and sufficient bond, approved by him, in a sum not less than one-half of the total amount payable according to the terms of said contract, such bond shall be made to inure to the benefit of any and all persons, companies, or corporations who perform labor on, or furnish materials to be used in the said work or improvement, and shall provide that if the contractor, person, company, or corporation to whom said contract was awarded fails to pay for any materials so furnished for the said work of improvement, or for any work or labor done thereon of any kind, that the sureties will pay the same, to an amount not exceeding the sum specified in said bond. Any materialmen, person, company or corporation, furnishing materials to be used in the performance of said work specified in said contract, or who performed work or labor upon the said improvement, whose claim has not been paid by the said contractor, company, or corporation, to whom the said contract was awarded, may, within thirty days from the time said improvement is completed, file with the superintendent of streets or county surveyor, a verified statement of his or its claim, together with a statement that the same, or some part thereof, has not been paid. At any time within ninety days after the filing of such claim, the person, company, or corporation filing the same, or their assigns, may commence an action on said bond for the recovery of the amount due on said claim, together with the costs incurred in said action, and a reasonable attorney fee, to be fixed by the court, for the prosecution thereof.

Assessment of expenses.

§ 9. Sub. 1. The expenses incurred for any work authorized by this act (which expense shall not include the cost of any work done in such portion of any street as is required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, nor include work which shall have been declared in the resolution of intention to be assessed on a district benefited) shall be assessed upon the lots and lands fronting thereon, except as hereinafter specifically provided; each lot or portion of a lot being separately assessed, in proportion to the frontage, at a rate per front foot sufficient to cover the total expense of the work.

Expenses after completion to be borne by city.

Sub. 2. The expense of all improvements, until the streets, avenues, street crossings, lanes, alleys, places, or courts, are finally accepted, as provided in section 18 of this act shall be assessed upon the lots and lands, as provided in this section, according to the nature and character of the work. And after such acceptance the expense of all work thereafter done on the portion thereof lying within the municipality shall be paid by said municipality out of the street department fund, and all work thereafter done on the portion thereof lying without the boundaries of the municipality shall be paid by said county out of the general road fund, and if at any time thereafter the portion thereof lying without the boundaries of the said municipality shall be included within its boundaries, then the expense of all work thereafter done thereon shall be paid by said municipality, out of the said street department fund.

Main street crossings.

Sub. 3. The expense of the work done on main street crossings shall be assessed at a uniform rate per front foot of the quarter blocks and irregular blocks adjoining and cornering upon the crossings, and separately upon the whole of each lot or portion of a lot having any frontage in the said blocks fronting on said main streets, halfway to the next main street crossing, and three hundred feet on blocks where no such crossing intervenes within six hundred feet of such street crossing, but only according to its frontage in said quarter blocks and irregular blocks.

One main street terminating in another.

Sub. 4. Where a main street terminates in another main street, the expenses of the work done on one-half of the width of the street opposite the termination shall be assessed upon the lots in each of the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering on the same, according to the frontage of such lots on said main street; provided, that lots and lands more than three hundred feet from such termination on such cross street shall not be assessed for any portion of such expense at such termination, and the expense of the other half of the width of said street upon the lot or lots fronting on the latter half of the street at such termination.

Alley crossings.

Sub. 5. Where an alley or subdivision street crosses a main street, the expense of all work done on said crossing shall be assessed on all lots or portions of lots halfway on said alley or subdivision street to the next crossing or intersection, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another.

Expense of work done on alley or subdivision street crossings.

Sub. 6. The expense of work done on alley or subdivision street crossings shall be assessed upon the lots fronting upon such alley or subdivision streets on each side thereof, in all directions, halfway to the next street, place or court, on either side, respectively, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another; provided, that lots and lands more than three hundred feet from such crossing on such alley or subdivision street shall not be assessed therefor.

One alley terminating in another.

Sub. 7. Where a subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place, or court terminates in another street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, the expense of the work done one one-half of the width of the subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place, or court opposite the termination, shall be assessed upon the lot or lots fronting on such subdivision street, or avenue, lane, alley, place, or court so terminating, according to its frontage thereon, halfway on each side respectively to the next street, avenue, lane, alley, court, or place, or to the end of such street, avenue, lane, alley, place, or court, if it does not meet another; provided, that lots and lands located more than three hundred feet from such termination on such subdivision street shall not be assessed therefor, and the other one-half of the width upon the lots fronting such termination.

Work done on one side of street center.

Sub. 8. Where any work mentioned in this act (manholes, cesspools, culverts, crosswalks, piling and capping excepted) is done on either or both sides of the center line of any street for one block or less, and further work opposite to the work of the same class already done is ordered to be done to complete the unimproved portion of said street, the assessment to cover the total expenses of said work so ordered shall be made upon the lots, or portions of the lots only fronting the portions of the work so ordered.

Act of 1859 not applicable.

Sub. 9. Section 1 of chapter 325 of the laws of this state, entitled "An act amendatory of and supplementary to an act to provide revenue for the support of the government of this state, approved April twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and fifty-seven," approved April nineteen, eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, shall not be applicable to the provisions of this section; but the property herein mentioned shall be subject to the provisions of this act, and be assessed for work done under the provisions of this section.

Different kinds of work may be included in resolution.

Sub. 10. The council, or board, may include in one resolution of intention and order any of the different kinds of work mentioned in this act, and it may except therefrom any of said work already done upon the street to the official grade. The lots and portions of lots fronting upon said excepted work already done shall not be included in the frontage assessment for the class of work from which the exception is made.

Engineer to make diagram of district. Superintendent of streets to estimate assessment.

Sub. 11. Whenever the resolution of intention declares that the costs and expenses of the work and improvement are to be assessed upon a district, the council, or board, shall direct the city engineer, or county surveyor, to make a diagram of the property affected or benefited by the proposed work or improvement, as described in the resolution of intention, and to be assessed to pay the expenses thereof. Such diagram shall show each separate lot, piece or parcel of land, the area in square feet of each of such lots, pieces, or parcels of land, and the relative location of the same to the work proposed to be done, all within the limits of the assessment district; and when said diagram shall have been approved by the council, or board, the clerk shall, at the time of such approval, certify the fact and date thereof. Immediately thereafter the said diagram shall be delivered to the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, of said municipality, or county, who shall, after the contractor of any street work has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, and council or board on appeal, if an appeal is taken, proceed to estimate upon the lands, lots or portions of lots within said assessment district, as shown by said diagram, the benefits arising from such work, and to be received by each such lot, portion of such lot, piece, or subdivision of land, and shall thereupon assess upon and against said lands in said assessment district the total amount of the costs and expenses of such proposed work, and in so doing shall assess said total sum upon the several pieces, parcels, lots, or portions of lots, and subdivisions of land in said district benefited thereby, to wit: upon each respectively in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by each of said several lots, portions of lots, or subdivisions of land. In other respects the assessment shall be as provided in the next section and the provisions of subdivisions 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 of this section shall not be applicable to the work or improvement provided for in this subdivision.

Street superintendent to make assessment.

§ 10. After the contractor of any street work has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of the street superintendent, or county surveyor, and council, or board, on appeal, if appeal is taken, the street superintendent, or county surveyor, shall make an assessment to cover the sum due for the work performed and specified in said contract (including any incidental expenses), in conformity with the provisions of the preceding section according to the character of the work done; or, if any direction and decision be given by said council, or board, on appeal, then in conformity with such direction and decision, which assessment shall briefly refer to the contract, the work contracted for and performed, and shall show the amount to be paid therefor, together with any incidental expenses, the rate per front foot assessed, if the assessment be made per front foot, the amount of each assessment, the name of the owner of each lot or portion of a lot (if known to the street superintendent, or county surveyor, if unknown the word "unknown" shall be written opposite the number of the lot), and the amount assessed thereon, the number of each lot or portion or portions of a lot assessed, and shall have attached thereto a diagram exhibiting each street or street crossing, lane, alley, place, or court, on which any work has been done, and showing the relative location of each district lot, or portion of lot to the work done, numbered to correspond with the numbers in the assessments, and showing the number of feet fronting, or number of lots assessed, for said work contracted for and performed.

Warrant. Form of warrant. Warrant, etc., recorded. Assessment lien upon land. When action to foreclose is defeated by error.

§ 11. To said assessment shall be attached a warrant, which shall be signed by the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, and countersigned by the mayor of said municipality, or the president of said board. The said warrant shall be substantially in the following form:

Form of the Warrant.

By virtue hereof, I (name of the superintendent of streets) of the city of, county of, (or county surveyor of county, or city and county of, and state of California, by virtue of the authority vested in me as said superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, do authorize and empower (name of contractor), (his or their) agents or assigns, to demand and receive the several assessments upon the assessment and diagram hereto attached, and this shall be (his or their) warrant for the same.

(Date.)

Countersigned by (name of mayor of municipality or president of board).

(Name of superintendent of streets or county surveyor.)

Said warrant, assessment, and diagram, together with the certificate of the city engineer, or county surveyor, shall be recorded in the office of said superintendent of streets, or county surveyor. When so recorded, the several amounts assessed shall be a lien upon the lands, lots, or portions of lots assessed, respectively, for the period of two years from the date of said recording, unless sooner discharged; and from and after the date of said recording of any warrant, assessment, diagram and certificate, all persons mentioned in section 13 of this act shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of the record thereof. After said warrant, assessment, diagram, and certificate are recorded, the same shall be delivered to the contractor, or to his agent, or assigns, on demand, but not until after the payment to the said superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, of the incidental expenses not previously paid by the contractor, or his assigns; and by virtue of said warrant said contractor, or his agent, or assigns, shall be authorized to demand and receive the amount of the several assessments made to cover the sum due for the work specified in such contracts and assessments. Whenever it shall appear by any final judgment of any court of this state, that any suit brought to foreclose the lien of any sum of money assessed to cover the expense of said street work done under the provisions of this act has been defeated by reason of any defect, error, informality, omission, irregularity, or illegality in any assessment hereafter to be made and issued, or in the recording thereof, or in the return thereof made to, or recorded by said superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, any person interested therein may, at any time within three months after the entry of said final judgment, apply to said superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, who issued the same, or to any superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, in office at the time of said application, for another assessment to be issued in conformity to law; and said superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, shall, within fifteen days after the date of said application, make and deliver to said applicant a new assessment, diagram, and warrant in accordance with law; and the acting mayor of the municipality, or president of the board, shall countersign the same as now provided by law, which assessment shall be a lien for the period of two years from the date of said assessment, and be enforced as provided in section 9 of this act.

Contractor demands payment. Demanding payment on premises. Return of warrant.

Superintendent may receive payments. Failure to return warrant. Interest on delinquent amounts.

§ 12. The contractor, or his assigns, or some person in his, or their behalf, shall call upon the persons assessed, or their agents, if they can conveniently be found, and demand payment of the amount assessed to each. If any payment be made the contractor, his assigns, or some person in his or their behalf, shall receipt the same upon the assessment in presence of the person making such payment, and shall also give a separate receipt if demanded. Whenever the persons so assessed, or their agents, cannot conveniently be found, or whenever the name of the owner of the lot is stated as "unknown" on the assessment, then the said contractor, or his assigns, or some person in his or their behalf, shall publicly demand payment on the premises assessed. The warrant shall be returned to the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, within thirty days after its date, with a return indorsed thereon, signed by the contractor, or his assigns, or some person in his or their behalf, verified upon oath, stating the nature and character of the demand, and whether any of the assessments remain unpaid, in whole or in part, and the amount thereof. Thereupon the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, shall record the return so made, in the margin of the record of the warrant and assessment, and also the original contract referred to therein, if it has not already been recorded at full length in a book to be kept for that purpose in his office, and shall sign the record. The said superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, is authorized at any time to receive the amount due upon any assessment list and warrant issued by him, and give a good and sufficient discharge therefor; provided, that no such payment so made after suit has been commenced, without the consent of the plaintiff in the action, shall operate as a complete discharge of the lien until the costs in the action shall be refunded to the plaintiff: and he may release any assessment upon the books of his office, on the payment to him of the amount of the assessment against any lot with interest, or on the production to him of the receipt of the party or his assigns to whom the assessment and warrant were issued; and if any contractor shall fail to return his warrant within the time and in the form provided in this section he shall thenceforth have no lien upon the property assessed; provided, however, that in case any warrant is lost, upon proof of such loss a duplicate can be issued, upon which a return may be made, with the same effect as if the original had been so returned. After the return of the assessment and warrant as aforesaid, all amounts remaining due thereon shall draw interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum until paid.

Owners feeling aggrieved may appeal to council. Notice of hearing published. Decisions of council final.

§ 13. The owners, whether named in the assessment or not, the contractor, or his assigns, and all other persons directly interested in any work provided for in this act, or in the assessment, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the superintendent of streets or county surveyor, in relation thereto, or who claim that the work has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner, or having or making any objection to the correctness or legality of the assessment or other act, determination, or proceedings of the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, shall, within thirty days after the date of the warrant, appeal to the council, or board, by briefly stating their objections in writing, and filing the same with the clerk of said council, or board. Notice of the time and place of the hearing, briefly referring to the work contracted to be done, or other subject of appeal, and to the acts, determinations or proceedings objected to or complained of, shall be published for five days. Upon such appeal, the said council, or board, may remedy and correct any error or informality in the proceedings, and revise and correct any of the acts or determinations of the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, relative to said work; may confirm, amend, set aside, alter, modify, or correct the assessment in such manner as to them shall seem just, and require the work to be completed according to the directions of the council, or board; and may instruct and direct the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, to correct the warrant, assessment, or diagram in any particular, or to make and issue a new warrant, assessment, and diagram, to conform to the decisions of said council, or board, in relation thereto, at their option. All the decisions and determinations of said council, or board, upon notice and hearing as aforesaid, shall be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to appeal under the provisions of this section, as to all errors, informalities, and irregularities which said council, or board, might have remedied and avoided; and no assessment shall be held invalid, except upon appeal to said council, or board, as provided in this section for any error, informality, or other defect in any of the proceedings prior to the assessment, or in the assessment itself, where notice of the intention of the council, or board, to order the work to be done, for which the assessment is made, has been actually published in any designated newspaper of said city for the length of time prescribed by law, before the passage of the resolution ordering the work to be done.

Contractor may sue. Attorney's fees. Suit brought in superior court. Premises may be ordered sold. Act to be liberally construed.

§ 14. At any time after the period of thirty-five days from the date of the warrants, as herein provided, or if an appeal is taken to said council, or board, as provided in section 13 of this act, at any time after five days from the decision of said council, or board, or after the return of the warrant or assessment, after the same may have been corrected, altered, or modified, as provided in said section 13 (but not less than thirty-five days from the date of the warrant), the contractor or his assignee may sue, in his own name, the owner of the land, lots, or portions of lots, assessed on the day of the date of the recording of the warrant, assessment, and diagram, or any day thereafter during the continuance of the lien of said assessment, and recover the amount of any assessment remaining unpaid, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum until paid. And in all cases of recovery under the provisions of this act, the plaintiff shall recover the sum of fifteen dollars, in addition to the taxable costs as attorney's fees, but not any percentage upon said recovery. And when suit has been brought, after a personal demand has been made and a refusal to pay such assessment so demanded, the plaintiff shall also be entitled to have and recover said sum of fifteen dollars, as attorney's fees, in addition to all taxable costs, notwithstanding that the suit may be settled or a tender may be made before a recovery in said action, and he may have judgment therefor. Suit may be brought in the superior court of the county within whose jurisdiction the said work has been done, and in case any of the assessments are made against lots, portions of lots, or lands, the owners thereof cannot, with due diligence, be found, the service in each of such actions may be had in such manner as is prescribed in the codes and laws of this state. The said warrant, assessment, certificate, and diagram, with the affidavit of demand and nonpayment, shall be held prima facie evidence of the regularity and correctness of the assessment and of the prior proceedings and acts of the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, and council, or board, upon which said warrant, assessment, and diagram are based, and like evidence of the right of the plaintiff to recover in the action. The court in which said suit shall be commenced shall have power to adjudge and decree a lien against the premises assessed, and to order such premises to be sold on execution, as in other cases of the sale of real estate by the process of said courts; and on appeal, the appellate courts shall be vested with the same power to adjudge and decree a lien and to order such premises to be sold on execution or decree as is conferred on the court from which an appeal is taken. Such premises, if sold, may be redeemed as in other cases. In all suits now pending, or hereafter brought to recover street assessments, the proceedings therein shall be governed and regulated by the provisions of this act, and also, when not in conflict herewith, by the codes of this state. This act shall be liberally construed to effect the ends of justice.

Assessment before completion of improvement.

§ 15. The council, or board, instead of waiting until the completion of the improvement, may, in its discretion, and not otherwise, upon the completion of two blocks or more of any improvement, order the street superintendent, or county surveyor, to make an assessment for the proportionate amount of the contract completed, and thereupon proceedings and rights of collection of such proportionate amount shall be had as provided herein.

Records of superintendent of streets.

§ 16. The records kept by the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor in conformity with the provisions of this act, and signed by him, shall have the same force and effect as other public records, and copies therefrom, duly certified, may be used in evidence with the same effect as the originals. The said records shall, during all office hours, be open to the inspection of any citizen wishing to examine them, free of charge.

Service of notices in writing.

§ 17. Notices in writing which are required to be given by the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, under the provisions of this act, may be served by any person with the permission of the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, and the fact of such service shall be verified by the oath of the person making it, taken before the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, who for that purpose, and for all other purposes, and in all cases where a verification is required under the provisions of this act, is hereby authorized to administer oaths, or other persons authorized to administer oaths, or such notices may be delivered by the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, himself, who must also verify the service thereof, and who shall keep a record of the fact of giving such notices, when delivered by himself personally, and also of the notices and proof of service when delivered by any other person.

Streets accepted by council. Lands may be assessed to construct sewer.

§ 18. Whenever any street or portion of a street, has been or shall hereafter be fully constructed to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets or county surveyor, and of the council, or board, and is in good condition throughout and a sewer, gas-pipes, and water-pipes are laid therein, under such regulations as the council, or board, shall adopt, the same shall be accepted by the council, or board, by ordinance, and thereafter shall be kept in repair and improved by the said municipality or county as herein directed; provided, that the council, or board, may partially or conditionally accept any street, or portion of a street, without a sewer, or gas-pipes, or water-pipes therein, if the ordinance of acceptance expressly states that the council, or board, deems such sewer, or gas-pipes, or water-pipes to be then unnecessary, but the lots of land previously, or at any time, assessable for the cost of constructing a sewer shall remain and be assessable for such cost, and for the cost of repairs and restoration of the street damaged in the said construction, whenever said council, or board, shall deem a sewer to be necessary, and shall order it to be constructed, the same as if no partial or conditional acceptance had ever been made. The superintendent of streets or county surveyor, shall keep in his office a register of all streets, accepted by the council, or board, under this section, which register shall be indexed for easy reference thereto.

Council has authority to construct sewers, etc.

§ 19. The council, or board, shall have full power and authority to construct sewers, gutters, and manholes and provide for the cleaning of the same, and culverts or cess-pools, or crosswalks or sidewalks, or any portion of any sidewalk upon or in any of such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts or places, and also for drainage purposes over or through any right of way obtained or granted for such purposes, with necessary and proper outlet or outlets to the same, of such materials, in such a manner, and upon such terms as it may be deemed proper.

Costs may be paid from treasury.

§ 20. The said council, or board, may, in its discretion, order by resolution that the whole or any part of the cost and expenses of any of the work mentioned in this act be paid out of the treasury of the municipality, or county, from such fund as the council, or board, may designate. Whenever the work to be done is situated partly within and partly without the municipality, both the council and the board may, in their discretion, order, by resolution, that the whole, or any part of the costs and expenses of the work mentioned in this act, be paid out of the treasury of said municipality, or county, or both, and when the whole or a portion thereof is to be paid out of both, each shall pay such proportion thereof as may be agreed upon, from such funds as the said council or board may designate.

Assessment when improvements are partly within city.

§ 21. Whenever a part of such cost and expenses is so ordered to be paid, the superintendent of streets, or county surveyor, in making up the assessment heretofore provided for such cost and expenses, shall first deduct from the whole cost and expense such part thereof as has been so ordered to be paid out of the municipal treasury or county treasury, as the case may be, and shall assess the remainder of said cost and expense proportionately upon the lots, parts of lots, and lands fronting on the streets where said work was done, or liable to be assessed for such work, and in the manner heretofore provided.

Proper officer to do surveying, etc.

§ 22. The city engineer, or where there is no city engineer, or the proceedings hereunder are before the board of supervisors, the county, or city and county surveyor shall be the proper officer to do the surveying and other engineering work necessary to be done under this act, and to survey and measure the work to be done under contracts for grading and macadamizing streets, and to estimate the costs and expenses thereof; and every certificate signed by him in his official character shall be prima facie evidence in all courts in this state of the truth of its contents. He shall also keep a record of all surveys made under the provisions of this act, as in other cases.

"Incidental expenses" defined.

§ 23. The term "incidental expenses," as used in this act, shall include the compensation of the city engineer or county surveyor for work done by him to be fixed by said council or board; also the cost of printing and advertising as provided in this act, and not otherwise. All demands for incidental expenses mentioned in this section shall be presented to the street superintendent, or county surveyor, by itemized bill, duly verified by oath of the demandant.

Publication of notices, etc. Proof of publication.

§ 24. The notices, resolutions, orders or other matter required to be published by the provisions of this act, shall be published in a daily newspaper, in municipalities where such there is, and where there is no daily newspapers, in a semi-weekly or weekly newspaper, to be designated by the council, or board, as often as the same is issued, and no other statute shall govern or be applicable to the publications herein provided for; provided, however, that only in case there is no daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper printed or circulated in any such municipality then such notices, resolutions, orders or other matters as are herein required to be published in a newspaper, shall be posted and kept posted for the same length of time as required herein for the publication of the same in a daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper, in three of the most public places in such municipality. Proof of the publication or posting of any notice provided for herein shall be made by affidavit of the owner, publisher or clerk of the newspaper, or of the poster of the notice. No publication or notice, other than that provided for in this act, shall be necessary to give validity to any of the proceedings provided for herein.

Definitions: "Council." "Board."

§ 25. Whenever the words "council" or "board" are used herein only that word applying to the body before which the proceedings are pending shall be used in the reading and construction of the provisions of this act in relation to proceedings before such body. The word "council" is hereby declared to include any body or board which, under the law is the legislative department of the government of any municipality. The word "board" is hereby declared to include the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county.

"Superintendent of streets." "County surveyor."

§ 26. The words "superintendent of streets," "street superintendent" or "city engineer" used herein, shall be used in the application and construction of this act only when the resolution of intention and the proceedings are under the jurisdiction of the council of the municipality, and this act shall then be read and construed as if the words "or county surveyor," were not incorporated herein, and when the resolution of intention and the proceedings are under the jurisdiction of the board of supervisors, the county surveyor shall perform all of the acts and duties herein required of the superintendent of streets and city engineer, and this act shall be read and construed, when said proceedings are under the jurisdiction of the board of supervisors, as if the said words "street superintendent," "superintendent of streets" and "city engineer" were not incorporated herein, and the words "county surveyor" only were used.

"Work." "Improved."

§ 27. The words "work," "improved" and "improvement," as used in this act shall include all work mentioned in this act, and also the construction, reconstruction and repairs of all or any portion of said work.

"Municipality."

§ 28. The word "municipality," as used in this act, shall be understood and so construed as to include and is hereby declared to include, all corporations heretofore organized and now existing, and those hereafter organized, for municipal purposes.

"Paved."

§ 29. The words "paved" or "repaved," as used in this act, shall be held to mean and include pavement of stone, whether paving blocks or macadamizing, or of bituminous rock or asphalt, or of iron, wood or other material, whether patented or not, which the council or board shall by ordinance adopt.

"Street." "Blocks."

§ 30. The word "street," as used in this act, shall be deemed to, and is hereby declared to include avenues, highways, lanes, alleys, crossings, or intersections, courts and places, and the term "main street" means such actually opened street or streets as bound a block; and the word "blocks" whether regular or irregular, shall mean such blocks as are bounded by main streets, or partially by a boundary line of the municipality.

"Street superintendent."

§ 31. The terms "street superintendent" and "superintendent of streets," as used in this act, shall be understood and so construed as to include, and are hereby declared to include, any person or officer whose duty it is, under the law, to have the care or charge of the streets, or the improvement thereof in any municipality. In all those municipalities where there is not a street superintendent or superintendent of streets the council thereof is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint a suitable person to discharge the duties herein laid down as those of street superintendent, or superintendent of streets; and all provisions hereof applicable to the street superintendent, or superintendent of streets shall apply to such person so appointed.

"Clerk."

§ 32. The term "clerk" as used in this act, is hereby declared to include any person or officer who shall be clerk of the said council, or board.

"Quarter block."

§ 33. The term "quarter block" as used in this act as to irregular blocks, shall be deemed to include all lots or portions of lots having any frontage on either intersecting street halfway from such intersection to the next main street or, when no main street intervenes within six hundred feet of such intersection, only those lots or portions of lots or lands within a distance of three hundred feet therefrom shall be considered as being within the quarter block.

“One year.”

§ 34. The term “one year,” as used in this act, shall be deemed to include the time beginning with January first and ending with the thirty-first day of December of the same year.

§ 35. That said act shall take effect and be in force immediately upon its passage.

Improvement of street on boundary line.

§ 36. The provisions of this act shall apply to and authorize the improvement of any street in or along which the boundary line between two municipalities extends. The city councils of such municipalities shall have concurrent jurisdiction of all proceedings under the act to effect the improvement of such streets to the same extent and in the same manner and form as herein provided for the council and the board of supervisors in respect to streets referred to in the act. The council passing the resolution of intention shall thereafter have exclusive jurisdiction of all work and proceedings covered by said resolution, the same as provided in section 3 of the act. [New section approved June 2, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 371. In effect August 10, 1913.]

DISPOSITION OF LAND OF ABANDONED STREETS.

ACT 4958—An act to provide for the disposition of lands abandoned or closed up as public streets, authorizing the execution of deeds therefor by officers of municipalities and providing for the acceptance of deeds for new streets opened in lieu of such abandoned streets.

History: Approved May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1346.

City may convey interest in closed street.

§ 1. Whenever any city or city and county shall deem it advisable to close and abandon any street or portion thereof in said city or city and county, and open a new street or streets in lieu of those so closed or abandoned, and pursuant thereto the council, board of supervisors or other governing body of the municipality shall have taken proceedings under any general law of this state or pursuant to the provisions of the charter of any such city or city and county and closed up or abandoned such street or streets or portions thereof, the council, board of supervisors or other governing body of the municipality in which such street or portion of such street is located, shall have the power by ordinance or resolution (unless otherwise in the charter of such municipality provided) to convey by deed its interest in such street or portions of street so abandoned or closed, to the owners of the lands adjacent thereto or fronting on such street in such manner as said council, board of supervisors or other governing body shall deem that equity requires.

Compensation.

§ 2. Such resolution or ordinance shall provide for the execution of any such deed or deeds in the name of such municipality by at least two officials of the municipality, and said council or other governing body may in its discretion impose any reasonable conditions, or demand compensation by exchange of lands, or otherwise, before conveying land, the fee of which has reverted to such municipality.

Deeds not to be delivered until city has new street.

§ 3. The deeds provided for in the preceding section shall not in any case be delivered to the grantees therein named until good and sufficient conveyances shall have been delivered to such municipality vesting in such municipality the title to such new street or streets so opened in lieu of such streets so closed or abandoned.

§ 4. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

OPENING STREETS THROUGH CEMETERIES.

ACT 4959—An act relating to the opening of streets through cemeteries.

History: Approved April 24, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1100.

Opening streets through cemeteries.

§ 1. No streets, alleys or roads shall be opened or laid out within the boundary lines of any cemetery located in whole or in part within the lines of any city or city and county of this state, where burials have been had within five years prior thereto, without the consent of the corporation or association owning and controlling such cemetery.

TUNNELS UNDER NAVIGABLE STREAMS.

ACT 4973—An act concerning tunnels, tubes and subways under navigable streams and bodies of water in the state of California.

History: Approved March 11, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 474.

Construction of tunnels under navigable streams.

§ 1. Whenever, in the judgment of the board of supervisors of any county, it shall be deemed advisable in the interests of commerce, or for the benefit of the residents of said county, or for the purpose of expediting travel between points on opposite sides of any navigable stream or body of water, to build and construct tubes, tunnels or subways under such navigable streams or bodies of water for the public use, at such point or place under said navigable stream or body of water as shall be determined upon by the said board of supervisors, the said board of supervisors must call an election and submit to the electors of said county the question whether bonds of said county shall be issued and sold for the purpose of building and constructing said tube, tunnel or subway. The order calling such election shall be valid and effectual when signed by two-thirds of said board of supervisors, and said election shall be held and said bonds issued, in accordance with the terms and provisions of title II, part IV, of the Political Code of the state of California.

Expenses of ascertaining cost of tunnel.

§ 2. The board of supervisors of any county in this state may, for the purpose of ascertaining the probable cost of any proposed tube, tunnel or subway, expend out of the general fund of said county not otherwise appropriated, a sum not exceeding thirty-five hundred dollars; provided, that when any such proposed tube, tunnel or subway shall reach partly in one county and partly in another, said counties shall equally divide the expenditure necessary to ascertain in probable cost of any such proposed tube, tunnel or subway, not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of thirty-five hundred dollars.

Division of cost between counties joined by tunnel.

§ 3. Whenever any such tube, tunnel or subway is proposed to be built or constructed under navigable streams or waterways forming the dividing line between counties, the board of supervisors of each of the counties into which any of such tubes, tunnels or subways will reach shall first agree as to what portions of the cost of such tubes, tunnels or subways shall be paid by each of said counties, and thereafter the boards of supervisors of each of such counties shall have power to take such proceedings as they may deem proper under section 1 of this act; provided, however, that no such tube, tunnel or subway shall be built or constructed under navigable streams or waterways forming the dividing line between counties, unless all the counties into which such tubes, tunnels or subways reach shall first authorize that such work be done and bonds therefor issued in the manner provided in section 1 of this act.

When tunnel reaches within limits of city.

§ 4. Whenever any such tube, tunnel or subway, or any part thereof, shall reach within the limits of any incorporated town, or city, or city and county, and the governing body of each of such incorporated towns, or cities, or cities and counties, and the board of supervisors of the county in which such incorporated towns, or cities, are situated shall first so agree, the board of supervisors shall have the power to call an election and submit to the electors of said county the question whether bonds of said county shall be issued and sold for the purpose of building and constructing such tube, tunnel or subway in the manner prescribed in section 1 of this act; provided, however, that in the event of such bonds being authorized and sold, the construction of such tubes, tunnels or subways shall be under the direction and control of a commission which is hereby created, consisting of the chairman of said board of supervisors and the mayor of each of such incorporated towns, cities, or cities and counties, within the limits of which such tube, tunnel or subway, or any part thereof, shall reach.

§ 5. This act shall take effect immediately.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 5030. LICENSING LAND SURVEYORS.

LICENSING LAND SURVEYORS.

ACT 5030—An act to define the duties of and to license land surveyors, and to repeal an act entitled, "An act to define the duties of and to license land surveyors," approved March 31, 1891.

History: Approved March 16, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 310. Prior act on same subject of March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 478, amended March 20, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 267, repealed by this act.

Requirements to receive license.

§ 1. Every person desiring to become a licensed land surveyor in this state must present to the state surveyor general of this state a certificate that he is a person of good moral character; also a certificate signed by three licensed surveyors, which certificate shall set forth that the person named therein is, in the opinion of the person signing the same, a fit and competent person to receive a license as a land surveyor, together with his oath that he will support the constitution of this state and of the United States, and that he will faithfully discharge the duties of a licensed land surveyor, as defined in this act.

Surveyor general to issue license.

§ 2. Upon receipt of such certificate and oath by the state surveyor general, it shall be his duty to forthwith issue to such applicant a license, which license shall set forth the fact that the applicant is a competent surveyor, or that he has had at least two years' experience in the field as a surveyor or assistant surveyor.

Contents.

§ 3. Such license shall contain the full name of the applicant; the technical institution from which he is a graduate (if he be a graduate), or if he is not a graduate, the fact must be stated in the license; his birthplace, age, and to whom issued; the names of the licensed surveyors upon whose certificate the license is issued, and the date of its issuance.

Lists to be sent to county recorders.

§ 4. All papers received by the state surveyor general on application for licenses shall be kept on file in his office, and a proper index and record thereof shall be kept by him, and a list of all licensed land surveyors shall be kept by him, and he shall monthly transmit to the county recorder of each county in this state a full and correct list of all persons so licensed; and it is hereby made the duty of such recorders to keep such lists in their offices in such way as they may be easily accessible to all persons.

Seal of office.

§ 5. Every licensed surveyor shall have a seal of office, the impression of which must contain the name of the surveyor, his principal place of business, and the words "licensed surveyor"; and all maps and papers signed by him, and to which said seal has been attached, shall be prima facie evidence in all the courts of this state.

Term of license.

§ 6. Surveyors' licenses issued in accordance with this act, shall remain in force until revoked for cause, as hereinafter provided.

May administer oaths.

§ 7. Every licensed surveyor is authorized to administer and certify oaths, when it becomes necessary to take testimony to identify or establish old or lost corners; or if a corner or monument be found in a perishable condition, and it appears desirable that evidence concerning such corner or monument be perpetuated; or whenever the importance of the [survey] makes it desirable, to administer an oath, for the faithful performance of duty, to his assistants. A record of such oaths shall be preserved as part of the field-notes of the survey.

Duty of surveyors.

lines, public roads, streets, alleys, or trails; and it shall be the duty of each surveyor, whenever making any such surveys, except those relating to the retracing or subdivision of cemetery or town lots, whether the survey be made for private persons, corporations, cities, or counties, to set permanent and reliable monuments, and such monuments must be permanently marked with the initials of the surveyor setting them.

Record of surveys. What record must show.

§ 9. Within sixty days after a survey relating to the sale or subdivision of lands, the retracing or establishing of property and boundary lines, public roads or trails, original cemetery or townsites, and their subdivisions has been made by a licensed surveyor, he shall file with the recorder of the county in which such survey or any portion thereof lies, a record of survey. Such record shall be made in a good draughtsman-like manner, on one or more sheets of firm paper of the uniform size of twenty-one by thirty inches. This record of survey shall be either an original plat or a copy thereof, and must contain all the data necessary to enable any competent practical surveyor to retrace the survey. The record of survey must show: All permanent monuments set, describing their size, kind and location, with reference to the corners which they are intended to perpetuate; all bearing or witness trees marked in the field; complete outlines of the several tracts or parcels of land surveyed within courses, and lengths of boundary lines; the angles, as measured by Vernier readings, which the lines of blocks or lots, if the record relate to an original townsite survey, make with each other and with the center lines of adjacent streets, alleys, roads, or lanes; the variations of the magnetic needle with which old lines have been retraced; the scale of the map, the date of survey; a proper connection with one or more points of an original or larger tract of land, and the name of the same; the name of the grant or grants, or of the township and ranges, within which the survey is located; the signature and seal of the surveyor; provided, that nothing in this section shall require record to be made of surveys of a preliminary nature, where no monuments or corners are established.

County recorder to index records of surveys.

§ 10. The record of surveys thus filed with the county recorder of any county must be by him pasted into a stub book, provided for that purpose, and he must keep a proper index of such records, by name of owner, by name of surveyor, by name of grant, city, or town, and by United States subdivisions; and in all cases where such maps, plats, diagrams, or descriptions are filed by a state licensed land surveyor the county recorder shall make no charge for filing and indexing such records of surveys.

Revocation of license.

§ 11. It shall be the duty of the county surveyor of each county, immediately on ascertaining that any licensed surveyor has failed to comply with the requirements of this act, to furnish the surveyor general with satisfactory proofs of such fact. Upon receipt of such proofs, the state surveyor general must revoke his license, and no other license shall be issued to him within one year from such revocation. A violation of section 9 of this act shall be a misdemeanor, and any person convicted of such violation shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding thirty days.

Fees of surveyor general.

§ 12. The surveyor general shall receive a fee of ten dollars for each license, and five dollars for each duplicate license, issued by him; the fees so received to be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the general fund as provided in section 3574 of the Political Code.

Repeal of prior acts.

§ 13. An act entitled "An act to define the duties of and to license land surveyors," approved March 31, 1891, and all other acts, and parts of acts, in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

§ 14. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. County surveyor—Must be licensed at the commencement of his term of office.—The county surveyor must be a licensed surveyor under the act of 1891; but one who did not hold the certificate required at the time of his election, but obtained it before the commencement of his term of office, could legally hold the office.—Ward v. Crowell, 142 Cal. 587, 76 Pac. 491.

ACT 5035. PERPETUATION OF MARKING OF GOVERNMENT SURVEY.

PERPETUATION OF MARKINGS OF GOVERNMENT SURVEY.

ACT 5035—An act to further perpetuate the markings of the government survey.

History: Approved March 18, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 102.

County surveyor, duties relating to. Marking of government surveys.

§ 1. When in the performance of his official duties any county surveyor shall find a government corner which has been marked by any government surveyor by placing charcoal in the ground, or by a wooden stake, earth mound, or other perishable monument, it shall be his duty, to remark said corner by placing therein a monument of heavily galvanized iron pipe or galvanized iron stake not less than two inches in diameter and not less than two feet long, or other monument not less in size and equally imperishable.

How placed.

§ 2. All such monuments located in public highways shall be placed with the top not less than twelve inches below the surface of the ground, but when not located in public highways, they shall be placed with the top six inches above the surface of the ground. If the top of the monument is placed above the ground, it shall be not less than four feet long, if of metal.

Witness objects recorded.

§ 3. The surveyor shall note witness objects that are within a reasonable distance of any corner, and state distance and course from said corner, and record the same in a properly indexed record-book kept in the county surveyor's office, which shall be a public record.

Supervisors to furnish stakes, etc.

§ 4. All boards of supervisors are required to furnish all necessary pipes or stakes for monuments for their respective counties without cost, on demand.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

- ACT 5043. SEPARATE JUDGE.
- 5044. PROTECTION OF LANDS FROM OVERFLOW.
- 5045. TRANSCRIBING RECORDS.

SEPARATE JUDGE.

ACT 5043—An act to provide for a separate judge for each of the counties of Yuba and Sutter.

History: Approved March 2, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 48.

PROTECTION OF LANDS FROM OVERFLOW.

ACT 5044—An act to provide for the protection of certain lands in from overflow.

History: Approved March 25, 1868, Stats. 1867-68, p. 316. Amended March 8, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 307. Supplemented March 30, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 734.

Editor's note: Of this act the code commissioners say: "Unconstitutional as to section 21 (Brandenstein v. Hoke, 101 Cal. 131 [35 Pac. 562]; Wilson v. Supervisors, 47 Cal. 91)." See, also, People v. Whyler, 41 Cal. 351; Moulton v. Parks, 64 Cal. 166, 64 Pac. 613.

The title of the act sufficiently indicates its purpose. It created levee district number one, and provided for the construction of levees, embankments, etc., and for the levy of a special tax to pay the cost thereof. It is also provided for the creation of other districts for a like purpose, and for the establishment of funds to be used for their benefit. A number of districts were created under its provisions, and a large number of decisions of the supreme court cite it; but the act is more or less obsolete, and has been largely if not entirely superseded by the general laws relating to reclamation, levee, swamp and overflowed land and protection districts; and for that reason no attempt at annotation has been made.

The following cases are noted for the benefit of those who may have occasion to refer to the act: Citations.—Wilson v. Sup. of Sutter Co., 47 Cal. 91, 92; Dean v. Davis, 51 Cal. 406, 407; Hoke v. Perdue, 62 Cal. 545, 546; Moulton v. Parks, 64 Cal. 166, 179, 30 Pac. 613; In re Madera Irr. Dist., 92 Cal. 296, 311, 28 Pac. 272, 675, 27 Am. SYNDICALISM.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 5086. CRIMINAL SYNDICALISM ACT.

CRIMINAL SYNDICALISM ACT.

ACT 5086—An act defining criminal syndicalism and sabotage, proscribing certain acts and methods in connection therewith and in pursuance thereof and providing penalties and punishments therefor.

History: Approved April 30, 1919. In effect immediately. Stats. 1919, p. 281.

“Criminal syndicalism” defined.

§ 1. The term “criminal syndicalism” as used in this act is hereby defined as any doctrine or precept advocating, teaching or aiding and abetting the commission of crime, sabotage (which word is hereby defined as meaning wilful and malicious physical damage or injury to physical property), or unlawful acts of force and violence or unlawful methods of terrorism as a means of accomplishing a change in industrial ownership or control, or effecting any political change.

Unlawful acts. Penalty.§ 2. Any person who:

1. By spoken or written words or personal conduct advocates, teaches or aids and abets criminal syndicalism or the duty, necessity or propriety of committing crime, sabotage, violence or any unlawful method of terrorism as a means of accomplishing a change in industrial ownership or control, or effecting any political change; or

2. Wilfully and deliberately by spoken or written words justifies or attempts to justify criminal syndicalism or the commission or attempt to commit crime, sabotage, violence or unlawful methods of terrorism with intent to approve, advocate or further the doctrine of criminal syndicalism; or

3. Prints, publishes, edits, issues or circulates or publicly displays any book, paper, pamphlet, document, poster or written or printed matter in any other form, containing or carrying written or printed advocacy, teaching, or aid and abetment of, or advising, criminal syndicalism; or

4. Organizes or assists in organizing, or is or knowingly becomes a member of, any organization, society, group or assemblage of persons organized or assembled to advocate, teach or aid and abet criminal syndicalism; or

5. Wilfully by personal act or conduct, practices or commits any act advised, advocated, taught or aided and abetted by the doctrine or precept of criminal syndicalism, with intent to accomplish a change in industrial ownership or control, or effecting any political change;

Is guilty of a felony and punishable by imprisonment in the state prison not less than one nor more than fourteen years.

Constitutionality.

§ 3. If for any reason any section, clause or provision of this act shall by any court be held unconstitutional then the legislature hereby declares that, irrespective of the unconstitutionality so determined of such section, clause or provision, it would have enacted and made the law of this state all other sections, clauses and provisions of this act.

Urgency measure.

§ 4. Inasmuch as this act concerns and is necessary to the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety, for the reason that at the present time large numbers of persons are going from place to place in this state advocating, teaching and practicing criminal syndicalism, this act shall take effect upon approval by the governor.

1. Constitutionality.—Section 1, article IV, constitution.—The requirements of section 1, article IV, of the constitution are sufficiently complied with by the recitals of section 4 of the act.—Ex parte McDermott, 180 Cal. 783, 183 Pac. 437.

2. Same.—Upheld so far as material.—Act of 1919 (p. 281) held constitutional in so far as its provisions are material in the present case.—Ex parte McDermott, 180 Cal. 783, 183 Pac. 437.

3. Same—Same.—The act was held constitutional in so far as its provisions were material in the present case, an indictment for displaying and circulating books, etc., in violation of the act.—People v. Malley, (Cal. App.) 194 Pac. 48.

3a. Same.—Not class legislation.—The act is not unconstitutional on the ground that it is class legislation.—People v. Steelik, 33 Cal. App. Dec. 594.

4. I. W. W. printed matter.—The display and circulation of books, pamphlets and printed matter examined at the I. W. W. headquarters in San Francisco, was held to be in violation of the criminal syndicalism act.—People v. Malley, (Cal. App.) 194 Pac. 48.

5. "Sabotage" defined.—"Sabotage," as used in the criminal syndicalism act, and as there defined, means wilful and malicious physical damage or injury to physical property.—People v. Malley, (Cal. App.), 194 Pac. 48.

6. Questions for the jury.—The interpretation to be placed on the matters circulated, in a prosecution for a violation of the criminal syndicalism act, and the probable effect of such circulation, and the defendant's motives, are questions for the jury.—People v. Malley, (Cal. App.) 194 Pac. 48.

7. Evidence of conspiracy.—Evidence was properly admitted in a prosecution for a violation of the act against a member of the I. W. W., that the latter was engaged in a conspiracy to violate the provisions of the act, although some of it related to matters occurring long before he became a member.—People v. Steelik, 33 Cal. App. Dec. 594.

8. Indictment—Each and all of acts denounced constitute an offense, and all may be conjunctively pleaded.—The acts denounced in the criminal syndicalism act comprise a series, any one or all of which constitute an offense, and an indictment may set forth all in a single count conjunctively.—People v. Steelik, 33 Cal. App. 594.

See, also, People v. Malley, (Cal. App.) 194 Pac. 48.

9. Same — Sufficient.—An indictment charging the offense in substantially the language of the statute is sufficient.—People v. Taylor, 34 Cal. App. Dec. 414.

10. Question of fact.—The question as to whether the communist labor party in California, was organized to advocate, teach, and abet criminal syndicalism, is one for the jury, not one of law.—People v. Taylor, 34 Cal. App. Dec. 414.

The act of June 16, 1913, repealed the act of March 20, 1909 (Stats. 1909, p. 557), authorizing the controller to appoint an inheritance tax deputy, etc.

Title. Definitions.

§ 1. (1) This act shall be known as the "inheritance tax act."

"Estate" and "property." Wife's share of community property exempted.

(2) The words "estate" and "property" as used in this act shall be taken to mean the real and personal property or interest therein of the testator, intestate, grantor, bargainor, vendor, or donor passing or transferred to individual legatees, devisees, heir, next of kin, grantees, donees, vendees or successors, and shall include all personal property within or without the state; provided, that for the purpose of this act the one-half of the community property which goes to the surviving wife on the death of the husband, under the provisions of section one thousand four hundred two of the Civil Code, shall not be deemed to pass to her as heir to her husband, but shall, for the purpose of this act, be deemed to go, pass or be transferred to her for valuable and adequate consideration and her said one-half of the community shall not be subject to the provisions of this act; provided, further, that in case of a transfer of community property from the husband to the wife, within the meaning of subdivisions (3) or (5) of section two of this act, one-half of the community property so transferred shall not be subject to the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that the presumption that property acquired by either husband or wife after marriage is community property, shall not obtain for the purpose of this act as against any claim by the state for the tax hereby imposed; but the burden of proving such property to be community property shall rest upon the person claiming the same to be community property.

"Transfer."

(3) The word "transfer" as used in this act shall be taken to include the passing of property or any interest therein, in possession or enjoyment, present or future, by inheritance, descent, devise, succession, bequest, grant, deed, bargain, sale, gift, or appointment in the manner herein described.

"Decedent."

(4) The word "decedent" as used in this act shall include the testator, intestate, grantor, bargainor, vendor, or donor.

“County treasurer” and “inheritance tax appraiser.”

(5) The words “county treasurer” and “inheritance tax appraiser,” as used in this act, shall be taken to mean the treasurer or the inheritance tax appraiser of the county of the superior court having jurisdiction as provided in section fifteen of this act.

Tax on transfer of property, when.

§ 2. A tax shall be and is hereby imposed upon the transfer of any property, real, personal or mixed, or of any interest therein or income therefrom in trust or otherwise, to persons, institutions or corporations, not hereinafter exempted, to be paid to the treasurer of the proper county, as hereinafter directed, for the use of the state, said taxes to be upon the market value of such property at the rates hereinafter prescribed and only upon the excess over the exemptions hereinafter granted, in the following cases:

(1) When the transfer is by will or by the intestate or homestead laws of this state, from any person dying seized or possessed of the property while a resident of the state, or by any order of court setting apart property pursuant to article I, chapter five, title eleven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(2) When the transfer is by will or intestate laws of property within this state and the decedent was a nonresident of the state at the time of his death, or by any order of court setting apart property pursuant to article I, chapter five, title eleven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(3) When the transfer is of property made by a resident, or by a nonresident when such nonresident's property is within this state, by deed, grant, bargain, sale, assignment or gift, made without valuable and adequate consideration (i. e., a consideration equal in money or in money's worth to the full value of the property transferred):

- (a) In contemplation of the death of the grantor, vendor, assignor, or donor, or,
- (b) Intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after such death.

When such person, institution or corporation becomes beneficially entitled in possession or expectancy to any property or the income therefrom, by any such transfer, whether made before or after the passage of this act.

(4) The words “contemplation of death,” as used in this act, shall be taken to include that expectancy of death which actuates the mind of a person on the execution of his will, and in nowise shall said words be limited and restricted to that expectancy of death which actuates the mind of a person making a gift causa mortis; and it is hereby declared to be the intent and purpose of this act to tax any and all transfers which are made in lieu of or to avoid the passing of property transferred by testate or intestate laws.

Property held in joint names.

(5) Whenever property, real or personal, is held in the joint names of two or more persons, or is deposited in banks or other institutions or depositaries in the joint names of two or more persons and payable to either or the survivor, upon the death of one of such persons, the right of the surviving joint tenant or joint tenants, person or persons to the immediate ownership or possession and enjoyment of such property shall be deemed a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act in the same manner as though the whole property to which such transfer relates belonged absolutely to the deceased joint tenant or joint depositor and had been devised or bequeathed to the surviving joint tenant or joint tenants, person or persons, by such deceased joint tenant or joint depositor by will, excepting therefrom such part thereof as may be proved by the surviving joint tenant or joint tenants to have originally belonged to him or them and never to have belonged to the decedent.

Appointment deemed transfer.

(6) Whenever any person, trustee or corporation shall exercise a power of appointment derived from any disposition of property made either before or after the passage of this act, such appointment, when made, shall be deemed a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act, in the same manner as though the property to which such appointment relates belonged absolutely to the donee of such power, and had been bequeathed or devised by such donee by will; and whenever any person, trustee or corporation possessing such power of appointment so derived shall omit or fail to exercise the same within the time provided therefor, in whole or in part, a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act shall be deemed to take place to the extent of such omission or failure, in the same manner as though the persons, trustees or corporations thereby becoming entitled to the possession or enjoyment of the property to which such power related had succeeded thereto by a will of the donee of the power failing to exercise such power, taking effect at the time of such omission or failure.

Bequest exceeding reasonable compensation.

(7) Whenever a decedent appoints or names one or more executors or trustees, and makes a bequest or devise of property to them in lieu of commissions or allowances, which otherwise would be liable to said tax, or appoints them his residuary legatees, and said bequest, devise, or residuary legacies exceeds what would be a reasonable compensation for their services, such excess over and above the exemptions herein provided for shall be liable to said tax; and the superior court in which the probate proceedings are pending shall fix the compensation.

Property transferred subject to charge determined by death of person.

(8) Where any property shall, after the passage of this act, be transferred subject to any charge, estate or interest, determinable by the death of any person, or at any period ascertainable only by reference to death, the increase accruing to any person or corporation upon the extinction or determination of such charge, estate or interest, shall be deemed a transfer of property taxable under the provisions of this act in the same manner as though the person or corporation beneficially entitled thereto had then acquired such increase from the person from whom the title to their respective estates or interests is derived.

Aggregate value of more than one transfer.

(9) When more than one transfer within the meaning of any of the preceding subdivisions of this section has been made, either before or after the passage of this act, by a decedent to one person, the tax shall be imposed upon the aggregate market value of all of the property so transferred to such person in the same manner and to the same extent as if all of the property so transferred were actually transferred by one transfer.

No deduction of United States tax.

(10) In determining the market value of the property transferred, no deduction shall be made for any inheritance tax or estate tax paid to the government of the United States.

Lien. Suit within five years.

§ 3. Such taxes shall be and remain a lien upon the property passed or transferred until paid; provided, that said lien shall be limited to the property chargeable therewith, and the person to whom the property passes or is transferred, and all administrators, executors and trustees of every estate so transferred or passed, shall be liable for any and all such taxes until the same shall have been paid as hereinafter directed. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relative to the limitation of time of enforcing a civil remedy shall not apply to any proceeding or action taken to levy, appraise, assess, determine, or enforce the collection of any tax or penalty prescribed by this article, and this section shall be construed as having been in effect as of date of the original enactment of the inheritance tax law; provided, that unless sued for within five years after they are due and legally demandable, such taxes, or any taxes accruing under any act herein repealed, shall cease to be a lien as against any bona fide purchaser of said property; and, provided, that no such lien shall cease within two years from the date of the passage of this act.

Tax when property value not over $25,000.

§ 4. When the property or any beneficial interest therein so passed or transferred exceeds in value the exemption hereinafter specified and shall not exceed in value twenty-five thousand dollars, the tax hereby imposed shall be:

(1) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the husband, wife, lineal ancestor, lineal issue of the decedent or any child adopted as such in conformity with the laws of this state, or any child to whom such decedent for not less than ten years prior to such transfer stood in the mutually acknowledged relation of a parent (provided, however, such relationship began at or before the child's fifteenth birthday, and was continuous for said ten years thereafter), or any lineal issue of such adopted or mutually acknowledged child, at the rate of one per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

(2) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the brother or sister or a descendant of a brother or sister of a decedent, a wife or widow of a son, or the husband of a daughter of the decedent at the rate of three per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

(3) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the brother or sister of the father or mother, or a descendant of a brother or sister of the father or mother of the decedent, at the rate of four per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

(4) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be in any other degree of collateral consanguinity than is hereinbefore stated or shall be a stranger in blood to the decedent, or shall be a body politic or corporate, at the rate of five per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

Tax when property value exceeds $25,000.

§ 5. (1) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision one of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, two per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, four per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, seven per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, ten per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars and up to one million dollars, twelve per centum of such excess.

(f) Upon all in excess of one million dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(2) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision two of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, six per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, nine per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, twelve per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars and up to one million dollars, twenty per centum of such excess.

(f) Upon all in excess of one million dollars, twenty-five per centum of such excess.

(3) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision three of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, eight per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, ten per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, twenty per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars and up to one million dollars, twenty-five per centum of such excess.

(f) Upon all in excess of one million dollars, thirty per centum of such excess.

(4) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision four of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, ten per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, twenty per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, twenty-five per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars, thirty per centum of such excess.

Exemptions allowed.

§ 6. The following exemptions from the tax are hereby allowed:

(1) All property transferred to societies, corporations, and institutions now or hereafter exempted by law from taxation, or to any public corporation, or to any society, corporation, institution, or association of persons engaged in or devoted to any charitable, benevolent, educational, public or other like work (pecuniary profit not being its object or purpose), or to any person, society, corporation, institution, or association of persons in trust for or to be devoted to any charitable, benevolent, educational, or public purpose, by reason whereof any such person or corporation shall become beneficially entitled, in possession or expectancy, to any such property or to the income thereof, shall be exempt; provided, however, that such society, corporation, institution or association be organized or existing under the laws of this state or that the property transferred be limited for use within this state.

(2) Property of the clear value of twenty-four thousand dollars, transferred to the widow or to a minor child of the decedent, and of ten thousand dollars transferred to each of the other persons described in the first subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

(3) Property of the clear value of two thousand dollars, transferred to each of the persons described in the second subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

(4) Property of the clear value of one thousand dollars, transferred to each of the persons described in the third subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

(5) Property of the clear value of five hundred dollars, transferred to each of the persons and corporations described in the fourth subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

Time of payment. Discount. Bond.

§ 7. (1) All taxes imposed by this act, unless otherwise herein provided for, shall be due and payable at the death of the decedent, and if the same are paid within eighteen months, no interest shall be charged and collected thereon, but if not so paid, interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum shall be charged and collected from the time said tax accrued; provided, that if said tax is paid within six months from the accruing thereof a discount of five per centum shall be allowed and deducted from said tax. And in all cases where the executors, administrators, or trustees do not pay such tax within eighteen months from the death of the decedent, they shall be required to give a bond for the payment of said tax, together with interest.

If estate not settled within eighteen months.

(2) The penalty of ten per cent per annum imposed by subdivision (1) of this section for the nonpayment of said tax, shall not be charged in cases where, in the judgment of the court, by reason of claims made upon the estate necessary litigation, or other unavoidable cause of delay, the estate of any decedent, or a part thereof, cannot be settled at the end of eighteen months from the death of the decedent; but in such cases seven per cent per annum shall be charged upon the said tax from the expiration of said eighteen months until the cause of such delay is removed, after which ten per cent interest per annum shall again be charged until the tax is paid; but litigation to defeat the payment of the tax shall not be considered necessary litigation.

Immediate appraisement and payment.

§ 8. (1) When any grant, gift, legacy, devise or succession upon which a tax is imposed by section two of this act shall be an estate, income, or interest for a term of years, or for life, or determinable upon any future or contingent event, or shall be a remainder, reversion, or other expectancy, real or personal, the entire property or fund by which such estate, income, or interest is supported, or of which it is a part, shall be appraised immediately after the death of the decedent, and the market value thereof determined, in the manner provided in section sixteen or seventeen of this act, and the tax prescribed by this act shall be immediately due and payable to the treasurer of the proper county, and, together with the interest thereon, shall be and remain a lien on said property until the same is paid.

Incumbrances.

(2) In estimating the value of any estate or interest in property, to the beneficial enjoyment or possession whereof there are persons or corporations presently entitled thereto, no allowance shall be made on account of any contingent incumbrance thereon, nor on account of any contingency upon the happening of which the estate or property or some part thereof or interest therein might be abridged, defeated or diminished; provided, however, that in the event of such incumbrance taking effect as an actual burden upon the interest of the beneficiary, or in the event of the abridgment, defeat or diminution of said estate or property or interest therein as aforesaid, a return shall be made to the person properly entitled thereto of a proportionate amount of such tax on account of the incumbrance when taking effect, or so much as will reduce the same to the amount which would have been assessed on account of the actual duration or extent of the estate or interest enjoyed. Such return of tax shall be made in the manner provided by section eleven hereof upon order of the court having jurisdiction.

Property transferred in trust. Bond. Return of property filed. Recovery on bond if security not renewed.

(3) When property is transferred in trust or otherwise, and the rights, interest or estates of the transferees are dependent upon contingencies or conditions whereby they may be wholly or in part created, defeated, extended, or abridged, a tax shall be imposed upon said transfer at the highest rate which, on the happening of any of the said contingencies or conditions, would be possible under the provisions of this act, and such tax so imposed shall be due and payable forthwith by the executors or trustees out of the property transferred; provided, however, that on the happening of any contingency whereby the said property, or any part thereof, is transferred to a person or corporation exempt from taxation under the provisions of this act, or to any person taxable at a rate less than the rate imposed and paid, such person or corporation shall be entitled to a return of so much of the tax imposed and paid as the difference between the amount paid and the amount which said person or corporation should pay under the provisions of this act; such return of overpayment shall be made in the manner provided by section eleven of this act, upon order of the court having jurisdiction; provided, that the person or persons or body politic or corporate beneficially interested in the property chargeable with said tax or the trustees thereof may elect not to pay the same until such person or persons, or body politic or corporate beneficially interested in such property shall come into the actual possession or enjoyment thereof, and in that case such person or persons or body politic or corporate or trustees shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California in a penalty of twice the amount of said tax with such sureties as the said superior court may approve, conditioned for the payment of said tax and interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum commencing at the expiration of eighteen months from the death of the decedent at such time or period as they or their representatives may come into the actual possession or enjoyment of such property, and conditioned further, that if said bond be not renewed and the returns made as herein provided, the amount of said tax and interest thereon shall immediately become due and payable. Said bond shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the proper county and a certified copy thereof shall be immediately transmitted to the state controller; provided, further, that such person or persons or body politic or corporate, or trustees, shall enter into such security within a period of ninety days after the entry of the order or decree fixing the inheritance tax charged against such transfer, or within such period thereafter as the court may in its discretion permit, and shall make a full and verified return of such property to said court and file the same in the office of the county clerk within one year from the date of such order or decree fixing tax, and at such times thereafter as the court on the application of the state controller may require, and renew such security every five years after the date of the approval thereof. Upon the approval of said bond as herein provided, said tax shall cease to be a lien upon the property so transferred. If such security shall not be renewed before the expiration of each five-year period, said bond shall immediately become due and payable and if the same be not paid forthwith, the attorney general shall file an action in the name of the people of the state on the relation of the controller, to recover the same and the penalties thereunder and no demand for payment shall be necessary before the institution of such suit.

Whenever it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that any surety on such bond or undertaking has for any reason become insufficient, the court may on motion of the state controller, after such notice to such person or persons, body politic or corporate, or trustees as the court may require, order the giving of a new undertaking with sufficient sureties in lieu of such insufficient undertaking. In case such new undertaking so required shall not be given within the time required by such order, or in case the sureties thereon fail to justify thereon when required, all rights obtained by the filing of such original undertaking, or subsequent undertaking, shall cease and the amount of said tax and interest thereon shall immediately become due and payable.

Estates in expectancy.

(4) Estates in expectancy which are contingent or defeasible and in which proceedings for the determination of the tax have not been taken or where the taxation thereof has been held in abeyance, shall be appraised at their full, undiminished value when the persons entitled thereto shall come into the beneficial enjoyment or possession thereof, without diminution for or on account of any valuation theretofore made of the particular estates for purposes of taxation, upon which said estates in expectancy may have been limited.

(5) Where an estate or interest can be divested by the act or omission of the legatee or devisee it shall be taxed as if there were no possibility of such divesting.

Future or contingent estate. Determination of value.

(6) The value of every future, or contingent or limited estate, income or interest, shall, for the purposes of this act be determined by the rule, methods and standards of mortality and of value that are set forth in the actuaries' combined experience tables of mortality for ascertaining the value of policies of life insurance and annuities and for the determination of the liabilities of life insurance companies, save that the rate of interest to be assessed in computing the present value of all future interest and contingencies shall be five (5) per cent per annum. The insurance commissioner shall without a fee on the application of any superior court or of any inheritance tax appraiser determine the value of any future or contingent estate, income or interest therein limited, contingent, dependent or determinable upon the life or lives of persons in being, upon the facts contained in any such appraiser's application or other facts to him submitted by said appraiser or said court and certify the same in duplicate to such court or appraiser, and his certificate thereof shall be conclusive evidence that the method of computation therein is correct. When an annuity or a life estate is terminated by the death of the annuitant or life tenant, and the tax upon such interest has not been fixed and determined, the value of said interest for the purpose of taxation under this act shall be the amount of the annuity or income actually paid or payable to the annuitant or life tenant during the period for which such annuitant or life tenant was entitled to the annuity or was in possession of the life estate.

Collection of tax by administrator.

§ 9. (1) Any administrator, executor, or trustee having in charge or trust any legacy or property for distribution, subject to the said tax, shall deduct the tax therefrom, or if the legacy or property be not money he shall collect the tax thereon, upon the market value thereof, from the legatee or person entitled to such property, and he shall not deliver, or be compelled to deliver, any specific legacy or property subject to tax to any person until he shall have collected the tax thereon; and whenever any such legacy shall be charged upon or payable out of real estate, the executor, administrator, or trustee shall collect said tax from the distributee thereof, and the same shall remain a charge on such real estate until paid; if, however, such legacy be given in money to any person for a limited period, the executor, administrator, or trustee shall retain the tax upon the whole amount; but if it be not in money he shall make application to the superior court to make an apportionment, if the case require it, of the sum to be paid into his hands by such legatees, and for such further order relative thereto as the case may require.

Sale of property to pay tax.

(2) All executors, administrators, and trustees shall have full power to sell so much of the property of the decedent as will enable them to pay said tax, in the same manner as they may be enabled by law to do for the payment of debts of the estate, and the amount of said tax shall be paid as hereinafter directed.

Payment within 30 days.

(3) Every sum of money retained by an executor, administrator, or trustee, or paid into his hands, for any tax on property, shall be paid by him, within thirty days thereafter, to the treasurer of the county in which the probate proceedings are pending.

Treasurer's receipt.

§ 10. Upon the payment to any county treasurer of any tax due under this act, such treasurer shall issue a receipt therefor, in triplicate, one copy of which he shall deliver to the person paying said tax, and the original and one copy thereof he shall immediately send to the controller of state, whose duty it shall be to charge the treasurer so receiving the tax with the amount thereof, and said controller shall retain one of said receipts and the other he shall countersign and seal with the seal of his office, and immediately transmit to the clerk of the court fixing such tax. And an executor, administrator, or trustee shall not be entitled to credits in his accounts, nor be discharged from liability for such tax, nor shall said estate be distributed, unless a receipt so sealed and countersigned by the controller, or a copy thereof, certified by him, shall have been filed with the court. Any person shall, upon payment to the county treasurer of the sum of fifty cents, be entitled to a duplicate, or copy, of any receipt that may have been given by said treasurer for the payment of any tax under this act.

Refund of tax.

§ 11. (1) If any debts shall be proved against the estate of a decedent after the payment of any legacy or distributive share thereof, from which any such tax has been deducted or upon which it has been paid by the person entitled to such legacy or distributive share, and such person is required by order of the superior court having jurisdiction, on notice to the state controller, to refund the amount of such debts or any part thereof, an equitable proportion of the tax shall be repaid to him by the executor, administrator or trustee, if the tax has not been paid to the county treasurer; or if such tax has been paid to such county treasurer, such officer shall refund out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody such equitable proportion of the tax, and credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him under this act.

Assessing tax on amount wrongfully deducted.

(2) Where it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the superior court that deductions for debts were allowed upon the appraisal, since proved to have been erroneously allowed, it shall be lawful for such superior court to enter an order assessing the tax upon the amount wrongfully or erroneously deducted.

Refund of tax when order modified or reversed. Application within one year.

(3) If, after the payment of any tax in pursuance of an order fixing such tax, made by the superior court having jurisdiction, such order be modified or reversed by the superior court having jurisdiction within two years from and after the date of entry of the order fixing the tax, or be modified or reversed at any time on an appeal taken therefrom within the time allowed by law on due notice to the state controller, the county treasurer shall refund to the executor, administrator, trustee, person or persons by whom such tax was paid, the amount of any moneys paid or deposited on account of such tax in excess of the amount of tax fixed by the order modified or reversed, out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody, and credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him to the controller on his semiannual settlement; but no application for such refund shall be made after one year from such reversal or modification, unless an appeal shall be taken therefrom, in which case no such application shall be made after one year from the final determination on such appeal or of an appeal taken therefrom, and the representatives of the estate, legatees, devisees or distributees entitled to any refund under this section shall not be entitled to any interest upon such refund, and the state controller shall deduct from the fees allowed by this act to the county treasurer the amount theretofore allowed him upon such overpayment.

Refund of tax erroneously paid.

(4) When any amount of said tax shall have been erroneously paid, the superior court having jurisdiction, on application after notice to the state controller, and on satisfactory proof to it, shall by order require the county treasurer to refund and pay to the executor, administrator, trustee, person or persons who had paid any such tax in error the amount of such tax so erroneously paid; provided, that all applications for such repayment of such tax so erroneously paid shall be made within one year of the date of the entry of the order fixing tax or of the decree of final distribution of the estate. Such refund shall be made by said treasurer out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody and he shall credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him to the controller on semiannual settlement; and the state controller shall deduct from the fees allowed by this act to the county treasurer the amount theretofore allowed him upon such erroneous payment.

(5) This section, as amended, shall apply to appeals and proceedings now pending and taxes heretofore paid in relation to which the period of one year from such reversal or modification has not expired when this section, as amended, takes effect.

Examination of books, etc. Penalty for divulging information.

§ 12. (1) Whenever the state controller shall have reasonable cause to believe that a tax is due under the provisions of this act, upon any transfer of any property, and that any person, firm, institution, company, association or corporation has possession, custody or control of any books, accounts, papers or documents relating to or evidencing such transfer, the state controller or inheritance tax attorney, or any assistant inheritance tax attorney of the inheritance tax department, is hereby authorized and empowered to inspect the books, records, accounts, papers and documents of any such person, firm, institution, company, association or corporation, including the stock transfer book of any corporation, for the purpose of acquiring any information deemed necessary or desirable by said state controller or such inheritance tax attorney or assistant inheritance tax attorneys, for the proper enforcement of this act, and for the collection of the full amount of tax which may be due the state hereunder. Any and all information acquired by said state controller or said inheritance tax attorney or assistant inheritance tax attorneys shall be deemed and held by said state controller and said inheritance tax attorney and assistant inheritance tax attorneys and each of them, as confidential, and shall not be divulged, disclosed or made known by them or any of them except in so far as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this act. Any controller or ex-controller, or inheritance tax attorney or ex-inheritance tax attorney, or assistant inheritance tax attorney or ex-assistant inheritance tax attorney, who shall divulge, disclose or make known any information acquired by such inspection and examination aforesaid, except in so far as the same may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than ninety days, or both.

Penalty for refusing to permit examination.

(2) Any officer or agent of any firm, institution, company, association or corporation having or keeping an office within this state, who has in his custody or under his control any book, record, account, paper or document of such firm, institution, company, association or corporation, and any person having in his custody or under his control such book, record, account, paper or document who refuses to give to the state controller, or said inheritance tax attorney, or any of said assistant inheritance tax attorneys, lawfully demanding, as provided in this section, during office hours to inspect or take a copy of the same, or any part thereof, for the purposes hereinabove provided, a reasonable opportunity so to do, shall be liable to a penalty of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than twenty thousand dollars, and in addition thereto shall be liable for the amount of the taxes, interest and penalties due under this act on such transfer, and the said penalties and liabilities for the violation of this section may be enforced in an action brought by the state controller in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Consent of controller to transfer of decedent's stock.

§ 13. (1) No corporation organized or existing under the laws of this state, shall transfer on its books or issue a new certificate for any share or shares of its capital stock belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent or in trust for a decedent or belonging to or standing in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, without the written consent of the state controller or person by him in writing authorized to issue such consent.

Trust companies, etc., to retain amount to pay tax. Notice of transfer.

(2) No safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons having in possession or under control or custody or under partial control or partial custody securities, deposits, assets or property belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent who was a resident or nonresident, or belonging to, or standing in the joint names of such a decedent and one or more persons, including the shares of the capital stock of, or other interest in, the safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution making the delivery or transfer herein provided, shall deliver or transfer the same to the executors, administrators or legal representatives, agents, deputies, attorneys, trustees, legatees, heirs, successors in interest of said decedent or to any other person or persons, or to the survivor or survivors when held in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, or upon their order or request, without retaining a sufficient portion or amount thereof to pay any tax and interest which may thereafter be assessed thereon under this act and unless notice of the time and place of such delivery or transfer be served upon the state controller and county treasurer at least ten days prior to said delivery or transfer; provided, that the state controller, or person by him in writing authorized so to do, may consent in writing to said delivery or transfer, and such consent shall relieve said safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons from the obligation hereunder to give such notice or to retain any portion of said securities, deposits or other assets in their possession or control. And it shall be lawful for the state controller or county treasurer, personally or by representatives, to examine said securities, deposits or assets at the time of said delivery or otherwise.

Penalty for failure to comply.

(3) Failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall render such safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons, liable to a penalty of not more than twenty thousand dollars, and in addition thereto said safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons shall be liable for the amount of the taxes, interest and penalties due under this act on said securities, deposits, or other assets above mentioned, and said penalties and liabilities of said safe deposit company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons for the violation of this section may be enforced in an action brought by the state controller in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Inheritance tax appraisers. Penalty for taking other than fee allowed.

§ 14. The state controller shall appoint, and may at his pleasure remove, one or more persons in each county of the state to act as inheritance tax appraisers therein. Every such inheritance tax appraiser (in addition to any fees paid him as appraiser under section one thousand four hundred forty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure) shall be paid for his services out of any inheritance tax moneys in the hands of the treasurer of the county in which he may be acting, a reasonable compensation, to be fixed by the superior court of said county, or a judge thereof, and, together with said compensation, said appraiser shall be allowed his actual and necessary traveling and other incidental expenses, and the fees paid such witnesses as he shall subpoena before him, said expenses and fees to be allowed by said superior court or a judge thereof; provided, that any claim for any such services or expenditure, must before payment, first receive the approval of the state controller; and provided, further, that in any probate proceeding in which the executor or administrator shall have failed to have had the inheritance tax appraiser act as one of the appraisers under section one thousand four hundred forty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure and to have paid him his fees therefor, the expense of making the inheritance tax appraisal in this act provided for shall be paid out of said estate, and the executor or administrator thereof shall be liable for said fee. Any such appraiser who shall take any fee or reward, other than such as may be allowed him by law, from any executor, administrator, trustee, legatee, next of kin, or heir of any decedent, or from any other person liable to pay said tax, or any portion thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail ninety days or both, and in addition thereto the court shall dismiss him from such service.

Jurisdiction of superior court.

§ 15. The superior court in the county in which is situate the real property of a decedent, who was not a resident of the state, or if there be no real property, then in the county in which any of the personal property of such nonresident is situate, or in the county of which the decedent was a resident at the time of his death, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions in relation to the tax arising under the provisions of this act; the court first acquiring jurisdiction hereunder shall retain the same, to the exclusion of every other; provided, that the superior court having acquired jurisdiction in probate of the estate of a decedent shall hear and determine in said probate proceedings all questions in relation to any tax arising under the provisions of this act: (a) Upon property passing in said probate proceedings. (b) Upon any other property transferred, within the meaning of subdivision three of section two or any other provisions of this act, to any person, institution or corporation taking any property under and by virtue of said probate proceedings.

Appointment of inheritance tax appraisers in probate proceedings. Powers of referee.Witnesses. Evidence. Report to superior court.

§ 16. (1) When any superior court, having jurisdiction in probate of the state of any decedent, or a judge of such court, shall, in accordance with section one thousand four hundred forty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure, appoint the appraiser or appraisers in said section provided for, said superior court or judge thereof shall also at the same time designate and appoint an inheritance tax appraiser (unless such designation and appointment be previously made) to ascertain and report to said superior court the amount of inheritance tax due upon any property passing in said probate proceeding, or a lien thereon, or upon any other property transferred within the meaning of subdivision (3) of section two of this act, or under any other provision of this act, to any person, institution or corporation taking property under and by virtue of said probate proceedings, together with such other or additional information as shall assist said court in the determination of said tax. Thereupon said inheritance tax appraiser shall have all the powers of a referee of said superior court, and shall have jurisdiction to require the attendance before him of the executor or administrator of said estate, or any person interested therein, or any other person whom he may have reason to believe possesses knowledge of the estate of said decedent, or knowledge of any property transferred by said decedent within the meaning of this act, or knowledge of any facts that will aid said appraiser or the court in the determination of said tax. For the purpose of compelling the attendance of such person or persons before him, and for the purpose of appraising any property or interest subject to, or liable for any inheritance tax hereunder, and for the purpose of determining the amount of tax due thereon, the said inheritance tax appraiser is hereby authorized to issue subpoenas compelling the attendance of witnesses before him. Any person or persons who shall be served with a subpoena, issued by said inheritance tax appraiser, to appear and testify or to produce books and papers, and who shall refuse and neglect to appear and testify or to produce books and papers relevant to such appraisalment, as commanded in such subpoena, shall be guilty of a contempt of court. And he may examine and take the evidence of such witnesses or of such executor or administrator, or other person under oath concerning such property and the value thereof, and concerning the property or the estate of such decedent subject to probate, and concerning any transfer made by such decedent within the meaning of this act. Upon the completion of his inheritance tax appraisalment in any probate proceeding, the inheritance tax appraiser shall make a report in writing to the superior court of the clear market value of the several interests in the estate of the decedent, and shall report the amount of inheritance or transfer tax chargeable against, or a lien upon such interests, acquired by virtue of said probate proceedings or by any transfer within the meaning of this act, to any person, institution or corporation acquiring any property by virtue of said probate proceedings together with such other facts as may advise the court in regard thereto, or which the court may require, and may return to said superior court such depositions as he may have had reduced to writing, exhibits, or other testimony or information taken before him, or submitted to him.

Notice of filing report. Order confirming report. Hearing objections.

(2) Upon the filing of said report said appraiser shall mail a copy thereof to the state controller and the clerk of said superior court shall on said day or the next succeeding judicial day give notice of such filing to all persons interested in such proceedings by causing notices to be posted in at least three public places in the county, one of which must be the place where the court is held, and in addition thereto shall mail to the state controller and to all persons chargeable with any tax in said report who have appeared in such proceeding, a copy of said notice. At any time after the expiration of ten days thereafter, if no objection to said report be filed, the said superior court or a judge thereof, may, without further notice give and make its order confirming said report and fixing the tax in accordance therewith. At any time prior to the making of said order, any person interested in said proceeding (including the state controller) may file objections in writing to said report. Thereupon said superior court shall, by order, fix a time, not less than ten days thereafter, for the hearing thereof, and shall direct the clerk of said superior court to give such notice thereof as it shall deem necessary; provided, that a copy of such notice and of such objections shall be forthwith mailed to the state controller, county treasurer and inheritance tax appraiser. Upon the hearing of said objections, said court may make such order as to it may seem meet and proper in the premises.

Order that no inheritance taxes due.

(3) If, upon examination of the executor or administrator of said estate or other persons familiar with the affairs of such decedent, or from other information before him, it shall appear to the inheritance tax appraiser that there is no inheritance tax due out of said estate or a lien upon any property or interest therein, said appraiser may so certify to the superior court, and at any time thereafter, if no objection to said certificate shall have been filed, said superior court or a judge thereof may, without further notice, make an order or decree that there are no inheritance taxes due out of said estate or upon any interest therein or may make such different order as may to it seem meet in the premises. Such order shall be conclusive only as to such property as may have been returned in the inventory or inventory and appraisement in said probate proceedings.

Determination of taxability of transfer.

§ 17. (1) If it shall appear to the superior court upon petition of the state controller that any transfer has been made within the meaning of this act, and the taxability thereof, and the liability for such tax and the amount thereof have not been determined, and that no proceedings are pending in any court in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof may be determined, said court shall issue a citation ordering and directing the persons who may appear liable therefor or known to own any interest in or part of the property transferred, to appear before said court or before an inheritance tax appraiser to be designated by said order at a time and place in said order named, not less than ten days nor more than one year from the date of such order, to be examined, under oath by said court or by said appraiser as the case may be, concerning said transfer and all facts connected therewith, and concerning the property transferred and the character and value thereof.

Examination by appraiser. Report of findings.

If said person or persons shall be directed to appear before said appraiser said appraiser shall, at the time and place in said order named, or at such time and place to which said appraiser may adjourn said hearing, proceed to examine said person or persons and such witnesses as said appraiser may subpoena before him, and for the purpose of said hearing, and for the purpose of ascertaining any facts concerning the taxability of said transfer or any taxes due on account of such transfer, said appraiser shall have the powers of a referee of said court, and, is hereby authorized to issue subpoenas compelling the attendance of witnesses before him, and to administer oath, and to take the evidence of such witnesses under oath concerning such property and the value thereof and concerning such transfer. Said appraiser shall report to said court his findings and conclusions in relation to said transfer and said tax, and may return to said court, any depositions, exhibits or other testimony or information taken before him or exhibited to him. The procedure subsequent to the filing of said report shall conform to subdivision (2) of section sixteen of this act.

Service.

Except as herein otherwise provided, the service of such citation and the time, manner and proof thereof, and the hearing and determination thereon, and the hearing and determination upon the facts returned in such report, and the enforcement of the determination or decree, shall conform to the provisions of chapter twelve, title eleven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the clerk of the court shall, upon the request of the state controller, furnish, without fee, one or more transcripts of such decree, and the same shall be docketed and filed by the county clerk of any county in the state, without fee, in the same manner and with the same effect as provided by section six hundred seventy-four of said Code of Civil Procedure for filing a transcript of an original docket.

Hearing by court.

The superior court may hear the said cause upon the relation of the parties and the testimony of witnesses, and evidence produced in open court, and, if the court shall find said property is not subject to any tax, as herein provided, the court shall, by order, so determine; but if it shall appear that said property, or any part thereof, is subject to any such tax, the same shall be appraised and taxed as in other cases.

Petition to determine taxability.

(2) Verified petitions may be filed by any interested party with the superior court, alleging and admitting that a transfer within the meaning of this act has been made and the taxability thereof and the liability for such tax and the amount thereof have not been determined, and that no proceedings are pending in any court in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof, may be determined, and that the petitioner desires such determination and desires to pay said tax, if any be due. Upon the filing of such petition the superior court or a judge thereof shall by order designate and appoint an inheritance tax appraiser to ascertain and report to said court the amount of the inheritance tax, if any, due by said petitioner on account of such transfer, and shall fix a time and place, not less than ten days thereafter, for the hearing of said matter before said inheritance tax appraiser, a copy of which petition and order shall be forthwith mailed to the state controller, and shall refer said petition and said matter to said inheritance tax appraiser who shall have all of the powers of a referee of said court, including the powers prescribed in subdivision (1) of section sixteen of this act. The procedure subsequent to said reference to said appraiser shall conform to the provisions of subdivisions (1) and (2) of section sixteen of this act.

Compensation of appraiser.

In the event that final judgment is rendered in said proceeding, ascertaining and determining that no inheritance tax is due on account of said transfer or that the amount of the tax to which said transfer is liable, is less than twenty dollars the court shall, in addition to the amount of the tax, if any, include in such judgment and assess against the petitioner reasonable compensation for said inheritance tax appraiser, not exceeding the sum of ten dollars, and the necessary traveling and incidental expenses of said appraiser.

Action to quiet title.

(3) Actions may be brought against the state by any interested person for the purpose of quieting the title to any property against the lien or claim of lien of any tax or taxes under this act, or for the purpose of having it determined that any property is not subject to any lien for taxes nor chargeable with any tax under this act. No such action shall be maintained where any proceedings are pending in any court in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof may be determined. All parties interested in said transfer and in the taxability thereof shall be made parties thereto and any interested person who refuses to join as plaintiff therein may be made a defendant. Summons for the state in said action shall be served upon the state controller.

Hearing by appraiser.

At any time after issue is joined in such action the court, on its own motion, or upon the motion of any interested party, may by order appoint and designate an inheritance tax appraiser to hear said matter and report to the court thereon and shall in such order fix a time and place for the hearing of said matter before said inheritance tax appraiser, and direct notice of such time and place to be given in such manner as the court shall deem proper, and shall refer said matter to said inheritance tax appraiser who shall have all of the powers of a referee of said court, including the powers prescribed in subdivision (1) of section sixteen of this act. The procedure subsequent to said reference to said appraiser shall conform to the provisions of subdivisions (1) and (2) of section sixteen of this act.

Judgment in favor of state.

Should the court determine that the property described in the complaint is subject to the lien of said tax and that said property has been transferred within the meaning of this act, the court shall award affirmative relief to the state in said action, and judgment shall be rendered therein in favor of the state, ascertaining and determining the amount of said tax, and the person or persons liable therefor, and the property chargeable therewith or subject to lien therefor, and shall assess against such person or persons reasonable compensation for said inheritance tax appraiser and his necessary traveling and incidental expenses.

Actions commenced where.

(4) Actions under this section shall be commenced in the superior court of the county in which is situated any part of any real property against which any lien is sought to be enforced, or to which title is sought to be quieted against any lien, or claim of lien; but if in said action no lien against real property is sought to be enforced, the action shall be brought in the superior court of the county which has or which had jurisdiction of the administration of the estate of the decedent mentioned herein.

No fees charged.

(5) No fee shall be charged said state controller by any public officer in this state for the filing or recording of any petition, lis pendens, decree or order, or for the taking of oaths or acknowledgments in any proceeding taken under this act; nor shall any undertaking be required from or costs charged against the state controller or the state of California in any such proceeding.

Orders have force of judgments in civil actions.

§ 18. The orders, decrees and judgments fixing tax or determining that no tax is due, mentioned in this act, shall have the force and effect of judgments in civil actions. Except as otherwise herein provided, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relative to judgments, new trials, appeals, attachments and execution of judgments, so far as applicable, shall govern all proceedings taken under this act. Nothing in this section shall preclude the state from relief herein provided for, which may be inconsistent with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Taxes paid to state treasurer.

§ 19. The treasurer of each county shall collect all taxes and moneys that may be due and payable under this act and pay the same to the state treasurer (excepting such moneys as he may pay out from time to time pursuant to the provisions of this act) and the state treasurer shall give him a receipt therefor; of which collection and payment he shall make a report, under oath, to the controller, between the first and fifteenth days of May and December of each year, stating for what estate paid, and in such form and containing such particulars as the controller may prescribe; and for all such taxes collected by him and not paid to the state treasurer by the first day of June and January of each year he shall pay interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum.

Percentage of tax retained by county treasurer.

§ 20. The treasurer of each county shall be allowed to retain, on all taxes paid and accounted for by him each year under this act, in addition to his salary or fees now allowed by law, three per centum of the first fifty thousand dollars so paid and accounted for by him, one and one-half per centum on the next fifty thousand dollars so paid and accounted for by him, and one-half of one per centum on all additional sums so paid and accounted for by him; provided, that no county treasurer shall be entitled to retain to his own use more than the sum of two hundred dollars out of the inheritance taxes paid on account of any transfer or transfers made by, or resulting from the death of, any one decedent, nor more than five thousand dollars out of the total inheritance taxes accounted for in any one year.

State controller may employ counsel.

§ 21. The state controller, whenever he shall be cited as a party in any proceeding or action to determine any tax under this act provided, or whenever he shall deem it necessary for the better enforcement of this act to make any special employment to secure evidence of evasion of said tax, or to commence or appear in any proceeding or action to determine any tax hereunder, may, by and with the consent and approval of the attorney general, make such special employment or designate and employ counsel or attorney in or out of this state to represent him on behalf of the state, and, by and with such consent of the attorney general, he is hereby authorized to incur the necessary expense for such employment and any reasonable and necessary expense incident thereto. And the county treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay out of any funds which may be in his hands on account of this tax, on presentation of a sworn itemized account and on certificate of the state controller and attorney general, all expenses incurred as in this section above provided, but no expense for such special employment or legal services, up to and including the entry of the order of the court fixing the tax and the same becoming final, shall exceed ten per centum of the tax and penalties collected; provided, that all reasonable and necessary expenses incurred, in any legal action or proceeding in any court of this state or on any appeal therefrom, other than attorney's fees, including expense of serving processes and printing and preparing of necessary legal papers, may be allowed and paid in the manner above provided, even though no tax be recovered in such action or proceeding, and the limitations herein made shall not apply thereto.

Disposition of taxes collected.

§ 22. All taxes levied and collected under this act, up to the amount of two hundred fifty thousand dollars annually, shall be paid into the treasury of the state, for the uses of the state school fund, and all taxes levied and collected in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars annually shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the general fund thereof.

Penalty for failure to perform duty.

§ 23. Every officer who fails or refuses to perform, within a reasonable time, any and every duty required by the provisions of this act, or who fails or refuses to make and deliver within a reasonable time any statement or record required by this act, shall forfeit to the state of California the sum of one thousand dollars, to be recovered in an action brought by the attorney general in the name of the people of the state on the relation of the controller.

Constitutionality.

§ 24. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Acts repealed. Pending suits, etc., not affected.

§ 25. An act entitled "An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and by any act hereby repealed and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens arising hereunder or under an act hereby repealed to be known as the 'inheritance tax act'; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection, and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens, arising hereunder; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers; to provide for its collection, and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens arising hereunder''; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to establish a tax on collateral inheritances, bequests and devises, to provide for the collection and to direct the disposition of its proceeds,' approved March 23, 1893, and all amendments thereto, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act, approved March 20, 1905, and all amendments thereto, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act,' approved April 7, 1911''; approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereto, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby expressly repealed; provided, however, that such repeal shall in nowise affect any suit, prosecution or proceeding pending at the time this act shall take effect, or any right which the state of California may have at the time of the taking effect of this act, to claim a tax upon any property under the provisions of the act or acts hereby repealed, for which no proceeding has been commenced, and where no proceeding has been commenced to collect any tax arising under any act hereby repealed the procedure to collect such tax shall conform to the provisions hereof; nor shall such repeal affect any appeal, right of appeal in any suit pending, or orders fixing tax, existing in this state at the time of the taking effect of this act.

1. Constitutionalilty — Title includes deeds, etc.—The act is not unconstitutional because the provision imposing a tax on property transferred by deed, payable on the death of the decedent, is not to be included within the phrase "collateral inheritances, bequests, and devises," since, if declared unconstitutional, it could not invalidate the whole section.—In re Campbell's Estate, 143 Cal. 623, 77 Pac. 674.

2. Same—Due process—Property of resident of California in Massachusetts.—The inheritance tax law of 1905, under the provisions of which payment of the tax is required upon personal property in Massachusetts belonging to a resident of California, is not obnoxious to the fourteenth amendment of the constitution of the United States, as a deprivation of property without due process of law.—Estate of Hodges, 170 Cal. 492, 150 Pac. 344, L. R. A. 1916A, 837.

3. Same—Same—Vesting of tax in state at death of decedent.—The act of 1893 is not violative of due process on the ground that it vests in the state the right to the tax at the death of the decedent, since it provides a means of ascertaining the amount of the tax, and for notice and appraisal.—Trippet v. State, 149 Cal. 521, 8 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1210, 86 Pac. 1084.

4. Same—Unlawful discrimination.—The act of 1905 is not unconstitutional because in requiring the exemption to be taken from the first $25,000, it discriminates against persons who succeed to larger amounts.—In re Timken's Estate, 158 Cal. 51, 109 Pac. 608.

5. Same—Same.—The act of 1893 held not unconstitutional as making an unlawful discrimination, in disregarding the provisions of section 1386, Civil Code, allowing children of brothers and sisters to take by representation.—In re Wilmerding's Estate, 117 Cal. 281, 49 Pac. 181.

6. Same—Exemption of inheritances not exceeding $500.—The act of 1893 held not unconstitutional because exempting from the tax inheritances not exceeding $500.—In re Wilmerding's Estate, 117 Cal. 281, 49 Pac. 181.

7. Same—Equal protection.—The act of 1893 is not unconstitutional as denying the equal protection of the laws, on the ground that brothers and sisters are subjected to the burden of the tax, while the wife or widow of a son and husband of a daughter, are exempt.—Campbell v. California, 200 U. S. 87, 50 L. ed. 382, 26 Sup. Ct. Rep. 182.

Sustaining: In re Campbell's Estate, 143 Cal. 623, 77 Pac. 674.

8. Same—Application to other than collateral inheritance taxes.—So far as it attempts to impose other than taxes on collateral inheritances the act of 1893, as amended in 1895, is void as obnoxious to section 24, article IV, of the constitution, as to the subjects and titles of acts.—Wirringer v. Morgan, 12 Cal. App. 26, 106 Pac. 425.

9. Same—Same—"Collateral" defined.—The word "collateral" as used in the act is construed in support of the constitutionality of the act of 1893 to apply to a devise to any person not in the direct line of relationship, though the person is not akin to the deceased.—In re Campbell Estate, 143 Cal. 623, 77 Pac. 674.

10. Same—Retroactive effect—Intervening life estate.—The legislature can not subsequently lawfully impose a succession tax upon a fully executed transfer of title reserving to the grantor a life estate, such tax accruing at the termination of the life estate, merely because the grantee was debarred by the intervening life estate from actual possession, the fee having vested absolutely on the delivery of the deed.—Hunt v. Wicht, 174 Cal. 205, 208, L. R. A. 1917C, 961, 162 Pac. 639.

11. Same—Same—Same—Transfer fully executed.—Where a deed passes the present title to property, with a retention of a life estate in the grantor, the legislature is without power subsequently to impose a succession tax upon such fully executed transfer of title, such tax to accrue upon the termination of the grantor's life estate, simply because the grantee was debarred by the intervening life estate from taking possession.—Hunt v. Wicht, 174 Cal. 205, 208, L. R. A. 1917C, 961, 162 Pac. 639.

12. Same—Reservation of life estate—Vesting of title absolutely—In contemplation of death—Without adequate consideration.—It is immaterial so far as a subsequently imposed succession tax is concerned whether the transfer was made "in contemplation of his (the grantor's) death and without valuable consideration" or not, the transfer being absolute, notwithstanding the reservation of a life estate in the grantor, and the title vesting upon the delivery of the deed.—Hunt v. Wicht, 174 Cal. 205, 210, L. R. A. 1917C, 961, 162 Pac. 639.

13. Same—Amendment of 1897.—The amendment of 1897, exempting certain classes of corporations and relatives from the collateral inheritance tax, is not unconstitutional as a local or special statute.—In re Stanford's Estate, 126 Cal. 112, 45 L. R. A. 788, 54 Pac. 259.

14. Same—Same—Invalid as to distinction between residents and non-residents.—The amendment of 1897 is invalid in so far as it makes a distinction between residents and non-residents.—In re Stanford's Estate, 126 Cal. 112, 45 L. R. A. 788, 54 Pac. 259; In re Mahony's Estate, 133 Cal. 180, 85 Am. St. Rep. 155, 65 Pac. 389.

15. Same—Same—Same—Construction when provision eliminated.—Under the clause of the amendment of 1897, exempting from the collateral inheritance tax a "niece or nephew when a resident of this state" is to be construed, without the residence clause, as exempting both nieces and nephews along with other relatives.—In re Stanford's Estate, 126 Cal. 112, 45 L. R. A. 788, 54 Pac. 259. But see same case, (Cal.) 58 Pac. 462.

Overruled: In re Mahony's Estate, 133 Cal. 180, 85 Am. St. Rep. 155, 65 Pac. 389.

16. Same—Same—Same—Not void—Case overruled or limited.—The decision in the case of In re Mahony's Estate, 133 Cal. 180, 65 Pac. 389, 85 Am. St. Rep. 155, is overruled or limited and the provision in question held not to be void, but that the exemption is extended to non-residents.—In re Johnson's Estate, 139 Cal. 532, 96 Am. St. Rep. 161, 73 Pac. 424.

17. Same—Same—Provision as to exemption of prior tax invalid.—So far as it exempts from tax already accrued under the act certain persons and corporations, the amendment of 1897 violates section 31, article IV, of the constitution.—In re Stanford's Estate, 126 Cal. 112, 45 L. R. A. 788, 54 Pac. 259, 58 Cal. 462; In re Martin's Estate, 153 Cal. 225, 94 Pac. 1053.

18. Same—Tax becomes property of state on the death of the decedent—Creates vested right in state.—Under the act of 1893 the tax becomes the property of the state on the death of the decedent within the meaning of section 31, article IV, of the constitution.—In re Stanford's Estate, 126 Cal. 112, 45 L. R. A. 788, 54 Pac. 259, 58 Pac. 462.

And creates a vested right in the state at that time.—Trippet v. State, 149 Cal. 521, 8 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1210, 86 Pac. 1084.

19. Same—Retroactive effect invalid.—The act of 1913 is invalid so far as it attempts to impose a tax on transfers made prior to its enactment, and as to such transfers the act in force at the time of the transfer controls.—In re Estate of Potter, 61 Cal. Dec. 273.

20. Same—Same—Increase of tax on vested transfers.—The legislature has no power to increase the tax after the transfer has become vested, because such action would amount to a taking without compensation.—In re Estate of Potter, 61 Cal. Dec. 273.

20a. Same—Act of 1913 controls in case of subsequent deaths.—The inheritance tax imposed by the act of 1913 controls in case of the testator's death subsequent to its enactment, notwithstanding the will was made prior.—In re Estate of Potter, 61 Cal. Dec. 273.

21. Inheritance tax, defined.—An inheritance tax is a charge on succession by inheritance or transfer by will.—McDougald v. Low, 164 Cal. 107, 127 Pac. 1027.

22. Inheritance tax not property tax, but tax on right of succession.—An inheritance tax is not a tax on property but on the right of succession.—In re Kennedy's Estate, 157 Cal. 517, 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 428, 108 Pac. 280.

23. Same.—The inheritance tax is a charge upon succession by inheritance or transfer by will.—McDougald v. Low, 164 Cal. 107, 110, 127 Pac. 1027.

24. Succession tax on beneficial interest of each beneficiary.—The tax is a succession tax on the beneficial interest of each beneficiary.—In re Estate of Miller, 61 Cal. Dec. 19, 61 Cal. Dec. 90, 195 Pac. 413.

25. Phrase "which shall pass by will or by the intestate laws," defined.—The phrase "which shall pass by will or by the intestate laws" used in the act of 1905, means to pass by virtue and force of the law governing testate or intestate succession.—In re Kennedy's Estate, 157 Cal. 517, 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 428, 108 Pac. 280.

26. Act of 1893—Limited to collateral inheritance taxes by its title.—The act of 1893 was limited in its application to collateral inheritances by its title.—Wirringer v. Morgan, 12 Cal. App. 26, 106 Pac. 425.

27. Act of 1905—Scope of act.—Under section 1 of the inheritance tax act of 1905, such tax is imposed upon all property passing by will or by the intestate laws of this state, and upon all property of a non-resident decedent, which, regardless of its mode of transfer or succession shall be within the state.—McDougald v. Lilienthal, 174 Cal. 698, 699, 164 Pac. 387.

28. Property liable to tax—Homestead carved out of community estate.—A homestead carved out of community property in the lifetime of the husband, the title to which vested in the wife at his death, is liable for the inheritance tax under the law of 1913, section 2.—Estate of Stewart, 174 Cal. 547, 548, 163 Pac. 902.

28a. Same—Homestead and allowance—Not taxable under act of 1905.—A homestead and an allowance set apart by the court does not "pass by will" but by the order of the court and is not taxable under the act of 1905.—In re Kennedy's Estate, 157 Cal. 517, 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 428, 108 Pac. 280.

29. Community property—Wife's share subject to tax.—The share of the surviving wife in the community property is subject to the tax under the act of 1905.—In re Moffitt's Estate, 153 Cal. 359, 20 L. R. A. (N. S.) 207, 95 Pac. 653.

30. Same—Shares of stock in California corporation subject to tax, without regard to situs.—Shares of stock in a California corporation are subject to the inheritance tax provided in the act of 1905, without regard to the place where the certificates are kept.—McDougald v. Lilienthal, 174 Cal. 698, 701, 164 Pac. 387.

31. Same—Does not depend on local proceedings.—The imposition of the inheritance tax provided by section 2 of the inheritance tax of 1905, upon the property of a non-resident decedent lying in this state does not depend upon local proceedings in probate, ancillary or otherwise.—McDougald v. Lilienthal, 174 Cal. 698, 701, 164 Pac. 387.

32. Same—Situs of stock in state of incorporation.—The situs of stock in a corporation is in the state of the incorporation, for the purposes at least of the inheritance tax law, and any bequest thereof, which results in its actual transfer in kind should subject it to payment of the tax upon its actual value.—McDougald v. Low, 164 Cal. 107, 110, 127 Pac. 1027.

33. Same—Stock of domestic corporation.—The situs of stock in a domestic corporation is in the state for the purpose of the inheritance tax, and a bequest thereof which results in its transfer in kind is subject to tax on its actual value.—McDougald v. Low, 164 Cal. 107, 127 Pac. 1027.

34. Same—Same—Stock passes in kind.—Where the property of an estate having a situs in this state is not in fact resorted to for the payment of debts and expenses of administration, but passes in kind to the legatee, and there are no debts due creditors in this state, and the estate in the state of the domicile is ample to pay all debts and expenses of administration, no deduction should be made from the actual value of the property that actually passes to the legatee.—McDougald v. Low, 164 Cal. 107, 110, 127 Pac. 1027.

34a. Property of non-residents—Imposition on property in state only.—The legislature did not intend by the inheritance tax law of 1911 to impose a tax upon the property of a non-resident unless it was property in the state.—Estate of McCahill, 171 Cal. 482, 484, 153 Pac. 930.

34b. Same—Bond never in state, belonging to non-resident.—Bonds of a foreign corporation not doing business in this state, belonging to a non-resident and not brought to the state for any local business purpose, do not constitute property within the state, subject to the payment of inheritance taxes under the law of 1911, although physically present in a safe deposit box in the state at the time of the owner's death.—Estate of McCahill, 171 Cal. 482, 484, 153 Pac. 939.

34c. Same—Residence and domicile—Determination for purpose of tax.—In determining the question of residence for the purpose of fixing an inheritance tax declarations of deceased as to residence and domicile must give way when inconsistent with actual conduct.—Estate of Harkness, 176 Cal. 537, 538, 169 Pac. 78.

34d. Same—Situs in California.—In fixing the tax to be paid under the inheritance tax law of 1905 upon the property of a decedent non-resident situated in California, where the estate is perfectly solvent, no deduction should be made on account of non-resident creditors or the expenses of administration in the state of the decedent's domicile not shown to have been paid out of California assets.—McDougald v. Low, 164 Cal. 107, 111, 127 Pac. 1027.

35. Same—"Full faith and credit clause"—Tax on properties in California.—The decree of distribution in the court of decedent's domicile, does not, under the full faith and credit clause of the constitution, preclude the state of California from imposing a tax upon property within its boundaries covered by such decree, an inheritance tax included.—McDougald v. Labenthal, 174 Cal. 698, 702, 164 Pac. 387.

36. Property not subject to tax—Joint bank deposits, which, with accumulations belong to husband and wife, and become the property absolutely of the survivor on the death of one of them under section 16 of the bank act of 1909 do not pass to such survivor by inheritance or succession but by virtue of the estate originating at the time of their creation, and are not subject to the payment of an inheritance tax under the inheritance tax law of 1911, as a part of the husband's estate.—McDougald v. Boyd, 172 Cal. 753, 755, 159 Pac. 168.

37. Same—Same.—As to subjection of joint bank account to payment of inheritance tax under law of 1905.—Kelly v. Woolsey, 177 Cal. 325, 339, 170 Pac. 837.

38. Same—Same—Establishment out of community property funds not a transfer or a testamentary disposition.—The creation of a joint bank account with deposits of community funds, is neither a testamentary disposition nor a transfer of such funds to vest upon death in the surviving cotenant, made in contemplation of death within the purview of the inheritance tax law of 1905 (Stats. 1905, p. 341).—Estate of Gurnsey, 177 Cal. 211, 214, 170 Pac. 402.

38a. Same—Exemption granted charitable corporations extends to foreign companies.—The exemption granted by subdivision 1, section 7, inheritance tax law of 1915 (Stats. 1915, p. 421) to certain corporations devoted to charitable work, extends to foreign as well as domestic corporations.—In re Estate of Fiske, 178 Cal. 116, 172 Pac. 390; Chambers v. Princeton University, 178 Cal. 116, 117, 172 Pac. 390; In re Estate of Jones, 178 Cal. 311, 172 Pac. 979.

39. Transfer—Burden is on state.—The state has the burden of showing that a transfer is subject to the tax.—In re Minor's Estate, 180 Cal. 291, 4 A. L. R. 456, 180 Pac. 813.

40. Same—Two conditions required.—The act of 1911 requires that a transfer should be both without a valuable and adequate consideration, and either in contemplation of death or intended to take effect at death.—Estate of Box, 181 Cal. 607, 186 Pac. 133.

41. Same—"In contemplation of death"—Meaning construed.—The phrase "contemplation of death" in the inheritance tax law of 1905, is not to be construed in the limited sense of that expectancy which actuates a person in making a gift causa mortis.—Abstract, etc., Co. v. State of California, 173 Cal. 691, 694, 161 Pac. 264.

42. Same—Same—Transfer made in.—In view of section 27 of the inheritance tax act of 1905 as amended in 1911 certain gifts by a husband to his wife made at a time when afflicted with a mortal disease, and with full knowledge of the character of his ailment, one made two days before he underwent a grave surgical operation, and the other subsequently upon the recurrence of the disease and about five months before his death, must be considered to have been made in contemplation of death, and liable to the tax imposed by the act.—Estate of Reynolds, 169 Cal. 600, 601, 147 Pac. 268.

43. Same—Act of 1905—"In contemplation of death," defined.—The phrase "In contemplation of death" in the act of 1905, does not refer to the general expectation of death entertained by all, but refers to the motive for the transfer without which it would not have been made.—Spreckels v. State, 30 Cal. App. 363, 158 Pac. 549.

44. Same—"Contemplation of death" defined.—The phrase "contemplation of death" means the expectancy of death which actuates the mind of a person on the execution of a will, not that which actuates a gift causa mortis.—In re Minor's Estate, 180 Cal. 291, 4 A. L. R. 456, 180 Pac. 813.

45. Same—In contemplation of death—Liability for tax determined by law in force at the time of transfer.—The question of liability to inheritance taxes by virtue of a transfer in contemplation of death must be determined by the law in force at the time the title to the property vests in the transferee by virtue of the transfer.—Estate of Gurnsey, 177 Cal. 211, 214, 170 Pac. 402.

46. Same—Finding—"In contemplation of death"—Question for trial court—Finding sustained.—The question as to whether a transfer was made in contemplation of death was one for the trial court, and its findings thereon are to be disturbed only where there was no evidence sufficient to sustain them, and in the present case the evidence was held sufficient to sustain a finding that a man eighty-three years who transferred property to his wife one and one-half years before his death, did not make such transfer in contemplation of death within the meaning of the act.—Mc-

Dougald v. Wulzen, 34 Cal. App. 21, 166 Pac. 1033.

47. Same—Adequacy of consideration must be considered.—In determining whether a transfer of property was made in contemplation of death within the meaning of the inheritance tax law of 1905, the adequacy of the consideration is an essential element to be considered.—Abstract, etc., Co. v. State of California, 173 Cal. 691, 694, 161 Pac. 264.

48. Same—Transfer made for valuable and adequate consideration not subject to tax.—A transfer of shares of stock made for a valuable and adequate consideration, is not subject to the tax, even though made in contemplation of death.—Nickel v. State, 179 Cal. 126, 175 Pac. 641.

49. Same—"Valuable and adequate consideration"—Absence essential to obligation to pay tax.—The absence of valuable and adequate consideration is just as essential to the obligation to pay the tax as is the contemplation of death or the intention of the transferor that possession or enjoyment shall be postponed until death, and the officer seeking to recover the tax under subdivision 3 of section 1 of the act must show that there was not a valuable and adequate consideration for the transfer.—McDougald v. Boyd, 172 Cal. 753, 757, 159 Pac. 168.

50. Same—Same—Transfer to children by husband and wife.—A conveyance of property to children by a husband and wife held to have been upon a valuable and adequate consideration in contemplation of law.—Estate of Brix, 181 Cal. 667, 186 Pac. 135.

51. Same—Same.—The rule applicable in specific performance cases should control in determining whether a transfer was made for adequate consideration, and exact equality of consideration is not required.—Estate of Brix, 181 Cal. 667, 186 Pac. 135.

52. Same—Transfer without adequate and valuable consideration—Stock transferred with "valuable" but without "adequate" consideration.—The fact that a son was equitably entitled to certain shares of stock which formed a part of a larger number transferred to him by his father, and that he allowed his father the dividends thereon, is a "valuable" consideration for such transfer, but not an "adequate" consideration within the meaning of the inheritance tax act of 1905.—Estate of Felton, 176 Cal. 663, 668, 169 Pac. 392.

53. Same—Finding cured failure of appraiser to find lack of adequate consideration.—The failure of the inheritance tax appraiser to find that a gift made by the deceased in his lifetime was without adequate consideration was cured by a finding to that effect made by the superior court after a hearing de novo.—Estate of Felton, 176 Cal. 663, 669, 169 Pac. 392.

54. Same—"Valuable and adequate consideration"—Transfer not made for.—The transfer from a father to his son, of property valued at one hundred thousand dollars, upon consideration that the son would pay indebtedness aggregating thirty thousand dollars due on such property, and pay his father six hundred dollars per month during life, the father being afflicted with a mortal ailment, was not made for "a valuable and adequate consideration" within the meaning of the inheritance tax law, and was liable for the payment of the tax prescribed.—Estate of Reynolds, 169 Cal. 600, 603, 147 Pac. 268.

55. Same—Postponement of transfer until death of transferor—Showing required.—To subject a transfer of property to the payment of taxes under the inheritance tax law of 1905, it is essential that such transfer should be made with the intent that the possession and enjoyment of the property was to be postponed until the death of the transferor, and this intent must be proved; but it may be shown by circumstances from which it may be reasonably inferred, as well as express declarations.—Kelly v. Woolsey, 177 Cal. 325, 334, 170 Pac. 837.

55a. Same—Same—Not wholly determined by written instrument.—In ascertaining whether a transfer of property is subject to taxation under the inheritance tax law of 1905, the character of the transaction is not wholly determined by the terms of the written instrument employed to accomplish the transfer; but parol evidence of the real agreement is permitted with a latitude similar to that indulged to show a resulting trust, or to transform a deed absolute on its face into a mortgage.—Kelly v. Woolsey, 177 Cal. 325, 329, 170 Pac. 837.

56. Same—Possession retained by transferor—Intention to postpone date of transfer.—The mere fact that the transferor remains in possession and enjoyment, by sufferance, or permission, or at the request of the transferee, does not, of necessity, establish an intent or agreement to postpone possession and enjoyment until the transferor's death, where there are circumstances justifying a reasonable inference that there was no such intent.—Kelly v. Woolsey, 177 Cal. 325, 334, 170 Pac. 837.

57. Same—Conveyance in consideration of care and support for life.—Where property is conveyed in consideration of the support of the grantor by the grantee during the life of the former, and the present title is conveyed, and the property passes in possession and enjoyment at the date of the conveyance, no intention to evade, the tax appearing, the transfer is not taxable, even though the deed is not recorded until the grantor's death.—Kelly v. Woolsey, 177 Cal. 325, 328, 170 Pac. 837.

58. Same—Act of 1905 does not inhibit ordinary transfers.—The inheritance tax law of 1905 was not intended to inhibit ordinary transfers, by gift or otherwise, if not made in contemplation of death, or not postponed in enjoyment or possession until the death of the donor or grantor, but only to preclude, so far as possible, an evasion of the inheritance tax, whether fraudulent or not, and to secure to the state its revenue on all transfers which have their occasion in the death of the transferer.—Kelly v. Woolsey, 177 Cal. 325, 328, 170 Pac. 837.

59. Transfer under act of 1913 not taxable as transfer.—The transfer of property under the act of 1913 is not taxable as a transfer but as a transfer in contemplation of death, and is in lieu of transfer at death.—In re Estate of Potter, 61 Cal. Dec. 273.

60. Same—Taxability governed by law in force at the time of transfer.—The question as to the taxability of a transfer is determined by the law in force at its date.—Estate of Blix, 181 Cal. 667, 186 Pac. 135.

61. Same—Same.—The law in force at the time of the transfer controls, as to whether the transfer is taxable and the amount thereof.—Nickel v. State, 179 Cal. 126, 175 Pac. 641.

62. Same—Consideration—Allegation and proof required.—The state must allege and prove that the consideration for the transfer was not valuable or adequate.—Nickel v. State, 179 Cal. 126, 175 Pac. 641.

63. Same—"Contemplation of death"—Question for jury.—The question as to whether the transfer was one made in contemplation of death is one for the jury, in an action to quiet title against the state.—Nickel v. State, 179 Cal. 126, 175 Pac. 641.

64. Computation of tax—Based on value of succession.—The amount of the tax is based on the value of the succession, which is the value of the property to the beneficiary after satisfying lawful charges.—In re Hite's Estate, 159 Cal. 392, Ann. Cas. 1912C, 1014, 32 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1167, 113 Pac. 1072.

65. Same—Same—Value of property lost through misappropriation must be included in computing the amount of the tax.—In re Hite's Estate, 159 Cal. 392, Ann. Cas. 1912C, 1014, 32 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1169, 113 Pac. 1072.

66. Same—Same—Value of property at death of decedent.—The tax is computed on the value at decedent's death, subsequent increase or decrease is immaterial.—In re Hite's Estate, 159 Cal. 392, Ann. Cas. 1912C, 1014, 32 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1167, 113 Pac. 1072.

67. Same—Market value of stock.—Where a gift of corporate stock was to take effect in possession at donor's death, the market value at that date is the proper basis for fixing the tax.—Estate of Felton, 176 Cal. 663, 666, 169 Pac. 392.

68. Same—Stock of family corporation.—The proper way to establish the value of the stock of a family corporation, for purposes of inheritance taxation, is to ascertain the value of the property represented, and assign to each share its proportionate worth.—Estate of Felton, 176 Cal. 663, 668, 169 Pac. 392.

69. Same—"Net clear value."—The inheritance tax act contemplates that the tax should be computed upon the basis of the net clear value of the property.—In re Estate of Miller, 61 Cal. Dec. 19, 90, 195 Pac. 413.

70. Same—Valuation of land.—In fixing the value of land for the determination of the amount of the inheritance tax due thereon the opinions of the witnesses qualified by their knowledge of the subject as competent testimony; but they can not, upon direct examination be allowed to testify as to particular transactions, such as sales of adjoining lands of like quality and location, or for the land in question, or any part of it; but such testimony may be admitted on cross-examination for the purpose of testing the witness' knowledge, and impeaching his opinion.—Estate of Ross, 171 Cal. 64, 66, 151 Pac. 1138.

71. Same—No difference between transfer inter vivos and transfer by death.—For the purpose of computing the tax there is no difference between a transfer inter vivos and a transfer by death.—In re Miller's Estate, 61 Cal. Dec. 19, 90, 195 Pac. 413.

72. Same—Exemption deducted from first $25,000.—In computing the amount of the tax under the act of 1905, the exemption is deducted from the first $25,000.—In re Timken's Estate, 153 Cal. 51, 109 Pac. 608.

See, also, Estate of Ball, 153 Cal. 715, 96 Pac. 366.

73. Same—Law in force at time of death governs.—The law in force at the time of the death of the decedent governs in determining the amount of tax due under the act.—In re Woodard's Estate, 153 Cal. 39, 94 Pac. 242.

74. Same—The amount of the tax is to be determined by the rate established by the act in force at the time the gift in contemplation of death was made, and not by the act in force at death of donor.—Estate of Felton, 176 Cal. 663, 669, 169 Pac. 392.

75. Same—Act of 1905—Gifts—Property inherited—Act of 1913.—Where the tax upon property received by gift is to be computed under the act of 1905, and that upon property inherited, under the act of 1913, the gift and the inheritance must be treated as two separate entities.—Estate of Felton, 176 Cal. 663, 670, 169 Pac. 392.

76. Same—Tax levied by sister state deducted before computation of state tax.—The amount of the inheritance tax levied by the state of Nevada should be deducted in determining the amount of a transfer tax on stock of a Nevada corporation.—In re Miller's Estate, 61 Cal. Dec. 19; 61 Cal. Dec. 90, 195 Pac. 413.

77. Same—Federal tax deducted before computation of state tax.—The federal tax should be deducted in determining the net clear value.—In re Miller's Estate, 61 Cal. Dec. 19; 61 Cal. Dec. 90, 195 Pac. 413.

78. Same—Property taken both by transfer and inheritance—Tax collected as a whole.—Where property is taken both by will and by a previous transfer, the entire amount of the tax under the act of 1913 is to be assessed and collected as a whole.—In re Estate of Porter, 61 Cal. Dec. 273.

79. Collection of tax—Act of 1905—Court's order as to amount of tax conclusive.—When, under the act of 1905, the court has heard and determined the amount of the tax, its order is conclusive, and leaves the state controller no discretion to refuse to seal and countersign a receipt by the county treasurer made pursuant to such order.—Becker v. Nye, 8 Cal. App. 129, 96 Pac. 333.

80. Same—No order for distribution until tax paid.—An order for distribution of the estate should not be made until the production of a receipt showing payment of the tax, whether a method of enforcing the payment of the tax remains under the repealing act of 1905, or not.—In re Lander's Estate, 6 Cal. App. 744, 93 Pac. 202.

81. Procedure to collect tax—Construed and interpreted.—Statutory procedure in the collection of the inheritance tax due from estates in probate construed and interpreted.—Estate of Haskins, 170 Cal. 267, 149 Pac. 576.

82. Same—Same.—The inheritance tax law of 1911 (713) prescribes in detail the procedure required in the matter of estates in probate, and the state controller may insist that this procedure be followed, and on an appeal by that officer from an order settling a final account and distributing an estate, on the ground that there is an inheritance tax due the state and that the statutory procedure has not been followed, the order will be reversed, notwithstanding the amendment of the decree by nunc pro tunc order directing fixing the amount of the inheritance tax and directing its payment.—Estate of Haskins, 170 Cal. 267, 149 Pac. 576.

83. Same—Procedure in invitum—Showing of compliance with statute required.—Proceedings for the collection of a tax are in invitum, and in order to collect the tax the government or other agency seeking to recover must show that all the conditions upon which the obligation to pay rests have been strictly fulfilled.—McDougald v. Boyd, 172 Cal. 753, 756, 159 Pac. 168.

84. Same—Burden of showing non-liability not on heir or transferee.—The statute does not assume to relieve from the payment of a tax otherwise imposed, and there is no question of an exemption, and the rule that the burden is on the claimant to establish his right to an exemption has no application.—McDougald v. Boyd, 172 Cal. 753, 757, 159 Pac. 168.

85. Statute of limitations—Retroactive effect to remove bar of statute—Section 4 of act of 1913, inoperative.—Section 4 of the revised inheritance tax act of 1913 is inoperative to remove the bar of the statute of limitations from actions that were barred at the time it was enacted.—Chambers v. Gallagher, 177 Cal. 704, 707, 171 Pac. 931.

86. Same—Inheritance tax law of 1893 as it stood in 1902.—The statute of limitations was applicable to actions on the liability of executors for inheritance taxes, under the inheritance tax law of 1893, as it stood in 1902.—Chambers v. Gallagher, 177 Cal. 704, 705, 171 Pac. 931.

87. Same—Began to run thirty days after final settlement.—The statute of limitations began to run in favor of an executor upon his liability for inheritance taxes upon the expiration of thirty days from the final settlement of the estate, at all events.—Chambers v. Gallagher, 177 Cal. 704, 171 Pac. 931.

88. Same—Same—Demurrer lies to action after bar has fallen.—A demurrer lies to an application by the district attorney to recover taxes from an executor under the inheritance tax law (Stats. 1893, p. 193) as it stood in 1902; in the same manner and for the same causes as in ordinary civil actions.—Chambers v. Gallagher, 177 Cal. 704, 705, 171 Pac. 931.

89. Appeal—State may appeal as interested party from order of court fixing the amount of the inheritance tax under the act of 1905.—Becker v. Nye, 8 Cal. App. 129, 96 Pac. 333.

90. Same—Amendment of 1897—Appeal taken prior to, must be decided under amendment.—An appeal under the act of 1893 taken before the amendment of 1897, exempting certain classes, but not decided until afterwards, must be decided under the amendment.—In re Stanford's Estate, 126 Cal. 112, 45 L. R. A. 788, 54 Pac. 259, 58 Pac. 462.

91. Illegitimate children—Adopted by father—Not subject to collateral inheritance tax.—Illegitimate children, adopted by their father, are not "collateral heirs," and their inheritances from him are not subject to the tax.—Wirringer v. Morgan, 12 Cal. App. 26, 106 Pac. 425.

92. Children exempt, both natural and adopted.—The collateral inheritance tax act of 1893 excludes from the tax bequests to children, whether natural or adopted.—In re Winchester's Estate, 140 Cal. 468, 74 Pac. 10.

93. Inheritance, succession and collateral inheritance taxes.—As to taxes on succession and collateral inheritances, see notes to In re Howe, 2 L. R. A. 825; Wallace v. Meyers, 4 L. R. A. 171; Com. v. Ferguson, 10 L. R. A. 240; In re Romaine, 12 L. R. A. 401; Magoun v. Illinois, etc., Bank, (U. S.) 42 L. ed. 1037.

Editor's note: Charitable corporations, foreign—Statute imposing inheritance tax upon, as to property received by them by gift, bequest, or devise, constitutional.—*Humphreys v. INHERITANCE TAX—LIEN ENFORCEMENT ACTIONS.

ACT 5093—An act authorizing the bringing of actions on behalf of the state for the purpose of enforcing the lien or liens of taxes under an act entitled “An act to establish a tax on collateral inheritances, bequests, and devises, to provide for its collection, and to direct the disposition of the proceeds,” approved March 23, 1893, and the several acts amendatory thereof; and to authorize the bringing and prosecution of actions against the state, for the purpose of quieting title against claims of liens made by or upon behalf of the state under the said act and the acts amendatory thereof, and to regulate the procedure in such actions.

History: Approved March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 374. This act is probably superseded by later inheritance tax acts, particularly that of 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 880).

Action may be brought to collect by district attorney. Parties defendant.

§ 1. In all cases where any tax has become or shall hereafter become a lien upon any property under or by virtue of any of the provisions of an act entitled “An act to establish a tax on collateral inheritances, bequests and devises, to provide for its collection and to direct the disposition of the proceeds,” approved March 23, 1893, and the several acts amendatory thereof, the district attorney of the county in which the estate of the decedent mentioned in said act and the acts amendatory thereof is being administered or has been administered in probate proceedings, may, whenever any property of said estate has been distributed without the payment to the state of all or any part of the taxes payable on account thereof under said act and the acts amendatory thereof, bring and prosecute an action or actions in the name of the state as plaintiff, for the purpose of enforcing such lien or liens against all or any of the property subject thereto. In any such action the owner of any property or of any interest in property against which the lien of any such tax is sought to be enforced, and any predecessor in interest of any such owner whose title or interest was deraigned through any such decedent by will or succession or by decree of distribution of the estate of such decedent, and any lienor or encumbrancer subsequent to the lien of such tax may be made a party defendant. The enumeration in this section of the persons who may be made defendants shall not be deemed to be exclusive, but the joinder or nonjoinder of parties, except when otherwise herein provided, shall be governed by the rules in equity in similar cases.

Actions to quiet title against state.

§ 2. Actions may be brought against the state for the purpose of quieting the title to any property, against the lien or claim of any tax or taxes under said act of March 23, 1893, and the several acts amendatory thereof, or for the purpose of having it determined that any property is not subject to any lien for taxes under said act and the acts amendatory thereof. In any such action, the plaintiffs may be any administrator or executor of the estate or will of any decedent who has died since the said act of March 23, 1893, went into effect, or who may hereafter die, whether the said estate shall have been fully administered and the estate settled and closed or not, and any heir, legatee or devisee of any such decedent, or trustee of the estate or of any part of the estate of such decedent, or distributee of the estate or of any part of the estate of any such decedent, and any assignee, grantee or successor in interest of any of such persons, and all or any other persons who might be made parties defendant in any action brought under the provisions of section 1 of this act, and notwithstanding that all or any of the persons enumerated in this section shall or may have assigned, granted, conveyed or otherwise parted with all or any interest in or title to the property, or any thereof, involved in any such claim or lien before the commencement of such action. All or any of the persons in this action enumerated may be joined or united as parties plaintiff. The enumeration in this section of the persons who may be made parties shall not be deemed to be exclusive, but the joinder or nonjoinder of parties, except when otherwise herein provided, shall be governed by the rules in equity in similar cases. In all cases any person who might properly be a party plaintiff in any such action who refuses to join as plaintiff may be made a defendant.

Actions, where commenced.

§ 3. All actions under sections 1 and 2 of this act shall be commenced in the superior court of the county in which is situated any part of any real property against which any lien is sought to be enforced, or to which title is sought to be quieted against any lien, or claim of lien; but if in said action no lien against real property is sought to be enforced, the action shall be brought in the superior court of the county which has or which had jurisdiction of the administration of the estate of the decedent mentioned in said sections 1 and 2.

Service of summons.

§ 4. Service of summons in the actions mentioned in section 2 hereof shall be made on the secretary of state and on the district attorney of the county in which the estate of the decedent mentioned in said section is being administered, or has been administered in probate proceedings, and it shall be the duty of said district attorney to defend all such actions.

Procedure and practice.

§ 5. The procedure and practice in all actions brought under this act, except as otherwise provided in this act, shall be governed by the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure in relation to civil actions, so far as the same shall or may be applicable, including all provisions relating to motions for new trials and appeals.

Remedies.

§ 6. The remedies provided in this act shall be in addition to and not exclusive of any remedies provided in the said act of March 23, 1893, and the several acts amendatory thereof.

1. Statute of limitations—Action must be commenced within the three-year period.—The action authorized must be commenced within the three-year period of section 338, subdivision 1, Code of Civil Procedure, after the death of the donor.—Chambers v. Gibson, 178 Cal. 416, 173 Pac. 752.

COUNTY SPECIAL TAX FOR CERTAIN PURPOSES.

ACT 5098—An act empowering boards of supervisors of any of the several counties of the state of California to levy a special tax for the purpose of displaying the products and industries of any county in the state at domestic or foreign expositions, for the purpose of encouraging immigration and increasing trade in the products of the state.

History: Approved March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 589.

Special tax for encouraging immigration.

§ 1. The boards of supervisors of the several counties within the state of California, or any of them, are hereby authorized and empowered to levy a special tax on the taxable property within their respective counties, for the purpose of creating a fund not exceeding ten thousand dollars in any one year in any one county, to be used for collecting, preparing, and maintaining an exhibition of the products and industries of the county at any domestic or foreign exposition, for the purpose of encouraging immigration and increasing trade in the products of the state of California; provided, the total tax levies for such purposes in any one year shall not exceed two cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in the county, according to the assessment-roll.

MUNICIPAL SPECIAL TAX FOR SPECIFIC PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

ACT 5099—An act providing for the levy of a special tax for specific public improvements within municipalities.

History: Became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval, March 15, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 296.

Levy of special tax for specific improvements in municipalities.

§ 1. Whenever it shall be determined by the legislative body of any municipality within the state of California that the public interest of such municipality demands the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement, including bridges, waterworks, water rights, sewers, light or power works or plants, buildings for municipal uses, fire apparatus and street work, or other works, property or structures necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes and powers of the municipality, the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the revenues of the municipality to be received during the fiscal year, or years, in which such improvement is proposed to be made, a special tax, not to exceed the sum of fifty cents on each one hundred dollars, may be levied on the property assessed for purposes of taxation within said municipality, which said rate of taxation may be in addition to the annual rate of taxation allowed by law to be levied therein.

Proposition must be submitted to vote.

§ 2. Before said tax shall be levied by the legislative body of a municipality, the question of the levy of such tax shall be submitted to the voters of the municipality at any general or special municipal election, or at a special election to be held for that purpose, and if two-thirds of the votes cast upon the proposition of levying such tax shall be in favor of the levy thereof, then the levy shall be made; otherwise, the tax shall not be levied. Upon the ballots used at such election, the proposition to be voted for shall be stated in appropriate words and the same arranged so that the voter may indicate his choice upon the proposition. If a special election is held, the same shall be held and conducted as are other elections within the municipality.

Legislative body to adopt ordinance. What ordinance to contain.

§ 3. At least two weeks before such election is held the legislative body of the municipality shall adopt an ordinance calling and providing for the same, wherein it shall be stated:

1. The nature of the proposed improvement for the cost of which the special tax shall be levied;
2. The total amount of money to be raised for such improvement;
3. The annual rate of taxation to be levied.

Levy of special tax.

§ 4. At the time fixed by law for the levying of taxes within the municipality, the legislative body thereof shall include the special tax herein provided for, which shall be the rate specified in the ordinance calling said election, nor shall it be levied for a longer period of years than shall be sufficient to raise the amount of money specified in said ordinance. The proceeds of said special tax shall be set apart in a special fund and shall only be expended for the purposes of making the improvement stated in said ordinance; provided, that any balance remaining after said improvement shall have been fully completed and paid for may be transferred to the general fund of the municipality.

Does not repeal what acts.

§ 5. This act shall not be deemed to repeal, conflict with or modify any provision of any statute of this state concerning the incurring of a bonded indebtedness of municipalities for public improvements.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

ACT 5100—An act to provide for the levy and collection of taxes by and for the use of municipal corporations and cities incorporated under the laws of the state of California, except municipal corporations of the first class, and to provide for the consolidation and abolition of certain municipal offices, and to provide that their duties may be performed by certain officers of the county, and fixing the compensation to be allowed for such county officers for the services so rendered to such municipal corporations.

History: Approved March 27, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 219. Amended March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 429; May 13, 1913, in effect August 10, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 441; April 30, 1919, in effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, pp. 160, 187. Prior act of March 2, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 22, was probably superseded, if not repealed by the present act.

Levy and collection of city tax by county officials permitted. To fix amount to be raised.

§ 1. Any municipal corporation or city in this state, except municipal corporations of the first class, shall have power to elect, by ordinance adopted by the board of trustees, common council, or other legislative body, or the electors, of such city or municipal corporation, that the duties of assessing property and collecting taxes provided by law to be performed by the assessor and the tax collector of such city or municipal corporation shall be performed by the county assessor and the county tax collector of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated. A certified copy of such ordinance shall be filed with the auditor of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated on or before the first Monday in the month of February immediately following the adoption of such ordinance, and thereafter all assessments made by the county assessor, as the same may be equalized or corrected by the board of supervisors or state board of equalization, shall be used as a basis for the levy of the taxes of such city or municipal corporation, and said taxes shall be collected by the assessor and tax collector of such county at the same time and in the manner county taxes are collected, until such city or municipal corporation shall by ordinance elect not to have such duties performed by said assessor and tax collector for any longer time. Whenever any city or municipal corporation shall elect to avail itself of the provisions of this act relative to assessments and collection of taxes, the board of trustees, common council or other legislative body of such city or municipal corporation shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, before making the levy provided to be made by section 4 hereof, to fix by ordinance the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation upon the taxable property therein as a revenue to carry on the various departments of such municipal corporation or city for the current year, not to exceed the limit fixed by law, and to pay the bonded or other indebtedness of such municipal corporation or city, or any portion or district thereof; and, whenever, in any municipal corporation or city electing to avail itself of the provisions of this act, relative to assessment and collection of taxes, there is any district or portion of said municipal corporation or city in which there must be levied a rate of taxation different from the rate to be levied in any other district or portion of such municipal corporation or city, the board of trustees, common council, or other legislative body of such municipal corporation or city shall cause to be filed on or before the 1st Monday of July of each year with the county auditor of the county in which such municipal corporation or city is situated, a description of the exterior boundaries of each district or portion of such municipal corporation or city in which there must be levied a rate different from the rate to be levied in any other district or portion of such municipal corporation or city, and the said county auditor shall transmit to the said board of trustees, common council or other legislative body, at the same time that he shall transmit a statement in writing of the total assessed valuation of all property within said municipal corporation or city, as required by section 3 hereof, a statement in writing showing separately the total assessed valuation of all property in each of said districts or portions of such municipal corporation or city. [Amendment approved May 31, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 441. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Duties of city treasurer may be performed by county treasurer.

§ 2. The board of trustees, common council, or other legislative body of any municipal corporation or city in this state, except municipal corporations of the first class, shall have power to elect that the duties of the city treasurer of such city or municipal corporation, shall be performed by the county treasurer of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated; and whenever such board of trustees, common council or other legislative body shall by ordinance so determine such duties shall be performed by the treasurer of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated. Certified copies of such ordinance shall be served on the auditor, tax collector, and treasurer of such county, and such ordinance shall also prescribe the manner in which money shall be drawn out of the various funds belonging to said city or municipal corporation, in the hands of the treasurer. [Amendment of April 30, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 161.]

County auditor to render statement of value of all property.

§ 3. The county auditor must, on or before the second Monday in August of each year, transmit to the board of trustees, common council, or other legislative body of such municipal corporation or city within such county, a statement in writing, showing the total value of all property within each municipal corporation or city, respectively, which value shall be ascertained from the assessment-books of such county for such year, as equalized and corrected by the board of supervisors of such county.

Rates fixed each year.

§ 4. Each board of trustees, common council, or other legislative body of such city or municipal corporation, shall, not later than the last Tuesday in August of each year, fix the rate of taxes, or rates of taxes, if different portions or districts require different rates, designated in the number of cents upon each one hundred dollars, using as a basis the value of the property as assessed by the county assessor as the same may be equalized, and so returned to such board by the county auditor as required by section three of this act, which rate, or rates, of taxation shall be sufficient to raise the amount so fixed by such board as required by section one of this act, and the expense of collection, which acts by said board are declared to be a valid assessment of such property and a valid levy of such rates so fixed. Such city or municipal board must immediately thereafter transmit to the county auditor of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated a statement of such rate or rates so fixed by said body. [Amendment approved May 31, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 443. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Auditor to compute taxes to be paid. Collection and payment to treasurer.

§ 5. The auditor must then compute and enter in a separate column in the assessment-book, to be headed "City Tax, City of" (naming it), the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as a municipal or city tax on the property therein enumerated and assessed as being in any municipal corporation or city, using the rate of levy so fixed by such municipal board, and the assessed value as found in such assessment-book. Such taxes so levied shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as state and county taxes; and when collected the net amount as ascertained by sections 6 and 7 of this act shall be paid to the treasurer of the municipal corporation or city to which it respectively belongs; under the general requirements and penalties provided by law for the settlement of other taxes; provided, however, that when such city has by ordinance, a certified copy of which has been served upon the tax collector of such county, elected to avail itself of the provisions of section 2 of this act, then such tax-collector shall pay the money belonging to such city or municipal corporation over to the treasurer of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated.

Duty of auditor and tax collector relating to levy and collection of tax.

§ 6. The county auditor and county tax collector shall file with the board of supervisors itemized statements showing the additional expense to their offices of assessing and collecting these local taxes, and upon the filing of such statements the board of supervisors shall, by an order spread upon the minutes, deduct such expenses from the taxes of such municipal corporation or city, while in the hands of the county tax collector, and transfer the same into the county salary fund; provided, that not more than one per cent shall be charged for collecting the first twenty-five thousand dollars so collected, and one-fourth of one per cent for all sums over that amount.

Amended 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 429.

Additional expenses, how paid.

§ 7. Whenever the board of trustees, common council, or other legislative body of any municipal corporation or city in this state has elected to avail itself of the provisions of section 2 of this act, the board of supervisors of such county shall also reserve as and for the expenses of the county treasurer, incurred by reason of the imposing of these duties upon him, the sum of one-fourth of one per cent, which sum shall be deducted from the money collected by the county tax collector, and covered in to the county treasurer into the county salary fund.

Duties of assessor and collector transferred. Offices abolished.

§ 8. Whenever any municipal corporation or city shall have availed itself of the provisions of this act relative to assessments and collection of taxes, all duties other than the assessing of the property of such city or municipal corporation theretofore performed by the city assessor shall be transferred to, and be performed by, the clerk of such city or municipal corporation, or such other officer as such city or municipal corporation by ordinance shall determine, and all duties other than the collection of taxes theretofore performed by the city tax collector shall be transferred to, and be performed by, the city marshal or chief of police of such city or municipal corporation, or such other officer as such city or municipal corporation shall by ordinance determine; and thereafter the offices of city assessor and tax collector may by ordinance be abolished. And whenever any city or municipal corporation shall have availed itself of the provisions of section 2 of this act the office of city treasurer may be by ordinance abolished. [Amendment approved May 31, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 443. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Redemption of property through county auditor.

§ 8a. Whenever any municipal corporation elects or has heretofore elected to avail itself of the provisions of this act relating to the assessing and collecting by the county of taxes for such municipal corporation, redemption of property which after such election has been made has been sold to such municipal corporation on account of non-payment of taxes shall be effected through the office of the county auditor. [New section added April 30, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 187.]

Collection of unpaid taxes.

§ 9. The collection of unpaid taxes levied on any property by any city or municipal corporation that shall have elected to avail itself of the provisions of this act relative to assessments and collection of taxes, shall be enforced by the sale of such property in the same manner and at the same time, and upon the same penalties, as property sold for non-payment of county taxes, and real property so sold may be redeemed within the same time and upon the same terms as property sold for the non-payment of county taxes; and whenever any real property situate in such city or municipal corporation has been sold for taxes and has been redeemed, the money paid for such redemption shall be apportioned by the county auditor to such city or municipal corporation in the proportion which the tax due such city or municipal corporation bears to the total tax for which such real property was sold. [Amendment approved May 31, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 443. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Consolidation of offices with counties under charter.

§ 9a. Any county organized under a charter for its own government, framed under the provisions of section seven and one-half of article XI of the constitution of the state of California; or any city or town situated within said county, organized or incorporated under the provisions of section six of said article; or any city or town situated within said county heretofore or hereafter organized by charter authorized by section eight of said article shall have the power to prescribe, whenever such county charter so provides and the said county consents thereto, such other consolidation of county and municipal officers and the assumption and discharge of such functions thereof, as may be consistent with, and subject to said constitution. [New section approved May 31, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 444. In effect August 10, 1913.]

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 10. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this acts are hereby repealed.

§ 11. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Intent of act—Sale for delinquent tax valid.—The clear intent of the act was to provide for the collection of municipal taxes by the use of the usual tax collecting machinery of the Political Code, and hence a sale for delinquent taxes under the act is valid.—Griggs v. Hartzoke, 13 Cal. App. 429, 109 Pac. 1104.

2. Same—Not to provide for merging city with county business.—It was not the intention of the act to provide for the merging of the city and county business, but merely to make the county officers ex-officio officers of the city for the purposes of the act.—Madary v. Fresno, 20 Cal. App. 91, 128 Pac. 340.

3. Same—Change of valuation by state board of equalization.—When a city has elected to come under the act, but has not elected, under section 3671, to take as a basis the assessment as equalized by the state board, and the rate is fixed by the board of trustees in the manner prescribed by the act, a subsequent charge by the state board of equalization by increasing the valuation, did not authorize a corresponding increase by the city.—Madary v. Fresno, 20 Cal. App. 91, 128 Pac. 340.

REASSESSMENT AND EQUALIZATION ACT OF 1893.

ACT 5102—An act in relation to reassessment of property, the equalization of the same, and the collection of taxes thereon, in cases where a former assessment made since eighteen hundred and seventy-nine is illegal or invalid, or where the proceedings for the collection of such taxes have been ineffectual by reason of error, irregularity, or invalidity, and such taxes have not been paid.

History: Approved March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 290.

Reassessment in certain cases. How made. Entered on rolls. Rates of taxation.

§ 1. Every assessment of property made after the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine which is invalid, or may hereafter be adjudged to be, by reason of any illegality, invalidity, or irregularity declared or existing, in the assessment of such property, or in the mode provided for the assessment thereof, shall be remade, and the property reassessed and equalized for each year for which such assessment is invalid as aforesaid, and for the year for which the assessment of such property was invalid as aforesaid, and such reassessment and equalization shall be made by the same officers and boards at the same time or times, as are now prescribed by law for the assessment and equalization of property, of the same classes or kinds as the property which hereby is required to be reassessed. The assessment and equalized assessment of such property shall be entered on the several assessment-rolls or books in the same manner that assessments of such property are or were required by law to be entered for the year or years during which such reassessments shall be made. And there is hereby levied for state purposes the same rates of taxation for each of such respective years as were heretofore levied upon such property for each of said years for said state purposes.

Tax rates for respective years.

§ 2. All taxes for counties, cities and counties, and other taxing districts, shall be levied by the proper board or boards upon the property mentioned in the first section of this act, at the same rates for each respective year as were levied upon property for each of said years after the year eighteen hundred and seventy-nine.

Equalization of reassessments. Who to collect. Delinquency credits.

§ 3. All property authorized to be reassessed by this act shall be reassessed and equalized by the proper officers and boards at the value to which and to the person or corporation to whom or to which such property ought, for each of such years, to have been assessed, under such rules of notice and at the times and in the modes as are prescribed for the assessment and equalization of like classes of property; and the assessment and equalization thereof, and the levy and collection of taxes thereunder, shall be made by the proper officers at the time, upon like notice and in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for making assessments and equalizing the same and for the levy and collection of taxes on like classes of property; and if the taxes so relieved shall become delinquent, there shall be added thereto and the amount thereof the same percentage as a penalty for such delinquency, as is added to other delinquent taxes on like classes of property, and such delinquent taxes and penalties added thereto shall be collected by the proper officers in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for the collection of delinquent taxes and penalties upon like classes of property; the collectors of such taxes to allow as credits thereon all payments heretofore made on the tax as first levied.

No limitation for actions.

§ 4. There shall be no limitation or limitations as to the time in which actions for the collections of taxes levied under this act may be commenced, and all the provisions of law now or hereafter provided in respect to the assessments, equalization, levy, and collection of taxes shall, where applicable, apply to reassessments, equalization and relieves and collections of taxes made under the provisions of this act.

Construction of act.

§ 5. This act shall apply to taxes for revenue only, and not to assessments for local improvements or street purposes.

§ 6. This act shall take effect and be in force on and after its passage.

Reassessment of railroad property.—After assessment under sections 3664-3669.—The state board of equalization has no power under this act to reassess the property of a railroad company which has been regularly assessed in accordance with sections 3664-3669, of the Political Code, since such an assessment would not be invalid.—Colusa Co. v. Glenn Co., 124 Cal. 498, 57 Pac. 477.

Riverside, 125 Cal. 495, 498, 58 Pac. 81; Coutts v. Cornell, 147 Cal. 560, 564, 82 Pac. 194; San Diego Realty Co. v. Cornell, 150 Cal. 637, 640, 89 Pac. 603.

COMPENSATION FOR THE COLLECTION OF DELINQUENT TAXES.

ACT 5103—An act authorizing the payment of compensation or commission to persons employed by the state controller and attorney general or by boards of supervisors of the different counties, to collect delinquent state and county taxes, and legalizing all payments made for that purpose.

History: Approved March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 94.

§ 1. That all sums heretofore paid by the state to any person for compensation or commission to persons for collecting delinquent state and county taxes in pursuance of an agreement by such persons with the state controller and attorney general for such collections, and all sums heretofore paid by any board of supervisors out of the county treasury as compensation or commissions for collecting such delinquent taxes in pursuance of an agreement by such persons with such boards of supervisors, are hereby approved and legalized.

§ 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

TAX COMMISSIONS AND FEES ABOLISHED.

ACT 5105—An act to abolish commissions or fees paid by the state for the assessment, equalization, auditing, and collection of ad valorem taxes.

History: Approved March 14, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 102. This act is identical with the act of February 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 5, except as to §§ 2 and 3, which are not in the former act. It is assumed that it was enacted to relieve the doubt, suggested in Yolo v. Colgan, 132 Cal. 265, that the former act was repealed by the county government act of 1893, but it was held in that case that this was not true. In any event the act of 1893, was superseded by the present act.

Fees for collecting ad valorem taxes abolished.

§ 1. All commissions or fees paid by the state to the officers of any county, or city and county, for services rendered in the assessment, equalization, auditing, and collection of ad valorem taxes, are hereby abolished; provided, that this shall not affect the commissions paid to the assessor of the several counties for services rendered in the collection of personal property taxes, as provided by chapter eight of the Political Code, or the mileage allowed to the treasurer of the several counties, or cities and counties, in making settlements with the state, as provided by section three thousand eight hundred and seventy-six of the Political Code.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 2. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

SUITS FOR TAX COMMISSIONS AND FEES PROHIBITED.

ACT 5106—An act to prevent the maintenance against the state or any officer thereof by any county or county officer, of any action or proceeding for the collection or recovery of any money alleged to be due such county or any officer thereof for services rendered in the assessment, equalization, auditing, and collection of ad valorem taxes.

History: Approved February 16, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 9.

Suits in ad valorem tax cases prohibited.

§ 1. No action or proceeding shall hereafter be maintained by any county or county officer against the state or any state officer for the collection or recovery of any money alleged to be due such county or any officer thereof for services rendered in the assessment, equalization, auditing, and collection of ad valorem taxes, and all such actions and proceedings heretofore commenced and now pending, and all such actions or proceedings that may hereafter be instituted, shall be dismissed by the court in which the same may be pending upon its own motion.

Commissions of assessor and mileage of treasurer not affected.

§ 2. Nothing in this act shall be held to affect the commissions paid to the assessor of the several counties for services rendered in the collection of personal property taxes, or the mileage allowed to the treasurer of the several counties or cities and counties in making settlements with the state.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 3. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with any of the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

§ 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

PAYMENT OF TAX COMMISSIONS AND FEES PROHIBITED.

ACT 5107—Prohibiting the payment of money by the state to counties and cities and counties for the collection of taxes.

History: Approved March 4, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 56. This act, with the two acts immediately preceding, Acts 5105, 5106, have the same purpose, and should be considered together.

§ 1. No money shall be paid by the state to any county or city and county of the state on account of any claim based upon the collection of taxes heretofore made by any county or city and county of the state or the officers thereof.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

ASSESSMENT OF ANIMALS PASTURING IN ANOTHER COUNTY.

ACT 5109—An act concerning the assessment of animals.

History: Approved March 30, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 754. Not repealed by the Political Code, respecting the assessment of personal property: Rosasco v. Tuolumne Co., 143 Cal. 430. See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 3637.

Assessment of animals temporarily pasturing in any county.

§ 1. Whenever any person residing in any county of the state, and owning any neat cattle, horses, mules, sheep, or goats therein, shall drive the same from the county where he resides into any other county, for the purpose of temporarily pasturing the same, all such animals shall be assessed in and for the county where such owner resides, although the said animals shall not be at the time of said assessment in said county in which he may so permanently reside; and such owner shall include such animals in his assessment list, and the assessor of the county where such stock are so temporarily grazed shall list the same, with a full description of each kind and the number of the same; and for the purpose of making such list, the assessor shall have power, and it is hereby made his duty, to examine on oath the person or persons owning or having charge of such cattle, horses, mules, sheep, or goats, touching their number, ownership, and to whom and in what county, if any, they have been assessed for taxation. The list made out as aforesaid by the assessor, together with a full statement of the same, shall be signed and sworn to by the person or persons owning or having in charge such stock.

Duties of assessors and treasurers.

§ 2. The assessor shall file a copy of said list of such stock with the county treasurer of his county, and another copy with the treasurer of the county in which the said stock was first listed and assessed for taxation. Upon filing the lists aforesaid, with the sworn statement therein that the stock specified in said lists has been pastured or used in the county mentioned therein during the grazing season, with the treasurer of the county in which it was assessed for taxation, said treasurer shall pay, on the order of the treasurer of the county in which the stock was so pastured or used, one-half of the amount of taxes paid in on the said stock, less the cost of collection.

Repeal of conflicting acts.

§ 3. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act, so far as they are in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

§ 4. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

1. Cattle "temporarily pasturing"—Assessable in home county.—Aside from the provisions of this act, section 3628, Political Code, and section 10, article XIII of the constitution require that cattle "temporarily pasturing" in a county, were not subject to assessment there, but in the county where they were permanently located.—Rosasco v. Tuolumne Co., 143 Cal. 430, 77 Pac. 148.

ASSESSMENT OF MIGRATORY LIVESTOCK.

ACT 5110—An act to regulate the assessment of migratory herds or bands of livestock, and to provide for an equitable distribution of the taxes derived therefrom.

History: Approved March 16, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 376. Supplemented April 1, 1876, Stats. 1875-76, p. 797.

1. Constitutionality—Act held unconstitutional.—The act is unconstitutional.—People ex rel. Long v. Townsend, 56 Cal. 633.

2. Migratory stock—Duty of assessor—Time of removal from county.—It is the duty of the assessor to demand of the owner of migratory stock, when he makes the assessment, as to whether the stock will be removed from the county during the year, and if he fails to do so, the owner is not required to do so, whatever its intentions may be at the time of the assessment, or subsequently, as to such removal.—People ex rel. Murphy v. Shippee, McKee & Co., 53 Cal. 675.

TAX DEEDS VALIDATED.

ACT 5116—An act to legalize, confirm, and validate tax deeds made to the state of California for delinquent taxes, and deeds made to purchasers of property sold under and in pursuance of the provisions of sections 3897 and 3898 of the Political Code.

History: Approved April 15, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 920.

§ 1. That all deeds to the state of California based upon delinquent tax sale since the year 1894 and where the five years allowed by law for redemption of the property had expired, and which said deeds were not executed within the time prescribed by any law of this state, and all deeds to purchasers of property made by tax-collectors under and in pursuance of the provisions of sections three thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven and three thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight of the Political Code, wherein the notice of sale was mailed but not registered as required by law, be, and such deeds hereby are, legalized, confirmed, and validated, and the same shall be construed and operate at all times and upon all occasions in law in the same manner as if such matters and things had been properly performed in the first instance.

Deeds in litigation not affected.

§ 2. This act shall not apply to any tax deed which was or is in litigation at the time this act takes effect.

CERTIFICATES OF SALES AND TAX DEEDS VALIDATED.

ACT 5117—An act to confirm, validate and legalize certificates of tax sales and tax deeds executed to the state of California for property sold and deeded thereto for nonpayment of taxes.

History: Approved February 28, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 63.

§ 1. That all certificates of tax sales and tax deeds made to this state by the county tax collector, which certificates and deeds are based upon the sale of property for nonpayment of taxes, and which certificates and deeds fail to recite the correct date, or any date, when the right of redemption will expire, or had expired, or which certificates recite an incorrect date when the state would be entitled to a deed, be and they are hereby confirmed, validated, and legalized, and the same shall be construed and operate at all times and upon all occasions in law in the same manner as if such matters and things required by law had been recited therein and performed in the first instance; provided, that in all cases five years shall have elapsed between the date of sale of the property to the state for nonpayment of taxes and the date of the execution of such deed.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Constitutionality — Not special or local law.—The act is not a local or special act, and not objectionable to either subdivision 13, or 14, section 25, article IV, of the constitution.—Baird v. Monroe, 150 Cal. 560, 89 Pac. 352.

See, also, Carter v. Osborn, 150 Cal. 620, 89 Pac. 608.

2. Same—Due process—Five-year limitation.—The act is not unconstitutional as in violation of due process of law, in providing that after five years the property owner had no absolute right to redeem.—Baird v. Monroe, 150 Cal. 560, 89 Pac. 352.

See, also, Carter v. Osborn, 150 Cal. 620, 89 Pac. 608.

3. Same—Cured deed previously made.—The act was retroactive in operation and validated a tax deed which recited no date of redemption to the state previously made.—Baird v. Monroe, 150 Cal. 560, 89 Pac. 352.

See, also, Carter v. Osborn, 150 Cal. 620, 89 Pac. 608; Peck v. Fox, 154 Cal. 744, 99 Pac. 189.

4. Retroactive operation—Cure defect as of date of deed.—The act operated retroactively to cure defective proceedings as of the date of the deed.—Schamblin v. Means, 6 Cal. App. 261, 91 Pac. 1020.

5. Error in tax sale certificate cured by act.—Error in a tax sale certificate in fixing the date when the five-year period of redemption would expire was cured by this act.—Bank of Lemoore v. Fulgham, 151 Cal. 234, 90 Pac. 936; Stanton v. Hotchkiss, 157 Cal. 652, 108 Pac. 864.

6. The act was cited in the following cases: Fox v. Townsend, 152 Cal. 51, 91 Pac. 1004; Wetherbee v. Johnston, 10 Cal. App. 264, 101 Pac. 802; Deets v. Hall, 163 Cal. 249, 124 Pac. 1007.

SUITS FOR DELINQUENT PERSONALTY TAXES.

ACT 5118—An act authorizing and providing for suits for the collection of delinquent taxes due upon personal property.

History: Approved March 13, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 130.

Collection of personal property taxes by suit.

§ 1. Each county and city and county may sue in its own name for the recovery of any and all moneys due or hereafter to become due as delinquent taxes upon any and all personal property, where no real property is assessed as security for the payment of such personal property taxes, or where, in the judgment of the board of supervisors, there is not sufficient real property assessed to secure the payment of such personal property taxes, whether the same be for county or city and county, and state purposes, or either of them, and for all penalties due upon said taxes for nonpayment thereof.

Evidence.

§ 2. On the trial of any such suit the assessment-roll of said county or city and county, or a copy of any entry therein duly certified, showing unpaid taxes against the defendant, or, in cases where the defendant is sued in a representative capacity, against any person or estate he represents, shall be prima facie evidence of the plaintiff's right to recover.

Pending actions.

§ 3. All actions now pending for the collection of such taxes may be carried on and prosecuted under the provisions and in accordance with this act.

Conflicting acts repealed.

§ 4. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed, but the method of collecting such taxes herein provided shall not be deemed to be the exclusive method, nor shall the provisions of this act in any manner abrogate or modify the provisions of sections 3831 or 3899 of the Political Code of the state of California.

§ 5. This act shall take effect and be in force immediately from and after its passage.

Recovery of delinquent taxes by suit under former statutes.—Under former statutes for collection of delinquent taxes by suit and recovery of costs, see People v. Latham, 52 Cal. 598, 601; Harper v. Rowe, 53 Cal. 233, 236; People v. Latham, 53 Cal. 386.

FORM OF COMPLAINT IN SUITS FOR DELINQUENT TAXES.

ACT 5119—An act prescribing the form of complaint in actions to recover delinquent taxes, and to authorize the bringing of suits therefor.

History: Approved April 23, 1880, Stats. 1880, p. 136 (Ban. ed., p. 402).

Form of complaint in action for delinquent taxes.

§ 1. In any action that may be hereafter commenced in any county, or city and county, in this state, for the collection of delinquent taxes for any fiscal year, the complaint may be in the following form, and shall be legally sufficient, and on the trial thereof the duplicate assessment-roll for any said fiscal year, of said county, or city or county, or a copy of any entry therein duly certified, showing unpaid taxes against the defendant, or in cases where the defendant is sued in a representative capacity against any person or estate he represents, shall be prima facie evidence of the plaintiff's right to recover:

(Title of court.) (Name of plaintiff) vs. (name of defendant.) Plaintiff avers that defendant is indebted to plaintiff in the sum of $..... (naming the amount for county, or city and county), taxes, with five per cent penalty added thereto for the nonpayment thereof, and interest thereon at the rate of two per cent per month from the (date), and fifty cents costs of advertising. Plaintiff further avers that defendant is indebted to plaintiff in the further sum of $..... (naming amount, for state taxes, with five per cent penalty added thereto for the nonpayment thereof, and interest thereon at the rate of two per cent per month from (date), and fifty cents costs of advertising, which said taxes were duly assessed and levied upon (the real or personal) property of said defendant, to wit: (describe property as assessed), for the fiscal year (naming the year). Wherefore, plaintiff prays judgment against said defendant, for said several sums, with interest and penalty as aforesaid, and costs of suit.

And in any case where the defendant is sued in a representative capacity, such other further or additional allegations as may be necessary to charge him in such capacity; and it is further provided, that any county, or city and county, where such taxes are delinquent, may sue in its own name for the recovery of delinquent taxes, whether the same be for county, or city and county, and state purposes, or taxes, or either of them.

§ 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Editor's note: It is held in San Diego v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 108 Cal. 46, 40 Pac. 1052, that the foregoing act is repealed by section 3670, Political Code, as amended in 1883, so far as relates to actions against railroads by counties or cities and counties.

In San Bernardino v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 137 Cal. 659, 660, 661, 70 Pac. 782, it is said that the act is wholly inconsistent with the Political Code as to collection of taxes upon railroad property.

The form prescribed for the complaint may be sufficient in other actions, where a municipality is authorized to bring actions. But see, also, Los Angeles County v. Ballerino, 99 Cal. 593, 595, 32 Pac. 581, 34 Id. 329; (statute of limitations) Clark v. City

CORPORATION TAX ACT.

ACT 5122—An act to carry into effect the provisions of section 14 of article XIII of the constitution of the state of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations, banks and insurance companies for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation.

History: Approved April 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 530. Amended February 3, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 3; June 12, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 615; January 28, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 3; May 29, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 937. §§ 3664-3671d, new sections added to the Political Code May 11, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 336, as a revision of and a substitute for this act. See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, §§ 3664-3671d.

The act of May 11, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 336, contained the following section:

Substitute act.

§ 38. This act is a revision of and substitute for the act entitled "An act to carry into effect the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations, banks and insurance companies for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation," approved April 1, 1911, and amendments thereof; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall affect any tax heretofore levied or assessed in accordance with the provisions of said act and amendments thereof; and provided, further, that all laws in force prior to the taking effect of this act and providing for the levy and collection of such taxes shall, for the purpose of the collection of such taxes, remain in full force and effect. [Stats. 1917, p. 370.]

ASSESSMENT AND COLLECTION OF TAXES IN FREEHOLDERS' CHARTER MUNICIPALITIES.

ACT 5126—An act to provide for the assessment of property in cities governed under freeholders' charters, framed under the provisions of the constitution of this state, for the municipal taxes of such cities, and for the equalization and correction of such assessment by county officers, for the collection and enforcement of the payment of such taxes, including delinquent taxes, by such officers, for the sale and redemption from sale of property sold for the non-payment of such taxes, and for the performance by county officers of the duties of officers of such cities respecting said matters; and to provide for the compensation to be paid to counties by such cities for the services performed by such county officers for such cities under the provisions of this act.

History: Approved June 6, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 499.

Assessment, collection, etc., of city taxes by county officers authorized.

§ 1. The duties of the officers of any city governed under a freeholders' charter framed, ratified and approved in accordance with the provisions of the constitution of this state, with respect to the assessment of property in such city for the municipal taxes thereof, to the equalization and correction of such assessment, to the collection, payment and enforcement of such taxes, including delinquent taxes, and to the redemption of such property from sale or other penalty for the non-payment of such municipal taxes, shall be performed by officers of the county in which such city is situated, when such performance is required of them as in this act provided.

Duty of county officers to assess, collect, etc., city taxes.

§ 2. Whenever the charter of any city mentioned in section one of this act, or any amendment to such charter, or any ordinance of such city authorized by and adopted under such charter or amendment thereto, shall provide that the duties of the council, or other legislative body, assessor, tax collector or other officers of such city with respect to the assessment of property in such city for the municipal taxes thereof, to the equalization and correction of such assessment, to the collection, payment and enforcement of such taxes, including delinquent taxes, and to the redemption of such property from sale or other penalty for non-payment of the municipal taxes of such city, shall be performed by certain designated officers of the county in which such city is situated, as set forth in such charter, or amendment thereto, or in such ordinance, it shall be the duty of such county officers so designated to perform such duties in accordance with the provisions of this act; provided, however, that the several county officers so designated to perform such duties for such city shall be officers who respectively perform duties of the same character as the officers of such city whose duties are to be performed by such county officers.

Copy of charter, etc., filed with supervisors. Separate list of property in annexed territory. Statement showing separate boundaries.

§ 3. Upon the taking effect of any such charter, charter amendment or ordinance of such city, providing that the duties of the officers of such city with respect to the matters mentioned in section two of this act shall be performed by the officers of the county in which such city is situated, a copy thereof, certified by the city clerk of such city, shall be filed with the board of supervisors of such county, on or before the first Monday in February immediately following the taking effect of such charter, charter amendment or ordinance. The board of supervisors shall thereupon cause notice of such charter, charter amendment or ordinance to be given to the several county officers designated therein, and thereafter the assessment list of all property within such city, as contained in the assessment roll made annually by the county assessor and equalized and corrected by the county board of supervisors, of all property assessed for taxation for county purposes in such county shall be the assessment roll of the property within such city assessed for the purpose of the municipal taxes of such city, and such assessment roll shall be used as the basis for the levy of such municipal taxes. If, subsequent to the incorporation of such city, additional territory has been added thereto, as originally incorporated, either by annexation of new territory thereto, or by the consolidation of other municipal corporations therewith, it shall be the duty of the county assessor in making the assessment of the property in such city, to list separately the property situated within the limits of such city as originally incorporated, and the property situated within the boundaries of each such subsequent addition of territory thereto, and each such separate list shall be so headed and indicated in such assessment roll that all property within the original limits of such city shall appear therein as being so situated, and all property situated within any territory subsequently added thereto by any such annexation or consolidation, shall appear therein as being so situated, and the date of each such addition of territory shall also be specified therein. As soon as practicable after the first Monday in March next succeeding the taking effect of such charter, charter amendment or ordinance, the city clerk of such city shall deliver to the county assessor of such county, a statement in writing showing, separately, the exterior boundaries of said city, as originally incorporated, and the exterior boundaries of each body of new territory subsequently added thereto, as aforesaid, together with the date of each such addition of new territory; and as soon as practicable after the first Monday in March of each succeeding year, a like statement shall be so delivered showing the boundaries of any new territory so added to such city since the delivery of the last preceding statement, together with the date of such addition of new territory.

County auditor's statement of property valuations. Rates. Collection. Weekly payments to city treasurer.

§ 4. The county auditor of the county in which such city is situated must, on or before the second Monday in August of each year, transmit to the council or other legislative body of such city a statement in writing showing the total assessed valuation of all property within such city, which value shall be ascertained from the assessment roll of such county, equalized and corrected by the board of supervisors thereof in the manner provided by law, and showing the total assessed valuation of all property within the limits of such city as originally incorporated, and the total assessed valuation, separately, of all property in each body of new territory so added to such city subsequent to the original incorporation thereof. Upon the delivery to the county auditor, not later than the first day of September, of each year, of a statement, certified by the city clerk of such city, showing the levy, or rate or rates per cent of taxes levied by the council or other legislative body of such city, for all municipal purposes for such year, including amounts required for the payment of interest and sinking funds for the bonded indebtedness of such city, and showing separately, the rate of taxes so levied upon all property within the limits of such city as originally incorporated, and the rate upon all property within the boundaries of each portion of such city added thereto subsequent to the original incorporation thereof as aforesaid, the county auditor must compute and enter in a separate column in the assessment books of the property in such city, for such year, to be headed "City tax, city of," (stating name of city), the several sums in dollars and cents to be paid as a municipal tax on the property therein enumerated and assessed as being in such city, using the rate or rates of levy as fixed by the legislative body thereof, and the assessed value as found in such assessment books. Such taxes so levied shall be collected by the county tax collector, at the same time and in the same manner as the county taxes of such county. On Monday of each week, the county tax collector shall pay to the treasurer of such city, the amount of all taxes so collected by such county tax collector for and on behalf of such city, during the preceding week, after making the deduction therefrom hereinafter specified; and whenever any delinquent city taxes, together with costs and penalties thereon, have been paid to the county treasurer, or whenever any property in such city has been sold for the non-payment of the city taxes thereon, and has been redeemed, the county treasurer shall likewise pay to the treasurer of such city, on Monday of each week, the amount of such delinquent taxes, and all costs and penalties thereon so collected by such county treasurer during the preceding week, and the money collected for any such redemption, after making the deductions therefrom hereinafter specified.

Sale of city property for taxes.

§ 5. Whenever the duties of the officers of any city with respect to the assessment of property therein for the municipal taxes of such city and to the collection of such taxes, are performed by county officers under the provisions of this act, the collection of unpaid municipal taxes of such city, levied on any property by such city, shall be enforced by the sale of such property in the same manner and at the same time, and upon the same penalties, as property sold for non-payment of county taxes, and real property so sold may be redeemed within the same time and upon the same terms as property sold for the non-payment of county taxes; and whenever any real property situate in such city has been sold for taxes and has been redeemed, the money paid for such redemption shall be apportioned by the county auditor to, and shall be paid to, such city in the proportion which the tax due such city bears to the total tax for which such real property was sold; provided, however, that upon the taking effect of any charter, charter amendment, or ordinance to the effect mentioned in section two of this act, all taxes of such city that shall have been levied prior thereto, including delinquent taxes, shall be collected, the payment thereof enforced in the same manner and upon the same penalties, and property may be sold for the non-payment thereof and may be redeemed from such sale in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided by the laws in force in said city at the time of the taking effect of such charter, charter amendment or ordinance; and such officers of such city as may be provided under the charter or ordinance thereof, shall collect and enforce the payment of such taxes, including delinquent taxes, and do any and all things that may be necessary in the sale of property for the non-payment of such taxes and in the redemption thereof from such sale.

Repeal of ordinance.

§ 6. Whenever any charter provision, or any ordinance of the character mentioned in section two of this act shall be repealed, the duties authorized by such charter provision or ordinance so repealed to be performed by officers of the county in which such city is situated, shall thereupon cease to be performed by such officers; provided, however, that upon such repeal, all taxes of said city that shall have been levied prior thereto, including delinquent taxes, shall, as in this act provided, be collected, the payment thereof enforced in the same manner and upon the same penalties, and property may be sold for the non-payment thereof and may be redeemed from such sale, in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided by laws applicable to the collection and enforcement of the payment of county taxes, including delinquent taxes, and to the sale and redemption from sale of property sold for the non-payment of county taxes; and the officers of such county shall have all the powers and perform all the duties relative thereto as may be provided by law in the case of county taxes and the sale and redemption from sale of property for the non-payment thereof.

Compensation of county. Limit.

§ 7. The amount of compensation to be charged by and paid to any county for the performance of services contemplated by the provisions of this act, for and on behalf of any city in such county, shall be fixed by agreement between the board of supervisors of such county and the legislative body of such city; provided, however, that such compensation shall in no event exceed one-half of one per cent of all moneys collected for such city as in this act provided. The board of supervisors shall, by an order spread upon its minutes, direct that the county tax collector and the county treasurer shall deduct from all taxes or moneys in their hands, collected for or on behalf of such city, and before the payment thereof to the treasurer of such city as in this act provided, the percentage thereof to be charged by such county for the services mentioned in this act, and such percentage so deducted shall be paid into or transferred to such fund of the county and in such manner as the board of supervisors shall direct.

Act provides alternative method.

§ 8. This act shall in no wise affect any other act or acts providing that duties of officers of cities may be performed by county officers; and if any such act or acts provide for or apply to the performance by county officers of the duties of officers of cities governed under freeholders' charters, this act is intended to, and does provide an alternative method by which the duties of the officers of any such city with respect to the matters mentioned in section two of this act may be performed by officers of the county in which such city is situated.

TAX COMMISSION ACT OF 1915.

ACT 5128—An act authorizing and providing for an investigation and report upon the matter of revenue and taxation, and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved May 10, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 432. Amended May 10, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 301. Prior act of March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 390, and the appropriation acts of March 13, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 245, and March 25, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 779, for a similar purpose are assumed to have been superseded by the present act or to have expired or become obsolete by reason of the accomplishment of their purpose, or by failure of the legislature to continue the appropriations.

Appropriation, investigation, revenue and taxation.

§ 1. The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be used at the direction of the governor for the purpose of investigating and reporting upon the matter of revenue and taxation as set forth hereinafter.

Governor may appoint experts to investigate systems. Report of findings. Relative burden of general property and corporation property. Loss of revenue to counties.

§ 2. The governor may direct any state officer, or appoint or authorize the employment of any expert or other assistants as may be necessary, to investigate the systems of revenue and taxation in force in this and other states, and particularly to examine into any and all matters appertaining to the subjects of revenue and taxation in this state. The findings and conclusions of such investigations and recommendations as to necessary changes in the existing systems in this state shall be reported to the legislature at its session in January, 1917. There shall also be made a special investigation and report upon the matter of the relative burden of taxes borne by general property values and corporation property values taxed directly by the state under the existing system of taxation. There shall also be made a special investigation and report upon the matter of reimbursements to counties which sustain loss of revenue by the withdrawal of railroad property under the provisions of section fourteen of article XIII of the constitution; said investigation to be pursued with the object of ascertaining and determining what legal and equitable adjustment, if any, should be made in the settlement of such losses, as provided by law, and whether other losses have accrued under the provisions of said section fourteen of article XIII of the constitution.

Powers of investigators.

§ 3. Such officers or appointees provided for in section two of this act are hereby authorized and empowered, at the direction of the governor:

(1) To do any and all things necessary to make a full and complete investigation in accordance with this act.

(2) To require the attendance of persons and the production of papers before them or any one thereof and to take testimony under oath and administer oaths in the same manner that any court in this state may.

(3) To require reports from all state, county and municipal officers as to matters of revenue and taxation appertaining to their respective offices, and to examine the records and papers of any such official as to any matter of revenue and taxation.

Duty of state, county, city officers to report.

§ 4. It is hereby made the duty of any officer referred to in subdivision three of section three of this act to promptly make report when requested so to do and any such officer who shall fail or refuse to make such report promptly shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Duties of tax commission.

§ 5. The officers and appointees provided for in section two of this act shall perform such duties as the governor may deem necessary to further the objects of senate joint resolution number three, adopted by the legislature January 26, 1917, and chapter number thirty-two of the laws of one thousand nine hundred seventeen. [New section added May 10, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 301.]

VALIDATION OF ASSESSMENTS.

ACT 5129—An act to confirm, validate and legalize assessments of property and taxes due thereunder entered and contained in assessment books or rolls from which assessment books or rolls the clerk of the board of supervisors and auditor omitted to attach and enter the affidavit or certificate, or both such certificate and affidavit, required by the provisions of sections three thousand six hundred eighty-two and three thousand seven hundred thirty-two of the Political Code, and to confirm, validate and legalize all sales, certificates of sale, tax deeds, or other tax conveyances issued under and based upon any such assessments and taxes.

History: Approved April 1, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 23.

Defective tax assessments validated.

§ 1. All assessments of property heretofore duly and legally assessed, entered, and contained in any assessment book or roll of any county, which said assessment book or roll is defective by reason of the omission of the clerk of the board of supervisors and the county auditor, or either or both of them, to attach and affix to said assessment book or roll the affidavit or certificate, or both such affidavit and certificate, required by the provisions of section three thousand six hundred eighty-two and three thousand seven hundred thirty-two of the Political Code, and any and all taxes duly levied and extended upon the assessment of any property so entered and contained in any such assessment book or roll, and any sale, certificate of tax sale, tax deed, or other tax conveyance duly given and issued based upon any assessment, or tax or tax delinquency entered and contained in any such assessment book or roll, are hereby confirmed, validated and legalized, and the same shall be construed and operate at all times and upon all occasions in law in the same manner as if such matters and things required by law had been properly performed, attached and affixed in the first instance.

§ 2. This act shall not apply to any assessment, tax, tax deed, or other tax conveyance which was or is in litigation at the time this act takes effect.

DESTRUCTION BY FIRE OF CERTAIN REPORTS AND DOCUMENTS AUTHORIZED.

ACT 5130—An act authorizing the state board of equalization to destroy by fire certain reports and other documents.

History: Approved April 13, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 64.

Tax rolls destroyed after four years.

§ 1. All reports for state taxation, including copies of operative assessment rolls of the several cities, counties, and cities and counties, made to and filed with the state board of equalization under the provisions of an act entitled "an act to carry into effect the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations, banks and insurance companies, for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation," approved April 1, 1911, or under the provisions of any act amendatory of said act, shall be retained and kept on file by said board for a period of four years from the time of the receipt thereof, and after the elapse of said period may be destroyed by fire.

DUPLICATE AND EXCESS PAYMENTS OF TAXES.

ACT 5131—An act to provide for the payment into the county treasury of any moneys now held by county tax collectors which represent duplicate or excess payments of taxes on property in their respective counties, and to provide for the distribution and repayment of such moneys when so paid, and to provide for the payment, repayment and distribution of any duplicate or excess collections which may be made hereafter.

History: Approved April 12, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 116.

County tax collector to pay excess taxes to treasurer.

§ 1. It shall be the duty of every county tax collector, within thirty days after this act takes effect, to pay into the treasury of his county any moneys which said tax collector may have on hand, representing duplicate or excess payments of taxes on property within his county, including such as may have been collected during a previous term or terms, as well as during his present term of office. If the records of the tax collector show the fact, there shall be filed with the county auditor at the time of such payment a description of each piece of property for which such duplicate tax payments were collected and the amount of the tax collected for each such piece of property in excess of the tax regularly levied and collected on such property in any one year.

Recovery of excess payments. Allowance of claim.

§ 2. Within five years from the time of such payment into the county treasury by the tax collector, any person holding a tax receipt showing the payment to a county tax collector of taxes in any one year on any given property in the county in excess of the taxes which have been regularly levied and collected upon said property for said year, may recover the excess over and above the tax regularly levied and collected on such property for such year, by filing with the board of supervisors a claim therefor, and surrendering with such claim the tax receipt for such excess payment. If the duplicate payment of taxes in excess of the regularly levied taxes shall have been paid by different persons, the party first filing such claim and receipt for the excess payment, shall be entitled to the refund. If, upon examination by the board of supervisors, it is found that such claim has been filed within the five years and represents a payment in excess of the taxes regularly levied and collected for any given piece of property in the county for any given year and the amount thereof has been paid into the county treasury by the tax collector as aforesaid, the board of supervisors shall allow the said claim for the excess payment to the person entitled thereto.

Moneys credited to general fund.

§ 3. All moneys paid to the county treasurer by the county tax collector as herein provided, shall be placed to the credit of the general fund of the county.

Duty of tax collector.

Whenever any duplicate or excess payment of taxes is made hereafter, it shall be the duty of the tax collector to retain same for thirty days and if not refunded as hereinafter provided to pay the same into the county treasury on the first Monday of each month thereafter, and at the same time file with the county auditor a description of the property upon which said taxes have been collected, the excess amount collected for each piece so described and the name of the person to whom the property is assessed at the time such excess payment is made. Such duplicate or excess payment of taxes shall be placed to the credit of the general fund of the county and within five years the party making the same, or in the event the payments are made by different parties, the party first filing his claim therefor in the manner and form hereinbefore provided, may secure a refund of such duplicate or excess payment; provided, however, that during such thirty day period, the tax collector may adjust any mistakes in the payment of taxes by returning to the party or parties, making such duplicate or excess payments the amount thereof.

Suit by district attorney.

§ 5. If any tax collector shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this act, the district attorney of the county is hereby authorized to begin suit against the county tax collector to recover any sums in the possession of said county tax collector representing said duplicate or excess payment of taxes, and the statute of limitations shall not be a defense to the maintenance of any such action.

DAILY PAYMENT OF EXCESS TAXES AUTHORIZED—REFUNDING OF SUCH PAYMENTS.

ACT 5132—An act permitting daily payment into the county treasury of duplicate or excess payments of taxes made to the tax collector and providing for the refund of such payments.

History: Approved May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 248.

Daily payments of excess taxes.

§ 1. The county tax collector, notwithstanding the provisions of any other statute enacted at the forty-second session of the legislature of this state, may pay daily into the county treasury under the provisions of section four thousand one hundred one a of the Political Code all duplicate or excess payments of taxes hereafter made to him on property within the county; and all such duplicate and excess payments so paid into the county treasury shall be subject to refund under the provisions of section three thousand eight hundred four of the Political Code.

History: Approved May 31, 1917. In effect September 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1473. Prior acts on same subject: (1) Act approved April 16, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 948, which was repealed by (2) act of April 10, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 860. Entire act amended June 13, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 737, and again, May 29, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 952; and repealed by the present act.

Title.

§ 1. This act shall be known as the "state tenement house act" and its provisions shall apply to all parts of the state of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties.

Duty of building department.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of tenement houses and to issue the certificate of "final completion" hereinafter provided.

Duty of housing department.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" or if there is no housing department the health department of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of tenement houses after said tenement houses have been erected, constructed, or altered, as the case may be, and the certificate of "final completion" has been issued by the building department, and to issue the "permit of occupancy" as hereinafter provided.

In case no such departments.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department or health department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act.

Enforcement.

In every county it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or of the maintenance, sanitation, occupancy and ventilation of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said county, to enforce all of the provisions of this act outside of the limits of any incorporated town or incorporated city.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the state of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

Powers of commission of immigration and housing.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or arrangement of tenement houses in all incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, and counties in the state of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

Unlawful to construct tenement house contrary to act.

§ 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any tenement house or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any tenement house or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, yards or courts which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any tenement house or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Alterations.

§ 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes, or reconstruction work of any kind whatsoever, to any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any tenement house hereafter erected, or to increase the height or the percentage of the lot occupied, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act, or in any manner to diminish the size of the yards, courts or shafts or the size of windows or skylights, or to remove any stairway or fire escape, or to obstruct the egress from such building or from the hallways or stairways, or to do anything that would affect the ventilation and sanitation of the building, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Building converted to use as tenement house.

§ 5. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a tenement house at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected.

Building moved.

A building used as a tenement house at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to the percentage of lot occupied and the size of outer courts, inner courts bounded by a lot line, and yards.

Building reconstructed.

It shall be unlawful to reconstruct any tenement house which is hereafter damaged by fire or the elements to an extent in excess of fifty-one (51) per cent of its physical proportions, unless the said building is made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected.

Penalty for violation.

§ 6. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition to the penalty therefor, shall be liable for all costs, expense and disbursements paid or incurred by the department, by any of the officers thereof, or by any agent, employee or contractor of same, in the prosecution of such violation. The costs, expense and disbursements by this section provided shall be fixed by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

Procedure.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of tenement houses or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a tenement house or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

Permit to erect tenement house. Application.

§ 7. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to commence or to proceed with the erection, construction, reconstruction, conversion, or alteration of a tenement house, or to move or to build upon a tenement house, or to convert a building or any portion thereof into use as a tenement house, without first obtaining a permit in writing so to do from the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such a permit shall file an application therefor with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said application shall give a detailed statement in writing, verified under oath by the person making the same, of the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion or alteration, as the case may be, upon blanks or forms to be furnished by the said department. The said application must be accompanied with a full, true and complete set of the plans of the tenement house or alteration, or work proposed, as the case may be, together with a set of specifications describing the materials proposed to enter into the construction of the proposed work, also a plan of the lot on which such building is proposed to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, converted, altered, or moved, as the case may be. Such statement shall give in full the name and address by street and number of the owner or owners, also the name and address of the architect and of the contractor, if there be such an architect or contractor; also shall give such other data and information as in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act is deemed necessary.

Affidavit. Permit issued. Revocation.

The affidavit to said application shall allege that the plans and specifications are true and contain a correct description of the proposed tenement house, lot and proposed work. If any person other than the owner makes such affidavit, such person shall not be recognized except that he allege in his affidavit that he is authorized and empowered by the said owner to act for him and to sign the required affidavit. Said department charged with the enforcement of this act shall cause all such plans, specifications and statements to be examined, and if it appears that they conform to the provisions of this act, shall then issue a permit to the person submitting the same. Said department may, from time to time, approve changes in any plans, specifications or statements previously approved by it; provided, that all changes when so made shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act. Said department shall have the power to revoke or cancel any permit or approval that it has previously issued in case of any refusal, failure or neglect of the person to whom such permit or approval has been issued to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or in case any false statement or misrepresentation is made in any of the said plans, specifications or statements submitted or filed for such permit or approval. The erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or conversion of any such tenement house, as the case may be, shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and statements submitted or filed and for which the permit is issued.

Plans kept on premises.

A true copy of the plans, specifications and other information submitted or filed, upon which a permit is issued, with the approval of the department with which they are filed, stamped or written thereon shall be kept upon the premises of the tenement house or work for which the said permit is issued, from the commencement of the said building or work to the final completion of same, and shall be subject to inspection at all times by proper authorities.

Permit for nominal alterations.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act may, at its discretion, issue a permit in case of nominal alterations or repairs, when application is made therefor, in writing, by the owner or his agent, when the making of said nominal alterations and repairs do not affect any structural feature or the sanitation or the ventilation of the tenement house, without requiring the filing of plans or specifications.

The issuance or granting of a permit or approval by the department charged with the enforcement of this act under the authority of this section shall not be deemed or construed to be a permit or an approval of the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Expiration of permit.

Every permit or approval which is issued by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, but under which no work has been done within ninety days from the date of issuance, or where work has been suspended for a period of ninety days, shall expire by limitation and a new permit shall be obtained before the work may be done.

“Certificate of final completion” and “permit of occupancy.”

§ 8. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to occupy or to permit to be occupied, any tenement house hereafter erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, converted or moved, as the case may be, or any portion thereof, for human habitation until the issuance of a “certificate of final completion” and a “permit of occupancy” by the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act.

It shall also be unlawful to occupy any existing tenement house until a permit of occupancy has been issued by the department designated to issue such permit.

Renewal of permit of occupancy.

Every permit of occupancy shall be renewed each calendar year by the department designated to issue the said permit; provided, that no structural alterations or changes have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion; and provided, that all other provisions of this act have been complied with.

Certificate issued.

Any person desiring a certificate shall file a notice with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said department shall cause an inspection to be made of the said tenement house or portion thereof, or work described in the said notice, within ten days after written application therefor, and shall issue a “certificate of final completion” if it is found that all the provisions of this act, regulating the erection, construction, alteration or moving, as the case may be, have been complied with.

Permit issued.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act and designated to issue the permit of occupancy shall issue the said “permit of occupancy” upon application, in writing, therefor by the owner or his agent, and upon the filing by the owner or his agent of such statements or records required by the department, after the “certificate of final completion” has been issued; provided, that no violations have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion, or, in the case of a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, and for which no certificate of final completion has been issued, then after the said department has caused an inspection to have been made of the said tenement house and has found that all of the provisions of this act applying to such tenement house have been complied with.

All permits and certificates shall be made in duplicate and a copy shall remain on file in the department issuing them.

Tenement house occupied without permit nuisance.

Any tenement house hereafter erected, altered, converted or moved, which is occupied, or any portion thereof which is occupied for human habitation, prior to a “certificate of final completion” or a “permit of occupancy,” being issued, shall be deemed a nuisance, and the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act may cause it to be vacated until the said certificate of completion and permit of occupancy have been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Power to enter tenement house.

§ 9. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments, may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, cities and counties, or counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses, or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act.

Definitions.

§ 10. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building department," "housing department," "health department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," "fire commissioner," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county," as the case may be, in which the tenement house is situated.

"Apartment" is a room or suite of rooms which is occupied, or is intended or designed to be occupied by one family for living and sleeping purposes.

"Approved" means whatever material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter meets the requirements and approval of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or which is approved by local ordinance of the municipality in which the building is situated, or any appliance, appurtenance, or other matter which conforms to the requirements of, and bears the approval of the "national board of fire underwriters"; provided, however, that no such material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter shall be deemed "approved" for use where, or in such a manner as would be inconsistent with the intent, or specific provisions of this act.

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, or to or below the adjoining natural ground level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts.

Every basement is a story.

"Building" is a tenement house.

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar" is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which in any part is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels.

"Court" is an open, unoccupied space other than a yard on the lot on which is situated a tenement house. A court, one entire side or end of which is bounded by a front yard, a rear yard or a side ward, or by the front of lot, or by a street or a public alley, is an "outer court." Every court which is not an "outer court" is an "inner court."

Every court shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms or apartments abutting the said court, except that a cornice on the building may extend into an "outer court" two inches for each one foot in width of such court, and a cornice may extend into an "inner court" one inch for each one foot in width of such court.

"Curb level" is the curb level opposite the center of the "front of lot."

Wherever the word "department" is used it means the building department, the housing department, the health department or such other department or officer, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

"Family" is one person living alone or a group of two or more persons living together in an apartment, whether related to each other by birth or not.

"Fireproof tenement house."

"Fireproof tenement house" is a building wherein all the exterior and interior loads or strains are transmitted to the foundation by means of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone, or by means of a skeleton framework of steel or iron, the exterior walls, inner court walls and roof constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or hollow terra cotta tile; where all the structural steel or iron is thoroughly fireproofed by concrete, cement plaster, tile, brick or sandstone, not less than two inches thick; where all the interior partitions are constructed of either hollow terra cotta tile blocks, gypsum blocks, brick, concrete, reinforced concrete, or of metal studs lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or of metal studs lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board, or constructed of wire glass not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in metal frames and sash, and all other materials used in the said building are of approved incombustible material, except that the glass in windows, transoms, or doors may be plain glass, and except that doors, frames, sash and the usual trim of rooms, hallways, corridors and passageways may be of wood, and except that wood floors may be placed on top of the floors constructed of incombustible materials, except in the stairways and public hallways.

"Housing department" is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of tenement houses, hotels or dwelling house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances relating to the protection of the public health.

"Kitchen" is any room in any apartment used or intended or designed to be used for cooking purposes and for the preparation of food.

"Lot."

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a tenement house, together with the land, yards, courts and unoccupied spaces for such a tenement house as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the tenement house.

A lot situated at the junction of two or more intersecting streets, with a boundary line thereof bordering on each of the two streets, is a "corner lot." All parts of the width of such a corner lot which are distant more than seventy-five feet from the junction point of the two or more intersecting streets, shall be deemed to be an "interior lot." The owner or his authorized agent may designate either street frontage as being the front of such corner lot for the purpose of determining the width thereof.

A lot which has only one boundary line bordering on a public street is an "interior lot."

"Rear lot" is a parcel or area of land having no boundary line bordering on a street, or having less than one-half of its width as a boundary line bordering on a street.

"Front of lot" is the boundary line of lot bordering on the street. In case of a corner lot, either of such boundary lines may be the "front of lot."

"Rear of lot" is the boundary line of lot opposite the "front of lot."

"Depth of lot" is the mean distance from the "front of lot" to the "rear of lot."

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health, and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or illumination, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Occupied space."

"Occupied space" is all the space covered by a tenement house, including outside stairways, platforms, fire escapes, balconies, fire towers, chimneys, stacks, vent shafts, not exceeding thirty-two square feet in area, cornice, or any part thereof, which projects into an inner court more than one inch for each one foot in width of such court, or which projects into an outer court or yard more than two inches for each one foot in width of such outer court or a yard, except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may extend not exceeding four feet beyond the exterior walls of the building into a front or rear yard, and except that a retaining wall may extend not to exceed twelve inches into a yard or court. For the purpose of determining occupied space, the area of the building shall be taken at the lowest story or portion thereof used for living or sleeping purposes.

"Person" is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; and also includes a firm, partnership or corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

"Public hallway" is a hallway, corridor, passageway or vestibule not within an apartment, and includes stairways, landings and platforms.

"Rear tenement house" is a tenement house on a "rear lot."

"Semifireproof tenement house."

"Semifireproof tenement house" is a building with all exterior walls and walls of inner and outer courts constructed of brick, stone, concrete, reinforced concrete or hollow terra cotta tile; except that the walls of an inner court, which court is surrounded on four sides by the same building, may be constructed as provided in this act for such inner courts; interior partitions and floors constructed of approved incombustible materials or of wood, with all ceilings, partitions, soffits of stairways, and outside stringers of open stairways and stair wells metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or lathed with an approved plaster board plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board; in which all finished floors, frames, doors and the usual trim of rooms and hallways may be built of wood and the roof of which shall be covered with at least a composition fire-retardant material.

“Shall.” Whenever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

“Street” is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the “front of lot” to the opposite “front of lot,” and which shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

“Tenement house.”

“Tenement house” is any house or building, or portion thereof, more than one story in height, which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or which is occupied as the home or residence of three or more families living independently of each other and doing their cooking in the said building; provided, however, that any building not more than two stories in height which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or is occupied, as the home or residence of not more than four families, and the said building is so arranged that each of the said families live independently of each other, and the building is constructed and arranged so that a separate section is, or may be, kept as a home or residence of a separate family, and each such section has an entirely independent and separate entrance, and if a stairway is required, one such stairway leading to each section from the street or from an outside vestibule on the level of the first floor of said building is a separate stairway, and with no room, hallway, bathroom, water-closet, or kitchen used in common by two or more families occupying the said building, shall be deemed not to come within the definition of a “tenement house.”

“Wooden tenement house” is a building which does not fully comply with the requirements for a “fireproof” or a “semifireproof” tenement house as defined in this act, and shall include all frame and all veneered buildings.

In every such building all ceilings and walls and partitions of public hallways, soffits of interior stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways, and stair wells shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

“Yard.”

“Yard” is a portion of a lot on which is situated a tenement house and which is unoccupied by the building and extends from the ground up (except where otherwise provided by this act) open and unobstructed to the sky; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may extend not more than four feet into such yards. If such yard is between the front line of the building and the front boundary line of the lot, it is a “front yard.” If it is between the extreme rear line of the building and the rear of the lot, it is a “rear yard.” If it extends from the rear yard to the front yard or front of the lot, it is a “side yard.”

Front yard.

§ 11. No tenement house shall hereafter be erected on, or moved on to, a rear lot. No building for any purpose shall hereafter be erected in front of any tenement house unless there shall be left unoccupied a front yard extending from the front of the rear tenement house to the front line of lot bordering on the street.

Such front yard shall not be in any part less in width than fifty per cent of the actual width of the rear tenement house.

Height.

§ 12. No fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed one hundred fifty feet in height, nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No semifireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed six stories at any point, nor more than sixty-five feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No wooden tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed three stories at any point nor more than thirty-six feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

The width of the street, for this purpose, shall be measured from the extreme front of the building to the front of lot opposite, across the street.

For the purposes of this section a basement is a story.

Height defined.

The height of a fireproof tenement house is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the highest point of the roof. The height of a semifireproof or of a wooden tenement house is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the lowest point of the finished ceiling of the top story; provided, that in the case of a semifireproof tenement house situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed sixty-five feet above the curb level measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed seventy-five feet above the adjoining curb in case of a corner lot, or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot, and in the case of a wooden tenement house situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed thirty-six feet above the curb line measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed forty-six feet above the adjoining curb in the case of a corner lot or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot.

Per cent of lot left unoccupied.

§ 13. On every corner lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least ten per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied; provided, however, that if such corner lot extends through from one street to another street, one-half of the narrowest street to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied; except that if such one-half of the narrowest street is greater than the rear yard required for such tenement house, then only as much of the said street as is required for the rear yard shall be considered as part of the lot for the purpose of computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied.

On every interior lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least twenty-five per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied; provided, however, that if such interior lot extends through from one street to another street, one-half of the narrowest street to which such lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied; except that if such one-half of the narrowest street is greater than the rear yard required for such tenement house, then only as much of the said street as is required for the rear yard shall be considered as part of the lot for the purpose of computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied.

Rear yard.

§ 14. Immediately behind every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a rear yard extending across the entire width of the lot.

Yard serving two tenement houses.

§ 15. In no event shall any yard or court be made to serve the purpose of two tenement houses hereafter erected, or of an existing tenement house and a tenement house hereafter erected, unless such yard or court, as the case may be, is of the full size required for two tenement houses, and then only in the event that such ward or court, as the case may be, is located on the same lot and owned by or in the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the tenement house it proposes to serve.

Distance between buildings.

Where a tenement house, now or hereafter erected, stands upon a lot, no other building shall hereafter be placed upon the front or rear of that lot, unless the minimum distance between such buildings shall be at least ten feet, and two additional feet shall be added to such minimum distance of ten feet for every story more than one in height of the highest building on such lot.

Depth of rear yard.

§ 16. The depth of a rear yard shall be measured at right angles from the extreme rear line of the building toward the rear lot line.

Minimum depth of rear yard on interior lot.

§ 17. On every interior lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected there shall be provided a rear yard. Such yard shall extend from the ground clear and unobstructed to the sky, and shall extend across the entire width of the lot; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may extend not more than four feet into such yard. The minimum depth of such rear yard shall be as follows:

Height of building measured from top of wall to floor of yard at point abutting the rear yard.		Depth of rear yard.
Not exceeding	36 feet.....	10 feet
Not exceeding	48 feet.....	11 feet
Not exceeding	60 feet.....	12 feet
Not exceeding	72 feet.....	14 feet
Not exceeding	84 feet.....	16 feet
Not exceeding	96 feet.....	18 feet
Not exceeding	108 feet.....	20 feet
Not exceeding	120 feet.....	22 feet
Not exceeding	132 feet.....	24 feet
Not exceeding	150 feet.....	26 feet

Provided, however, that if such interior lot extends through from one street to another street or public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required by this section.

Minimum depth of rear yard on corner lot.

§ 18. On every corner lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected there shall be provided a rear yard. Such yard shall extend from the lowest floor which is used for living or sleeping apartments, clear and unobstructed to the sky, and shall extend across the entire width of such lot; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may be extended not more than four feet into such yard. The minimum depth of such rear yard shall be as follows:

Depth of corner lot.	Dept of rear yard.
Not exceeding 100 feet.	Not less than 10 per cent of the depth of the lot nor less than 5 feet, nor less than the minimum width required for an outer court, based on the number of stories in such building.
Exceeding 100 feet.	Not less than 10 feet nor less than the minimum width required for an outer court, based on the number of stories in such building.

Provided, however, if such corner lot extends through from one street to another street, or to a public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley to which such lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required by this section.

Passageway to street.

§ 19. Every rear yard required by this act and not bordering on a street or public alley and without direct access thereto shall have access to a street or public alley by means of an unobstructed passageway not less than three feet six inches in clear width, nor less than seven feet in clear height; and if such passageway or any portion thereof passes through a building, such portion thereof shall be built of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board, or shall be lined with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron, and shall be drained and lighted.

Excavated front yard.

§ 20. Every front yard which is excavated below the level of a curb or below the adjoining ground level for the purpose of furnishing light and ventilation to a basement shall in no part be less in width and length than required for outer courts.

Width of side yard.

§ 21. The width of every side yard shall be not less than the width required for an outer court except that the provisions of this act regarding the maximum lengths of an outer court shall not apply to a side yard; provided, that if there is a side yard on both sides of the building, connected one with the other across the rear of the building by the rear yard, then the width of the side yards may be reduced twelve inches.

Minimum size of outer court.

§ 22. The minimum size of every outer court for a tenement house hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments.	Minimum width of court.	Maximum length of court.
1 story	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
2 stories	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
3 stories	4 ft. 6 in.	25 ft. 0 in.
4 stories	5 ft. 6 in.	30 ft. 0 in.
5 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
6 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
7 stories	10 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
8 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
9 stories	13 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
10 or more stories.....	14 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.

There shall be added to the minimum width of each such outer court six inches for each five feet or fractional part thereof in excess of the maximum length; provided, however, that the maximum lengths herein provided shall not apply when the outer court is bonded on one side for its entire length by a lot line; provided, further, that if an outer court is bounded by a public alley or public park, the width of such public alley or public park may be considered a part of the lot in determining the required width of the outer court.

Minimum size of inner court.

§ 23. The minimum size of every inner court for tenement houses hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments.	Minimum width of court.	Minimum area of court in square feet.
1 story	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
2 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more.....	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Provided, however, that the minimum size of every inner court which is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line may be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments.	Minimum width of court.	Minimum area of court.
1 story	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
2 stories	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	9 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more.....	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Every inner court hereafter constructed and every inner court or vent shaft now in any tenement house shall be provided with a door or window at or near the bottom thereof, giving sufficient access to such court or vent shaft as to enable it to be properly cleaned out.

Recess.

§ 24. Every recess from a court, yard or street in a tenement house hereafter erected shall, unless it conforms to the requirements of this act for an inner court, or an outer court, be not less in width than its depth. Every such recess shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are rooms the said recess proposes to serve.

Intakes for inner court.

§ 25. Every inner court in a tenement house hereafter erected shall be provided with one or more horizontal intakes at the bottom of the court, as follows:

Inner court areas.	Minimum number of intakes.	Net aggregate area of intakes.
Each not exceeding 300 square feet.....	One	19½ square feet
Each not exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	40 square feet
Each exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	60 square feet

Every such intake shall always extend directly to the front of lot or front yard, or rear yard, or to a side yard, or to a street, or to a public alley or public park. Whenever more than one intake is required, one such intake shall extend to the front of lot or front yard, and one to the rear yard, public alley, public park, or to the other street, and the court ends of the air intakes shall be as far apart as possible.

Each such intake shall consist of an unobstructed duct or passageway having a minimum width of three feet in all its parts and a minimum height of six feet six inches.

Construction.

Every such intake shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof. Such air intakes may be closed at each end with a gate or grill having not less than seventy-five per cent of open work.

In case the inner court does not extend below the second floor level, then each such air intake may consist of an unobstructed open duct, constructed of approved incombustible materials or lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof, having an interior area of not less than nineteen and one-half square feet, and in no dimension less than twelve inches, and covered at each end with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh.

Every air intake shall be drained and so constructed and arranged as to be readily cleaned out.

Cellars.

§ 26. In no tenement house shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes.

Every cellar shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floor of every cellar hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

Basements.

§ 27. In no tenement house shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes, unless such room conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building and that the ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground level.

Every basement shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floors of every basement hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

Ventilation beneath floor.

§ 28. In every tenement house hereafter erected, the lowest floor thereof shall be at least eighteen inches above the surface soil adjoining and under the floor, and the entire space under such floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

Floor made impervious to rats.

Such space under the floor shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with removable screens or similar provisions of a size to insure ample ventilation; provided, however, that in any such building the lowest floor thereof may be less than eighteen inches above the surface soil, but in no case less than six inches, except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, if the said floor is made impervious to the ingress of rats or other vermin as follows:

(a) Foundation walls shall be constructed of concrete or of brick or stone or other masonry laid in a good mortar or constructed of some other equally as rat proof material.

(b) The said foundation walls shall be not less than six inches in thickness at the top nor less than twelve inches in thickness at the bottom, nor extend less than twelve inches below the surface soil, and, except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, shall extend not less than six inches above the surface soil.

(c) Every opening in the foundation walls, for ventilation or for other purposes, shall be made rat proof with suitable metal screens or with some other similar rat proof material. Door or window openings in such walls shall have tight fitting doors or windows.

(d) The said lowest floor or differing levels thereof, forming a complete floor between the outside walls of the building, shall be constructed either of masonry, or covered with concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick, or constructed of two layers of flooring with a layer of galvanized iron or galvanized iron wire cloth or other approved equally as rat proof material placed between the two layers of flooring. Or, in lieu of the floor being constructed as herein prescribed, the entire ground area under the floor shall be covered with concrete not less than two inches thick, except where the surface of the soil is composed of rock. The rat-proofing material shall always extend under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions.

(e) All openings throughout the said floor for chimneys, plumbing, water pipes, or for any other purpose, shall be closed up tight in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions, and if the rat-proofing material used for closing of openings is other than masonry, it shall extend beyond and underlap the flooring all around the opening, not less than two inches.

Floor area of rooms.

§ 29. In every apartment in every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one room containing not less than one hundred twenty square feet of superficial floor area, and every other room shall contain at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area, except water-closet, bath or slop-sink compartments, and except kitchens, closets, recesses from rooms, or dressing rooms.

Every kitchen shall contain not less than fifty square feet of superficial floor area.

Width and height.

Every room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than nine feet in height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be nine feet in height in but one-half the area of the room; provided, however, that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to water-closet, bath or slop-sink compartments, nor to closets, nor to recesses from rooms, nor to dressing rooms, nor shall the provisions of this paragraph as to minimum width apply to kitchens.

Water-closets, etc.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in clear width, and every such water-closet compartment, bath or slop-sink compartment, or closet, or recess from a room, or dressing room, shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling. Every closet, recess from a room, or dressing room, which contains more than twenty-five square feet of superficial floor area (built-in dressers, clothes presses and similar features which are a substantial part of the structure shall not be deemed to be a part of the floor area of a closet, recess from a room) or dressing room shall conform to all of the provisions of this act as to rooms, and shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area.

Curtains.

No part of any room in any tenement house shall hereafter be enclosed or subdivided wholly, or in part, by a curtain, portiere, fixed or movable partition, or other contrivance or device, for any purpose contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Entertainment, amusement or reception rooms hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any tenement house shall conform to the provisions of section thirty-three of this act.

Windows.

§ 30. In every tenement house hereafter erected every room, kitchen, and every water-closet compartment, toilet or shower room, and bath or slop-sink room (except in the cellar) shall have at least one window of the area hereinafter required opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or court, of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot.

Opening into vent shaft. Opening through porch.

All windows required by this act shall be located so as to properly light all portions of the rooms, and shall be made so as to open in all parts and so arranged that at least one-half of each such window may be opened unobstructed; provided, however, that the windows required by this section in a water-closet compartment, toilet or shower room, and bath or slop-sink room, may open directly into a vent shaft, such vent shaft to be of the minimum size and constructed of the materials and in the manner prescribed by section sixty-one of this act; provided, further, that windows required to open onto a street, yard, or an outer court, except windows from kitchens, may open through porches, provided that said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street, yard, or outer court, is left open except that the open space may be enclosed with mosquito screens.

Window area.

§ 31. In every tenement house hereafter erected the total window area in each room except in a water-closet compartment, bath, toilet, slop-sink room or shower room shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room.

The aggregate window area in each room shall be not less than twelve square feet, and no single window shall be less than six square feet in area.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to outside of sash.

§ 32. In every tenement house hereafter erected each window in a water-closet compartment or bath, toilet or slop-sink room, or shower room, shall be not less than three square feet in area. The aggregate area of windows for each such compartment or room shall be not less than six square feet. In each such compartment or room containing more than one water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink, the aggregate window area shall be equivalent to three square feet for each water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink therein, except that at no time need the aggregate window area exceed one-fourth of the superficial floor area of such compartment or room.

[Window area of amusement, entertainment, or reception room.]

§ 33. In every tenement house hereafter erected, the total window area in each room used for the purpose of amusement, entertainment or as a reception room, or any room used for similar purposes, which room has a superficial floor area not exceeding one hundred eighty square feet, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of such room.

Every such room which has a superficial floor area exceeding one hundred eighty square feet shall have an aggregate window area not less than that required for a room of one hundred eighty square feet of superficial floor area.

Ventilation by fan exhaust system.

Amusement, entertainment or reception rooms and rooms used for similar purposes, in lieu of being provided with windows, as in this section prescribed, may be provided with a fan exhaust system of ventilation. Such fan exhaust system of ventilation shall consist of independent inlet ducts, extending from the outer air to each such room and exhaust ducts extending from each such room to the outer air above the highest roof of the building.

All of the inlet ducts and exhaust ducts shall be constructed of galvanized iron or other smooth-surfaced, nonabsorbent material and so arranged that they may be readily cleaned out.

The exhaust ducts shall always be connected to an exhaust fan mechanically operated, so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed fifteen minutes for each such room.

Penalty for failure to maintain system.

Any person in charge of a building in which a system of fan exhaust ventilation, as in this section is required, who fails, neglects or refuses to operate and maintain the said system of ventilation in good order and repair so that the ventilation (complete change of air) herein specified is provided in each such room at all times, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to all of the penalties fixed by this act.

Height of amusement rooms.

Every amusement, entertainment or reception room, or any room used for similar purposes, shall have a minimum height between the finished floor and the finished ceiling of not less than nine feet. No such room or part thereof shall be used for living or sleeping apartments, except that said room or part thereof complies with all of the other provisions of this act, for living and sleeping apartments.

Windows in public hallway.

§ 34. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every public hallway on any floor where there are more than three apartments shall have at least one window opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or a court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot; such windows shall be at the end of the public hallway and placed so as to secure the maximum light into the hallway; provided, however, that in tenement houses not exceeding two stories in height, the public hallway may, in lieu of such windows, be lighted and ventilated by one or more skylights constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Every window required by this act in a public hallway shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height, and the finished sill of same shall not be more than thirty inches above the adjoining finished floor. Every such window shall be made so as to open and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

Skylight.

Every skylight provided for in this section shall have an effective horizontal area of glass of not less than fifteen square feet, and shall have ridge ventilators or fixed or movable louvres so as to provide a ventilating area of not less than five hundred square inches. Such skylights shall be so located that no portion of the hallway be distant more than twenty feet (measured from a vertical line) from a skylight opening.

Any part of a public hallway which is offset, recessed, or cut off from any other part of a hallway where such offset or recess is more in length than one and one-half times the width of the public hallway from which it offsets or recesses, shall be deemed a separate public hallway within the meaning of this section.

French windows.

French windows or doors, if arranged to open and glazed to give the areas of opening and glass required by this act for windows in public hallways, may be used in lieu of windows therein.

Ventilating skylight.

§ 35. In every tenement house two or more stories in height hereafter erected, where there are more than three apartments on any one floor, there shall be provided at the roof over each stairway a ventilating skylight, placed directly as practicable over same, having a minimum effective horizontal area of glass at least twenty square feet in area for buildings two stories in height, and the area of glass in such skylight shall be increased at a ratio of six square feet for each additional story in height. In every such skylight the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Every such skylight and the ventilating openings and the shutters and the closing and opening devices for the ventilating openings shall be made of approved incombustible materials, and so arranged that the entire ventilating area may be readily opened from at least the topmost and first story levels, except that in tenement houses not exceeding four stories in height the ventilators may be arranged so as to open from at least the first story, or the ventilators may be fixed permanently in an open position.

Skylights as in this section prescribed may be omitted in case that windows are provided of the size fixed by section thirty-four hereof and located adjoining the stairways, and that each window adjoining the stairway be provided with an open louver or ventilator providing a ventilating area of not less than one hundred square inches or such louver or ventilator may be placed in the roof over the stairway, in which event the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Whenever a skylight is required as in this section provided there shall be constructed a stair well, the clear open area of which shall be at each floor equal to one-third of the area of glass in the skylight.

Water-closets.

§ 36. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every apartment shall be so arranged that access may be had to every living room, and to at least one water-closet compartment, without passing through a bedroom; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prohibit passing through a bedroom in going from a kitchen to a bathroom or water-closet compartment.

Water-closet for each apartment.

§ 37. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be installed one water-closet within each apartment located in a separate compartment or located in a compartment with a bathtub, shower or lavatory, used exclusively by the occupants of the apartment.

No door or other opening to a water-closet compartment shall open from or into any room in which food is prepared or stored. The walls enclosing a water-closet compartment shall be well plastered or constructed of some nonabsorbent material, except that the ordinary wood trim of openings may be used in such compartment. Every such compartment shall be provided and equipped with a full door, properly hung, and provided with a lock or bolt to lock same.

Waterproof floor.

The floor of every such water-closet compartment shall be made waterproof with asphalt, tile, marble, terrazzo, cement, or some other similar nonabsorbent material, and such waterproofing shall extend not less than six inches on the vertical walls of the room. No water-closet fixture shall be enclosed with woodwork.

In tenement house already erected.

§ 38. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway of the same floor, for every three apartments or fractional part thereof on such floor which are not provided with private water-closets. Where two or more water-closets are required by the provisions of this section to be located on a public hallway, one of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets distinctly marked "for women"; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any tenement house existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this paragraph when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the said tenement house or premises.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as permitting such exemptions to apply to any addition or extension to any tenement house.

Every water-closet hereafter placed in a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act shall comply with every provision of this act relative to water-closets installed in tenement houses hereafter erected, except that if a water-closet is installed in the top story of any such building, the compartment in which it is installed may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres in lieu of a window; provided, however, that a new water-closet may be installed to replace a defective or antiquated fixture in the same location.

Sewer connection required.

Every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, or hereafter erected, where a connection with the sewer is possible, shall discontinue the use of any school sink, privy vault or any similar receptacle used to receive fecal matter, urine or sewage, and every such receptacle shall be completely removed and the place where it was located be properly disinfected. All such receptacles shall be replaced by individual water-closets of durable nonabsorbent material, properly connected, trapped, vented and provided with flush tanks, the same as is required, by the provisions of this act, in tenement houses hereafter erected.

Bathtub or shower.

§ 39. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a bathtub or shower within each apartment, and such bathtub or shower shall be located in a separate compartment, or there may be provided one such bathtub or shower in a separate compartment for every three such apartments which are not provided with private baths or showers; provided, that said bathtub or shower is on the same floor and is accessible from each apartment through the public hallway.

In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one kitchen sink within each apartment.

The walls, floors and openings to every bath, shower or slop-sink room hereafter constructed shall conform to all of the provisions of this act relative to the waterproofing of the walls and floors, and of the construction of the doors of water-closet compartments in tenement houses hereafter erected.

In tenement house already erected.

§ 40. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one bathtub or shower in a separate compartment, located on the same floor, for every five apartments, or fractional part thereof, which are not provided with private baths or showers, on each such floor, and there shall be provided at least one kitchen sink in each apartment; provided, however, that the department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any tenement house existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this section when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the said tenement house or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a tenement house.

Running water.

§ 41. In every tenement house hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarters inch size.

Sewer connection.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in tenement houses hereafter erected, shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

In tenement house already erected.

§ 42. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

In case no running water. Privy.

§ 43. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the tenement house hereafter erected or an existing tenement house, as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water and proper means of sewage disposal. A special permit in writing shall be obtained in every such case from the department charged with the enforcement of this act, which permit shall be made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the department issuing it; provided, further, that proper, separate toilet facilities for each sex shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy, and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be enclosed by mosquito screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals. All drainage water shall be conveyed from the premises by means of a covered drain to a covered cesspool.

Plumbing fixtures made sanitary.

§ 44. In every tenement house hereafter erected all plumbing fixtures affecting the sanitary drainage system shall be properly trapped and vented and made sanitary in every particular. In any tenement house hereafter erected, and in any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act no plumbing fixtures shall be enclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around same must be left entirely open. All woodwork enclosing a water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory shall be removed and the floor and wall surface beneath and around such water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory shall be maintained in good repair, and if of wood, well painted with a light colored paint of sufficient body to make it nonabsorbent. All wooden seats, attached to water-closet bowls, shall be varnished or enameled, or by some other method be made nonabsorbent.

Plumbing fixtures.

In every tenement house hereafter erected water-closets shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats integral with the bowls, or wooden seats varnished or enameled so as to be nonabsorbent, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material attached directly to the bowls. No wooden wash trays or wooden kitchen sinks shall be permitted in such buildings. All plumbing connections hereafter made in buildings shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass; and every gas and water service connection hereafter made shall be of steel or iron, and shall be equipped with cut-off valves placed outside of the building and such cut-off valves shall be readily accessible.

Whenever any plumbing fixture becomes insanitary the department charged with the enforcement of this act is hereby empowered to order the same removed and to order that it be replaced by a fixture conforming to the provisions of this act.

Two means of egress.

§ 45. Every tenement house hereafter erected, three or more stories in height and in which there are three or more apartments on any one floor, shall be so designed and constructed that every apartment in such building shall have not less than two means of egress, either by stairways or fire escapes, constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act. Such means of egress shall be accessible from every apartment, either directly or through a public hallway, and so located that should one egress be or become blocked, the other egress shall be available.

Stairways.

§ 46. Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than two stairways.

Every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each six thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every semifireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each four thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every wooden tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each three thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway leading from the outside to every basement or cellar thereof.

Computing number of stairways required.

§ 47. The largest floor area above the ground floor shall be used as the basis for computing the number of stairways required in every tenement house hereafter erected; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area of the building are diminished in area, the stairway or stairways from that portion of the building containing a smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

Location of stairways.

§ 48. All stairways hereafter constructed shall be located so as to furnish the best means of egress from the building, and shall be as far removed from each other as practicable, and shall be as follows:

Access to stairway shall be provided at every floor by means of a public hallway, corridor, or passageway, and the public hallway, corridor, passageway and stairway from the ground exit level to the top story or roof shall be accessible at all times.

No stairway shall abut on more than one side of an elevator shaft, except on the lowest and topmost stories, provided that the stairway is so located that it can be approached from the street entrance without passing by or in front of the open side of the said elevator shaft.

No stairway shall be located over a steam boiler, gas meter or gas heater or furnace, unless such boiler, gas meter, gas heater, or furnace be located in a room, the walls and ceiling of which are constructed as required for a boiler room by section sixty-three of this act. No stairway leading from any other portion of the building shall terminate in or pass through a boiler room.

Construction of stairways.

§ 49. Every stairway hereafter constructed shall be as follows: have a rise of not more than eight inches and a run of not less than nine inches, without change in the run or rise between floors; and shall be provided with head room of not less than six feet six inches measured from the nearest nosing of the stairway to the nearest soffit.

The depth of every landing in a stairway shall be not less than the width of the stairway, and all treads shall be of equal width for every run of stairs, and shall not vary in width in the width of the stairs.

Stairways required by this act shall be continuous from the ground floor level to the top story, i. e., the flights of such stairways shall be constructed one directly above the other, or shall be constructed so that each flight shall be in plain view of each succeeding flight; provided, however, that half of the stairways from the upper floors may terminate at the second floor, in the event that the stairways from the first to the second floor be increased in width not less than fifty per cent.

Every stairway shall have at least one handrail, and if the stairway be five feet or more in width, shall have a handrail on each side thereof.

The underside and soffits of wooden stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways except outside stairway, in semifireproof and wooden tenement houses shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

The width of stairways shall be measured in the clear of all projections except the baseboards, and except that handrails and newel posts may project not more than four inches.

Space under stairway.

§ 50. No closet of any kind shall be constructed in any tenement house under any wooden stairway, but such space shall be kept entirely open, and be kept clean and free from all encumbrances; or such space shall be effectually closed with walls of studs, lathed and plastered, with no door or opening of any kind therein; provided, however, that the provisions of this section as to a closet under a stairway shall not apply to any tenement house not more than two stories in height, in which not more than two families live above the first floor thereof.

Stairway to roof.

§ 51. In every tenement house hereafter erected more than two stories in height, the stairway nearest to the main entrance of the building shall be carried to the roof level and shall give egress to the roof through a penthouse or roof structure.

In every such building not exceeding two stories in height there shall be constructed a scuttle in the public hallway near the stairway. Such scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, and shall be cut through the ceiling and roof.

Penthouses over stairways shall be built either of fireproof materials or of wood studs, lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board on the inside and outside thereof; or such penthouses may be covered in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required by this act for the doors from such penthouses.

The door to the roof from a penthouse or roof structure shall be self-closing and shall open outward to the roof, and shall be covered on both sides and edges with tin or other metal.

The frames and trim of such door opening shall be similarly constructed and all glass in such door shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick.

In tenement house already erected.

Every tenement house of more than two stories in height, erected prior to the passage of this act, shall have in the roof a penthouse or a scuttle, which scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, located in the ceiling of a public hallway. There shall be provided a stairway or a stationary ladder, leading from the top floor of such tenement house to the roof thereof. Such stairway or stationary ladder shall be made readily accessible to all the tenants of the building. No scuttle or penthouse door shall at any time be locked with a key, but may be fastened on the inside by a movable bolt or lock.

Hallways, etc., from stairways.

§ 52. Public hallways, landings and corridors from stairways shall be of the same width and measured in the same manner as the stairways, as provided in section fifty hereof.

Fire escapes.

§ 53. On every tenement house hereafter erected more than two stories in height, which contains more than three apartments, there shall be provided at least one fire escape. If such tenement house exceeds three thousand square feet of floor area on any one floor above the second floor thereof, such building shall be provided with one additional fire escape for each four thousand square feet of floor area or fractional part thereof.

Types of fire escapes.

Fire escapes required by this act shall be of one of the following types:

Type 1. Metallic throughout and fastened securely to the exterior walls of the building, with a balcony at each story above the first story thereof, with inclined stairways connecting all balconies and a goose-neck ladder connecting the topmost balcony to the roof. The lowest balcony of such fire escape to be not more than fourteen feet above the street or ground level directly under same.

All metallic balconies shall be not less than forty-four inches in width nor less than thirty-three square feet in area. The stairway openings therein shall be not less than twenty-one inches wide and forty inches in length. The balcony balustrade shall be not less than thirty-four inches high, with no opening in such balustrade greater than eight inches in horizontal dimension.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in a fire escape balcony platform, except the stair well opening.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in the lowest fire escape balcony platform, except that there be attached a counterbalanced or permanent ladder reaching to the street or ground below.

Every balcony platform shall be fastened to the outside walls of the building by building in and anchoring to such walls the balcony platform and the balustrade framing, or by securely bolting same thereto. Every balcony shall be supported by brackets, braces, or struts fastened to or built in and anchored to the walls.

The inclined stairways shall be not less than eighteen inches in width and placed in no part nearer than twenty-one inches from the face of the wall. Such inclined stairways shall have an inclination of not less than four inches and not more than six inches horizontally to each twelve inches of vertical height. The treads shall be not less than four inches wide, placed not more than twelve inches apart. Each side of such stairways shall be provided with a handrail not less than one inch in diameter fastened to the stair stringers and continued around the well hole openings of balcony platform.

Types of fire escapes.

The goose-neck ladder shall be not less than fifteen inches wide and extend vertically from the topmost balcony to three feet above the fire wall or roof above, and then be brought down and fastened to the inside face of the fire wall or to the roof. The rungs of the goose-neck ladder shall be not less than five-eighths inch round iron or steel, placed not more than fourteen inches apart. The goose-neck ladder shall be securely braced and fastened to the outside wall, and in no case shall such ladder pass in front of any opening in the wall to the interior of the building. The cornice opening for the passage of such ladder shall be not less than twenty-four inches in width and twenty-four inches in the clear outside of the ladder.

Such fire escape shall be framed and riveted or bolted together in a solid, substantial manner and properly supported, braced and fastened to the outside walls so as to be rigid, durable and secure and carry the loads imposed.

All metallic fire escapes shall be painted with not less than two coats of good, durable paint; or such fire escapes may be galvanized.

Type 2. Metallic ladders and stairways conforming to the provisions set forth for type one and with reinforced concrete or iron or steel fireproofed balconies, with fastenings of similar materials. Such balconies to measure the full size inside of balustrades. Floor openings and well holes provided and protected similarly to the requirements for metallic balconies.

Enclosed spiral fire escape.

Type 3. Any type of an enclosed approved metallic spiral fire escape which consists of a rigid form of an inclined chute or chutes constructed entirely of incombustible material; securely attached to the outside walls of building; provided with proper means of ingress thereto from the building and egress therefrom at the bottom; having means enabling firemen to reach the roof thereby from the ground; equipped with standpipes; painted the same as provided for metallic fire escapes; and satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act as being as solid, substantial and durable and as fireproof in construction, and providing at least as safe and efficient means of escape from the building for the occupants thereof, and furnishing all the protection and utility of the metallic fire escapes described as "type one" in this act.

Fire and smoke towers.

Type 4. Fire and smoke towers, consisting of a fire escape stairway not less than twenty inches in width, constructed of reinforced concrete, iron or steel, or a combination of these materials; and in all other details as required in this act for metallic fire escape stairways; said stairways being continuous the full height of the building from the first floor exit level to the roof, and with handrails on each side thereof the full length of same. Such stairways to be constructed at a point adjoining the exterior walls of the building and be entirely enclosed with walls of brick, terra cotta tile, concrete or reinforced concrete not less than twelve inches thick; such walls to be continuous from the basement up to and extending three feet above the roof of the building, with no covering of any kind over same, and with no openings in the walls of such tower into the building. The enclosing walls of such tower not to be used to carry or support any floor joist, beam, girder or other structural feature of the building, nor to be chased for any pipe, conduit or other purpose; to have an exit from the enclosure at the first floor line opening directly to a street or yard, and having an entrance by means of an outside balcony at each floor, such balconies to have a solid floor and in all other details and kind of materials to be as in this act required for metallic fire escape balconies. The balconies to be located and arranged to connect with a door opening from a public hallway in the interior of the building and with a door opening leading from the balcony to the tower, such door opening from the building to the balcony and from the balcony to the tower to be not less than thirty inches wide by seventy-two inches high and be equipped with metal-lined doors and with a frame and threshold of such door openings constructed of fireproof materials.

Fire and smoke towers.

Type 5. A fire and smoke tower in every way similar to "type four" of this section, except that instead of the outside balcony there be built a vestibule with enclosing walls continuous with and of the same kind of materials and of the same thickness as the enclosing walls of the fire tower; that the vestibule opening be direct from a public hallway and be equipped with metal-lined doors. The vestibule floor to be of masonry construction. The enclosure to have an opening at each floor through the exterior wall of the building, such opening to extend from the floor to the ceiling and be not less in width than three-fourths of the width of the tower, said opening to be protected with an open metallic balustrade similar to that specified for metallic fire escape balconies.

Stairway and fire escape combined.

§ 54. In any tenement house hereafter erected in which there is constructed a fire escape of "type four" or "type five," as prescribed in this act, such fire escape may be used and constructed as a stairway and a fire escape combined; provided, that there is at least one other stairway or one other fire escape constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act, in the said building.

Location of fire escapes.

§ 55. Every fire escape required by this act shall be located on the building so as to furnish the best means of escape therefrom for the occupants, and at least one such fire escape shall be located on a street front. Every fire escape shall have egress thereto from a public hallway or passageway not less than three feet wide, or such fire escapes in lieu of being located on a public hallway, shall be so located that each apartment has direct egress thereto without passing through another apartment, or if a public parlor, public lobby or similar room is connected directly with the public hall, corridor or passageway through a clear and unobstructed opening, without doors, then egress may be had thereby to a fire escape. Signs both pointing towards and marking the locations of fire escapes shall be placed on each floor.

Computing number of fire escapes required.

§ 56. The largest floor area above the second floor shall be used as a basis for computing the number of fire escapes required by this act; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area are diminished in size, the number of fire escapes from that portion of the building containing the smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

Strength of platform, etc.

§ 57. All parts of each balcony platform of a fire escape shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred pounds per square foot over the entire area thereof (using outside dimensions) and the live and dead loads from the ladders or stairs supported thereon.

Each ladder shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per square foot.

Each stairway shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred fifty pounds per square foot of horizontal projection.

Top rails of balcony balustrades shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per lineal foot of railing.

Each balcony shall be independently supported.

All fastenings of fire escape balconies to the building shall be designed to carry twenty-five per cent greater load than the total dead and live loads carried by the balconies. The balcony anchorage shall be direct to the structural steel or iron members of the balustrades and platforms extended into the walls and anchored into the structural work of the building.

The level of the inside sill of the door or window giving access to a fire escape balcony or the balcony floor shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining floor in the building. Every such door or window opening shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height.

Where double-hung windows are used in such openings, the lower sash shall be at least the size of the upper sash and shall slide to the top of such opening. Any lock used on any such window shall be of a type which can be readily opened from the interior of the building without the use of a key or other tool.

Readily accessible.

§ 58. Every fire escape in or on tenement houses hereafter erected, or in or on tenement houses erected prior to the passage of this act, shall at all times be maintained in good order and repair, well painted and clear and unobstructed at all times, and be readily accessible.

Standpipes.

§ 59. On every tenement house hereafter erected four or more stories in height, there shall be provided one or more metallic standpipes. Each such standpipe shall be not less than four inches in internal diameter, and shall have a Siamese inlet valve near the sidewalk or the ground directly under same, and an outlet valve at each story above the first story and on the roof.

One such standpipe shall be placed on or in the exterior walls of the building at one fire escape on each street frontage, and the outlet valves shall be readily accessible from the balconies of the fire escape.

The inlet and outlet valves on every standpipe shall be threaded and brought to a size which will meet the standard connections of the local fire department of the municipality in which such tenement house is being erected.

The standpipes required by this section need not be installed in any tenement house which is situated where there is no running water and where it is not practicable or possible to obtain water for efficient use of such standpipes in case of fire, until such time as it is practicable and possible to obtain running water; and the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is possible or practicable to obtain running water.

Elevator shafts enclosed.

§ 60. In every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected, every elevator shaft, dumb-waiter shaft or other interior shaft shall be enclosed in walls constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible materials, or shall be constructed of metal studs lathed either with metal lath or an approved plaster board and plastered on both sides so as to make a solid partition not less than two inches thick.

In every semifireproof or wooden tenement house hereafter erected, every such shaft shall be enclosed by walls constructed as provided by this act for fireproof tenement houses, or such walls may be constructed with wood studs, with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and half way between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath or an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or the plaster board.

Every opening from any shaft into the building shall be equipped with a metal door and with door frame and trim entirely of metal; or such door and door frame shall be constructed of wood covered with metal on the shaft side thereof and if there is any glass therein, such glass shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch thick. Every door or window therein shall be made to close tight, and every door except elevator doors therein shall be self-closing.

Every window in such shaft shall be of wired glass, not less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch thick, set in a metal sash or a sash metal covered on the shaft side thereof. At the roof over every elevator shaft there shall be constructed a ventilating skylight or a ventilator with open louvres.

Vent shafts enclosed.

§ 61. In every tenement house hereafter erected every vent shaft shall be enclosed with walls constructed the same as required by this act for elevator shaft in the same class of building. Such vent shafts may, in a semifireproof or wooden tenement house, be lined on the outside thereof (weather side) with metal in lieu of metal lath and plaster; also, that portion of such shaft extending from the ceiling joists to the top thereof may be lined with metal in the same manner as is required for the weather side of such vent shaft.

Every opening from any vent shaft into the building or any window therein, shall be equipped in the same manner as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building.

Plaster on the weather side of any such shaft shall be cement plaster.

Every vent shaft required by this act shall be not less than four feet in any direction and be at least sixteen square feet in area. If such vent shaft exceeds fifty feet in height, measured from the bottom to the top of the walls of such shaft, then such vent shaft shall throughout its entire height be increased in area three square feet for each additional ten feet or fractional part thereof above fifty feet.

Every such vent shaft shall be provided with an air intake or duct at or near the bottom thereof, communicating with the street or yard or a court. Such intake shall be not less than three square feet in total area, and may be divided into not more than three separate ducts running between the joists or otherwise, and shall in all cases be placed as nearly horizontal as possible. Every such intake or duct shall be constructed of approved fireproof material or shall be of metal or metal lined, and be provided with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh at each end. Plumbing, gas, steam or other similar pipes may be placed in such vent shaft.

Every such vent shaft shall have a door or a window at or near the bottom of the shaft, so arranged as to permit of its being readily cleaned out.

Walls of inner court.

§ 62. The walls of every inner court in a fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall be constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible material. In a semifireproof or in a wooden tenement house such inner court walls, if surrounded on four sides by the walls of the same building, shall be constructed as provided for fireproof tenement houses, or may be of wood studs, with wood firestops the same sizes as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and half way between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath, or an approved plaster board, and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or the plaster board. Plaster on the weather side of such inner court walls shall be cement plaster, or such inner court walls may be lined on the weather side with not less than the number twenty-six (gauge) metal, in lieu of metal lath and plaster.

Boiler room.

§ 63. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every boiler used for purposes of heating the building, using fuel other than gas, and every heating furnace or water-heating apparatus, using oil for fuel, shall be installed in a room, the walls of which room shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, and such walls shall extend from the floor of the boiler room to the ceiling over same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of similar materials as the walls, or shall be built with a double ceiling, with a space of not less than seven-eighths ($\frac{7}{8}$) inch between the two ceilings; each ceiling shall be metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick, including the lath or plaster board. The floor of a boiler room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick.

Doors in boiler room.

Any door in the wall of such room shall be a fire-resisting door, constructed of three (3) thicknesses of seven-eighths ($\frac{7}{8}$) inch by not more than six (6) inches, tongued and grooved, matched redwood boards entirely covered on the sides and edges with lock-jointed tin; every such door shall be self-closing, so hung as to overlap the walls of the room at least three (3) inches, and any glass in any such door or any glass in any window or opening in the walls of a boiler room shall be wired glass, not less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch thick, set in a metal or metal covered sash.

All such doors shall have hinges, hangers, latches and other hardware of wrought iron, bolted to the doors, and shall have steel tracks, when sliding doors are used, with wrought-iron stops and binders bolted through the wall. Swinging doors shall have wall eyes of wrought iron, built into or bolted through the wall.

Every such boiler room shall have a sill across each door not less than four (4) inches high. Such sill shall be of masonry, and the doors shall overlap same at least three (3) inches, or in lieu of a masonry sill a steel or iron sill may be used, in which case the bottom of the door shall close tight on top of same. Every swinging door in a boiler room shall open outward from the boiler room.

Where oil or other fluid fuel is burned, the oil or other fluid fuel shall not be fed by a gravity flow.

Garage.

§ 64. In every tenement house hereafter erected any portion of such building, in which there is kept or stored any automobile or automobiles, shall be a room, the enclosing partitions of which shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, or may be of wood studs lined on the automobile storage room side with redwood boards not less than seven-eighths ($\frac{7}{8}$) of an inch thick covered with asbestos paper one-eighth ($\frac{1}{8}$) of an inch thick, and then covered with No. 26 (gauge) galvanized iron, and such enclosing partitions shall extend from the floor of the room to the ceiling of the same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of material similar to that used in the construction of its walls, or shall be either metal lathed and be well plastered or be lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered. The floor of every such room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick.

Every door, window or other opening in the walls of such room, opening to the interior of the building, shall be protected in the same manner as required by section sixty-three hereof for doors, windows and other openings in a boiler room.

Additional room or hallway.

§ 65. In any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, every additional room or hallway that is hereafter constructed or created, may be of the same height as the other rooms or hallways on the same story of such tenement house.

Windows in tenement already erected.

§ 66. Every room in a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act shall, if the said room be hereafter occupied for living or sleeping purposes, have a window of an area not less than eight square feet, opening directly upon a street, a yard, a court or upon a vent shaft not less than twenty-five square feet in area, which vent shaft shall in no part be less than four feet wide and open and unobstructed, without roof or skylight over same; except that if such room be located on the top floor of the building, such room may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres directly to the outer air, or may have a window opening upon a vent shaft not less than ten square feet in area, if such window from the room be not more than three feet below the top of the wall of such vent shaft.

Every public hallway in every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, which does not conform to the provisions for public hallways in buildings hereafter erected, shall be provided with light and ventilation to the outer air. Such light and ventilation shall be provided by the placing of windows or skylights, or by making such alterations as in the judgment of the housing department may be deemed necessary to accomplish the result.

Cooking in bath, etc., unlawful.

§ 67. It shall be unlawful for any person to cook or to prepare food, or to permit or suffer any person to cook or to prepare food in any bath, shower, slop-sink or toilet room, water-closet compartment; or in any closet, or recess from a room, or dressing room, which does not conform to all the provisions of this act as to size of kitchens and windows opening to a street, yard or court, or in any other place in such building which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, is detrimental to the proper sanitation of such building.

Sleeping in cellar, etc., unlawful. Floor space for each occupant.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or permit or suffer any person to live or sleep in any cellar, bath or shower compartment or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet, kitchen, recess from a room or dressing room, except when such recess from a room or dressing room has not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area and complies with every other requirement of this act for rooms, or in any other place which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage, or on account of dampness or offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors, or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant, in accordance with the age of the said occupant:

Number of Persons over 12 years of age.	Number of persons under 12 years of age.	Superficial floor area required.
1 or	2.....	60 square feet
2 or	4.....	120 square feet
3 or	6.....	180 square feet
4 or	8.....	240 square feet
5 or	10.....	300 square feet
6 or	12.....	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

Lighting of hallways, etc.

§ 68. In every tenement house there shall be installed and kept burning from sunrise to sunset throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire escape egress, elevator, passageway, public water-closet compartment, or toilet room, whenever there is insufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof.

In every tenement house there shall be installed and kept burning from sunset to sunrise throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire escape egress, elevator, public water-closet compartment, or toilet room and exterior passageway on the lot.

Light colored material on walls.

§ 69. The walls and ceilings of every sleeping room in every tenement house shall (except when there is sufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof during daytime) be calcimined or painted or papered with a light-colored material, and such calcimine, paint or paper, as the case may be, shall be renewed as often as necessary to maintain the same of a light color and clean and free from vermin.

The walls of courts and shafts, unless built of light-colored materials, shall be painted of a light color or whitewashed, and such painting or whitewashing shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color.

Repapering.

§ 70. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any tenement house shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

Repairs.

§ 71. Every tenement house shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

All portions of the lot about a tenement house, including the yards, areaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways, shall be properly graded and drained; and whenever the department charged with the enforcement of this act deems it necessary for the protection of the health of the occupants of such building, or for the proper sanitation of the premises, it may require that the said lot, yards, areaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways be graveled or properly paved and surfaced with concrete, asphalt or similar materials.

Metal mosquito screening.

§ 72. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any tenement house or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

Garbage, cans.

§ 73. In every tenement house there shall be provided by the occupants, or tenants, such number of tight metal receptacles with close-fitting metal covers for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or in lieu of such metal receptacles there may be constructed a garbage chute or shaft approved by the housing department. Each of said receptacles shall be kept in a clean condition by the occupants, or tenants and in the case of a chute or shaft by the person in charge or in control of the building.

Rooms, etc., to be kept clean.

§ 74. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet room, bathroom, slop-sink, or wash-room, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any tenement house or on the lot, yard, court or any of the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

Swill, etc., not to be deposited in plumbing fixtures.

No person shall, or cause or permit any person to, deposit any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substances in any water-closet, sink, slop-hoper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom; or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room or apartment in any tenement house, or in or about the said building or premises thereof, for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

Beds kept clean.

§ 75. In every tenement house, every part of every bed, including the mattress, sheets, blankets and bedding, shall be kept in a clean, dry, and sanitary condition, free from filth, urine or other foul matter, in or upon the same; and free from the infection of lice, bedbugs or other insects.

Dangerous articles not to be kept.

§ 76. In no tenement house or any part thereof, or in the lot, yard, court or any portion thereof, shall there be kept, stored or handled any article dangerous or detrimental to life or to the health of the occupants thereof; nor shall there be stored, kept or handled any feed, hay, straw, excelsior, cotton, paper stock, rags or junk, except upon a written permit so to do, obtained from the fire commissioner or other department authorized to issue such permit. Every such permit shall be deemed to be a public record, made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the office of the fire commissioner or department issuing the same.

Animals not to be kept.

§ 77. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in any tenement house or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable be kept or maintained on the same lot, yard, court or premises of a tenement house or within twenty feet of any window or door or such building, nor shall there be hereafter constructed, altered, converted or maintained in any tenement house any public automobile garage or machine shop, or automobile repair shop.

Bakery.

No bakery or place of business in which fat is boiled shall be constructed or maintained in any tenement house, unless such bakery or place of business in which fat is boiled is constructed of approved fireproof materials, with no openings connecting into the tenement house, and so separated and arranged as to prevent odors from entering such building.

[Connection forbidden with building where liquors, drugs, paints or oils are stored, etc.]

No tenement house shall be connected with or have any door, window or transom opening to any part of a building wherein spirituous liquors, drugs, paint or oil are stored or kept for the purpose of sale or otherwise.

Housekeeper in charge.

§ 78. In every tenement house in which eight (8) or more families reside, and in which the owner does not live, there shall be a janitor, housekeeper or other responsible person, who shall reside in such tenement house or on the same lot or premises thereof and have charge of same.

Action to abate nuisance. Authority to execute order.

§ 79. In case any tenement house, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such tenement house or building or structure, or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said tenement house, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct or business in or about such tenement house or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such tenement house, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice, or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such tenement house, building, or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

Fine a lien.

§ 80. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a tenement house owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said tenement house is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

Notice of pendency of action.

§ 81. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice, and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

Name of owner, etc., filed.

§ 82. Every owner of a tenement house and every lessee of the whole house, or other person having control of a tenement house, shall file in the housing department a notice, containing his name and address, and also a description of the property, by street and number and otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same; and also the number of apartments in each house, the number of rooms in each apartment, and the number of families occupying the apartments. In case of a transfer of any tenement house, it shall be the duty of the grantee of said tenement house to file in the housing department a notice of such transfer, stating the name of the new owner, within thirty days after such transfer. In case of the devolution of the said property by will, it shall be the duty of the executor and the devisee, if more than twenty-one years of age, and in case of devolution of such property by inheritance without a will, it shall be the duty of the heirs, or in case all the heirs are under age, it shall be the duty of the administrator of the deceased owner of said property, to file in said department a notice, stating the death of said owner and the names of those who have succeeded to his interests, within thirty (30) days after the death of the decedent, in case he died intestate, and within thirty days after the probate of his will, if he died testate.

Name of agent filed.

§ 83. Every owner, agent or lessee of a tenement house shall file in the housing department a notice containing the name and address of such agent of such house, for the purpose of receiving service of process, and also a description of the property, by street and number or otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same. The name of the owner or lessee may be filed as agent for this purpose.

Index of names.

§ 84. The names and addresses filed in accordance with sections eighty-two and eighty-three hereof shall be indexed by the housing department in such a manner that all of those filed in relation to each tenement house shall be together and readily ascertainable. Said indices shall be public records, open to public inspection during business hours.

Time of service.

§ 85. Every notice or order in relation to a tenement house shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

Manner of service.

§ 86. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a tenement house, for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Minimum requirements. Supplementary laws.

§ 87. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of tenement houses. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, from enacting, from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions, or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates, or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

Repealed.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present law or ordinance of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a tenement house, the number of stories or height of such tenement house or number of apartments therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Powers of cities not abrogated.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating, diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a tenement house within said municipality, the number of stories or height of such tenement house or number of apartments therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Constitutionality.

§ 88. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

In effect, when.

§ 89. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

Repealed.

§ 90. The act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof and repealing an act entitled 'An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof' approved April 16, 1909, statutes of California of 1909, page 948," approved April 10, 1911, statutes of California, 1911, page 860, and approved June 13, 1913, statutes of California, 1913, page 737, and approved May 29, 1915, Statutes of California, page 952, and all acts amendatory thereof are hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality—Different regulations for buildings already, and those to be, erected.—The tenement house act of 1911 is not invalid on account of unjustifiable discrimination because of different regulations as to buildings already existing and those to be erected.—Matter of Stoltenberg, 165 Cal. 789, 791, 134 Pac. 971.

See, also, same case, 21 Cal. App. 722, 132 Pac. 841.

2. Same—Police power.—The legislature is authorized under the police power to regulate tenement houses for the purpose of safeguarding health and lessening the fire hazard.—Matter of Stoltenberg, 165 Cal. 789, 791, 134 Pac. 971.

See, also, same case, 21 Cal. App. 722, 132 Pac. 840.

3. Same—Improvement of private property not a municipal affair.—Matters relating to the construction of improvements on private property within a city is not a "municipal affair."—May v. Craig, 13 Cal. App. 368, 109 Pac. 842.

4. Same—Municipal building regulations—General law paramount.—The provisions of a municipal ordinance relating to building construction on private property, which merely exact additional requirements to those prescribed by state law, will be sustained, otherwise, if they conflict with state law, the latter will prevail.—May v. Craig, 13 Cal. App. 368, 109 Pac. 842.

History: Approved June 3, 1906, Stats. 1906 (ex. sess.), p. 8.

§ 1. Any act or proceeding appointed, required or limited by or in pursuance of law to be performed or taken on any day or within any time in the month of June, 1906, prior to the last day of said month, may be performed or taken on any day not later than the tenth day of July, A. D. 1906, with the same effect as if it had been performed or taken on the day or within the time wherein such act or proceeding was so appointed, required or limited to be performed. The provisions of this act shall not apply to criminal actions.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Undertaking on appeal filed in time.—Where an undertaking on appeal should have been filed in the month of June, 1906, by virtue of this act the time to file the same had not expired on July 9, 1906, when the undertaking in the present case was filed.—In re Sutro's Estate, 152 Cal. 249, 92 Pac. 486, 1027.

2. Uncertainty caused by act—Courts not to insist on technicalities.—The act caused much uncertainty as to the time for doing acts required to be done in the matter of appeals, and courts should not insist upon technicalities in that respect.—Estate of Sutro, 152 Cal. 249, 92 Pac. 486, 1027.

3. Street improvement contract executed in time.—A street improvement contract, executed about three months after the time prescribed by the Vrooman act, but within the time allowed by governor's proclamation as to holidays from April 19 to June 2, 1906, and the present act, was valid.—Rogers Co. v. Workman, 10 Cal. App. 612, 103 Pac. 154.

4. Act does not extend time of redemption by subsequent creditor.—The act does not have the effect to extend the time within which redemption may be made by a subsequent judgment creditor from a prior execution sale against the same debtor.—Summers v. Hammill, 17 Cal. App. 493, 120 Pac. 63.

ACT 5192—An act to provide for the establishment and quieting of title to real property in case of the loss or destruction of public records.

History: Approved June 16, 1906, Stats. 1906 (ex. sess.), p. 78. Amended March 6, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 163; February 3, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 6; May 9, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 135; April 6, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 80. Supplemented March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 950. (See post, Act 5193.)

Title to real property when public records are destroyed.

§ 1. Whenever the public records in the office of the county recorder of any county have been, or shall hereafter be, lost or destroyed, in whole or in any material part, by flood, fire or earthquake, any person who claims an estate of inheritance, or for life in, and who is by himself or his tenant, or other person, holding under him, in the actual and peaceable possession of any real property in such county, or of any real property now in another county but which was formerly in the county of which all or a material part of the records were lost or destroyed as aforesaid, in the event that the records so lost or destroyed included all or a material part of the public records in the office of said county recorder covering all or a material part of the time when said last mentioned real property was in the county whose records were so lost or destroyed, may bring and maintain an action in rem against all the world, in the superior court for the county in which such real property is situate, to establish his title to such property and to determine all adverse claims thereto. Any number of separate parcels of land claimed by the plaintiff may be included in the same action. [Amendment of April 6, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 80.]

Action, how commenced.

§ 2. The action shall be commenced by the filing of a verified complaint, in which the party so commencing the same shall be named as plaintiff, and the defendants shall be described as "all persons claiming any interest in, or lien upon the real property herein described, or any part thereof," and shall contain a statement of the facts enumerated in section one of this act, a particular description of such real property, and a specification of the estate, title, or interest of the plaintiff therein.

Filing of complaint and issue of summons.

§ 3. Upon the filing of the complaint, a summons must be issued under the seal of the court, which shall contain the name of the court and county in which the action is brought, the name of the plaintiff and a particular description of the real property involved, and shall be directed to "all persons claiming any interest in, or lien upon the real property herein described, or any part thereof," as defendants, and shall be substantially in the following form:

"In the superior court of the state of California in and for the county (or city and county) of"

Action No.

..... Plaintiff, vs.

All persons claiming any interest in, or lien upon, the real property herein described or any part thereof, Defendants.

The people of state of California, to all persons claiming any interest in, or lien upon, the real property herein described or any part thereof, defendants, greeting:

You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint of, plaintiff, filed with the clerk of the above-entitled court and county, within three months after the first publication of this summons, and to set forth what interest or lien, if any, you have in or upon that certain real property or any part thereof, situated in the county (or city and county) of, state of California, particularly described as follows: (Here insert description.)

And you are hereby notified that, unless you so appear and answer, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint, to wit: (Here insert a statement of the relief so demanded.)

Witness my hand and the seal of said court, this day of, A. D.

(Seal)

.....
Clerk."

Publication of summons.

§ 4. The summons shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the action is brought. The newspaper in which such publication is to be made shall be designated by an order of the court or a judge thereof to be signed and filed with the clerk. No other order for the publication of the summons shall be necessary, nor shall any affidavit therefor be required, nor need any copy of the complaint be served, except as hereinafter required. The summons shall be published at least once a week for a period of two months, and to each publication thereof shall be appended a memorandum in substance as follows:

“The first publication of this summons was made in (here insert name) newspaper on the day of A. D.,” (inserting the date).

And if the affidavit provided for in section five of this act discloses the name of any person claiming an interest in the property, or a lien thereon adverse to the plaintiff, that fact, together with the name and address (if given) of said person shall be stated in a memorandum to be appended to the summons in substance as follows:

“The following persons are said to claim an interest in, or lien upon said property adverse to plaintiff” (giving their names and addresses as above provided). A copy of the summons, together with a copy of the foregoing memoranda, shall be posted in a conspicuous place on each separate parcel of the property described in the complaint within fifteen days after the first publication of the summons.

Affidavit.

§ 5. At the time of filing the complaint, the plaintiff shall file with the same his affidavit, fully and explicitly setting forth and showing (1) the character of his estate, right, title, interest or claim in, and possession of the property, during what period the same has existed and from whom obtained; (2) whether or not he has ever made any conveyance of the property, or any part thereof, or any interest therein, and if so when and to whom; also a statement of any and all subsisting mortgages, deeds of trust, and other liens thereon; (3) that he does not know and has never been informed of any other person who claims or who may claim, any interest in, or lien upon, the property or any part thereof, adversely to him, or, if he does know or has been informed of any such person, then the name and address of such person. If the plaintiff is unable to state any one or more of the matters herein required, he shall set forth and show, fully and explicitly, the reasons for such inability. Such affidavit shall constitute a part of the judgment-roll. If the plaintiff be a corporation, the affidavit shall be made by an officer thereof. If the plaintiff be a person under guardianship the affidavit shall be made by his guardian.

Service of summons on resident of this state. Non-resident.

§ 6. If the said affidavit discloses the name of any person claiming any interest in, or lien upon, the property adverse to the plaintiff, the summons shall also be personally served upon such person if he can be found within the state, together with a copy of the complaint and a copy of said affidavit during the period of the publication of the summons; and to the copy of the summons delivered to any such person there shall be appended a copy of the memorandum provided for in section 4 hereof.

If such person resides out of this state a copy of the summons, memoranda, complaint and affidavit shall be within fifteen days after the first publication of the summons deposited in the United States postoffice, inclosed in a sealed envelope, postage prepaid, addressed to such person at the address given in the affidavit or if no address be given therein, then at the county seat at the county in which the action is brought. If such person resides within this state and could not with due diligence be found within the state, within the period of the publication of the summons, then said copies aforesaid shall be mailed to him as above provided forthwith upon the expiration of said period of publication.

Jurisdiction of court.

§ 7. Upon the completion of the publication and posting of the summons and its service upon and mailing to the persons, if any, upon whom it is hereby directed to be so specially served the court shall have full and complete jurisdiction over the plaintiff and the said property and of the person of every one having or claiming any estate, right, title or interest, in or to, or lien upon, said property, or any part thereof, and shall be deemed to have obtained the possession and control of said property for the purposes of the action, and shall have full and complete jurisdiction to render the judgment therein which is provided for in this act.

Answer to complaint.

§ 8. At any time within three months from the first publication of the summons, or within such further time, not exceeding thirty days as the court may, for good cause, grant, any person having or claiming any estate, right, title or interest, in or to, or lien upon, said property or any part thereof, may appear and make himself a party to the action by pleading to the complaint. All answers must be verified and must specifically set forth the estate, right, title, interest, or lien so claimed.

Record of pendency of action.

§ 9. The plaintiff must, at the time of filing the complaint, and every defendant claiming any affirmative relief must, at the time of filing his answer, record in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property is situated, a notice of the pendency of the action containing the object of the action or defense, and a particular description of the property affected thereby; and the recorder shall record the same in a book devoted exclusively to the recordation of such notices and, if the property is still situated in the same county in which the records were destroyed, shall enter, upon a map or plat of the parcels of land, to be kept by him for that purpose, on that part of the map or plat representing the parcel or parcels so described a reference to the date of the filing of such notice and, when recorded, to the book and page of the record thereof. [Amendment of April 6, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 80.]

Judgment not to be given by default.

§ 10. No judgment in any such action shall be given by default; but the court must require proof of the facts alleged in the complaint and other pleadings.

Judgment. Certified copy of judgment.

§ 11. The judgment shall ascertain and determine all estates, rights, titles, interests and claims in and to said property and every part thereof, whether the same be legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent, or whether the same consist of mortgages or liens of any description and shall be binding and conclusive upon every person who, at the time of the commencement of the action, had or claimed any estate, right, title, or interest in or to said property, or any part thereof, and upon every person claiming under him by title subsequent to the commencement of the action. A certified copy of the judgment in such action shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which said action was commenced, and any party or the successor in interest of any party to said action may, at his option, file for record in the office of the recorder of such county the entire judgment-roll in said action.

Rules of practice.

§ 12. Except as herein otherwise provided, all the provisions and rules of law relating to evidence, pleading, practice, new trials and appeals applicable to other civil actions shall apply to the actions hereby authorized.

At any time after the issuance of the summons, any party to the action may take depositions therein in conformity to law upon notice to the adverse party sought to be bound by such depositions and who have appeared in the action (if any) and upon notice filed with the clerk. The depositions may be used by any party against any other party giving or receiving the notice (except the clerk), subject to all just exceptions.

Numbering and indexing of actions.

§ 13. The clerk shall number consecutively in a distinct series, all actions hereby authorized and shall keep an index and register thereof, devoted exclusively to such actions.

Judgment entered prevents further action.

§ 14. Whenever judgment in an action hereby authorized shall have been entered as to any real property, no other action relative to the same property or any part thereof maintained under this act shall be tried until proof shall first have been made to the court that all persons who appeared in the first action or their successors in interest have been personally served with the papers mentioned in section 6 of this act, either within or without this state more than one month before the time to plead expired.

Executor, guardian, etc., may maintain action.

§ 15. An executor, administrator or guardian or other person holding the possession of property in the right of another, may maintain, as plaintiff, and may appear and defend in the action herein provided for.

County includes what.

§ 16. The word "county" whenever used in this act includes and applies to a consolidated city and county.

Remedies deemed cumulative.

§ 17. The remedies provided for by this act shall be deemed cumulative, and in addition to any other remedy now or hereafter provided by law for quieting or establishing title to real property.

Actions, when to be commenced.

This section was repealed in 1913, p. 135. The repealing section read: "It being the intention of the legislature of the state of California to remove the limit of time within which actions may be commenced under the provisions of this act." The time originally allowed to bring suit had been extended in 1909, p. 163, and in 1911, p. 6.

§ 19. This act shall be in force thirty days after its passage.

Filing papers nunc pro tunc in suits to quiet title under the McEnerney act, see Kerr's Cyc. Code Civ. Proc., § 1046a.

Constitutionality and construction.—The constitutionality of this act was upheld in Title Document and Restoration Co. v. Kerrigan, 150 Cal. 289, 119 Am. St. Rep. 199, 8 L. R. A. (N. S.) 682, 88 Pac. 356. This case was followed in American Land Co. v. Zeiss, decided by United States District Judge Van Fleet on September 14, 1908. This latter case was appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals, which referred the question of the constitutionality of the statute to the United States supreme court. The supreme court of the United States upheld the constitutionality of the act. See American Land Co. v. Zeiss, 219 U. S. 47, 55 L. ed. 82, 31 Sup. Ct. Rep. 200.

Consult, also, Robinson v. Kerrigan, 151 Cal. 40, 121 Am. St. Rep. 90, 12 Ann. Cas. 829, 90 Pac. 129, and Hoffman v. Superior Court, 151 Cal. 388, 90 Pac. 931.

Character of possession: Lofstad v. Murasky, 152 Cal. 64, 91 Pac. 1008.

Right of vendee to return of deposit on destruction of records: Cabrera v. Payne, 10 Cal. App. 675, 103 Pac. 176.

See, also, generally, Kaufman v. All Persons, 16 Cal. App. 388, 117 Pac. 586.

1. Constitutionality—Due process of law.—The act affords such safeguards to unknown owners as satisfy the due process clause of the constitution.—American Land Co. v. Zeiss, 219 U. S. 47, 55 L. ed. 82, 31 Sup. Ct. 200.

Same case: 191 Fed. 125, 111 C. C. A. 605.

2. Same—Same.—Undisclosed and unknown claimants are dangerous to stability of titles to real estate, and are not deprived of due process by being compelled to establish title by judicial proceeding on adequate published notice, if given opportunity to be heard.—American Land Co. v. Zeiss, 219 U. S. 47, 55 L. ed. 82, 31 Sup. Ct. Rep. 200.

Same case: 191 Fed. 125, 111 C. C. A. 605.

3. Same—Same.—See, also, Priest v. Trustees, etc., 232 U. S. 615, 58 L. ed. 757, 34 Sup. Ct. Rep. 443.

4. Same—Same.—The act is not violative of due process of law either because of the service provided for or because the procedure is not judicial.—Title, etc., Co. v. Kerrigan, 150 Cal. 289, 119 Am. St. Rep. 199, 8 L. R. A. (N. S.) 682, 88 Pac. 356.

5. Same—Same.—See Mills v. Denver, etc., Co., 198 Fed. 142; Riley v. Pearson, 120 Minn. 210, L. R. A. 1916D, 7, 139 N. W. 364; Rodriguez v. La Cueva Ranch Co., 17 N. M. 257, 134 Pac. 231; Hunt v. Hay, 214 N. Y. 582, 108 N. E. 852; In re Grand Boulevard, etc., 212 N. Y. 544, 106 N. E. 632; Barkenthien v. People, 212 N. Y. 44, 105 N. E. 810.

6. Same—Not local or special.—The act is not local or special, either because the proceedings are distinctive, or because they are limited in their application to cases where the record was destroyed by the fire of 1906.—Title, etc., Co. v. Kerrigan, 150 Cal. 289, 119 Am. St. Rep. 199, 8 L. R. A. (N. S.) 682, 88 Pac. 356.

7. Same—Not special legislation.—The act is not unconstitutional as special legislation because it divides property owners into two classes, those with actual possession and those having constructive possession.—Lofstad v. Murasky, 152 Cal. 64, 91 Pac. 1008.

8. Same—Section 1, article III, constitution.—The act is not violative of section 1, article III, of the constitution, on the ground that the action is not judicial and not within the power of that department of the governmental system.—Title, etc., Co. v. Kerrigan, 150 Cal. 289, 119 Am. St. Rep. 199, 8 L. R. A. (N. S.) 682, 88 Pac. 356.

9. Purpose of act.—The purpose of the act is to quiet the title existing at the time the action is commenced against the claims of all persons.—Davidson v. All Persons, etc., 18 Cal. App. 723, 124 Pac. 570.

10. Action in rem—Judgment conclusive.—The action is in rem and the judgment, if valid on its face, is absolutely conclusive of all private rights.—Berton v. All Persons, etc., 176 Cal. 610, 170 Pac. 151.

11. Burden of showing title on plaintiff.—A plaintiff in a McEnerney suit can not prevail unless he shows title in himself, and, if he has no title, he can not complain that some other person without title asserts an interest in the property.—Hart v. All Persons, etc., 20 Cal. App. 664, 148 Pac. 236.

12. "Estate of inheritance"—Grantor of deed of trust given for security has such estate.—The grantor of a deed of trust given as security retains an "estate of inheritance" within the meaning of the act, notwithstanding the provisions of sections 863-866 of the Civil Code.—Charles A. Warren Co. v. San Francisco Savings Union, 153 Cal. 771, 96 Pac. 807.

13. Same—Same—Section 5 implies authority to bring the suit.—The language of section 5 implies that such a person is entitled, under the act, to bring a suit to quiet title.—Charles A. Warren Co. v. San Francisco Savings Union, 153 Cal. 771, 96 Pac. 807.

14. Owner of reversionary interest in fee.—Where land granted to the city of San Francisco for ninety-nine years, under the act of March 26, 1851, and afterwards the state's reversion in fee was conveyed to plaintiff's prior grantor, under the act of May 18, 1853, plaintiff held such an estate in the land as entitled him to bring a suit under the act to establish his title, though the technical relation of landlord and tenant did not exist between plaintiff and these in possession under the term.—Potrero, etc., Co. v. All Persons, etc., 158 Cal. 731, 112 Pac. 303.

15. "Persons," means neither the state nor the city and county of San Francisco.—The word "persons" does not apply to the state, nor to the city and county of San Francisco, so as to determine rights in a dedicated street.—Berton v. All Persons, etc., 176 Cal. 610, 170 Pac. 151.

16. Affidavit—Insufficient.—An affidavit averring that plaintiff did not have physical possession of the premises, that his only possession was the constructive possession accompanying the legal title, and that such constructive title had never been disturbed, was insufficient to show actual possession.—Lofstad v. Murasky, 152 Cal. 64, 91 Pac. 1008.

17. Same—Same.—An affidavit averring that the title to the property was conveyed by the state to one P., and thereafter, through divers mesne conveyances to plaintiff, who was the owner and holder thereof, and has been for the last ten years or more, was held not to show how long plaintiff had owned and enjoyed the property, nor describe or characterize the person from whom title was obtained.—Potrero, etc., Co. v. All Persons, etc., 158 Cal. 731, 112 Pac. 303.

18. Same—Sufficient.—An affidavit averring simple possession, without describing its character, held sufficient to give the court jurisdiction, the word "character" in section 5, having no reference to possession.—Cohar v. Cabaniss, 161 Cal. 548, 119 Pac. 911.

19. Same—Same.—An affidavit, averring plaintiff's interest and possession, showing who were her grantors, and under what decree she became entitled to possession, held sufficient under the provisions of section 5 of the act.—Soher v. Cabaniss, 161 Cal. 548, 119 Pac. 911.

20. Same—Same.—The affidavit in the present case held to be sufficient.—Hynes v. All Persons, etc., 19 Cal. App. 185, 125 Pac. 253.

21. Same—Not necessary to set forth every probative fact.—It is sufficient that the affidavit contains such a full and complete statement of plaintiff's interest as will enable the defendants to verify the same, prevent fraud, and safeguard their rights, and it is not necessary to set forth every probative fact relating to plaintiff's estate.—Hynes v. All Persons, etc., 19 Cal. App. 185, 125 Pac. 253.

22. Same—Description of property.—Where the summons and complaint particularly described the property, it is sufficient if the affidavit embraces the description by reference.—Hynes v. All Persons, etc., 19 Cal. App. 185, 125 Pac. 253.

23. Same—Showing of diligence not required to give—Affidavit sufficient.—The act does not require a showing of diligence in making inquiries to ascertain if there are others claiming interests in the property in order to give the court jurisdiction, and an affidavit of plaintiff that he did not know and had never been informed that any other person claimed an interest adverse to him was sufficient.—Hoffman v. Superior Court, 151 Cal. 386, 190 Pac. 939.

24. Adverse possession not required to be proved.—Adverse possession need not be proved as a prerequisite to the relief prayed.—Larsen v. All Persons, etc., 165 Cal. 407, 132 Pac. 751.

25. Same—Actual possession and occupancy sufficient against a trespasser.—Actual possession and occupancy under claim of ownership, for any period, enables the possessor to quiet title against a trespasser, or one establishing no title in himself.—Hart v. All Persons, etc., 26 Cal. App. 664, 148 Pac. 236.

26. Possession held sufficient.—The fact that the lot was not occupied after the fire, but that a watchman visited the ruins of the building, that had formerly stood thereon daily, until September 21, 1906, can not be said to show such lack of actual possession as to prevent the plaintiff from bringing a McEnerney suit.—Vanderbilt v. All Persons, etc., 163 Cal. 507, 126 Pac. 158.

27. Lis pendens.—The notice required by the McEnerney act was the lis pendens provided by the Code of Civil Procedure.—Davidson v. All Persons, etc., 18 Cal. App. 723, 124 Pac. 570.

28. Rules of practice applicable to appeals in other civil cases, apply.—The rules of practice relating to appeals under the McEnerney act are those applicable to other civil actions.—Potrero, etc., Co. v. All Persons, 155 Cal. 371, 101 Pac. 12.

29. Service of summons—Equal to personal service.—Service of summons as provided in the act is as effective as personal service.—Bradford v. Trapp, (Cal. App.) 193 Pac. 584.

30. Summons—Omission of names of adverse parties.—The omission of the names and addresses of adverse claimants from the summons was held not fatal where the only adverse party mentioned in the affidavit appeared and disclaimed any interest in the property.—Hynes v. All Persons, etc., 19 Cal. App. 185, 125 Pac. 253.

31. Default—Attempt to open.—Attempt to open default McEnerney decree.—Boland v. All Persons, etc., 160 Cal. 486, 117 Pac. 547; Osmont v. All Persons, 165 Cal. 537, 133 Pac. 480.

32. Same — Motion granted. — Motion granted in the following cases: Davidson v. All Persons, etc., 18 Cal. App. 723, 124 Pac. 570.

33. Judgment must be several and independent. — The judgment under the McEnerney act must be several and independent.—Potrero, etc., Co. v. All Persons, 155 Cal. 371, 101 Pac. 12.

34. Action to set aside decree—Complaint insufficient.—A complaint in equity seeking to set aside a McEnerney decree on the ground of fraud and the ignorance of the alleged actual owner, plaintiff's predecessor in interest, which alleges such ignorance on information and belief merely, is insufficient.—Dowling v. Spring Valley Water Co., 174 Cal. 218, 219, 162 Pac. 894.

35. Same—Same.—In a suit in equity to set aside a McEnerney decree, an allegation that the assessment rolls of the county showed the land assessed to plaintiff's predecessor does not justify the allegation on information and belief that fraud was committed by defendant's agents when they deposited in the McEnerney suit that they knew of no adverse claimants.—Dowling v. Spring Valley Water Co., 174 Cal. 218, 221, 162 Pac. 894.

36. Same—Fraud must be pleaded and proved—Plea on information and belief insufficient.—Where it is sought in equity to set aside a McEnerney decree on the ground of fraud, such fraud must be clearly pleaded and proved, and it is not sufficient to plead it on information and belief unless the facts upon which such belief is founded is also pleaded.—Dowling v. Spring Valley Water Co., 174 Cal. 218, 221, 162 Pac. 894.

McENERNEY ACT, SUPPLEMENTARY ACT.

ACT 5193—An act supplementary to the act approved June 16, 1906, entitled “An act to provide for the establishment and quieting of title to real property in case of the loss or destruction of public records,” providing for the making and recordation of notice of ownership or claim to real property.

History: Approved March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 950. Supplementary to McEnerney act. (See ante, Act 5192.)

Claim of title to real property when records are lost.

§ 1. In any case where the title to real property might be established or quieted under the provisions of the act to which this act is supplementary, any person or corporation who is or claims to be the owner of such real property or of any interest therein or lien thereon may, by himself or by his agent, duly authorized by letter of attorney theretofore recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county or city and county where such property is situated, sign, verify and file for record in the office of the said county recorder a notice in substantially the following form, to wit:

“Notice of ownership and claim to real property under an act of the legislature of the state of California approved (here insert the date of the passage of this act), 1907.

“Notice is hereby given that (here insert name of claimant), whose residence is at (here insert street and number, city or town, county and state of residence), is the owner of an interest in the real property situated in the (here insert name of city or town if the property be located in a city or town), county of (here insert name of county or city and county in which property is located), state of California, described as follows, to wit: (here insert a particular description of real property)

“The character of the interest in said real property owned by the claimant is (here insert description of the character of interest in or lien upon the real property) and the said interest was obtained from (here insert the name of the party from whom said interest was obtained), and at the time and in the manner following (here insert time at which and manner in which said interest was acquired)

Said notice shall be signed by the claimant or by his agent, as hereinbefore provided, and shall be verified by the oath of the party signing it, to the effect that all of the statements therein contained are true to the knowledge of said party.

Duty of recorder.

§ 2. Upon the filing of said notice for recordation the said recorder shall forthwith record said notice in a book devoted exclusively to the recordation of such notices, and shall properly index the same with reference to the name of the claimant, and shall enter upon a map or plat of the parcels of land in the county (which said map or plat shall be kept by him for that purpose and be devoted exclusively thereto), on that part of the map or plat representing the parcel or parcels described in said notice, a reference to the date of the filing of said notice for recordation, and, when recorded, to the book and page of the record thereof. From and after three days after the filing of said notice for record, all persons who may thereafter begin actions under the provisions of the act to which this act is supplementary, shall be deemed to have notice of the facts stated in said notice, but neither the filing of said notice for record nor its recordation shall be deemed to give constructive notice to any other person or for any other purpose than as herein prescribed. The original of said notice shall remain on file in the office of said county recorder.

In actions relating to real property, claimants in notice must be named.

§ 3. Any person who, from and after three days after the date of the filing of such notice for record, shall begin any action relating to the real property described in such notice, to perfect or establish his title thereto, or to any part thereof, or any interest therein, under the provisions of the act to which this act is supplementary, must name the claimant in such notice, or any person who is a successor in interest of such claimant under a subsequently duly recorded written instrument, judgment or decree, as a party said to claim an interest in or lien upon the property adverse to the plaintiff in such action in the affidavit and in the memorandum appended to the summons provided for in the act to which this act is supplementary, and must cause such claimant, or such successor in interest of such claimant, by virtue of a subsequently duly recorded written instrument, judgment or decree, to be duly served with summons in such action, in the manner provided by the act to which this act is supplementary, otherwise neither the said action nor any judgment or decree which may be given or made therein shall in any wise affect the title or interest in the property described in such notice, owned by the claimant named therein at the time of the filing thereof, or by any successor in interest of such claimant by virtue of a written instrument, judgment or decree duly recorded subsequently to the filing of such notice and prior to the commencement of the action; provided, however, that the failure to name said claimant or such successor in interest, as aforesaid, in said affidavit or memorandum, or to serve such claimant or such successor in interest, shall not affect the validity of the judgment or decree rendered in such action as to any other persons, but such judgment or decree shall be valid and binding upon all persons except such claimant or such successor in interest.

Executor may record notice.

§ 4. An executor, administrator or guardian, or other person holding the possession of property in the right of another, may make, sign, verify and file for record the notice and affidavit in this act provided for on behalf of the estate or interest which he represents.

Act supplementary to act of 1906.

§ 5. This act shall be supplementary to the act approved June 16, 1906, entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and quieting of title to real property in case of the loss or destruction of public records."

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

TORRENS LAND TITLE AND TRANSFER ACT. "LAND TITLE LAW."

ACT 5194—An act for the certification of land titles and the simplification of the transfer of real estate.

History: Approved March 17, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 138. Entire act amended by an initiative measure, known as the "Land Title Law," at the general election of November 3, 1914, and approved. In effect December 19, 1914, Stats. 1915, p. 1932.

The amended act is as follows:

LAND TITLE LAW.

[County recorders to be registrars of title.]

§ 1. Recorders and ex officio recorders in the several counties of this state shall be registrars of titles in their respective counties, and their deputies shall be deputy registrars. All laws relative to recorders and their deputies, including their compensation, clerk hire, and expenses, shall extend to registrars and their deputies, so far as the same may be applicable, except as otherwise provided in this act. Registrars of titles shall be county officers within the meaning of the laws of this state.

[Official bonds.]

§ 2. The official bonds now required by law to be given by recorders before entering upon the discharge of their duties, shall also apply to and cover the faithful discharge of their duties as registrars, and of their deputies, whether such additional condition be specifically provided for in such bonds or not; provided, however, that recovery on such bond be had only for damages sustained through the gross or willful negligence or gross or willful neglect of duty or gross or willful mismanagement on the part of such recorder or registrar or any of his deputies.

[Deputies.]

§ 3. Deputies may perform any and all duties of the registrar, in the name of the registrar, and the acts of such deputies shall be held to be the acts of the registrar.

[Registrars and deputies prohibited from practicing law.]

§ 4. Registrars and deputy registrars are prohibited from practicing law, or acting as attorneys or counselors at law, or having as a partner a lawyer or any one who acts as such, or from acting as searches of title under this act, excepting only such deputies as may be appointed as attorneys pursuant to the provisions of section 108 of this act.

[Land brought under operation of act.]

§ 5. All land may be brought under the operation of this act by the owner or owners of any estate or interest therein, whether legal or equitable (other than an undivided share or an easement) by filing with the county clerk his or her or their verified petition to the superior court of the county within which such land is situated, which petition shall set forth the following facts, to wit: The full name, occupation, residence, and post-office address of the applicant or applicants, and where any applicant appears by any representative because of any disability, also, the full name, occupation, residence and post-office address of the person so representing the applicant and the reasons for his so acting; if the application is by a corporation, its name, when and where incorporated, its principal place of business and the names and post-office addresses of its president and secretary, or if none, its executive officers; whether or not the applicant is married and if married, the full name and residence of the husband or wife; and if unmarried, whether he or she has been married, and if so, how the marriage relation terminated, and if the marriage relation was terminated by annulment or divorce, where and by what court; that each of the applicants is of the full age of twenty-one years and free from any disability, or if a minor or under disability, his age and the nature of such disability; a description of the land; the value at which the land and permanent improvements, if any, were assessed on the last assessment for county taxation; and if the application is by more than one person, any one of whom claims title in severalty to any part of the land described in the petition, the particular part of the land to which each petitioner severally claims title; a statement of the estate or interest which each applicant has or claims and whether or not the same is community property or is subject to a homestead or to any easement, lien or incumbrance and if so the name and post-office address, if known, of each holder thereof, the nature and the amount of the same, and if recorded, the book and page of the record; a statement of whether or not the land is occupied and if so, the full name and post-office address of each occupant and what interest he has or claims; a statement of any other person who has any estate or claims any interest in the or any part of the land, in law or equity, in possession, remainder, reversion or expectancy and the names and post-office addresses, if known, of every such person together with the names and post-office addresses of all the owners of adjoining lands, so far as the same can be ascertained upon diligent inquiry. If the application is by a husband or wife and the property is community property or is subject to a homestead, both spouses must join in the application; persons who collectively claim to own the entire legal estate in fee simple to the or any part of the land may join in the petition; a corporation may apply by its duly authorized agent; the estate of a deceased person by the administrator or executor and a minor or other person under disability by his legally appointed guardian, but the person in whose behalf the application is made shall be named as applicant. Land constituting a single parcel and lying partly in two or more counties may be included in one application, which may be made in either county in which the land lies, but the certificate issued therefor must be filed with the registrars of all the counties within which such land is situate.

[Identification of land in municipality by map, etc.]

§ 6. If said land is part of a city, town or subdivision of which a map or plat made and verified as required by the then existing laws of the state of California or an official map is on file in the office of the county recorder and upon such map the land appears in such manner that it can be identified thereon by reference, the application may refer to such map. In all cases where said land can not be identified by reference to such map or where no such map is on file in the office of the county recorder, a plat or plan of survey of the land made by the county or a licensed surveyor must accompany the application. Such survey must show the boundaries of the land and its relation to adjoining lands and streets and any encroachments if any. The court may, in any case, before decree, require a survey to be made for the purpose of determining exact boundaries. If the application describes the land as bounded by a public or private way, it shall state whether or not the applicant claims any and what land within the limits of the way and whether the applicant desires to have the line of the way determined.

If it appears by the petition that the applicant, either by himself or by himself and his predecessors in interest, has been in the actual, exclusive and adverse possession of the or any part of the land described, continuously for more than five years next preceding the filing of the petition claiming to own the same in fee against the world, and that he has or that he and his predecessors in interest have paid all taxes of every kind legally levied or assessed against such property during said period, the petition must then also state the character of such possession and the applicant must prove the same to the satisfaction of the court on the hearing. Each application must be accompanied by an abstract of title to all land which does not appear by said petition to have been adversely held as hereinabove provided. When the title to the or any of the land described has been previously determined by a final decree of a court of competent jurisdiction, no abstract regarding the same need antedate such decree.

[Titles previously insured.]

When the title to the or any of the land described has been previously insured by a corporation transacting business in insuring titles to real estate and a policy of insurance has been issued by said corporation and at the time of the issuance of said policy, said company had fully complied with all laws of the state of California, such policy may be made the starting point of any abstract to be filed under the provisions of this act and the abstract of title so to be presented need only commence at the date of such title insurance policy and the verification thereof hereinafter provided need only apply to the portion of said abstract subsequent to the date of said title insurance policy, but must include all defects or exceptions stated in said policy.

[Abstracts verified.]

All abstracts herein referred to must be verified by the searcher making the same, as in proceedings in partition, or if made by a corporation, by the certificate of such corporation, under its seal. Where actual, exclusive and adverse possession and payment of taxes is alleged but not proved to the satisfaction of the court on the hearing, the court may require an abstract of the title as herein provided to be furnished which shall then be used in the same manner as if such abstract had been filed with the application.

[Bond of abstracters who have not fully complied with law.]

No person, nor any corporation which, at the time has not fully complied with the provisions of the laws of the state of California, shall be authorized to make or furnish such abstracts of title until after entering into an undertaking with two or more sufficient sureties to the people of the state of California in a sum not less than $10,000.00, which may be increased from time to time by order of the court whenever it shall appear to such court that by reason of the number of abstracts of title which any one person or corporation is making or furnishing under one bond, the state is not sufficiently secured thereby.

[Recording of bonds.]

Such bond shall be recorded in the record of official bonds in the recorder's office of the county. Said bond shall be conditioned to pay all damages and costs which the state may sustain by reason of any error or insufficiency in said or any of said abstracts. The sureties on such bond shall qualify as provided in section ten hundred and fifty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure and the sufficiency of the bond and of the sureties thereon shall be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county where such bond is to be filed. The sureties upon such bond may become severally liable in portions of not less than five hundred dollars each, making in the aggregate at least two sureties for the whole sum.

[Endorsement by clerk of time of presentation.]

Upon any petition hereunder being filed, the clerk shall immediately endorse thereon the exact time of its presentation and shall enter the same in a book kept for that purpose known as the land register docket.

[No mortgage, lien, charge or lesser estate than fee simple to be registered unless the fee simple is first registered.]

§ 7. No mortgage, lien, charge, or lesser estate than a fee simple shall be registered unless the fee simple to the same land is first registered. It shall not be an objection to bringing land under this act, that the estate or interest of the applicant is subject to any outstanding lesser estate, mortgage, lien, or charge; but every such lesser estate, mortgage, lien, or charge shall be noted upon the certificate of title and the duplicate thereof, and the title or interest certified shall be subject only to such estates, mortgages, liens, and charges as are so noted, except as herein provided.

[Registration of tax title, when.]

§ 8. No title derived through sale for any tax or assessment shall be entitled to be first registered, unless it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court upon the hearing of the application that the applicant or those through whom he claims title, have been in the actual, exclusive and adverse possession of the land under such title at least five successive years and have paid all taxes and assessments legally levied thereon during said period. But the foregoing shall not apply to any title derived through sale by the state of California of any property which has been sold by the state for taxes and held by the state for the period provided by law.

[Amendment of petition.]

§ 9. The application may be amended only by petition verified as in the case of the original. Such amendment may be ordered by the court on its own motion, or upon the motion of any person interested in the proceedings.

[Filing of application sufficient notice to subsequent purchasers, etc., without lis pendens.]

§ 10. The filing of the application in the office of the county clerk shall be sufficient notice of the same to all subsequent purchasers or incumbrancers without the filing of a lis pendens in the office of the recorder.

[Examination of abstracts by court.]

§ 11. The court shall, in its discretion, where one or more abstracts are presented with the petition, examine them itself or refer the same as provided in section 18 of this act. If it shall appear to the court from an examination of the abstract or abstracts or from the report of the examiner of titles or from the petition where no abstracts are required, that the title to the land described in the application appears to be substantially as alleged, the court shall order notice to be given as provided in this act.

[Notice of petition, etc.]

§ 12. When the court shall order notice given, a notice must be issued, under the seal of the court, which shall contain the name of the court and the county in which the action is brought, the name or names of the applicant or applicants and a particular description of the land involved, which notice shall be directed to all parties appearing by the petition or the petition and abstract or by the report of the examiner of titles, if any, to have any interest in the land or any part thereof and which notice shall contain a statement that the petition has been filed by the applicant or applicants for the registration of the title to the land described therein as provided by this act and praying for a decree declaring the applicant or applicants to be the owner in fee of such land in accordance with the prayer of said petition and which notice shall direct all whom it may concern to appear and answer said petition within ten days after personal service if served within the county or within thirty days if served elsewhere and that otherwise the court will grant said petition and direct registration of the title to said land in accordance with the terms of this act and that said person so served will be forever barred from disputing the same. When the notice is issued, service thereof shall be made as follows: In all cases said notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county, to be designated by the court, for four successive weeks; if the notice be published in a daily newspaper, publication therein once a week for four successive weeks shall be sufficient. All parties who have not joined in the petition or assented thereto in writing and who appear by the petition or petition and abstract or report of the examiner of titles to be interested in the fee, all occupants named in the petition and the husband and wife of the applicant, if married, shall be personally served with a copy of the notice, attached to a copy of the petition, if they reside in the state and can, with reasonable diligence, be found and served therein. All owners of adjoining lands who have not given their written consent to the hearing of the petition and who reside in the state and can, with reasonable diligence, be found and served therein, shall be served with a copy of said notice, without a copy of said petition, personally.

[Notice to non-residents.]

As to all persons who have not joined in the petition or who have not in writing assented to the hearing thereof, who do not reside in the state or who can not, with reasonable diligence, be found and served therein, a copy of such notice, without a copy of the petition, shall, within thirty days after the first publication of such notice, be sent to such party at his last known place of residence, by mail, postage prepaid and if his last known place of residence can not with reasonable diligence be ascertained, then such notice must be mailed to him in care of the county clerk of the county in which the land is situated; provided, however, that as to all such persons so to be served by mail who appear by the petition or petition and abstract or report of the examiner of titles to be interested in the fee, a copy of the petition shall be attached to the copy of the notice mailed to them as herein provided; provided, further, that no copy of abstract, order or map need be served with any notice.

[Appearance and objection by person claiming interest.]

All persons who claim an interest may appear and object to the granting of the application and if such objection is sustained, the costs of the same shall be paid by the applicant; if not, by the person so objecting. The time for appearance shall be ten days after personal service within the county; thirty days after personal service out of the county and in the state; all persons not required by this section to be served personally shall have sixty days after the first publication of such notice within which to appear.

[Assent of person claiming interest.]

All persons having or claiming any interest in the land or any part thereof may assent in writing to the registration thereof and the person thus assenting need not be named as a defendant in the registration proceeding, or, if already named as a defendant, need not be served with notice therein. Such assent shall be executed and acknowledged in the manner now required by law for the execution and acknowledgment of a deed and shall be filed with the clerk of the court.

[Guardians, appointment of.]

§ 13. Upon the petition of the applicant or of any person interested in the proceedings, the court shall appoint a disinterested person to act as guardian ad litem for minors and other persons under disability and for all persons not in being who may appear to have any interest in or lien upon the land. If the petition prays to have the line of any public way determined, notice shall be given to the mayor or other presiding officer of any incorporated city or town in which such way is situated or if such way be situated outside of any incorporated city or town, then to the chairman or presiding officer of the board of supervisors of the county in which such way lies, by delivering to such mayor or other presiding officer or to the chairman or presiding officer of such board of supervisors a copy of such notice personally. If the land borders on a navigable stream or on an arm of the sea or if it otherwise appears from the application or the proceedings that the state may have a claim adverse to that of the applicant, notice shall be given in the same manner to the attorney general. The court may also cause such other or further notice of the application to be given as it may deem necessary and proper.

[Hearing of petition.]

§ 14. After the notice required to be given by this act has been given and the time for all persons to appear has expired, the court shall set the petition down for hearing upon notice to all persons who have appeared as is required in other civil actions and shall proceed to determine the title to all the land described in the petition and of all persons who may have any interest therein or in any part thereof and whether or not the or any part of the land, the title to which is so determined is the separate or community property of the party found to be the owner and whether or not the title to the or any part of the land is held in any special capacity and shall make, give and enter a decree confirming the title of the person found to be the owner whether he be the applicant or any other person who may, in the proceeding, ask to have his title registered and shall order the registration of all such land.

[Trial of issues by jury.]

Upon the trial of any issue of fact raised by the verified pleading of any person claiming by such pleading to have an interest in the or any part of the land or appurtenances, such issue shall, upon demand of any party appearing, be submitted to a jury in the same manner and to the same extent as such issue can, under general law and the constitution of the state, be submitted to a jury trial in like matters and, when so submitted, the verdict of the jury shall have the same force and effect as is provided by general law upon the submission of like issues to a jury.

[Recitals of decree.]

§ 15. Every decree shall state whether or not the owner of the land directed to be registered is married or unmarried and, if married, the full name of the spouse; if the owner is under a disability, it shall state the nature of the disability and the person acting for him and the source of his authority and if a minor, it shall state his age and in whose custody his estate then is; it shall also contain an accurate description of the land to which the court shall determine title and shall set forth the estate of the owner and also, in such a manner as to show their relative priority, all particular estates, mortgages, easements, liens, attachments and other incumbrances, including the rights of husband or wife, if any, to which the land or the owner's estate therein is subject and may contain any other facts properly to be determined by the court. The decree shall be stated in a form convenient for transcription upon the certificate of title and any lien or other charge against the property, if recorded, shall be referred to by book and page of the record.

[Appeals.]

Any party aggrieved by such decree may appeal therefrom in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in civil actions; such decree shall be filed with the clerk and a certified copy thereof filed with the registrar, who shall thereupon issue a certificate of title to each person declared by said decree to be the owner of any parcel of land in severalty and said registrar's act in filing said decree and issuing said certificates shall have the effect of bringing said land under the operation of this act as herein provided as of the date of filing of the petition. Said certificate shall contain a description of the property registered and shall also show the character of the ownership and whether or not the land is separate or community property and if community the names of both husband and wife, the nature, amount and order of the liens and incumbrances and other charges against the same and any other interest or condition which shall be found to exist by the decree.

[Decree in rem. Effect of decree.]

§ 16. A decree of the court ordering registration shall be in the nature of a decree in rem, shall forever quiet the title to the land therein ordered registered and shall be final and conclusive as against the rights of all persons, known and unknown, to assert any estate, interest, claim, lien or demand of any kind or nature whatsoever, against the land so ordered registered or any part thereof, except only as in this act provided.

[Inclusion of decree in proceedings to quiet title, partition land or administer estates of deceased persons.]

§ 17. Whenever any proceeding is hereafter commenced in the superior court of any county by any person or persons either for themselves or in a representative capacity, wherein it is sought to quiet, establish title to, partition land or to administer upon any estate of a deceased person where the estate consists in whole or in part of land, and in which proceeding the court has or can acquire jurisdiction of such land in rem, any decree rendered in any such proceeding quieting or establishing the title to any land or partitioning or distributing land may order such land registered under this act whenever, in such proceeding, notice of the intention to include an order of registration thereof in any such decree shall have been published and service thereof made on all persons interested in the manner required by this act and when, in the application for such notice, in such proceeding, the facts required to be set forth by sections 5 and 6 of this act are alleged.

[Appointment of examiner of titles. Shall be an attorney in good standing.]

§ 18. Upon the filing of the petition or thereafter, the court may, in its discretion, appoint an examiner of titles to whom any abstract or abstracts may be referred for examination. Such examiner of titles shall be an attorney in good standing, skilled in the examination of titles and admitted to practice before the supreme court of the state for at least five years preceding his appointment. The compensation of such examiner shall be agreed upon between the applicant or other parties and the examiner or if not agreed upon shall be fixed by the court and such compensation shall be paid by the person or persons in whose favor registration is granted as a part of the cost of the proceedings. More than one examiner may be appointed in any county if desired.

[Duties of examiner of title.]

§ 19. Whenever an examiner of titles is appointed and any abstract is referred to him for examination, he shall proceed to examine into the title of the land described in the application and shall investigate all facts pertaining to the title which shall be brought to his notice and shall file a written report with the court together with a certificate of his opinion upon the title. No decree shall be entered by the court in cases where a reference is had, until the written opinion of such examiner shall be filed. The court shall not be bound by any report of such examiner but may require other or further proof.

[Withdrawal of application and return of abstracts of title, etc.]

§ 20. Any applicant may, upon payment of all fees due, withdraw his application at any time prior to the hearing thereof and upon the written request of such applicant and the order of the court, the clerk shall return to the applicant all abstracts of titles, deeds, and other instruments, except depositions or affidavits deposited by him for the purpose of supporting his application.

[In case of death or disability of applicant, proceedings continued by representative or successor in interest.]

§ 21. In case of the death or any disability of the applicant, the court, on motion, may allow the proceeding to be continued by or against his representative or successor in interest. In case of any other transfer of interest the proceeding may be continued in the name of the original applicant, or the court may allow the person to whom the transfer is made to be substituted in the proceeding.

[Duties of registrar upon filing decree.]

§ 22. Immediately upon the filing with the registrar of the certified copy of the decree ordering registration, he shall proceed to register the title in accordance with the directions of the decree and issue a certificate or certificates of title in the manner therein directed and the registrar shall also immediately make an entry in a book kept by him for that purpose showing the name of the person to whom the certificate was issued, its number, the day, hour and minute of its issuance, the name of the person to whom the duplicate certificate was delivered and the book and page where the original certificate is entered or recorded. In said book there shall be provided a place for the signature of the person to whom a certificate is issued upon giving receipt for such certificate as provided for by section 30 of this act and where in cases where such receipt is not signed in the presence of the registrar, the same may be pasted. Such receipts when so signed and witnessed or acknowledged shall be prima facie evidence of the genuineness of the owner's signature.

[Certificate of title.]

§ 23. Every first and subsequent certificate of title shall be in duplicate and numbered consecutively and bear date the year, month, day, hour, and minute of its issue, and shall be under the hand and official seal of the registrar. One copy of said certificate shall be retained by the registrar and be known as the original, and the other shall be delivered to the owner, or person acting for him, and be known as the duplicate. The certificate shall state whether the owner, except in the case of a corporation, executor, administrator, assignee, or other trustee, is married or not married, and, if married, the name of the husband or wife. If the owner is a minor, it shall state his age; if under any other disability, the nature of the disability. If issued to an executor or administrator, the certificate shall show the name of the deceased testator or intestate; if to an assignee in insolvency or trustee in bankruptcy the name of the insolvent or bankrupt. The registrar shall note at the end of the certificate, original and duplicate, in such manner as to show and preserve their priorities, the particulars of all estates, mortgages, liens, incumbrances, and charges to which the owner's title is subject.

[Form.]

§ 24. No particular form of certificate of title is required, but the same may be, subject to such changes as the case may require, substantially in the following form:

State of California,
County of..... } ss.
A. B. (state occupation and residence, giving street and number), state of California (if an administrator, give the name of the deceased; if a minor, give his age; if under other disability, state its nature), married to (name of husband or wife, or if not married so state), is the owner of an estate in fee simple (or as the case may be) in the following land (insert description contained in the decree). Subject, however, to the estates, easements, liens, incumbrances, and charges hereunder noted. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused my official seal to be affixed, this day of

.....,
Registrar of Titles in and for the County of, State of California.

[SEAL]

[Certificate to tenants in common.]

§ 25. In all cases where two or more persons are entitled as tenants in common to an estate in registered land, such persons may receive one certificate for the entirety, or each may receive a separate certificate for his undivided share.

[Issuance of one certificate in accordance with owner's request to cover one or several tracts of land.]

§ 26. Upon the application of any registered owner of land held under separate certificates of title, or under one certificate, and delivering up of such certificate or certificates of title, the registrar may issue to such owner a single certificate of title for the whole of such land, or several certificates, each containing a portion of such land, in accordance with such application, and as far as the same may be done consistently with any regulations at the time being in force, respecting the certificates of land that may be included in one certificate of title; and upon issuing any such certificate of title said registrar shall indorse on the last previous certificate of title of such lands so delivered up a memorial, setting forth the occasion of such cancellation and referring to the volume and folium of the new certificate or certificates of title so issued.

[Issuance of duplicate certificate in case of loss of original.]

§ 27. In the event of a duplicate certificate of title being lost, mislaid, or destroyed, the owner may apply to the court for an order upon the registrar to issue a certified copy of the original certificate or registration. Upon the hearing of such application, the court may order such notice to be given to such persons and for such time as it may deem proper. If the court is satisfied that the applicant is the person named in the original certificate on file in the registrar's office, and that the duplicate certificate has been lost, mislaid, or destroyed, the court shall make an order directing the registrar to issue a certified copy of the original certificate to the applicant. A certified copy of such order shall be filed in the registrar's office, who shall thereupon issue to such applicant a certified copy of the original certificate, with the memorials and notations appearing upon the register, and shall note upon the register the fact, cause and date of such issue and shall also mark upon such certified copy: "Owner's certified copy, issued in place of lost (mislaid, or destroyed, as the case may be) certificate," and such certified copy shall stand in the place of, and have like effect as, the missing duplicate certificate. In case of a lost certificate, no transfer of the land shall be made until such certified copy is issued by the registrar. A certified copy of the certificate of title may be issued by the registrar for use as evidence, upon the receipt by him of an order therefor made by the court; provided, that such certified copy shall have written or stamped across the face thereof the words "for use as evidence only." The issuance of such certified copy and the purpose thereof shall also be noted upon the original certificate by the registrar.

[Correction of certificate.]

§ 28. If an owner's name or description is incorrectly registered, or becomes changed (e. g. by marriage, adoption, divorce, etc.), the court, upon the filing of an application and proof of facts in the manner set forth in section twenty-seven of this act, and the production by the owner of the duplicate certificate, shall order the registrar to issue a new certificate, with such changes as the case may require.

[“Register of titles.”]

§ 29. The registrar shall keep a book, to be known as the "register of titles," wherein he shall enter all original certificates of title, in the order of their numbers, with appropriate blanks for the entry of memorials and notations allowed by this act. Each certificate, with such blanks, shall constitute a separate folium of such book. All memorials and notations that may be entered upon the register under the terms of this act shall be entered upon the folium constituted by the last certificate of title of the land to which they relate. Each certificate of title shall be numbered the same as the folium of the register on which the registration of the title of which it is a duplicate, is entered.

[Receipt for duplicate certificate.]

§ 30. Before the delivery of any duplicate certificate of title, a receipt for it shall be required, to be signed by the owner. Where such receipt is signed in the presence of the registrar or a deputy, it shall be witnessed by such officer. If signed elsewhere, it shall be acknowledged before any officer authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds.

[Registration of title.]

§ 31. In every case of first registration of land or an estate or interest therein the same shall be deemed to be registered under this act, when the registrar shall have marked upon the certificate of title, in duplicate, the volume and folium of the register in which the original may be found.

[Transfer of registered land deemed registered, when.]

§ 32. Every transfer of registered land shall be deemed to be registered under this act, when the new certificate to the transferee shall have been marked, as in the case of the first registration; and all other dealing shall be considered as registered when the memorial or notation shall have been entered in the register upon the folium constituted by the existing certificate of title of the land. But, for the protection of the transferee or person claiming through any transfer or dealing, the registration shall relate back to the time of filing in the registrar's office the deed, instrument, or notice, pursuant to which the transfer, memorial or notation is made.

[Person aggrieved may bring action against register.]

§ 33. Any person feeling himself aggrieved by the action of the registrar, or by his refusal to act in any manner pertaining to the first registration of land, or any subsequent transfer, or charge upon the same, or failing or neglecting, or refusing to file any instrument, or to enter or cancel any memorial or notation, or to do any other thing required of him by this act, may file a complaint in the superior court making the registrar and other persons, whose interest may be affected, parties defendant, and the court may proceed therein as in other cases, and make such order or decree as shall be according to equity and the purport of this act. A certified copy of such order or decree shall be presented to the registrar, who shall file the same and make such entry thereof as by this act required.

[Title of registered owner. Limitations and exceptions.]

§ 34. The registered owner of any estate or interest in land brought under this act shall, except in case of fraud to which he is a party, or of the person through whom he claims without valuable consideration paid in good faith, hold the same subject only to such estates, mortgages, liens, charges, and interests as may be noted in the last certificate of title in the registrar's office, and free from all others, except:

1. Any subsisting lease or agreement for a lease for a period not exceeding one year, where there is actual occupation of the land under lease. The term "lease" shall include a verbal letting.

2. All land embraced in the description contained in the certificate which has theretofore been legally dedicated as or declared by a competent court to be a public highway.

3. Any subsisting right of way or other easement, created within one year before issue of the certificate upon, over, or in respect of the land.

4. Any tax or special assessment for which a sale of the land has not been had at the date of the certificate of title.

5. Such right of action or claim as is allowed by this act.

6. Liens, claims, or rights arising under the laws of the United States, which the statutes of California can not require to appear of record upon the register.

[No title by adverse possession to registered land.]

§ 35. After land has been registered, no title thereto adverse or in derogation to the title of the registered owner shall be acquired by any length of possession.

[No duty of transferee of registered land to inquire into circumstances or consideration of his transferer's title.]

§ 36. Except in case of fraud, and except as herein otherwise provided, no person taking a transfer of registered land, or any estate or interest therein, or of any charge upon the same, from the registered owner, shall be held to inquire into the circumstances under which, or the consideration for which, such owner or any previous registered owner was registered, or be affected with notice, actual or constructive, of any unregistered trust, lien, claim, demand, or interest; and the knowledge that any unregistered trust, lien, claim, demand, or interest is in existence shall not of itself be imputed as fraud.

[In case of fraud person defrauded shall have usual rights and remedies.]

§ 37. In case of fraud, any person defrauded shall have all rights and remedies that he would have had if the land were not under the provisions of this act; provided, that nothing contained in this section shall affect the title of a registered owner who has taken bona fide for a valuable consideration, or of any person bona fide claiming through or under him.

[When registration void.]

§ 38. If a deed or other instrument is registered, which is forged, or executed by a person under legal disability, such registration shall be void; provided, that the title of a registered owner, who has taken bona fide for valuable consideration, shall not be affected by reason of his claiming title through some one, the registration of whose right or interest was void, as provided in this section.

[No unregistered estate to prevail against title of registered owner.]

§ 39. No unregistered estate, interest, power, right, claim, contract, or trust shall prevail against the title of a registered owner taking bona fide for a valuable consideration, or of any person bona fide claiming through or under him.

[Certificate of registered owner conclusive, when.]

§ 40. In any suit for specific performance brought by a registered owner of any land under the provisions of this act against a person who may have contracted to purchase such land, not having notice of any fraud or other circumstances which, according to the provisions of this act, would affect the right of the vendor, the certificate of title of such registered owner shall be held in every court to be conclusive evidence that such registered owner has a good and valid title to the land, and for the estate or interest therein mentioned or described.

§ 41. In any action or proceeding brought for ejectment, partition, or possession of land, the certificate of title of a registered owner shall be held in every court to be conclusive evidence, except as herein otherwise provided, that such registered owner has a good and valid title to the land, and for the estate or interest therein mentioned or described, and that such registered owner is entitled to the possession of said land.

[Register as evidence and as conclusive evidence.]

§ 42. The register of any land, and duly certified copies thereof, shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be received in law and in equity as evidence of the facts therein stated, and as conclusive evidence that the person named therein as owner is entitled to the land for the estate or interests therein specified.

[Memorial to be carried forward until canceled.]

§ 43. Whenever a memorial has been entered, as permitted by this act, the registrar shall carry the same forward upon all certificates of title until the same is canceled in some manner authorized by this act.

[All dealings, etc., after registration subject to terms of act.]

§ 44. All dealings with land, or any estate or interest therein, after the same has been brought under this act, and all liens, incumbrances, and charges upon the same subsequent to the first registration thereof, shall be deemed to be subject to the terms of this act, and to such amendments and alterations as may hereafter be made. The bringing of land under this act shall imply an agreement which shall run with the land, that the same shall be subject to the terms and provisions of this act and of the amendments and alterations thereof.

[Limitation of action.]

§ 45. No person shall commence any action at law or in equity for the recovery of land, or assert any interest or right in, or lien or demand upon the same, or make entry thereon adversely to the title or interest certified in the first certificate bringing the land under the operation of this act after one year following the first registration. It shall not be an exception to this rule that the person entitled to bring the action or make the entry is deceased, an infant, lunatic, or is under any disability, but action may be brought by such person by his next friend or guardian or by the administrator or the executor of a deceased person. It shall be the duty of the guardian, if there is any, to bring action in the name of his ward whenever it is necessary to preserve or enforce the ward's rights in registered land; provided, however, before such action shall proceed, it must be made to appear to the court that the person bringing such action or those under whom he claims, had no actual notice of the proceedings to register such lands in time to appear and file his objections or assert his claim. The provisions of this section shall in no way affect or disturb the rights of any person in said land, acquired subsequent to the registration thereof, bona fide and without knowledge and for a valuable consideration.

[Registration of land belonging to estates of deceased persons.]

§ 46. In all estates of deceased persons the administrator or executor may file a petition to the court in the probate proceedings, praying for the registration of all land belonging to the estate in fee simple, setting forth the facts required to be set forth by sections 5 and 6 of this act together with a description of all the land of which the deceased died seized which is sought to be registered.

The court, by reason of its general jurisdiction shall, in probate, have power and jurisdiction to do any and all things necessary to determine the title to the land and all adverse interests therein to the same extent as said court has in independent proceedings under this act. Upon the filing of such petition the court must direct notice of the filing of said petition to issue as provided by this act and the administrator or executor shall publish and serve such notice upon all persons required by this act to be served and in the manner therein specified.

Every decree of final or partial distribution of land sought to be registered, wherein upon the hearing of such petition, after said notice has been given, the court shall find the title to such land to be such as to entitle it to be registered under this act, may direct all such land to be registered in the name of the distributee or distributees in fee simple, which decree shall be authority to the registrar of the county in which any such land is situated to register the same and issue his certificate of registration to such distributee or distributees. If any land sought to be registered in any proceeding under this act lies in any county other than the county in which said estate is being administered, a certified copy of said petition shall forthwith be filed with the registrar of every county in which any of such land may be situated and such copy, when filed, shall be notice of such application to all persons dealing with said land.

[Filing instruments seeking to affect registered lands, conditions of.]

§ 47. Any instrument offered for filing with the registrar of any county, seeking to affect registered land, must have noted thereon a statement of the facts that the land sought to be affected is registered land, with the name of the registered owner and with the number or numbers of the certificate or certificates of the last registration thereof. Otherwise none of such instruments shall be filed, nor shall the same affect the title of the or any part of the land sought to be affected, nor will the same impart any notice thereof to the registered owner or to any person dealing with such land.

[Conveyances of registered land.]

§ 48. A registered owner of land desiring to transfer his whole estate or interest therein, or some distinct part or parcel thereof, or some undivided interest therein, or to grant out of his estate an estate for life, may execute to the intended transferee a deed or instrument of conveyance in any form authorized by law for that purpose. And upon filing such deed or other instrument in the registrar's office, and surrendering to the registrar the duplicate certificate of title, the transfer shall be complete and the title so transferred shall vest in the transferee; thereupon, the registrar shall issue in duplicate and register, as hereinbefore provided, a new certificate, certifying the title to the estate or interest in the land desired to be conveyed to be in the transferee, and shall note upon the original and duplicate certificates the date of the transfer, the name of the transferee, and the volume and folium in which the new certificate is registered, and shall stamp across the original and surrendered duplicate certificate the word "canceled," in whole or in part, as the case may be.

[Issuance of new certificate to grantee of registered land.]

§ 49. When only a part of the land described in a certificate is transferred, a new certificate shall be issued to the grantee for the part transferred to him and another one shall be issued to the grantor for the part remaining in him; provided, however, that if the land consists of a tract divided into subdivisions designated by numbers or letters on a plat of said subdivision, filed with the recorder, duly verified as required by law, on which plat so filed the measurements of all boundaries of each subdivision appear, the registrar may, upon request of the grantor, make a new certificate to the grantee of one or more of such subdivisions and instead of issuing a new certificate for the remainder to the grantor, may enter upon the original certificate and upon the owner's duplicate, a memorandum of such transfer, in red ink, setting forth the fact that the particular subdivision, describing it by numbers or letters as the same is described in said plat, has been granted and that such certificate is canceled as to such subdivision. Every certificate with such memorandum endorsed thereon shall be as effectual for the purpose of showing the grantor's title to the remainder of the land not conveyed as if the old certificate had been canceled and a new one for the remainder issued; such process may be repeated as long as there is convenient space upon the original certificate and the owner's duplicate thereof for making such memoranda of transfers of subdivisions.

[Duty of register as to filing instruments.]

§ 50. The registrar shall mark as filed every deed, mortgage, lease, and other instrument which may be filed in his office, in the order of its receipt, and shall note thereon at the date of filing the minute, hour, day, and year it is received. When the date of filing any instrument is required to be entered upon the register, it shall be the same as that endorsed upon such instrument.

[Instruments, etc., to be kept on file. Certified copies.]

§ 51. All instruments, notices, and papers required or permitted by this act to be filed in the office of the registrar, shall be retained and kept in such office, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a subpoena duces tecum issued to and served upon the registrar by a court of record. But the registrar, on demand, the proper fee being tendered therefor, shall deliver to any person a copy or copies of such an instrument, with all memoranda, memorials, and indorsements thereon, duly certified under his hand and seal of office. The registrar shall, however, upon all such copies, indorse thereon in writing across the face thereof, in red ink, "copy, no rights conveyed hereby."

[Certified copies of instruments as evidence.]

§ 52. Every copy of original instruments so certified as provided for in the last preceding section, shall be received in all cases in place of the original, and as evidence have the same force and effect as the original instrument.

[Forms of instruments.]

§ 53. Like forms of deeds, mortgages, leases, and other instruments as are now or may hereafter be sufficient in law for the purpose intended, may be used in dealing with registered land and any estate or interest therein. Such instrument shall give the number of the certificate of title of the land described therein. But an indorsement, duly acknowledged, upon the duplicate certificate of title, substantially in the following form, viz.: "I,, grant to the real property described in this certificate. Witness hand and seal this day of, ..," shall be sufficient to transfer the property in said certificate described.

[Residence of grantee, endorsement of on instruments. Notices and processes, issuance, service and proof of service of.]

§ 54. Every deed or other voluntary instrument which is presented for registration including the endorsement of a certificate of title, shall contain or have endorsed upon it the full name, residence and post office address of the grantee or other person who acquires or claims an interest under such instrument. Any change in the residence or post office address of such person shall be endorsed by the registrar upon the original instrument, upon receiving a written statement of such change, duly acknowledged. Notices and processes issued in relation to registered land after original registration, may be served upon any person in interest by mailing them to the address so given, and shall be binding, whether he resides within or without the state. The certificate of the clerk that he has served such notice shall be conclusive proof of such service; but the court may, in any case, order different or further service, by publication or otherwise.

[Conveyance take effect only by way of contract, and authority to register same.]

§ 55. A deed, mortgage, lease, or other instrument purporting to convey, transfer, mortgage, lease, charge, or otherwise deal with registered land, or any estate or interest therein, or charge upon the same, other than a will or a lease not exceeding one year where the land is in the actual possession of the lessee or his assigns, shall take effect only by way of contract between the parties thereto, and as authority to the registrar to register the transfer, mortgage, lease, charge, or other dealing upon compliance with the terms of this act. On the filing of such instrument, the land, estate, interest, or charge shall become transferred, mortgaged, leased, charged, or dealt with according to the purport and terms of the deed, mortgage, lease, or other instrument. The registrar shall immediately, upon the filing of such instrument, stamp or write upon the original and duplicate certificates of title the word "transferred," "mortgaged," "leased," or otherwise, as the case may require, with the date of filing such instrument and sign such endorsement.

[No transfer registered, if land sold for any tax or assessment.]

§ 56. No transfer of title to land or any estate or interest therein shall be registered if the last original certificate shows that the land in such certificate described, or any part thereof, has been sold for any tax or assessment, unless such transfer is intended to be subject to such tax sale, in which case it shall be so stated in the certificate issued upon such transfer and no transfer of any homestead which has not been theretofore released or extinguished of record shall be made unless both spouses join therein.

[Community property can not be transferred, etc., without written consent of both spouses.]

§ 57. Community property registered under this act as such can not be transferred, mortgaged, encumbered or otherwise disposed of by the registered owner thereof without the written consent of both spouses.

[Affidavit of transferee as to married state required.]

§ 58. The transferee shall furnish the registrar with an affidavit stating whether the transferee (except when the latter is a corporation, executor, administrator, or assignee) is married or not married, and if married, the name of the husband or wife, and whether or not the property is community property, and the fact shall be recorded on the certificate of title by the registrar before the transfer is made on the register. If the transferee be an executor or administrator, the certificate shall give the name of the deceased testator or intestate, and if the transferee be an assignee or trustee, the name of the insolvent or bankrupt.

[Mortgages, etc.]

§ 59. Every mortgage, lease, contract to sell, or other instrument intended to create a lien, incumbrance, or charge upon registered land, or any interest therein, shall be a charge thereon immediately upon registration thereof.

[Registration of instruments, conditions of, and duty of registrar.]

§ 60. On the filing of an instrument intended to create a charge in the registrar's office and upon the production of the duplicate certificate of title, whenever it appears from the original certificate of title that the person intending to create the charge has the title and right to create such charge and the person in whose favor the same is sought to be created is entitled by the terms of this act to have the same registered, the registrar shall enter upon the original and duplicate certificates a memorial of the purport thereof, and the date of filing the instrument, with a reference thereto by its file number, which memorial shall be signed by the registrar. The registrar shall also note upon the instrument on file the number of the certificate of title where the memorial is entered. No new certificate of title shall be entered and no memorandum shall be made upon any certificate of title by the registrar in pursuance of any deed or other voluntary instrument, unless the owner's duplicate certificate of title is presented with such instrument, except in cases expressly provided for in this act, or upon the order of the court, for cause shown, and whenever such order is made, a memorial thereof shall be entered upon the new certificate of title and on the owner's duplicate. The production of the owner's duplicate certificate, whenever a voluntary instrument is presented for registration, shall be conclusive authority from the registered owner to the registrar to issue a new certificate or to make a memorial in accordance with such instrument and the new certificate or the memorial shall be binding upon the registered owner and upon all persons claiming under him in favor of every purchaser for value in good faith.

[When mortgage, etc., is in duplicate, triplicate, or more parts, only one need be filed. Duty of register.]

§ 61. When any mortgage, lease, or other instrument creating or dealing with a charge upon registered land, or any estate or interest therein, is in duplicate, triplicate, or more parts, only one of the parts need be filed and kept in the registrar's office; but the registrar shall note upon the register whether the same is in duplicate, triplicate, or as the case may be, and shall also mark upon the others "mortgagee's duplicate," "lessor's duplicate," "lessee's duplicate," or as the case may be, and note upon the same the date of filing and the volume and folium of the register where the memorial is entered, and deliver them to the parties entitled thereto.

[Registrar may make duplicates.]

§ 62. When an instrument is not executed in a sufficient number of parts for the convenience of the parties, the registrar may make and deliver to each of the parties entitled thereto certified copies of the instrument filed in his office, with the indorsements thereon, marking the same "mortgagee's certified copy," "lessor's certified copy," or as the case may be, and shall note upon the register the fact of issuing such copies. Such certified copies shall have the same force and effect and be treated as duplicates.

[Transfer or assignment of charges in registered land.]

§ 63. The holder of any charge upon registered land, desiring to transfer the same or any part thereof, may execute an assignment of the whole or any part thereof. The assignment of a part only must state whether the part transferred is to be given priority, to be deferred, or to rank equally, with the remaining part. Upon such assignment being filed in the office of the registrar, and the production of the duplicate or certified copy of the instrument creating the charge held by the assignor, the registrar shall enter in the register opposite the charge a memorial of such transfer, and how it ranks, with a reference to the assignment by its file number; he shall also note upon the instrument on file in his office intended to be transferred, and upon the duplicate or certified copy thereof produced, the volume and folium where the memorial is entered, with the date of the entry. The transferee shall be entitled to have a certified copy of the instrument of transfer, with the indorsement thereon, and in case of the transfer of the entire charge, the duplicate or certified copy of the instrument creating the charge.

[Release or discharge or surrender of charge on registered land.]

§ 64. A release, discharge, or surrender of a charge, or any part thereof, or of any part of the land charged, may be effected in the same way as above provided in the case of a transfer. In case only a part of the charge or of the land is intended to be released, discharged, or surrendered, the entry shall be made accordingly; but when the whole is released, discharged, or surrendered at the same or several times, the registrar shall stamp across the instrument on file, and the memorial thereof, and the duplicate or certified copy produced, the word "canceled."

[Enforcement of charges and foreclosure of mortgages, etc., on registered land.]

§ 65. All charges upon registered land, or any estate or interest in the same, may be enforced as now or hereafter allowed by law, and all laws with reference to the foreclosure and release or satisfaction of mortgages shall apply to mortgages upon registered land, or any estate or interest therein, except as herein otherwise provided, and except that until notice of the pendency of any suit to enforce or foreclose such charge is filed in the registrar's office, and a memorial thereof entered on the register, the pendency of such suit shall not be notice to the registrar, or any person dealing with the land.

[Conveyances, etc., of registered land by attorneys in fact.]

§ 66. Before any person can convey, charge, or otherwise deal with registered land, or any estate or interest therein, as attorney in fact for another, the deed or instrument empowering him so to act shall be filed with the registrar, and a memorial thereof entered upon the original duplicate certificates. If the attorney shall so desire, the registrar shall deliver to him a certified copy of the power of attorney, with the indorsements thereon. Revocation of a power may be registered in like manner.

[Transfers in trust of registered land.]

§ 67. Whenever a deed or other instrument is filed in the registrar's office for the purpose of effecting a transfer of, or charge upon, registered lands, or any estate or interest therein, and it appears from such instrument that the transfer or charge is to be in trust, or upon any condition or limitation therein expressed, the registrar shall note in the certificate, and the duplicate thereof, or memorial, the words "in trust," or "upon condition," or "with limitations," as the case may be, but no entry need be made of the particulars of any such trust, conditions, or limitations.

[When trustee may deal with registered land as owner.]

§ 68. The trustee or transferee in any such instrument named, if the instrument contains the words "with power of sale," shall have power to deal with the land as the owner thereof; and a bona fide purchaser, mortgagee, or lessee is not bound to inquire into or determine whether or not the acts of such trustee are in accordance with the terms and conditions of the trust. When such power is conferred, the registrar shall note upon the certificate and duplicate thereof the words "with power of sale."

[When trust instrument does not contain phrase "with power of sale." Memorial conclusive evidence, when.]

§ 69. If, however, such instrument does not contain the words "with power of sale," such trustee shall have no power to sell or otherwise deal with the land without an order of court so to do, duly given and made, a certified copy of which said order shall be filed with the registrar, and a memorial thereof entered upon the certificate of title, which shall be conclusive evidence as against all persons that the authority of such trustee was duly exercised in accordance with the true intent and meaning of the trust, condition, or limitation.

[Trustee under will, powers of.]

§ 70. A trustee under any will admitted to probate, unless such power shall have been expressly withheld by the terms of such will, shall have power to deal with any registered land held by him in trust as fully in every respect as if such lands belonged to him individually.

[Distribution, etc., of registered land in jurisdiction of court.]

§ 71. The distribution, transfer, leasing, mortgaging, or other change in the status of the title of registered land that is within the jurisdiction of any court by reason of the pendency of probate, insolvency, or equity proceedings, shall be made under the same conditions and limitations as now or hereafter provided by the law of this state.

[Order of court to make distribution, etc.]

§ 72. The court in its order or decree making such distribution, transfer, leasing, mortgaging, or other change in the status of the title of registered land, shall direct the registrar to issue a certificate of title, or to note a memorial of the transaction, as the case may require, in accordance with such order or decree.

[Duty of executor, etc.]

§ 73. The executor, administrator, assignee, receiver, or other person acting under the direction of said court, shall file with the registrar a certified copy of such order or decree, also the deed, lease, mortgage, or other instrument executed in accordance with such order or decree, and also a certified copy of the order or decree confirming such sale, lease, mortgage, or other transaction, when such confirmation is required by law.

[Power of executors, etc.]

§ 74. Executors, administrators, trustees in bankruptcy, and assignees in insolvency shall have no power of sale of lands registered in their names as such, without an order of court obtained for that purpose. Before any certificate can be issued to the purchaser, such sales shall be reported for confirmation to the court under whose authority such executor, administrator, or assignee is acting, and if confirmed a duly certified copy of the order of confirmation shall be filed in the office of the registrar, and a memorial thereof entered upon the certificate of title. Upon the filing of the certified copy of such order of confirmation and the entry of such memorial, the registrar shall issue a certificate to the purchaser at such sale, which certificate, in addition to the usual contents thereof, shall refer to the said order of confirmation. Such order of confirmation shall be conclusive evidence that the sale was in all respects conducted in accordance with law, and the purchaser shall not be bound to inquire into the regularity of the proceeding, or power to make such sale.

[Order directing registration of words "with power of sale."]

§ 75. If a testator, by his will, has provided that the executor thereof shall have a power of sale of real estate, the court shall direct the registrar to register the words "with power of sale," in respect of the land of the deceased, and such executor shall have power to sell such land without an order of court so to do, but such sales must be confirmed by the court in the manner now or hereafter provided by the law of this state, and a duly certified copy of the order of such confirmation shall be filed with the registrar before any certificate of title can be issued to the purchaser of such land.

[Certificate of title conclusive.]

§ 76. Thereupon the registrar shall issue the certificate of title, or note the memorial, as the case may require; and such certificate of title or memorial noted shall be conclusive evidence in favor of all persons thereafter depending thereon.

[Sale of registered land for taxes or assessments.]

§ 77. A purchaser of registered lands sold for any tax or assessment, shall, within five days after such purchase, file in the office of the registrar a written notice of such purchase. And thereupon the registrar shall enter a memorial thereof upon the certificate of title, and shall mail to each person named in the certificate, and in the memorials thereon, a copy of said notice, a sufficient number of said copies to be furnished to the registrar by said purchaser at the time of filing said notice. In case the state or a municipal corporation becomes the purchaser of land sold for any tax or assessment, the tax collector or other officer attending to such purchase, shall, within five days thereafter, file with the registrar a notice to that effect. And thereupon the registrar shall enter a memorial thereof upon the register, and shall mail notices to interested parties, as in the case of an individual purchaser. Unless such notice is filed as herein provided, the land shall be forever released from the effect of such sale, and no deed shall be issued in pursuance thereof.

[Registration of tax deed.]

§ 78. A tax deed of registered land, or of any estate or interest therein, issued in pursuance of any sale for a tax or assessment made after the taking effect of this act, may be presented by the holder thereof to the registrar, who shall thereupon enter upon the register a memorial of such deed; but such deed, unless the same shall have been issued to the state, shall have only the effect of an agreement for the transfer of the title, and before any certificate of title shall be issued for the land described in such deed, the holder thereof must file with the clerk of the superior court an application for a decree showing the title to said land to be vested in him.

[Notification of persons in interest, etc.]

§ 79. All persons appearing upon the register to be interested in said land, and also the person who appears by the tax collector's books to have paid the tax or assessment last paid before the sale on which the deed is issued, shall be notified; and any person claiming an interest in the land may, upon the hearing of such application, show, as cause why a certificate of title should not issue to the holder of said deed, any fact that might be shown in law or in equity on his behalf to set aside such tax deed, and the applicant shall be required to show affirmatively that all the requirements of the statute to entitle him to a deed have been complied with.

[Decree and issuance of certificate.]

§ 80. Such application shall be heard by the court, which shall render a decree showing the condition of the title to such land, and who is the owner thereof, and upon presentation to him, of a duly certified copy of such decree, the registrar shall issue a certificate for said land in accordance with the terms and conditions of said decree.

[Tax deed to state or municipal corporation.]

§ 81. In case a tax deed of registered land is issued to the state or any municipal corporation, in pursuance of any sale for a tax assessment made after the taking effect of this act, the registrar shall, upon the filing of such deed in his office, cancel the certificate for the land in said deed described, and issue a new certificate to the purchaser.

[Service of notice required by § 79. Proof of service and publication.]

§ 82. The notice required by section seventy-nine shall be served upon persons interested in the manner provided in this act for the service of notice of applications for original registrations. Proof of such service and publication must be made in the manner now or hereafter required by the laws of this state.

[Cancellation of memorial of sale.]

§ 83. Upon presentation to him of a certificate of redemption from any tax sale, the registrar shall cancel the memorial of said sale upon the certificate of title.

[Proof in proceedings for partition.]

§ 84. In proceedings for partition of registered land, proof must be made that all persons, shown by the register of title to be interested in the land, have been made parties to such proceeding.

[Filing judgment or decree in partition and issuance of certificates of title.]

§ 85. On confirmation of the report of the commissioners setting off registered lands in proceedings for partition, it shall be the duty of the parties to whom the lands are allotted, to cause a certified copy of the judgment or decree to be filed with the registrar. Thereupon the registrar shall transfer the same upon the register, and issue certificates of title to the persons entitled thereto, as shown by said decree.

[Filing certificate of officer making sale in partition.]

§ 86. Whenever, in proceedings for partition of registered land, the court shall order a sale of such land, and the same is sold under such order, the purchaser shall file with the registrar a certified copy of the order confirming said sale, together with certificate of the officer making the sale, that the terms of the sale have been complied with. Thereupon, the registrar shall transfer said land upon the register, and issue a certificate of title to the purchaser therefor.

[Mortgage by tenant in common of undivided interest.]

§ 87. When a tenant in common has given any mortgage, or granted any other lien or interest upon his undivided interest, and the same is set off in severalty in proceedings in partition, such mortgage, lien, or other interest shall attach only to the lands so set off, and the registrar shall note the same upon a new register of title, and a new certificate of title, and shall indorse a memorandum of the partition upon the instrument creating such lien, mortgage, or other interest, if the same be on file in his office, before a new certificate of title shall be issued therefor.

[Sale under execution, etc., and issuance of certificate.]

§ 88. Whenever registered land shall be sold to satisfy any judgment, decree, or order of court, the purchaser shall file with the registrar a duly certified copy of the order of sale, or of the order confirming such sale, when the same needs to be confirmed by the court, and also the certificate, if any, of the officer, that the terms of sale have been complied with, and thereupon the registrar shall transfer the land to him, and issue a new certificate of title therefor to said purchaser.

[A suit, etc., not a lis pendens until the filing of notice thereof with register.]

§ 89. No suit, bill, or proceeding at law or in equity for any purpose whatever, affecting registered land, or any estate, or interest therein, or any charge upon the same, shall be deemed to be lis pendens or notice to any person dealing with the same until notice of the pendency of such suit, bill, or proceeding shall be filed with the registrar and a memorial thereof entered by him upon the register of the last certificate of the title to be affected; provided, however, this section shall not apply to attachment proceedings when the officer making the levy shall file his certificate as herein-after provided.

[Dismissal of suit, etc.]

§ 90. When any suit, bill, or proceeding affecting registered lands has been dismissed or otherwise disposed of, or any judgment, decree, or order has been satisfied, released, reversed or modified, or any levy of execution, attachment, or other process has been released, discharged, or otherwise disposed of, it shall be the duty of the sheriff, or the clerk of the court in which such proceedings were pending, or had, as the case may be, forthwith, under his hand, and, if the clerk, under the seal of the court, to certify to and file with the registrar, an instrument showing such discharge or release. Upon the same being filed, the registrar shall enter a memorial of such discharge on the register. The costs of such certificate and memorial shall be taxed as other costs in the case.

[Filing copy of judgment prerequisite to affect registered land.]

§ 91. No judgment, or decree, or order of any court shall be a lien on or in any wise affect registered land, or any estate or interest therein, until a certified copy of such judgment, decree, or order, under the hand and official seal of the clerk of the court in which the same is of record, is filed in the office of the registrar, and a memorial of the same is entered upon the register of the last certificate of the title to be affected.

[Attachment levy.]

§ 92. Whenever registered land is levied upon by virtue of any writ of attachment, execution, or other process, it shall be the duty of the officer making such levy forthwith to file with the registrar a certificate of the fact of such levy, a memorial of which shall be entered upon the register; and no lien shall arise by reason of such levy until the filing of such certificate and the entry in the register of such memorial, any notice thereof, actual or constructive, to the contrary notwithstanding.

[Notice of mechanics' liens.]

§ 93. Notices of liens under the provisions of the mechanics' lien laws of this state shall be filed in the registrar's office, and a memorial thereof entered by him upon the register, as in the case of other charges, and such liens may be enforced as now or hereafter allowed by law. Until such notice is so filed and registered, no lien shall be deemed to have been created.

[Street improvement assessments.]

§ 94. When in a city, town, or county, an ordinance, resolution, or order is passed or made, to lay out, establish, alter, widen, grade, regrade, relocate, or construct or repair a street, sidewalk, drain, or sewer, or to make any other public improvement, or to do any work, the whole or a portion of the expense for which assessments may be made upon real estate, if any registered land or any land included in an application for registration then pending is affected by the act or proceeding and liable to such assessment, the clerk of the board passing such ordinance, resolution, or order must, within five days after the passage of such ordinance, resolution, or order, file in the registrar's office a notice of the passage thereof, and a memorial must thereupon be noted on the register. In case of the repeal of such ordinance, resolution, or order, the clerk of said board, and in case of the satisfaction of any lien thereunder, the superintendent of streets or other officer required by law to collect and receive such assessments, must within five days thereafter, notify the registrar, in writing, who shall thereupon cancel such memorial.

[Memorial of lien must be filed.]

§ 95. No statutory or other lien shall be deemed to affect the title to registered land until after a memorial thereof is entered upon the register, as herein provided.

[Certificate of dismissal of suit, etc.]

§ 96. The filing in the registrar's office of a certificate of the clerk of the court in which any suit, bill, or proceeding shall have been pending, or any judgment or decree is of record, that such suit, bill or proceeding has been dismissed or otherwise disposed of, or the judgment, decree, or order has been satisfied, released, reversed, or overruled, or of any sheriff or other officer that the levy of any execution, attachment, or other process certified by him has been released, discharged, or otherwise disposed of, shall be sufficient to authorize the registrar to cancel or otherwise treat the memorial of such suit, bill, proceeding, judgment, decree, or levy, according to the purport of such certificate.

[Corrections, alterations and erasures.]

§ 97. After a title has been registered and a certificate issued therefor, or after a memorandum, notation, or memorial has been made on the register of title and has been attested, no correction, alteration, or erasure shall be made therein or thereof, except in the manner herein provided.

[Termination of registered interests. Proceedings upon.]

description, whether vested, contingent, expectant or inchoate, have terminated and ceased or that new interests have arisen or been created which do not appear upon the certificates or that there is an error or omission in any certificate or memorial, or that any certificate or memorial has been made, entered, indorsed, issued, or canceled by mistake, or that the name of any person on the certificate has been changed by divorce, adoption, or other than by marriage as provided for in section 28 of this act, or that any owner, registered as married, has ceased to be such, or that a corporation which owned registered land has been dissolved and has not legally conveyed the same after its dissolution, or upon any other reasonable ground, for an order correcting or altering any certificate to comply with the true facts as shown by the petition and proof adduced and the court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the petition after notice to all parties in interest. The court shall issue an order summoning all persons registered as interested in the lands to which such certificate or memorial relates, to appear at an appointed time and place and produce their duplicate certificates and show cause why such omissions, or mistake, or change, or alteration, should not be corrected or made. The registrar shall, upon receiving notice of such petition, enter a memorial of such application upon the certificate of title affected. If at the time and place appointed all such persons appear and consent, the court may order the entry of a new certificate, the entry or cancellation of a memorandum upon a certificate, or grant any other relief upon such terms, requiring security if necessary, as it may consider proper. If such persons, or any of them, fail to appear or do not consent, the court may proceed to hear testimony and if it appears to the satisfaction of the court that the relief as petitioned for should be granted, it shall order and direct the registrar to make such corrections or modifications on such certificates or memorials as may be necessary. A certified copy of such order of the court shall be filed in the registrar's office before any such corrections or modifications shall be entered or made. When such action has been caused by the fault or neglect of the registrar, the costs of such proceedings shall be paid by the county out of the fees collected by the registrar under the provisions of this act that go into the county treasury; if by the fault of the person registered as interested in such land, by such person. The provisions of this section shall not give the court authority to open the original decree of registration and nothing shall be done or ordered by the court which shall impair the title or other interest of a purchaser who holds a certificate for value and in good faith, or his heirs or assigns without his or their written consent.

[Questions of doubt referred to court.]

§ 99. When the registrar is in doubt or when the parties in interest fail to agree as to the proper memorial to be made in respect of any deed, mortgage or other voluntary instrument presented for registration, the question shall be referred to the court for decision, either on the certificate of the registrar stating the question, or upon the suggestion in writing of any party or parties in interest; and the court, after due notice to all parties in interest and a hearing, if necessary or proper, shall enter an order prescribing the form of the memorial to be made by the registrar, who shall make the memorial accordingly.

[Fees.]

§ 100. For services performed under the provisions of this act, there shall be paid to the registrar the following fees:

Subdivision 1. For filing decree directing land to be brought under the operation of this act, including original registration and issuing original certificate of title and duplicate and the filing of all instruments connected therewith, for each separate parcel of land affected, one dollar. For each subsequent registration and issuing of certificate of title, including one duplicate and the filing of all instruments connected therewith, for each separate parcel of land affected, one dollar. For filing certified copy of any petition filed in the superior court of another county in probate proceedings or any notice of any action in another county wherein registration of land is asked for, one dollar. For the entry of each memorial on the register, including the filing of all instruments and papers connected therewith and the endorsement upon the duplicate certificate, for each separate parcel of land affected, fifty cents. For filing copy of will with letters testamentary or filing copy of letters of administration with or without will annexed and entering memorial thereof, one dollar. For the cancellation of each memorial or charge, appearing on one certificate, twenty-five cents. For each certificate showing the condition of the title to all land appearing on one certificate, three dollars. For filing any instrument or furnishing a certified copy of any instrument or writing on file not herein specially provided for, the same fees which are allowed by law to recorders for like services.

Subdivision 2. In addition to the fees provided in subdivision 1, for services performed by the registrar there shall be paid to him the following fees: Upon the original registration of any land, a sum equivalent to one-tenth of one per cent of the assessed value of the land including permanent improvements thereon as the same were valued for county taxation the last time said land and permanent improvements or either thereof were assessed for county taxes next preceding the filing of the petition.

Subdivision 3. All the fees collected by the registrar under the provisions of subdivision 1 of this section shall be accounted for, paid, disbursed and disposed of by him in the manner that fees collected by him as county recorder are now or may hereafter be by law accounted for, paid, disbursed and disposed of. All fees collected under the provisions of subdivision 2 of this section shall be paid by the registrar, between the first and fifth days of the month following receipt thereof, to the treasurer of the state, to be by him accumulated as and for an assurance fund. Should there be a surplus in any year derived from fees hereunder other than those provided to be paid to the state treasurer for an assurance fund, such surplus shall be carried into the general fund and be subject to appropriation for any purpose. In case such fees shall not amount to the sum required for the administration of this act, the deficiency shall be paid from any funds in the county treasury, not otherwise appropriated. All books, blanks, papers and other things necessary, including clerks for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, shall be furnished by the board of supervisors at the expense of the county.

[Right of eminent domain not affected. Proceedings.]

§ 101. Nothing in this act shall be construed to in any wise affect or modify the exercise of the right of eminent domain. When any suit or proceeding shall have been brought in the exercise of such right for the taking of registered land, or any interest therein, or to test the validity of any such taking, or to ascertain and establish the amount of damage by reason of any such taking, it shall be the duty of both parties to the proceeding to see that a certified copy of the judgment or decree therein is duly filed and a memorial thereof entered upon the register; but in the case of an assessment of damages, no such memorial shall be entered by the registrar until such damages have been paid, in which event the register shall also show the payment of such damages; provided, however, that the deposit with the treasurer, as allowed by law, of such damages, shall be deemed a payment thereof, and in such case the treasurer shall forthwith file with the registrar a certificate of such deposit, and thereupon a memorial thereof shall be entered upon the register. Upon the filing of the certified copy of the order or decree of the court and the payment of damages, the registrar shall note on the register of title of the owners whose lands have been appropriated, a description of the land so appropriated, and shall register in the name of the person, corporation, or other body entitled thereto, the title of the land taken, and issue a certificate therefor.

[Property indices.]

§ 102. The registrar shall keep property indices, the pages of which shall be divided into columns, showing, first, the section or subdivision; second, the range or block; third, the township or lot; fourth, any further description necessary to identify the land; fifth, the name of the registered owner; sixth, the volume; and seventh, the page of the register in which the lands are registered.

[Name indices.]

§ 103. He shall also keep name indices, the pages of which shall be divided into columns, showing in alphabetical order, first, the names of all registered owners and all other persons interested in or holding charges upon registered land; second, the nature of the interest; third, a brief description of the land; fourth, the volume; and fifth, the page of the register in which the lands are registered.

[Suits for partition.]

§ 104. An owner of an undivided interest in registered lands may bring an action for the partition thereof. A notice of such action shall, at the time of the commencement thereof, be filed with the registrar and a memorial entered by him upon the register. A certified copy of any judgment or decree rendered in pursuance of such action shall be filed with the registrar, who shall thereupon issue new certificates in accordance therewith.

[“Torrens title assurance fund.”]

§ 105. Subdivision 1. The state treasurer shall keep all sums paid to him by the registrars under the provisions hereof in a separate fund to be known as the “Torrens title assurance fund,” and shall keep the same invested and reinvested in bonds of the United States or of the state of California or of any county or municipality thereof the income derived from said investment to be, as the same is received, added to said fund. Said treasurer shall render to the governor, at least once in each fiscal year, a full and detailed report, showing all receipts, disbursements and investments on account of such fund.

Subdivision 2. Any person who, without fraud or negligence on his part, is deprived of any interest or estate in land through the operation of any provisions of this act or by reason of the fraud, forgery, negligence, omission, mistake or misfeasance of any person, and who is precluded from recovering such interest or estate, may commence an action in the superior court of the county in which the land or a part thereof is situated, to recover not over the fair market value of the interest or estate of which he has been so deprived. If such deprivation has been caused solely by reason of any act of any registrar or deputy registrar in the performance of official duty as such, the state treasurer, in his official capacity, shall be the sole defendant. If such deprivation has been caused either wholly or in part by any person or persons other than such registrar or deputy registrar, while acting in the official performance of duty as such, such person or persons shall be joined as defendants with said state treasurer. In any such action said court shall have jurisdiction, after due service of summons, as provided in ordinary actions in said court, to determine the reason of such deprivation and to render judgment therein accordingly, either against said state treasurer alone or against him and all or any of the other defendants. In any action where there are defendants other than said state treasurer against whom judgment has been rendered, execution shall first issue against such other defendants and upon the return of such execution unsatisfied, either in whole or in part and upon it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that said execution cannot be satisfied out of the property belonging to such judgment creditors other than said state treasurer, or where judgment is had against said state treasurer alone, said court shall make its order directing the payment of the amount due out of the assurance fund, and such order shall constitute the warrant for the payment of the same, and the state controller shall thereupon audit and certify the amount of such claim in the same manner as other claims against the state are audited, and the state treasurer shall thereupon pay the amount of said claim out of the assurance fund without any other act or resolve making an appropriation therefor. If the assurance fund is at any time insufficient to pay the amount of any judgment in full, so much thereof as can be paid out of such fund shall be paid, and the unpaid balance shall bear interest at the legal rate and shall be paid out of the first moneys coming into such assurance fund. The attorney general shall defend the state treasurer in all actions brought under the provisions hereof; if the person who is deprived of land or of any estate or interest therein in the manner above stated, has a right of action or other remedy for the recovery thereof, he shall exhaust such remedy before resorting to the action herein provided. The provisions of this section shall not deprive the plaintiff of any action in tort which he may have against any person for loss or damage or deprivation of land, or any estate or interest therein, but if such plaintiff elects to pursue his remedy in tort and also brings an action under the provisions of this section, the action against said state treasurer shall be held in abeyance to await the final result of such action in tort; in every case in which payment has been made by the state treasurer under the provisions of this section, the state shall be subrogated to all the rights of the plaintiff against any other parties or securities, and the state treasurer shall enforce the same in behalf of the state. Any amounts recovered by reason of such subrogation shall be paid into the state treasury to the account of the Torrens title assurance fund, after deducting therefrom the proper expenses in recovering the same.

Subdivision 3. The assurance fund shall not be liable to pay for any loss, damage or deprivation occasioned solely by a breach of trust on the part of any registered owner who is trustee, or by the improper exercise of any power of sale in a mortgage, nor shall any plaintiff recover as compensation under the provisions of this act more than the fair market value of the land or of the estate or interest held by him at the time when he suffered the damage, loss or deprivation complained of. Actions for compensation out of the assurance fund under the provisions of this act shall be commenced within four years from the time when the right of action accrued or they shall be forever barred; provided, that if at the time the right of action accrued, the person entitled to bring such action is a minor, or insane, or imprisoned, such person or any one claiming under him may commence such action within two years after the removal of such disability.

[Defrauded person may have usual rights and remedies.]

§ 106. In the case of fraud, any person defrauded shall have all rights and remedies that he would have had if the lands were not under the provisions of this act; provided, that nothing contained in this section shall affect the title of a registered owner who has taken bona fide for a valuable consideration, or of any person bona fide claiming through or under him.

[In case of appeal clerk shall notify registrar.]

§ 107. In case of an appeal from any proceeding under this act, or from any judgment, order, or decree affecting registered lands, the clerk of the court in which the notice of appeal is filed shall forthwith notify the registrar thereof, and thereupon the registrar shall enter upon the register a memorial of such appeal.

[Appointment of deputies.]

§ 108. The county recorders or registrars in the several counties shall have and they are hereby granted the power to appoint, whenever the business in their respective offices under this act shall, in their opinion, justify the same, one or more deputies, each of whom shall be an attorney admitted to practice before the supreme court of the state of California for at least five years prior to his appointment, in good standing, skilled in the examination of titles and in proceedings under this act. The compensation of such attorneys shall be such as may be agreed upon between them and the registrar subject to the approval of the board of supervisors of the county and shall be paid in the same manner that the salaries of other deputies are paid. Such attorneys, so appointed, shall be competent to act as referees when appointed by the court in proceedings under this act. It shall be the duty of said attorneys to assist the registrar in all matters in and arising out of proceedings under this act.

[Platting and subdivision of registered lands.]

§ 109. The owner of registered land may plat the same and subdivide it into lots and blocks in like manner as in case of unregistered land. All laws with reference to the subdivision and platting of unregistered land shall apply with like force and effect to registered land. Owners of subdivisions transferring lots which are subject to building or other restrictions, may, at their own expense, furnish the registrar with printed forms of certificates of title for use by the registrar. Such printed forms must conform to the adopted size, quality of paper, workmanship and form and must first be submitted to the registrar for his approval; provided, however, the registrar shall have no authority over what restrictions shall be included.

[Permanency of documents relating to registered land.]

§ 110. It shall be the duty of the registrar to require that all documents offered for filing concerning registered land, shall be made out with a view to permanency. The registrar may refuse to accept any document for filing which in his judgment is wholly or partly written, made out or filled in with inferior ink or faded typewriter ribbon and likely to fade rapidly and may require such documents to be redrawn in India or indelible ink to insure permanency. Registrars must in every instance in making out new certificates of title, memorials or entries of any kind in connection with registered land, use India ink for handwriting and indelible ink for typewriter or rubber stamps.

[Nature of offense. Penalty.]

§ 111. Whoever fraudulently procures, assists in fraudulently procuring, or is privy to the fraudulent procurement of any certificates of title or other instrument, or of entry in the register or other book kept in the registrar's office, or of any erasure or alteration in any entry in any said book, or in any instrument authorized by this act, or knowingly defrauds or is privy to defrauding any person by means of a false or fraudulent instrument, certificate, statement, or affidavit affecting registered lands, shall be guilty of a felony, and fined not exceeding five thousand dollars, or be imprisoned not exceeding five years nor less than one year, or either or both such fine and imprisonment.

[Nature of offense. Penalty.]

§ 112. Whoever (1) forges, or procures to be forged, or assists in forging the seal of the registrar, or the name, signature, or handwriting of any officer of the registry office in cases where such officer is expressly or impliedly authorized to affix his signature; or (2) fraudulently stamps, or procures to be stamped, or assists in stamping any document with any forged seal of said registrar; or (3) forges, or procures to be forged, or assists in forging the name, signature, or handwriting of any person whomsoever to any instrument which is expressly or impliedly authorized to be signed by such person; or (4) uses any document upon which any impression, or part of the impression, of any seal of said registrar has been forged, knowing the same to have been forged, or any document, the signature to which has been forged, knowing the same to have been forged; or (5) swears falsely concerning any matter or procedure made and done in pursuance of this act, shall be guilty of a felony and fined not exceeding five thousand dollars or be imprisoned not exceeding ten years nor less than one year, or either or both such fine and imprisonment.

[Conviction not to affect remedy of person aggrieved or injured.]

§ 113. No proceeding or conviction for any act hereby declared to be a felony shall affect any remedy which any person aggrieved or injured by such act may be entitled to at law or in equity, against the person who has committed such act, or against his estate, or against the registrar, or upon his bond.

[Rules and regulations.]

§ 114. Registrars shall not make any rules or regulations that work a hardship or inconvenience upon owners or others desiring to avail themselves of the provisions of this act, who live at a distance from the office of the registrar and shall in writing consent to accept notice of all proceedings, of which notice is required, by mail and in such cases registrars shall assist those who desire to use the mails in connection with registered lands in every way possible. Such documents as are sent by mail shall be entirely at the risk of the owner and if lost, the entire expense of replacing same shall be borne by the owner.

[Construction of act.]

§ 115. This act shall be construed liberally so far as may be necessary for the purpose of effecting its general intent.

1. Constitutional.—Title broad enough.—The title of the act is sufficiently broad to cover the certification of any kind of a land title of which jurisdiction is given in the act to ascertain and establish.—Frances Investment Co. v. Superior Court, 34 Cal. App. Dec. 670.

2. Same.—Same.—All the provisions of the act relative to criminal prosecutions for fraudulently procuring false certificates making the county recorder registrar of titles and forbidding him to practice law, are germane to the subject of the act as expressed in the title.—Robinson v. Kerrigan, 151 Cal. 40, 121 Am. St. Rep. 90, 12 Ann. Cas. 829, 90 Pac. 129.

3. Same.—Not special legislation.—It is not special legislation because it contains special provisions regarding the statute of limitations and the rights of bona fide purchasers of land registered under the act.—Robinson v. Kerrigan, 151 Cal. 40, 121 Am. St. Rep. 90, 12 Ann. Cas. 829, 90 Pac. 129.

4. Same.—Due process.—The land title law is not unconstitutional as in violation of the due process clause of the constitution.—Robinson v. Kerrigan, 151 Cal. 40, 121 Am. St. Rep. 90, 12 Ann. Cas. 829, 90 Pac. 129.

5. Same.—Judicial not administrative.—The proceedings authorized by the act are judicial and not administrative, and not violative of the constitutional provision prohibiting the exercise by one of the three departments of the government of any function of either of the other two.—Robinson v. Kerrigan, 151 Cal. 40, 121 Am. St. Rep. 90, 12 Ann. Cas. 829, 90 Pac. 129.

6. Same.—Same.—Proceeding same as that of the McEnerney act.—The proceeding provided by this act is, in all important particulars, of similar character to that provided by the McEnerney act.—Robinson v. Kerrigan, 151 Cal. 40, 121 Am. St. Rep. 90, 12 Ann. Cas. 829, 90 Pac. 129.

7. Jurisdiction.—The jurisdiction of the superior court extends to the settlement of all matters affecting the ownership of the property, and is not limited merely to the ascertainment and certification of the record title.—Frances Investment Co. v. Superior Court, 34 Cal. App. Dec. 670.

See, In re Scott, 182 Cal. 83, 187 Pac. 9.

8. "Register of titles"—Purpose of section 77.—The purpose of section 77 of the land title law is to provide a folio in the "register of titles" to which a person dealing with the particular piece of land there described as having been brought under the act may look in order to ascertain the exact condition of the title before purchasing, leasing, or loaning money upon the security of a mortgage thereon.—In re Sieck, (Cal. App.) 189 Pac. 314.

9. Same.—Notice of tunnel ordinance.—The failure to file with the registrar a notice of a tunnel ordinance, as required by the land title law is not jurisdictional.—Hayes v. Handley, 182 Cal. 273, 187 Pac. 952.

10. Tax sale.—Failure to file notice required by section 77.—Where notice of a tax sale is not filed within five days as required by section 77, the sale is nullified, and the title becomes as though no such sale had ever been made.—In re Sieck, (Cal. App.) 189 Pac. 314.

11. Same.—Rescission of trust deed for fraud.—The petitioners for the registration of their land title under the Torrens act are entitled to have a trust deed on the property rescinded on the ground of fraudulent representations.—Frances Investment Co. v. Superior Court, 34 Cal. App. Dec. 670.

12. Contract to furnish certificate of title by title company—Torrens title insufficient.—Where a contract for the purchase of land was conditioned upon the furnishing by the seller to the purchaser of a certificate of title made by a specified title company, the purchaser is not bound to accept a Torrens certificate of registration showing title in the seller free and clear of all encumbrances, although the particular title company arbitrarily refused to furnish a certificate on the land in question, on the specious ground that it made a practice of refusing certificates on land registered under the Torrens system.—Taggart v. Graham, 39 Cal. App. 621, 179 Pac. 688.

13. Judgment for plaintiff supported.—Where certain defendants in a proceeding under the Torrens act appeared in the lower court, and, in appropriate pleadings, denied petitioners' claim of ownership and alleged title in themselves; and the issues thus raised fully tried and determined against their contention, the court properly adjudged the petitioners entitled to the immediate possession against the defendants, the proceeding being in substance and effect one to quiet title to real property.—In re Scott, 182 Cal. 83, 187 Pac. 9.

14. McEnerney act.—The similarity of the proceedings under this act and under the McEnerney act justifies a reference to the annotations of the latter.

15. Recent cases in other jurisdictions.—The following are recent leading cases from other states: Mills v. Denver, etc., Co., 198 Fed. 142; In re Riley, 120 Minn. 218, 139 N. W. 364; Hunt v. Hay, 214 N. Y. 582, 108 N. E. 852.

16. Torrens acts—Note on.—An exhaustive note on the general subject of the Torrens acts will be found in Ann. Cas. 1913c, 871.

The Illinois Torrens law for the registration of titles (Ill. Laws 1893, 82), providing for an examination by the recorder of deeds or registrar of titles of the facts in relation to the title to land, and the issuing of a certificate of ownership, held to constitute an unconstitutional delegation of judicial power, even though the effect of such certificate be simply to start the running of a statute of limitations—People ex rel. Kern v. Chase, 165 Ill. 527, 46 N. E. 454, 36 L. R. A. 105.

REGULATION OF LAND TITLES.

ACT 5196—An act providing for the regulation of land titles, and giving the surveyor general certain powers in respect thereto.

History: Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1668.

Surveyor general to investigate land titles.

§ 1. The surveyor general, or a deputy of his department, may not more often than once in two years, visit the various counties of the state and inspect and investigate conditions in respect to land titles. He shall annually report to the governor and shall, prior to each regular session, report to the legislature, making such recommendations as he shall deem proper and necessary. He is hereby authorized to consult with and to advise county registrars of land titles and to make such suggestions and recommendations to the county registrars of land titles as he may deem desirable.

Uniform blank forms.

§ 2. The surveyor general or deputy may prepare and recommend for the use of the county registrars of land titles and applicants for registration of land titles and of the courts hearing such applications, uniform blank forms to be used throughout the state.

SETTLEMENT OF TITLES IN BRANCIFORTE.

ACT 5197—An act to settle the title to lands in the village and town of Branciforte, in the county of Santa Cruz.

TOWPATHS ALONG NAVIGABLE RIVERS.

ACT 5206—An act to provide for the location of towpaths along the banks of navigable streams.

History: Approved April 1, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 940.

Authority given.

§ 1. The board of supervisors of each county in the state may, when public convenience for the purpose of commerce requires it, cause to be located and opened a towpath, not exceeding ten feet in width, along the bank or banks of any navigable stream within the county.

Viewers.

§ 2. In order to locate and open such towpath, the same proceedings in regard to petition, viewers, etc., shall be taken as are now by law required to be taken in the respective counties of this state for the purpose of locating and opening public roads and highways.

Water frontage.

§ 3. The owner or owners of any land over which a towpath shall be located and opened shall not be deprived of the water frontage nor of the free use and enjoyment of any land so located, subject only to the right of the public to use the same for the purposes of commerce.

Fences.

§ 4. It shall not be necessary to construct or maintain fences on either side of any towpath so located, but the board of supervisors may make all necessary rules and regulations for the government and management of towpaths, and may provide for the erection of gates thereon and for the full and complete protection of the property through which the same passes.

§ 5. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

ACT 5211. PROTECTION OF OWNERS OF BOTTLES, ETC.

PROTECTION OF OWNERS OF BOTTLES, ETC.

ACT 5211—An act to protect the owners of bottles, boxes, siphons and kegs used in the sale of olives, olive oil, salad oil, soda waters, mineral or aerated water, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, white beer, or other beverages, repealing "An act to protect the owners of bottles, boxes, siphons, and kegs used in the sale of soda waters, mineral or aerated waters, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, beer, white beer, or other beverages," approved March 31, 1891, also repealing "An act to amend an act entitled an act to protect the owners of bottles, boxes, siphons, and kegs, used in the sale of soda waters, mineral and aerated waters, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, beer, white beer, or other beverages (approved March 31, 1891) by adding thereto a new section after section 4 thereof relating to deposits, to be numbered as section 5 of said act, by renumbering section 5 of said act as section 6 thereof, and amending the same relating to assignments, and by renumbering section 6 of said act as section 7 thereof," approved March 5, 1903.

History: Approved March 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 416. Prior act on same subject approved March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 217. Amended March 5, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 83, was repealed by this act. For a full discussion of the law of trademarks, and an exhaustive discussion of authorities, see Kerr's Cyc. Civil Code, § 991, and note.

Name or device filed with secretary of state.

§ 1. Any and all persons engaged in manufacturing, bottling, or selling olives, olive oil, salad oil, soda waters, mineral or aerated waters, porter, ale, beer, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, white beer, or other beverages or Worcestershire or other sauce or sauces in bottles, siphons, or kegs, with his, her, its or their name or names, or other marks or devices, branded, stamped, engraved, etched, and blown, impressed, or otherwise produced upon such bottles, siphons, or kegs, or the boxes used by him, her, it, or them, may file in the office of the clerk of the county in which his, her, its, or their principal place of business is situated, and also in the office of the secretary of state, a description of the name or names, marks or devices, so used by him, her, it or them, respectively, and cause such description to be printed once in each week for three weeks successively, in a newspaper published in the county in which said notice may have been filed as aforesaid.

Refilling bottles, etc. Used bottles not to be used for other purposes. Penalty.

§ 2. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person or persons, corporation or corporations, to fill with olive oil, salad oil, or any substitution for, or similar to olive oil, ripe or green olives, soda waters, mineral or aerated waters, port, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, beer, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, white beer, or other beverages, or Worcestershire or other sauce or sauces or with medicine, compounds, or mixtures, any bottle, box, siphon or keg, so marked or distinguished as aforesaid, with or by any name, mark or device, of which a description shall have been filed and published, as provided in section 1 of this act, or deface, erase, obliterate, cover up, or otherwise remove or conceal any such name, mark or device thereon, or to sell, buy, give, take or otherwise dispose of or traffic in the same, without the written consent of, or unless the same shall have been purchased from the person or persons, corporation or corporations, whose mark or device shall be or shall have been in or upon the bottle, box, siphon, or keg so filled, trafficked in, used, or handled as aforesaid. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the manufacture, preparation or selling of drugs, or food products to use bottles, in bottling or packing their products that have been previously used for other purposes.

Any person or persons or corporation offending against the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished for the first offense by imprisonment of not less than ten days nor more than six months or by a fine of fifty cents for each and every such bottle, box, siphon or keg so filled, sold, used, disposed of, bought, or trafficked in, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and for each subsequent offense by imprisonment not less than twenty days nor more than one year, or by a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than five dollars for each and every bottle, box, siphon, and keg so filled, sold, used, disposed of, bought or trafficked in, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the magistrate before whom the offense shall be tried.

Use and traffic in such bottles without consent, prohibited.

§ 3. The use by any person other than the person or persons, corporation or corporations, whose device, name or mark shall be or shall have been upon the same, without such written consent or purchase, as aforesaid, or any such mark or distinguished bottle, box, siphon, or keg, a description of the name, mark or device whereon shall have been filed and published, as herein provided, for the sale therein of olives, olive oil, salad oil, soda waters, mineral or aerated waters, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, beer, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, white beer, or other beverages, or Worcestershire or other sauce or sauces or any article of merchandise, medicines, compounds, or preparations, or for the furnishing of such or similar beverages to customers, or the buying, selling, using, disposing of, or trafficking in of any such bottle, boxes, siphons, or kegs, by any person other than said persons or corporations having a name, mark, or device thereon, or such owner, without such written consent, or the having by any junk dealer, or dealer in second-hand articles, possession of any such bottles, boxes, siphons, or kegs, a description of the marks, names, or devices wherein shall have been so filed and published as aforesaid, without such written consent, shall and is hereby declared to be presumptive evidence of the said unlawful use, purchase or traffic in of such bottles, boxes, siphons, or kegs.

Search-warrant to discover bottles, etc.

§ 4. Whenever any person, persons, or corporations, mentioned in section 1 of this act, or his, her, its or their agent, shall make oath before any magistrate that he, she or it has reason to believe, and does believe, that any of his, her, or their bottles, boxes, siphons, or kegs, a description of the names, marks or devices, whereon has been so filed and published, as aforesaid, are being unlawfully used or filled, or had by any person or corporation manufacturing or selling olives, olive oil, salad oil, soda, mineral, or aerated waters, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, white beer, and other beverages, or Worcestershire or other sauce or sauces or that any junk dealer, or dealer in second-hand articles, vendor of bottles, or any other person or corporation, has any such bottles, boxes, siphons, or kegs, in his, her, or its possession, or secreted in any place, the said magistrate must thereupon issue a search-warrant to discover and obtain the same and may also cause to be brought before him the person in whose possession such bottles, boxes, siphons, or kegs may be found, and then inquire into the circumstances of such possession, and if said magistrate finds that such person has been guilty of a violation of section 2 of this act, he must impose the punishment therein prescribed, and he shall also award possession of the property taken upon such search-warrant to the owner thereof.

Deposit not deemed sale.

§ 5. The requiring, taking, or accepting of any deposit for any purpose, upon any bottle, box, siphon, or keg, shall not be deemed or constitute a sale of such property, either optional or otherwise, in any proceeding under this act.

One filing sufficient. Transfer of right.

§ 6. Any person or persons, corporation or corporations that has or have heretofore filed in the offices mentioned in section 1 of this act, a description of the name or names, marks, or devices, upon his, her, their or its property therein mentioned, and has caused the same to be published according to the laws existing at the time of such filing and publications, shall not be required to again file and publish such description to be entitled to the benefits of this act; and any person or persons, corporation or corporations, having complied with the provisions of this act, may as a part of the sale, assignment or transfer of all his, her, their, or its said bottles, boxes, siphons, or kegs, used as aforesaid, with his, her, their or its name or names or other marks or devices, branded, stamped, engraved, etched, and blown, impressed or otherwise produced upon such bottles, boxes, siphons, and kegs, to any other person or persons, corporation or corporations, engaged in manufacturing, bottling or selling of olives, olive oil, salad oil, soda waters, mineral or aerated waters, porter, ale, beer, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, white beer, or other beverages, or Worcestershire or other sauce or sauces sell, assign, and transfer the sole and exclusive right of using said name or names, mark or devices in said business. And in the event of such sale, transfer or assignment as aforesaid, or in the event of the transfer by operation of law or by sale under order of any court of the entire business of such person or persons, corporation or corporations, of the entire stock of bottles, boxes, siphons or kegs, belonging to them, him, her or it, to any person or persons, corporation or corporations, engaged in the manufacturing, bottling, or selling olives, olive oil, salad oil, soda waters, mineral or aerated waters, porter, ale, beer, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, white beer or other beverages, such person or persons, corporation or corporations, shall not be again required to file and publish a description of said name or names, marks, or devices, hereunder, but shall be entitled to all the benefits of this act immediately upon acquiring such bottles, boxes, siphons or kegs or such business as aforesaid.

Acts repealed.

§ 7. An act entitled "An act to protect the owners of bottles, boxes, siphons, and kegs used in the sale of soda waters, mineral or aerated waters, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, white beer, or other beverages," approved March 31, 1891, also an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled an act to protect the owners of bottles, boxes, siphons, and kegs used in the sale of soda waters, mineral and aerated waters, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, beer, white beer, or other beverages (approved March 31, 1891) by adding thereto a new section after section 4 thereof relating to deposits, to be numbered as section 5 of said act, by renumbering section 5 of said act as section 6 thereof, and amending the same relating to assignments, and by renumbering section 6 of said act as section 7 thereof," approved March 5, 1903, and all acts or parts of acts, consistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

1. Constitutionality — Protection of the public.—The act is constitutional in that feature of it which looks to the protection of the general public from fraud, imposition and deception.—Bartollotti v. Police Court, 35 Cal. App. 372, 170 Pac. 161.

2. Same—Same.—The subject matter of the act bears a distinct and appropriate relation to its purpose to protect the public.—Bartollotti v. Police Court, 35 Cal. App. 372, 170 Pac. 161.

3. Same—Not unwarranted classification.—The act is not unconstitutional on the ground that it is unreasonable class legislation, the protection given the owners of a particular kind of property being partially for the purpose of giving greater protection to the public.—Bartollotti v. Police Court, 35 Cal. App. 372, 170 Pac. 161.

4. Same—Not special legislation.—The act is not unconstitutional as special legislation.—Bartollotti v. Police Court, 35 Cal. App. 372, 170 Pac. 162.

Editor's note.—In view of the extreme difficulty of determining what acts on this subject are in force and what are not, all acts not expressly repealed are inserted, with such comments as are suggested by the facts shown by the statutes themselves, supplemented by notes from available decisions, leaving it to the searcher in the particular instance to solve his own particular problem. No doubt some of these acts continue in force, notwithstanding estray and fence laws; but there is also no doubt some have been superseded or repealed.

ACT 5243—An act concerning trespassing of animals upon private lands, and the recovery of damages resulting therefrom.

History: Approved March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 999.

Unlawful to suffer trespass of animals upon private lands.

§ 1. It is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation owning, or having possession of, any animal, to suffer or permit such animal to break into and enter upon any land owned by, or lawfully in the possession of any person, firm or corporation, other than the owner of such animal, in all cases where such land is planted to growing crops, vines, fruit trees or vegetables, and is at the time entirely inclosed by a substantial fence or other inclosure.

Action for damages.

§ 2. The owner of, or person who is in the lawful possession of, any land trespassed upon, in violation of this act, is entitled to recover, by action in a court of competent jurisdiction, from the owner of, or person in possession of, or person chargeable with the care of, the trespassing animal or animals, all actual damages sustained by reason of such trespass, together with costs of suit.

Security for payment of judgment. Provisions of Code of Civil Procedure applying.

§ 3. For the purpose of allowing the plaintiff a better security for the payment of any judgment he may recover in actions brought under the first two sections of this act, all the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state relating to attachment process shall apply to such actions, subject only to the following modifications, to wit: Instead of filing the affidavit on attachment, required by sections five hundred and thirty-eight and eight hundred and sixty-six of said code, the plaintiff is entitled to the issuance of a writ of attachment against the property of defendant, upon filing his complaint stating a cause of action under this act, verified according to the law concerning the verification of pleadings.

No animal exempt from execution.

§ 4. No animal is exempt from attachment or execution, levy and sale, to satisfy a judgment that may be rendered against the owner of such animal for trespass committed by such animal.

Course of procedure.

§ 5. In all other matters than those in which a different rule is herein prescribed the course of procedure prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure of this state shall prevail in suits brought under this act.

Repeal of conflicting act. Estray laws not affected.

§ 6. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed; provided, nothing in this act shall be deemed or construed to repeal an act of the legislature of this state relating to estrays, approved March 23d, 1901.

§ 7. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

1. Act not repealed.—This act did not repeal the act of March 7, 1878 (Stats. 1877-78, p. 176, Act 5246c).—Hicks v. Butterworth, 30 Cal. App. 562, 159 Pac. 224; Blevens v. Mullally, 22 Cal. App. 519, 135 Pac. 307.

2. Same.—This act did not repeal the act of 1874 (Stats. 1873-74, p. 50, Act 5246b).—Davis v. Blasingame, 40 Cal. App. 458, 181 Pac. 104.

3. Effect on act of estray law of 1915.—As to the effect of the estray law of 1915 on this act (see Act 1401, estray law of 1901) on this act.—Montezuma, etc., Co. v. Simmerly, 181 Cal. 722, 189 Pac. 100.

4. Act not repugnant to common-law rule—Section 4468, Political Code.—The act which adopts the common law as to trespassing animals, but limits its application by certain conditions is not so repugnant to the common-law rule as to call for the application of the provisions of section 4468, Political Code.—Blevens v. Mullally, 22 Cal. App. 519, 135 Pac. 307.

5. Jurisdiction of justice—Title and right of possession not involved.—The action authorized for injuries to growing crops by trespassing animals does not involve either the title or the right to the possession of the land, as affecting the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace.—Fisch v. Nice, 12 Cal. App. 60, 106 Pac. 598.

6. "Lawful possession" defined.—The words "lawful possession" as used in the act mean only peaceable and quiet possession as contradistinguished from a possession not merely constructively tortious but actually so.—Fisch v. Nice, 12 Cal. App. 60, 106 Pac. 598.

ANIMALS TRESPASSING ON PRIVATE PROPERTY.

ACT 5244—An act to prevent the trespassing of animals upon private property.

History: Approved March 31, 1855, Stats. 1855, p. 70. Supplemented May 17, 1861, Stats. 1861, p. 474. The supplementary act was amended (1) May 2, 1862, Stats. 1862, p. 480; (2) April 25, 1863, Stats. 1863, p. 570; (3) April 4, 1864, Stats. 1863-64, p. 459; (4) February 28, 1866, Stats. 1865-66, p. 126. This act was continued in force by the Political Code. See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 19, subd. 23.

The code commissioners say that this act was repealed by the general estray laws, but see editor's note to chapter on "Estrays."

Editor's note: The act was probably superseded by the act of 1907 (Act 5243).

As to the effect on this and other acts of like character of the estray law of 1915 (see Act 1401, estray law of 1901). See Montezuma, etc., Co. v. Simmerly, 181 Cal. 722, 189 Pac. 100.

PROTECTION OF AGRICULTURE FROM TRESPASSING ANIMALS IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

ACT 5244a—An act to protect agriculture, and to prevent the trespassing of animals on private property.

History: Approved March 26, 1866, Stats. 1865-66, p. 440. Amended March 26, 1870, Stats. 1869-70, p. 410; March 16, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 412; March 30, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 845; January 7, 1876, Stats. 1875-76, p. 5. Supplemented and amended March 28, 1868, Stats. 1867-68, p. 456; April 1, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 940. The supplementary and amendatory acts were repealed March 16, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 391. This act applied originally to the counties of Marin and Yolo and portions of Mono, Sacramento, and Solano. The amendment of 1870 extended it to the counties of Stanislaus and San Joaquin, and portions of Los Angeles, Merced, San Diego, and Santa Barbara. The amendment of 1872 extended to a further portion of the county of Merced. The amendment of 1876 restricted the application of the act to the counties of Marin, Solano, and Sacramento, and a portion of Mono. The supplementary acts dealt exclusively with the portion of the territory in Sacramento county to which the act was applicable. This act appears to have been overlooked entirely by the code commissioners.

PROTECTION OF AGRICULTURE FROM TRESPASSING ANIMALS IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

ACT 5245—An act to protect agriculture, and prevent the trespassing of animals upon private property in the county of Los Angeles, and in the county of San Diego, and in parts of Monterey county.

History: Approved February 14, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 99. Amended March 5, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 241. Repealed as to Monterey County March 21, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 556. Extended to Inyo county, March 28, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 668. This act was continued in force by the Political Code. See Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, § 19, subd. 23.

The code commissioners say of this act that it was repealed by the general estray law of 1897; but see editor's note to chapter on "Estrays."

PROTECTION OF AGRICULTURE AND DISTRAINING OF TRESPASSING ANIMALS IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

ACT 5245a—An act to protect agriculture and provide for the distraining of trespassing animals in the counties of Los Angeles and Stanislaus.

History: Approved March 4, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 164.

The code commissioners say of this act that it was modified if not repealed by the general estray law of 1897; but see editor's note on "Estrays."

PROTECTION OF AGRICULTURE FROM TRESPASSING ANIMALS.

ACT 5246—An act to protect agriculture and to prevent the trespassing of animals upon private property.

History: Approved March 27, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 563. The code commissioners say with reference to this act: "Probably superseded by 1897: 198; 1901: 603, chap. 197, relating to estrays," but see editor's note to chapter on "Estrays."

The code commissioners say of this act: "Probably superseded by 1897: 198; 1901: 603, chap. 197, relating to estrays"; but see editor's note to chapter on "Estrays."

1. Sale void for want of notice.—A distrainer who purchases and claims title to horses taken damage feasant under a sale void for want of the required notice loses his statutory lien.—Chase v. Putnam, 117 Cal. 364, 49 Pac. 204.

PROTECTION OF AGRICULTURE FROM TRESPASSING ANIMALS IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

ACT 5246a—An act to protect agriculture and to prevent the trespassing of animals upon private property in the counties of Fresno, Tulare, Kern, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, and Monterey.

History: Approved February 4, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 50. Amended March 30, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 824. Supplemented and amended February 27, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 179. Supplemented March 27, 1874 Stats. 1873-74, p. 705. Extended March 18, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 474. The act applied originally to the counties of Fresno, Tulare, Kern, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, and Monterey. The amendment of March 30, 1874, extended it to Inyo county. The act of February 27, 1874, restricted its application in Fresno county. The act of March 27, 1874, extended it to Napa county, and the act of March 18, 1874, extended it to San Benito county.

Code commissioners' notes: "Unconstitutional in so far as it authorizes justices to enforce a lien (Young v. Wright, 52 Cal. 407; Sutherland v. Sweem, 53 Cal. 48)."

"Repealed 1877-78, p. 176 (Hanley v. Sixteen Horses, 97 Cal. 182, 32 Pac. 10)."

Editor's note: The act of 1877-78 did not repeal this act, except in so far as it applied to Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties. The decision of the court went no further than to hold that the two acts were in conflict so far as the county of Santa Barbara was concerned.

1. Remedy of act does not take away right to ordinary action in trespass.—The remedy by action in rem given by this act does not take away the right of an owner of land to an ordinary action in trespass against the owner of cattle wrongfully entering his premises.—Trescony v. Brandenstein, 66 Cal. 514, 6 Pac. 384.

PROTECTION OF AGRICULTURE FROM TRESPASSING ANIMALS IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

ACT 5246b—An act to protect agriculture and to prevent the trespassing of animals upon private property in the counties of Stanislaus, Fresno, and Sutter.

History: Approved March 20, 1876, Stats. 1875-76, p. 373.

The code commissioners say this act was repealed by the general estray law of 1897; but see editor's note to chapter on "Estrays."

1. Not repealed by act of 1907.—This act was not repealed by the act of 1907 (Act 5243).—Davis v. Blasingame, 40 Cal. App. 458, 181 Pac. 104.

2. Statute of limitations.—Under this act the time to commence the action for damages provided for therein is not limited to sixty days after the trespass.—Davis v. Blasingame, 40 Cal. App. 458, 181 Pac. 104.

TRESPASSING ANIMALS ON PRIVATE LANDS IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

ACT 5246c—An act concerning trespassing of animals upon private lands in certain counties in the state of California.

History: Approved March 7, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 176. Amended March 30, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 878; March 15, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 300. This act applied originally to the counties of Alpine, Colusa, Humboldt, Merced, Solano, Santa Barbara, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, and Sacramento, and to parts of San Bernardino, El Dorado, and Tehama. By the amendment of March 30, 1878, it was extended to Los Angeles county, and by the amendment of 1907, to Sutter county.

1. Constitutionality—Not a special law.—The act was held to be constitutional, and not a special law merely because it applied to certain counties.—Wigmore v. Buell, 122 Cal. 144, 54 Pac. 600.

2. Same—Uniformity of operation.—The act was not unconstitutional because of lack of uniformity of operation, in allowing attachment without affidavit, thus introducing a remedy different from that provided by the code.—Wigmore v. Buell, 122 Cal. 144, 54 Pac. 600.

3. Same—Allowance of exemptions.—Not unconstitutional because denying the exemptions given by the general law in attachments.—Wigmore v. Buell, 122 Cal. 144, 54 Pac. 600.

4. Act of 1878 not repealed by act of 1907.—It was not the intention of the legislature by the act of 1907 (999), partially restoring the common-law rule as to trespassing animals, to repeal the act of 1878, which restored the rule in its entirety to certain counties.—Blevens v. Mullally, 22 Cal. App. 519, 135 Pac. 307.

5. Not repealed by act of 1907.—This act was not repealed by the general act of 1907 (Act 5243).—Hicks v. Butterworth, 30 Cal. App. 562, 159 Pac. 224.

6. Lessee may sue for damages.—One who occupies land under a lease calling for one-half of certain crops as rental, holding title to the crop, may sue under the act for damages from trespassing animals.—Hicks v. Butterworth, 30 Cal. App. 562, 159 Pac. 224.

TRESPASSING OF LIVE STOCK IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

ACT 5246d—An act to prevent trespass upon real estate by live stock.

History: Approved May 11, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 464.

Trespass by live stock.

§ 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to herd or graze any live stock upon the lands of another in the counties of Plumas, Lassen and Modoc without having first obtained the consent of the owner or owners of the land so to do; provided, that the person claiming to be the owner of said lands has the legal title thereto, or an application to possess the same, with first payment made thereon.

Damages.

§ 2. The live stock which is herded or grazed upon the lands of another, contrary to the provisions of the first section of this act, shall be liable for all damages done by said live stock while being unlawfully herded or grazed on the lands of another, as aforesaid, together with costs of suit, and said live stock may be seized and held by a writ of attachment issued in the same manner provided by the general laws of the state of California, as security for the payment of any judgment which may be recovered by the owner or owners of said lands for damages incurred by reason of a violation of any of the provisions of this act, and the claim and lien of a judgment or attachment in such case shall be superior to any claim or demand which arose subsequent to the commencement of this action.

Exception.

§ 3. This act shall not apply to any live stock running at large on the ranges or commons.

ANIMAL TRESPASSES IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

ACT 5246e—An act concerning trespasses on lands in the counties of Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo.

History: Approved March 30, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 749. The code commission says of this act that it was repealed by the general estray laws; but see editor's note to chapter on "Estrays."

EXECUTION OF EXPRESS TRUSTS IN CASE OF DEATH OF LAST SURVIVING TRUSTEE.

ACT 5259—An act to provide for the more certain execution of express trusts in case of the death of the last surviving trustee.

History: Approved March 14, 1868, Stats. 1867-68, p. 170.

Probably superseded by the Civil Code, see Kerr's Cyc. Civil Code, section 2287-2289. If not so superseded, it is probably obsolete by reason of the abolition of the district courts by the present constitution.

TRUSTS FOR PUBLIC LIBRARIES, ETC.

ACT 5260—An act to encourage and provide for the dissemination of a knowledge of the arts, sciences, and general literature, and the founding, maintaining and perpetuating public libraries, museums, and galleries of art, and the receipt of donations and contributions thereto when established; for the conveyance, holding, and protection of real property within this state suitable for the purposes herein designated, and the erection thereon of buildings appropriate to such purposes, and for the creation of trusts necessary or proper for the better preservation of such institutions, and the control and management thereof.

History: Approved March 5, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 26. Other acts of similar character: See post, Acts 5261, 5262, 5263.

Manner of conveying gifts for dissemination of knowledge of arts, etc.

§ 1. Any person intending in his lifetime or by will or trust deed, to operate after his death, to found, maintain, and perpetuate in this state a public library, museum, gallery of art, or any or all thereof, for the diffusion of mechanical, scientific, artistic, and general knowledge, may to that end and for such purpose, and for any purpose within the purview of the title of this act, convey in writing by words denoting a gift or grant to one or more trustees named in such gift or grant, and to their successors, any library or collection of books and works, for such public library, or any museum, or gallery of art in this state, and such gift or grant may also express and shall be construed to be a conveyance of the future additions and accretions thereof; and he may also in like manner, to that end, and for such purpose, convey by grant to such trustee or trustees any real property within this state belonging to him, which may be necessary or proper for the erection and maintenance of buildings suitable to such institution, and the buildings erected thereon, with grounds, conveniently adjacent thereto, and other lands, tenements, and hereditaments for the purpose of producing an income for the support and maintenance of such institutions, or any of them, and any collateral burdens which may be imposed by the terms of such foundation as part and parcel of the regulations for its conduct, and also personal property of all descriptions, which may subserve the purposes of the institution and maintenance of any such library, museum, or gallery of art.

Gifts by other than founder.

§ 2. Any contributions or gifts by any other person than the founder, of any property suitable to the general plan or support of any institution mentioned in the title of this act, shall immediately vest in the trustees, and become incorporated into and subject to the trust, and to all its terms and conditions, and be managed under the rules and regulations prescribed therefor.

Powers of donor over.

§ 3. The person making such gift, grant, or conveyance, as founder, may therein designate,—

1. The name by which the institution so founded and maintained shall be known.
2. Its nature, object, and purposes.
3. The powers and duties of the trustees, which shall not be exclusive of other powers and duties that, in their judgment, may be necessary more effectually to carry out the purposes of such institution.
4. The mode and manner and by whom the successors to the trustees named in the gift or grant shall be appointed.
5. Such rules and regulations for the management of such institution, and the furtherance of its purposes, as the grantor may elect to prescribe; but such rules and regulations shall, unless the grant shall otherwise prescribe, be deemed advisory only, and shall not preclude such trustees or their successors from making such changes as new conditions may, from time to time, require.
6. The place or places where the necessary buildings shall be erected, and the general character thereof. The person making such grant may therein provide for all other things necessary or proper to carry out the purposes thereof, or otherwise, by his last will or testament.

Powers of trustees.

§ 4. The trustees named in such gift or grant, and their successors, may, in the name of such institution designated in the gift or grant, sue and defend in relation to the trust property, and to all matters affecting the institution so founded and established.

Privileges granted to founder.

§ 5. By a provision in such gift or grant, the founder may elect, in respect to the personal and real property conveyed, and the additions and increase thereof, and in respect to the erection, maintenance, and management of any buildings auxiliary thereto, and in respect to any property connected with such institution, to reserve to himself a veto and right of annulment or modification of any act of such trustees, in case he shall, within thirty days after notice of the performance of such act, file in the office of said trustees, or deliver to their president or principal officer, a notice in writing, of such veto, annulment, or modification, and upon a like notice, in conformity with a provision in such gift or grant, he may elect to perform during his life all the powers which, by the terms thereof, are vested in or enjoined upon the trustees therein named, and their successors; provided, that upon the death or disability to act of the founder and grantor, such powers and duties shall be devolved upon, and be exercised by, the trustees named in the gift or grant, and their successors. Such person may also reserve the right to alter, amend, or modify, at any time during his life, or by his last will and testament, the terms and conditions thereof, and the trust therein created in respect to such institution, its buildings, and the property conveyed therefor.

Election of officers and compensation.

§ 6. The founder shall have power in said deed of trust to name and describe the character and personality of any one or more of the immediate or future trustees, the librarian, and other officers, and to name and impose any particular duty to be performed by any one or more trustees or other officers so described and characterized, and to declare and limit any compensation, and fix the character and method of such compensation he may choose to provide for any such trustee or other officer whom the terms of his foundation may characterize, and upon whom specific or general duties shall be imposed.

Gift, how recorded.

§ 7. Any such gift or grant may be executed, acknowledged, and recorded in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for the execution, acknowledgment, and recording of grants of real property.

Time of commencing suit.

§ 8. No suit, action, or proceeding shall be commenced or maintained by any person to set aside, annul, or affect said gift, grant or conveyance, or to affect the title to the property conveyed, or the right to the possession or to the rents, issues, and profits thereof, unless the same be commenced within two years after the date of the filing of such grant for record.

Founder may bequeath to state of California.

§ 9. Any person, being the founder, making a gift or grant for any of the purposes mentioned in this act, may, at any time thereafter, by last will or testament, devise or bequeath to the state of California all or any of the property, real, and personal, mentioned in such gift or grant, or in any such supplemental thereto, and such devise or bequest shall take effect in case, from any cause whatever, the gift or grant shall be annulled or set aside, or the trusts therein declared shall for any reason fail. Such devise or bequest is hereby suffered to be made by way of assurance that the intentions of the grantor shall be carried out, and in the faith that the state, in case it shall succeed to the property, or any part thereof, will, to the extent and value of such property carry out, in respect to the objects and purposes of any such grant, all the wishes and intentions of the grantor.

Liberal construction of provisions.

§ 10. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed, with a view to effect its objects and purposes, and the singular number in the construction thereof shall be deemed to include the plural, and the plural number shall be deemed to include the singular.

Universities, colleges, schools, etc.

§ 11. Nothing in this act shall repeal, modify, change, or have any effect upon any of the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of California entitled "An act to advance learning, the arts and sciences, and to promote the public welfare by providing for the conveyance, holding, and protection of property, and the creation of trusts for the founding, endowment, erection, and maintenance, within this state, of universities, colleges, schools, seminaries of learning, mechanical institutes, museums, and galleries of art," approved March ninth, eighteen hundred and eighty-five.

§ 12. This act shall take effect immediately.

TRUSTS FOR UNIVERSITIES, ETC.

ACT 5261—An act to advance learning, the arts and sciences, and to promote the public welfare, by providing for the conveyance, holding, and protection of property, and the creation of trusts for the founding, endowment, erection, and maintenance within this state of universities, colleges, schools, seminaries of learning, mechanical institutes, museums, and galleries of art.

History: Approved March 9, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 49. Amended March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 454. Supplemented March 13, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 140 (Act 5262). Other acts of similar character: See ante, Act 5260; post, Acts 5262, 5263.

Construction of act.

§ 1. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed with a view to effect its objects and promote its purposes; and in the construction thereof the singular number shall be deemed to include the plural, and the plural shall be deemed to include the singular number, and the masculine gender shall be deemed to include the feminine.

Grant.

§ 2. Any person desiring in his lifetime to promote the public welfare by founding, endowing, and maintain[ing] within this state a university, college, school, seminary of learning, mechanical institute, museum, botanic garden, public park, or gallery of art, or any or all thereof, may, to the end and for such purpose, by grant in writing convey to a trustee, or any number of trustees, named in such grant (and to their successors), any property, real or personal, belonging to such person and situated or being within this state; provided, that if such person be married and the property be community property, then both husband and wife must join in such grant. [Amendment approved March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 454.]

Requisites.

§ 3. The person making such grant may therein designate:

1. The nature, object, and purposes of the institution or institutions to be founded, endowed, and maintained;

2. The name by which it or they shall be known;

3. The powers and duties of the trustees, and the manner in which they shall account, and to whom, if accounting be required; but such powers and duties shall not be held to be exclusive of other powers and duties which may be necessary to enable such trustees to fully carry out the objects of such grant;

4. The mode and manner, and by whom, the successors to the trustee or trustees named in the grant are to be appointed;

5. Such rules and regulations for the management of the property conveyed as the grantor may elect to prescribe; but such rules shall, unless the grantor otherwise prescribe, be deemed advisory only, and shall not preclude such trustees from making such changes as new conditions may from time to time require;

6. The place or places where and the time when the buildings necessary and proper for the institution or institutions shall be erected, and the character and extent thereof. The person making such grant may therein provide for all other things necessary and proper to carry out the purposes thereof, and especially may such person provide for the trades and professions which shall be taught in such institutions, and the terms upon which deserving scholars of the public and private schools of the various counties of this state may be admitted to all the privileges of such institutions, as a reward for meritorious conduct and good scholarship; and also for maintaining free scholarships for children of persons who have rendered service to or who have died in the service of this state; and also for maintaining free scholarships for children of mechanics, tradesmen, and laborers, who have died without leaving means sufficient to give such children a practical education, fitting them for the useful trades or arts; and also the terms and conditions upon which students in the public and private schools, and other deserving persons, may, without cost to themselves, attend the lectures of any university established; and also the terms and conditions upon which the museums, and art galleries, and conservatories of music, connected with any such institution, shall be open to all deserving persons without charge, and without their becoming students of the institution.

Actions by trustees.

§ 4. The trustee or trustees named in such grant, and their successors, may, in the name of the institution or institutions, as designated in such grant, sue and defend, in relation to the trust property, and in relation to all matters affecting the institution or institutions endowed and established by such grant.

Grantor as trustee.

§ 5. The person making such grant, by a provision therein, may elect, in relation to the property conveyed, and in relation to the erection, maintenance, and management of such institution or institutions, to perform, during his life, all the duties and exercise all the powers which, by the terms of the grant, are enjoined upon and vested in the trustee or trustees named. If the person making such grant, and making the election aforesaid, be a married person, such person may further provide that if the wife of such person survive him, then such wife, during her life, may, in relation to the property conveyed, and in relation to the erection, maintenance, and management of such institution or institutions, perform all the duties and exercise all the powers which, by the terms of the grant, are enjoined upon and vested in the trustee and trustees therein named, and in all such cases the powers and duties conferred and imposed by such grant upon the trustee or trustees therein named shall be exercised and performed by the person making such grant, or by his wife, during his or her life, as the case may be; provided, however, that upon the death of such person, or his surviving wife, as the case may be, such powers and duties shall devolve upon and shall be exercised by the trustees named in the grant, and their successors.

Amending grant.

§ 6. The person making such grant may therein reserve the right to alter, amend, or modify the terms and conditions thereof, and the trusts therein created, in respect to any of the matters mentioned or referred to in subdivisions 1 to 6, inclusive, of section 3 hereof; and may also therein reserve the right, during the life of such person or persons, of absolute dominion over the personal property conveyed, and also over the rents, issues, and profits of the real property conveyed, without liability to account therefor in any manner whatever, and without any liability over against the estate of such person; and if any such person be married, such person may, in said grant, further provide that if his wife survive him, then such wife, during her life, may have the same absolute dominion over such personal property, and such rents, issues, and profits, without liability to account therefor in any manner whatever, and without liability over against the estate of either of the spouses.

Custody of minors.

§ 7. The person making such grant may therein provide that the trustees named in the grant, and their successors, may, in the name of the institution or institutions, become the custodian of the person of minors, and when any such provision is made in a grant, the trustees and their successors may take such custody and control in the manner and for the time and in accordance with the provisions of sections 264 to 276, inclusive, of the Civil Code of the state of California.

Execution of grant.

§ 8. Any such grant may be executed, acknowledged, and recorded in the same manner as is now provided by law for the execution, acknowledgment, and recording of grants of real property.

Annulling suit.

§ 9. No suit, action, or proceeding shall be commenced or maintained by any person to set aside, annul, or affect said conveyance, or to affect the title to the property conveyed, or the right to the possession, or to the rents, issues, and profits thereof, unless the same be commenced within two years after the date of filing such grant for record; nor shall any defense be made to any suit, action, or proceedings commenced by the trustee or trustees named in said grant, or their successors, privies, or persons holding under them, which defense involves the legality of said grant, or affects the title to the property thereby conveyed, or the right to the possession, or the rents, issues, and profits thereof, unless such defense is made in a suit, action, or proceeding commenced within two years after such grant shall have been filed for record.

Exemption from execution.

§ 10. The property conveyed by such grant shall not, after a lapse of two years from the date of the filing for record of the grant, be subject to forced sale, under execution, or judicial proceedings of any kind, against the grantor or his privies, unless the action under which the execution shall be issued, or the proceedings under which the sale shall be ordered, shall have been commenced within two years after such grant shall have been filed for record. Nor shall such property be subject to execution or forced sale under any judgment obtained in any proceedings instituted within said two years, if there be other property of the grantor, subject to execution or forced sale sufficient to satisfy such judgment; provided, nothing in this section contained shall be construed to affect mechanics' or laborers' liens.

Bequest to state.

§ 11. Any person or persons making any such grant may, at any time thereafter, by last will or testament, devise and bequeath to the state of California all or any of the property, real and personal, mentioned in such grant, or in any supplemental grant, and such devise or bequest shall only take effect in case, from any cause whatever, the grant shall be annulled or set aside, or the trusts therein declared shall for any reason fail. Such devise and bequest is hereby permitted to be made by way of assurance that the wishes of the grantor or grantors shall be carried out, and in the faith that the state, in case it succeeds to the property, or any part thereof, will, to the extent and value of such property, carry out, in respect to the objects and purposes of any such grant, all the wishes and intentions of the grantor or grantors; provided, that no wish, direction, act, or condition expressed, made, or given by any grantor or grantors, under or by virtue of this act, as to religious instruction to be given in such school, college, seminary, mechanical institute, museum, or gallery of art, or in respect to the exercise of religious belief, on the part of any pupil or pupils of such school or institution of learning, shall be binding upon the state; nor shall the state enforce, or permit to be enforced or carried out, any such wish, direction, act, or condition.

§ 12. This act shall be in force from and after its passage.

1. State may enforce trust.—The state may maintain an action to enforce or to prevent the mismanagement of a trust formed under the authority of this act.—People ex rel. Ellert v. Cogswell, 113 Cal. 129, 35 L. R. A. 269, 45 Pac. 270.

2. Founder should avoid uncertainty.—The founder of a charitable trust should describe the general nature of the trust, and leave the details of the administration to be settled by trustees under the superintendence of the court of chancery.—People ex rel. Ellert v. Cogswell, 113 Cal. 129, 35 L. R. A. 269, 45 Pac. 270.

3. TRUSTS FOR UNIVERSITIES, ETC. SUPPLEMENTAL ACT.

ACT 5262—An act supplemental to an act entitled "An act to advance learning, the arts and sciences, and to promote the public welfare, by providing for the conveyance, holding, and protection of property, and the creation of trusts for the founding, endowment, erection, and maintenance within this state of universities, colleges, schools, seminaries of learning, mechanical institutes, museums, and galleries of art," approved March 9, 1885, concerning the resignation, relinquishment or surrender of rights, powers, privileges and duties reserved to or vesting in the founder or founders, surviving founder, or wife or widow of any founder, of any institution created or founded under or pursuant to said act, and concerning the assumption and exercise of powers and duties by the trustee or trustees of such institution.

History: Approved March 13, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 140. See ante, Act 5261.

Founder of a school may surrender reserved rights.

§ 1. The founder or founders, surviving founder, or wife or widow of any founder, of a university, college, school, seminary of learning, mechanical institute, museum, gallery of art, library or any other institution, or any or all thereof, founded under or pursuant to an act entitled "An act to advance learning, the arts and sciences, and to promote the public welfare, by providing for the conveyance, holding, and protection of property, and the creation of trusts for the founding, endowment, erection, and maintenance within this state of universities, colleges, schools, seminaries of learning, mechanical institutes, museums, and galleries of art," approved March 9, 1885, may, by an instrument in writing, resign, relinquish and surrender all the rights, powers, privileges and duties reserved to or vesting in such founder or founders, surviving founder, or wife or widow of such founder, over, in, or concerning any of the property granted or given to such institution or institutions, or over or concerning any such institution or institutions so founded, and thereupon all estates, rights, powers, privileges, trusts and duties which would otherwise vest in or devolve upon the trustee or trustees of the trusts and estates created for the founding, endowment and maintenance of any such institution or institutions upon the death of the person or persons so resigning, relinquishing and surrendering, by the terms of the grant founding the institution or institutions, and amendments thereof, and by the terms of any grants, gifts, bequests, and devises supplementary thereto, or of any confirmatory grants, shall immediately vest in and devolve upon such trustee or trustees. Nothing herein contained shall prevent such person or persons so resigning, relinquishing and surrendering such rights, powers, privileges, or duties from thereafter becoming and serving as one of such trustees, or from becoming and serving as an officer of any board of such trustees.

§ 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

DETERMINATION OF CHARACTER AND EFFECT OF TRUSTS.

ACT 5263—An act to provide for proceedings for the ascertainment of the existence and terms of, and for the determination of the validity and legal effect of grants or other instruments creating, changing or affecting trusts and estates for the founding, endowment and maintenance of a university, college, school, seminary of learning, mechanical institute, museum, gallery of art, or library, or any other institution, or any or all thereof, under or pursuant to an act entitled “An act to advance learning, the arts and sciences, and to promote the public welfare, by providing for the conveyance, holding, and protection of property, and the creation of trusts for the founding, endowment, erection, and maintenance within this state of universities, colleges, schools, seminaries of learning, mechanical institutes, museums, and galleries of art,” approved March 9, 1885, or under or pursuant to an act entitled “An act to encourage and provide for the dissemination of a knowledge of the arts, sciences, and general literature, and the founding, maintaining, and perpetuating public libraries, museums, and galleries of art, and the receipt of donations and contributions thereto when established; for the conveyance, holding and protection of real property within this state suitable for the purposes herein designated, and the erection thereon of buildings appropriate to such purposes, and for the creation of trusts necessary or proper for the better preservation of such institutions, and the control and management thereof,” approved March 5, 1887.

History: Approved February 10, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 9. See prior acts, ante, Acts 5260, 5261, 5262.

Special proceeding to determine validity of gifts. Passing of title to trustees. Where proceedings shall be instituted.

§ 1. The trustee or trustees of any trust or trusts heretofore or hereafter created for the founding, endowment and maintenance of a university, college, school, seminary of learning, mechanical institute, museum, gallery of art, library or other institution, or any or all thereof, under or pursuant to an act entitled “An act to advance learning, the arts and sciences, and to promote the public welfare, by providing for the conveyance, holding, and protection of property, and the creation of trusts for the founding, endowment, erection, and maintenance within this state of universities, colleges, schools, seminaries of learning, mechanical institutes, museums, and galleries of art,” approved March 9, 1885, or under or pursuant to an act entitled “An act to encourage and provide for the dissemination of a knowledge of the arts, sciences, and general literature, and the founding, maintaining, and perpetuating public libraries, museums, and galleries of art, and the receipt of donations and contributions thereto when established; for the conveyance, holding and protection of real property within this state suitable for the purposes herein designated, and the erection thereon of buildings appropriate to such purposes, and for the creation of trusts necessary or proper for the better preservation of such institutions, and the control and management thereof,” approved March 5, 1887, may commence a special proceeding affecting the existence of, and the due and voluntary execution and delivery, and the terms, validity and legal effect of the grant or grants founding the same, and of all amendments or attempted amendments thereof, and of any supplemental grants or gifts, and of any confirmatory conveyances, of the founder or founders, or surviving founder, or wife or widow of any such founder; and in and by which may be determined all questions of law and fact affecting the due and voluntary execution and delivery, and the validity and legal effect, of any gift or grant made in general terms for the benefit of the institution or institutions, or of any department thereof, or of any gift or grant made in general terms for the benefit of the institution or institutions, or of any department thereof, upon the trusts provided for in the grant founding the institution or institutions, and amendments thereof and grants, bequests and devises supplementary thereto; and in and by which may be determined all questions bearing upon the passing to the trustee or trustees of the legal title to the properties, real and personal, conveyed or attempted to be conveyed, so far as such property or the proceeds thereof, or any property acquired in exchange therefor or with proceeds thereof, may be described in the petition herein provided for, and the interest or title of the trustee or trustees in or to any such property described in such petition; and in and by which may be determined all questions of law and fact affecting the due and voluntary execution and delivery, and the validity and legal effect, of any grant or surrender by any such founder or founders, surviving founder, or wife or widow of any founder, to, or in favor of, such trustee or trustees, of any rights, powers, privileges or duties reserved to or vesting in any such person or persons over or concerning any property described in the petition herein provided for, or over or concerning any such institution or institutions so founded, which would otherwise vest in or devolve upon such trustee or trustees upon the death of the person or persons so granting or surrendering the same, and of any relinquishment or release by the founder or founders, surviving founder, or wife or widow of any founder, of any other such rights, powers, privileges, or duties so reserved to or vesting in any such person or persons. To this end the trustee or trustees of any trust hereinbefore referred to, in the name of the institution or institutions so founded, or in the name of the trustee or trustees of such institution or institutions, or in the name of the board of trustees of such institution or institutions, may file, in the superior court of the county in which the lands described in the founding grant or grants, or some lands described in the founding grant or grants, or some portion thereof, are situated, or, if no real estate has been granted as herein provided to such trustees, then in the county where the main part of any such institution or institutions is situated, a petition in writing, signed by counsel for such trustee or trustees, or by counsel for a majority thereof, which petition shall contain copies of all such grants, amendments, attempted amendments, supplemental grants, instruments of gift, confirmatory conveyances, and grants and instruments of surrender, relinquishment or release, hereinbefore mentioned or referred to, so far as known to such trustee or trustees; and the petition shall allege in general terms the due and voluntary execution and delivery, and the validity, of any and all of such instruments, copies of which are set out in the petition, and shall describe all property, real and personal, the legal title to which is held or claimed to be held by said trustee or trustees under or by virtue of any or all of such instruments, whether or not the same be the original property conveyed, the proceeds thereof, or re-invested proceeds; and the petition shall allege in general terms the estate or interest which the trustee or trustees have or claim in or to the property described; and the petition shall pray, in effect, that the court examine and determine all questions of law and fact affecting the due and voluntary execution and delivery, and the terms, validity and legal effect of all such instruments, copies of which are so set out in the petition; and that the court examine and determine all questions bearing upon the passing to the trustee or trustees, of the legal title to all the properties, real and personal, so conveyed or attempted to be conveyed, so far as the same or the proceeds thereof, or any property acquired in exchange therefor or with the proceeds thereof, may be described in said petition; and that the court examine and determine the interest or title of the trustee or trustees in or to any such property; and that it be established and determined that the trustee or trustees are rightfully vested with the legal title thereto.

Fixing time for hearing. Form of notice and petition. Notice, what shall state.

Waiver of notice.

§ 2. The court or judge shall fix the time for the hearing of said petition, and shall order the clerk of the court to post in at least three public places in the county a notice of the filing of said petition, attached to a copy of said petition, and order a copy of such notice together with a copy of the petition to be personally served upon the founder or founders, if living, and upon the surviving wife or widow of any founder, and upon any living grantor or donor of any other grant or gift set out in the petition, and may order such other or further notice to be given as the judge or court may deem proper. Such notice shall be posted and served at least ten days before the hearing. If the court or judge finds upon the hearing that due and proper notice has not been given as herein provided, it shall reset the hearing and cause such due and proper notice to be given. The notice and petition shall be entitled substantially in the following form:

In the superior court of the county of, state of California.

In the matter of the petition of (giving the name or names in which the petition is brought) for the ascertainment of the existence and terms of, and for the determination of the validity and legal effect of grants or other instruments creating, changing or affecting trusts and estates for the founding, endowment and maintenance of (naming the institution or institutions founded).

The notice shall state the time and place fixed for the hearing of the petition and shall be addressed to the founder or founders, living, and to the surviving wife or widow of any founder, and the living grantor or donor of any other grant or gift set out in the petition, and in general terms to all other persons having or claiming any interest in, or rights, powers, or duties over or concerning the property described in the petition; and shall direct that they and each of such persons appear and answer said petition on or before the time set for said hearing; and shall state that unless said persons so appear and demur or answer, the petitioners will apply to the court to grant the prayer of the petition, and that each person failing to so appear and answer, shall be deemed to admit as true all the material allegations of the petition.

Any of the persons so required to be served, or any other person so interested may waive notice by written waiver filed with the clerk of the court.

Parties interested may demur. Defendants. Failure to answer.

§ 3. Any person interested in the determination of any of the questions presented by the petition may demur to or answer said petition and may set up any new matter affecting the determination of any such questions. Any allegation of the petition or answer may be made upon information and belief. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure respecting the demurrer and the answer to a verified complaint, shall be applicable to a demurrer or answer to said petition. The persons so demurring to or answering said petition shall be the defendants to said special proceeding and the petitioners shall be the plaintiffs. Every material statement of the petition not specifically controverted by the answer must, for the purposes of said special proceeding, be taken as true; and each person failing to answer the petition shall be deemed to admit as true all the material allegations of the petition. The rules of pleading and practice provided for by the Code of Civil Procedure, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are applicable to the special proceeding herein provided for.

Jurisdiction of court. Findings. Costs.

§ 4. Upon the hearing of such special proceeding, the court shall have power and jurisdiction to examine into and determine all questions of law and fact within the scope of the proceeding herein provided for, whether presented by the petition or answer, or by the proofs upon the hearing.

The court shall find and determine whether the notice of the filing of said petition has been duly given for the time and in the manner in this act prescribed.

The costs of the special proceeding may be allowed and apportioned between all parties, in the discretion of the court.

Judgment to be recorded.

§ 5. A certified copy of the judgment of the court in such special proceeding shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the action is brought and in the office of the recorder of every county in which any of the real property affected is situated.

Judgment to be determinative.

§ 6. The judgment of the court in such special proceeding shall be determinative of the terms and trusts upon which any property thereafter given for the benefit of such institution or institutions, or any department thereof, shall be held by such trustee or trustees, unless otherwise provided by the grantor or donor of such property.

§ 7. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

"CARTWRIGHT ACT."

ACT 5264—An act to define trust and to provide for criminal penalties and civil damages, and punishment of corporations, persons, firms, and associations, or persons connected with them, and to promote free competition in commerce and all classes of business in this state.

History: Approved March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 984. Amended March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 593.

A trust defined. Exception.

§ 1. A trust is a combination of capital, skill or acts by two or more persons, firms, partnerships, corporations or associations of persons, or of any two or more of them for either, any or all of the following purposes:

1. To create or carry out restrictions in trade or commerce.
2. To limit or reduce the production, or increase the price of merchandise or of any commodity.
3. To prevent competition in manufacturing, making, transportation, sale or purchase of merchandise, produce or any commodity.
4. To fix at any standard or figure, whereby its price to the public or consumer shall be in any manner controlled or established, any article or commodity of merchandise, produce or commerce intended for sale, barter, use or consumption in this state.
5. To make or enter into or execute or carry out any contracts, obligations or agreements of any kind or description, by which they shall bind or have bound themselves not to sell, dispose of or transport any article or any commodity or any article of trade, use, merchandise, commerce or consumption below a common standard figure, or fixed value, or by which they shall agree in any manner to keep the price of such article, commodity or transportation at a fixed or graduated figure, or by which they shall in any manner establish or settle the price of any article, commodity or transportation between them or themselves and others, so as to directly or indirectly preclude a free and unrestricted competition among themselves, or any purchasers or consumers in the sale or transportation of any such article or commodity, or by which they shall agree to pool, combine or directly or indirectly unite any interests that they may have connected with the sale or transportation of any such article or commodity, that its price might in any manner be affected. Every such trust as is defined herein is declared to be unlawful, against public policy and void, provided that no agreement, combination or association shall be deemed to be unlawful or within the provisions of this act, the object and business of which are to conduct its operations at a reasonable profit or to market at a reasonable profit those products which can not otherwise be so marketed, provided further, that it shall not be deemed to be unlawful, or within the provisions of this act, for persons, firms, or corporations, engaged in the business of selling or manufacturing commodities of a similar or like character, to employ, form, organize or own any interest in any association, firm or corporation, having as its object or purpose the transportation, marketing or delivery of such commodities. [Amendment approved March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 593. In effect immediately.]

§ 2. For a violation of any of the provisions of this act by any corporation or association mentioned herein, it shall be the duty of the attorney general or the district attorney of the proper county, to institute proper suits or quo warranto proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction for the forfeiture of its charter rights, franchises or privileges and powers exercised by such corporation or association, and for the dissolution of the same under the general statutes of the state.

Agreements permitted.

§ 2½. It shall be lawful to enter into agreements or form associations or combinations, the purpose and effect of which shall be to promote, encourage or increase competition in any trade or industry, or which are in furtherance of trade. [New section approved March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 594. In effect immediately.]

Foreign corporations amenable. Duty of secretary of state.

§ 3. Every foreign corporation, as well as every foreign association, exercising any of the powers, franchises or functions of a corporation in this state, violating any of the provisions of this act, is hereby denied the right and prohibited from doing any business in this state, and it shall be the duty of the attorney general to enforce this provision by bringing proper proceedings by injunction or otherwise. The secretary of state shall be authorized to revoke the license of any such corporation or association heretofore authorized by him to do business in this state.

Penalty for violation of act.

§ 4. Any violation of either or all of the provisions of this act shall be and is hereby declared a conspiracy against trade, and any person who may become engaged in any such conspiracy or take part therein, or aid or advise in its commission, or who shall as principal, manager, director, agent, servant or employee, or in any other capacity, knowingly carry out any of the stipulations, purposes, prices, rates, or furnish any information to assist in carrying out such purposes, or orders thereunder or in pursuance thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty ($50) dollars nor more than five thousand ($5,000) dollars, or be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Each day's violation of this provision shall constitute a separate offense.

What indictment must set out.

§ 5. In any indictment, information or complaint for any offense named in this act, it is sufficient to state the purpose or effects of the trust or combination, and that the accused is a member of, acted with or in pursuance of it, or aided or assisted in carrying out its purposes, without giving its name or description, or how, when and where it was created.

Prosecutions, what to prove. Books and papers must be produced when ordered.

§ 6. In prosecutions under this act, it shall be sufficient to prove that a trust or combination, as defined herein, exists, and that the defendant belonged to it, or acted for or in connection with it, without proving all the members belonged to it, or proving or producing any article of agreement, or any written instrument on which it may have been based; or that it was evidenced by any written instrument at all. The character of the trust or combination alleged may be established by proof of its general reputation as such. In case any court of record, or in vacation any judge of said court in which is pending any civil, criminal or other action or proceeding brought or prosecuted by the attorney general or any district attorney for the violation of any of the provisions of this act or in any action or proceeding for the violation of the law of this state, against conspiracy or combination in restraint of trade so orders, no person so ordered shall be excused from attending, testifying or producing books, papers, schedules, contracts, agreements or any other document in obedience to the subpoena or under the order of such court or any commissioner or referee appointed by said court to take testimony or any notary public or other person or officer authorized by the laws of this state to take depositions when the order made by such court or judge thereof includes a witness whose deposition is being taken before such notary public or other officer on the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence required of him may tend to criminate him or subject him to any penalty; but no individual shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may so testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, before any such court, person or officer.

Penalty, after notice by attorney general.

§ 7. Each and every firm, person, partnership, corporation, or association of persons, who shall in any manner violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be for each and every day that such violations shall be committed or continued, after due notice given by the attorney general or any district attorney, forfeit and pay the sum of fifty ($50) dollars, which may be recovered in the name of the people of the state of California, in any county where the offense is committed, or where either of the offenders resides; and it shall be the duty of the attorney general, or the district attorney of any county on the order of the attorney general to prosecute for the recovery of the same. When the action is prosecuted by the attorney general against a corporation or association of persons, he may begin the action in the supreme court of the county in which defendant resides or does business.

Contracts in violation of act void.

§ 8. That any contract or agreement in violation of the provisions of this act, shall be absolutely void and shall not be enforceable either in law or equity.

Provisions cumulative.

§ 9. That the provisions hereof shall be held cumulative of each other and of all other laws in any way affecting them now in force in this state.

Trust certificates not lawful.

§ 10. It shall not be lawful for any person, partnership, association or corporation, or any agent thereof, to issue or to own trust certificates, or for any person, partnership, association or corporation, agent, officer, or employee, or the directors or stockholders of any corporation, to enter into any combination, contract or agreement with any person or persons, corporation, or corporations, or with any stockholder or director thereof, the purpose and effect of which combination, contract or agreement shall be to place the management or control of such combination or combinations, or the manufactured product thereof, in the hands of any trustee or trustees with the intent to limit or fix the price or lessen the production and sale of any article of commerce, use or consumption, or to prevent, restrict or diminish the manufacture or output of any such article, and any person, partnership, association or corporation that shall enter into any such combination, contract or agreement for the purpose aforesaid shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not less than fifty dollars, nor more than five thousand dollars.

Persons injured in business by trust may sue.

§ 11. In addition to the criminal and civil penalties herein provided, any person who shall be injured in his business or property by any other person or corporation or association or partnership, by reason of any thing forbidden or declared to be unlawful by this act, may sue therefor in any court having jurisdiction thereof in the county where the defendant resides or is found, or any agent resides or is found, or where service may be obtained, without respect to the amount in controversy, and to recover twofold the damages by him sustained, and the costs of suit. Whenever it shall appear to the court before which any proceedings under this act may be pending, that the ends of justice require that other parties shall be brought before the court, the court may cause them to be made parties defendant and summoned, whether they reside in the county where such action is pending, or not.

“Person” defined.

§ 12. The word “person” or “persons” whenever used in this act, shall be deemed to include corporations, partnerships and associations existing under or authorized by the laws of this state or any other state, or any foreign country.

Labor not a commodity.

§ 13. Labor whether skilled or unskilled is not a commodity within the meaning of this act. [New section approved March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 594. In effect immediately.]

1. Constitutionality — Upheld.—The act is not unconstitutional.—People v. Sacramento, etc., Ass'n, 12 Cal. App. 471, 107 Pac. 712.

2. Violation of act is a misdemeanor.—The crime denounced as a violation of the Cartwright act is a misdemeanor.—Union Ice Co. v. Rose, 11 Cal. App. 357, 104 Pac. 1006.

3. Information held sufficient.—The information in the present case was held to state all the elements of the offense of violating the provisions of the law, and not to be defective for failure to disclose the names of unknown persons alleged to have participated in the conspiracy charged.—People v. Sacramento, etc., Ass'n, 12 Cal. App. 471, 107 Pac. 712.

4. Same—Defendant charged as agent and not independently.—The information in the present case charging conspiracy in restraint of trade under the provisions of the act held to have sufficiently charged defendant O'Keefe in his representative capacity as agent of the meat company, and not independently.—People v. Sacramento, etc., Ass'n, 12 Cal. App. 471, 107 Pac. 712.

5. Indictment—Not within exceptions of act.—An indictment charging a combination in restraint of trade need not allege negatively that the combination does not come within the exceptions of the act.—People v. H. Jevne Co., 179 Cal. 621, 178 Pac. 517.

6. Dates of acts committed need not be alleged.—An information for conspiracy under the act need not allege the dates of commission of the acts charged.—People v.

Sacramento, etc., Ass'n, 12 Cal. App. 471, 107 Pac. 712.

7. Acts of accomplishment are probative and need not be alleged.—Acts constituting the actual accomplishment of the object or purpose of a combination in restraint of trade are merely probative need not be alleged.—People v. Sacramento, etc., Ass'n, 12 Cal. App. 471, 107 Pac. 712.

8. Defense—Agent acting without or in excess of authority.—An agent who joins a conspiracy in restraint of trade acts as agent and his act is that of his principal, and if he acted without or in excess of his authority it was matter of defense.—People v. Sacramento, etc., Ass'n, 12 Cal. App. 471, 107 Pac. 712.

9. No explicit or formal agreement need be proved.—In a charge of conspiracy under the act no explicit or formal agreement need be proved.—People v. Sacramento, etc., Ass'n, 12 Cal. App. 471, 107 Pac. 712.

10. The prohibitions of the act are violated by an agreement among wholesale bakers, whereby they fix the retail price of bread to be sold by them to retailers, and agree that they will not sell bread to any retailer who does not retain such price.—People v. H. Jevne Co., 179 Cal. 621, 178 Pac. 517.

11. Conviction sustained.—The evidence in the present case held to sustain the conviction.—People v. Sacramento, etc., Ass'n, 12 Cal. App. 471, 107 Pac. 712.

12. Price fixing not violative of act, when.—Where the sole purpose of a combination to resell at a minimum price is a reasonable profit and the commodity is not manufactured in sufficient quantity to control the market, such condition is not in violation of the Cartwright act (1907-984) as amended (1909-593).—D. Ghiradelli Co. v. Hunsicker, 164 Cal. 355, 362, 128 Pac. 1041.

13. Double damages—Injuries must be direct result.—The act in allowing the recovery of double damages for injuries resulting from the acts denounced in the Cartwright act refers to direct injuries, and a real estate broker has no cause of action thereunder because of a loss of a commission as a result of the acts of persons constituting a trust.—Krigbaum v. Sbarbaro, 23 Cal. App. 427, 138 Pac. 364.

To same effect: Munter v. Eastman Kodak Co., 28 Cal. App. 660, 153 Pac. 737.

14. Same—Same—Necessary allegations.—A manufacturer or wholesaler not only has a right to fix his own prices, but also the price at which his goods are to be sold by retail dealers, so long as those acts are not the direct effect or result of a combination formed and maintained by him and others to create restrictions in trade and commerce, in other words, to create a monopoly of the trade, and if a complaint fails to declare directly that such was the fact, no cause of action is shown.—Munter v. Eastman Kodak Co., 28 Cal. App. 660, 153 Pac. 737.

UNFAIR COMPETITION.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 5314. UNFAIR COMPETITION ACT OF 1913.

UNFAIR COMPETITION ACT OF 1913.

ACT 5314—An act relating to unfair competition and discrimination, making certain unfair and discriminatory practices unlawful, defining the duties of the attorney general in regard thereto, declaring certain contracts illegal and forbidding recovery thereon, providing for actions to enjoin unfair competition and discrimination and to recover damages therefor, making the violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor and providing penalties.

History: Approved June 10, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 508.

Unlawful to discriminate between different sections in sale of commodities. Act does not prevent competitive rate. Officers responsible.

§ 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, doing business in the state of California and engaged in the production, manufacture, distribution or sale of any commodity of general use or consumption, or the product or service of any public utility, with the intent to destroy the competition of any regular established dealer in such commodity, product or service, or to prevent the competition of any person, firm, private corporation, or municipal or other public corporation, who or which, in good faith, intends and attempts to become such dealer, to discriminate between different sections, communities or cities or portions thereof of this state, by selling or furnishing such commodity, product or service at a lower rate in one section, community or city, or any portion thereof, than in another, after making allowance for difference, if any, in the grade, quality or quantity, and for cost differences between such places due to distance from the point of production, manufacture or distribution and expense of distribution and operation. This act is not intended to prohibit the meeting in good faith of a competitive rate, or to prevent a reasonable classification of service by public utilities for the purpose of establishing rates. The inhibition hereof against locality discrimination shall embrace any scheme of special rebates, collateral contracts or any device of any nature whereby such discrimination is, in substance or fact, effected in violation of the spirit and intent of this act.

Any person, who, either as director, officer or agent of any firm or corporation or as agent of any person, violating the provisions hereof, assists or aids, directly or indirectly, in such violation shall be responsible therefor equally with the person, firm or corporation for whom or which he acts. In the prosecution of any person as officer, director or agent it shall be sufficient to allege and prove the unlawful intent of the person, firm or corporation for whom or which he acts.

Duty of attorney general to prosecute.

§ 2. If complaint shall be made to the attorney general that any corporation is violating section one of this act, he shall investigate such complaint and if, in his opinion, sufficient grounds exist therefor, he shall prosecute an action in the name of the people of the state of California in the proper court to annul the charter or revoke the license of such corporation to do business in this state, as the case may be, and to permanently enjoin such corporation from doing business in this state; and if in such action the court shall find that such corporation is violating this act, it may enjoin said corporation from doing business in this state for such time as the court shall order, or may annul the charter, or revoke the license of such corporation, and permanently enjoin it from transacting business in the state.

Illegal contract defined.

§ 3. Any contract, express or implied, made by any person, firm or corporation in violation of the provisions of section one of this act for the sale or furnishing of any commodity, product or service at a rate greater than the lowest rate charged therefor by such person, firm or corporation in any other section, community or city in this state, after making allowance for the cost differences between such place and the place where under the contract such commodity, product or service is delivered or furnished and for difference, if any, in grade, quality or quantity, is declared to be an illegal contract, and no recovery thereon shall be had.

Person injured may maintain action.

§ 4. Any person, firm, private corporation or municipal or other public corporation, may maintain an action to enjoin a continuance of any act or acts in violation of section one of this act and, if injured thereby, for the recovery of damages. If, in such action, the court shall find that the defendant is violating section one of this act, it shall enjoin the defendant from a continuance thereof; it shall not be necessary that actual damage to the plaintiff be alleged or proved. In addition to such injunctive relief, the plaintiff in said action shall be entitled to recover from the defendant three times the amount of the actual damages, if any, sustained.

Penalty.

§ 5. Any person, whether as principal, agent, officer or director, for himself or for another person, or for any firm or corporation, or any corporation, who or which shall violate section one of this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall, if a person, be punished by a fine of not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and, if a corporation, by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars.

Constitutionality of act.

§ 6. If any section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. The remedies herein prescribed are cumulative and in addition to the remedies prescribed by the public utilities act for discriminations by public utilities. If any conflict shall arise between this act and the public utilities act, the latter shall prevail.

Purpose of act.

§ 7. The legislature declares that the purpose of this act is to safeguard the public against the creation or perpetuation of monopolies and to foster and encourage competition, by prohibiting unfair and discriminatory practices by which fair and honest competition is destroyed or prevented. The act shall be liberally construed that its beneficial purposes may be subserved.

GRANT OF RIGHT OF WAY FOR A RAILROAD FROM ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC.

ACT 5325—An act to grant the right of way to the United States for railroad purposes.

History: Passed May 1, 1852, Stats. 1852, p. 150.

RELINQUISHMENT OF LAND FOR LIGHTHOUSES, ETC.

ACT 5326—An act to provide for the relinquishment to the United States, in certain cases, to title in lands for sites of lighthouses, and for other purposes, on the coasts and waters of this state.

History: Approved February 14, 1859, Stats. 1859, p. 26.

1. Constitutionality — Upheld.—The act provides for the taking of private property for public uses, and is constitutional.—Gilmer v. Lime Point, 18 Cal. 229.

2. Statute subject to rule of strict construction.—The act is in derogation of common right and must be strictly construed.—Gilmer v. Lime Point, 19 Cal. 47.

3. Provisions of act must be pursued.—To acquire title to land under this act the United States must pursue the provisions of the act.—Gilmer v. Lime Point, 19 Cal. 47.

4. Proceedings are special, not governed by rules of court of general jurisdiction.—The proceedings under the act are regarded as those of a special inquisition, and are not to be construed by the rules applicable to courts of general jurisdiction, but as the acts of a court which sits in the matter under a special statutory authority.—Gilmer v. Lime Point, 19 Cal. 47.

5. Right to condemn not unqualified.—Exists only in case of disagreement as to price.—The act does not give to the United States the unqualified right to condemn, but only to condemn in case of disagreement as to price, and where there is no such disagreement the right to condemnation fails.—Gilmer v. Lime Point, 19 Cal. 47.

6. "Fort" is a public purpose.—A "fort" is a public use, and the state may condemn land for that purpose, or may authorize the federal government to do so.—Gilmer v. Lime Point, 18 Cal. 229.

7. Duties of district judge judicial.—The duties of the district judge under the act are judicial, and he may be legally required to perform them.—Gilmer v. Lime Point, 18 Cal. 229.

CEDING JURISDICTION OF LANDS AT LIME POINT.

ACT 5327—An act ceding jurisdiction to the United States over certain lands.

History: Approved April 16, 1859, Stats. 1859, p. 334.

RELINQUISHING TITLE TO CERTAIN TIDE LANDS.

ACT 5328—An act relinquishing to the United States of America the title of this state to certain lands.

History: Approved March 9, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 74.

Relinquishing title to certain state lands to the United States. Right to serve civil process.

§ 1. All the right and title of the state of California in and to the parcels of land extending from high-water mark out to three hundred yards beyond low-water mark, lying adjacent and contiguous to such lands of the United States in this state as lie upon tidal waters and are held, occupied, or reserved for military purposes or defense, lying adjacent and contiguous to any island, the title to which is in the United States, or which island is reserved by the United States for any military or naval purposes or for defense, are hereby granted, released, and ceded to the United States of America; the boundaries of each parcel of land hereby granted, released, and ceded to the United States to be a line along high-water mark, a line three hundred yards out beyond low-water mark, and lines at right angles to high-water mark at the points where the boundaries of the adjacent lands of the United States touch high-water mark; provided, that the title to each parcel of land hereby granted, released, and ceded to the United States shall be, and remain in the United States only so long as the United States shall continue to hold and own the adjacent lands now belonging to the United States; and provided further, that this state reserves the right to serve and execute on said lands all civil process, not incompatible with this cession, and such criminal process as may lawfully issue under the authority of this state against any person or persons charged with crimes committed without said lands.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

SOBODA INDIAN LAND GRANT.

ACT 5329—An act to cede to the United States of America upon certain conditions and reservations certain lands in possession of the United States to which the state of California holds a tax title.

History: Approved May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1304.

Grant of land for Soboda Indians.

§ 1. The state of California hereby grants and cedes to the United States of America, for the use of the Soboda Indians, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, in and to that certain tract of land situated in Riverside county, state of California, and described as Tract No. 8, Rancho San Jacinto Viejo in said Riverside county, otherwise described as fractional section 31 and fractional section 32, in township 4 south of range 1 east, San Bernardino base and meridian, and fractional section 4, fractional section 5, fractional section 6 in township 5 south of range 1 east, San Bernardino base and meridian, in California; provided, that the sum of seven hundred and seventy-five dollars due for taxes thereon be paid to the state controller before letters patent issue as hereinafter provided; and provided, further, that this state reserves the right to serve and execute in said lands, all civil process not incompatible with this section, and such criminal process as may lawfully issue under the authority of this state against any person or persons charged with crimes.

Issuance of letters patent.

§ 2. Letters patent to the United States of America for the land above designated shall be issued in the manner prescribed by the constitution and laws.

§ 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

QUIT-CLAIM DEED TO LANDS ERRONEOUSLY CONVEYED TO STATE.

ACT 5330—An act providing for the conveyance by quit-claim deed, from the state of California to the government of the United States, of certain lands erroneously conveyed or patented to said state by said government.

History: Approved May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1415. Amended April 21, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 47.

Quit-claim deed to lands erroneously conveyed to state.

§ 1. In all cases where it appears to the register of the state land office that the government of the United States has, through error or misdescription, conveyed to the state of California any lands, the said register of the state land office shall certify said facts to the governor, and it shall be the duty of the governor of this state to cause to be executed and delivered to the government of the United States, a conveyance by quit-claim deed, of all such land so erroneously conveyed or patented. Such deed shall be executed on behalf of the state of California by the hands of the governor and of the secretary of state, and shall be attested by the great seal of the state, and recorded in the office of the register of the state land office. [Amendment approved April 21, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 47. In effect August 10, 1913.]

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately from and after its passage.

ACCEPTING JURISDICTION OVER PORTION OF PRESIDIO.

ACT 5331—An act to accept from the United States government the cession of jurisdiction over a portion of the Presidio of the San Francisco military reservation.

History: Approved May 17, 1917. In effect July 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 626.

Cession of jurisdiction accepted.

§ 1. The state of California hereby accepts from the United States government the cession of jurisdiction over that portion of the Presidio of the San Francisco military reservation designated by the secretary of war for the use of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company and its successors in interest, pursuant to the act of congress making appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred seventeen, approved August 29, 1916, subject to the conditions, reservations and stipulations contained in said act.

CONSENT OF STATE TO RESERVATION OF CERTAIN LANDS.

ACT 5331a—An act giving the consent of the state of California to the reservation of certain lands by congress.

History: Approved March 14, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 107.

This act gave the consent of the state to the reservation of a certain tract by congress for a public park.

CEDING JURISDICTION OVER CERTAIN LANDS.

ACT 5331b—An act ceding to the United States jurisdiction over certain lands ceded to the United States.

History: Approved March 31, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 262.

This was an act ceding jurisdiction, except in criminal matters, over all lands ceded to the United States for every purpose while the same remained in its possession.

RELEASE OF CLAIMS OF STATE TO CERTAIN LANDS.

ACT 5332—An act to release the claim of the state of California to certain lands in township eleven north, range four east, Mount Diablo base and meridian.

History: Approved April 1, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 948.

This act provided for the release of certain lands to the United States.

CEDING JURISDICTION OVER ALL LANDS IN THE STATE ACQUIRED FOR MILITARY PURPOSES.

ACT 5332a—An act ceding to the United States of America jurisdiction over all lands within this state which have been or may hereafter be acquired by the United States for military purposes.

History: Approved March 2, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 51.

RIGHTS OF WAY OVER STATE LANDS TO UNITED STATES.

ACT 5332b—An act granting rights of way for lines, roads, structures, levees, canals and excavations to the United States, over the public lands of this state.

History: Approved March 21, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 848.

Rights of way over state lands granted to United States.

§ 1. A right of way is hereby granted over the public lands of the state, and over any public land which may hereafter become the property of this state, to the United States, for all telegraph, telephone, power or light lines, roads, railroads, tramways, dikes, levees, dams, mounds, embankments, tunnels, ditches or canals, or other works, structures or excavations requiring rights of way built, erected, excavated or constructed under the provisions of the act of congress, approved June 17, 1902, relating to irrigation and reclamation.

Patents subject to.

§ 2. All patents or conveyances of such lands which may hereafter be located or filed on shall be issued subject to the rights of way herein provided for.

RECONVEYANCE OF PART OF AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE LAND GRANT.

ACT 5332c—An act to authorize the governor to reconvey part of the lands to the United States, conveyed to the state and listed under the agricultural college grant of 150,000 acres.

History: Approved March 13, 1883, Stats. 1883, p. 287.

This act provided for a conveyance by the governor after a report by the regents of the University of California.

SETTLEMENT OF CONTROVERSY BETWEEN THE STATE AND THE UNITED STATES.

ACT 5333—An act to authorize the settlement of an existing controversy between the United States of America and state of California, and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act.

History: Approved March 21, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 840.

This was the controversy arising from the claim of the federal government to 40,000 acres, as the excess received by the state on account of sixteenth and thirty-sixth section lands.

SETTLEMENT OF CONTROVERSY AS TO DISPUTED SCHOOL LAND CLAIMS.

ACT 5333a—An act to authorize the adjustment and settlement of a controversy existing between the United States and the state of California, in relation to the grants made by congress to the state of California for the benefit of the public schools, and internal improvements, authorizing the conveyance of land by officers of the state for the purpose of making such adjustment and settlement, and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions thereof.

History: Approved December 24, 1911, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 108.

Lands granted to the state for school purposes. Disputed claims in relation thereto. Lands withheld from certification.

Whereas, Under the terms and provisions of certain acts of congress of the United States 500,000 acres of land were granted to the state for internal improvement and the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections in each township, and lands in lieu thereof, were granted to the state of California for school purposes; and,

Whereas, It is claimed by the United States that prior to March 1, 1877, there were listed to the state of California approximately 16,000 acres of land, in excess of the amount of land to which the state was justly entitled; also that the state has received indemnity for certain sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of land assumed to be within the exterior boundaries of Mexican grants, which sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections were subsequently either wholly or partially excluded from such grants and subsequently sold by the state, the total area being approximately 10,151 acres; also that the state has received indemnity for certain sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections alleged to be mineral in character which said school sections the state sold in place, either before or after receiving indemnity therefor, the total area being approximately 8,175 acres; also that the state received approximately 2,028 acres in excess of the 500,000 acre grant; and,

Whereas, The department of the interior has for many years withheld from certification the greater part of the lieu lands selected by the state, pending a settlement of said mattres, and there remains to be listed to the state upward of 450,000 acres, which, if listed, would be subject to taxation; now, therefore,

The people of the state of California do enact as follows:

Payments to be made to federal government.

§ 1. There shall be paid to the federal government by the state of California, acting through the officers hereinafter mentioned and in the manner and upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, the sum of one and twenty-five one-hundredths dollars per acre for all excess certifications of indemnity school lands, which occurred prior to March 1, 1877, and for which said lands no payment has as yet been made to the United States.

Conveyance of land to be made to federal government.

§ 2. The officers of the state of California mentioned in sections 3519 and 3520 of the Political Code of this state, are hereby authorized, empowered and directed, in the manner in said sections provided, to convey to the United States by patent, or otherwise, such an amount of land in sections sixteen and thirty-six, situated in national forests or other reservations, as will equal in area all selections that have been heretofore listed or certified by the government to the state of California, made in lieu of sections sixteen and thirty-six claimed or reported to be mineral in character or embraced in forest or other reservations and wherein such base tracts have been or may be sold or encumbered by the state; provided, however, that no lands shall be patented in any case wherein it shall be found that the United States has disposed, by patent or otherwise, of the tract in lieu of which indemnity was claimed and granted.

Additional conveyances. Surveyor general to make indemnity selections.

§ 3. The officers of the state referred to in section two hereof are hereby authorized and directed to convey by patent or otherwise to the United States, in addition to the 12,000 acres heretofore granted, an amount of land equal in area to any addition excess in certifications occurring since March 1, 1877.

The surveyor general of the state of California is hereby authorized and empowered to locate and select in the United States land offices, for the benefit of persons having certificates of purchase or patents from the state, lands in sections sixteen and thirty-six, which, under the provisions of the act of congress, approved March 1, 1877, and commonly known as the "Booth Act" are claimed to be property of the United States, but which said lands have been heretofore sold or encumbered by the state. The said lands hereby authorized to be selected are lands which have been heretofore used or designated by the state of California, as bases for indemnity selections, and for which the state of California received indemnity, but which said lands in said sections sixteen and thirty-six the said state, also sold or encumbered. For the purpose of making the selections hereby authorized to be made the said surveyor general is hereby authorized and empowered to use and designate any bases or lands mentioned in section 3406a of the Political Code of the state of California, or any other bases, which may be proper or valid in making indemnity selections.

Determination of acreage. Settlement of claims.

§ 4. For the purpose of carrying into effect the terms and provisions of this act, the surveyor general of the state of California is authorized and directed to ascertain and determine from the records of his office and the records of the department of the interior the amount of lands which should be conveyed to the United States and likewise the number of acres of land as in this act provided for which the state has by the terms of this act authorized and directed payment to be made, and after said facts have been ascertained and determined, the said officers of said state, referred to in sections two and three hereof, are hereby authorized and directed to make, execute and deliver for said state, in its name and as its act and deed, any and all written agreements, deeds, patents or conveyances necessary to carry out and consummate the terms of this act.

Appropriation.

§ 5. The sum of twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act and paying all necessary expenses of the surveyor general and attorney general in connection herewith and the state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant or warrants in favor of the United States, or the proper officers thereof, for such amount as may be payable to said United States under the terms hereof, and also to draw his warrant or warrants for the necessary expenses of the surveyor general and attorney general in carrying out the provisions of this act, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

RIGHT OF WAY FOR MORMON CHANNEL CANAL.

ACT 5333b—An act to furnish, grant, convey and relinquish to the United States of America the right of way in San Joaquin county now (or hereafter) obtained by the commissioner of public works under an act of the legislature, approved March 25, 1903, entitled "An act authorizing the commissioner of public works to obtain a right of way for a canal to divert the waters of Mormon Channel into the Calaveras river, to maintain condemnation suits therefor, and making an appropriation to pay for said right of way, and the costs and expenses of obtaining the same," and under the laws of the state of California relating to such matters, for the purpose of the construction and completion of such right of way by the United States of America of a diverting canal east of the city of Stockton from Mormon Channel to the Calaveras river and along the channel of the Calaveras river to the San Joaquin river, pursuant to an act of Congress of June 13, 1902, and to subsequent acts of congress relating thereto, and to authorize the commissioner of public works and the governor of the state to execute conveyances thereof, and to authorize and direct the secretary of state to countersign and make delivery of the same to the United States of America.

CREATION AND ORGANIZATION ACT.

ACT 5351—An act to create and organize the University of California.

History: Approved March 23, 1868, Stats. 1867-68, p. 248. Amended March 28, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 655; March 3, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 57. Of this act the code commissioners say: "Probably repealed by the code, but if so, revived and made irrevocable by sec. 9, art. IX of the constitution of 1879."

University created. Design. Colleges.

§ 1. A state university is hereby created, pursuant to the requirements of section four, article nine, of the constitution of the state of California, and in order to devote to the largest purposes of education, the benefaction made to the state of California under and by the provisions of an act of congress passed July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, entitled an act donating land to the several states and territories which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts. The said university shall be called the University of California, and shall be located upon the grounds heretofore donated to the state of California by the president and board of trustees of the College of California. The said university shall be under the charge and control of a board of directors, to be known and styled "The Regents of the University of California." The university shall have for its design, to provide instruction and complete education in all the departments of science, literature, art, industrial and professional pursuits, and general education, and also special courses of instruction for the professions of agriculture, the mechanic arts, mining, military science, civil engineering, law, medicine and commerce, and shall consist of various colleges, namely:

First—College of arts.

Second—A college of letters.

Third—Such professional and other colleges as may be added thereto or connected therewith.

Course of instruction. Colleges to be organized.

§ 2. Each full course of instruction shall consist of its appropriate studies, and shall continue for at least four years, and the faculty, instructors and body of students in each course shall constitute a college, to be designated by its appropriate name. For this purpose there shall be organized as soon as the means appropriated therefor shall permit:

First—The following colleges of arts; a state college of agriculture; a state college of mechanic arts; a state college of mines; a state college of civil engineering; and such other colleges of arts as the board of regents may be able and find it expedient to establish.

Second—A state college of letters.

Third—Colleges of medicine, law and other like professional colleges.

Degrees. Students.

§ 3. A proper degree of each college shall be conferred at the end of the course upon such students as, having completed the same, shall, at the annual examination, be found proficient therein; but each college shall also have a partial course for those who may not desire to pursue a full course therein; and any resident of California, of the age of fourteen years or upwards, of approved moral character, shall have the right to enter himself in the university as a student at large, and receive tuition in any branch or branches of instruction at the time when the same are given in their regular course, on such terms as the board of regents may prescribe. The said board of regents shall endeavor so to arrange the several courses of instruction that the students of the different colleges and the students at large may be largely brought into social contact and intercourse with each other by attending the same lectures and branches of instruction.

College of agriculture.

§ 4. The college of agriculture shall be first established; but in selecting the professors and instructors for the said college of agriculture, the regents shall, so far as in their power, select persons possessing such acquirements in their several vocations as will enable them to discharge the duties of professors in the several colleges of mechanic arts, of mines and of civil engineering, and in such other colleges as may be hereafter established. As soon as practicable a system of moderate and manual labor shall be established in connection with the agricultural college, and upon its agricultural and ornamental grounds, having for its object practical education in agriculture, landscape gardening, the health of the students, and to afford them an opportunity by their earnings of defraying a portion of the expenses of their education. These advantages shall be open in the first instance to students in the college of agriculture, who shall be entitled to a preference in that behalf.

College of mechanic arts.

§ 5. The college of mechanic arts shall be next established; and in organizing this, or any other college, the same regard hereinbefore indicated shall be had for the general acquirements of each professor and instructor, so that he may be able to give general and special instruction in as many classes and sources of instruction as possible; and inasmuch as the original donation, out of which the plan of a state university has had its rise, was made to the state by virtue of the aforesaid act of congress entitled an act donating land to the several states and territories which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts, approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, the said board of regents shall always bear in mind that the college of agriculture and the college of mechanic arts are an especial object of their care and superintendence, and that they shall be considered and treated as entitled primarily to the use of the funds donated for their establishment and maintenance by the said act of congress.

College of mines, civil engineering, etc.

§ 6. The college of mines and the college of civil engineering shall be next established, and such other colleges of arts as the board of regents may be able to establish with the means in their possession or under their control; and in order to fulfil the requirements of said act of congress, all able-bodied male students of the university whether pursuing full or partial courses in any college, or as students at large, shall receive instruction and discipline in military tactics in such manner and to such extent as the regents shall prescribe, the requisite arms for which will be furnished by the state.

College of letters. Order of organization.

§ 7. The board of regents, having in regard the said donation already made to the state by the president and board of trustees of the College of California, and their proposition to surrender all their property to the state for the benefit of the state university, and to become disincorporate and go out of existence as soon as the state shall organize the university, by adding a classical college to the college of arts, shall, as soon as they deem it practicable, establish a college of letters. The college of letters shall be coexistent with the aforesaid colleges of arts, and shall embrace a liberal course of instruction in language, literature and philosophy, together with such courses or parts of courses in the aforesaid colleges of arts as the authorities of the university shall prescribe. The degree of bachelor of arts, upon due examination, and afterwards the degree of master of arts, in usual course, shall be conferred upon the graduates of this college. But the provisions herein and hereinbefore contained regarding the order in which the said colleges shall be organized shall not be construed as directing or permitting the organization of any of the specified colleges to be unnecessarily delayed, but only as indicating the order in which said colleges shall be organized, beginning with the college of agriculture and adding in succession to the body of instructors in that and the other colleges such other instructors as may be necessary to organize the other colleges successively in the order above indicated. Only the first year's course of instruction shall be provided for in each college at first, the other successive years' courses being added in each year as the students advance to the same, until the full course in each college is established; provided, however, that the board of regents may organize at once the full course of the college of letters, if in their judgment it is expedient so to do in order to allow the College of California to immediately convey the residue of its property to the state for the benefit of the university, and to become disincorporate and go out of existence, pursuant to its proposition to that effect.

Any incorporated college may be affiliated with university.

§ 8. The board of regents may affiliate with the university, and make an integral part of the same, and incorporate therewith, any incorporated college of medicine or of law, or other special course of instruction now existing, or which may hereafter be created, upon such terms as to the respective corporations may be deemed expedient; and such college or colleges so affiliated shall retain the control of their own property, with their own boards of trustees, and their own faculties and presidents of the same, respectively, and the students of those colleges, recommended by the respective faculties thereof, shall receive from the university the degrees of those colleges; provided, however, that the president of the university shall be, ex officio, a member of the faculty, of each and every college of the university, and president of such faculty.

Annual examinations. College of California.

§ 9. The examinations for degrees shall be annual, and the board of regents shall take measures to make such examinations thorough and complete. Students who shall have passed not less than a full year as resident students in any college, academy or school in this state, and, after examination by the respective faculty of such college, academy, or school, are recommended by such faculty as proficient candidates for any degree in any regular course of the university, shall be entitled to be examined therefor at the annual examination; and, on passing such examination, shall receive such degree for that course, and the diploma of the university therefor, and shall rank and be considered in all respects as graduates of the university. All students of the university who have been resident students thereof for not less than one year, and all graduates of the university in any course, may present themselves for examination in any other course, or courses, at the annual examinations, and on passing such examination shall receive the degree and diploma of that course. Upon such examinations each professor and instructor of that course shall cast one vote upon each application for recommendation to the board of regents for a degree, and the votes shall be by ballot. In case the College of California shall surrender its property to the university, and said donation shall be accepted by the board of regents, and said College of California shall thereafter become disincorporate in pursuance of its proposition heretofore made to that effect, the graduates and those who shall have received the degrees of that college, shall receive the degrees from the university, and be considered in all respects graduates of the same. And the last above expressed provision shall apply to the previous graduates of any incorporated college of medicine, law, or other professional college which shall become affiliated with the university, as herein otherwise provided. The board of regents shall also confer certificates of proficiency in any branch of study upon such students of the university as, upon examination, shall be found entitled to the same. The style of diplomas and degrees shall be: "University of California, College of Agriculture"; or, with the name of the other respective college; but honorary degrees for the higher degrees, not lower than that of master of arts, may be conferred, with the designation of the university alone, upon persons distinguished in literature, science and art.

Scholarships.

§ 10. Scholarships may be established in the university by the state, associations or individuals, for the purpose of affording tuition in any course of the university, free from the ordinary charges, to any scholar in the public schools of the state, who shall distinguish himself in study, according to the recommendation of his teachers, and shall pass the previous examination required for the grade at which he wishes to enter the university, or for the purpose of private benefaction; provided, that the said scholarships shall be approved and accepted by the board of regents.

Board of regents. Members ex officio. Appointed. Honorary. Vacancies.

§ 11. The general government and superintendence of the university shall vest in a board of regents, to be denominated the "Regents of the University of California," who shall become incorporated under the general laws of the state of California by that corporate name and style. The said board shall consist of twenty-two members, all of whom shall be citizens and permanent residents of the state of California, as follows:

First—Of the following ex officio members, namely: His excellency the governor; the lieutenant governor, or the person acting as such; the speaker, for the time being of the assembly; the state superintendent of public instruction; the president, for the time being, of the state agricultural society; and the president, for the time being of the Mechanics' Institute of the city and county of San Francisco;

Secondly—Of eight other appointed members, to be nominated by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, who shall hold their office for the term of sixteen years; provided, that such members first so appointed shall be classified by lot at the first meeting of the board of regents, so that one of the numbers so appointed shall go out of office at the end of every successive two years, and after that the full term to be sixteen years; and the record of such classification shall be transmitted by said board of regents to the secretary of state and filed in his office;

Thirdly—Of eight additional honorary members, to be chosen from the body of the state by the official and appointed members, who shall hold their office for the term of sixteen years; provided, that such honorary members first so chosen shall be classified by lot, when so appointed, by the board of regents so appointing them, so that one of the members so chosen shall go out of office at the end of each successive two years, and after that the full term to be sixteen years; and the record of such classification shall be transmitted by said board of regents to the secretary of state and filed in his office. Each member of the said board, whether official, appointed or honorary, shall, if present, be entitled to one vote at all the meetings of said board. The first official year from which the terms of office shall be computed to run, shall be the first day of March, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-eight. Vacancies in the office of appointed members of the board, occurring in the recess of the legislature, shall be filled for the rest of the term by appointment of the governor. Vacancies in the office of honorary members occurring from any cause other than expiration of the term by limitation shall be filled for the rest of the term by appointment of the board of regents. In case the senate shall adjourn before the governor shall have nominated the first appointed members of the board of regents under this act, or before it shall have confirmed his nomination in their behalf, the governor shall appoint the same by his sole act. No member of the board of regents, or of the university, shall be deemed a public officer by virtue of such membership, or required to take any oath of office, but his employment as such shall be held and deemed to be exclusively a private trust, and no person who at the time holds any executive office or appointment under the state shall be a member of said board, except the executive officers above mentioned. The governor shall be president of the board of regents, and in his absence the board shall appoint the board a president pro tempore.

Custody of property. Title. Regents to have power over. Property of affiliated colleges.

§ 12. The said board of regents, when so incorporated, shall have the custody of the books, records, buildings, and all other property of the university. The lands and other property heretofore donated to the state by the president and trustees of the College of California, and which are situated in the township of Oakland, in the county of Alameda, for the purpose of erecting thereon an agricultural college, and for other purposes mentioned in the deed of conveyance by which the same were so conveyed, shall be and forever remain vested in the state of California; as shall also be so vested in the said state all property which shall be purchased by the funds of the state, or from the proceeds of donations made to the state for the purpose of the university, or of any of the colleges or professorships thereof; and the said board of regents shall have no power to alienate or encumber, by mortgage, hypothecation, lien, or otherwise, any portion of said property except on terms such as the legislature shall have previously approved; any act of the said regents, or of any other person, which shall purport to have that effect shall be wholly null and void. All lands, moneys, bonds, securities or other property which shall be donated, conveyed or transferred to the said board of regents by gift, devise, or otherwise, including such property as may hereafter be donated and conveyed by the president and board of trustees of the College of California, in trust, or otherwise, for the use of said university, or of any college thereof, or of any professorship, chair, or scholarship therein, or for the library, observatory, or any other purpose appropriate thereto, shall be taken, received, held, managed, invested, reinvested, sold, transferred, and in all respects managed, and the proceeds thereof used, bestowed, invested and reinvested, by the said board of regents, in their corporate name and capacity, for the purpose and under the terms, provisions and conditions respectively prescribed by the act of gift, devise, or other act in the respective case. In case any incorporated college of law, medicine, or the like, shall be brought into the said university by affiliation, as herein otherwise provided, such college so affiliated may retain its own property, then possessed by it or thereafter to be acquired, to be vested in, and held and managed by its own corporation, and the said board of regents shall have no right of property in, or power or control over the same, nor shall be liable for any acts or contracts of such affiliated corporation.

Further powers of regents. Tests prohibited.

§ 13. The regents and their successors in office, when so incorporated, shall have power, and it shall be their duty, to enact laws for the government of the university, to elect a president of the university and the requisite number of professors, instructors, officers and employees, and to fix their salaries, also the term of office of each, and to determine the moral and educational qualification of applicants for admission to the various courses of instruction. They shall also consider and determine whether the interests of the university and of the students, as well as those of the state, and of the great body of scientific men in the state whose purpose is to devote themselves to public instruction, will not be greatly promoted by committing those courses of instruction which are brief and special to professors employed for short terms, and for only a portion of each year in their special departments, and to be termed non-resident professors; and their decision in that regard may be reconsidered by them as often as they deem it expedient. And it is expressly provided that no sectarian, political or partizan test shall ever be allowed or exercised in the appointment of regents, or in the election of professors, teachers, or other officers of the university, or in the admission of students thereto, or for any purpose whatsoever; nor at any time shall the majority of the board of regents be of any one religious sect, or of no religious sect; and the persons of every religious denomination, or of no religious denomination, shall be equally eligible to all offices, appointments and scholarships.

Rates of tuition.

§ 14. For the time being, an admission fee and rate of tuition, such as the board of regents shall deem expedient, may be required of each pupil, except as herein otherwise provided; and as soon as the income of the university shall permit, admission and tuition shall be free to all residents of the state; and it shall be the duty of the regents, according to population, to so apportion the representation of students, when necessary, that all portions of the state shall enjoy equal privilege therein.

President of university. Secretary of board. Treasurer.

§ 15. The president of the university shall be president of the several faculties and the executive head of the institution in all its departments, except as herein otherwise provided. He shall have authority, subject to the board of regents, to give general direction to the practical affairs of the several colleges, and, in the recess of the board of regents, to remove any employee or subordinate officer not a member of any faculty and to supply for the time being any vacancies thus created; and, so long as the interests of the institution require it, he shall be charged with the duties of one of the professorships. A competent person, who is a practical agriculturist by profession, competent to superintend the workings of the agricultural farm, and of sufficient scientific acquirements to discharge the duties of secretary of the board of regents as prescribed in this act, shall be chosen by said board as their secretary, and, in addition to his special duties as such, as prescribed in this act, he shall perform such other duties as they shall impose. He shall receive for his services such reasonable salary as the board of regents shall prescribe. The board of regents may also appoint a treasurer of the university, and prescribe the form and sureties of his bond as such, which shall be executed, approved by them and filed with the secretary, before any such treasurer shall go into office. The secretary and treasurer shall be subject to summary removal by the board of regents.

Duties of secretary.

§ 16. The secretary of the board of regents shall reside and keep his office at the seat of the university. It shall be his duty to keep a record of the transactions of the board of regents, which shall be open at all times to the inspection of any citizen of this state. He shall also have the custody of all books, papers, documents, and other property which may be deposited in his office; also keep and file all reports and communications which may be made to the university from time to time by county, state and district agricultural societies, horticulture, viniculture, mechanical and mining societies; and of all correspondence from other persons and societies appertaining to the business of education, science, art, husbandry, mechanics and mining; address circulars to societies, and to the best practical farmers, mechanics and miners in this state and elsewhere, with a view of eliciting information upon the latest and best modes of culture of the products, vegetables, trees, et cetera, adapted to the soil and climate of the state, and also on all subjects connected with field culture, horticulture, stock raising and the dairy; he shall also correspond with established schools of mining and metallurgy in Europe, and obtain such information respecting the improvements of mining machinery adapted to California, and publish from time to time such information, as will be of practical benefit to the mining interests and the working of all ores and metals; receive and distribute such rare and valuable seeds, plants, shrubbery and trees as may be in his power to procure from the general government and other sources, as may be adapted to our climate and soils, or purposes of experiment therein. To effect these objects he shall correspond with the patent office at Washington, and with the representatives of our national government abroad, and, if possible, procure valuable contributions to agriculture from these sources. He shall aid, as far as possible, in obtaining contributions to the museums and the library of the said college, and thus aid in the promotion of agriculture, science and literature. He shall keep a correct account of all the executive acts of the president of the university and an accurate account of all moneys received into the treasury as well as those paid out.

Distribution of seeds, etc.

§ 17. The seeds, plants, trees and shrubbery received by the secretary and not needed by the university shall be, so far as possible, distributed without charge equally throughout the state, and placed in the hands of those farmers and others who will agree to cultivate them properly and return to the secretary's office a reasonable proportion of the products thereof, with a full statement of the mode of cultivation, and such other information as may be necessary to ascertain their value for general cultivation in the state. Information in regard to agriculture, the mechanic arts, mining and metallurgy may be published by him from time to time in the newspapers of the state as matter of public information, provided it does not involve any expense to the state.

Government and discipline of colleges. Academic senate. Regents to supervise. Degrees.

§ 18. The immediate government and discipline of the several colleges shall be intrusted to their respective faculties, to consist of a president and the resident professors of the same, each of which shall have its own organization, regulate the affairs of its own college, recommending the course of study and the text-books to be used, for the approval of the board of regents, and, in connection with the president as its executive officer, have the government of its students. All the faculties and instructors of the university shall be combined into a body which shall be known as the academic senate, which shall have stated meetings at regular intervals and be presided over by the president, or a president pro tempore, and which is created for the purpose of conducting the general administration of the university and memorializing the board of regents; regulating, in the first instance, the general and special courses of instruction, and to receive and determine all appeals couched in respectful terms from acts of discipline enforced by the faculty of any college. Its proceedings shall be conducted according to rules of order; and every person engaged in instruction in the university, whether resident professors, non-resident professors, lecturers, or instructors, shall have permission to participate in its discussions; but the right to vote shall be confined to the president and the resident and non-resident professors. But the regents shall have power to supervise the general courses of instruction, and on the recommendation of the several faculties prescribe the authorities and text-books to be used in the several courses and colleges, and also to confer such degrees and grant such diplomas as are usual in universities, or as they shall deem appropriate; provided, no honorary degree of any college or course shall be granted by the regents, nor shall any degree, certificate, or diploma, for any course or branch of instruction, be granted by the regents, unless upon examination therefor as prescribed in this act, except the substituted degrees and diplomas provisionally provided or those having received degrees from the College of California, in case the said college becomes extinct and disincorporates, and for the graduates of affiliated professional colleges as herein otherwise provided.

Annual report.

§ 19. At the close of each fiscal year the regents, through their president, shall make a report in detail to the governor, exhibiting the progress, condition and wants of each of the colleges embraced in the university, the course of study in each, the number of professors and students, the amount of receipts and disbursements, together with the nature, cost and results of all important investigations and experiments, and such other information as they may deem important; one printed copy of which shall be transmitted, free, by their secretary, to all colleges endowed under the provisions of the congressional act of July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, hereinbefore referred to; also one printed copy to the secretary of the interior, as provided in said act.

Appropriation for endowment and support. Special endowments.

§ 20. For the endowment and support of the university and its buildings and improvements, there are hereby appropriated:

First—The capital, income, proceeds, securities, avails and interest that have accrued or may hereafter accrue from the sale of the seventy-two sections of land granted to the state for a seminary of learning by an act of congress entitled an act to provide for the survey of the public lands in California, the granting of pre-emption rights therein, and for other purposes, approved March third, eighteen hundred and fifty-three, and from the sale of the ten sections of land granted to the state for public buildings, by said act of congress, which shall be forthwith, so far as the same have been received, and hereafter as fast as the same shall be received by any of the officers of the state, shall be paid over to the said board of regents upon their order therefor.

Secondly—The income, revenue and avails which shall be derived or received from the investment of the proceeds of the sale of the lands, or of the scrip therefor, or of any part thereof, granted to this state by an act of congress entitled an act donating public lands to the several states and territories of the United States for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts, approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, which are hereby appropriated to, and, from time to time, as the same shall be received, shall be paid into the state treasury, carried to the credit of the said board of regents, and paid over to the treasurer of the university, for the use and behoof of the said university, and expended by said board as elsewhere prescribed in this act; and said lands shall be located and sold under the direction of the board of regents, and for such price and on such terms only as they shall prescribe.

Thirdly—All such contributions to the endowment, or other funds, as may be derived from appropriations by the state, from the United States, or from public or private bounty. The entire income of said funds shall be placed at the disposition of the board of regents for the support of the university, and of the several colleges and schools thereof, as herein otherwise provided, with the exception of such affiliated incorporated colleges as shall preserve their own property and the income thereof, as herein otherwise provided; and provided, moreover, that all means derivable from either public or private bounty shall be exclusively devoted to the specific objects for which they shall have been designed by the grantor. The board of regents may appoint competent persons to solicit and collect private contributions for the endowment of the university, and pay them for their services in that behalf, out of the funds so obtained by them, such reasonable compensation as the said board may prescribe.

Fourthly—All such appropriations as may be made for that purpose by the legislature.

Receipts and expenditures.

§ 21. For the current expenditures of the university, specific sums of money shall be set aside out of the funds at their disposal, by the board of regents, which shall be liable to disbursement for that purpose, and shall be subject to the warrants of the president of the board drawn upon the treasurer of the university in pursuance of the orders of the board of regents. All moneys received from labor and incidental sources shall be paid into the treasury and expended in the same manner as other moneys. All moneys which may at any time be in the state treasury, and subject to the use of the said board of regents, may be drawn therefrom by the president of the board, upon the order of said board, in favor of the treasurer of the university.

Meetings of regents.

§ 22. Meetings of the board of regents may be called in such manner as the regents shall determine, seven of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; but a less number may adjourn from time to time. No member of the board shall receive any compensation for his services as such member, nor be entitled to reimbursement for his traveling or other expenses while employed on the business of the board.

Regents to organize colleges.

§ 23. The regents shall, when they shall be in possession of funds for that purpose, organize and put into operation the first year's course of instruction in as many of the said colleges as possible. If the buildings of the university are not sufficiently completed at that time to be occupied for that purpose, the regents are authorized to make temporary arrangements for sufficient buildings, the use of apparatus and for other needful purposes, in the city of Oakland, if the same shall be practicable.

Collections of geological survey. Library.

§ 24. The collections by the state geological survey shall belong to the university, and the regents shall, in their plans, have in view the early and secure arrangement of the same for the use of the students of the university, and of giving access to the same to the public at large and to visitors from abroad; and shall in every respect, by acts of courtesy and accommodation, encourage the visits of persons of scientific tastes and acquirements from other portions of the United States and of other countries, to California. The said collections shall be arranged by the resident professors of the university in a separate building, which shall be denominated the "Museum of the University." To this museum shall also be added, as fast as the means of the university shall permit, collections of agricultural implements, and objects illustrative of the mechanic arts, science, architecture and the fine arts. The collection of a library shall be commenced at once, and increased and expanded as fast as the board of regents are placed in possession of funds for that purpose. But the board of regents may allow duplicates to be taken from said collections of the state geological survey and made a part of some other museum under the care of an incorporated academy of science, which shall become responsible for the custody and return of the same.

Construction of buildings for University of California.

§ 25. The regents shall devise, and cause to be constructed, such buildings as shall be needed for the use of the University of California. Such a plan shall be adopted that separate buildings may be constructed and set aside for separate uses, yet such buildings shall be grouped upon a general plan so that such buildings may harmonize therewith, and be a part of one design. The construction and equipment of the buildings shall in every instance be let upon specifications and advertisement of not less than ten days in at least two daily newspapers of the city and county of San Francisco, to the lowest responsible bidder upon sealed proposals. The regents may require adequate security from all bidders, and shall have power to reject any and all bids and advertise anew. They shall take measures for the immediate and permanent improvement of the grounds of the university, and may make such contracts therefor, or for any part thereof, as they may deem advisable. The provisions of all acts for the erection of state buildings, or the improvement of state grounds, in conflict with this act, shall not apply to the grounds and buildings of the University of California. [Amendment of March 3, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 57.]

This section was also amended March 28, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 665.

Acts repealed. Property to be transferred.

§ 26. An act entitled an act to establish an agricultural, mining and mechanical arts college, approved March thirty-first, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act, are hereby repealed, so far as they conflict with the provisions of this act. But the board of directors of the agricultural, mining and mechanic arts college of this state are authorized and directed to transfer and convey all its property real and personal, and all its effects, rights and interests of property, to the regents of the University of California; and said regents may accept and take possession of said property, and may, if they approve the same, ratify and confirm any contracts, executed or unexecuted, made by said directors; and for the purpose of carrying out the purposes of this section said directors are continued in office until the powers herein conferred shall be duly executed.

§ 27. This act shall take effect immediately from and after its passage.

Editor's note: By section 9 of article IX of the constitution of 1879, it is declared that the university shall constitute a public trust, and that its organization and government shall be perpetually continued in the form and character prescribed by the organic act creating the same (see, ante, p. 66), and the several acts amendatory thereof, subject only to such legislative control as may be necessary to insure compliance with its endowments, and the proper investment and security of its funds, etc.

The university forms the subject of chapter I of title III of Political Code (§§ 1385-1477, inclusive), which was adopted subsequent to the creative act of 1867-8, and the "endowment" act of 1869-70. Owing to the above language of the constitution, those acts have been here inserted.

For aid, appropriations, and endowment, see next following several statutes.

1. Regents of the university constitute a corporation.—The regents of the University of California, having organized as a corporation under the authority of this act, and having incorporated thereunder and having exercised the corporate powers given by the act, constitute a corporation.—Lundy v. Delmas, 104 Cal. 655, 26 L. R. A. 651, 38 Pac. 445.

2. Power of regents to require vaccination of students on entering.—The regents, in the absence of a general law limiting such power, were authorized to make and enforce a rule requiring students entering the university to be vaccinated.—Williams v. Wheeler, 23 Cal. App. 619, 138 Pac. 937.

3. Regents not individually liable for injuries from fallen wire maintained by the university.—The members of the board of regents of the university are not individually liable for the injury of one caused by a wire from a telegraph line maintained along a highway by the university.—Lundy v. Delmas, 104 Cal. 655, 26 L. R. A. 651, 38 Pac. 445.

4. University not exempt from provisions of section 1313, Civil Code, limiting charitable bequests.—The university is a state institution but is not clothed with any of the state's sovereignty, and is not exempt from the provisions of section 1313, Civil Code, limiting the amount of charitable bequests.—In re Royer's Estate, 123 Cal. 614, 44 L. R. A. 364, 56 Pac. 461.

5. Street assessments.—Unimproved property not exempt.—The constitution did not exempt unimproved vacant property in which university funds were invested from liability for special assessments for street improvements.—City, etc., Co. v. Regents, 153 Cal. 776, 18 L. R. A. (N. S.) 451, 96 Pac. 801.

6. Hastings Law College—Change of form of government.—Having been made a part of the university by its act of creation, subject to its government, the form of government of Hastings Law College could not be changed, as the legislature attempted to do by the acts of 1883 and 1885, amending code provisions.—People v. Kewen, 69 Cal. 215, 10 Pac. 393.

7. Hastings Law College—Admission of female student.—It was the intention of the act of creation to make Hastings Law College a part of the university, and that it should affiliate with and be governed by the laws applicable to the university, and a female student can not lawfully be refused admission therein on the sole ground of sex.—Foltz v. Hage, 54 Cal. 28.

8. Money disbursed on resolution of regents, approved by the governor, without controller's warrant.—The state treasurer is required by the constitution to disburse the funds of the university on a resolution of the regents, approved by the governor, without requiring a warrant of the controller, or the deposit of an equivalent security, and without regard to the use the regents propose to make of the same.—Regents v. January, 66 Cal. 507, 6 Pac. 376.

9. Mortgage held by university.—Property of state—Exempt from taxation.—A mortgage held by the university is "property belonging to the state" within the meaning of the constitution, and is exempt from taxation.—Webster v. Regents, 163 Cal. 705, 126 Pac. 974.

ENDOWMENT ACT OF 1870.

ACT 5352—An act for the endowment of the University of California.

History: Approved April 2, 1870, Stats. 1869-70, p. 668. Other acts of a similar character and purpose: (1) Act of February 14, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 2; repealed March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 544; (2) act of February 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 44; repealed March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 544; (3) act of March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 543; repealed April 25, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1104. See also, Acts 5353 and 5356.

Proceeds of sale of salt marsh and tide lands.

§ 1. The treasurer of state shall place to the credit of the university fund so much of any moneys that may be received by him from the net proceeds of sale of any salt marsh and tide lands lying in and around the bay of San Francisco, belonging to the state of California, as, being invested in the bonds of said state, or of the United States, shall yield an annual income of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

Moneys to constitute a fund. Excess, disposition of.

§ 2. Said moneys shall be a fund, the capital of which shall remain undiminished, and the interest of which shall be inviolably applied to the support of the University of California; provided, that if, at any time, the income accruing to the university from the fund created by this act, and the net income derived from all other sources, shall together exceed an average for the preceding years, reckoning from the date of the passage of this act, of fifty thousand dollars per annum, then the excess above said average of fifty thousand dollars per annum shall be paid into the common school fund of the state.

Purchase of bonds.

§ 3. Whenever the sum paid into the university fund, from the proceeds of the sale of salt marsh and tide lands, as directed in section one, shall amount to fifty thousand dollars, net proceeds, it shall be the duty of the treasurer to advertise, in two daily newspapers published in English, in each of the cities of San Francisco and Sacramento, for sealed proposals for the surrender of any of the civil bonds of the state of California, or of any gold-bearing bonds of the United States. He shall state in such advertisement the amount of money on hand applicable to the purchase of bonds, and he shall accept such proposals as will yield the greatest amount of annual interest in gold coin of the United States.

Interest, how applied.

§ 4. All bonds thus purchased shall be indorsed "University Fund," and shall be held by the treasurer of state, who shall collect the interest thereon, which interest, when collected, shall be paid into the university fund to the extent provided for in section two of this act, and paid out therefrom, semi-annually, to the regents of the university, upon their order, to be by them expended for university purposes; provided, no portion of said interest so received shall be used for the erection or purchase of buildings nor for the purchase of lands.

Reinvestment of funds.

§ 5. Whenever the principal of any of the bonds indorsed "University Funds," in the hands of the treasurer, shall be paid, the amount so paid shall be reinvested in like manner as is provided for in section three.

ENDOWMENT ACT OF 1878.

ACT 5353—To consolidate certain funds and to create therefrom a permanent endowment for the University of California, of which the interest only shall be used by the board of regents to meet current expenses.

History: Approved March 19, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 337.

Consolidation of funds into one fund.

§ 1. That the entire principal sums which have been or may be hereafter realized from the several sources of income and endowment funds of University of California, to wit, the principal sum derived from the sale of lands granted to the state of California by act of congress, approved July second, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and amendments thereto, and the principal sum derived from the sale of the seventy-two (72) sections of land granted to the state of California for the use of a seminary of learning by act of congress, approved March third, eighteen hundred and fifty-three, and the principal sum derived from the sale of ten (10) sections of land granted to the state of California for public buildings, by said act of congress, approved March third, eighteen hundred and fifty-three, and the principal sum which the treasurer of the state of California was directed, by act of the legislature, approved April second, eighteen hundred and seventy, to place to the credit of the university fund, and which, being invested in the bonds of the state, or of the United States, should yield an annual income of fifty thousand dollars, and the principal sum now remaining on hand derived from the sale of the real estate in Oakland, Alameda county, and state of California, known as the "Brayton property," shall be from time to time as the same is realized, invested in stocks of the United States or of the state, or other safe stocks or bonds, yielding not less than five (5) per centum upon the par value of said stocks or bonds, and the money so invested shall constitute a perpetual fund, to be known and designated as the "Consolidated Perpetual Endowment Fund of the University of California," the capital of which shall remain forever undiminished; provided, that any moneys realized from said sources of income or endowment funds, or either of them, which have been heretofore invested according to law, may remain so invested; and it is further provided, that all such stocks and bonds as aforesaid shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of said fund, and shall be kept separate and apart from all other funds by the state treasurer, who shall pay over from time to time all interests, profits, income, or revenue arising from such stocks or bonds, to the treasurer of said university upon the demand or order of the regents of the university.

Income placed in general fund of university.

§ 2. That all interests, profits, or revenue arising from or growing out of the said "Consolidated Permanent Endowment Fund of the University of California" shall be placed in the general fund of the university, and subject to disbursement to meet the current annual expenses of the University of California.

§ 3. That all acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

ENDOWMENT ACT OF 1911.

ACT 5356—An act to carry into effect the provisions of subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as the said article was amended on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten, in so far as the same relates to the state university; and also to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California; and to that end making a continuing appropriation and creating an annual fund therefor; and repealing an act entitled: "An act to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California by the levy of a rate of taxation and the creation of a fund therefor, and to repeal an act approved February 14, 1887, entitled: 'An act to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California by the levy of a rate of taxation and the creation of a fund therefor,' and also to repeal an act approved February 27, 1897, entitled 'An act to provide additional support and maintenance, and for the acquisition of necessary property and improvements of the University of California, by the levy of a rate of taxation, and the creation of a fund therefor.' " Approved March 20, 1909.

History: Approved April 25, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1104. Amended May 17, 1915, in effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 448; May 15, 1917, in effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 534. Prior act of February 14, 1887, Stats. 1887, p. 2, and act of February 27, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 44, were repealed by the act of March 20, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 543, which was in turn repealed by the present act.

State university fund created.

§ 1. In order to carry into effect the provisions of subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as the said article was amended on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, in so far as the same relates to the state university, and to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California, there is hereby created an annual fund to be called "the state university fund"; said fund for the sixty-third fiscal year shall be equal to, but not more than, seven per cent in excess of the amount received by the university under the provisions of chapter three hundred twenty-nine of the statutes of one thousand nine hundred nine for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth in the year one thousand nine hundred eleven; and provided, further, that such fund for each of the sixty-fourth, sixty-fifth, sixty-sixth, sixty-seventh, sixty-eighth, sixty-ninth, seventieth, seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years shall be equal to but not more than, seven per cent in excess of the amount received by the university under this act for the immediately preceding respective fiscal year. [Amendment of May 15, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 535.]

This section was also amended May 17, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 448.

Treasurer to transfer funds.

§ 2. The state treasurer shall each year transfer from the revenues from the taxes provided for in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state as said article was amended on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten, together with all other state revenues, to the separate fund created by section one of this act, to be called the "state university fund," the amount of money provided for under the provisions of this act.

Fund appropriated without reference to fiscal years.

§ 3. The money paid into the said "state university fund," is hereby appropriated, without reference to fiscal years, for the use and support of the University of California, and is exempted from the provisions of part three, title one, article eighteen, of an act entitled "An act to establish a Political Code," approved March twelfth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, relating to the board of examiners. When there is any money in the said fund, the same may be drawn out upon the order of the board of regents of the University of California, or such officers of the board as may be duly authorized thereto. Upon the receipt of the order, the controller must draw his warrant upon the state treasurer, payable to the order of the treasurer of the University of California, out of the said "state university fund."

Applied only to support and permanent improvement.

§ 4. The money derived from said fund must be applied only to the support and permanent improvement of the university. The board of regents must include in its biennial report to the governor a statement of the manner in and the purposes for which all of the moneys referred to and raised under this act were expended during the two fiscal years immediately preceding such report. [Amendment of May 17, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 449.]

Repealed.

§ 5. An act entitled: "An act to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California by the levy of a rate of taxation and the creation of a fund therefor, and to repeal an act approved February 14, 1887, entitled: 'An act to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California by the levy of a rate of taxation and the creation of a fund therefor,' and also to repeal an act approved February 27, 1887, entitled 'An act to provide additional support and maintenance, and for the acquisition of necessary property and improvements of the University of California, by the levy of a rate of taxation, and the creation of a fund therefor.' " Approved March 20, 1909, is hereby repealed. This act shall not be construed as in any way repealing or amending any other existing law which provides for the support, maintenance or improvement of the state university.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

The sum of thirty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be expended by the regents of the University of California in carrying out the purposes of this act, and the state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the same payable to the regents of the University of California and the treasurer of the state is hereby directed to pay such warrant.

HYGIENE LABORATORY.

ACT 5380—An act to establish and maintain a state hygienic laboratory for bacteriological and chemical analysis for the use of the state board of health, providing for the appointment of a director thereof, and assistants; making an appropriation therefor and prescribing the duties of the state controller and state treasurer in relation thereto.

History: Approved March 18, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 209. Amended, entire act, March 9, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 320.

State hygienic laboratory established.

§ 1. There shall be established and maintained at the University of California, at Berkeley, for the use of the state board of health, a state hygienic laboratory for bacteriological and chemical analysis, which shall be under the management and control of the state board of health; and branches of said laboratory may be established and maintained by said board from time to time, at such other places within the state of California as the said board may determine to be necessary for the protection of the public health. [Amendment approved March 9, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 320.]

Director. Assistant. Salaries.

§ 2. The state board of health shall appoint a director of said state laboratory who shall be a skilled bacteriologist and chemist, and, subject to the control of said board, shall have general supervision of said laboratory and any branch laboratories that may be established hereunder. Said board shall also appoint an assistant director for each branch laboratory establish, who shall likewise be a skilled bacteriologist and chemist, and shall also appoint such other assistants as may from time to time be necessary to carry on the work of said laboratory and the branches thereof. The salaries of the director, assistant directors, and other assistants shall be fixed by the state board of health and they shall hold office at the pleasure of said board; provided, however, that all such salaries and all expenses incurred for equipment, rent, materials, traveling expenses, and other things incidental to the maintenance and operation of such laboratories, shall be paid out of the money appropriated for bacteriological laboratory support by the terms of the general appropriation act. [Amendment approved March 9, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 320.]

Controller authorized to draw warrants.

§ 3. The state controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrants for the sums so appropriated in favor of the secretary of the state board of health and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same. [Amendment approved March 9, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 320.]

UNIVERSITY FARM.

ACT 5381—An act providing for the purchase of a university farm for the use of the college of agriculture of the University of California; providing for the appointment of a commission to select and purchase said farm, providing for a school of agriculture and a system of instruction on said farm and appropriating money therefor.

History: Approved March 18, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 131. Act of February 26, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 58, appropriated $132,000 for buildings, improvements, etc., for the University farm.

Commission for the selection and purchase of. Term of office. Compensation.

§ 1. A commission is hereby appointed to consist of five persons who shall be known as the "Commissioners for the Selection and Purchase of a University Farm." Said commission shall consist of the following persons, each of whom shall be, and is hereby appointed as a member of said commission: The governor of the state of California, who shall be the president of said commission; the president of the University of California; the lieutenant-governor of the state of California; the president of the state board of agriculture; and the state commissioner of horticulture of California. Said commission[ers] shall hold office until they have performed the duties hereinafter provided for. They shall receive no compensation, but the expenses of their qualification and necessary traveling expenses shall be paid out of the moneys hereinafter appropriated.

Duties of commissioners. Size of farm and character of soil. Must be susceptible of irrigation. Gift of farm.

§ 2. Immediately after the appointment of said commissioners they shall organize and proceed to select and purchase a farm or tract of land to be known as the university farm, and to be used as an agricultural college farm, and for the site or location of buildings, and such other structures as may be necessary for use in connection therewith and for the purposes herein set forth. Said farm or tract of land shall be of such size and acreage as in the judgment of the commission, may be necessary for the purposes desired—provided, however, there shall be not less than three hundred and twenty acres of first-class tillable land, located at such place as said commission may deem proper, having consideration for the purposes for which it is to be used. It must be first-class tillable land, and in its soil, location, climate and general environment be typical and representative of the best general agricultural conditions in California, and be capable of successfully producing the general crops of the state, and as many as may be of all of the crops and products successfully grown in California. Provided, that no site or tract shall be chosen, one-half of which at least is not susceptible of irrigation, and for the irrigation of which some system is not already provided, or for which a water right is not purchased or procured at the time the land is selected. For the purposes of securing or purchasing said farm, said commission shall have the power to take and secure options, or bonds, for deeds, and may accept a gift of the whole or any part of said farm. They may also receive gifts of water rights, canals, ditch, flume or other rights, easements or appurtenances to any farm which they may select, and may also purchase any such water or other rights, or acquire the same by the exercise of the right of eminent domain.

Deed to be made to regents. Payment for farm.

§ 3. The deed for said farm or tract of land, or other property purchased, shall, when the same shall have been purchased by said commission, be taken in the name of, and the deed shall be made to the regents of the University of California. When said commission shall have selected and purchased the said tract or farm or other property herein provided for, they shall present their claim for the amount or sum agreed to be paid therefor to the state board of examiners, and upon the allowance of said bill or claim the controller shall draw his warrant for the amount thereof, payable out of the sum hereby appropriated in favor of the owner or owners of the properties selected and purchased as hereinabove provided for. Said warrant or warrants when so drawn shall be delivered to said commission, which shall use the same to pay the purchase price of said farm or tract or other property, taking a deed therefor as aforesaid, the same to be delivered and filed with the regents of the University of California.

Management of. Construction of buildings. Supplies, implements, etc. Instructors and instruction. Experimental and investigational work.

§ 4. The said university farm when purchased as aforesaid shall be immediately given into the possession of, and shall be under the management, direction and control of the board of regents of the University of California. Immediately upon obtaining possession of said university farm said regents shall proceed to have constructed thereon buildings and such other structures as shall be necessary for an agricultural school, and for the use thereof for purposes of education in agriculture. They shall provide for the purchase of supplies, implements, machines, and apparatus, the planting of trees and vines, and forage and agricultural crops, for the purchase of domestic livestock, and for the employment of laborers. They shall appoint the necessary instructors and inaugurate and provide for the conduct of instruction in agriculture, and in such other branches of learning as are allied thereto, and as are calculated to better qualify and inform the students attending in the theory and practice of agriculture. This instruction shall be conducted in connection with, and as a part of, the college of agriculture of the University of California, provisions being made by the regents for such attendance on the farm of the college students as may be deemed best and necessary to the completion of their college courses. The university farm, and the instruction given thereon shall be so conducted as to meet the needs of persons who desire instruction in agriculture, horticulture, viticulture, animal industry, dairying, irrigation and poultry raising, and to prepare them for the pursuit thereof; and shall also be used for experimental and investigational work in connection with the agricultural experiment station of the University of California. Short courses of instruction shall also be arranged for in each of the leading branches of agricultural industry, so regulated as to provide for popular attendance and general instruction in agricultural practice.

Appropriation.

§ 5. The sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the general fund of the state treasury, for the purposes of this act; provided, that fifty thousand dollars of said sum shall be payable immediately, fifty thousand dollars on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and five, and the remaining fifty thousand dollars thereof on the first day of January, nineteen hundred and six. The commission hereinabove provided for shall draw against said appropriation as hereinabove authorized. After such sums have been paid therefrom, the remaining portion of said appropriation shall be subject to the order of, and shall be paid to the said board of regents to be used by them exclusively for the construction of the buildings and the other purposes herein provided for.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

DORMITORY AT UNIVERSITY FARM.

Said amount of thirty-one thousand two hundred and seventy-five dollars may be so expended by the regents of the University of California in one or more fiscal years.

The act of May 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 828, made an appropriation to carry on the work.

"UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA BUILDING BOND ACT."ACT 5391—"University of California Building Bond Act."

History: An initiative measure filed with the secretary of state under provisions of section 1, article IV, of the state constitution, submitted to the electors at the general election held November 3, 1914, and adopted. In effect December 19, 1914, Stats. 1915, p. 1923. Amended March 26, 1915, in effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 15; March 23, 1917, in effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 21.

§ 1. The regents of the University of California are hereby authorized to complete the construction of the library building of the University of California, and also to construct a building for general use by said university as a recitation building, a building for the use of the college of agriculture of said university, and a building for the use of the college of natural sciences of said university as a chemistry building, all on the grounds of said university in the city of Berkeley. For the purpose of meeting the cost of such construction, the state of California is hereby authorized to, and shall, incur an indebtedness in the manner provided by this act, in the sum of one million eight hundred thousand dollars ($1,800,000).

Immediately upon the taking effect of this act the treasurer of the state shall prepare eighteen hundred (1800) suitable bonds of the state of California, negotiable in form and payable to bearer, and expressing on their face the obligation of the state of California to pay, in gold coin of the United States, the principal amount thereof at the respective dates of maturity hereinafter specified, together with interest, as hereinafter specified, in the denomination of one thousand dollars (\$1,000) each. Said bonds shall be numbered consecutively from one (1) to eighteen hundred (1800) inclusive, and shall bear date the fifth day of January, 1915. The total issue of such bonds shall not exceed the principal sum of one million eight hundred thousand dollars (\$1,800,000), and such bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent ($4\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum upon the principal from the date thereof. The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the treasurer of the state, at the times and in the manner following, to wit: The first forty (40) of said bonds shall be due and payable on the fifth day of January, 1921, and forty (40) of said bonds in consecutive numerical order shall be due and payable on the fifth day of January in each and every year thereafter, until and including the fifty day of January, 1965. The interest accruing on all of said bonds that shall be sold shall be payable at the office of the treasurer of the state on the fifth day of January and on the fifth day of July of each and every year after the sale of the same. The interest on all bonds issued and sold shall cease on the day of their maturity, and the said bonds so issued and sold shall on the day of their maturity be paid, as herein provided, and canceled by the state treasurer. All bonds remaining unsold shall, at the date of the maturity thereof, be canceled and destroyed by the treasurer of the state. All bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be signed by the governor of the state, countersigned by the state controller, and endorsed by the state treasurer, and each of said bonds shall have the great seal of the state of California impressed thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, as herein provided, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the state of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the persons so signing, countersigning and endorsing, or any of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of said office or offices.

§ 2. Attached to each of said bonds there shall be an interest coupon for each semi-annual payment of interest thereon, negotiable in form, and payable to bearer, and expressing the obligation of the state of California to pay the amount of such semi-annual payment of interest, in gold coin of the United States, at the time of maturity thereof. Said interest coupons shall be so attached that each may be detached without injury to or mutilation of said bond, or injury to, mutilation of, or detachment from said bond of, the remainder of such coupons the time of payment of which has not yet been reached. Said coupons shall be consecutively numbered in the chronological order of their time of payment, and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer. No interest shall be paid on any of said bonds for such time as may intervene between the date of said bond and the day of sale thereof, except to the extent to which accrued interest shall have been paid to the state at the time of such sale by the purchaser of said bond.

Opening bids. Purchase price payable in ten days. Matured interest coupons to be detached. Sale may be continued. Publication of notice. Sale of bonds on direction of governor. Bids. Deposit of cash or check.

§ 3. When the bonds authorized by this act to be issued shall have been signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, as in section one provided, the state treasurer shall, from time to time, sell such number thereof as the governor of the state may direct to the highest bidder for cash. The governor of the state shall, from time to time, issue to the state treasurer such direction immediately after being requested so to do through and by a resolution duly adopted and passed by a majority vote of the regents of the University of California. Such resolution shall specify the amount of money which, in the judgment of said the regents of the University of California, shall be required at such time, and the governor of the state shall direct the state treasurer to sell such number of bonds as will, at the par value thereof, equal said amount of money so required according to such resolution of the regents of the University of California. Said bonds shall be sold in consecutive numerical order, save and except that the state treasurer may sell two or more bonds at the same time in one lot, which lot, however, shall be made up of bonds consecutively numbered, the first of which in number shall be the first bond in number yet unsold. The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond or bonds bid for, and to the amount of the accepted bid there shall be added in each case, as a part of the purchase price to be paid by the bidder, the amount of interest which shall have accrued on the bonds bid for between the date of the payment for said bonds and the last preceding interest maturity date. Each bid shall be in writing and signed by the bidder and sealed, and shall be deposited with the state treasurer not later than the last business day preceding the date of sale. Each bid shall be accompanied by the deposit with the state treasurer, either in cash or by certified check on a reputable bank within the state of California, to the order of the state of California, of one-tenth of the amount of the par value of the bond or lot of bonds bid for. Such deposit of each unsuccessful bidder shall be returned to him immediately upon the nonacceptance of his bid, and such deposit of the successful bidder shall immediately upon the acceptance of his bid become and be the property of the state of California and be placed in the state treasury to the credit of the "University of California building fund" hereinafter mentioned, and shall be credited to the successful bidder upon the purchase price of the bonds bid for in case such price is paid in full by him within the time hereinafter prescribed. At the time of sale the state treasurer shall open said bids and accept the bid of the highest bidder for cash, save and except that no bid shall be accepted which is lower in amount than the par value of the bonds bid for, and that the state treasurer may, in his discretion, reject all bids. The purchase price of the bonds sold shall be payable within ten days after the acceptance of the bid therefor, and if not so paid the successful bidder shall have no right in or to said bonds or by reason of said bid, or to the recovery of said deposit accompanying said bid, or to any allowance or credit by reason of such deposit. In case the purchase price is not so paid, the bonds so sold but not paid for shall be resold by the state treasurer upon notice as hereinafter provided in case of original sale. Bonds sold shall be deliverable to the purchaser immediately upon, and not before, the payment of the purchase price therefor. Before delivering any of said bonds, the state treasurer shall detach therefrom all interest coupons which have matured before the date of the payment of the purchase price therefor. The state treasurer may, by public announcement at the time and place fixed by him for said sale, continue such sale to such time and place as he may at the time of said continuance designate. When a sale is so continued no notice thereof need be given, other than the public announcement of such continuance by the state treasurer as just hereinbefore provided. The state treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised.

This section was also amended March 26, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 15.

"University of California building fund" created.

There is hereby created in and for the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "University of California building fund," and immediately after such sale of bonds the treasurer of the state shall pay into the state treasury and cause to be placed in said "University of California building fund" the total amount received from the sale of said bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon. The amount that shall have been paid at such sale as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be by the treasurer of the state, immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in a fund to be known as the "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds."

Use of moneys.

The moneys placed in the "University of California building fund," pursuant to the provisions of this section, shall be used under the direction of the regents of the University of California exclusively for the completion of the construction of said library building and the construction of the other buildings hereinbefore mentioned, the furnishing and equipping of said buildings, the construction and equipment of a power plant, and tunnels and subways for steam and electric lines in connection with said buildings and neighboring buildings of the University of California, the doing of necessary landscaping immediately surrounding said buildings, and for meeting the expenses of the sale of said bonds.

Moneys shall be drawn from said "University of California building fund" for the purposes of this act, upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state, upon claims made by the regents of the University of California and approved by the state board of control. [Amendment of March 23, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 21.]

§ 4. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on, the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act as said principal and interest become due and payable. There shall be collected each year, and in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected, such sum in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds maturing in said year, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the levy and collection of said revenue to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds." The state treasurer shall, on the first day of July, 1915, and on the first day of each January and the first day of each July thereafter, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to said "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds" such an amount of money as shall be required to pay the interest maturing at the next interest payment date on the amount of said bonds sold and outstanding; and shall likewise, on the first day of January of the year 1921, and the first day of January of each year thereafter in which any of said bonds sold and outstanding mature, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to said "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds" such an amount of money as may be required to pay the principal of such of said bonds sold and outstanding as mature in such year.

§ 5. The principal and interest of all of said bonds which may be sold shall be paid at the time the same become due from said "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds," and the faith of the state of California is hereby pledged for the payment in full of the principal and interest of said bonds so sold as the same mature. Both principal and interest shall be so paid upon presentation to the state treasurer on or after the day of the maturity of the same of the bond or coupon so maturing, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and required to make such payment. Warrants for such payment shall be duly drawn by the state controller upon the request of the state treasurer.

§ 6. There shall be provided in the general appropriation bill to be passed at the next regular session of the legislature sufficient money to defray all expenses that shall be incurred by the state treasurer in the preparation of said bonds and in the advertising of the sale thereof as in this act provided.

§ 7. The state controller and state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor, in triplicate, an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, in triplicate, one copy of each to be by the governor laid before each house of the legislature bi-annually. The books and papers pertaining to the matters provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any parties interested, or of the governor, the attorney general, or the legislature, or of any citizen of the state.

§ 8. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "University of California building bond act," and, after any of the bonds herein provided for have been sold, shall be irrevocable until the principal and interest of all bonds sold shall have been paid and discharged in full, but the legislature may amend this act at any time in furtherance of its purpose, and may also repeal this act at any time after its adoption, provided that there are at the time no bonds which have been sold thereunder outstanding and unpaid in full as to both principal and interest.

UNIVERSITY FARM IN RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

ACT 5393—An act to establish a university farm in Riverside county and making an appropriation to carry out the purposes hereof.

History: Approved May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1231.

Appropriation: establishment of university farm in Riverside county.

§ 1. The sum of thirty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by the regents of the University of California toward the purchase of land and water rights for a university farm to be located within Riverside county, state of California, and to consist of not less than three hundred acres of tillable land, with due consideration for the purposes for which it is to be used. The land purchased must be susceptible to irrigation from some adequate water supply of reasonable cost for maintenance and distribution. The said regents may receive gifts of water or water rights, or equipment, or any easements or appurtenances to any such university farm which they may select. The purpose of this act is to authorize the regents to enter into a contract of sale for said land, final payments to be made by later appropriations of the legislature.

Payment of claims.

§ 2. The state controller is directed to draw his warrant at such times and in such amounts, not exceeding in the aggregate the amount hereby appropriated, as the regents of the state university shall present claims for and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

Under control of regents. Courses of instruction.

§ 3. Upon completion of payments the said university farm shall be purchased in the name of the regents of the University of California and shall be under their control and direction in connection with and as a part of the college of agriculture of the University of California; provision being made by the said regents for such attendance on the farm of the college students as may be deemed best and necessary to the completion of their college courses. The university farm and the instruction given thereon shall be conducted to meet the needs of persons who desire practical instruction and experience in general agriculture, horticulture, viticulture, animal industry, dairying and irrigation; and to prepare them for the pursuit thereof; and shall also be used for experimental and investigational work in connection with the agricultural experiment station of the University of California. Short courses of instruction shall also be arranged in each of the leading branches of agricultural industry, so regulated as to provide for popular attendance and general instruction in agricultural practice; and all work so undertaken shall be of the most practical kind.

Buildings and equipment.

§ 4. From time to time the regents shall proceed to construct on this farm such reasonable buildings and other structures as are necessary to good and efficient work, keeping away from unnecessarily expensive buildings out of harmony with reasonable and sanitary farm necessity, and they shall provide for the purpose of supplies, implements, machines, apparatus, domestic live stock, and for the planting of such trees and vines and crops as seem best and to employ the necessary labor thereof; but the labor of the students shall be at all times utilized so far as possible, to the end that the students may and shall actually do and perform the several kinds and classes of work in a practical manner that pertain to the conduct of an average farm.

UPLAND.

See Act 3094, note.

CHAPTER 408.

ACT 5394. USURY LAW.

USURY LAW.

ACT 5394—An act, to be known as the usury law, relating to the rate of interest which may be charged for the loan or forbearance of money, goods or things in action, or on accounts after demand, or on judgments, providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof, and repealing sections one thousand nine hundred seventeen, one thousand nine hundred eighteen, one thousand nine hundred nineteen, and one thousand nine hundred twenty of the Civil Code and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

History: Initiative measure, filed with the secretary of state and submitted to and approved by the electors at the general election of November 5, 1918, in effect December 10, 1918, Stats. 1919, p. LXXXVII.

[Legal rate of interest.]

§ 1. The rate of interest upon the loan or forbearance of any money, goods or things in action or on accounts after demand or judgments rendered in any court of this state, shall be seven dollars upon the one hundred dollars for one year and at that rate for a greater or less sum or for a longer or a shorter time; but it shall be competent for parties to contract for the payment and receipt of a rate of interest not exceeding twelve dollars on the one hundred dollars for one year and not exceeding that rate for a greater or less sum or for a longer or shorter time, in which case such rate exceeding seven dollars on one hundred dollars shall be clearly expressed in writing.

[Interest greater than legal rate prohibited. Contracts for greater than legal rate null and void.]

§ 2. No person, company, association or corporation shall directly or indirectly take or receive in money, goods or things in action, or in any other manner whatsoever, any greater sum or any greater value for the loan or forbearance of money, goods or things in action than at the rate of twelve dollars upon one hundred dollars for one year; and in the computation of interest upon any bond, note, or other instrument or agreement, interest shall not be compounded, nor shall the interest thereon be construed to bear interest unless an agreement to that effect is clearly expressed in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith. Any agreement or contract of any nature in conflict with the provisions of this section shall be null and void as to any agreement or stipulation therein contained to pay interest, and no action at law to recover interest in any sum shall be maintained and the debt can not be declared due until the full period of time it was contracted for has elapsed.

[Excess interest may be recovered. Bonus or commission. Penalty for violation.]

§ 3. Every person, company, association or corporation, who for any loan or forbearance of money, goods or things in action shall have paid or delivered any greater sum or value than is allowed to be received under the preceding sections, one and two, may either in person or his or its personal representative, recover in an action at law against the person, company, association or corporation who shall have taken or received the same, or his or its personal representative, treble the amount of the money so paid or value delivered in violation of said sections, providing such action shall be brought within one year after such payment or delivery. And any person, company, association or corporation, who shall ask, demand, receive, take, accept or charge more than twelve per centum per annum upon the sum of money actually loaned for the forbearance, use or loan thereof, when the repayment of the money loaned shall be secured by a mortgage, trust deed, bill of sale, assignment, pledge, receipt or other evidence of debt, except corporation bonds, and municipal and other public bonds, upon property, real or personal or by assignment of wages, or ask, demand, receive, take, accept or charge more than an amount equal to five per cent so actually loaned and secured in all sums of one thousand dollars or less, and three per cent on all sums over one thousand dollars in full for all examinations, views, fees, appraisals, commissions, renewals made within one year from date of loan and charges of any kind or description whatsoever, except abstracts or certificates of title charges made under the Torrens land law or otherwise, in the procuring, making and transacting of the business connected with such loans, or who shall ask, demand, receive, take, accept or charge any fee, bonus or commission whatsoever for the use or loan or the procuring of such loan of any sum of money for a shorter period than six months when said loan is not secured by a mortgage or pledge upon real estate, or shall violate the provisions of sections one and two of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished for the first offense by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and for each subsequent offense and conviction shall be punished by a fine not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and by imprisonment not less than six months nor more than one year. The penalties herein provided for the violation of this section and said sections one and two shall apply to and be imposed upon each member of any unincorporated company, association, or of any co-partnership and upon each officer and director of a corporation who shall violate either of said sections.

[Sections of Civil Code repealed. Conflicting acts repealed.]

§ 4. Sections one thousand nine hundred seventeen, one thousand nine hundred eighteen, one thousand nine hundred nineteen and one thousand nine hundred twenty of the Civil Code and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

[Title of act.]

§ 5. This act whenever cited, referred to, or amended may be designated simply as the "usury law."

ACT 5399. FREEHOLDERS' CHARTER.
5401. TIDE LAND GRANT.

FREEHOLDERS' CHARTER.

ACT 5399—Freeholders' charter of the city of Vallejo.

History: Voted for and ratified at a special election held for that purpose February 21, 1911; filed with the secretary of state March 11, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1958. Amended (1) April 15, 1913, filed with the secretary of state June 2, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 1693; (2) November 5, 1918, filed with the secretary of state January 25, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 1443. Originally incorporated as a town by the act of March 26, 1866, Stats. 1865-66, p. 431. This act was repealed and the town reincorporated as a city by the act of March 30, 1868, Stats. 1867-68, p. 618. This act was superseded by the reincorporation act of March 27, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 566. The latter act was amended (1) March 30, 1872, Stats. 1871-72, p. 757; (2) March 13, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 360; (3) March 16, 1874, Stats. 1873-74, p. 381; (4) February 5, 1876, Stats. 1875-76, p. 25; (5) March 22, 1878, Stats. 1877-78, p. 398. The act and amendments were superseded by the freeholders' charter voted for and ratified at a special election held for that purpose March 21, 1898; resolution of approval adopted January 26, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 370. This charter was amended February 5, 1897; adopted March 6, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 1245, and was superseded by the present charter.

1. Constitutional law—Date of charter.—The constitution does not prevent the freeholder charter itself from stating its effective date.—Williams v. Vallejo, 36 Cal. App. 133, 171 Pac. 834.

2. Same—Legislature can not amend charter.—The legislature has no power to amend a freeholders' charter, and can only approve or reject it.—Williams v. Vallejo, 36 Cal. App. 133, 171 Pac. 834.

3. Same—"Municipal affair"—Construction of reservoir for public water service.—The construction of a reservoir for public water service is a "municipal affair."—Williams v. Vallejo, 36 Cal. App. 133, 171 Pac. 834.

4. Recall elections.—Under the provisions of the Vallejo charter and of the Political Code, it was permissible to hold elections at the same time to recall two commissioners; but where the offices were of different terms, they were separate offices, requiring separate designation upon the ballot, as required by the state law.—Wilson v. Blake, 169 Cal. 449, 451, 147 Pac. 129, Ann. Cas. 1916D, 205.

5. City contract to build a reservoir—Governed by charter of 1899 under which it was made.—A contract under the charter of 1899 to build a reservoir was governed by that charter and not by the charter of 1911.—Williams v. Vallejo, 36 Cal. App. 133, 171 Pac. 834.

TIDE LAND GRANT.

ACT 5401—An act conveying to the city of Vallejo certain tide lands and lands of the state of California lying under inland navigable waters within the boundaries of the said city, situate in the Napa creek, the Mare Island straits and the Straits of Carquinez, including the right to wharf out therefrom to the city of Vallejo, in furtherance of navigation and commerce and the fisheries, and providing for the government, management and control thereof.

History: Approved June 11, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 575.

Tide lands held in trust.

Whereas, Since the admission of California into the Union, all tide lands along navigable waters of this state and all lands lying beneath the navigable waters of the state have been and now are held in trust by the state for the benefit of all the inhabitants thereof for the purposes of navigation, commerce and fishing; and

Whereas, It is the duty of the state to govern, administer and control such lands and to improve and develop navigation, commerce and fishing thereon and thereover; and State may not alienate.

Whereas, The state has not the general power of alienation of such lands but may, when the interests of commerce, navigation and fishing require it, convey to municipalities limited and defined areas of such lands with the power to govern, control, improve and develop the same in the interests of all the inhabitants of the state; and Conveyance to city of Vallejo.

Whereas, The conveyance to the city of Vallejo of the lands hereinafter described, together with the right to govern, control, improve and develop the same will result in great advantage and benefit to all the inhabitants of the state, it is provided:

Tide lands conveyed to Vallejo. Purposes for which used. Franchises for public uses.

Reservation for belt line railroad, etc. Persons in possession may lease. Profits to city. No discrimination in rates. Right to fish reserved.

§ 1. There is hereby granted and conveyed to the city of Vallejo, a municipal corporation, in the county of Solano, state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all the tide lands and lands lying under inland navigable waters within the boundaries of the present city of Vallejo, situate in the Napa creek, the Mare Island Straits and the Straits of Carquinez, lying and being between the line of mean high tide and the pier head line in said straits, as the same has been or may hereafter be established by the federal government, and the right to wharf out therefrom to the city of Vallejo, to be forever held by said city and by its successors in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the expressed conditions following to wit: That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, only for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for limited periods, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California, and with the requirements of commerce and navigation at said harbor, for a term not exceeding twenty-five years, and on such other terms and conditions as said city may determine, including a right to renew such lease or leases for a further term not exceeding twenty-five years or to terminate the same on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases, and said lease or leases may be for any and all purposes which shall not interfere with navigation or commerce, with revision to the said city on the termination of said lease or leases of any and all improvements thereon, and on such other terms and conditions as the said city may determine, but for no purpose which will interfere with navigation or commerce; subject also to a reservation in all such leases or such wharfing out privileges of a street, or of such other reservation as the said city may determine for a belt line railroad or other railroad where the same may be deemed necessary by the said city; and such other reservations as the city may require, and for sewer outlets, and for gas and oil mains and water mains, and for hydrants, and for electric cables and wires, and for such other conduits for municipal purposes, and for such public and municipal purposes and uses as may be deemed necessary by the said city; provided, however, that each person, firm or corporation or their heirs, successors or assigns now in possession of land or lands within the boundaries of the said city of Vallejo as hereinbefore firstly described, situate in the Napa creek, the Mare Island Straits and the Straits of Carquinez, and lying and being between the line of mean high tide and the pier head line in said straits, as the same has been or may hereafter be established by the federal government, shall have a right to obtain a lease for a term of twenty-five years from said city of said land and wharfing out privileges therefrom with a right of renewal for a further term of twenty-five years pursuant to the provisions of this act and on such terms and conditions as said city may determine and specify, and said renewed lease may be terminated at any time by mutual agreement of the city and the lessee, on such just and reasonable terms for compensation for improvements as may be mutually agreed upon. Upon obtaining such lease and wharfing out privileges such person, firm or corporation, their heirs or assigns, shall quitclaim to said city any right they or any of them may claim or have to the said lands hereby granted. This grant shall carry the right to such city of the rents, issues and profits in any manner hereafter arising from the lands or wharfing out privileges hereby granted. The state of California shall have at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof, for any vessel or other watercraft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California. No discrimination in rates, tolls or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors in the management, conduct or operation of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in this section. There is hereby reserved in the people of the state of California the right to fish in the waters on which said lands may front with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose.

Conveyance made on condition that harbor be improved.

§ 2. The foregoing conveyance is made upon the condition that the city of Vallejo shall, within five years from the approval of this act, exclusive of such time as said city may be restrained from so doing by injunction issued out of any court of this state or of the United States, and exclusive of such further delay as may be caused by unavoidable misfortune or great public or municipal calamity, cause to be expended for harbor improvement purposes an amount not less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000). If said harbor improvement work be not done and if said amount be not expended for harbor improvement as herein provided, then the lands by this act conveyed to the city of Vallejo shall revert to the state of California.

TIDELAND GRANT.

ACT 5403—An act granting to the city of Venice the tidelands and submerged lands of the state of California within the boundaries of the said city.

History: Approved June 10, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 89.

Tidelands granted to Venice.

§ 1. There is hereby granted to the city of Venice, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all the tidelands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled; provided, that nothing contained herein shall in any way affect any property held or claimed under, through or from a Mexican grant or patent therefor within the present boundaries and jurisdiction of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific ocean, or of any harbor, estuary, bay or inlet within said boundaries, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

Purposes for which land may be used. Term of franchises and leases.

(a) That said lands shall be used by said city and by its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands or any part thereof to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatsoever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor;

Harbor improved without expense to state.

(b) That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California;

No discrimination in rates.

(c) That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges, or in facilities, for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or by its successors;

Right to fish reserved to people.

Reserving, however, in the people of the state of California the absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose.

The title of the present act recites the repeal of the act of 1893, but no mention of that fact is made in the body of the act.

Board of examiners in veterinary medicine. Term of office. Removals.

§ 1. That there be, and is hereby, created a board of examiners in veterinary medicine, to be appointed by the governor of the state of California, which shall consist of five reputable practitioners of veterinary medicine who shall have graduated from some college authorized by law to confer degrees, each of whom shall have been a bona fide resident of said state for three years last past before appointment, and each, during said period, shall have been actually engaged in the practice of his profession in said state. The appointments first made shall be one for one year, one for two years, one for three years, and two for four years, and thereafter appointments shall be made for a period of four years, except appointments to fill vacancies, in which case the appointments shall be made for the remainder of the unexpired terms; provided, that the governor may, in his judgment, remove any member of said board for neglect of duty or other sufficient cause, after due notice and hearing.

Organization of board. Official records. Bonds of officers.

§ 2. That the said board of examiners in veterinary medicine shall elect a president, vice president, secretary, and such other officers as shall be necessary. The secretary of said board shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations upon such matters as pertain to the business of said board, and any person willfully making any false oath or affirmation shall be deemed guilty of perjury; and said board shall make, alter, or amend, subject to the approval of the governor, such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act, and shall hold such meetings as shall be necessary for the transaction of business, and shall issue all licenses to practice veterinary medicine in the state of California. Said board shall keep an official record of its meetings, and also an official register of all applicants for licenses, which register shall show the name, age, place, and duration of residence of each applicant, the time spent in the study of veterinary medicine in and out of medical schools, and the names and locations of all medical schools which have granted said applicant any degree or certificate of attendance upon lectures, and it shall also show whether said applicant was rejected or licensed under this act, and said register shall be prima facie evidence of all matters contained therein. The board shall have the power to require any or all officers of said board to give a bond to the state of California in such form and penalty as it may deem proper. The said board shall in the month of July in each year submit to the governor a full report of its transactions during the twelve months immediately preceding.

Applications for license to practice. Application fee. Examinations.

§ 3. That from and after the passage of this act all persons desiring to practice veterinary medicine or any branch thereof in the state of California, or who shall desire to hold themselves out to the public as practicing veterinary medicine or any branch thereof in the state of California, shall make application to said board of examiners in veterinary medicine for a license so to do. Application for this purpose shall be upon a form furnished by said board, and shall be accompanied by satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and by a diploma from some veterinary college authorized by law to confer the same, which college shall require at least two sessions of study of veterinary medicine of not less than six months each prior to the issue of such diploma, and graduates of two-year colleges shall accompany their diplomas by satisfactory evidence that they have practiced veterinary medicine for five years last past subsequent to the issue of such diplomas. Every person applying to the board of examiners in veterinary medicine for a license to practice veterinary medicine shall pay to the board a fee of ten dollars, which fee in no case shall be refunded, and from the fund thus created the board shall pay such necessary expenses as it may incur. Such expenses shall not exceed in any one fiscal year the amount of fees collected during that period, but if any balance remain after paying all such expenses it shall be paid into the state school fund, except as hereinabove provided. Said board shall, by means of examinations, ascertain the professional qualifications of all applicants for license to practice veterinary medicine in said state, and shall issue such licenses to all who are found by such examination to be, in the judgment of said board, competent to so practice; and no such license shall be issued to any person who has not so demonstrated his competence, except as hereinafter otherwise provided. Such examinations shall be held in January, April, July, and October of each year, and shall include all such subjects as are ordinarily included in the curricula of veterinary colleges in good standing, but examinations may be held at such other times and include such other subjects as said board shall authorize and direct. Said board shall number consecutively all applications received, note upon each the disposition made of it, and preserve the same for reference, and shall number consecutively all licenses issued.

Arrangements with boards of other states.

§ 4. That said board of examiners, so far as may be possible, shall make arrangements with analogous boards of the several states and territories whereby due credit for state and territorial licenses will be allowed in the state of California to such licentiates of said boards as desire to secure licenses to practice veterinary medicine in this state, and whereby licentiates of the board of examiners in veterinary medicine in the state of California will secure due credit for licenses issued by said board whenever such licentiates desire to secure licenses to practice veterinary medicine in any state or territory; but no arrangements shall be made under the provisions of this section which will be liable to lower the standard of practice of veterinary medicine in the state of California, and no arrangement for the mutual recognition of licenses shall be valid until it has been approved by the governor of the state of California.

Appeal of applicant when license has been refused. Board of review.

§ 5. That any person having been examined by said board of examiners in veterinary medicine and having been refused a license as the result of such examination may, within thirty days after formal notification of such refusal, appeal from the decision of said board. Such appeal must be in writing, addressed to the governor of the state of California, setting forth the ground upon which it is based, and accompanied by a deposit of thirty dollars. If, after examination of said appeal, the governor deem it proper, he shall appoint a board of review, consisting of three practitioners of veterinary medicine having qualifications similar to those required of members of the regular board of examiners in veterinary medicine, which board shall review the examination of appellant, and if they deem necessary re-examine him and report their finding to the governor; and such finding shall be final and binding upon all parties concerned, and if favorable to the appellant the board of examiners in veterinary medicine shall issue to him a license to practice veterinary medicine in said state. Each member of said board of review shall be paid a fee of not more than ten dollars for each candidate examined, payment to be made from the deposit of the appellant if the finding is adverse to him, but otherwise from the funds of the board of examiners. If favorable, the amount deposited shall be returned to the appellant.

License must be displayed

§ 6. That every person practicing veterinary medicine in the state of California, or representing himself or permitting himself to be represented as so practicing, shall display or cause to be displayed conspicuously in his usual place of business his license to practice in said state. Said place of business shall, during all reasonable hours, be open to inspection by any representative of the police department or of the board of examiners in veterinary medicine of said state, so far as may be necessary to examine such licenses, and it shall be unlawful for any person to interfere with any inspection made or intended to be made for this purpose.

Practicing veterinarian defined.

§ 7. That from and after the passage of this act any person shall be regarded as practicing veterinary medicine in the state of California who shall, in said state, append or cause to be appended to his name the letters V. S., D. V. M., V. M. D., M. D. V., M. D. C., D. V. S., or M. R. C. V. S., or the words "veterinary," "veterinarian," "veterinary surgeon," or "veterinary dentist," "veterinary farrier," "veterinary horseshoer," "horse dentist," or "horse doctor," or who shall prescribe, advise, or apply any drug or medicine or other agency, or who shall perform any operation for the treatment, relief, or cure of any sick, diseased, or injured lower animal, or for commercial purposes, or who shall publicly profess to do any of these things, and shall charge or receive therefor money or other compensation, directly or indirectly; provided, nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit members of the medical profession from prescribing for domestic animals in cases of emergency, and collecting a fee therefor, nor to prohibit gratuitous services in an emergency, nor to prevent any person from practicing veterinary medicine on any animal belonging to himself or herself.

Present rights not affected.

§ 8. That this act shall not affect the rights under the laws of the state of California of veterinarians to practice veterinary medicine who have lawful rights to practice veterinary medicine at the time of the passage of this act; and provided further, that this act shall not apply to veterinary surgeons in the employ of the United States army, nor to regularly licensed veterinarians in actual consultation from other states, nor to regularly licensed veterinarians actually called from other states to attend cases in the state of California, but who do not open an office or appoint a place to do business within said state, nor to employees of licensed veterinarians legally qualified to practice as such under the provisions of this act.

License may be suspended or revoked, when.

§ 9. That the board of examiners in veterinary medicine hereby created may, by a vote of four members, revoke or suspend for a certain time the license of any person to practice veterinary medicine or any branch thereof in the state of California after notice and hearing, for any of the following causes, namely: The employment of fraud or deception in passing the examinations or in obtaining a license, chronic inebriety, or conviction of crime involving moral turpitude. The form of complaint, the form and length of notice, and the time and procedure of hearing charges against any licensee for any of the above causes shall be as near as possible according to the provisions of title XI of the Code of Civil Procedure and the president of the board shall sign all papers, writs and process.

Violation of act a misdemeanor.

§ 10. That any person who shall violate or aid or abet in violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Quorum of board.

§ 11. That three members of the board of examiners in veterinary medicine in the state of California shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the board, except as provided in section 9 of this act.

Time of taking effect of act.

§ 12. That this act shall take effect immediately, and all laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Fees paid into state treasury each month.

§ 13. All fees collected under section three of this act and all other fees, collections and receipts of all kinds coming into the possession of the board of examiners in veterinary medicine shall be reported, at the beginning of each month, for the preceding month, to the controller of state, and at the same time the entire amount of such collections shall be paid into the state treasury and shall be credited to a fund to be known as the contingent fund of the board of examiners in veterinary medicine. All salaries and expenses of every kind incurred by the board of examiners in veterinary medicine shall be paid out of said contingent fund upon claims to be presented and audited in the usual manner. [New section approved June 11, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 573. In effect August 10, 1913.]

STATE VETERINARIAN.

ACT 5434—An act to protect domestic live stock from contagious and infectious diseases, to provide for the appointment and duties of officials to carry into effect the provisions of this act, and to provide an appropriation therefor.

History: Became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval, March 18, 1899, Stats. 1899, p. 129. Amended March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 423; March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 932; March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 431; May 18, 1915, in effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 564.

State veterinarian, creation of office. Qualifications. Term of office. Salary. Expenses. Appointment, duty of governor.

§ 1. The office of state veterinarian of the state of California is hereby created. It shall be the duty of the governor, within sixty days after the passage of this act, to appoint a skilled veterinary surgeon for the state of California to fill said office of state veterinarian, who at the date of such appointment shall be a graduate in good standing of a recognized college of veterinary surgery legally qualified to practice as such in this state, and who shall hold office for a period of four years from and after the date of qualification. The salary of said state veterinarian shall be three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, payable at the same time and in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers. Said state veterinarian shall also be allowed his necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties as hereinafter provided. In making said appointment it shall be the duty of the governor to disregard political affiliations, and to be guided in his selection merely by the professional and moral qualifications of said veterinarian for the performance of his duties. [Amendment of March 19, 1909, Stats. and Amdts. 1909, p. 431. In effect from and after passage and approval.]

This section was also amended March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 932.

Assistant state veterinarian. Salary.

§ 2. The governor is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint an assistant state veterinarian, who shall at the time of such appointment be a graduate in good standing of a recognized college of veterinary medicine and be legally qualified to practice veterinary medicine in this state, and who shall hold office for a period of four years from and after the date of qualification. The salary of such assistant state veterinarian shall be three thousand dollars per annum, payable at the same time and in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers. Said assistant state veterinarian shall also be allowed his necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties. [Amendment of May 18, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 565.]

This section was also amended March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 423; March 23, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 932; March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 431.

Quarantine.

§ 3. Upon information by him received of the existence of any contagious or infectious disease affecting domestic animals within this state, the state veterinarian shall proceed to thoroughly investigate the same, and he is hereby authorized to establish such quarantine, sanitary and police regulations as may be necessary to circumscribe and exterminate such disease and prevent the extension thereof, and he is further authorized and empowered to enter upon any grounds or premises and inspect any animal necessary to carry out the provisions of this act; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed as authorizing the state veterinarian or any of his deputies to impose quarantine restrictions upon any animal in this state affected with bovine tuberculosis. [Amendment of May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 565.]

Unlawful to break quarantine.

§ 4. Upon the discovery of any case of contagious or infectious disease affecting any domestic animal or animals in the state of California, the state veterinarian shall have the power and it shall be his duty to quarantine such diseased animal or animals, and when necessary other animals which have been in contact with such diseased animal or animals, upon the land or premises where such animal or animals are located, and thereafter it shall be unlawful for the owner or owners of the animal or animals quarantined, their agents or employees, to break such quarantine or to move or allow to be moved any of such animals from without the premises or across the quarantine line so established without first obtaining a permit from said state veterinarian who shall, before such permit is issued, inspect, and if necessary, cause such animals, premises and vehicles of transportation to be properly cleaned and disinfected. [Amendment of May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 565.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 431.

Quarantine boundaries proclaimed.

§ 5. Whenever it shall become necessary to restrict the movements of domestic animals from any county or counties or portion thereof within this state on account of the fact that such animals are liable to transmit an infectious disease to animals not so affected, it shall be the duty of the state veterinarian, by and with the approval of the governor, to quarantine the animals in such county or counties or portion thereof in order to prevent the spread of such disease, and the governor, if he approve, shall issue his proclamation proclaiming the boundaries of such quarantine, and thereafter, while said proclamation is in force and effect, no person, firm, company or corporation, their agents and servants, shall move or allow to be moved any of said animals from without the boundaries of said quarantine unless said animals shall have first been inspected, and if necessary, disinfected by the state veterinarian, or his duly authorized deputy. [Amendment of May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 565.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 431.

Quarantine against other states.

§ 6. Whenever the state veterinarian shall have determined that an infectious disease exists among domestic animals in any other state or territory in the United States of America, or in any foreign country, and the importation of domestic animals from said state, territory or foreign country might spread such disease among domestic animals within the state of California, said state veterinarian shall notify the governor thereof, and the governor, if he deem it expedient, shall issue his proclamation proclaiming the facts as set forth by said state veterinarian, and said proclamation shall prescribe quarantine restrictions against said state, territory or foreign country, which restrictions shall prescribe that under no conditions shall said animals be brought into the state of California from said state, territory or foreign country, or if circumstances shall warrant, said proclamation shall prescribe the conditions under which such animals may be brought into the state of California. [Amendment of May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 566.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 431.

Powers of state veterinarian conferred on assistants.

§ 6½. The assistant state veterinarian and the deputy state veterinarians, as provided for in this act, are hereby given all the powers and authority herein conferred upon said state veterinarian for the purpose of enforcing all the provisions of this act, but the said assistant state veterinarian and deputy state veterinarians shall act under the directions and control of the state veterinarian. [New section added May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 566.]

Quarantine regulations.

§ 7. [Repealed May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 566.]

Deputy and clerk. Expenses.

§ 7½. The state veterinarian of the state of California is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint a deputy state veterinarian and a clerk. The salary of the deputy state veterinarian shall be twenty-four hundred dollars per annum; the salary of the clerk shall be sixteen hundred dollars per annum. Said salaries shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers. The deputy state veterinarian shall be allowed such necessary expenses as may be incurred in the discharge of his duties. The state veterinarian is further authorized and empowered to appoint such additional deputies whenever it becomes necessary to carry out and give effect to the provisions of this act. The salaries of any such deputies shall in no instance exceed the sum of two hundred (200) dollars per month, and each of said deputies shall be allowed such necessary expenses as may be incurred in the discharge of his official duties. [Amendment of May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 566.]

This was a new section added March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 431.

Penalty for violation.

§ 8. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding one hundred and eighty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Amendment of May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 567.]

This section was also amended March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 431.

Appropriation.

§ 9. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act there shall be appropriated the sum of eight thousand dollars, not more than one thousand dollars payable out of the revenues for the current fiscal year, out of the general fund of this state.

§ 10. This act shall be in force and effect from and after its passage.

EMPLOYMENT OF SHEEP DIPPING INSPECTORS.

ACT 5436—An act authorizing the state veterinarian to employ throughout the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years such inspectors as he may deem necessary to inspect and supervise the dipping of sheep infected and exposed to the disease known as scabies; providing for the compensation and expenses of such inspectors, and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1231. Prior acts: (1) Act of March 10, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 278; (2) April 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1077.

Inspectors of dipping of sheep.

§ 1. The state veterinarian of the state of California is hereby authorized to temporarily employ such inspectors, from time to time, throughout the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years, as he may deem necessary for the purpose of inspecting and supervising the dipping of sheep exposed to and infected with the disease known as scabies. The said state veterinarian shall fix the compensation of such inspectors which compensation shall not exceed the sum of five dollars per day, exclusive of their necessary and actual expenses. Such compensation and necessary expenses shall be allowed and paid out of the appropriation herein made.

Appropriation.

§ 2. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of nine thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used according to law in paying the wages and necessary actual expenses of the inspectors herein provided for, four thousand five hundred dollars of which shall be available during the seventy-first fiscal year, and four thousand five hundred dollars of which shall be available during the seventy-second fiscal year; and the state controller is directed to draw his warrants in favor of the person or persons entitled to the same, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

ACT 5446. VITAL STATISTICS ACT OF 1915.

VITAL STATISTICS ACT OF 1915.

ACT 5446—An act to provide a central bureau for the preservation of records of marriages, births and deaths, and to provide for the registration of all births and deaths, the establishment of registration districts under the superintendence of the state bureau of vital statistics; the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits and certificates of births and deaths; the appointment of state and local registrars of vital statistics; to prescribe the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons and other persons in relation to such registration and to fix penalties for violation of this act; to create the offices of state and local registrars of vital statistics, to provide for the salary and fees of same; to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

History: Approved May 19, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 575. Amended: May 18, 1917, in effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 717; May 13, 1919, and May 18, 1919, in effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, pp. 445, 758. This act probably supersedes, but does not in terms, repeal the act of March 18, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 115, with its amendments of March 15, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 296, and March 7, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 287.

Bureau of vital statistics. State registrar. Salary. Deputy. Other assistants.

§ 1. The state board of health shall maintain a bureau of vital statistics which shall have charge of such matters and shall have such powers as may from time to time be referred and delegated to it by the state board of health. The board shall appoint a state registrar who, by virtue of his office, shall be director of the bureau of vital statistics. His salary shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. The state registrar shall be a competent vital statistician. He shall have general supervision and control over the bureau of vital statistics. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and shall not engage in any other occupation or business. The board shall appoint also a deputy statistician, whose salary shall be one thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and two copyists, each of whom shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum. All such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of state officers. The state board of health may appoint and fix the compensation of such other additional professional and clerical assistants as may be necessary for the purposes of this act, but such compensation shall be paid from its fund for contingent expenses, as provided in the general appropriation act. As soon as practicable the custodian of the capitol shall provide for the bureau of vital statistics in the state capitol at Sacramento, suitable offices, which shall be properly equipped with fireproof vault and filing cases for the permanent and safe preservation of all official records made and returned under this act. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 718.]

Duties of state registrar.

§ 2. The state registrar shall under the direction of the state board of health have charge of the registration of births, deaths, and marriages, shall prepare forms and blanks with instructions for obtaining and preserving such records and shall procure the faithful registration of the same in each primary registration district as constituted in section three of this act, and in the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health at the capitol of the state. The said board shall be charged with the uniform and thorough enforcement of the law throughout the state, and shall promulgate any additional regulations. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 718.]

Registration districts.

§ 3. For the purposes of this act the state shall be divided into registration districts as follows: Each city and county, or city and incorporated town having at least five thousand inhabitants at the last federal census, shall constitute a primary registration district; and each county, exclusive of the cities and incorporated towns therein having at least five thousand inhabitants at the last federal census may be subdivided by the state registrar into a sufficient number of primary rural registration districts, the boundaries of which he shall define and which he may alter, combine, or subdivide from time to time as may be necessary to promote efficient and convenient registration of all births and deaths. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 446.]

This section was also amended May 18, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 718.

Local registrars. Local registrars for primary rural district. Registrar for marriages. Deputy. Subregistrars.

§ 4. The clerk of each city and incorporated town having at least five thousand inhabitants at the last federal census, shall be the local registrar in and for such primary registration district and shall perform all such duties of local registrar as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that in cities and counties and cities having a freeholders' charter, the health officer shall act as local registrar and perform all the duties thereof. The state registrar, subject to the approval of the state board of health or its secretary, shall appoint a local registrar for each primary rural district whose term of office shall be four years, and whom the state registrar may remove forthwith for failure or neglect to perform his duty as prescribed by this act. Each local registrar, besides transmitting to the state registrar each original birth and death certificate registered by him and besides retaining a complete and accurate copy of each such birth and death certificate for the local record of his district as required by section nineteen of this act, shall also transmit to the recorder of the county for a special county record a complete and accurate copy of each original birth and death certificate transmitted by said local registrar to the state registrar; provided, that the health officer of a city and county when acting as local registrar shall not be required to transmit copies of birth or death certificates to the county recorder thereof; and provided, further, that in accordance with sections three thousand seventy-six, three thousand seventy-eight, and three thousand seventy-nine of the Political Code, the county recorder shall be the sole local registrar for marriages performed anywhere in the county. Each local registrar shall immediately appoint a deputy in writing whose duty it shall be to act in his stead in case of his absence or disability; and such deputy shall in writing accept such appointment, and be subject to all rules and regulations governing local registrars. And when it appears necessary for the convenience of the people in any registration district, the local registrar is hereby authorized, with the approval of the state registrar, to appoint one or more suitable persons to act as sub-registrars, who shall be authorized to receive certificates and to issue burial or removal permits in and for such portions of the district as may be designated; and each sub-registrar shall note, on each certificate, over his signature, the date of filing, and shall forthwith forward all certificates to the local registrar of the district, and in all cases before the third day of the following month; provided, that each subregistrar shall be subject to the supervision and control of the state registrar, and may be by him removed for neglect or failure to perform his duty in accordance with the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations of the state registrar, and shall be subject to the same penalties for neglect of duty as the local registrar. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 446.]

This section was also amended May 18, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 719.

Burial permits. Removal permit. Body brought into state for burial.

§ 5. The body of any person whose death occurs in this state, or which shall be found dead therein or which shall be brought in from outside the state, shall not be interred, deposited in a vault or tomb, cremated, disinterred or otherwise disposed of, or removed from or into any registration district, or be temporarily held pending further disposition more than five days after death, unless a permit for burial, removal, or other disposition thereof shall have been properly issued by the local registrar of the registration district in which the death occurred or the body was found, or by the county recorder of the county where said district is located, and it shall be the duty of said county recorder to mail within twenty-four hours the original death certificate to said local registrar; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent an undertaker from removing a body from the registration district where the death occurred or the body was found to another registration district in the same or an adjoining county in an undertaker's conveyance for the purpose of preparing said body for burial or shipment. A removal permit must be secured within forty-eight hours and before embalming the body. No body where death occurred from any disease held by the state board of health to be infectious, contagious or communicable and dangerous to the public health shall be removed without first securing a removal permit in the manner provided in section nineteen of this act. And no such burial or removal permit shall be issued by any registrar until, wherever practicable, a complete and satisfactory certificate of death has been filed with him as hereinafter provided; provided, that when a dead body is transported from outside the state into a registration district in California for burial, the transit or removal permit, issued in accordance with the law and health regulations of the place where the death occurred, shall be accepted by the local registrar of the district into which the body has been transported for burial or other disposition, as a basis upon which he may issue a local burial permit, noting upon the face of the burial permit the fact that it was a body shipped in for interment, and giving the actual place of death; and no local registrar shall receive any fee for the issuance of burial or removal permits under this act other than the compensation provided in section twenty. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 447.]

This section was also amended May 18, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 720.

Stillborn children.

§ 6. A stillborn child shall be registered as a birth and also as a death, and separate certificates of both the birth and the death shall be filed with the local registrar, in the usual form and manner, the certificate of birth to contain in place of the name of the child, the word "stillbirth"; provided, that a certificate of birth and a certificate of death shall not be required for a child that has not advanced to the fifth month of uterogestation. The medical certificate of the cause of death shall be signed by the attending physician, if any, and shall state the cause of death as "stillborn," with the cause of the stillbirth, if known, whether a premature birth, and, if born prematurely, the period of uterogestation, in months, if known; and a burial or removal permit of the prescribed form shall be required. Midwives shall not sign certificates of death for stillborn children; but such cases, and stillbirths, occurring without attendance of either physician or midwife, shall be treated as deaths without medical attendance, as provided for in section eight of this act.

Certificate of death.

§ 7. The certificate of death shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared to be necessary for the legal, social, and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records:

(1) Place of death, including state, county, township, village or city. If in a city, the ward, street, and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given instead of the street and house number. If in an industrial camp, the name of the camp to be given.

(2) Full name of decedent. If an unnamed child, the surname preceded by "unnamed."

(3) Sex.

(4) Color or race—as white, black, mulatto (or other negro descent), Indian, Chinese, Japanese, or other.

(5) Conjugal condition—as single, married, widowed or divorced.

(5a) Husband of

(5b) Wife of

(6) Date of birth, including the year, month, and day.

(7) Age, in years, months and days. If less than one day, the hours and minutes.

(8) Occupation. The occupation to be reported of any person, male or female, who had any remunerative employment with the statement of (a) trade, profession or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business or establishment in which employed (or employer).

(9) Birthplace; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(10) Name of father.

- (11) Birthplace of father; at least state or foreign country, if known.
- (12) Maiden name of mother.
- (13) Birthplace of mother; at least state or foreign country, if known.
- (14) Signature and address of informant.
- (15) Official signature of registrar, with the date when certificate was filed, and registered number.
- (16) Date of death, year, month, and day.
- (17) Certification as to medical attendance, on decedent, fact and time of death, time last seen alive, and the cause of death, with contributory (secondary) cause of complication, if any, and duration of each, and whether attributed to dangerous or insanitary conditions of employment; signature and address of physician or official making the medical certificate.
- (18) Length of residence (for inmates of hospitals and other institutions, transients or recent residents) at place of death and in California, together with the place where disease was contracted if not at the place of death, and former or usual place of residence (giving city and state of residence).
- (19) Place of burial or removal; date of burial.
- (20) Signature and address of undertaker or person acting as such and license number of embalmer.

The personal and statistical particulars (items one to thirteen) shall be authenticated by the signature of the informant who may be any competent person acquainted with the facts.

The statement of facts relating to the disposition of the body shall be signed by the undertaker or person acting as such.

Medical certificate.

The medical certificate shall be made and signed by the physician, if any, last in attendance on the deceased, and said physician shall, within fifteen hours after the death deposit the certificate at the place of death, or deliver it to the attending undertaker at his place of business or at the office of said physician. Said physician shall specify in the certificate the time in attendance, the time he last saw the deceased alive and the hour of the day at which death occurred. And he shall further state the cause of death, so as to show the course of disease or sequence of causes resulting in the death, giving first the name of the disease causing death (primary cause) and the contributory (secondary) cause, if any, and the duration of each. Indefinite and unsatisfactory terms, denoting only symptoms of disease or conditions resulting from disease, will not be held sufficient for the issuance of a burial or removal permit; and any certificate containing only such terms, as defined by the state registrar, shall be returned to the physician or person making the medical certificate for correction and more definite statement. Causes of death which may be the result of either disease or violence shall be carefully defined; and if from violence, the means of injury shall be stated, and whether (probably) accidental, suicidal, or homicidal. And for deaths of non-residents, transients or recent residents in hospitals or institutions, the physician shall supply the information required under this head (item eighteen), if he is able to do so, and shall state where, in his opinion, the disease was contracted. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 720.]

Death without medical attendance.

§ 8. In case of any death occurring without medical attendance, or continued absence of the attending physician it shall be the duty of the undertaker to notify the coroner or other proper official of such death for investigation and certification.

And the coroner or other proper officer whose duty it is to hold an inquest on the body of any deceased person, and to make the certificate of death required for a burial permit, shall state in his certificate the name of the disease causing death, or if from external causes (1) the means of death; and (2) whether (probably) accidental, suicidal, or homicidal; and shall, in any case, furnish such information as may be required by the state registrar in order properly to classify the death. In every case the certificate must contain as many facts required by this act as can be ascertained.

Duties of undertaker.

§ 9. The undertaker, or person acting as undertaker, shall file the certificate of death with the local registrar of the district in which the death occurred and obtain a burial or removal permit prior to any disposition of the body. He shall obtain the required personal and statistical particulars from the person best qualified to supply them, over the signature and address of his informant. He shall then present the certificate to the attending physician, if any, or to the coroner or other proper official either directly or as directed by the local registrar, for the medical certificate of the cause of death and other particulars necessary to complete the record, as specified in sections seven and eight. And he shall then state the facts required relative to the date and place of burial or removal, over his signature and with his address, and present the completed certificate to the local registrar in order to obtain a permit for burial, removal or other disposition of the body. The undertaker shall deliver the burial permit to the person in charge of the place of burial, before interring or otherwise disposing of the body; or shall attach the removal permit to the box containing the corpse, when shipped by any transportation company; said permit to accompany the corpse to its destination, where, if within the state of California, it shall be delivered to the person in charge of the place of burial.

Casket sellers' records.

Every person, firm, or corporation selling a casket shall keep a record showing the name of the purchaser, purchaser's post-office address, name of deceased, date of death, and place of death of deceased, which record shall be open to inspection of the state registrar at all times. On the first day of each month the person, firm, or corporation, selling caskets shall report to the state registrar each sale for the preceding month, on a blank provided for that purpose; provided, however, that no person, firm or corporation selling caskets to dealers or undertakers only shall be required to keep such record, nor shall such report be required from undertakers when they have direct charge of the disposition of a dead body.

Every person, firm, or corporation selling a casket at retail, and not having charge of the disposition of the body, shall inclose within the casket a notice furnished by the state registrar calling attention to the requirements of the law, a blank certificate of death, and the rules and regulations of the state board of health concerning the burial or other disposition of a dead body.

Removal of body from one district to another.

§ 10. The removal of a dead body from one registration district to another must be accompanied by a yellow transit paster prepared according to a form prescribed by the state board of embalmers and approved by the state board of health. [Amendment of May 18, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 759.]

This section was also amended May 18, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 722.

No burial without permit. Record of bodies interred.

§ 11. No person in charge of any premises on which interments are made shall inter or permit the interment or other disposition of any body unless it is accompanied by a burial, removal or transit permit, as herein provided. And such person shall indorse upon the permit the date of interment, over his signature, and shall return all permits so indorsed to the local registrar of his district within ten days from the date of interment. He shall keep a record of all bodies interred or otherwise disposed of on the premises under his charge, in each case stating the name of each deceased person, place of death, date of burial or disposal, and name and address of the undertaker; which record shall at all times be open to official inspection; provided, that the undertaker or person acting as such, when burying a body in a cemetery or burial ground having no person in charge, shall sign the burial or removal permit, giving the date of burial, and shall write across the face of the permit the words "No person in charge," and file the burial or removal permit within ten days with the registrar of the district in which the cemetery is located.

Birth registration.

§ 12. The birth of each and every child born in this state shall be registered as hereinafter provided.

Certificate of birth.

§ 13. Within thirty-six hours after the date of each birth, there shall be filed with the local registrar of the district in which the birth occurred a certificate of such birth, which certificate shall be upon the form adopted by the state board of health with a view to procuring a full and accurate report with respect to each item of information enumerated in section fourteen of this act.

In sparsely-settled districts or where there is no direct mail communication with the county seat a reasonable time shall be fixed by the local registrar.

In each case where a physician, or midwife, or person acting as midwife, was in attendance upon the birth, it shall be the duty of such physician to file in accordance herewith the certificate herein contemplated.

In case no physician was in attendance it shall be the duty of the midwife or person acting as midwife to file such certificate.

Duty of father, mother, etc.

In every case it shall be the duty of the father or mother of the child, the householder or owner of the premises where the birth occurred or the manager or superintendent of the public or private institution where the birth occurred, each in the order named, within ten days after the date of such birth, to report to the local registrar the fact of such birth. In such case and in case the physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, in attendance upon the birth is unable, by diligent inquiry, to obtain any item or items of information contemplated in section fourteen of this act, it shall then be the duty of the local registrar to secure from the person so reporting, or from any other person having the required knowledge, such information as will enable him to prepare the certificate of birth herein contemplated, and it shall be the duty of the person reporting the birth or who may be interrogated in relation thereto to answer correctly and to the best of his knowledge all questions put to him by the local registrar which may be calculated to elicit any information needed to make a complete record of the birth as contemplated by said section fourteen, and it shall be the duty of the informant as to any statement made in accordance herewith to verify such statement by his signature, when requested so to do by the local registrar. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 722.]

Items in certificate of birth. Certificate of physician or midwife.

§ 14. The certificate of birth shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared necessary for the legal, social, and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records:

- (1) Place of birth, including state, county, township or town, village or city. If in a city, the ward, street and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given, instead of the street and house number.

(2) Full name of child. If the child dies without a name, before the certificate is filed, enter the words "died unnamed." If the living child has not yet been named at the date of filing certificate of birth, the space for "full name of child" is to be left blank, to be filled out subsequently by a supplemental report, as hereinafter provided.

(3) Sex of child.

(4) Whether a twin, triplet, or other plural birth. A separate certificate shall be required for each child in case of plural births.

(5) For plural births, number of each child in order of birth.

(6) Date of birth, including the year, month, and day.

(7) Full name of father.

(8) Residence of father (giving city and state of residence).

(9) Color or race of father.

(10) Age of father at last birthday, in years.

(11) Birthplace of father; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(12) Occupation of father. The occupation to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of (a) trade, profession, or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business or establishment in which employed (or employer).

(13) Maiden name of mother.

(14) Residence of mother (giving city and state of residence).

(15) Color or race of mother.

(16) Age of mother at last birthday, in years.

(17) Birthplace of mother; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(18) Occupation of mother. The occupation to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of (a) trade, profession, or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business or establishment in which employed (or employer).

(19) Number of children born to this mother, including present birth.

(20) Number of children of this mother living.

(21) The certification of attending physician or midwife as to attendance at birth, including statement of year, month, day (as given in item seven), and hour of birth, and whether the child was born alive or stillborn. This certification shall be signed by the attending physician or midwife, with date of signature and address; if there is no physician or midwife in attendance, then by the father or mother of the child, householder, owner of the premises, or manager or superintendent of public or private institution where the birth occurred, or other competent person, whose duty it shall be to notify the local registrar of such birth, as required by section thirteen of this act.

(22) Exact date of filing in office of local registrar, attested by his official signature, and registered number of birth, as hereinafter provided [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 723.]

Child's given name report.

§ 15. When any certificate of birth of a living child is presented without the statement of the given name, then the local registrar shall make out and deliver to the parents of the child a special blank for the supplemental report of the given name of the child, which shall be filled out as directed, and returned to the local registrar as soon as the child shall have been named.

Registration of physicians, etc.

§ 16. That every physician, midwife, and undertaker shall, without delay, register his or her name, address and occupation with the local registrar of the district in which he or she resides, or may hereafter establish a residence; and shall thereupon be supplied by the local registrar with a copy of this act, together with such rules and regulations as may be prepared by the state registrar relative to its enforcement. Within thirty days after the close of each calendar year each local registrar shall make a return to the state registrar of all physicians, midwives, or undertakers who have been registered in his district during the whole or any part of the preceding calendar year; provided, that no fee or other compensation shall be charged by local registrars to physicians, midwives, or undertakers for registering their names under this section or making returns thereof to the state registrar.

Record of hospitals, etc.

§ 17. All superintendents or managers, or other persons in charge of hospitals, almshouses, lying-in or other institutions, public or private, to which persons resort for treatment of diseases, confinement, or are committed by process of law, shall make a record of all the personal and statistical particulars relative to the inmates in their institutions at the date of approval of this act, which are required in the forms of the certificates provided for by this act, as directed by the state registrar; and thereafter such record shall be, by them, made for all future inmates at the time of their admittance. And in case of persons admitted or committed for treatment of disease, the physician in charge shall specify for entry in the record, the nature of the disease, and where, in his opinion, it was contracted. The personal particulars and information required by this section shall be obtained from the individual himself if it is practicable to do so; and when they can not be so obtained, they shall be obtained in as complete a manner as possible from relatives, friends, or other persons acquainted with the facts.

Forms and blanks. Records not to be changed.

§ 18. The state registrar shall prepare and distribute all forms and blanks for use in registering, recording and preserving the returns, or in otherwise carrying out the purposes of this act; and shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to procure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration; and no other forms or blanks shall be used than those prepared by the state registrar. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local registrars, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory he shall require such further information to be supplied as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory. Whenever a certificate is returned by a local registrar other than the registrar of the district in which the deceased resided, in the case of a death, or in which the father and mother of a child reside, in the case of a birth certificate, if the place of residence is a city within this state and having at least two thousand five hundred inhabitants at the last federal census, the state registrar shall mail to the local registrar of such city of residence, a complete copy of the certificate. And all physicians, midwives, informants, undertakers, clergymen, or judges, and all other persons having knowledge of the facts, are hereby required to supply, upon the forms provided or upon the original certificate, such information as they may possess regarding any birth or death or marriage upon demand of the state registrar, in person, by mail, or through the local registrar; provided, that no certificate of birth or death or marriage, after its acceptance for registration by the local registrar, and no other record made in pursuance of this act, shall be altered or changed in any respect, except where supplemental information required for statistical purposes is furnished.

When facts not correctly stated.

(a) Whenever it may be alleged that the facts are not correctly stated in any certificate of birth, death, or marriage, already registered, the local registrar shall require an affidavit under oath to be made by the person asserting the fact, setting forth the changes necessary to make the record correct, and supported by the affidavit of one other credible person having knowledge of the facts. Having received such affidavits, the local registrar shall file them together with an amended certificate and he shall note the fact of the amendment with its date on the margin of the otherwise unaltered original certificate. He shall transmit the original certificate with the affidavits and amended certificate attached when making his regular monthly returns to the state registrar. He shall also retain copies for his files. If the correction relates to a certificate previously returned to the state registrar the local registrar shall forthwith transmit the affidavits to the state registrar. If the correction is first made in the state bureau of vital statistics the state registrar shall transmit a certified copy of the amended certificate to the local registrar.

Preservation of certificates. Infectious diseases. Records of church associations, etc.

The state registrar shall further arrange, bind and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive and continuous card index of all births and deaths registered; said index to be arranged alphabetically, in the case of deaths, by the names of decedents, and in the case of births, by the names of fathers and maiden names of mothers, and in the case of marriages by the names of both grooms and brides. He shall inform all registrars what diseases are to be considered infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, as decided by the state board of health, in order that when deaths occur from such diseases proper precautions may be taken to prevent their spread. If any cemetery company or association, or any church or historical society or association or any other company, society or association, or any individual, is in possession of any record of births or deaths which may be of value in establishing the genealogy of any resident of his state, such company, society, association, or individual, may file such record or a duly authenticated transcript thereof with the state registrar, and it shall be the duty of the state registrar to preserve such record or transcript and to make a record and index thereof in such form as to facilitate the finding of any information contained therein. Such record and index shall be open to inspection by the public, subject to such reasonable conditions as the state registrar may prescribe. If any person desires a transcript of any record filed in accordance herewith, the state registrar shall furnish the same upon application, together with a certificate that it is a true copy of such record, as filed in his office. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 724.]

Examination of certificates by registrars. Certificate incomplete. Registrar's monthly report.

§ 19. Each local registrar shall supply blank forms of certificates to such persons as require them. Each local registrar shall carefully examine each certificate of death when presented for record in order to ascertain whether or not it has been made out in accordance with the provisions of this act and the instructions of the state registrar; and if any certificate of death is incomplete or unsatisfactory, it shall be his duty to call attention to the defects in the return, and to withhold the burial or removal permit until such defects are corrected. All certificates, either of birth or of death, shall be written legibly, in durable black ink, and no certificate shall be held to be complete and correct that does not supply all of the items of information called for therein, or satisfactorily account for their omission. If the certificate of death is properly executed and complete, he shall then issue a permit for removal, burial or other disposition of the body to the undertaker; provided, that in case the death occurred from some disease which is held by the state board of health to be infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, no permit for the removal or other disposition of the body shall be issued by the registrar, except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the state and local boards of health. If a certificate of birth is incomplete, the local registrar shall immediately notify the informant, and require him to supply the missing items of information if they can be obtained. He shall number consecutively the certificates of birth and death, in two separate series, beginning with number 1 for the first birth and the first death occurring in each calendar year, and sign his name as registrar in attest of the date of filing in his office. He shall also make a complete and accurate copy of each birth and each death certificate registered by him in a record book containing forms identical with the original certificates and to be preserved permanently in his office as the local record. And he shall, on the fifth day of each month, transmit to the state registrar all original certificates registered by him for the preceding month. And if no births or no deaths occurred in any month, he shall, on the fifth day of the following month report that fact to the state registrar on a blank provided for such purpose.

Local registrar's fees.

§ 20. Each local registrar shall be paid the sum of twenty-five cents for each birth certificate and each death certificate properly and completely made out and registered with him, and correctly recorded and promptly returned by him to the state registrar, as required by this act, out of which fees he shall pay the sub-registrar the sum of fifteen cents in cases where the certificate is registered with the sub-registrar. And in case no births or no deaths were registered during any month, the local registrar shall be entitled to be paid the sum of twenty-five cents for each report to that effect, but only if such report be made promptly as required by this act. All amounts payable to a local registrar under the provisions of this section shall be paid by the treasurer of the county in which the registration district is located, upon certification by the state registrar. And the state registrar shall quarterly certify to the treasurers of the several counties the number of births and deaths properly registered, with the names of the local registrars and the amounts due each at the rates fixed herein.

Certified copies of records. Fee for searching files.

§ 21. The state or local registrar shall forthwith upon request supply to any applicant a certified copy of the record of any birth or death or marriage registered under provisions of this act, for the making and certification of which he shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents, to be paid by the applicant. And any such copy of the record of a birth or death or marriage when properly certified by the state or local registrar to have been so registered within a period of one year from the date of the event, shall be prima facie evidence in all courts and places of the facts therein stated. For any search of the files and records when no certified copy is made the state registrar or local registrar shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for each hour or fractional hour of time of search, such fee to be paid by the applicant. The state registrar shall keep a true and correct account of all fees by him received under these provisions, and such moneys so received by the state registrar shall be deposited with the state treasurer, who shall credit the amount to the fund provided and to be used for the payment of the traveling and contingent expenses of the state board of health, and the money so collected by the local registrar shall be paid by him into the county or city treasury, as the case may be; provided, that the local registrar shall, upon request of any parents or guardian, supply, without fee, a certificate limited to a statement as to the date of birth of any child when the same shall be necessary for admission to school, or for the purpose of securing employment; and provided, further, that the United States census bureau may obtain, without expense to the state, transcripts of births and deaths without payment of the fees herein prescribed.

Petition to court to establish record.

(b) If, upon such search it shall develop that for any cause any birth or death, or marriage, occurring in this state was not registered in conformity with the provisions of law in effect at the time when such birth or death or marriage occurred by the filing of the certificate therefor with the local registrar within a period of one year from the date of the event, any person beneficially interested in establishing of record the fact of such birth or death or marriage may petition the superior court of the county in which such birth or death or marriage is alleged to have occurred for an order judicially establishing the fact of such birth or death or marriage. Such petition shall be verified and shall contain all the data necessary to enable the court, upon hearing the same, to determine the fact of such birth or death or marriage upon the proofs adduced in behalf of the petitioner at the hearing thereof. A copy of such petition shall be served upon the local registrar of vital statistics, and also upon the district attorney of the county in which such birth or death or marriage is alleged to have occurred, and either of said officials shall have the right in his discretion to appear at such hearing and oppose the making of such order. Such hearing shall be had at such time as the court may appoint, not less than ten days subsequent to the date of filing such petition, and notice thereof must be given by publication for the same time and in the same manner required by law to be given prior to the hearing of the petition for the admission to probate of any will, or the issuance of letters testamentary or of administration thereon.

Order of court.

If, upon such hearing, the proofs of the allegation of the petition are established, to the satisfaction of the court, the court may make an order determining that such birth, death or marriage did in fact occur in such county and at the time shown by the proofs adduced upon such hearing.

Form.

Such order must be made in the form and upon the blank prescribed and furnished by the state registrar and but one birth, death or marriage may be included therein. And said order shall become effective upon the filing of a certified copy thereof with local registrar of vital statistics, and the delivery therewith for transmittal to the state registrar of a standard certificate containing such facts and signatures as are obtainable, and upon the filing of a certified copy of said order with the state registrar. [Amendment of May 13, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 448.]

This section was also amended May 18, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 726.

Penalty for violation of act.

§ 22. Any person, who for himself or as an officer, agent, or employee of any other person, or of any corporation or partnership, (a) shall inter, cremate, or otherwise finally dispose of the dead body of a human being, or permit the same to be done, or shall remove said body from the primary registration district in which the death occurred or the body was found, except as provided in section 5 of this act without the authority of a burial or removal permit issued by the local registrar of the district in which the death occurred or in which the body was found; or (b) shall refuse or fail to furnish correctly any information in his possession, or shall furnish false information affecting any certificate or record, required by this act; or (c) shall willfully alter, otherwise than is provided by section eighteen of this act, or shall falsify any certificate of birth or death, or any record established by this act; or (d) being required by this act to fill out a certificate of birth or death and file the same with the local registrar, or deliver it, upon request, to any person charged with the duty of filing the same, shall fail, neglect, or refuse to perform such duty in the manner required by this act; or (e) being a local registrar, deputy registrar, or sub-registrar, shall fail, neglect, or refuse to perform his duty as required by this act and by the instructions and direction of the state registrar thereunder, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall for the first offense be fined not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars and for each subsequent offense not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not more than sixty days, or be both fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

Local registrars to enforce act.

§ 23. Under the supervision and direction of the state registrar, each local registrar is hereby charged with the strict and thorough enforcement of the provisions of this act in his registration district. He shall make an immediate report to the state registrar of any violation of this law coming to his knowledge, by observation or upon complaint of any person, or otherwise.

Duty of state registrar.

The state registrar is hereby charged with the thorough and efficient execution of the provisions of this act in every part of the state, and is hereby granted supervisory power over local registrars, deputy local registrars, and sub-registrars, to the end that all of its requirements shall be uniformly complied with. The state registrar, either personally or by an accredited representative, shall have authority to investigate cases of irregularity or violation of law. When the state board of health or its secretary shall deem it necessary, it or he shall report cases of violation of any of the provisions of this act to the prosecuting attorney of the county, with a statement of the facts and circumstances; and when any such case is reported to him by the state board of health or its secretary, the prosecuting attorney shall forthwith initiate and promptly follow up the necessary court proceedings against the person or corporation responsible for the alleged violation of law. And upon request of the state board of health or its secretary, the attorney general shall assist in the enforcement of the provisions of this act. [Amendment of May 18, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 727.]

Conflicting acts repealed.

§ 24. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Duties of certain local officials, see Kerr's Cyc. Political Code, §§ 2979a, 2984, 3061, 3064, as amended in 1917.

1. Constitutionality—Payment of local registrar's fees out of county treasury.—The act is not unconstitutional in providing for the payment of the local registrar's fees out of the county, in violation of sections 12, 13, of article XI, nor of section 14, article XIII, of the constitution.—Boss v. Lewis, 33 Cal. App. 792, 166 Pac. 843.

2. State board of health—Official body.—The state board of health is an official body authorized by section 14, article XX, of the constitution, and established in accordance with sections 2978-2984, of the Political Code.—Boss v. Lewis, 33 Cal. App. 792, 166 Pac. 843.

3. County ordinance not violative of act.—County ordinance making it unlawful to disinter, exhume or remove dead bodies without a permit from the health officer, is held not violative of the vital statistics act of 1905.—Ex parte Lee John, 17 Cal. App. 58, 118 Pac. 722.

CHAPTER 416.

VITICULTURE.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

- ACT 5453. VITICULTURAL ACT OF 1880.
5454. VITICULTURAL DISTRICT ACT.
5456. VITICULTURAL RESEARCH ACT OF 1911.
5457. PHYLLOXERA ACT.

VITICULTURAL ACT OF 1880.

ACT 5453—An act for the promotion of the viticultural industries of the state.

History: Approved April 15, 1880, Stats. 1880, p. 52. Enlarged: March 4, 1881, Stats. 1881, p. 51; February 26, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 9. The enlarging acts and all of the original acts but §§ 8 and 9, were repealed March 27, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 236.

§ 8. And for the further promotion of viticultural interests, it shall be the duty of the board of regents of the University of California to provide for special instruction to be given by the agricultural department of the university in the arts and sciences pertaining to viticulture, the theory and practice of fermentation, distillation, rectification, and the management of cellars, to be illustrated by practical experiments with appropriate apparatus; also, to direct the professor of agriculture, or his assistant, to make personal examinations and reports upon the different sections of the state adapted to viticulture; to examine and report upon the woods of the state procurable for cooperage, and the best methods of treating the same; and to make analysis of soils, wines, brandies, and grapes, at the proper request of citizens of the state; also, to prepare a comprehensive analysis of the various wines and spirits produced from grapes, showing their alcoholic strength and other properties, and especially any deleterious adulterations that may be discovered. The regents shall also cause to be prepared, printed, and distributed to the public quarterly reports of the professor in charge of this work relating to experiments undertaken, scientific discoveries, the progress and treatment of the phylloxera and other diseases of the vine, and such other useful information as may be given for the better instruction of viticulturists.

§ 9. The board of regents of the university shall be authorized to receive and accept donations of lands suitable for experimental vineyards and stations, and shall submit in their next annual report an economical plan for conducting such vineyards, and for the propagation and distribution of specimens of all known and valuable varieties of grapevines.

Editor's note: This act provided for the creation of viticultural districts and the appointment of viticultural commissioners, nine in number, to be appointed by the governor. It also made it the duty of the regents of the university to provide special instruction in the agricultural department in the arts and science pertaining to viticulture, and to make inspections and reports upon the different sections of the state adapted to viticulture, and upon woods suitable for cooperage, making analyses, etc., of wines, brandies, etc.

VITICULTURAL DISTRICT ACT.

ACT 5454—An act for the promotion of the viticultural industries of the state; dividing the state into viticultural districts; appointing a state board of viticultural commissioners; providing for the selection of its officers; defining its powers and duties; and making an appropriation therefor.

History: Approved May 28, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 340.

Viticultural commissioners. Six districts.

§ 1. There shall be appointed by the governor a state board of viticultural commissioners to consist of nine members, three to be appointed from the state at large, and one to be appointed from each of the six viticultural districts, which shall be designated and constituted as follows:

First—The Sonoma district, which shall include the counties of Sonoma, Marin, Lake, Mendocino, Humboldt, Del Norte, Trinity, and Siskiyou.

Second—The Napa district, which shall include the counties of Napa, Solano and Contra Costa.

Third—The San Francisco district, which shall include the city and county of San Francisco, and the counties of San Mateo, Alameda, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito, and Monterey.

Fourth—The Los Angeles district, which shall include the counties of Los Angeles, Riverside, Orange, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, San Bernardino, San Diego, and Imperial.

Fifth—The Sacramento district, which shall include the counties of Sacramento, Yolo, Sutter, Colusa, Butte, Tehama, Shasta, El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras, Tuolumne, Mariposa, Placer, Nevada, Yuba, Sierra, Plumas, Lassen, Modoc, Alpine, Mono, and Inyo.

Sixth—The San Joaquin district, which shall include the counties of San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Merced, Fresno, Kings, Tulare, and Kern.

Residence and qualifications of commissioners. Term.

§ 2. The nine commissioners, excepting the three appointed by the state at large, shall be residents of the district from which they are appointed, and shall be specially qualified by practical experience and study in connection with the industries dependent upon the culture of the grapevine in this state. They shall each hold office for the term of four years, excepting four, to be determined by lot, of the first nine appointed, who at the end of two years shall retire when their successors shall be appointed by the governor.

Officers.

§ 3. The state board of viticultural commissioners shall elect from among their own number, a president, a vice president, and a treasurer and they shall have a secretary, who shall not be one of their number, and whose salary shall not exceed two hundred dollars per month. And the board shall determine and fix the amount of bonds that shall be given by the treasurer and secretary for the faithful performance of their duties.

Meetings. Duties. Reports.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the board to meet not less often than semi-annually to consult and to adopt such measures as may best promote the progress of the viticultural industries of the state. It shall be their duty to collect and disseminate useful information relating to viticulture, including the best methods of growing grapes and handling the grape and its products. It shall be its duty to select and appoint competent and qualified persons to deliver at least one lecture each year in each of the viticultural districts as named and designated in section 1 of this act; to give especial attention to the diseases and pests of the vineyards and methods of control; to collect viticultural statistics of the state; to study and foster methods of co-operation among grape growers and manufacturers of grape products; to arrange for meetings, shows and conventions, where those interested in the viticultural industries of the state may meet to further their mutual interests. The board shall issue semi-annual reports of its various activities and make such recommendations as in its judgment it may deem best for the protection and for furthering the interests of the table, raisin and wine grape vineyards.

Compensation.

§ 5. The commissioners constituting the board shall serve without compensation and shall be allowed only their actual traveling expenses to and from their places of residence when attending the meetings of the board. In no event, however, shall allowance be made to them for more than seven meetings during a year. If the board finds it necessary to hold meetings to a greater number than seven during a year, no allowance will be made for any meetings in excess of seven.

Office.

§ 6. The office of the board shall be in the city of Sacramento, and shall be kept open to the public, subject to the rules of the board, every day, excepting legal holidays and shall be in charge of the secretary during the absence of the board.

Duties of secretary.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the secretary to attend all meetings of the board, and to preserve records of proceedings and correspondence, to collect books, pamphlets, periodicals, and other documents containing valuable information relating to viticulture, and to preserve the same; to collect statistics and other information showing the actual condition and progress of viticulture in this state and elsewhere; to collect information concerning lands suitable for viticulture, and to impart to the public, upon proper demand being made, information concerning localities of such lands, prices, cost of cultivation, and means of transportation; provided, that he shall receive no fees for such services; to correspond with agricultural and viticultural societies, colleges, schools of agriculture and particularly the University of California and the university farms, and to disseminate information, printed or otherwise, as he may be directed by the board of viticultural commissioners; and to prepare as required by the board, semi-annual reports for publication.

University to co-operate.

§ 8. And for the further promotion of the viticultural interests, it shall be the duty of the board of regents of the University of California to co-operate in every way possible with the state board of viticultural commissioners; to continue and extend the work of instruction and investigation which they are now carrying out, and to aid the state board of viticultural commissioners by making such needful analyses and laboratory researches as their laboratories and experiment stations render possible.

Appropriation.

§ 9. There is hereby appropriated for the purpose mentioned in this act the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars annually and the state controller shall draw his warrants upon the state treasurer in favor of the treasurer of the said state board of viticultural commissioners, upon proper demand being made for same.

VITICULTURAL RESEARCH ACT OF 1911.

ACT 5456—An act to provide for experiment and research work in viticulture, directing publication of the results of experiments and investigations, making an appropriation therefor and prescribing the duties of the controller and treasurer in relation thereto.

History: Approved April 21, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1050. Prior acts of the same character and purpose: (1) Act of March 26, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 522; (2) Act of April 14, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 866.

University to do experiment work in viticulture. Handling, etc. Publishing results. Assistants. Equipments.

§ 1. The regents of the University of California are hereby directed to cause to be prosecuted with all possible diligence, in connection with and in addition to the work heretofore carried on by the agricultural experiment station, experiment and research work in viticulture, including both cultural and industrial processes. They are directed to ascertain the adaptations of the various kinds of vines to the several climatic and soil conditions of the state, with the special reference to stocks resistant to the phylloxera and to further their utility as grafting stocks for wine, raisin and table grape. They are directed to ascertain the best methods of grafting and propagating said stocks and vines, together with the most important methods of vinification and of the preparation, manufacture and application of yeasts in vinification and distillation. They are further directed to report upon the handling, packing and transportation of table grapes, the preparation and curing of raisins, the utilization of the by-products of the vineyard and winery, the study and treatment of vine diseases, and all matters appertaining to the viticultural industry pertinent to the successful conduct of the business that may be of general public interest, use and profit.

They are further directed to publish the result of said experiments and investigations in form of bulletins from time to time, as may seem advisable and not less than two bulletins showing the progress and result of the work shall be issued in any fiscal year.

The director of the agricultural experiment station shall obtain and establish such assistants, equipment, materials, appliances, apparatus and other incidentals as may be necessary to the successful prosecution of the work, within the appropriation specified.

Appropriation.

§ 2. There is hereby appropriated for the use of said experiment station, for the purpose set forth in this act for the sixty-third and sixty-fourth fiscal years, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), and the said appropriation shall thereafter be carried in the general appropriation bill for each succeeding biennial period, and the state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the same, and the treasurer of the state is hereby directed to pay such warrant.

§ 3. All money appropriated under this act shall be paid to the regents of the University of California, and expended under the direction of the director of the agricultural experiment station of said university for the specific purpose herein named.

§ 4. This act is hereby exempted from the provisions of section 672 of the Political Code.

PHYLLOXERA ACT.

ACT 5457—An act providing for the protection of the vineyards of the state against phylloxera by regulating the transportation within the state of grape vines or parts thereof for use as fuel.

History: Approved May 11, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 460.

Transportation of grape vines regulated.

§ 1. Any person, firm or organization desiring or planning to transport, move or cause to be moved any grape vines or parts thereof from premises or localities within the state of California known to contain grapes phylloxera (Phylloxera vastatrix) shall notify the county horticultural commissioner of the county wherein such premises or localities are situated of such intention at least ten days in advance. Such county horticultural commissioner shall within ten days of the receipt of such notice make an inspection of such premises or grape vines to determine whether the grape phylloxera exists thereon. If, after such inspection, it is found by the county horticultural commissioner that such premises or grape vines are infested with the grape phylloxera, or if in his judgment such premises or grape vines are liable to be so infested and that there is danger of the said grape phylloxera being disseminated to other premises or localities by the movement of such grape vines, the said county horticultural commissioner shall prescribe such treatment as he shall deem necessary to destroy such grape phylloxera so infesting said grape vines. It shall be unlawful to transport, move or cause to be moved any such grape vines or parts thereof from the premises whereon the same are growing until said county horticultural commissioner shall certify in writing after inspection that such grape vines have been thoroughly disinfected under his direction and to his satisfaction; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to grape vines or roots which are for planting or propagation.

Expenses.

§ 2. Any expenses incurred by such disinfection as may be prescribed by the county horticultural commissioner under section one hereof, shall be at the expense of the owner or owners, or agent or agents, or person having charge or possession of such grape vines or the premises whereon the same are growing.

Penalty.

§ 3. Any person, firm or organization who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

COUNCIL OF DEFENSE.

ACT 5462—An act to create a state council of defense to make investigations into the effect of the occurrence of war upon the civil and economical life of the people of the state of California; to recommend to the governor measures to provide for the public security, the better protection of public health, a fuller development of the economic resources of the state and the encouragement of military training; to impose upon public officers certain duties in connection herewith; and to make appropriation for the purposes of this act.

History: Approved March 29, 1917. In effect immediately. Stats. 1917, p. 24.

State council of defense created.

§ 1. There is hereby created a council, known as the state council of defense to consist of not more than thirty-three members who shall be appointed by the governor, to serve at his pleasure, from among those holding public office under the state of California, from among the personnel of the army and navy of the United States and other branches of the national administration with the consent of federal authority, from members of the staff of the University of California and from qualified citizens of the state and nation.

Duties.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the state council of defense at once to take under consideration the effects of the occurrence of war upon the people of the state of California; to consider measures for public defense and security, for the protection of routes of communication, for the betterment and protection of public health, for the public care and assistance of individuals and classes upon whom the hardships occasioned by war would fall most heavily, for the fuller development of the resources of the state, particularly those from which are derived the supplies of food and other commodities upon which the conduct of war makes especial drain; to encourage the military training of the citizens of the state; to examine into measures to increase the public revenue to meet war demands and to effect the elimination of waste and extravagance; and to consider measures to be taken to meet the exigencies of all situations occasioned by war.

Officers.

§ 3. The governor shall be ex officio chairman of the state council of defense. He shall designate the vice chairman, and shall appoint an executive committee and such subcommittees as he shall deem advisable. He shall have power to employ such assistance and to make such expenditures as he may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this act. He may, when he deems it expedient, dissolve the state council of defense or cause its activities to be suspended or terminated.

Compensation.

§ 4. Members of the state council of defense shall serve without pay, but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties hereunder; provided, however, that the vice chairman shall devote his entire time to the work of the state council of defense and shall receive such compensation as the governor may determine.

Headquarters.

§ 5. The headquarters of said council shall be in the state capitol, but the governor may establish branch offices elsewhere and may call meetings to be held at such times and places as he may deem expedient. It shall be the duty of every public officer, board, or commission of the state of California to render to the governor and to the state council of defense, at the request of the governor, all possible assistance and to make such investigations and supply such data as the governor may at any time require.

Appropriation.

§ 6. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to carry out the purposes of this act. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants in favor of the governor from time to time in such sums as the governor may designate, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

This appropriation is hereby exempted from the operation of the provisions of section six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code; provided, however, that no liability in excess of one hundred dollars shall be incurred without the approval of the governor; and provided, further, that the state council of defense shall submit to the legislature, through the governor, a report including as full a statement of the activities of the council as is consistent with the public interest, together with an account of the expenditures made by the council, or authorized by it, in as full detail as the public interest will permit.

Urgency measure.

§ 7. Inasmuch as the president of the United States has called the congress to meet in special session to consider measures for the national defense and has summoned the national guard of the state of California, it is hereby declared that this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety, and that under the provisions of section one of article IV of the constitution an urgency exists, and this act shall take effect immediately.

MOBILIZATION CAMPS.

ACT 5463—An act authorizing any county now or hereafter organized to incur indebtedness, issue negotiable bonds, levy taxes to pay the principal and interest thereof, acquire by condemnation or otherwise land within the county, and, in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county, to convey the same to the United States, for a permanent mobilization, training and supply station for any or all such military purposes, including supply stations, the mobilization, disciplining and training of the United States army, state militia and other military organizations, as are now or may at any time be authorized or provided for under any law or laws of the United States; conferring on such counties the power of eminent domain for the purposes of this act and providing the procedure therefor; granting the consent of the state to such conveyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the land so conveyed.

History: Approved May 25, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 933.

Boards of supervisors may incur indebtedness to purchase land for United States mobilization stations. Not to exceed five per cent of taxable property.

§ 1. Whenever the secretary of war of the United States shall agree, on behalf of the government of the United States, to establish in any county now or hereafter organized in this state, a permanent mobilization, training and supply station for any or all such military purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States, on condition that land in such county aggregating approximately a designated number of acres at such location or locations within any such county as may have been or may thereafter be from time to time selected or approved by such secretary of war be conveyed to the United States with the consent of the state of California, for the consideration of the benefits to be derived by such county from the use of such lands by the United States for such purpose and the board of supervisors shall determine that it is desirable and for the general welfare and benefit of the people of such county and for the interest of the county to incur an indebtedness in an amount sufficient to acquire land in such county aggregating approximately the number of acres so designated, at such location or locations as may have been theretofore or may be thereafter selected or approved by such secretary of war, and, in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county, to convey all such lands to the United States to be used by the United States for any or all such military purposes, as are now, or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States, including permanent mobilization, training and supply stations, such county is hereby authorized and empowered by and through its board of supervisors to incur an indebtedness evidenced by negotiable bonds of such county for such purposes in any amount not exceeding, together with all existing bonded indebtedness of such county, five per cent of the taxable property of the county, as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof, whenever two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county voting thereon shall assent thereto, at any election, either general or special, at which the proposal to incur such bonded indebtedness may be submitted to such electors in the manner provided by law.

Manner of incurring indebtedness. Election notice.

§ 2. Such indebtedness shall be incurred in the following manner, to wit: the board of supervisors of any such county shall by order specify (a) the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be incurred, which shall in general be, for acquiring land in such county aggregating approximately the number of acres designated in such agreement by such secretary of war to be conveyed for the consideration of the benefits to be derived by such county from the use of such lands by the United States for such purposes, to the United States for the purposes of a permanent mobilization, training and supply station, (b) the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, provided that such amount, together with all then existing bonded indebtedness of such county shall not exceed five per cent of the taxable property of the county as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof, exclusive of the taxable value of the land so proposed to be acquired and conveyed to the United States, (c) the rate of interest it is proposed such bonds shall bear, (d) the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run, and (e) such order shall further provide for submitting the question of the issuance of such bonds to the qualified electors of such county at the next general election, or at a special election to be called by the board for that purpose. The words to appear on the ballot shall be "bonds—yes" and "bonds—no" or words of similar import, together with a general statement of the amount and purpose of the bonds to be issued, and which general statement shall include a statement that the purpose is to acquire and convey to the United States, for the consideration of the benefits to be derived by such county from the use of such lands by the United States, the amount of land set out in said order of the board of supervisors for the purpose of a permanent mobilization, training and supply station. If the question is submitted at a special election, notice thereof shall be given and the question submitted as provided in section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code of the state of California.

Procedure.

§ 3. If two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county voting thereon shall vote in favor of the issuing such bonds, the board must proceed to issue the amount of bonds specified. The board of supervisors in issuing and selling said bonds shall follow the procedure provided in said section four thousand eighty-eight of said Political Code as to other bonds of the county, and said bonds shall be in the form, of the denominations and specify the rate of interest as provided in said section and shall in all respects conform to the provisions of said section, and the payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said section for the payment of the principal and interest of other bonds issued by any county, and said section, except as herein modified, is hereby specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act.

Declared a public use. Right of eminent domain granted.

§ 4. The acquisition of land for the establishment of a permanent mobilization, training and supply station for any and all such military purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States is hereby declared to be a public use, and the right of eminent domain is hereby granted and extended to every county availing itself of the provisions of this act for every purpose of condemnation, appropriation or disposition intended by this act and such county is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and appropriate all lands and rights whatsoever necessary or convenient for carrying out the provisions of this act. Such right of eminent domain may be exercised on behalf of such public use in accordance with the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California.

Consent to acquisition by the United States. Consent to exercise exclusive jurisdiction.

§ 5. Pursuant to the constitution and laws of the United States and especially to paragraph seventeen of section eight of article I of such constitution, the consent of the legislature of the state of California is hereby given to the United States to acquire, upon the conditions and for the purposes herein set forth, from any county acting under the provisions of this act, title to all lands herein intended to be referred to; such title to be evidenced by a deed or deeds of such county, signed by the chairman of its board of supervisors and attested by the clerk of such county, under seal and the consent of the state of California is hereby given to the exercise by the congress of the United States of exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such tracts or parcels of land so conveyed to it; subject, however, to the right of the state to have concurrent jurisdiction so far that all process, civil or criminal, issued under authority of the state may be executed by the proper officers thereof within such tract, upon any person or persons amenable to the same in like manner and with like effect as if such conveyance had not been made. The board of supervisors shall have the power to insert in every conveyance made under the authority of this act, such conditions subsequent as such board shall deem necessary to insure the use of such lands by the United States government for the purposes herein mentioned and to carry out the provisions of this act.

PUBLIC DEFENSE SITES.

ACT 5464—An act to make available for the use of the United States' war department suitable places in this state for the public defense, and for that purpose authorizing any county or municipal corporation now or hereafter organized to incur indebtedness, issue negotiable bonds, levy taxes to pay the principal and interest thereof, acquire by condemnation or otherwise land within the county or municipal corporation, and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation to convey the same to the United States for the use of the war department thereof; conferring on such counties and municipal corporations the power of eminent domain for the purposes of this act and providing the procedure therefor; granting the consent of the state to such conveyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the land so conveyed.

History: Approved April 21, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 125.

Indebtedness to secure land for United States war department authorized.

§ 1. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county or the legislative body of any municipal corporation now or hereafter organized in this state shall consider it desirable or expedient to tender to the United States for the use of the war department thereof, a designated number of acres at such location or locations within any such county or municipal corporation as may be determined upon by the said board of supervisors or legislative body, and such board of supervisors or legislative body shall also determine that it is desirable for the general welfare and benefit of the people of such county or municipal corporation and for the interests of the county or municipal corporation to incur an indebtedness in an amount sufficient to acquire land in such county or municipal corporation aggregating approximately the number of acres so designated at such location or locations as may have been selected and designated by the said board of supervisors or legislative body and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation, to convey all such lands to the United States to be used by the war department of the United States for its use, such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered by and through its said board of supervisors or legislative body to incur an indebtedness evidenced by negotiable bonds of such county or municipal corporation for such purposes, in any amount not exceeding, together with all existing bonded indebtedness of such county or municipal corporation, five per cent of the taxable property of the county or municipal corporation, as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof, whenever two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county or municipal corporation voting thereon shall assent thereto, at any election, either general or special, at which the proposal to incur such bonded indebtedness may be submitted to such electors in the manner provided by law.

Bonds.

§ 2. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of a county shall be issued in the manner provided for in section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code, and payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said section for the payment of principal and interest of other bonds issued by any county, and said section, except as herein modified, is hereby specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of municipal corporations shall be issued in the manner provided for in an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, townships and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," which became a law on February 25, 1901, without the approval of the governor, and the amendments thereto, and the payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said act for the payment of the principal and interest of other bonds issued by any such municipal corporation, and said act, except as herein modified is specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act.

Public use. Right of eminent domain granted.

§ 3. The acquisition of land for the use thereof by the war department of the United States and all such military purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States is hereby declared to be a public use, and the right of eminent domain is hereby granted and extended to every county and municipal corporation availing itself of the provisions of this act for every purpose of condemnation, appropriation or disposition intended by this act and such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and appropriate all lands and rights whatsoever necessary or convenient for carrying out the provisions of this act. Such right of eminent domain may be exercised on behalf of such public use in accordance with the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California.

Consent to acquisition by United States. Consent to exclusive jurisdiction.

§ 4. Pursuant to the constitution and laws of the United States and especially to paragraph seventeen of section eight of article one of such constitution, the consent of the legislature of the state of California is hereby given to the United States to acquire, upon the conditions and for the purposes herein set forth, from any county or municipal corporation acting under the provisions of this act, title to all lands herein intended to be referred to; such title to be evidenced by a deed or deeds of such county or municipal corporation, signed by the chairman of said board of supervisors or the chairman of said legislative body and attested by the clerk of such county or municipal corporation under seal, and consent of the state of California is hereby given to the exercise by the congress of the United States of exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such tracts or parcels of land so conveyed by it; subject, however, to the right of the state to have concurrent jurisdiction so far that all process, civil or criminal, issued under authority of the state may be executed by the proper officers thereof within such tract, upon any person or persons amenable to the same in like manner and with like effect as if such conveyance had not been made. The said board of supervisors or legislative body shall have the power to insert in every conveyance made under the authority of this act, such conditions subsequent as such board or legislative body shall deem necessary to insure the use of such lands by the United States government for the purposes herein mentioned and to carry out the provisions of this act.

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR OF 1898 ACCOUNT.

ACT 5465—An act to provide for depositing moneys of the Spanish-American war of 1898 account in the state treasury and their method of disbursement.

History: Approved May 9, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 514.

§ 1. The state treasurer is authorized to deposit in the state treasury any and all moneys belonging to the Spanish-American War of 1898 account.

§ 2. The state controller shall draw warrants against said fund and the state treasurer shall pay said warrants, on vouchers presented and approved by the adjutant general and the governor of the state.

WORLD WAR MEMORIAL.

ACT 5465a—An act to provide for a suitable memorial in the capitol extension buildings in Sacramento for the part taken by residents of California in the world war.

History: Approved May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1139.

§ 1. The state building commission as established by the provisions of chapter two hundred thirty-five of the statutes of 1913 is hereby authorized and directed, in completing plans for the capitol extension buildings in the city of Sacramento, to cause to be incorporated in such plans a room, apartment or such other structure or feature as may be deemed an appropriate memorial of the part taken by residents of California in the army and navy of the United States during the great world war, and the victory for world liberty in battles on land and sea and in the air; to perpetuate the memory of those who gave up their lives in the cause of their country, and the services and sacrifices of those who gave of their time and their means in the auxiliary activities of war services, and the noble record made by the people of this state in the moral and material support rendered the state and national government in every way during the war period.

5468. WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND SALE OF GOODS STORED IN OTHER STATES.

5469. UNIFORM LAW OF WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS.

SALE OF GOODS FOR STORAGE CHARGES.

ACT 5466—An act to authorize the keepers of warehouses to sell goods on storage after a certain period.

History: Passed May 1, 1851, Stats. 1851, p. 170. This act is probably superseded by the provisions of the code relating to storage. In the absence of positive legislation it is difficult to determine what, if any, part of it is in force.

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND SALE OF GOODS STORED IN OTHER STATES.

ACT 5468—An act concerning warehouse receipts, and the issuing, sale and transfer thereof, and the sale of goods, wares and merchandise stored in public or private warehouses in other states.

History: Approved March 20, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 322.

Sale of fraudulent warehouse receipts unlawful.

§ 1. That it shall be unlawful for any corporation, firm or person, their agents or employees, to issue, sell, pledge, assign or transfer in this state, any receipt, certificate or other written instrument purporting to be a warehouse receipt, or in the similitude of a warehouse receipt, or designed to be understood as a warehouse receipt, for goods, wares or merchandise stored or deposited, or claimed to be stored or deposited, in any warehouse, public or private, in any state, unless such receipt, certificate or other written instrument, shall have been issued by the warehouseman operating such warehouse.

Same.

§ 2. It shall be unlawful for any corporation, firm or person, their agents or employees, to issue, sell, pledge, assign or transfer in this state, any receipt, certificate or other written instrument for goods, wares or merchandise claimed to be stored or deposited, in any warehouse, public or private, in any other state, knowing that there is no such warehouse located at the place named in such receipt, certificate or other written instrument, or if there be a warehouse at such place, knowing that there are no goods, wares or merchandise stored or deposited therein as specified in such report, certificate or other written instrument.

Same.

§ 3. It shall be unlawful for any corporation, firm or person, their agents or employees, to issue, sign, sell, pledge, assign or transfer, in this state, any receipt, certificate or other written instrument evidencing, or purporting to evidence, the sale, pledge, mortgage or bailment of any goods, wares or merchandise stored or deposited, or claimed to be stored or deposited, in any warehouse, public or private, in any other state, unless such receipt, certificate or other written instrument shall plainly designate the number and location of such warehouse, and shall also set forth therein a full, true and complete copy of the receipt issued by the warehouseman operating such warehouse wherein such goods, wares or merchandise are stored or deposited, or are claimed to be stored or deposited. Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to the issue, signing, sale, pledge, assignment or transfer of bona fide warehouse receipts issued by the warehouseman operating public or bonded warehouses in other states, according to the laws of the state wherein such warehouses may be located.

Penalty for violation of statute.

§ 1. Every corporation, firm or person, or agent, or employee, who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than one thousand dollars, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail for any period not exceeding six months.

See KOTTA'S CIVIL Code, §§ 1844-1847.

As to the regulation of warehouse receipts, see Act 5462.

UNIFORM LAW OF WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS.

ACT 5469—An act to make uniform the law of warehouse receipts.

History: Approved March 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 437. Amended May 11, 1919, in effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 228. Warehouse Receipts Act of 1878 (Stats. 1877-78, p. 949) probably superseded by this act.

Receipts, who may issue.

§ 1. Warehouse receipts may be issued by any warehouseman.

What receipt must embody. Liability for omission.

§ 2. Warehouse receipts need not be in any particular form, but every such receipt must embody within its written or printed terms—

- (a) The location of the warehouse where the goods are stored,
- (b) The date of the issue of the receipt,
- (c) The consecutive number of the receipt,
- (d) A statement whether the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, or to a specified person, or to a specified person or his order,
- (e) The rate of storage charges,
- (f) A description of the goods or of the packages containing them,
- (g) The signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent,
- (h) If the receipt is issued for goods of which the warehouseman is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership, and
- (i) A statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouseman claims a lien. If the precise amount of such advances made or of such liabilities incurred is, at the time of the issue of the receipt, unknown to the warehouseman or to his agent who issues it, a statement of the fact that advances have been made or liabilities incurred and the purpose thereof is sufficient.

A warehouseman shall be liable to any person injured thereby, for all damage caused by the omission from a negotiable receipt of any of the terms herein required.

Insertion of other conditions.

§ 3. A warehouseman may insert in a receipt, issued by him, any other terms and conditions, provided that such terms and conditions shall not—

- (a) Be contrary to the provisions of this act.
- (b) In anywise impair his obligation to exercise that degree of care in the safe-keeping of the goods intrusted to him which a reasonably careful man would exercise in regard to similar goods of his own.

Non-negotiable receipt.

§ 4. A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the depositor, or to any other specified person, is a non-negotiable receipt.

Negotiable receipt.

§ 5. A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, or to the order of any person named in such receipt is a negotiable receipt. No provision shall be inserted in a negotiable receipt that is non-negotiable. Such provision, if inserted, shall be void.

Duplicates shall be so marked.

§ 6. When more than one negotiable receipt is issued for the same goods, the word "duplicate" shall be plainly placed upon the face of every such receipt, except the one first issued. A warehouseman shall be liable for all damage caused by his failure so to do [to] any one who purchased the subsequent receipt for value supposing it to be an original, even though the purchase be after the delivery of the goods by the warehouseman to the holder of the original receipt.

Non-negotiable shall be marked.

§ 7. A non negotiable receipt shall have plainly placed upon its face by the warehouseman issuing it, "non negotiable," or "not negotiable." In case of the warehouseman's failure so to do, a holder of the receipt who purchased it for value supposing it to be negotiable, may, at his option, treat such receipt as imposing upon the warehouseman the same liabilities he would have incurred had the receipt been negotiable.

This section shall not apply, however, to letters, memoranda, or written acknowledgments of an informal character.

Rights of holder of receipt.

§ 8. A warehouseman, in the absence of some lawful excuse provided by this act, is bound to deliver the goods upon a demand made either by the holder of a receipt for the goods or by the depositor, if such demand is accompanied with—

- (a) An offer to satisfy the warehouseman's lien,
- (b) An offer to surrender the receipt if negotiable, with such indorsements as would be necessary for the negotiation of the receipt, and
- (c) A readiness and willingness to sign, when the goods are delivered, an acknowledgment that they have been delivered, if such signature is requested by the warehouseman.

In case the warehouseman refuses or fails to deliver the goods in compliance with a demand by the holder or depositor so accompanied, the burden shall be upon the warehouseman to establish the existence of a lawful excuse for such refusal.

When warehouseman justified in delivering goods.

§ 9. A warehouseman is justified in delivering the goods subject to the provisions of the three following sections, to one who is—

- (a) The person lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods, or his agent,
- (b) A person who is either himself entitled to delivery by the terms of a non-negotiable receipt issued for the goods, or who has written authority from the person so entitled either indorsed upon the receipt or written upon another paper, or
- (c) A person in possession of a negotiable receipt by the terms of which the goods are deliverable to him or order or to bearer, or which has been indorsed to him or in blank by the person to whom delivery was promised by the terms of the receipt or by his mediate or immediate indorsee.

When warehouseman liable.

§ 10. Where a warehouseman delivers the goods to one who is not in fact lawfully entitled to the possession of them, the warehouseman shall be liable as for conversion to all having a right of property or possession in the goods if he delivered the goods otherwise than as authorized by subdivisions (b) and (c) of the preceding section and though he delivered the goods as authorized by said subdivision he shall be so liable, if prior to such delivery he had either

(a) Been requested, by or on behalf of the person lawfully entitled to a right of property or possession in the goods, not to make such delivery, or

(b) Had information that the delivery about to be made was to one not lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods.

Same.

§ 11. Except as provided in section 36, where warehouseman delivers goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt, the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of the goods, and fails to take up and cancel the receipt, he shall be liable to any one who purchases for value in good faith such receipt, for failure to deliver the goods to him, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of the goods by the warehouseman.

Same.

§ 12. Except as provided in section 36, where a warehouseman delivers part of the goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt and fails either to take up and cancel such receipt, or to place plainly upon it a statement of what goods or packages have been delivered he shall be liable, to any one who purchases for value in good faith such receipt, for failure to deliver all the goods specified in the receipt, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of any portion of the goods by the warehouseman.

Alteration of receipt, no excuse from liability. Fraudulent alteration.

§ 13. The alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from any liability if such alteration was

(a) Immaterial,

(b) Authorized, or

(c) Made without fraudulent intent.

If the alteration was authorized, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt as altered. If the alteration was unauthorized, but made without fraudulent intent, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt, as they were before alteration.

Material and fraudulent alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from liability to deliver, according to the terms of the receipt as originally issued, the goods for which it was issued, but shall excuse him from any other liability to the person who made the alteration and to any person who took with notice of the alteration. Any purchaser of the receipt for value without notice of the alteration shall acquire the same rights against the warehouseman which such purchaser would have acquired if the receipt had not been altered at the time of the purchase.

Delivery when receipt is lost, how.

§ 14. Where a negotiable receipt has been lost or destroyed, a court of competent jurisdiction may order the delivery of the goods upon satisfactory proof of such loss or destruction and upon the giving of a bond with sufficient sureties to be approved by the court to protect the warehouseman from any liability or expense, which he or any person by such delivery may incur by reason of the original receipt remaining outstanding. The court may also in its discretion order the payment of the warehouseman's reasonable costs and counsel fees.

The delivery of the goods under an order of the court as provided in this section, shall not relieve the warehouseman from liabilities to a person to whom the negotiable receipt has been or shall be negotiated for value without notice of the proceedings or of the delivery of the goods.

Word "duplicate" is warranty.

§ 15. A receipt upon the face of which the word "duplicate" is plainly placed is a representation and warranty by the warehouseman that such receipt is an accurate copy of an original receipt properly issued and uncanceled at the date of the issue of the duplicate, but shall impose upon him no other liability.

Title of warehouseman.

§ 16. No title or right to the possession of the goods, on the part of the warehouseman, unless such title or right is derived directly or indirectly from a transfer made by the depositor at the time of or subsequent to the deposit for storage, or from the warehouseman's lien, shall excuse the warehouseman from liability for refusing to deliver the goods according to the terms of the receipt.

Claimants may interplead.

§ 17. If more than one person claim the title or possession of the goods, the warehouseman may, either as a defense to an action brought against him for non-delivery of the goods, or as an original suit, whichever is appropriate, require all known claimants to interplead.

Refusal to deliver, excuse from liability.

§ 18. If some one other than the depositor or person claiming under him has a claim to the title or possession of the goods, and the warehouseman has information of such claim, the warehouseman shall be excused from liability for refusing to deliver the goods, either to the depositor or person claiming under him or to the adverse claimant, until the warehouseman has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claim or to bring legal proceedings to compel all claimants to interplead. If such adverse claimant shall not bring suit and serve summons on the warehouseman within forty-eight hours after the service of notice of his adverse claim, such failure shall act as a complete abandonment of such adverse claim.

Rights of third persons.

§ 19. Except as provided in the two preceding sections and in sections 9 and 36, no right or title of a third person shall be a defense to an action brought by the depositor or person claiming under him against the warehouseman for failure to deliver the goods according to the terms of the receipt.

Goods must correspond with description.

§ 20. A warehouseman shall be liable to the holder of a receipt for damages caused by the non-existence of the goods or by the failure of the goods to correspond with the description thereof in the receipt at the time of its issue. If, however, the goods are described in a receipt merely by a statement of marks or labels upon them, or upon packages containing them, or by a statement that the goods are said to be goods of a certain kind, or that packages containing the goods are said to contain goods of a certain kind, or by words of like purport, such statements, if true, shall not make liable the warehouseman issuing the receipt, although the goods are not of the kind which the marks or labels upon them indicate, or of the kind they were said to be by the depositor.

Injury to goods.

§ 21. A warehouseman shall be liable for any loss or injury to the goods caused by his failure to exercise such care in regard to them as a reasonably careful owner of similar goods would exercise, but he shall not be liable, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, for any loss or injury to the goods which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care.

Goods must be kept separate.

§ 22. Except as provided in the following section, a warehouseman shall keep the goods so far separate from goods of other depositors, and from other goods of the same depositor for which a separate receipt has been issued, as to permit at all times the identification and redelivery of the goods deposited.

Certain may be mingled.

§ 23. If authorized by agreement or by custom, a warehouseman may mingle fungible goods with other goods of the same kind and grade. In such case the various depositors of the mingled goods shall own the entire mass in common, and each depositor shall be entitled to such portion thereof as the amount deposited by him bears to the whole.

Care of mingled goods.

§ 24. The warehouseman shall be severally liable to each depositor for the care and redelivery of his share of such mass to the same extent and under the same circumstances as if the goods had been kept separate.

Attachments, surrender of receipt.

§ 25. If goods are delivered to a warehouseman by the owner or by a person whose act in conveying the title to them to a purchaser in good faith for value would bind the owner, and a negotiable receipt is issued for them, they can not thereafter, while in the possession of the warehouseman, be attached by garnishment or otherwise, or be levied upon under an execution, unless the receipt be first surrendered to the warehouseman, or its negotiation enjoined. The warehouseman shall in no case be compelled to deliver up the actual possession of the goods until the receipt is surrendered to him or impounded by the court.

Creditors' right to injunction.

§ 26. A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a negotiable receipt shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction or otherwise, in attaching such receipt or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity, in regard to property which can not readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process.

Lien on goods for lawful charges.

§ 27. Subject to the provisions of section thirty, a warehouseman shall have a lien on goods deposited by the owner or by the legal possessor of the property or on the proceeds thereof in his hands, for all lawful charges for storage and preservation of the goods; also for all lawful claims for money advanced, interest, insurance, transportation, labor, weighing, coopering and other charges and expenses in relation to such goods; also for all reasonable charges and expenses for notice, and advertisements of sale, and for sale of the goods where default has been made in satisfying the warehouseman's lien. [Amendment of May 11, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 398.]

Enforcement of lien.

§ 28. Subject to the provisions of section thirty, a warehouseman's lien may be enforced:

(a) Against all goods, whenever deposited, belonging to the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted; and

(b) Against all goods belonging to others which have been deposited at any time by the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted, if such person was in legal possession of the goods when they were deposited. [Amendment of May 11, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 398.]

Loss of lien, when.

§ 29. A warehouseman loses his lien upon goods—

(a) By surrendering possession thereof, or

(b) By refusing to deliver the goods when a demand is made with which he is bound to comply under the provisions of this act.

Charges for storage, lien for.

§ 30. If a negotiable receipt is issued for goods, the warehouseman shall have no lien thereon, except for charges for storage of those goods subsequent to the date of the receipt, unless the receipt expressly enumerates other charges for which a lien is claimed. In such case there shall be a lien for the charges enumerated so far as they are within the terms of section 27, although the amount of the charges so enumerated is not stated in the receipt.

Goods may be held.

§ 31. A warehouseman having a lien valid against the person demanding the goods may refuse to deliver the goods to him until the lien is satisfied.

Warehouseman entitled to remedy.

§ 32. Whether a warehouseman has or has not a lien upon the goods, he is entitled to all remedies allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor, for the collection from the depositor of all charges and advances which the depositor has expressly or impliedly contracted with the warehouseman to pay.

How lien may be satisfied. Sale of goods at auction.

§ 33. A warehouseman's lien for a claim which has become due may be satisfied as follows:

The warehouseman shall give a written notice to the person on whose account the goods are held, and to any other person known by the warehouseman to claim an interest in the goods. Such notice shall be given by delivery in person or by registered letter addressed to the last known place of business or abode of the person to be notified. The notice shall contain—

(a) An itemized statement of the warehouseman's claim, showing the sum due at the time of the notice and the date or dates when it became due,

(b) A brief description of the goods against which the lien exists,

(c) A demand that the amount of the claim as stated in the notice, and of such further claim as shall accrue shall be paid on or before the day mentioned, not less than ten days from the delivery of the notice if it is personally delivered, or from the time when the notice should reach its destination, according to due course of post, if the notice is sent by mail, and

(d) A statement that unless the claim is paid within the time specified the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

In accordance with the terms of a notice so given, a sale of the goods by auction may be had to satisfy any valid claim of the warehouseman for which he has a lien on the goods. The sale shall be had in the place where the lien was acquired, or, if such place is manifestly unsuitable for the purpose, at the nearest suitable place. After the time for the payment of the claim specified in the notice to the depositor has elapsed, an advertisement of the sale, describing the goods to be sold, and stating the name of the owner or person on whose account the goods are held, and the time and place of the sale, shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the place where such sale is to be held. The sale shall not be held less than fifteen days from the time of the first publication. If there is no newspaper published in such place, the advertisement shall be posted at least ten days before such sale in not less than six conspicuous places therein.

From the proceeds of such sale the warehouseman shall satisfy his lien, including the reasonable charges of notice, advertisement and sale. The balance, if any, of such proceeds shall be held by the warehouseman, and delivered on demand to the person to whom he would have been bound to deliver or justified in delivering the goods.

At any time before the goods are sold any person claiming a right of property or possession therein may pay the warehouseman the amount necessary to satisfy his lien and pay the reasonable expenses and liabilities incurred in serving notices and advertising and preparing for the sale up to the time of such payment. The warehouseman shall deliver the goods to the person making such payment if he is a person entitled, under the provisions of this act, to the possession of the goods on payment of charges thereon. Otherwise the warehouseman shall retain possession of the goods according to the terms of the original contract of deposit.

Perishable goods.

§ 34. If goods are of a perishable nature, or by keeping will deteriorate greatly in value, or by their odor, leakage, inflammability, or explosive nature, will be liable to injure other property, the warehouseman may give such notice to the owner, or to the person in whose name the goods are stored, as is reasonable and possible under the circumstances, to satisfy the lien upon such goods, and to remove them from the warehouse, and in the event of the failure of such person to satisfy the lien and to remove the goods within the time so specified, the warehouseman may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertising. If the warehouseman after a reasonable effort is unable to sell such goods, he may dispose of them in any lawful manner, and shall incur no liability by reason thereof. The proceeds of any sale made under the terms of this section shall be disposed of in the same way as the proceeds of sales made under the terms of the preceding section.

Other remedies.

§ 35. The remedy for enforcing a lien herein provided does not preclude any other remedies allowed by law for the enforcement of a lien against personal property nor bar the right to recover so much of the warehouseman's claim as shall not be paid by the proceeds of the sale of the property.

Warehouseman's liability ceases, when.

§ 36. After goods have been lawfully sold to satisfy a warehouseman's lien, or have been lawfully sold or disposed of because of their perishable or hazardous nature, the warehouseman shall not thereafter be liable for failure to deliver the goods to the depositor, or owner of the goods, or to a holder of the receipt given for the goods when they were deposited, even if such receipt be negotiable.

How negotiable receipt may be negotiated.

§ 37. A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by delivery—

(a) Where, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the bearer, or

(b) Where, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent indorsee of the receipt has indorsed it in blank or to bearer.

Where, by the terms of a negotiable receipt, the goods are deliverable to bearer or where a negotiable receipt has been indorsed in blank or to bearer, any holder may indorse the same to himself or to any other specified person, and in such case the receipt shall thereafter be negotiated only by the indorsement of such indorsee.

Same.

§ 38. A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by the indorsement of the person to whose order the goods are, by the terms of the receipt, deliverable. Such indorsement may be in blank, to bearer or to a specified person. If indorsed to a specified person, it may be again negotiated by the indorsement of such person in blank, to bearer or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiations may be made in like manner.

Same.

§ 39. A receipt which is not in such form that it can be negotiated by delivery may be transferred by the holder by delivery to a purchaser or donee.

A non-negotiable receipt can not be negotiated, and the indorsement of such a receipt gives the transferee no additional right.

By whom may be negotiated.

§ 40. A negotiable receipt may be negotiated—

(a) By the owner thereof, or

(b) By any person to whom the possession or custody of the receipt has been intrusted by the owner, if, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of the person to whom the possession or custody of the receipt has been intrusted, or if at the time of such intrusting the receipt is in such form that it may be negotiated by delivery.

What is acquired by negotiation.

§ 41. A person to whom a negotiable receipt has been duly negotiated acquires thereby—

(a) Such title to the goods as the person negotiating the receipt to him had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and also such title to the goods as the depositor or person to whose order the goods were to be delivered by the terms of the receipt had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and

(b) The direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt as fully as if the warehouseman had contracted directly with him.

What is acquired by transfer of receipt.

§ 42. A person to whom a receipt has been transferred but not negotiated, acquires thereby, as against the transferrer, the title to the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferrer.

If the receipt is non-negotiable such person also acquires the right to notify the warehouseman of the transfer to him of such receipt, and thereby to acquire the direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt.

Prior to the notification of the warehouseman by the transferrer or transferee of a non-negotiable receipt, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation of the warehouseman may be defeated by the levy of an attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferrer, or by a notification to the warehouseman by the transferrer or a subsequent purchaser from the transferrer of a subsequent sale of the goods by the transferrer.

Transferee acquires, what.

§ 43. Where a negotiable receipt is transferred for value by delivery, and the indorsement of the transferrer is essential for negotiation, the transferee acquires a right against the transferrer to compel him to indorse the receipt, unless a contrary intention appears. The negotiation shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made.

Transferrer warrants, what.

§ 44. A person who for value negotiates or transfers a receipt by indorsement or delivery, including one who assigns for value a claim secured by a receipt, unless a contrary intention appears, warrants—

- (a) That the receipt is genuine,
- (b) That he has a legal right to negotiate or transfer it,
- (c) That he has knowledge of no fact which would impair the validity or worth of the receipt, and
- (d) That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods, and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose whenever such warranties would have been implied, if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a receipt the goods represented thereby.

Liability of indorser.

§ 45. The indorsement of a receipt shall not make the indorser liable for any failure on the part of the warehouseman or previous indorsers of the receipt to fulfill their respective obligations.

Mortgagee's warrant.

§ 46. A mortgagee, pledgee or holder for security of a receipt who in good faith demands or receives payment of the debt for which such receipt is security, whether from a party to a draft drawn for such debt or from any other person, shall not by so doing be deemed to represent or to warrant the genuineness of such receipt or the quantity or quality of the goods therein described.

Validity of negotiation, when not impaired.

§ 47. The validity of the negotiation of a receipt is not impaired by the fact that such negotiation was a breach of duty on the part of the person making the negotiation, or by the fact that the owner of the receipt was induced by fraud, mistake, or duress to intrust the possession or custody of the receipt to such person, if the person to whom the receipt was negotiated, or a person to whom the receipt was subsequently negotiated, paid value therefor, without notice of the breach of duty, or fraud, mistake, or duress.

Subsequent negotiation.

§ 48. Where a person having sold, mortgaged, or pledged goods which are in a warehouse and for which a negotiable receipt has been issued, or having sold, mortgaged, or pledged the negotiable receipt representing such goods, continues in possession of the negotiable receipt, the subsequent negotiation thereof by that person under any sale, or other disposition thereof to any person receiving the same in good faith, for value and without notice of the previous sale, mortgage or pledge, shall have the same effect as if the first purchaser of the goods or receipt had expressly authorized the subsequent negotiation.

Seller's lien shall not defeat rights of purchasers.

§ 49. Where a negotiable receipt has been issued for goods, no seller's lien or right of stoppage in transitu shall defeat the rights of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such receipt has been negotiated, whether such negotiation be prior or subsequent to the notification to the warehouseman who issued such receipt of the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transitu. Nor shall the warehouseman be obliged to deliver or justified in delivering the goods to an unpaid seller unless the receipt is first surrendered for cancellation.

Fraudulent issue of receipt, penalty for.

§ 50. A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who issues or aids in issuing a receipt knowing that the goods for which such receipt is issued have not been actually received by such warehouseman, or are not under his control at the time of issuing such receipt, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both.

False statements.

§ 51. A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who fraudulently issues or aids in fraudulently issuing a receipt for goods knowing that it contains any false statement, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both.

Fraudulent issue of duplicates, penalty for.

§ 52. A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who issues or aids in issuing a duplicate or additional negotiable receipt for goods knowing that a former negotiable receipt for the same goods or any part of them is outstanding and uncanceled, without plainly placing upon the face thereof the word "duplicate," except in the case of a lost or destroyed receipt after proceedings as provided for in section 14, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both.

When warehouseman is owner.

§ 53. Where there are deposited with or held by a warehouseman goods of which he is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, such warehouseman, or any of his officers, agents, or servants who, knowing this ownership, issues or aids in issuing a negotiable receipt for such goods which does not state such ownership, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both.

Penal clause.

§ 54. A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman who delivers goods out of the possession of such warehouseman, knowing that a negotiable receipt the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of such goods is outstanding and uncanceled, without obtaining the possession of such receipt at or before the time of such delivery, shall, except in the cases provided for in sections 14 and 36, be found guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both.

Same.

§ 55. Any person who deposits goods to which he has not title, or upon which there is a lien or mortgage, and who takes for such goods a negotiable receipt which he afterwards negotiates for value with intent to deceive and without disclosing his want of title or the existence of the lien or mortgage shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both.

What rules of law, to govern.

§ 56. In any case not provided for in this act, the rules of law and equity, including the law-merchant, and in particular the rules relating to the law of principal and agent and to the effect of fraud, misrepresentation, duress or coercion, mistake, bankruptcy, or other invalidating cause, shall govern.

Interpretation of act.

§ 57. This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

Definition of certain terms.

§ 58. (1) In this act, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires—

“Action” includes counterclaim, setoff, and suit in equity.

“Delivery” means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another.

“Fungible goods” means goods of which any unit is, from its nature or by mercantile custom, treated as the equivalent of any other unit.

“Goods” means chattels or merchandise in storage, or which has been or is about to be stored.

“Holder” of a receipt means a person who has both actual possession of such receipt and a right of property therein.

“Order” means an order by indorsement on the receipt.

“Owner” does not include mortgagee or pledgee.

“Person” includes a corporation or partnership or two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

To “purchase” includes to take as mortgagee or as pledgee.

“Purchaser” includes mortgagee and pledgee.

“Receipt” means a warehouse receipt.

“Value” is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing obligation, whether for money or not, constitutes value where a receipt is taken either in satisfaction thereof or as security therefor.

“Warehouseman” means a person lawfully engaged in the business of storing goods for profit.

(2) A thing is done “in good faith” within the meaning of this act, when it is in fact done honestly, whether it be done negligently or not.

Prior acts.

§ 59. The provisions of this act do not apply to receipts made and delivered prior to the taking effect of this act.

Same.

§ 60. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

Name of act.

§ 61. This act may be cited as the warehouse receipts act.

1. Construction of act—No change of former rulings as to the validity of written order of depositor under statute of frauds.—There is nowhere expressed in the act an intention to require a departure from the rule laid down in the earlier cases and remaining unchanged up to the time of its passage making the written order of a depositor of goods in a warehouse, upon which there has been issued a non-negotiable receipt, sufficient to pass, by its delivery, receipt, and acceptance, the title and symbolical possession of personal property not capable of manual delivery so as to satisfy the statute of frauds, and entitled the seller to recover from the buyer its purchase price.—Lewis-Simas-Jones Co. v. C. Kee & Co., 27 Cal. App. 135, 148 Pac. 973.

2. Deposit at owner's risk—Warehouseman not relieved from duty to exercise ordinary care.—A clause in a warehouse receipt accepting goods at depositor's risk does not relieve a warehouseman of liability for loss of goods resulting from want of ordinary care and diligence on his part.—Morse v. Imperial, etc., Co., 40 Cal. App. 574, 181 Pac. 815.

3. Same—Otherwise if loss not due to lack of care.—But the warehouseman is not responsible in such case if the loss resulted from no lack of ordinary care or diligence on his part.—Morse v. Imperial, etc., Co., 40 Cal. App. 574, 181 Pac. 815.

4. Warehouseman as insurer—Special contract.—A warehouseman may make himself an insurer of goods deposited, by special contract.—Morse v. Imperial, etc., Co., 40 Cal. App. 574, 181 Pac. 815.

Water commission created. Qualifications. Salaries. Pro tempore commissioners. Duty of executive member. Appeal from order of commission.

§ 1. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act a state water commission consisting of five persons is hereby created and established. Two members of said commission shall be, ex officio, the governor of the state and the state engineer, respectively. Three members of said commission, one of whom shall be the executive member and the other two shall be associate members, shall be appointed by the governor for the term of four years; provided, however, that the members first appointed shall be appointed to hold office for the unexpired term of the members in office at the time this amendatory act takes effect. Each appointive commissioners shall be men of practical knowledge or experience in the application and use of waters for irrigation, mining and municipal purposes, and shall be so appointed that at least one thereof shall have had practical knowledge and experience in the use of water for agricultural purposes, and one thereof shall have had practical knowledge and experience in the use of water for mining purposes, and one thereof shall have had practical knowledge and experience in the use of water for municipal purposes. The executive member shall be president of the commission. The executive member of said commission shall receive as compensation for his services the sum of five thousand dollars per annum. Each of the associate members of said commission shall receive as compensation for his services fifteen dollars per day while actually engaged in the duties of his office. All members of the commission shall receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses. No commissioner who is directly or indirectly interested in any matter before the commission shall sit with the commission during the hearing of such matter; nor shall he be detailed by the commission to investigate or report on any such matter; nor shall he take part in any determination of any such matter. But the governor shall have the power and authority, upon request of the commission, to appoint pro tempore some disinterested person to sit and act in the place and stead of such interested commissioner. Such pro tempore commissioner shall have compensation for the time of service equal to the compensation of a commissioner during such service and shall have the power and authority of the same, only in the matter for the investigation and determination of which he shall have been appointed and his connection with the commission shall cease and determine upon the completion of the investigation and determination for which he was appointed. But the commissioner in whose place and stead he sits shall have power, compensation and authority in all other cases. It shall be the duty of the executive member of said commission to consider and act upon all applications for permits to appropriate water under the provisions of the water commission act and to do all things required or proper relating to such applications and his acts and orders in such matters shall be deemed the acts and orders of said commission; provided, however, that any person, firm, association, or corporation interested in any such application may appeal from any order of said executive member granting or refusing to grant a permit or a license to appropriate by filing with said commission a notice of appeal within thirty days after notice of such order is given as provided in the water commission act. Such notice of appeal shall be sufficient if it sets forth or refers to with reasonable certainty the order appealed from and the grounds of dissatisfaction therewith. Upon the filing of notice of appeal the said water commission shall review all papers and proceedings in the matter in which the order appealed from was made, take such additional evidence as it may deem proper, and enter its order in such matter affirming, reversing, or modifying in any way the order of said executive member. [Amendment of May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1193.]

Vacancies. Seal.

§ 2. Whenever a vacancy in the state water commission shall occur, the governor shall forthwith appoint a qualified person to fill the same for the unexpired term. The legislature, by a two-thirds vote of all members elected to each house, or the governor, may remove any one or more of the appointed commissioners from office. The commission shall have a seal bearing the following inscription: State water commission of California. The seal shall be affixed to all authentications of copies of records and to such other instruments as the commission may direct. All courts shall take judicial notice of said seal.

Quorum.

§ 3. A majority of the appointed commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, for the performance of any duty, or for the exercise of any power of the commission. No vacancy in the commission shall impair the right of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission. The act of a majority of the commissioners present, when in session as a board, shall be deemed to be the act of the commission; but any investigations, inquiry or hearing which the commission has power to undertake or hold may be undertaken or held by or before any commissioners or commissioner designated for the purpose by the commission; and every finding, order, ascertainment or decision made by the commissioners or the commissioner so designated pursuant to such investigation, inquiry or hearing, when approved by the commission and ordered filed in its office, shall be and be deemed to be the finding, order, ascertainment or decision of the commission.

Powers. Witness' fees.

§ 4. (a) Each commissioner shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, maps, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing, ascertainment or proceeding ordered or undertaken by the commission in any part of the state. Each witness who shall appear by order of the commission or any commissioners or a commissioner shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to witnesses in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed. When any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party shall be subpoenaed by the commission his fees and mileage shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission in the same manner as other expenses of the commission are paid. Any witness subpoenaed, except one whose fees and mileage may be paid from the funds of the commission, may, at the time of service, demand the fee to which he is entitled for travel to and from the place at which he is required to appear and one day's attendance. If such witness demand such fees at the time of service, and they are not at that time paid or tendered, he shall not be required to attend before the commission or commissioners as directed in the subpoena. All fees and mileage to which any witness is entitled under the provisions of this section may be collected by action therefor instituted by the person to whom such fees are payable. But no witness shall be compelled to attend as a witness before the water commission or any water commissioner or water commissioners out of the county in which he resides, unless the distance be less than thirty miles from his place of residence to the place of hearing.

Superior court may compel attendance of witnesses, etc.

(b) The superior court of the county or city and county in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceedings may be held by the commission or any commissioner or commissioners shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, maps, books, accounts, documents and testimony as required by any subpoena issued by the commission or any commissioner or commissioners. The commission, commissioners or commissioner before whom the testimony is to be given or produced may, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers, maps, books, accounts or documents required by such subpoena, report to the superior court in and for the county or city and county in which the proceeding is pending by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness, or for the production of said papers, maps, books, accounts or documents and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers, maps, books, accounts or documents required by the subpoena before the commission, commissioners, or commissioner in the cause or proceeding named in the notice and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such cause or proceeding, and ask an order of said court, compelling the witness to attend, testify, and produce said papers, maps, books, accounts or documents before the commission, or commissioners, or commissioner. The court, upon the petition of the commission or commissioners or commissioner, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause, if any he have, why he refused to obey said subpoena, or refused to answer questions propounded to him by said commission, or any commissioners or any commissioner, or neglected, failed or refused to produce before said commission, or any commissioners or any commissioner the books, papers, maps, accounts or documents called for in said subpoena. A copy of said order and the petition therefor shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or any commissioners or a commissioner, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission or commissioners or commissioner at the time and place fixed in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, maps, books, accounts or documents, or both testify and produce; and upon failure to obey said order said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

Depositions.

(c) The state water commission or any commissioners or commissioner, or any party to a proceeding before the commission or any commissioners or any commissioner, may in any investigation or hearing before the commission or any commissioners or any commissioner cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state.

Witness may not refuse to testify.

(d) No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, map, document, paper or account in any investigation or inquiry by or hearing before the commission or any commissioners or commissioner upon the ground that the testimony or evidence, book, map, document, paper or account required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to penalty or forfeiture. But no person shall be prosecuted, punished or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any act, transaction, matter or thing material to the matter under investigation by said commission, or any commissioners, or any commissioner concerning which he shall have been compelled to testify or to produce documentary evidence; provided, that no person so testifying or producing shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for any perjury committed by him in his testimony.

Record of business.

§ 5. A full and accurate record of business or acts performed or of testimony taken by the commission or any member or members thereof in pursuance of the provisions of this act shall be kept and be placed on file in the office of said water commission.

Fees.

§ 6. The state water commission shall take, charge and collect the following fees: for copies and records not required to be certified or otherwise authenticated by the commission, ten cents for each folio; for certified copies of official documents and orders filed in its office, fifteen cents for each folio, and one dollar for every certificate under seal affixed thereto; for certified copies of evidence and proceedings before the commission fifteen cents for each folio. The commission may fix reasonable charges for publications issued under its authority. All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid, at least once each week, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state.

Rules. Secretary.

§ 7. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the state water commission is authorized to pass such necessary rules and regulations as it may from time to time deem advisable, and to appoint and remove at its pleasure a secretary who shall have charge of its books and records and perform such other duties as from time to time may be prescribed and whose salary shall be fixed by the water commission; and the state water commission may also employ such expert, technical and clerical assistance, and upon such terms, as it may deem proper.

Appropriation.

§ 8. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated for the fiscal years 1913-1914 and 1914-1915 out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated; and the state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such sum from time to time upon the requisition of the state water commission approved by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants.

Payments from fund.

§ 9. All indebtedness incurred for salaries, and all necessary costs in traveling and other expenses of said commission, and each of its members and persons employed by it, while actually engaged in the business of said commission, shall be paid by the state out of the funds hereby appropriated, upon the sworn statement of the person or persons incurring such indebtedness, and upon the requisition of the state water commission, approved by the state board of control, and the state controller is hereby authorized to draw warrants upon the state treasurer for said indebtedness, salaries, costs and expenses, as provided by law for the payment of similar costs and expenses and the drawing of similar warrants.

To investigate streams, etc.

§ 10. The state water commission is hereby authorized and empowered to investigate for the purpose of this act all streams, stream systems, portions of stream systems, lakes, or other bodies of water, and to take testimony in regard to the rights to water or the use of water thereon or therein, and to ascertain whether or not such water, or any portion thereof, or the use of said water or any portion thereof, heretofore filed upon or attempted to be appropriated by any person, firm, association, or corporation, is appropriated under the laws of this state.

Water declared unappropriated. Public waters. When action for condemnation is pending. Reservoirs may constitute single system.

§ 11. All water or the use of water which has never been appropriated, or which has been heretofore appropriated and which has not been in process, from the date of the initial act of appropriation, of being put, with due diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the work necessary properly to utilize for the purpose of such appropriation such water or the use of water, or which has not been put, or which has ceased to be put to some useful or beneficial purpose, or which may hereafter be appropriated and ceased to be put, to the useful or beneficial purpose for which it was appropriated, or which in the future may be appropriated and not be, in the process of being put, from the date of the initial act of appropriation, to the useful or beneficial purpose for which it was appropriated, with due diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the work necessary properly to utilize for the purpose of such appropriation such water or the use of water, is hereby declared to be unappropriated. And all waters flowing in any river, stream, canyon, ravine or other natural channel, excepting so far as such waters have been or are being applied to useful and beneficial purposes upon, or in so far as such waters are or may be reasonably needed for useful, and beneficial purposes upon lands riparian thereto, or otherwise appropriated, is and are hereby declared to be public waters of the state of California and subject to appropriation in accordance with the provisions of this act. If any portion of the waters of any stream shall not be put to a useful or beneficial purpose to or upon lands riparian to such stream for any continuous period of ten consecutive years after the passage of this act, such nonapplication shall be deemed to be conclusive presumption that the use of such portions of the waters of such stream is not needed upon said riparian lands for any useful or beneficial purpose; and such portion of the waters of any stream so nonapplied, unless otherwise appropriated for a useful and beneficial purpose is hereby declared to be in the use of the state and subject to appropriation in accordance with the provisions of this act; provided, however, that where there is pending any action or proceeding to condemn any lands riparian to any stream or any rights, powers or privileges to use the waters of any stream upon lands riparian to such stream or to condemn rights essential to use the waters of any stream which action or proceeding was commenced prior to the sixteenth day of June, 1913, said period of ten consecutive years shall be exclusive of the period of time during which such action or proceeding is pending. In any case where a reservoir or reservoirs have been or shall hereafter under the provisions of this act be constructed or surveyed, laid out and proposed to be constructed for the storage of water for a system, which water is to be used at one or more points under appropriations of water heretofore or hereafter made, which appropriations and rights thereunder are now, or shall hereafter be held and owned by the person or corporation owning such reservoir site or sites and constructing such reservoir or reservoirs, such reservoir or reservoirs and appropriations and rights shall, in the discretion of the state water commission, constitute a single enterprise and unit, and work of constructing such reservoir or reservoirs, or any of them, or work on any one of such appropriations shall, in the discretion of said commission, be sufficient to maintain and preserve all such applications for appropriations and rights thereunder. [Amendment of May 11, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 513.]

Time within which water must be applied. Joint use of water when original user is unable to develop full capacity. Pro rata proportion of cost and maintenance. Use of dams, etc., by others.

§ 12. The state water commission shall have authority to, and may, for good cause shown, upon the application of any appropriator or user of water under an appropriation made and maintained according to law prior to the passage of this act, prescribe the time within which the full amount of the water appropriated shall be applied to a useful or beneficial purpose; provided, that said appropriator or user shall have proceeded, with due diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the project, to carry on the work necessary to put the water to a beneficial use; and in determining said time said commission shall grant a reasonable time after the construction of the works or canal or ditch or conduits or storage system used for the diversion, conveyance or storage of water; and in doing so said commission shall also take into consideration the cost of the application of such water to the useful or beneficial purpose, the good faith of the appropriator, the market for water or power to be supplied, the present demand therefor, and the income or use that may be required to provide fair and reasonable returns upon the investment and any other facts or matters pertinent to the inquiry. Upon prescribing such time the state water commission shall issue a certificate showing its determination of the matter. For good cause shown, the state water commission may extend the time by granting further certificates. And, for the time so prescribed or extended, the said appropriator or user shall be deemed to be putting said water to a beneficial use.

And if at any time it shall appear to the state water commission, after a hearing of the parties interested and an investigation, that the full capacity of the works built or constructed, or being built or constructed, under an appropriation of water or the use thereof made under the provisions of this act has not developed or can not develop the full capacity of the stream at the point where said works have been or are being built or constructed, and that the holder of the said appropriation will not or can not, within a period deemed to be reasonable by the commission, develop the said stream at said point to such a capacity as the commission deems to be required by the public good, then and in that case the said commission, in its discretion, may permit the joint occupancy and use, with the holder of the appropriation, to the extent necessary to develop the stream to its full capacity or to such portion of said capacity as may appear to the state water commission to be advisable, by any and all persons, firms, associations, or corporations applying therefor, of any dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions already built or constructed or in process of being built or constructed under this act; provided, that said commission shall take into consideration the reasonable cost of the original and new work, the good faith of the applicant, the market for water or power to be supplied by the original and the new work, and the income or use that may be required to provide fair and reasonable returns upon such cost; provided, further, that the applicant or applicants shall be required to pay to the party or parties owning said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions a pro rata portion of the total cost of the old and the new works, said pro rata portion to be based upon the proportion of the water used by the original and the subsequent users of said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions, if the water is used or to be used for irrigation or domestic purposes; or, if the water is used or to be used for the generation of electricity, or electrical or other power, the said pro rata portion shall be based upon the relative amount of electricity or electrical or other power capable of being developed by the original and the new works; or, if a portion of the water utilized under a joint occupancy of any dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or construction, shall be used for the purpose of irrigation and another portion of said water shall be used for the generation of electricity or electrical or other power, then and in that case the applicant or applicants for joint occupancy shall be required to pay to the party or parties owning said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions a pro rata portion of the total cost of the old and new works, said pro rata portion to be based upon the proportion of the relative amount of water used by each joint occupant and the income derived by each said joint occupant from said joint occupancy; or, if any of the waters used under such joint occupancy shall be utilized for purposes other than those specified above, then and in that case the applicant or applicants for such joint occupancy shall be required to pay to the party or parties owning said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions, such a pro rata portion of the total cost of the old and new works as shall appear to the state water commission to be just and equitable. Said applicant or applicants shall also be required to pay a proper pro rata share, based as above, of the cost of maintaining said dam, tunnel, diversion work, ditch or other works or constructions, on and after beginning the occupancy and use thereof. Furthermore, the state water commission if it appears to the said commission that the full capacity of the works built or constructed, or being built or constructed, under an appropriation of water or the use thereof under this act, will not develop the full capacity of the stream at that point, and it appears to the commission that the public good requires it, and the commission specifically so finds after investigation and hearing of the parties interested, may permit any person, firm, association or corporation to repair, improve, add to, supplement, or enlarge, at his or its proper cost, charge and expense, any dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions already built or constructed or in process of being built or constructed under the provisions of this act, and to use the same jointly with the owners thereof; provided, that the said repairing, improving, adding to, supplementing, or enlarging, shall not materially interfere with the proper use thereof by the owner of said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch, or other works or constructions or shall not materially injure said dam, tunnel, diversion works, ditch or other works or constructions. And the state water commission shall determine the pro rata and other costs provided for in this section.

Adjudication of rights.

§ 13. All rights granted or declared by this act shall be ascertained, adjudicated and determined in the manner and by the tribunals as provided in this act.

Rights bestowed.

§ 14. This act shall not be held to bestow, except as expressly provided in this act, upon any person, firm, association or corporation, any right where no such right existed prior to the time this act takes effect.

Use of unappropriated water.

§ 15. The state water commission shall allow, under the provisions of this act, the appropriation for beneficial purposes of unappropriated water unless, in the opinion of the said commission, such appropriation would be detrimental to the public welfare. [Amendment of April 25, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 194.]

Appropriation of water for use in another state.

§ 15a. The state water commission shall allow the appropriation of water in this state for beneficial use in another state only when, under the laws of the latter, water may be lawfully diverted therein for beneficial use in the state of California. Upon any stream flowing across the state boundary a right of appropriation having the point of diversion and the place of use in another state and recognized by the laws of that state, shall have the same force and effect as if the point of diversion and the place of use were in this state; provided, that the laws of that state give like force and effect to similar rights acquired in this state; provided, that nothing in this act be so construed as to apply to interstate lakes, or streams flowing in or out of such lakes. [New section added May 7, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 284.]

Application for permit. Maps. Change of point of diversion.

§ 16. Every application for a permit to appropriate water shall set forth the name and postoffice address of the applicant, the source of water supply, the nature and amount of the proposed use, the location and description of the proposed headworks, ditch, canal and other works; the proposed place of diversion and the place where it is intended to use the water; the time within which it is proposed to begin construction, the time required for completion of the construction, and the time for the complete application of the water to the proposed use. If for agricultural purposes, the application shall, besides the above general requirements, give the legal subdivisions of the land and the acreage to be irrigated, as near as may be; if for power purposes, it shall give, besides the general requirements prescribed above, the nature of the works by means of which the power is to be developed, the head and amount of water to be utilized, and the use to which the power is to be applied; if for storage in a reservoir, it shall give, in addition to the general requirements prescribed above, the height of dam, the capacity of the reservoir, and the use to be made of the impounded waters; if for municipal water supply, it shall give, besides the general requirements specified above, the present population to be served, and, as near as may be, the future requirements of the city; if for mining purposes, it shall give, in addition to the general requirements prescribed above, the nature and location of the mines to be served and the methods of supplying and utilizing the water. All applications shall be accompanied by as many copies of such maps, drawings, and other data as may be prescribed or required by the state water commission, and such maps, drawings, and other data shall be considered as part of the application. If any committee or licensee, or the heirs, successors, or assigns of any permittee or licensee, desire to change the point of diversion from the point of diversion specified in the original application, or after the granting of any permit or license, such change or changes may be made only upon the permission of the state water commission; provided, that, before granting such permission, such applicant must establish, to the satisfaction of the state water commission, and such commission must so find, that such change in the place of diversion will not operate to the injury of any other appropriator or legal user of such waters before permitting such change in the place of the diversion. Upon receipt of application for permission to make such change in the place of diversion, the commission shall, by order, fix a time within which any person interested may appear in opposition to such application, and such applicant shall, if the commission so require, cause to be published at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the county in which it is situated both the old and new points of diversion, a copy of said order. Proof of such publication shall be by affidavit of the publisher of such newspaper. Should any objection be made to the change in point of diversion so applied for, the state water commission shall fix a time for the hearing of said application and of the objections thereto, which time shall be not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days after the period of said publication, and upon such hearing the said commission shall grant or refuse, as the facts shall warrant, such permission to change place of diversion.

Permit. Priority of right. Amended application.

§ 17. Any person, firm, association or corporation may apply for and secure from the state water commission, in conformity with this act and in conformity with reasonable rules and regulations adopted from time to time by the state water commission, a permit for any unappropriated water or for water which having been appropriated or used flows back into a stream, lake or other body of water within this state. And any application so made shall give to the applicant a priority of right as of the date of said application to such water or the use thereof until such application shall have been approved or rejected by said commission; provided, that such priority shall continue only so long as the provisions of law and the rules and regulations of the water commission shall be followed by the applicant. Upon the approval of any application by the commission, said approval shall give priority of right as of the date of said application, and shall give the right to take and use the amount of water specified in said approval until the issuance by the state water commission of a license for the use of said amount of water, or until the said commission refuses to issue said license. But the approval of any application shall give the right to take and use water only to the extent and for the purpose allowed in said approval; provided, that any defective application made in a bona fide attempt to conform to the rules and regulations of the state water commission and to the law shall secure to the applicant a priority of right as of the date of said application until he shall have been notified by said commission in what respect his application is defective. And said applicant shall be allowed sixty days after notice of said defect in which to file an amended and perfected application. If, within said sixty days, said applicant shall not file an amended and perfected application, said priority of right shall cease and determine, unless for good cause shown the state water commission shall allow said applicant to file a further amended and perfected application; provided, also, that any priority of right secured under this section shall not be effective for more than thirty days after service of notice of such approval, personally or by registered mail, on the applicant, unless within said period of thirty days a true copy of said approval upon which such priority is based shall have been filed in the office of the recorder of the county or city and county in which the water is to be diverted, and, within ten days thereafter, a certificate of such filing by the county recorder is also filed with the state water commission.

Beginning of construction work. Revocation of permit. Review of order.

§ 18. Actual construction work upon any project shall begin within such time after the date of the approval of the application as shall be specified in said approval, which time shall not be less than sixty days from date of said approval, and the construction of the work thereafter shall be prosecuted with due diligence in accordance with this act, the terms of the approved application, and the rules and regulations of said commission; and said work shall be completed in accordance with law, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, and the terms of the approved application and within a period specified in the permit; but the period of completion specified in the permit may, for good cause shown, be extended by the state water commission. And if such work be not so commenced, prosecuted and completed, the water commission shall, after notice in writing and mailed in a sealed, postage-prepaid and registered letter addressed to the applicant at the address given in his application for a permit to appropriate water, and a hearing before the commission, revoke its approval of the application. But any applicant, the approval of whose application shall have been thus revoked, shall have the right to bring an action in the superior court of the county in which is situated the point of proposed diversion of the water for a review of the order of the commission revoking said approval of the application. And thirty days after the revocation of said permit all rights of the said permittee under said permit shall cease and lapse, unless said permittee shall within said thirty days after said revocation bring an action in the superior court for a review of the order of revocation. The priority of right of any permittee so bringing an action shall continue under said permit until a final judgment is rendered as to the reasonableness of the revocation of said permit. But until and unless the revocation of the permit shall be finally decreed by such court, the permittee shall not take or use any of the water the right to take and use which is granted by said permit.

Report on completion of works. License to take water. May refuse license.

§ 19. Immediately upon completion, in accordance with law, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, and the terms of the permit, of the project under such application, the holder of a permit for the right to appropriate water shall report said completion to the state water commission. The said commission shall immediately thereafter cause to be made a full inspection and examination of the works constructed and shall determine whether the construction of said works is in conformity with law, the terms of the approved application, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, and the permit. The said water commission shall, if said determination is favorable to the applicant, issue a license which shall give the right to the diversion of such an amount of water and to the use thereof as may be necessary to fulfill the purpose of the approved application. Said license shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the state water commission under the provisions of this act. But if the said commission shall find, upon inspection and examination of the works constructed, that the construction and condition of said works are not in conformity with the law, the rules and regulations of the state water commission, the terms of the approved application and the terms of the permit, then and in that case the said commission may, after due notice in writing and in the manner provided in sections one thousand and eleven, one thousand and twelve, and one thousand and thirteen of the Code of Civil Procedure to the applicant or the holder of the permit, and a public hearing thereon, refuse to issue said license. And thirty days after the refusal of said commission to issue said license all rights of the applicant and the holder of the permit under said application and permit shall lapse and cease. But the holder of any permit to whom the said water commission may have refused to issue said license, shall have the right to bring an action within thirty days after the said refusal, in the superior court to review said order and to obtain a decree requiring the issuance of such license. And the rights of the holder of any permit so bringing an action shall continue under said permit until the decree in such action has been entered and become final. But until the refusal of the commission to issue said license shall be finally determined by the courts, the permittee shall not take or use any of the water, the taking and using of which is granted to him by said permit. And if the holder of any permit which has been revoked by the state water commission shall not bring an action within said thirty days in the superior court to determine the validity of said revocation, then and in that case all rights of the applicant and of the holder of said permit shall lapse and cease.

Terms and conditions of permits and licenses. City, etc., may purchase works. Determination of price. Grounds for revoking license. Findings of commission prima facie correct. Conditions of accepting permit. Cities first in right. City may become public utility.

§ 20. All permits and licenses for the appropriation of water shall be under the terms and conditions of this act, and shall be effective for such time as the water actually appropriated under such permits and licenses shall actually be used for the useful and beneficial purpose for which said water was appropriated, but no longer; and every such permit or license shall include the enumeration of conditions therein which in substance shall include all of the provisions of this section and likewise the statement that any appropriator of water, to whom said permit or license may be issued, shall take the same subject to such conditions as therein expressed; provided, that at any time after the expiration of twenty years after the granting of a license, the state or any city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district, or any political subdivision of the state shall have the right to purchase the works and property occupied and used under said license and the works built or constructed for the enjoyment of the rights granted under said license; and in the event that the said state, city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district or political subdivision of the state so desiring to purchase and the said owner of said works and property can not agree upon said purchase price, said price shall be determined in such manner as is now or may hereafter be determined in eminent domain proceedings. If it shall appear to the state water commission at any time after a permit or license is issued as in this act provided that the permittee, or licensee, or the heirs, successors, or assigns, of said permittee or licensee, has not put the water granted under said permit or license to the useful or beneficial purpose for which the permit or license was granted, or that the permittee or licensee, or the heirs, successors, or assigns of said permittee or licensee, has ceased to put said water to such useful or beneficial purpose, or that the permittee or licensee, or the heirs, successors or assigns of said permittee or licensee, has failed to observe any of the terms and conditions in the permit or license as issued, then and in that case the said commission, after due notice to the permittee, licensee, or the heirs, successors or assigns of such permittee or licensee, and a hearing thereon, may revoke said permit or license and declare the water to be unappropriated and open to further appropriation in accordance with the terms of this act. The findings and declaration of said commission shall be deemed to be prima facie correct until modified or set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction; provided, that any action brought so to modify or set aside such finding or declaration must be commenced within thirty days after the service of notice of said revocation on said permittee or licensee, his heirs, successors or assigns. And every licensee or permittee under the provisions of this act if he accepts such permit or license shall accept the same under the conditions precedent that no value whatsoever in excess of the actual amount paid to the state therefor shall at any time be assigned to or claimed for any permit or license granted or issued under the provisions of this act, or for any rights granted or acquired under the provisions of this act, in respect to the regulation by any competent public authority of the services or the price of the services to be rendered by any permittee or licensee, his heirs, successors or assigns or by the holder of any rights granted or acquired under the provisions of this act, or in respect to any valuation for purposes of sale or to purchase, whether through condemnation proceedings or otherwise, by the state or any city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district or any political subdivision of the state, of the rights and property of any permittee or licensee, or the possessor of any rights granted, issued, or acquired under the provisions of this act. The application for a permit by municipalities for the use of water for said municipalities or the inhabitants thereof for domestic purposes shall be considered first in right, irrespective of whether they are first in time; provided, however, that such application for a permit or the granting thereafter of permission to any municipality to appropriate waters, shall not authorize the appropriation of any water for other than municipal purposes; and providing, further, that where permission to appropriate is granted by the state water commission to any municipality for any quantity of water in excess of the existing municipal needs therefor, that pending the application of the entire appropriation permitted, the state water commission shall have the power to issue permits for the temporary appropriation of the excess of such permitted appropriation over and above the quantity being applied from time to time by such municipality; and providing, further, that in lieu of the granting of such temporary permits for appropriation, the state water commission may authorize such municipality to become as to such surplus a public utility, subject to the jurisdiction and control of the railroad commission of the state of California for such period or periods from and after the date of the issuance of such permission to appropriate, as may be allowed for the application to municipal uses of the entire appropriation permitted; and provided, further, that when such municipality shall desire to use the additional water granted in its said application it may do so upon making just compensation for the facilities for taking, conveying and storing such additional water rendered valueless for said purposes, to the person, firm or corporation which constructed said facilities for the temporary use of said excess waters, and which compensation, if not agreed upon between the municipality and said person, firm or corporation, may be determined in the manner provided by law for determining the value of property taken by and through eminent domain proceedings. [Amendment of May 19, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 746.]

Water not used for three years.

§ 20a. When the party entitled to the use of water fails to beneficially use all or any part of the water claimed by him, for which a right of use has vested, for the purpose for which it was appropriated or adjudicated, for a period of three years, such unused water shall revert to the public and shall be regarded as unappropriated public water. [New section added May 19, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 748.]

Right to acquire by eminent domain proceedings.

§ 21. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive the state or any city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district or political subdivision of the state, or any person, company or corporation of any rights which, under the law of this state they may have, to acquire property by or through eminent domain proceedings.

Right to impose fees.

§ 22. Licenses hereafter granted for water or use of water shall be subject to the right of the state to impose the fees and charges provided in this act.

Fee. For electrical power. For agricultural purposes.

§ 23. Every person, firm, association or corporation making application for a permit to appropriate water or the use of water under this act shall pay to the state water commission, at the time of filing said application, a filing fee in the sum of five dollars, and, upon the issue of a permit, the additional fee, if the purpose or use is for the generation of electricity or electrical or other power, of ten cents for each theoretical horsepower capable of being developed by the works up to and including one hundred theoretical horsepower, of five cents for each horsepower in excess of one hundred theoretical horsepower up to and including one thousand theoretical horsepower, and of one cent for each theoretical horsepower in excess of one thousand theoretical horsepower; also, if for agricultural purposes, of five cents for each acre of land to be irrigated by means of said appropriation to and including one hundred acres, of three cents per acre for each acre in excess of one hundred acres up to and including one thousand acres, and of two cents for each acre over one thousand acres. All fees shall forthwith be paid into the state treasury by the state water commission. No fee shall be required from any person, firm, association, or corporation exempt by any law of the state of California from the payment of such fee. [Amendment of April 25, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 195.]

Water commission may act as referee.

§ 24. In case suit is brought in the superior court for determination of rights to water or the use of water, the case may, in the discretion of the court, be transferred to the state water commission for investigation, as referee. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, p. 231.]

Determination of water rights by commission.

§ 25. Upon its own initiative or upon petition signed by one or more claimants to water or the use of water upon any stream, stream system, lake, or other body of water, all of which sources of supply are hereinafter referred to as "stream system," requesting the determination of rights, based upon prior appropriation, of the various claimants to the water of that stream system, it shall be the duty of the state water commission, if, upon investigation, it finds the facts and conditions are such as to justify, to enter an order granting said petition and to make proper arrangements to proceed with such determination. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 231.]

Notice of order. Publication.

§ 26. As soon as practicable after the state water commission shall make and enter the order granting the said petition or selecting the stream system upon which the determination of water rights by appropriation is to begin, it shall prepare a notice setting forth the fact of the entry of said order and of the pendency of the said proceedings, the date when the state water commission shall begin said examination, and that all claimants to rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system are required, as in this act provided, to make proof of their claims. The notice shall be published for a period of four consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in each county in which any part of said stream system is situated. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 231.]

Investigation of flow of stream system, etc. Surveys and maps.

§ 27. At the time set in said notice, the state water commission shall begin an investigation of the flow of the stream system and of the conduits diverting water, and of the lands irrigated or irrigable therefrom, and shall gather such other data and information as may be essential to the proper determination of the water rights by appropriation. It shall reduce its observations, data, information and measurements to writing. It shall execute surveys and shall prepare maps from the observations of such surveys in accordance with such uniform rules and regulations as it may adopt; which surveys and maps shall show with substantial accuracy the course of the stream or streams; the location of each conduit diverting water therefrom, land irrigated and capable of being irrigated by each conduit, and the kind of culture upon the irrigated land. The maps shall be prepared as the surveys and observations progress, and, when completed, it shall be filed and made of record in the office of the state water commission. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

Notice of time for filing proofs. Publication.

§ 28. Upon the completion of such measurements and maps, and the filing of said observations, data, information and measurements, the state water commission shall prepare a notice setting forth the date, prior to which the proofs, to be furnished by claimants upon forms supplied by the state water commission and more specifically referred to in the next section hereof, as to the rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, shall be filed; provided, however, that the date set, prior to which said proofs must be filed, shall not be less than sixty days from the date of the last publication of said notice as hereinafter provided. The notice shall be deemed to be an order of the state water commission as to its contents, and it shall be published by the state water commission for a period of four consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in each county in which any part of said stream system is situated. At or near the time of the first publication of said notice it shall be the duty of the state water commission to send by registered mail to each claimant to rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, in so far as such claimant can be reasonably ascertained at his last known place of address, a notice equivalent in terms to the said published notice. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

Forms to be sent claimant.

§ 29. The state water commission shall, in addition, enclose with the notice to be mailed as aforesaid, blank forms, proofs of appropriation, upon which said claimant shall proceed in writing all particulars necessary for the determination of his right by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, the said statement to include the following:

- (a) The name and postoffice address of the claimant.

- (b) The nature of the right or use on which the claim for appropriation is based.
- (c) The date of the initiation of such right and a description of works of diversion and distribution.
- (d) The date of beginning of construction.
- (e) The date when completed.
- (f) The dates of beginning and completion of enlargements.
- (g) The dimensions of the ditch as originally constructed and enlarged.
- (h) The date when water was first used for irrigation or other beneficial purposes, and if used for irrigation, the amount of land irrigated the first year, the amount in subsequent years, with the dates of irrigation and the area and the location of the lands which are intended to be irrigated.
- (i) The character of the soil and the kind of crops cultivated, and such other facts as will show the extent and nature of the right and a compliance with the law in acquiring the same, as may be required by the state water commission. Each claimant shall be required to certify to his statements, under oath. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

Determination of right on failure to make proof.

§ 30. After the date fixed for the filing of proofs, no proofs shall be received or filed with the state water commission; provided, however, that the state water commission may, for cause shown, in its discretion, extend the time in which proofs may be filed. Upon neglect or refusal of any person to make proof of his claim to rights by appropriation of the waters of such stream system, as required by this act, prior to the expiration of the period fixed by the state water commission, during which proofs may be filed, the state water commission shall determine the right by appropriation of such person on such evidence as it may obtain or may have on file in its office in the way of maps, plats, surveys and transcripts; and exceptions to such determination may be filed in court as hereinafter provided. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 233.]

Petition to intervene in proceedings.

§ 31. Any claimant of a right by appropriation of the water of any stream system upon whom no service of notice shall have been had of the pendency of proceedings for the determination of the rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, and who shall have had no actual knowledge or notice of the pendency of said proceedings, may at any time prior to the expiration of three months after the entry of the determination of the state water commission, as provided in section thirteen of this act, file a petition to intervene in said proceedings. Such petition shall be under oath and shall contain, among other things, all matters required by this act of claimants, who have been duly served with notice of said proceedings, and also a statement that the intervener had no actual knowledge or notice of the pendency of said proceedings. Upon the filing of said petition in intervention, the petitioner shall be allowed to intervene and thereafter shall have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of the claimants who have been duly served. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 233.]

Fees collected from claimants.

§ 32. At the time of submission of proof of appropriation, the state water commission shall collect from such claimants, on the basis of the statements in the proofs, a fee of fifteen cents for each acre of irrigated or irrigable lands up to and including one hundred acres, ten cents for each acre in excess of one hundred acres and up to and including one thousand acres, and five cents per acre for each acre in excess of one thousand acres; also twenty-five cents for each theoretical horsepower up to and including one hundred horsepower, fifteen cents for each theoretical horsepower in excess of one hundred horsepower and up to and including one thousand horsepower, and five cents for each theoretical horsepower in excess of one thousand horsepower; also five (5) dollars for each cubic foot per second, or fraction thereof, claimed for any purpose other than irrigation or power; the minimum fee however, for any claimant to be five (5) dollars. All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid, at least once each month, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 234.]

Printed abstract of proofs. Inspection.

§ 33. As soon as practicable after the expiration of the period fixed in which proofs may be filed, the state water commission shall assemble all proofs which have been filed, and prepare and certify an abstract of all of the said proofs, which shall be printed in the state printing office. As soon as practicable the state water commission shall prepare a notice fixing and setting a time and place, reasonably convenient to the claimants, when and where the evidence taken by or filed with it shall be open to the inspection of all interested persons, said period of inspection to be not less than ten (10) days, which notice shall be deemed to be an order of the state water commission as to the matters contained therein. A copy of said notice, together with a printed copy of the said abstract of proofs, shall be sent by registered mail, at least fifteen (15) days prior to the first day of such period of inspection, to each claimant who has appeared and filed proof as herein provided. A representative of the state water commission shall be present at the time and place designated in said notice, and allow, during said period, any person interested to inspect such evidence and proofs as have been filed in accordance with this act. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 234.]

Contest of statements and proofs of claims.

§ 34. Should any claimant desire to contest any of the statements and proofs of claims filed with the state water commission by any other claimant to the waters of the stream system, he shall, within fifteen (15) days after said evidence and proofs shall have been opened to public inspection, or within such further time as for good cause shown may be allowed by the state water commission upon application made prior to the expiration of said fifteen (15) days, in writing, notify the state water commission, stating with reasonable certainty the grounds of the proposed contest, which statement shall be verified by the affidavit of the contestant, his agent or attorney. The statements or proofs of the person whose rights are contested and the verified statement of the contestant shall be deemed sufficient to constitute a proper cause for such contest. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 234.]

Hearing of contest. Costs.

§ 35. Within ten (10) days after the receipt of the notice of contest the state water commission shall notify by registered mail the contestant and the claimant whose rights are contested to appear before it at a time and place specified in said notice, and that at said time and place said contest will be heard; provided, that said time shall not be less than fifteen (15) days nor more than sixty (60) days from the date of the mailing of the notice of the commission. The state water commission shall have power to adjourn hearings of contests from time to time upon reasonable notice to all parties in interest, and to issue subpoenas for and compel the attendance of witnesses to testify before it and to produce papers, books, maps, and other documents. The costs of taking testimony at a hearing shall be borne by the parties thereto as follows: each party shall pay for the direct examination of his own witness and the cross-examination of opponent's witness and shall share equally for that part of the examination directed by the representative of the commission. One copy of the transcript of testimony taken at the hearing shall be furnished to the commission and the cost thereof borne equally by the parties. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 235.]

Order of determination.

§ 36. As soon as practicable after the hearing of contests, it shall be the duty of the state water commission to make, and cause to be entered of record in its office, an order determining and establishing the several rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream; provided, however, that within sixty (60) days after the entry of an order establishing water rights, the state water commission may, for good cause shown, reopen the proceedings and grant a rehearing. Such order and determination shall be prepared, and after certification by the state water commission, printed in the state printing office. A copy of said order of determination shall be sent by registered mail to each person who has filed proof of claim, and to each person who has become interested through intervention or as a contestant under the provisions of section eight or section eleven of this act. [Amendment of May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 235.]

Filing of order, etc., with clerk of superior court. Order setting time for hearing.

§ 36a. As soon as practicable, after the entry of the order of determination, a certified copy thereof, together with the original evidence and transcript of testimony filed with, or taken before the state water commission, as aforesaid, duly certified by it, shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said stream system, or any part thereof, is situated. Upon the filing of the certified copy of said order, evidence, and transcript with the clerk of the court in which the proceedings are to be had, the state water commission shall procure an order from said court setting a time for hearing. The clerk of such court shall immediately furnish the state water commission with a certified copy of said order. It shall be the duty of the state water commission immediately thereupon to mail a copy of such certified order of the court, by registered mail, addressed to each known party in interest at his last known place of residence, and to cause the same to be published at least once a week for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which such stream system or any part thereof is located, and the state water commission shall file with the clerk of the court proof of such service by registered mail and by publication. Such service by registered mail and by publication shall be deemed full and sufficient notice to all parties in interest of the date and purpose of such hearing. [New section added May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

Filing of notice of exceptions. Decree affirming order. Hearing of exceptions. When state a party.

§ 36b. At least ten days prior to the day set for hearing, all parties in interest who are aggrieved or dissatisfied with the order of determination of the state water commission shall file with the clerk of said court notice of exceptions to the order of determination of the state water commission, which notice shall state briefly the exceptions taken, the reasons therefor, and the prayer for relief, and a copy thereof shall be transmitted by registered mail at least ten (10) days prior to such hearing, to the state water commission and to each claimant, who was an adverse party to any contest wherein such exceptor was a party in the proceedings. The order of determination by the state water commission and the statements or claims of claimants and exceptions made to the order of determination shall constitute the pleadings but the court may allow such additional or amended pleadings as may be necessary to a final determination of the proceeding. If no exceptions shall have been filed with the clerk of the court as aforesaid, then on the day set for the hearing, on motion of the state water commission, or its attorney, the court shall enter a decree affirming said order of determination. On the day set for hearing all parties in interest who have filed notices of exceptions as aforesaid shall appear in person, or by counsel, and it shall be the duty of the court to hear the same or set the time for hearing, until such exceptions are disposed of, and all proceedings thereunder shall be as nearly as may be in accordance with the rules governing civil actions. Whenever in the judgment of the court the state is a necessary party to the action, the court shall make an order to that effect and thereupon a copy of all pleadings and proceedings on file with the court in said matter shall be served upon the attorney general who shall represent the state therein. [New section added May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

Decree determining right of all persons involved. Appeals.

§ 36c. For further information on any subject in controversy, the court may employ one or more qualified persons to investigate and report thereon under oath, subject to examination by any party in interest as to his competency to give expert testimony thereon. The court may take additional evidence on any issue and may, if necessary, refer the case for such further evidence to be taken by the state water commission as it may direct, and may require a further determination by it. After the hearing, the court shall enter a decree determining the right of all persons involved in such proceeding. Said decree shall in every case declare as to the water right by appropriation adjudged to each party, the extent, priority, amount, purpose of use, point of diversion, and place of use of said water; and as to water used for irrigation, such decree shall also declare the specific tracts of land to which it shall be appurtenant, together with such other conditions as may be necessary to define the right and its priority. Upon the hearing the court may assess and adjudge against any party such costs as it may deem just. Appeals from such decree may be taken to the supreme court by the state water commission or any part in interest, in the same manner and with the same effect as in civil cases. [New section added May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 237.]

Decree filed with county recorder. Certificate to claimant.

§ 36d. A certified copy of the decree of the superior court shall be prepared by the clerk thereof, without charge, and filed for record in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any part of the stream system is situated and also in the office of the state water commission. It shall be the duty of the state water commission to issue to each claimant represented in such determination a certificate to be signed by the president of the state water commission, and attested under seal of the secretary of said commission, setting forth the name and post-office address of the owner of the right; the priority of the date, extent and purpose of such right; and, if such water be for irrigation purposes, a description of the legal subdivisions of land to which said water is appurtenant. [New section added May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 237.]

Claimant failing to appear forfeits rights.

§ 36e. Whenever proceedings shall be instituted for the determination of rights by appropriation of water, it shall be the duty of all claimants interested therein and having notice thereof as in this act provided, to appear and submit proof of their respective claims at the time and in the manner required by law; and any such claimant who shall fail to appear in such proceedings and submit proof of his claim shall be barred and estopped from subsequently asserting any rights theretofore acquired upon the stream system, embraced in such proceedings, and shall be held to have forfeited all rights by appropriation to said water theretofore claimed by him on such stream system, unless entitled to relief under the laws of this state; provided, that such proceedings shall result in a determination by the state water commission and a decree by the superior court determining the rights on such stream. Such decree shall be conclusive as to the rights by appropriation of all existing claimants upon the stream system lawfully embraced in the determination. [New section added May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 237.]

Determination of rights initiated prior to December 19, 1914. Review of findings.

§ 36f. The state water commission shall have authority and power in making a determination as to the rights by appropriation of the waters of any stream system, to fix a time limit for the completion of all appropriations of water from such stream, where such rights of appropriations were initiated prior to December 19, 1914, and since prosecuted with reasonable diligence, and such appropriators having been duly notified as provided in this act, must appear and submit their proofs of claim, in accordance with section twenty-eight of this act, or they shall be deemed and held to be in default, and to have abandoned or to have no right, title or interest in or to the waters of such stream. In determining rights of such appropriators, the state water commission shall prescribe such a reasonable time for the completion of such appropriations, and the application of the water appropriated to a beneficial use, as will enable such appropriators acting in good faith and with due diligence to complete the same. The findings of the state water commission shall provide for the submission of proof or evidence as to the completion of such appropriation and the amount of water actually applied to beneficial use upon the expiration of such time limit, and shall, in accordance with such proof, enter supplemental findings, establishing and determining such rights of appropriation, in so far as the same shall have been completed; and certificates of water right shall be issued in accordance with such supplemental findings and order of determination of said commission; but this section shall not be construed to confer any rights of appropriation upon parties who shall have abandoned their said appropriations or failed to use due diligence in the application of the water to a beneficial use and in the completion of their appropriations; and all such appropriators, who shall fail to complete their said appropriations within the limit of time fixed by the state water commission in said findings, or such further time granted upon application made prior to the expiration of such time limit, as the state water commission shall find equitable and just, shall be deemed to have abandoned their rights of appropriation, and rights acquired by virtue thereof waived, and such appropriators shall be deemed and held to have no right, title or interest in or to the waters of such stream by virtue of their said appropriations. The findings and determination of the state water commission made under the provisions of this section may be reviewed in the manner prescribed by section thirty-six b of this act. [New section added May 5, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 238.]

Power to supervise distribution of water.

§ 37. The power to supervise the distribution of water in accordance with the priorities established under this act, when such supervision does not contravene the authority vested in the judiciary of the state, is hereby vested in the state water commission.

Unauthorized diversion, trespass.

§ 38. The diversion or use of water subject to the provisions of this act other than as it is in this act authorized is hereby declared to be a trespass, and the state water commission is hereby authorized to institute in the superior court in and for any county wherein such diversion or use is attempted appropriate action to have such trespass enjoined.

Water appropriated for specific purpose.

§ 39. Water or the use of water which has heretofore been appropriated or acquired, or which shall hereafter be appropriated or acquired for one specific purpose shall not be deemed to be appropriated or acquired for any other or different purpose. And any person, firm, association or corporation applying to the state water commission for a license to appropriate water or the use of water shall state in the application for said license the specific purpose to which it is proposed to put such water or the use thereof. Water heretofore or hereafter appropriated for other than domestic use, may be applied to domestic use, in whole or in part, without a separate and distinct appropriation being made therefor. And water appropriated for one purpose under the provisions of this act may be subsequently appropriated for other purposes under the provisions of this act; provided, that such subsequent appropriation shall not injure any previous appropriation.

Reservoir investigation.

§ 40. The state water commission is also authorized and empowered to investigate any natural situation available for reservoirs or reservoir systems for gathering and distributing flood or other waters not under beneficial use in any stream, stream system or lake or other body of water; and to ascertain the feasibility of such projects, including the supply of water that may thereby be made available, the extent and character of the areas that may be thereby irrigated, and make estimate of the cost of such project.

Rights of cities, etc., not limited.

§ 41. Nothing in this act shall be construed as depriving any city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district or lighting district of the benefit of any law heretofore or hereafter passed for their benefit in regard to the appropriation or acquisition of water or the use of water; and nothing in this act shall affect or limit in any manner whatsoever the right or power of any municipality which has heretofore appropriated or acquired water or the use of water for municipal purposes, to use or to sell or otherwise dispose of such water or the use thereof, either within or without its limits for domestic, irrigation or other purposes, in accordance with laws in effect at the time of the passage of this act.

“Water.” “Usefulness or beneficial purposes.”

§ 42. The word “water” in this act shall be construed as embracing the term “or use of water”; and the term “or use of water” in this act shall be construed as embracing the word “water.” Whenever the terms stream, stream system, lake or other body of water or water occurs in this act, such term shall be interpreted to refer only to surface water, and to subterranean streams flowing through known and definite channels. But nothing in this act shall be construed as giving or confirming any right, or title, or interest to or in the corpus of any water; provided, that the term “useful or beneficial purposes” as used in this act shall not be construed to mean the use in any one year of more than two and one-half acre feet of water per acre in the irrigation of uncultivated areas of land not devoted to cultivated crops.

Right of appeal.

§ 43. Nothing in this act shall be construed as depriving any person, firm, association or corporation of the right of appeal conferred under the laws of this state.

Repealed.

§ 44. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Title of act.

§ 45. This act shall be known as the "water commission act."

Constitutionality of act.

§ 46. If any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, sub-section, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, sub-sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

1. Public use—Water for electric energy.
—The use of water for electrical energy is a public use.—El Dorado, etc., Ass'n v. Western, etc., Co., 1 R. C. D. 681.

2. Same—Can not lawfully be converted into private use.—Water dedicated to a public use can not lawfully be converted into a private use so as to create a private pref-erential right thereto for the benefit of a specific parcel of land; but no such conversion is attempted in the articles and by-laws of a company which provide that the certificates of its stock shall be transferable only with the land to which they are attached.—Riverside Land Co. v. Jarvis, 174 Cal. 316, 324, 163 Pac. 54.

REGULATION OF THE SALE, RENTAL AND DISTRIBUTION OF APPROPRIATED WATER.

ACT 5498—An act to regulate and control the sale, rental, and distribution of appropriated water in this state, other than in any city, city and county, or town therein, and to secure the rights of way for the conveyance of such water to the places of use.

History: Approved March 12, 1885, Stats. 1885, p. 95. Amended March 2, 1897, Stats. 1897, p. 49; February 28, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 80. Prior act of March 26, 1880, Stats. 1880, p. 16, was largely, if not entirely, superseded by the present act. The present act is probably not now in force in any particular, having been largely, if not entirely, superseded by the Public Utilities Act (Act 3775), which became effective March 23, 1912, supplemented by the act of April 25, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 84 (Act 5500), which became effective August 10, 1913.

REGULATION OF WATER COMPANIES BY THE RAILROAD COMMISSION.

ACT 5500—An act providing for the regulation of water companies, defining their powers and duties, defining the powers and duties of the railroad commission with reference thereto, and defining the conditions under which such water companies become subject to the provisions of the public utilities act and the railroad commission of the state of California.

History: Approved April 25, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 84.

Water company public utility.

§ 1. Whenever any person, firm or private corporation, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any water system within this state, sells, leases, rents or delivers water to any person, firm, private corporation, municipality or any other political subdivision of the state whatsoever, except as limited by section 2 hereof, whether under contract or otherwise, such person, firm or private corporation is a public utility, and subject to the provisions of the public utilities act of this state and the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the railroad commission of the state of California.

Private company not public utility.

§ 2. Whenever any private corporation or association is organized for the purpose solely of delivering water to its stockholders or members at cost, and delivers water to no one except its stockholders or members at cost, such private corporation or association is not a public utility, and is not subject to the jurisdiction, control or regulation of the railroad commission of the state of California.

When private company becomes public utility.

§ 3. Whenever any private corporation or association organized for the purpose of delivering water solely to its stockholders or members at cost does deliver water to others than its stockholders or members for compensation, such private corporation or association becomes a public utility and is subject to the terms of the public utilities act and the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the railroad commission of the state of California.

Private company, public utility.

§ 4. Whenever any private corporation or association is organized both for the purpose of delivering water to its stockholders or members at cost and to persons, firms, corporations, municipalities or other political subdivisions of the state in addition thereto, such private corporation or association is a public utility and subject to the provisions of the public utilities act and to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the railroad commission of the state of California.

Limitation on service of water company.

§ 5. Whenever the railroad commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that any water company which is a public utility operating within this state has reached the limit of its capacity to supply water and that no further consumers of water can be supplied from the system of such utility without injuriously withdrawing the supply wholly or in part from those who have theretofore been supplied by such corporation, the railroad commission may order and require that no such corporation shall furnish water to any new or additional consumers until such order is vacated or modified by the said commission. The commission shall likewise have the power after hearing upon its own motion or upon complaint, to require any such water company to allow additional consumers to be served when it shall appear that to supply such additional consumers will not injuriously withdraw the supply wholly or in part from those who theretofore had been supplied by such public utility.

Report to railroad commission.

§ 6. The railroad commission shall have the power to require any and all water corporations to file with the commission a statement in writing defining and describing the lands and territory to be supplied by such corporation with water, and when such territory is described and defined in the articles of incorporation of any such corporation or in the places of designated use in the notices of appropriation under which the rights of such corporation to appropriated water are initiated in accordance with section 1415 of the Civil Code, and it shall appear either from said statement filed by such water corporation or from said articles of incorporation or said notices of appropriation that such water corporation has undertaken to supply more consumers or a greater number of acres than it can adequately supply, the commission may require such corporation to limit the number of consumers or acres of land which it has undertaken to supply or which is set out in its articles of incorporation or notices of appropriation to such a limited number of consumers or acres of land as the commission shall find, after hearing, such water corporation may adequately supply. This provision does not apply to territory or consumers which have once been served by said corporation, and as between consumers who have been voluntarily admitted to participate by the corporation in its supply of water or been required to be supplied by an order of the railroad commission, in times of shortage there shall be no priority or preference, and such corporation in times of shortage shall be required to apportion such supply ratably among its consumers.

Language construed.

§ 7. The language in section 1 of this act "whether under contract or otherwise" shall not be construed as authorizing a contract by a person or corporation defined herein as a public utility which shall in anywise deprive the state or the railroad commission or other competent authority of power to regulate the rates and service of any such public utility.

Water company a public utility.—A water company which sells water to others than its stockholders, is a public utility, and subject to the jurisdiction of the commission.—In re Citizens Water Company, 16 R. C. D. 950.

Mutual water company—Jurisdiction of railroad commission.—A water company whose by-laws provide that water shall be delivered to stockholders only, and whose officers have strictly followed this policy, is not a public utility, but a mutual water company, and the commission has no jurisdiction over it.—Clark v. Tulare, etc., Co., 16 R. C. D. 624.

Public utility and consumer—When relationship established.—The relationship of public utility water company and consumer is established when the obligation on the part of the company to supply, and the obligation on the part of the prospective consumer to take the water, arises.—Butte, etc., Ass'n v. Railroad Commission, 61 Cal. Dec. 316, 196 Pac. 265.

Right of water company to take on new consumers.—A water company has no right to take on new consumers to the necessary injury of its old ones, but with this limitation, and the absence of statute or order of the railroad commission, it has the general power to take on new consumers.—Butte, etc., Ass'n v. Railroad Commission, 61 Cal. Dec. 316, 196 Pac. 265.

Act of 1880 superseded.—This act covers the subject and supersedes most of the provisions of the act of 1880 (Stats. 1880, p. 16).—Fresno, etc., Co. v. Park, 129 Cal. 437, 62 Pac. 87.

Scope of act—Power of supervisors.—The act gives power of regulation to boards of supervisors in the event they are petitioned to exercise such power by 25,000 inhabitants who are taxpayers.—Fresno, etc., Co. v. Park, 129 Cal. 437, 62 Pac. 87.

Legality of contract for less than maximum rates.—The act does not make it illegal to contract for less than the maximum rates therein fixed.—Fresno, etc., Co. v. Park, 129 Cal. 437, 62 Pac. 87.

Until supervisors fix rates, customary rates continue.—Under the act, until compensation shall be fixed by the supervisors, persons selling water shall continue to collect as they have been accustomed to do.—Fresno, etc., Co. v. Park, 129 Cal. 437, 62 Pac. 87.

Contract for water.—See Stanislaus Water Co. v. Bachman, 152 Cal. 716, 15 L. R. A. (N. S.) 359, 93 Pac. 858.

Power of commission to change contract rates.—The railroad commission is empowered to fix the rates of water companies without regard to their contracts with consumers, whether entered into prior or subsequent to the amendments of 1911 of the constitution and the effective date of the public utilities act.—In re Murray & Fletcher, 2 R. C. D. 464.

Maximum rates—Power of supervisors under act of 1885.—Under the act of 1885 boards of supervisors were empowered only to fix maximum rates, and until they had fixed such rates the parties were free to contract, and after they had fixed such rates the parties were free to contract within the same.—In re Murray & Fletcher, 2 R. C. D. 464.

Function of rate contract.—The sole function of a rate contract between a water company and a consumer is to fix the relationship of the parties before the public authorities shall have acted, and in addition thereto, probably, such contract would have the effect, as to the land involved, "to establish its status as land permanently entitled to share in the public use."—In re Murray & Fletcher, 2 R. C. D. 464.

Power of commission—New consumers.—The public utilities act gives the commission ample power to require a water company to take on new consumers, or to prevent such action, as the public convenience and necessity will be best served.—Palmer v. Southern, etc., Co., 2 R. C. D. 43.

Same—Same.—The action of the commission depends upon the reasonableness of the request under the particular circumstances of the case.—Palmer v. Southern, etc., Co., 2 R. C. D. 43.

Same—Same—Another available supply.—The fact that a prospective consumer has another available supply is material and should be considered.—Palmer v. Southern, etc., Co., 2 R. C. D. 43.

Charge for water right in addition to rental charge, can not be made.—A water company has no right to exact a charge from its consumer for water rights in addition to the regular rates for service.—In re Murray & Fletcher, 7 R. C. D. 334.

Suit by a water user—Claim of public use—Judgment in condemnation of right of way admissible in evidence.—A judgment in a condemnation suit for a right of way for a ditch by a water company, is admissible in evidence in a suit by a water user in support of the claim that such company is exercising a public use.—Lowe v. Yolo, etc., Co., 157 Cal. 503, 108 Pac. 297.

1. Constitutional law—Superseded by constitution and public utilities act.—Prior to March 23, 1912, the rental and distribution of water, outside of municipalities, was subject to regulation by county boards of supervisors under provisions of the act of 1885, and article XIV of the constitution; but the powers of such boards was conferred on the railroad commission and enlarged by the 1911 amendments to the constitution, and by the public utilities act, which became effective on the date first above named.—In re Murray & Fletcher, 2 R. C. D. 464.

2. Same—Apportionment of water in time of shortage.—The provision of the act that there shall be no priority or preference between the consumers of a water company in time of shortage, and directing the company to apportion the supply ratable, is constitutional.—Butte, etc., Ass'n v. Railroad Commission, 61 Cal. Dec. 316, 196 Pac. 265.

3. Same—Same—Order of commission held valid.—An order of the railroad commission requiring a water company to pro rate its available supply between its customers, in the event of a shortage, is valid.—Butte, etc., Ass'n v. Railroad Commission, 61 Cal. Dec. 316, 196 Pac. 265.

4. Same—Exercise of right to collect compensation for use of water—Section 2, article XIV, of the constitution—Statute must be followed.—Under the provisions of section 2 of article XIV of the constitution, means that if the legislature shall by statute, prescribe the particular manner in which the right to collect compensation for the use of water, that manner, if it be reasonable, must be followed if consumers insist on it.—Fresno, etc., Co. v. Park, 129 Cal. 437, 62 Pac. 87.

5. Same—Same—In absence of statute.—In the absence of statute, the phrase "by authority of law" in that section, means by the authority of the general substantive law of the state, whereon all rights of property, and its use, are enjoyed.—Fresno, etc., Co. v. Park, 129 Cal. 437, 62 Pac. 87.

6. Same—Use of water—Public use—Constitutional construction.—The provision of section 1, article XIV, of the constitution declaring that "the use of all water appropriated for sale, rental, or distribution" is a public use, does not cover the proposition that all water which is distributed among a number of persons is, from that fact alone, to be considered as devoted to a public use.—Hildreth v. Montecito, etc., Co., 139 Cal. 22, 72 Pac. 395.

7. Same—Same—Nature of right.—The beneficiaries of water in public use within the meaning of the constitution have no private property right therein, in the usual sense; but his right is in the nature of a public right possessed by him as a person of the class for whose benefit the water is appropriated or dedicated.—Hildreth v. Montecito, etc., Co., 139 Cal. 22, 72 Pac. 395.

8. Same—Same—Showing required of the beneficiary of such use.—If a person, claiming to be a beneficiary of the public use of water, asks the court to protect him in the enjoyment of his right as such beneficiary, against the person in charge of such use, he must show that such person has the ownership or control of the water which is subject thereto.—Hildreth v. Montecito, etc., Co., 139 Cal. 22, 72 Pac. 395.

9. Same—Same—Same—Insufficient complaint.—A complaint of a person claiming to be the beneficiary of a public use of water against the person alleged to be in control thereof, which merely alleges the ownership and control by the defendant of a system of water works, without also alleging that defendant owns or controls or has the right to control any water, or that the particular water had been appropriated and dedicated to public use by the defendant, or that the water remains subject to such use, is defective.—Hildreth v. Montecito, etc., Co., 139 Cal. 22, 72 Pac. 395.

10. Same—Same—Water held devoted to public use.—Under section 1, article XIV, of the constitution and sections 1, 8, and 10 of the present act, the use to which water obtained from the Moulton land within the city of Los Angeles, by the East Side Spring Water Co., in the manner and under the circumstances shown here, was a public use, and its sale and distribution subject to public control under the act.—Fellows v. Los Angeles, 151 Cal. 52, 90 Pac. 137.

11. Same—Same—Company required to distribute at rates fixed.—Under sections 8 and 10 of the act, corporations or persons engaged in furnishing water to the inhabitants of any county which have appropriated water to that use (other than to the inhabitants of a city, or town, or city and county), are required to distribute such water at the rates fixed by the board of supervisors of the county, or as fixed by the corporation or person, and, upon tender of such rates and demand therefor by any inhabitant who is entitled to water from such system, such person or corporation is under an obligation and duty to supply such inhabitant with water to the extent of his reasonable share of the available supply belonging to the system.—Fellows v. Los Angeles, 151 Cal. 52, 90 Pac. 137.

12. Same—Same—Same—Exception of section 10—"Appropriation."—The exception in section 10 of the act as cities, etc., is not construed so as to apply to water used outside of municipalities, but having its source within the same; and the word "appropriation" therein refers to the place of use and not to the place of the source of supply.—Fellows v. Los Angeles, 151 Cal. 52, 90 Pac. 137.

13. Same—Same—Same—Same.—If the place of distribution and use is outside of a municipality, the provisions of the act apply, although the supply of water may be obtained from a natural source situated within the limits of the municipality.—Fellows v. Los Angeles, 151 Cal. 52, 90 Pac. 137.

14. Same—Same—A private contract is not necessary.—It is not necessary to establish an agreement establishing a private obligation between a beneficiary of the public use of water and the administrator of that use, to entitle the former to compel the latter to furnish water to his property.—Fellows v. Los Angeles, 151 Cal. 52, 90 Pac. 137.

15. Same—Same—Continuance of service—Use administered by municipality.—If a proper demand, by a person entitled to water devoted to a public use, is made upon the administrator of that use, for a continuance of the service thereof, the latter must either comply or permit the use of the property and plant in previous use and necessary for the service, by the demandant, or by the person beneficially interested, to the end that he, or they, may continue to devote the property to the public service to which it is dedicated; and it matters not that the water has passed into the control of a municipality, and the place of use of the water is outside its limits.—Fellows v. Los Angeles, 151 Cal. 52, 90 Pac. 137.

16. Same—Power to fix rates of water companies is police power.—The power to fix the rates of a water company is in the nature of the police power; at least it is the power of government to control property devoted to a public use.—In re Murray Fletcher, 2 R. C. D. 464.

17. Same—Rates fixed by contract—Subject to change by state.—The right of a water company to fix a rate for water service by contract is subject to the power of the state to substitute a rate fixed by its duly constituted authorities for the contract rate.—In re Murray & Fletcher, 2 R. C. D. 464.

18. Public use, defined—Water for irrigation.—It is an essential to a public use of water for irrigation that the water shall be available, as of right, upon equal terms to all landowners of the class and within the area to be benefited who can get the water from the ditches to their land, and if the dispenser of the water has the right to say who shall have it, and upon what terms, selling to one and refusing to sell to another at will, it is not devoted to a public use.—Thayer v. California Development Co., 164 Cal. 117, 128 Pac. 21.

19. Same—Sale, rental and distribution a public use—Company bound by established rates.—Under the constitution and the act of 1885, the sale, rental and distribution of water is a public use, and a company engaged in such sale, rental and distribution is bound by the rates established under the act.—Crow v. San Joaquin, etc., Co., 130 Cal. 309, 62 Pac. 562, 1058.

20. Change of private to public use—Consent required—All persons bound by regulations made under public control.—A water corporation may convert a private use into a public use with the consent of the owners, subject to public control, and when this is done all persons concerned are bound by the regulations.—Franscioni v. Soledad, etc., Co., 170 Cal. 221, 149 Pac. 161.

21. Same—Same—Application to commission to fix rates.—An application to the railroad commission by a water company to have its rates for water established, and an order of the commission allowing an increase in such rates, is a submission to the authority of the regulating body, and was effective to change the use from a private and particular use to a public use, so as to make the service and terms of delivery subject to regulation and control by public authority.—Franscioni v. Soledad, etc., Co., 170 Cal. 221, 149 Pac. 161; Palermo, etc., Co. v. Railroad Commission, 173 Cal. 380, 160 Pac. 228.

22. Private appropriation—Use of ditches—May reserve in sale of public system.—One who has appropriated water for sale, rental and distribution under the constitution of 1879, may make an appropriation for private use on his own lands, and may use the same ditches, and on the sale of the system may reserve the private appropriation.—Leavitt v. Lassen, etc., Co., 157 Cal. 82, 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 213, 106 Pac. 404.

23. Same—Same—Private right.—The private right is measured by the amount of water he may put to beneficial use on his lands, not by the amount taken.—Leavitt v. Lassen, etc., Co., 157 Cal. 82, 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 213, 106 Pac. 404.

24. Limitation of territory—Appropriator may limit.—The appropriator of water for sale, rental and distribution may limit the territory to be supplied, and such restriction is not in derogation of the public trust assumed by it.—Leavitt v. Lassen, etc., Co., 157 Cal. 82, 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 213, 106 Pac. 404.

25. Preferential right—Water company can not confer.—A water company can not confer a preferential right on a consumer to the use of any part of water subject to the public use.—Leavitt v. Lassen, etc., Co., 157 Cal. 82, 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 213, 106 Pac. 404.

26. Same—Same—Contracts under constitution.—A water company is not prevented from entering into contracts with consumer that are not violative of the constitution and are within the enactments of the legislature, but the breach of such contracts does not deprive the consumer of his constitutional right, upon tender of the legal rate to have the service continued.—Leavitt v. Lassen, etc., Co., 157 Cal. 82, 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 213, 106 Pac. 404.

27. Apportionment of water—Shortage.—In case of shortage the water may be apportioned to the consumers.—Leavitt v. Lassen, etc., Co., 157 Cal. 82, 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 213, 106 Pac. 404.

28. Power of board of supervisors over rates of water company organized for and furnishing water solely to its stockholders.—The board of supervisors are not authorized to fix the rates of a corporation not organized for the sale, distribution and rental of water, but for the sole purpose of supplying water to the lands of its stockholders.—McFadden v. Los Angeles Co., 74 Cal. 571, 16 Pac. 397.

29. Railroad commission vested with powers of boards of supervisors.—The railroad commission is vested with power to regulate the water rates of a public utility furnishing water to a mutual company under a pre-existing contract made subsequent to the adoption of the constitution, notwithstanding such contract, and in doing so may modify and practically annul the said contract in so far as it fixes a rate for the service covered by it.—Limoneira Co. v. Railroad Commission, 174 Cal. 232, 162 Pac. 1033.

30. The act expressly authorizes the commission to regulate water companies and require them to serve additional customers.—Palermo, etc., Co. v. Railroad Commission, 173 Cal. 380, 160 Pac. 228.

See, also, Long v. Atwood, 4 R. C. D. 34.

31. Action to declare orders of the board of supervisors fixing rates void—One year statute of limitations.—Under the act of 1885 a water company can not maintain an action to declare void orders of the board of supervisors establishing rates and to enjoin their enforcement, after one year, with first attempting by petition to the board to secure a readjustment.—San Joaquin, etc., Co. v. Stanislaus Co., 155 Cal. 21, 99 Pac. 365.

32. Demand for water service—Sufficient under section 10 of the act of 1885.—Leaving a written demand at the office of the defendant water company, during office hours, with the person in charge thereof, was a sufficient compliance with section 10 of the act of 1885.—Lowe v. Yolo, etc., Co., 157 Cal. 503, 108 Pac. 297.

33. As to deposits for service, see.—In re Practice of Water, Gas, Electric and Telephone Utilities Requiring Deposits Before Rendering Service, 7 R. C. D. 830.

34. Water right appurtenant to land.—Where a water company buys land and develops water and sells farm lots on such land, with the appurtenances, after making suitable ditches and connections thereon to carry water thereto, reserving the right to maintain such ditches for that purpose, the right to have such water delivered on the lots becomes appurtenant to the lots, and the owner is entitled to have the water delivered so long as the source holds out.—Franscioni v. Soledad, etc., Co., 170 Cal. 221, 149 Pac. 161.

UNLAWFUL SUPPLY OF POLLUTED WATERS.

ACT 5501—An act to prevent the supply of water dangerous to health for domestic purposes and to provide for the installation of sanitary water systems.

History: Approved June 13, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 793. Amended June 7, 1915, in effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1282; June 1, 1917, in effect July 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1562.

Unlawful to supply polluted water.

§ 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution to furnish or supply or to continue to furnish or supply water used or intended to be used for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes which is impure, unwholesome, unpotable, polluted or dangerous to health, to any person in any county, city and county, municipal corporation, village, district, community, hotel, temporary or permanent resort, institution or industrial camp. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1562.]

Persons desiring to furnish water to file petition. Investigation of works. Exemption. Hearing.

§ 2. Whenever any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution shall desire to furnish or supply or to continue to furnish or supply water for domestic uses or purposes to any person in any county, city and county, municipal corporation, village, district, community, hotel temporary or permanent resort, institution or industrial camp, or shall desire to install, add to, modify or alter any of the plant, works, system or sources of supply, it or he shall file as herein provided with the state board of health a petition for permission so to do, together with complete plans and specifications and a statement containing a general description and history of the existing or proposed water supply system of proposed changes therein showing the geographical location thereof with relation to, the source of the water supply and all the sanitary and health conditions surrounding and affecting said supply and the works, system and plant, such plans, specifications and general statement to be in such form and to cover such matters as the state board of health shall prescribe. Thereupon a thorough investigation of the proposed or existing works, system, plant, water supply and all other circumstances and conditions by it deemed to be material must be made by the state board of health; and provided, however, that no person, firm or corporation supplying water for domestic purposes or use on his or its private property upon which there is no industrial camp, hotel, temporary or permanent resort using said water, or supplying less than two hundred service connections, shall be required to apply for a permit under the provisions of this section, except upon formal complaint filed with the state board of health.

Hearing.

As a part of such investigation, and after ten days' notice by mail to the petitioner, a hearing or hearings may be had before said board or an examiner appointed by it for the purpose. At such hearing or hearings witnesses who testify shall be sworn by the person conducting the hearing, and evidence, oral and documentary, may be received, a record of which shall be made and filed with said board. Upon the completion of such investigation, said board:

When petition shall be denied. Appointment of person to take charge of plant. Temporary permit.

(a) If it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being furnished or to be furnished or supplied is such that under all the circumstances and conditions it is impure, unwholesome or unpotable, or may constitute a menace or danger to the health or lives of human beings, or that under all the circumstances and conditions the existing or proposed works, system, plant or water supply, or proposed modifications therein, are unhealthful or insanitary, or not suited to the production and delivery of healthful, pure and wholesome water at all times, it shall deny the prayer of such petitioner, and said board shall order the petitioner to make such changes as it deems necessary to secure a continuous supply of pure, wholesome, potable and healthful water. Said board may order the appointing of a competent person, to be approved by the state board of health and paid by said petitioner, who shall take charge of and operate such plant or system so as to secure the results demanded by the state board of health; and it may order such repair, alteration or addition to the existing system, plant and works that the water furnished or supplied shall at all times be pure, wholesome, potable and shall not endanger the lives or health of human beings; and said board may order such changes of source of the water supply or installation of purification and refining works and such other measures as shall insure a continuous supply of pure, wholesome and potable water which shall not endanger the lives and health of human beings; which orders shall designate the period within which the required changes are to be made; provided, however, that a temporary permit may be issued by the state board of health for said period to permit the petitioner to comply with such order or orders.

When petition shall be granted. Permits revocable. Report may be required. Persons without permit may be enjoined. Public nuisance.

(b) If it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being furnished or supplied to such human beings is such, that under all the circumstances and conditions, it is pure, wholesome and potable and does not endanger the lives or health of human beings, it shall grant to petitioner a permit authorizing petitioner to furnish or continue to furnish or supply such water to such human beings; provided, however, that all permits issued hereunder shall be revocable or subject to suspension by said board at any time that it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being supplied or furnished is or may become impure, unwholesome or unpotable or does or will endanger the lives or health of human beings. The state board of health and its inspectors shall at any and all reasonable times have full power and authority to, and shall be permitted to, enter into and upon any and all places, property, inclosures and structures for the purpose of making and to make examinations and investigations to determine whether any provision of this act is being violated. The holder of any permit granted by said board under the provisions of this act may at any time by order of said board be required to furnish to said board, upon demand, a complete report upon the condition and operation of the water supply, plant, works or system owned, operated or controlled by it, which report shall be made by some competent person designated for the purpose by said board, and at the sole cost and expense of the holder of the permit. Any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution who shall furnish or supply or continue to furnish or supply water used or intended to be used for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes, or shall install additions to, modifications or alterations in, any of the existing plant, works, system, or sources of supply without having an unrevoked permit from the state board of health so to do, as in this act provided, may be enjoined from so doing by any court of competent jurisdiction, at the suit of any person or persons, firm, corporation, municipal or other public corporation whose supply of water for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes is taken, or received from, or supplied or furnished by any such water furnishing or distributing person, firm, corporation, public utility or municipality or other public body or institution, or it or he may be enjoined at the suit of the state board of health in the same manner. Anything done, maintained or suffered in violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be a public nuisance dangerous to health and may be summarily abated in the manner provided by law and it shall be the duty of all and every public officer or officers, body or bodies lawfully empowered so to do to immediately abate the same.

Penalty for violation.

Every person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution, or officer, employee or agent thereof upon whom the duty to act is cast, and every person who shall violate any provision or part thereof of this act, or who shall fail to obey, observe or comply with any direction, order, requirement or demand or any part or provision thereof of the state board of health, or who procures, aids, or abets any such person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution, or officer or employee or agent thereof, in any failure to obey or comply with the provisions of this act or the orders of the state board of health as provided in this act, shall become liable for and forfeit to the state of California the penal sum of not more than one thousand dollars for each separate offense. The continued existence of any violation of this act for each and every day beyond the time stipulated for compliance with any of its provisions or of any order of the state board of health as provided herein shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. All penalties are to be recovered by the state in civil action brought by the state of California and such penalties when collected shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury.

Every officer, agent or employee of any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution or person who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act or the order of the state board of health or any part thereof, or who procures, aids or abets in any failure to observe and comply with any such provision, order, or part thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine or imprisonment, for each offense. Each day's violation of this provision shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1562.]

This section was also amended June 7, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1282.

1. Constitutionality—Unreasonable exercise of police power.—The act, so far as it provides for an injunction is unconstitutional as an unreasonable exercise of the police power of the state.—Frost v. Los Angeles, 181 Cal. 22, 6 A. L. R. 468, 183 Pac. 342.

2. Jurisdiction of state board of health.

—Under this act jurisdiction to prevent water supply which is polluted or dangerous to health is vested in the state board of health, and the railroad commission has no jurisdiction over the subject.—*Saratoga, etc., Association v. PROPER AND ADEQUATE SERVICE OF WATER.

ACT 5502—An act to require water companies to properly and adequately serve with water the inhabitants of the territory for the service of which they have a franchise.

History: Approved June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1420.

Water companies to serve inhabitants in franchise territory.

§ 1. Any water company having a franchise to use the streets of a municipal corporation, shall properly and adequately serve with water the inhabitants of the territory for the service of which it has such franchise. If the railroad commission has jurisdiction of extensions and service in the municipal corporation it shall enforce a compliance with the foregoing requirement. If the railroad commission does not have such jurisdiction, then it shall be the duty of the governing body of such city to adopt rules and regulations to carry out this requirement. In addition to the penalties which may be provided by such governing body for failure to comply with such regulations adopted by it, any person aggrieved by the failure of any such water company to comply with such regulations may recover, by civil action against such water company, twice the amount of damages he may sustain by reason of such failure.

Definition of "water company."

§ 2. The term "water company" as used in this act, shall be deemed to include any person, firm or private corporation engaged in the business of supplying water for domestic use within any municipal corporation.

COUNTY WATERWORKS DISTRICT ACT.

ACT 5505—An act to provide for the formation, management and dissolution of county waterworks districts; for supplying the inhabitants thereof with water; for levying and collecting taxes on property in such districts; and for the issuance of county waterworks district bonds, and the payment thereof.

History: Approved June 13, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 785. Amended June 5, 1915, in effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1188. The amendatory act amended the title by striking out the word "irrigation," where it appeared and inserting in lieu thereof the word "waterworks," so as to make provision, with the amendments in the body of the act, for county waterworks districts, instead of county irrigation districts.

Formation of county waterworks districts.

§ 1. Any portion of a county, containing unincorporated territory, or containing the whole or any portion of one or more incorporated cities and contiguous unincorporated territory, and not included in a county irrigation district or county waterworks district, may be formed into a county waterworks district, and provision made for the purpose of supplying the inhabitants of such district with water, in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter described. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1189.]

Petition.

§ 2. A petition for the formation of such county waterworks district may be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the proposed district is located, which petition shall be signed by not less than fifty freeholders, resident within the proposed district, and shall contain:

(1) The name and boundaries of the proposed county waterworks district to be benefited by the said improvement.

(2) A general description of the improvement desired for the purpose of supplying the inhabitants of such district with water, and which may embrace any or all of the following: The acquisition, construction, installation, completion, extension, repair or maintenance of waterworks, structures and appliances, and the acquisition, by purchase, condemnation, contract, lease, or otherwise, of lands, rights of way, water, water rights and water service, necessary or convenient for such purpose.

(3) An estimate of the cost of the proposed improvement and of the incidental expenses in connection therewith.

(4) A request that an election be called in said district for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the proposition of forming such district and incurring indebtedness by the issuance of bonds of such district to pay the cost and expenses of the proposed improvement. Such petition must be accompanied by a map showing the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto, and contain a general description of the proposed improvement. There shall also be filed with said petition a good and sufficient undertaking, to be approved by the board of supervisors, in double the amount of the probable cost of forming such district, conditioned that the sureties shall pay said cost, in case the formation of such district shall not be effected. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1189.]

Protests. Notice of hearing. Posting and publication of notice.

§ 3. Such petition must be presented at a regular meeting of said board of supervisors, and the board shall thereupon fix a time for hearing the same, and protests of interested parties, not less than twenty-one, nor more than thirty days after the date of presentation thereof. The clerk of the said board shall thereupon cause notices of the filing and hearing of such petition to be posted in three of the most public places in said district. Said notice shall be headed "Notice of the formation of county waterworks district No." (stating name of county in which the district is located and the number of the proposed district) in letters not less than one inch in length, and shall, in legible characters, state the fact that date of the filing of such petition, the date and hour set for hearing such petition and protests, briefly describe the proposed improvement, specify the exterior boundaries of the district to be benefited by such improvement and to be taxed to provide for such improvement, and refer to said petition, map and general description of the proposed improvement for further particulars. The said clerk shall also cause a notice, similar in substance, to be published at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county in which the proposed district is located, and designated by said board for that purpose. Said notice must be posted and published, as above provided, at least ten days before the date set for the hearing of said petition.

Written protests. Protests sustained. Changes in boundaries. Jurisdiction deemed when.

§ 4. Any person interested, objecting to the formation of said district, or to the extent of said district, or to the proposed improvement, or to the inclusion of his property in said district, may file a written protest, setting forth such objections, with the clerk of said board at or before the time set for the hearing of said petition. The clerk of said board shall indorse on each such protest the date of its reception by him, and, at the time appointed for the hearing above provided for, shall present to said board all protests so filed with him. Said board shall hear said petition and protests at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If any of such protests be against the formation of said district, or against the proposed improvement, and be sustained, no further proceedings shall be had or taken pursuant to said petition, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time. If any of such protests be against the extent of said district, or against the inclusion of property in said district, then the board shall have power to make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed district as it shall find to be proper and advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries, but said board shall not modify such boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which will be benefited by said improvement, nor shall any territory which will not, in the judgment of said board be benefited by said improvement be included within such proposed district.

Neither shall said board modify such boundaries except after notice of its intention so to do, given by one insertion in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said county and designated by said board for that purpose, describing the proposed modification, and specifying a time for hearing objections to such modification, which time shall be at least ten days after the publication of said notice. Written objections to such proposed modification may be filed with the clerk of said board by any interested person at or before the time set for hearing the same. Said board shall hear and pass upon such objections at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If such objections or any of them, be sustained, no further proceedings pursuant to such petition shall be taken, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time.

At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none be filed, or if protests be filed and, after hearing be denied, or at the expiration of the time within which objections to the modification of the boundaries of the district, in case such modification be proposed, may be filed, if none be filed, or if such objections be filed and, after hearing, be overruled, as above provided, then said board shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to further proceed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Election. Rate of interest.

§ 5. The board of supervisors shall, by ordinance or resolution adopted at a regular or special meeting thereof after having acquired jurisdiction to proceed, as provided above, provide for and order the holding of a special election in such proposed county waterworks district and the submission to the qualified voters thereof, of the proposition of forming such district and incurring a debt by the issuance of bonds of such district for the purposes set forth in said petition. The ordinance or resolution calling such special election shall also recite the objects and purposes for which the proposed indebtedness is to be incurred, the estimated cost of the proposed improvement, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which said special election shall be held, the manner of holding the same, and the manner of voting for or against said proposition. The maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall be eight per centum per annum, payable semi-annually. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1190.]

Precincts. Polling places, etc.

§ 6. For the purposes of said election, the board of supervisors shall, in said ordinance or resolution, establish one or more precincts within the boundaries of the said county waterworks district, designate a polling place, and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each such precinct. In all particulars not recited in such ordinance or resolution, such election shall be held as provided by law for holding general elections in such county. Said ordinance or resolution ordering the holding of said election shall, prior to the date set for such election, be published five times in a daily, or twice in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said county and designated by said board of supervisors for said purpose, and shall be posted in three of the most public places in said county waterworks district at least ten days prior to the date set for such election. No other notice of such election need be given. If at such election a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the formation of such district and the incurring of such bonded indebtedness, then the board of supervisors shall enter an order to that effect upon its minutes, declaring said district formed, and said board shall thereupon, be authorized and empowered to issue the bonds of said district for the amount provided for in such proceedings, payable out of funds of such district to be provided as in this act prescribed. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1190.]

Form of bonds, coupons, etc. Date of maturity. Denominations. Validity of signatures.

§ 7. The board of supervisors, by an order entered upon its minutes, shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe the form of said bonds and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable in the following manner: a part to be determined by said board, and which shall not be less than one-fortieth part of the whole amount of such indebtedness, shall be payable each and every year on a day and date, and at a place, to be fixed by said board, and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date, until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid; provided, however, that the board of supervisors may, in its discretion, determine and fix a date for the earliest maturity of the principal of such bonds not more than ten years from the date of the issue of such bonds, but, in this event, the whole amount of such indebtedness must be made payable in equal annual parts in not to exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same. The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board of supervisors may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place fixed in such bonds and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of eight per cent per annum and shall be payable semi-annually, and said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and countersigned by the auditor of said county, and the seal of said county shall be affixed thereto. The interest coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the auditor of said county by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case any such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signature or countersignature shall, nevertheless, be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

Sale of bonds.

§ 8. The board of supervisors may issue and sell the bonds of such district, authorized as hereinabove provided, at not less than par value, and the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the county treasury to the credit of the proper county waterworks district fund and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance or resolution ordering the holding of the bond election, as aforesaid; provided, that in such case of the annexation of all the territory comprising a county waterworks district to an incorporated city, as provided for in section 13 of this act, subsequent to the authorization of bonds by such district and prior to the issuance and sale thereof, the governing legislative authority of such city is hereby authorized to issue and sell said bonds. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the city treasury to the credit of the proper county waterworks district fund, and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance or resolution ordering the holding of the bond election, as aforesaid. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1190.]

Tax levy. Principal and interest.

§ 9. The board of supervisors shall levy a tax, each year, upon the taxable property in such county waterworks district, sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds for that year, and such portion of the principal thereof as is to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of such bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of such issue, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid each year, sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. Such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the same manner as the general tax levy for county purposes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose. The principal and interest on said bonds shall be paid by the county treasurer in the manner provided by law for the payment of principal and interest on bonds of such county. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1190.]

Tax for maintaining waterworks.

§ 10. The board of supervisors of any county wherein a county waterworks district has been formed under the provisions of this act, shall have the power, in any year after the establishment of such district, to levy a tax upon the taxable property in such district sufficient to pay the cost and expenses of maintaining, operating, extending and repairing the waterworks of said district for the ensuing fiscal year, and said tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the same manner as the general tax levy for county purposes, and the revenue derived from said tax shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the proper fund of said district, and said board shall have the power to control and order the expenditure thereof for said purpose. Said board of supervisors shall also have power to fix and collect rates or charges for the use and supply of water furnished by the system of said county waterworks district, and to apply the receipts from said rates or charges to the expenses of the administration and government of said district and the use, operation and extension of the waterworks and water supply. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1191.]

Contracts to lowest bidder. Contract need not be made. Improvements along public roads.

§ 11. All contracts for furnishing the labor, materials or supplies required for any improvement mentioned in this act, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The board of supervisors of the county shall advertise for two or more days in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in such county, inviting sealed proposals for furnishing the labor, materials and supplies for the proposed improvement before any contract shall be made therefor. The board shall have the right to require such bonds as it may deem best from the successful bidder, to insure the faithful performance of the contract, and shall also have the right to reject any and all bids; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting such county itself, and, when ordered by the board of supervisors thereof, it shall have power, to make the proposed improvement without a contractor therefor, and to purchase the materials and supplies, and employ the labor necessary for such purpose; and provided, further, that any improvement for which bonds are voted under the provisions of this act, shall be made in conformity with the general description of the proposed improvement thereof provided for in section two hereof. Any improvement provided for in this act may be located, constructed and maintained in, along or across any public road or highway, or publicly owned right of way in the county, in such manner as to afford security for life and property; but the board of supervisors of the county shall restore, or cause to be restored, such road or highway, or publicly owned right of way to its former state, as near as may be, or in a sufficient manner not to have impaired unnecessarily its usefulness. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1191.]

Rules and regulations.

§ 12. The board of supervisors of any county wherein any such county waterworks district is situated, shall have power to make and enforce all rules and regulations necessary for the administration and government of such district, and for the acquisition, purchase or construction, the use and operation of the waterworks thereof; to appoint or employ all needful agents, superintendents and engineers to properly look after the performance of any work provided for in this act; and to perform all other acts necessary or proper to accomplish the purposes of this act. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1193.]

In case of annexation of territory. Annexation of major part of territory.

§ 13. The title to all property which may have been acquired for a county waterworks district, created under the provisions of this act, shall be vested in the county wherein such county waterworks district is located; provided, that whenever all of the territory in such county waterworks district shall be annexed to or otherwise included within, any municipal corporation owning works for supplying the inhabitants thereof with water, then such county waterworks district shall be deemed dissolved, but said municipal corporation shall have authority to issue and sell any bonds of such district theretofore voted but not issued and sold, as provided in section eight of this act. Upon such annexation, the property of such county waterworks district shall thereupon become the property of such municipal corporation and shall become a part of, and be used in connection with the works so owned by said municipal corporation; and such municipal corporation and the proper officers thereof shall, as to such property, and as to the levy and collection of taxes to meet the payments of principal and interest on outstanding bonds of such district and the making of such payments, have and exercise the powers and perform the duties vested in and imposed upon the said county, and the board of supervisors and other officers thereof, prior to such annexation or inclusion. All money in the county treasury to the credit of any fund of such county waterworks district shall, upon the annexation or inclusion of such territory, as above provided, be forthwith transferred to the treasury of said municipal corporation and be used for the purposes for which the same was available prior to such transfer and none other.

Whenever the major portion of the territory of a county waterworks district, created under the provisions of this act, shall be annexed to, or otherwise included within any one municipal corporation, owning works for supplying the inhabitants thereof with water then the board of supervisors of the county may lease to said municipal corporation, for periods not exceeding five years each, that portion of the distributing system of said county waterworks district which may be in said portion of said district annexed to or included in such municipal corporation. Such municipal corporation may use said leased distributing system for the purpose of distributing water directly to individual consumers thereon, with the same power of regulating the service of water through the same, and of charging and collecting for said service, as if said leased distributing system were part of the municipally owned water plant of said municipal corporation. The board of supervisors shall, in any such lease, reserve the right to use said leased distributing system, for the benefit of that portion of the county waterworks district not annexed to or included in said municipal corporation, to the extent that said leased system is essential to the efficient operation of the balance of the system. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1195.]

Dissolution of district.

§ 14. Any such county waterworks district may, except as otherwise provided in this act, be dissolved by the board of supervisors as hereinafter provided. Upon receiving a petition signed by fifty or more freeholders and residents of such county waterworks district, requesting the dissolution of such district, the board of supervisors shall fix a time for hearing such petition, which shall be not less than ten nor more than thirty days after the receipt of such petition, and shall, at least five days prior to the time so fixed, publish notice of such hearing by one insertion in a daily, weekly or semi-weekly newspaper printed, published and circulated in said county. At the time appointed for such hearing, or at any time to which the same may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear and pass upon such petition and may grant or deny the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If such petition be granted the board of supervisors shall, by ordinance or resolution, order the dissolution of said district, and such district shall thereby be dissolved; provided, that if at the time of the dissolution of said district there be any outstanding bonded or other indebtedness of such district, then taxes for the payment of such bonded or other indebtedness shall be levied and collected the same as if such district had not been dissolved. [Amendment of June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1194.]

Alternative method provided.

§ 15. This act shall not affect any other act or acts relating to the same or a similar subject, but is intended to provide an alternative method of procedure governing the subject to which it relates. When proceeding under the provisions of this act its provisions and none other shall apply.

Act to be liberally construed.

§ 16. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes thereof.

Change of name. Proceedings not affected. Title of act.

§ 17. The name of any county irrigation district, heretofore organized under the provisions of this act, is hereby changed to "..... county waterworks district No." retaining the same county name and the same number heretofore a part of its name.

Any proceedings heretofore taken under the provisions of this act, and any bond issue heretofore voted by any county irrigation district, under the provisions of this act, whether said bond issue shall have been issued and sold, or not, shall not be affected in any manner, except as in this act provided, by reason of the change of name provided for herein, or by reason of any amendment or change of this act made by the amending act, providing, among other amendments, this section seventeen; but any such proceedings and any such bond issue shall continue and proceed without interruption, in accordance with the provisions of this act amended.

This act may be referred to as the "county waterworks district act." [New section added June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1194.]

1. Constitutional law—Act not unconstitutional.—The county irrigation district act is not unconstitutional because the tax therein provided for is imposed upon all the property of the district irrespective of benefits.—Bliss v. Hamilton, 171 Cal. 123, 133, 152 Pac. 303.

2. Same—Section 18, article XI, constitution not to be extended to county irrigation districts.—Section 18, article XI, of the constitution, is limited in its application to the corporations named therein, counties, cities, towns, townships, boards of education, and school districts, and can not be extended to a county irrigation district.—Bliss v. Hamilton, 171 Cal. 123, 132, 152 Pac. 303.

3. Same—Elections—Section 25, article IV, constitution, subdivision 11.—The elections referred to in subdivision 11, section 25, article IV, of the constitution, are the ordinary elections held to choose civil officers of the state and local subdivisions, and has no application to the elections provided for in the county irrigation district act.—Bliss v. Hamilton, 171 Cal. 123, 132, 152 Pac. 303.

4. Petition—Sufficient.—A petition to form a county irrigation district under the act of 1913 (785) stating that the name should be "Los Angeles County Irrigation District Number (—)," the clerk of the board of supervisors, after filing, inserting the numeral "3" before presenting it to the board, making the name read "Los Angeles County Irrigation District Number (3), by which the district was subsequently known in all proceedings, held a sufficient compliance with the act as to statement of name of district.—Bliss v. Hamilton, 171 Cal. 123, 129, 152 Pac. 303.

5. Notice—Filed with petition.—Where the original notice of the petition and protests was ineffectual because of its failure to specify correctly the boundaries of the district, the board of supervisors have the power to vacate all proceedings and fix a new date and give a new notice; and an undertaking filed prior to the second notice, though not at the filing of the petition, as the act provides, is deemed to be filed "with said petition" in the sense of the act.—Bliss v. Hamilton, 171 Cal. 123, 130, 152 Pac. 303.

6. Same—Protests disregarded when filed after time for hearing expired.—Where the notice fixed the time of hearing at 10 a. m., October 13, 1914, the board of supervisors were justified in disregarding protests filed subsequent to that hour.—Bliss v. Hamilton, 171 Cal. 123, 131, 152 Pac. 303.

7. Same—Hearing, time of.—The requirements of section 3 that the time shall be set for the hearing not less than twenty-one days from the date of the order, and those in regard to the notice, are mandatory, while the provision fixing the maximum of thirty days after date of presentation of the petition is directory merely.—Bliss v. Hamilton, 171 Cal. 123, 130, 152 Pac. 303.

8. Bonds of district not indebtedness of county.—The bonds provided for in the county irrigation district are in no sense indebtedness of the county in which the irrigation district is situated, or of any of the subdivisions or districts in said county which are specified in section 18, article XI, of the constitution.—Bliss v. Hamilton, 171 Cal. 123, 132, 152 Pac. 303.

COUNTY WATER DISTRICT ACT, NO. 1.

ACT 5506—An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of county water districts, and to provide for the acquisition of water rights or construction thereby of waterworks and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts.

History: Approved June 10, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1049. Amended April 7, 1915, in effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 26; May 4, 1917, in effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 225; May 23, 1919, in effect July 23, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 816.

Organization of county water districts.

§ 1. A county water district may be organized and incorporated and managed as herein expressly provided and may exercise the powers herein expressly granted or necessarily implied.

Same.

§ 2. The people of any county, or city and county, or portion of a county, or city and county, whether such portion includes unincorporated territory or not, in the state of California, having a population of not less than one thousand inhabitants, may organize a county water district under the provisions of this act by proceeding as herein provided.

Petition. Boundaries of district. Publication.

§ 3. A petition, which may consist of any number of separate instruments, shall be presented at a regular meeting of the board of supervisors of the county in which the proposed water district is located, signed by the registered voters within the boundaries of the proposed water district, equal in number to at least ten per centum of the number of votes cast in said proposed county water district for the office of governor of this state at the last general election prior to the presenting of the petition; provided, that where one or more municipal corporations or part thereof is included in such proposed water district, such petition must be signed by at least ten per centum of the qualified electors of each such municipal corporations or part thereof and of the unincorporated territory included in such proposed water district so voting at such election. Such petition shall set forth and describe the proposed boundaries of such water district, and shall pray that the same be incorporated under the provisions of this act, and the text of such petition shall be published for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers printed and published in such county, together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which same will be presented. When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published. No more than five of the names attached to said petition need appear in such publication of said petition and notice, but the number of signers shall be stated.

Time of consideration. Final hearing.

With such publication there shall also be published a notice of the time of the meeting of the board when such petition will be considered and that all persons interested therein may then appear and be heard. At such time the board of supervisors shall hear the petition and those appearing thereon together with such written protests as shall have been filed with the clerk of the board prior to such hearing by or on behalf of owners of taxable property situated within the boundaries of the proposed district and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding four weeks in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures, thereto shall vitiate any proceedings thereon, provided such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. On the final hearing said board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as may be deemed advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries. But said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which would be benefited by the formation of such district; nor shall any lands which will not, in the judgment of said board, be benefited by such district be included within such proposed district. Any person whose lands are benefited by such district may upon his application, in the discretion of said board, have such lands included within said proposed district.

Proposition submitted. Who may vote. Certificate of secretary of state. District deemed incorporated. Must hear testimony. Suit commenced within one year. Election.

Upon such hearing of said petition, the board of supervisors shall determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements of the provisions of this act, and for that purpose must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. Such determination shall be entered upon the minutes of said board of supervisors. A finding of the board of supervisors in favor of the genuineness and sufficiency of the petition and notice shall be final and conclusive against all persons except the state of California upon suit commenced by the attorney general. Any such suit must be commenced within one year after the order of the board of supervisors declaring such district organized as herein provided, and not otherwise. Upon the final determination of the boundaries of the district the board of supervisors shall give notice of an election to be held in said proposed water district for the purpose of determining whether or not the same shall be incorporated, the date of which election shall be not more than sixty days from the date of the final hearing of such petition. Such notice shall describe the boundaries so established and shall state the proposed name of the proposed incorporation (which name shall contain the words "——— county water district"), and this notice shall be published at least two weeks prior to such election in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers printed and published in said county. At such election the proposition to be submitted shall be: "Shall the proposition to organize ——— county water district under (naming the chapter containing this act) of the acts of the fortieth session of the California legislature and amendments thereto be adopted?" And the election thereupon shall be conducted, the vote canvassed and the result declared in the same manner as provided by law in respect to general elections, so far as they may be applicable, except as in this act otherwise provided. No person shall be entitled to vote at any election under the provisions of this act unless such person possesses all the qualifications required of electors under the general election laws of the state. Within four days after such election the vote shall be canvassed by the board of supervisors. If a majority of the votes cast at such election in each municipal corporation or part thereof and in the unincorporated territory included in such proposed water district shall be in favor of organizing such county water district, said board shall by an order entered on its minutes declare the territory enclosed within the proposed boundaries duly organized as a county water district under the name theretofore designated, and the county clerk shall immediately cause to be filed with the secretary of state and shall cause to be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such district is situated, each, a certificate stating that such a proposition was adopted. Upon the receipt of such last mentioned certificate the secretary of state shall, within ten days, issue his certificate reciting that the county water district (naming it) has been duly incorporated according to the laws of the state of California. A copy of such certificate shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of the county in which such county water district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate, the district named therein shall be deemed incorporated as a county water district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto. In case less than a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said proposition the organization fails but without prejudice to renewing proceedings at any time in the future. [Amendment of April 7, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 26.]

Election of directors. Term of office.

§ 4. At an election to be held within such water district under the provisions of this act and the laws governing general elections not inconsistent herewith, the county water district thus organized shall proceed within ninety days after its formation to the election of a board of directors consisting, if there are no municipalities within the boundaries of said district, of five members. In all cases where the boundaries of such water district include any municipality or municipalities, said board of directors, in addition to said five directors to be elected as aforesaid, shall consist of one additional director for each one of said municipalities within such county water district, each such additional director to be appointed by the mayor of the municipality for which said additional director is allowed; and if there be any unincorporated territory within said water district, of one additional director, to be appointed by the said board of supervisors. Any director so appointed need not be an elector or resident of said district. All directors, elected or appointed, shall hold office until

The petition of nomination of which this certificate forms a part shall, if found insufficient, be returned to, at No., street,, California.

Clerk to furnish forms.

(4) It shall be the duty of the county clerk to furnish upon application a reasonable number of forms of individual certificates of the above character.

Certificates.

(5) Each certificate must be a separate paper. All certificates must be of uniform size as determined by the county clerk. Each certificate must contain the name of one signer thereto and no more. Each certificate shall contain the name of one candidate and no more. Each signer must be a qualified elector residing within said district, must not at the time of signing a certificate have his name signed to any other certificate for any other candidate for the same office, nor, in case there are several places to be filled in the same office, signed to more certificates for candidates for that office than there are places to be filled in such office. In case an elector has signed two or more conflicting certificates, all such certificates shall be rejected. Each signer must verify his certificate and make oath that the same is true, before a notary public or a verification deputy, as provided for in this section. Each certificate shall further contain the name and address of the person to whom the petition is to be returned in case said petition is found insufficient.

Verification deputies.

(6) Verification deputies, under this section, must be qualified electors of such county water district, and shall be appointed by the county clerk upon application in writing, signed by not less than five qualified electors of such county water district. The application shall set forth that the signers thereto desire to procure the necessary signatures of electors for the nomination of candidates for office in said county water district at an election therein specified, and that the applicants desire the person or persons whose names and addresses are given appointed as verification deputies, who shall upon appointment be authorized and empowered to take the oath of verification of the signers of petitions of nomination. Such verification deputies need not use a seal, and shall not have power to take oaths for any other purposes whatsoever, and their appointments shall continue only until all petitions of nomination, under this section, shall have been filed by the county clerk.

Presentation of petition.

(7) A petition of nomination, consisting of not less than twenty-five individual certificates for any one candidate, may be presented to the county clerk not earlier than forty-five days nor later than thirty days before the election. The county clerk shall indorse thereon the date upon which the petition was presented to him.

Examination of petition.

(8) When a petition of nomination is presented for filing to the county clerk, he shall forthwith examine the same, and ascertain whether or not it conforms to the provisions of this section. If found not to conform thereto, he shall then and there in writing designate on said petition the defect or omission or reason why such petition can not be filed, and shall return the petition to the person named as the person to whom the same may be returned in accordance with this section. The petition may then be amended and again presented to the clerk as in the first instance. The clerk shall forthwith proceed to examine the petition as hereinbefore provided. If necessary, the board of supervisors shall provide extra help to enable the clerk to perform satisfactorily and promptly the duties imposed by this section.

Signer may withdraw name.

(9) Any signer to a petition of nomination and certificate may withdraw his name from the same by filing with the county clerk a verified revocation of his signature before the filing of a petition by the clerk, and not otherwise. He shall then be at liberty to sign a petition for another candidate for the same office.

Candidate may withdraw.

(10) Any person whose name has been presented under this section as a candidate may, not later than twenty-five days before the day of election, cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination by filing with the county clerk a request therefor in writing, and no name so withdrawn shall be printed upon the ballot. If, upon such withdrawal, the number of candidates remaining does not exceed the number to be elected, then other nominations may be made by filing petitions therefor not later than twenty-five days prior to such election.

Petition filed.

(11) If either the original or amended petition of nomination be found sufficiently signed as hereinbefore provided, the clerk shall file the same twenty-five days before the date of the election. When a petition of nomination shall have been filed by the clerk it shall not be withdrawn or added to and no signature shall be revoked thereafter.

Petitions preserved.

(12) The county clerk shall preserve in his office for a period of two years, all petitions of nomination and all certificates belonging thereto, filed under this section.

List of candidates.

(13) Immediately after such petitions are filed, the county clerk shall enter the names of the candidates in a list, with the offices to be filled, and shall not later than twenty days before the election certify such list as being the list of candidates nominated as required by the provisions of this act, and the board of supervisors shall cause said certified list of names and the offices to be filled, to be published in the proclamation calling the election at least ten successive days before the election in at least one but not more than three newspapers of general circulation published in the county in which such municipal water district is located. Such proclamation shall conform in all respects to the general state law governing the conduct of general elections now or hereafter in force, applicable thereto, except as otherwise herein provided.

Ballots. Form.

(14) The county clerk shall cause the ballots to be printed and bound and numbered as provided by said general state law, except as otherwise required in this act. The ballots shall contain the list of names and the respective offices as published in the proclamation and shall be in substantially the following form:

GENERAL (OR SPECIAL) DISTRICT ELECTION.

..... County Water District,
(Inserting date thereof.)

Instructions to Voters: To vote, stamp or write a cross (X) opposite the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote. All marks otherwise made are forbidden. All distinguishing marks are forbidden and make the ballot void. If you wrongly mark, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election, and obtain another.

How printed.

(15) All ballots printed shall be precisely on the same size, quality, tint of paper, kind of type, and color of ink, so that without the number it would be impossible to distinguished one ballot from another; and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballot shall be in type of the same size and style. A column may be provided on the right-hand side for questions to be voted upon at municipal water district elections, as provided for under this act. The names of the candidates for each office shall be arranged in alphabetical order, and nothing on the ballot shall be indicative of the source of the candidacy or of the support of any candidate.

No candidate omitted.

(16) The name of no candidate who has been duly and regularly nominated, and who has not withdrawn his name as herein provided shall be omitted from the ballot.

Office.

(17) The offices to be filled shall be arranged in the following order: "For director vote for (giving number)."

Voting squares.

(18) Half-inch square shall be provided at the right of the name of each candidate wherein to mark the cross.

Spaces below printed names.

(19) Half-inch spaces shall be left below the printed names of candidates for each office equal in number to the number to be voted for, wherein the voter may write the name of any person or persons for whom he may wish to vote.

Sample ballots.

(20) The county clerk shall cause to be printed sample ballots, identical with the ballot to be used at the election, and shall furnish copies of the same on application to registered voters at his office at least five days before the date fixed for such election, and shall mail one such ballot to each voter entitled to vote at such election, so that all of said sample ballots shall have been mailed at least three whole days before said election.

Votes necessary to elect.

(21) In case there is but one person to be elected to an office, the candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast for all the candidates for that office, shall be declared elected; in case there are two or more persons to be elected to an office, as that of director, then those candidates equal in number to the number to be elected, who receive the highest number of votes for such office shall be declared elected; provided however, that no person shall be declared elected to any office at such first election unless the number of votes received by him shall be greater than one-half the number of ballots cast at such election.

First election considered primary.

(22) If at any election held as above provided there be any office to which the required number of persons was not elected, then as to such office the said first election shall be considered to have been a primary election for the nomination of candidates, and a second election shall be held to fill said office. The candidates not elected at such first election, equal in number to twice the number to be elected to any given office, or less if so there be, who receive the highest number of votes for the respective offices at such first election, shall be the only candidates at such second election; provided, that if there be any person who, under the provisions of this subdivision, would have been entitled to become a candidate for any office, except for the fact that some other candidate received an equal number of votes therefor, then all such persons receiving such equal number of votes shall likewise become candidates for such office. The candidates equal in number to the persons to be elected who shall receive the highest number of votes at such second election shall be declared elected to such office.

Second election.

(23) The said second election, if necessary to be held, shall be held three weeks after the first election.

Provisions governing.

(24) All the provisions and conditions above set forth as to the conduct of an election, so far as they may be applicable, shall govern the second election, except that notice of election need be published twice only; and provided, also, that the same precincts and polling places shall, if possible, be used.

Failure to qualify.

(25) If a person elected fails to qualify, the office shall be filled as if there were a vacancy in such office, as hereinafter provided.

Mode of appointment by mayor.

(26) The mode of appointment of director or directors by a mayor, or by a board of supervisors shall be by certificate of appointment signed by said mayor or mayors, or issued by said board of supervisors, and transmitted to the board of directors of said county water district.

Informality not to invalidate.

(27) No informality in conducting county water district elections shall invalidate the same, if they have been conducted of directors to fill a vacancy, or appointed by a mayor or by this act.

General law to govern.

§ 6. The provisions of the law relating to the qualifications of electors, the manner of voting, the duties of election officers, the canvassing of returns, and all other particulars in respect to the management of general elections, so far as they may be applicable, shall govern all water district elections, except as in this act otherwise provided; provided, that the board of supervisors shall canvass the returns of the first election and that thereafter, except as herein provided, the board of directors shall meet as a canvassing board and duly canvass the returns within four days after any water district election, including any water district bond election.

Officers subject to recall.

§ 7. Every incumbent of an elective office, whether elected by popular vote for a full term, or elected by the board of directors to fill a vacancy, or appointed by a mayor or by said board of supervisors for a full term, is subject to recall by the voters of any county water district organized under the provisions of this act, in accordance with the recall provisions of the general laws of the state applicable to officers of counties.

Organization of board.

§ 8. The board of directors shall be the governing body of such county water district. It shall hold its first meeting on the sixth Monday after the first general election for the election of directors as herein provided; it shall choose one of its members president, and shall thereupon provide for the time and place of holding its meetings and the manner in which its special meetings may be called. All legislative sessions of the board of directors whether regular or special shall be open to the public. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board of directors shall establish rules for its proceedings.

Ordinances. Enacting clause. Compensation.

§ 9. The board of directors shall act only by ordinance or resolution. The ayes and noes shall be taken upon the passage of all ordinances or resolutions and entered upon the journal of the proceedings of the board of directors. No ordinance or resolution shall be passed or become effective without the affirmative votes of at least a majority of the members of the board. The enacting clause of all ordinances passed by the board shall be in these words: "Be it ordained by the board of directors of county water district as follows:" All resolutions and ordinances shall be signed by the president of the board of directors and attested by the secretary. Each of the members of the board of directors shall receive for each attendance at the meetings of the board ten dollars, and shall receive no other compensation. No director, however, shall receive pay for more than three meetings in any calendar month. Any vacancy in the board of directors, whether the vacant office is elective or appointive, shall be filled by the remaining directors.

General manager, secretary and auditor.

§ 10. The board of directors shall at its first meeting, or as soon thereafter as practicable, appoint, by a majority vote, a general manager, a secretary, and an auditor. No director shall be eligible to the office of general manager, secretary, or auditor. The general manager, secretary, and auditor, shall receive such compensation as the board of directors shall determine, and each shall serve at the pleasure of the board.

Informality not to invalidate.

§ 11. No informality in any proceeding or informality in the conduct of any election, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any citizen, shall be held to invalidate the incorporation of any county water district, and any proceeding wherein the validity of such incorporation is denied shall be commenced within three months from the date of the certificate of incorporation, otherwise said incorporation and the legal existence of said county water district, and all proceedings in respect thereto, shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

Powers of district.

§ 12. Any county water district incorporated as herein provided, shall have power:

1. To have perpetual succession;

Sue and be sued.

2. To sue and be sued, except as otherwise provided herein or by law, in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction;

Adopt seal.

3. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure;

Hold property.

4. To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of real and personal property of every kind, within or without the district, necessary to the full exercise of its powers;

Acquire waterworks.

5. To acquire, by purchase, lease or otherwise, water rights, waterworks, canals, conduits, reservoirs, storage sites, watersheds, works, machinery, lands, rights and privileges, useful or necessary to convey, supply, store, or otherwise, make use of water for irrigation, power, or other useful purpose, and to operate and maintain such water rights, waterworks, canals, conduits, reservoirs, storage sites, watersheds, works, machinery, lands, rights, and privileges, for the uses aforesaid, for the benefit of the district;

Store water.

6. To store water for the benefit of the district; and to conserve water for future use and to appropriate, acquire and preserve water and water rights and for this purpose to sue, intervene and compromise, in the name of the district, and assume the costs of litigation involving the ownership of waters or water rights within the district and those used and useful for the purposes of the district or of any of the lands situated therein; to maintain and defend actions to prevent interference with or diminution of the natural flow of any stream or natural subterranean supply of waters being used for irrigation of lands within the district or which are a benefit essentially common to the lands within the district or its inhabitants; and to maintain and defend actions to prevent any such interference with the aforesaid waters as may endanger the inhabitants or lands of the district;

Lease waterworks.

7. To lease of and from any person, firm, or public or private corporation, with the privilege of purchase, or otherwise, existing water rights, waterworks, canal, or reservoir systems; and to carry on and maintain the same; also to sell water, or the use thereof, for irrigation, power, or other useful purposes, and whenever there is a surplus, sell, or otherwise, dispose of the same, to municipalities, or towns, or to consumers, located within or without the boundaries of the district;

Right of eminent domain.

8. To have and exercise the right of eminent domain in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to supply the district or any portion thereof with water, whether such property be already devoted to the same use or otherwise, and may condemn any existing water rights, canals, reservoirs, storage sites, watersheds, waterworks or systems, or any portion thereof owned by any person, firm or corporation; provided, that property and water rights of municipal corporations shall not be subject to the provisions of this section. In proceedings relative to the exercise of such right, the district shall have the same rights, powers and privileges as a municipal corporation;

Borrow money.

9. To borrow money and incur indebtedness and to issue bonds or other evidences of such indebtedness; also to refund or retire any indebtedness or lien that may exist against the district or property thereof;

Levy taxes.

10. To cause taxes to be levied for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district and to accomplish the purposes of this act in the manner herein provided;

Make contracts.

11. To make contracts, to employ labor and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of the foregoing powers. [Amendment of May 23, 1919. In effect July 23, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 817.]

Powers exercised by board.

§ 13. The powers herein enumerated shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be exercised by the board of directors above provided for and elected and appointed as described herein.

Duties of officers of board. Depositary of funds. Officers' bonds.

§ 14. The president shall sign all contracts on behalf of the district and perform such other duties as may be imposed by the board of directors. The secretary shall countersign all contracts on behalf of the district and perform such other duties as may be imposed by the board of directors. The secretary shall give his full time during office hours to the affairs of the district. The general manager shall have full charge and control of the maintenance, operation and construction of the waterworks or waterworks system of said water district, with full power and authority to employ and discharge all employees and assistants at pleasure, prescribe their duties, and shall, subject to the approval of the board of directors, fix their compensation. The general manager shall perform such other duties as may be imposed upon him by the board of directors. The general manager shall report to the board of directors in accordance with such rules and regulations as they may adopt. The auditor shall be charged with the duty of installing and maintaining a system of auditing and accounting that shall completely and at all times show the financial condition of the district. He shall draw warrants to pay demands made against the district when such demands have been first approved by at least three members of the board of directors and by the general manager. The board of directors shall also designate a depositary or depositaries to have the custody of the funds of the district, all of which depositaries shall give security sufficient to secure the district against possible loss, and who shall pay the warrants drawn by the auditor for demands against the district under such rules as the directors may prescribe. The general manager, secretary and auditor, and all other employees or assistants of said district who may be required so to do by the board of directors, shall give bonds to the district conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties as the board of directors from time to time may provide.

Bonded indebtedness. Election. Notice. Publication. Canvass of returns.

§ 15. Whenever the board of directors deem it necessary for the district to incur a bonded indebtedness, it shall, by resolution, so declare and state the proposition to be submitted to the electors, the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred, the amount of debt to be incurred, the maximum term the bonds proposed to be issued shall run before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed seven per cent per annum. The board of directors shall fix a date upon which an election shall be held for the purpose of authorizing said bonded indebtedness to be incurred. It shall be the duty of the board of directors to provide for holding such special election on the day so fixed and in accordance with the general election laws of the state so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Such board of directors shall give notice of the holding of such election, which notice shall contain the resolution adopted by the board of directors of the water district, boundaries of precincts, the location of polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one judge, one inspector and two clerks in each precinct. Such notice shall be published for two weeks in at least one newspaper and not more than three newspapers published in such water district, which newspaper or newspapers shall be designated by the board of directors; and if there is no newspaper printed in such water district, then by posting such notice in three public places therein. All the expenses of holding such election shall be borne by the district. The returns of such election shall be made, the votes canvassed by said board of directors on the first Monday following said election, and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the general election laws of the state so far as they may be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. The secretary of the board of directors, as soon as the result is declared, shall enter in the records of such board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted. In all respects not otherwise provided for herein said election shall be called, managed and directed as is by law provided for general elections in this state applicable thereto, except as herein otherwise provided.

Two-thirds vote necessary.

§ 16. If from such returns it appears that more than two-thirds of the votes cast at such election were in favor of and assented to the incurring of such indebtedness, then the board of directors may, by resolution, at such time or times as it deems proper, provide for the form and execution of such bonds and for the issuance of any part thereof, and may sell or dispose of the bonds so issued at such times or in such manner as it may deem to be to the public interest.

Value of bonds issued.

§ 17. Any bonds issued by any district organized under the provisions of this act are hereby given the same force, value and use as bonds issued by any municipality and shall be exempt from all taxation within the state of California.

Power to construct works across streets, etc. Right of way through state lands.

§ 18. The board of directors shall have power to construct works across any stream of water, watercourse, street, avenue, highway, railway, canal, ditch, or flume which the route of said works may intersect or cross; provided, such works are constructed in such manner as to afford security for life and property, and said board of directors shall restore the crossings and intersections to their former state as near as may be, or in manner not to have impaired unnecessarily their usefulness. Every company whose right of way shall be intersected or crossed by said works shall unite with said board of directors in forming said intersections and crossings and grant the rights therefor. The right of way is hereby given, dedicated and set apart to locate, construct and maintain said works over and through any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state, and to have the same rights and privileges appertaining thereto as have been or may be granted to the municipalities within the state.

Water rates.

§ 19. The board of directors shall fix all water rates, subject to the power of the state railroad commission to fix rates for water furnished to municipal corporations and their inhabitants, and shall through the general manager collect the charges for the sale and distribution of water to all customers. [Amendment of April 7, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 28.]

Rate to pay operating expenses.

§ 20. The board of directors in the furnishing of water shall fix such rate as will pay the operating expenses of the district, provide for repairs and depreciation of works owned or operated by it, pay the interest on any bonded debt, and, so far as possible, provide a sinking or other fund for the payment of the principal of such debt as it may become due; it being the intention of this section to require the district to pay the interest and principal of its bonded debt from the revenues of the district.

Supervisors to levy water tax.

§ 21. If, from any cause the revenues of the district shall be inadequate to pay the principal or interest on any bonded debt as it becomes due, or any other expenses or claims against the district, then the board of directors must at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors of the county or city and county in which such water district is located is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county or city and county purposes and furnish to the board of supervisors and to the auditor respectively an estimate in writing of the minimum amount of the money required by the district for that purpose, and the board of supervisors of such county or city and county, must annually, at the time and in the manner of levying other county or city and county taxes, and until all such claims are fully paid levy and cause to be collected a tax to be known as the "_____ county district water tax." [Amendment of April 7, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 29.]

Levy and collection of tax.

§ 22. Such tax shall be levied on all property in the territory comprising the district and shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and form as county taxes are collected and when collected, shall be paid to the district for which such tax was levied and collected. Such tax shall be a lien on all the property within the territory comprising the district and of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes and its collection shall be enforced by the same means as provided for in the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes.

Initiative.

§ 23. Ordinances may be passed by the electors of any county water district organized under the provisions of this act in accordance with the methods provided by the general laws of the state for direct legislation applicable to counties.

Referendum.

§ 24. Ordinances may be disapproved and thereby vetoed by the electors of any such county water district by proceeding in accordance with the methods provided by the general laws of the state for protesting against legislation by counties.

Adding to district.

§ 25. Any portion of a county or any municipality, or both, may be added to any county water district organized under the provisions of this act, at any time, upon petition presented in the manner herein provided for the organization of such water district, which petition may be granted by ordinance of the board of directors of such water district. Such ordinance shall be submitted for adoption or rejection to the vote of the electors in such water district and in the proposed addition, at a general or special election held as herein provided, within seventy days after the adoption of such ordinance. If such ordinance is approved, the president and secretary of the board of directors shall certify that fact to the secretary of state and to the county recorder of the county in which such water district is located. Upon the receipt of such last mentioned certificate the secretary of state shall, within ten days, issue his certificate, reciting the passage of said ordinance and the addition of said territory to said district. A copy of such certificate shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of the county in which such county water district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the territory named therein shall be deemed added to and form a part of said county water district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto.

Definitions.

§ 26. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as repealing or in any wise modifying the provisions of any other act relating to water or the supply of water to, or the acquisition thereof by counties or municipalities within this state. The term

"municipality," as used in this act, shall include a consolidated city and county, city or town, and shall be understood and so construed as to include, and is hereby declared to include, all corporations heretofore organized and now existing and those hereafter organized for municipal purposes within such water districts. The term "county" shall be understood and construed to include "city and county." In municipalities in which there is no mayor the duty imposed upon said officer by the provisions of this act shall be performed by the president of the board of trustees or other chief executive of the municipality. The word "district" shall apply, unless otherwise expressed or used, to a water district formed under the provisions of this act, and the word "board" and the words "boards of directors" shall apply to the board of directors of such district. Any county water district heretofore organized under the provisions of the act of which this act is amendatory shall enjoy all the powers herein granted and the organization of such districts and all proceedings leading to such organization are hereby affirmed and validated and such districts are hereby declared to be duly organized and incorporated. [Amendment of April 7, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 29.]

Duties performed by registrar of voters.

§ 27. Whenever a registrar of voters in any county, or city and county, shall be appointed, or elected, under the provisions of law, or charter providing therefor, the duties imposed on the county clerk by the provisions of this act shall be performed by the registrar of voters with like effect, and in such case all papers or documents required to be filed with the county clerk shall be filed with said registrar of voters when so appointed or elected.

Exclusion of territory. Petition. Contents. Duties of secretary. Hearing. Order excluding lands.

§ 28. Any territory, included within any county water district formed under the provisions of this act, and not benefited in any manner by such district, or its continued inclusion therein, may be excluded therefrom by order of the board of directors of such district upon the verified petition of the owner or owners in fee of lands whose assessed value, with improvements, is in excess of one-half of the assessed value of all the lands, with improvements, held in private ownership in such territory. Said petition shall describe the territory sought to be excluded and shall set forth that such territory is not benefited in any manner by said county water district or its continued inclusion therein, and shall pray that such territory may be excluded and taken from said district. Such petition shall be filed with the secretary of the water district and shall be accompanied by a deposit with such secretary of the sum of one hundred dollars, to meet the expenses of advertising and other costs incident to the proceedings for the exclusion of such territory, including the cost of recording a certified copy of the order hereinafter provided for, any unconsumed balance to be returned to the petitioner. Upon the filing of such petition with the secretary of the water district he shall call a meeting of the board of directors of the district at a time not less than twenty-five days nor more than fifty days after the filing of the petition and cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be published for at least two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation within said district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the district is situated. Such notice shall also state the date of the filing of such petition and that the same will come on for hearing before the board of directors of the district and shall state the time of the hearing and the place thereof, which shall be the regular meeting place of the board of directors of the district; provided, that the board may adjourn the hearing to a more convenient meeting place within the district. Any landowner or taxpayer within the district shall have the right to appear at said hearing, either in behalf of or in opposition to the granting of said petition. Said petition shall come on for hearing before the board of directors of the district at the time and place specified in the notice of hearing. If upon such hearing the board of directors determines that it is for the best interests of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition, or some portion thereof, be excluded from the district, or if it appears that such lands, or some portion thereof, will not be benefited by their continued inclusion in the district, then the board of directors shall make an order that such lands, or such portion thereof, be excluded from the district, such order to describe specifically the lands so excluded. From the time of the making of such order the lands so excluded shall be deemed to be no longer included in the district, but such order of exclusion shall not be taken to invalidate in any manner any taxes or assessments theretofore levied or assessed against the lands so excluded. A copy of such order of exclusion, certified to by the secretary of the district, shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the district is situated and the record of such certified copy shall be deemed prima facie evidence of the exclusion from the district of the lands purporting to be excluded thereby.

Directors may institute proceedings for exclusion. Hearing. Referendum.

The board of directors of any county water district formed under the provisions of this act may itself initiate the proceedings for the exclusion from the district of any land or lands which it may not be for the best interests of the district to be included, or which may no be benefited in any manner by their continued inclusion therein. Such proceedings shall be initiated by the board of directors by the passage of a resolution requiring all persons interested to appear and show cause before the board of directors, at a time and place specified, why such lands, describing them, should not be excluded from the district and fixing a time and place for such hearing and directing the secretary of the district to give notice of the passage of such resolution and of such hearing. Upon the passage of such resolution the secretary of the district shall give notice thereof and of the time and place of such hearing in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for notice of hearing upon petition by a landowner or landowners, and thereafter all proceedings shall be had in the manner and with the effect herein provided for proceedings upon a petition by a landowner or landowners. The time of hearing fixed by the board of directors by its resolution hereinbefore mentioned shall be not less than twenty-five days nor more than fifty days after the passage of such resolution and the place of hearing so fixed shall be a convenient place within the district; provided, that the final action of the board of directors under this section shall be subject to the referendum by the electors of the water district according to section twenty-four of this act. [New section added May 14, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 225.]

1. Notice of hearing of protests—Place of meeting.—A notice of hearing of a petition to organize a county water district under this act, giving the time of hearing, and reciting that it would be held at the office of the board of supervisors in the county court house, was held sufficient where the protesting land owner was actually present at the meeting and participated therein, although the board did not meet at the county court house, but at its regular meeting place across the street from the court house in the hall of records, one of the group of buildings in which the official activities of the county were carried on.—Dumbarton, etc., Co. v. Murphy, 32 Cal. App. 626, 163 Pac. 866.

2. Inclusion of land not included in the petition. Must be by petition of owner.—The act precludes the inclusion by the supervisors in a county water district of land not included within the boundaries of the district as set forth in the petition initiating the proceeding, and in the notice of proposed presentation published, except upon the application of the land to be included.—People ex rel. Mastick v. Lake, etc., District (Cal.), 190 Pac. 630.

3. Same—Same.—Under the authority of section 3 of the act to make changes, the supervisors, may make such changes in the proposed boundaries as they may deem advisable, within the specified limitations, but they can not add land to the proposed distract except on the owner's application.—People ex rel. Mastick v. Lake etc., District, (Cal.) 190 Pac. 630.

COUNTY WATER DISTRICT ACT NO. 2.

ACT 5507—An act providing for the organization of water districts by the board of supervisors of the different counties of the state upon petition therefor by the landowners; providing for the joint government and control thereof by the landowners thereof and the board of supervisors of the county in which the same are formed; providing for the duties in connection therewith of the county officials of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located; providing for the acquisition and construction by said district of irrigation works, for the irrigation of the lands embraced therein and for the distribution thereby of water for irrigation purposes; providing for the payment of the debts thereof by a tax on the lands embraced therein; providing for the issuance and sale of bonds thereby; providing that said bonds may be investigated by an appointive board of three hydraulic engineers; providing for the approval of said bonds by the state superintendent of banks in case said investigation is favorably reported and that thereafter said bonds may be lawfully purchased, or received in pledge as security for any money or deposits or for the performance of any act, by banks, banking institutions, insurance companies, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators; providing in certain cases for the transfer of districts from the supervision of one county board of supervisors to another; and providing for the dissolution of said districts for non-user of corporate power.

History: Approved June 13, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 815. Amended May 31, 1917, in effect July 30, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1408.

Organization of water districts. Petition. Evidence of title.

§ 1. The holders of title or evidence of title to a majority in area of lands which are susceptible of irrigation from a common source and by the same system of works may propose the organization of a water district by signing and presenting to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands or the greater part thereof are situated, at any of its regular meetings, a petition setting forth the following facts,—that they propose to form under the provisions of this act a water district to be known as the “(.....) Water District”; the boundaries thereof; a description of the lands contained therein by legal subdivisions or other boundaries, specifying the county in which the same are located; the number of acres in the proposed district and in each parcel or tract of land contained therein with the names, if known, of the owners thereof, and, if not, designating them as “unknown”; the place where the principal business thereof is proposed to be transacted; and the source or sources (which may be in the alternative) from which said lands are proposed to be irrigated. The words “title or evidence of title” as used in this section include the possessory rights of entrymen or purchasers of public lands under any law of the United States or of this state whether evidenced by receipts or otherwise. The records of the United States land office for the district in which said lands are located; the records of the state land office; and the records in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said lands are situated shall be conclusive evidence of ownership for the purposes of this section.

Publication of petition. Fixing boundaries. District declared organized.

§ 2. A copy of said petition and a notice signed by one or more of the petitioners stating the time and place at which the petition will be presented to and heard by the board of supervisors shall be published once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where said proceedings are to be held. Proof of publication must be attached to the petition and filed with the clerk of the board on or before the day in which the petition is presented. During the hearing, or any continuation thereof until concluded, the board must keep a full and complete record of all the proceedings and shall preserve the evidence of all persons appearing and testifying therein. If, at the hearing, it shall appear that the petition has been prepared and presented in the manner required by law and that it contains the required and properly qualified signatures thereto, the board shall enter its order approving the same. Thereupon the board shall fix the boundaries of the district and to that end may exclude therefrom any lands improperly included therein by the petitioners; and after a hearing thereon pursuant to a notice thereof published for the time and in the manner required for the publication of the petition (proof whereof has been filed with the clerk of the board on or before the date of said hearing) shall include in said district any land which shall appear to have been improperly excluded therefrom by the petitioners; and the board shall appoint until such time as their successors are elected and shall have qualified as in this act provided and from among those qualified to serve, a board of directors and an assessor. The various orders of the board approving the petition, fixing the boundaries of the district and appointing its officials shall be indorsed upon or attached to the petition, and be signed by the president and attested by the clerk of the board and it must then be by them filed for record with the county recorder of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located, and by him recorded in a book kept by him for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to said district. When said documents have been so recorded, the district shall be and is hereby declared to be legally organized and shall have power to sue and be sued.

Determination of legality of district.

§ 3. Any district formed hereunder, in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of the county in which it was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the district, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal water district formed under the provisions of this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof shall have been completed and proof thereof filed with the complaint any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district. If no answer shall be filed within said time the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California.

By-laws. Evidence of ownership.

§ 4. The district must adopt for the government and control of its affairs a code of by-laws not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state or the provisions of this act. Sixty days after they shall have qualified for office the board of directors shall prepare by-laws for the written approval of the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was organized, and, when said by-laws are approved, shall adopt the same by resolution entered in the minutes of the meeting, unless, prior thereto, by-laws shall have been adopted and filed with the secretary of the district by written assent of the holders of title or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to a majority in area of the lands embraced in said district. The records of the United States land office for the district in which said lands are located; the records of the state land office; and the records in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said lands are situated shall be conclusive evidence of ownership for the purposes of this section. The by-laws shall provide for: the manner of calling, and the time, place and manner of conducting all elections and the manner of giving notice thereof; the mode of voting in person or by proxy; the qualifications and duties of officers, the tenure of their office, the time and manner of their appointment or election; their compensation; the place at which the principal business of the district is to be transacted and the mode of changing the same; the mode of amending or repealing the by-laws and suitable penalties for the violation of the by-laws not to exceed in any one case two hundred dollars for any one offense. The by-laws may be repealed or amended, or new by-laws may be adopted by the assent of two-thirds of the total vote of the district given either in writing or by ballot cast at an election of the district. The by-laws in their original form, and any repeal thereof, or amendment or addition thereto, must, together with the approval of the board of supervisors and the resolution of the directors, or the written assent thereto or a memorandum of the returns of the election at which the assent was given, be certified by a majority of the directors and the secretary of the district and must be filed for record with the county recorder of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located and by him recorded in a book kept by him for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to said district. Until so recorded, no by-law, addition thereto, amendment or repeal thereof, can be enforced against any person not having actual notice of the same.

Officers of district. Vacancies. Salaries.

§ 5. The officers of the district shall be a board of five directors, a secretary, and an assessor, all of whom shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be elected by ballot, except the secretary who shall be appointed by the board of directors. No person shall be qualified to hold any of said offices, except that of secretary, unless he is a holder of title or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to lands contained in the district. Each appointee to office or officer-elect shall forfeit his office unless within ten days after he has notice of his election or appointment or before the expiration of ten days from the commencement of his term of office, when no such notice is given, he shall have filed for record with the county recorder of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located, a written acceptance of his office which shall be recorded in a book kept for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to the district. If any office shall become vacant by forfeiture, death, resignation, or from any other cause, the same shall be filled by appointment,—by the board of directors in case of vacancy in the office of secretary, and by the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was organized in all other cases. Until such time as their salaries shall have been fixed by the adoption of by-laws, the officers of the district shall receive the following compensation for their services: the secretary and assessor such sum each as shall be fixed by the board of directors; and the directors five dollars each for each directors' meeting attended or for each day's service rendered as a director by order of the board of directors, together with any expenses incident to such service, except expenses incurred in traveling between his place of residence and the place at which directors' meetings are held.

Organization of board; meetings, etc. Quorum. Records open to inspection.

§ 6. The board of directors shall choose from among its members a president; shall appoint the secretary of the district; shall select and maintain an office for the district in the principal place of business thereof and shall hold regular meetings therein at such time and place as may be agreed upon by resolution adopted, and shall hold therein such other meetings as, from time to time, may be deemed advisable; provided, that no meetings, except regular meetings, shall be valid unless prior thereto each director shall have filed with the secretary his written consent to the same, or unless the president, or three members of the board of directors, shall have called the same by giving each of said directors five days' written notice thereof, or unless said directors shall have authorized the same by resolution adopted at a former meeting and shall have caused five days' written notice thereof to be given by the secretary to each director not joining therein. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The vote of a majority of those present at any meeting where a quorum is had shall be necessary to determine any proposition or resolution presented. The secretary shall keep a record of all the proceedings had at meetings of the board of directors. The books, maps, papers, contracts, records and other documents pertaining to the affairs of the district shall be filed in the office of the district with the secretary and must be open to inspection at all times by any persons interested.

Duties and powers of board. Not to let contracts until bonds are sold.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the board of directors to manage and conduct the affairs of the district and to that end it shall, in the name of the district, have power to plan, construct, maintain and keep in repair the irrigation works necessary or proper to supply the lands contained therein with sufficient water for irrigation purposes; to acquire by purchase, condemnation or other legal means all water, water rights, lands, properties or rights in properties necessary or proper therefor; to lease or sell for a valuable consideration any property, or right in property, belonging to the district and no longer necessary to its use and purpose; to take conveyances, contracts, leases or other assurances for property acquired by the district under the provisions of this act; to execute by its president and secretary all contracts, leases, conveyances and other documents necessary to carry out the duties and powers specified herein; to institute, maintain and defend in person, or by attorneys, all actions, proceedings or suits at law or in equity necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act, or to enforce, maintain, protect or preserve the rights, privileges and immunities created by or acquired in pursuance thereof; to establish, print and distribute among the land owners of the district equitable rules and regulations for the distribution of water; to enter, for the above purposes, either in person or by its agents or employees, in and upon any lands contained in the district; to employ or fix the salary of such persons as may be necessary or proper to fully carry out the uses and purposes of the district; and to do any other lawful thing necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act or the uses and purposes for which the district is formed; provided, however, that the board of directors shall not let, or enter into, a contract for the construction of irrigation works, nor shall said board of directors construct the same by employees of the district until an election has been called and held to determine whether or not bonds of the district shall be issued as provided in section thirteen of this act, nor, in case bonds are voted, until eighty-five per cent of the total amount of said bond issue has been sold and the money received thereon, as provided in section eighteen hereof.

Annual estimate of funds needed. Assessment. Hearing of objections. Tax rate fixed. Charge against each parcel of land computed. Appeal from decision of supervisors.

§ 8. Between thirty and ninety days after the organization of the district, and between said dates annually thereafter the board of directors must file with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which said district was organized an estimate of the sum required by the district to discharge the unpaid matured obligations thereof at that date and the obligations thereof that will mature or that it is probable will be incurred and mature during the two years next following, specifying that portion of said estimate which will be required for the payment of bonds and of the interest on bonds. Between the date on which the district was organized and ninety days thereafter, and between said dates in each succeeding year, the assessor must view the lands of the district and assess each parcel or tract of land contained therein at the cash value of the benefit derived by it from the construction and maintenance or proposed construction and maintenance of irrigation works and said assessor must, within said time, file with the clerk of said board of supervisors, an assessment-book, with appropriate headings, in which must be listed each parcel or tract of land within the district, specifying,—(1) the name, if known, (and, if unknown, stating that fact) of the holder of title or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, thereto; (2) the description thereof by legal subdivisions, metes and bounds, or other boundaries sufficient to identify the same; and (3) the value assessed thereon. If the district is contained in more than one county, then the assessment-book shall be prepared with a separate part in a separate volume for the lands of each county. Within sixty days after the said estimate and the said assessment list shall have been filed as above provided, the said board of supervisors, acting as a board of equalization, shall meet and hear any verified, written objections, stating the ground therefor, to the assessment as made, which objections shall, prior to the hearing, be filed with the clerk of said board. Prior to the hearing, and during the office hours of said board of supervisors, the assessment list shall be open to public inspection. At the hearing, which must be continued from time to time until completed, the said board of supervisors shall hear the evidence offered in support of the objections presented and shall add to or deduct from the valuation assessed to any tract or parcel of land such per centum thereof as shall be sufficient to raise it or reduce it to the full cash value of the benefit derived by said tract or parcel of land from the construction or maintenance or proposed construction and maintenance of irrigation works and shall fix the value of any lands contained in said district that shall not have been so assessed. Thereupon, and before said hearing is closed, the assessor shall have the total valuation of all the lands assessed extended into columns, added and a statement thereof made. When said statement is completed, the board of supervisors must fix such ad valorem rate of taxation upon each hundred dollars in value of the lands so assessed as will raise the sum specified in said estimate. Any changes in or additions to said list shall be entered in said assessment-book in the proper place therefor and the order therefor shall be indorsed on the margin of the entry and signed by the president and attested by the secretary of said board of supervisors. The order of the board of supervisors approving the assessment, the statement of the assessor showing the total valuation of the property assessed, the order fixing the rate of taxation thereon, and the estimate of the sum required by the board of directors of the district for the expense thereof during the two years next following shall be signed by the president and attested by the secretary of the district and shall be attached to the assessment-book on the last volume thereof, unless the lands of the district are contained in more than one county, in which case a copy thereof shall be signed and attached in a similar manner to each separate part of the assessment-book. Within ten days after the hearing is completed, the assessor shall compute and charge in the assessment-book in a place provided therefor in the record of each parcel or tract of land assessed the amount of the tax due thereon and shall file each said separate part of the assessment-book with the county tax collector of the county in which the lands therein assessed are located and thereafter the charges therein taxed shall be due and payable to the county tax collector of the county in which the lands on which they are taxed are situated. The various orders of the board of supervisors made at the hearing shall be final and when indorsed on or attached to the assessment-book shall be conclusive evidence that the assessment was made and the tax levied in accordance with the law; provided, however, that any person interested in lands of the district and aggrieved by the decision of the board of supervisors may, in order to have said assessment, or the tax levied thereon, corrected, modified, or annulled, institute an action therefor in the superior court of the county in which said district was organized. No action to determine the validity in any respect of any such assessment, or tax levied thereon, shall be maintained unless the same shall have been commenced within thirty days after the assessment-book, or each separate part thereof, is filed with said county tax collector as above provided, and no objection to the assessment shall be considered by said board of supervisors or allowed in any other action, or proceeding, unless such objection shall have been made in writing, verified and presented to the clerk of the board of supervisors in the manner herein required.

Assessment lien on property.

§ 9. From and after the filing of the assessment-book, or separate part thereof, with said county tax collector, as provided in section eight of this act, the charges therein taxed upon any tract or parcel of land within the county for which he is the tax collector and any penalties added thereto as hereafter provided shall constitute a lien thereon and shall impart notice thereof to all persons.

Delinquency notice. Publication.

§ 10. Within ten days after each tax shall have become due and payable, the assessor shall publish in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the district was organized, a notice stating that the same became due and payable on (inserting date) to the county tax collector of the county in which the lands on which the charge therefor is a lien are located and that unless paid within six calendar months from said date the same will become delinquent, an additional charge of ten per cent thereof added thereto and the delinquent property sold at public auction. The tax must be paid in United States gold coin and the tax collector must mark the date of payment in the assessment-book opposite the name of the person paying, and must give to such person a receipt, specifying the property taxed, the amount of the charge thereon and the amount paid, and thereafter must pay the moneys so received to the county treasurer of said county, who must pay the same to the county treasurer of the county in which said district was organized, and he shall place the same to the credit of the district. As soon as possible after the tax shall become delinquent the assessment-book and each separate part thereof shall be returned to the secretary of the district and the board of directors thereof shall publish once a week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which said district was organized a notice containing a description of the delinquent property; the name, if known, and, if unknown, stating that fact, of the person to whom it is assessed; the amount of the taxes and penalties due thereon; and a statement that the delinquent property will be sold therefor in front of the courthouse of said county on a date therein stated, which must be not less than twenty-one nor more than twenty-eight days from the first publication, unless an error is made in the publication and discovered prior to the sale, in which case the notice shall be republished in the same manner, specifying the sale for a date not less than twenty-one or more than twenty-eight days from the first republication.

Purchaser. Certificate of sale. Certificates recorded. Redemption of property sold. Purchaser entitled to deed after one year. Sale by district which became purchaser.

§ 11. At the time and place stated in said notice or at such other time (written notice whereof has been posted at the place of sale) to which the board of directors may have postponed it, not exceeding thirty days in all from the original date of sale, that person is the purchaser who will immediately pay in gold coin of the United States the delinquent tax and the penalty thereon for the smallest portion of the delinquent property, or in case an undivided interest is taxed, then the smallest portion of the interest. In case there is no purchaser in good faith for the same the whole amount of the delinquent property shall, for the amount of the tax and penalty thereon, be struck off to the district as the purchaser. A certificate of sale shall be executed in duplicate by the board of directors, one of which shall be delivered to the purchaser or to the district, if the property shall have been struck off to the district, and the other of which shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property sold is located. The certificate shall be dated the day of the sale and shall specify—the description of the property sold; the name, if known, and if not, stating that fact, of the person to whom it was assessed; the fact that it was sold for the amount of the tax and penalty thereon, giving the amount and year of said tax; and the date on which the purchaser will be entitled to a deed. The recorder upon receiving the certificates of sale must, when he records the same, enter, in a book provided for that purpose and kept with the book provided for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to the district, a description of the land sold, corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of sale, the name of the purchaser, and the amount paid. The entries in said book shall be numbered consecutively on the margin thereof and a corresponding number shall be indorsed on the certificate. At the time of the sale the board of directors shall indorse in the assessment-book opposite the description of the property, the portion of the same sold for taxes and penalties, with the date of sale and name of purchaser, and shall thereafter pay to the tax collector of the county in which the lands sold are located the amount received on the sale thereof and shall return said assessment-book, or any such separate part thereof, to the county tax collector from whom the same was received, who must keep and file the same for the use and benefit of the district. Any person interested in any property sold may redeem the same within one year from the date of sale by paying in gold coin of the United States to the county tax collector of the county in which the property is located, and in trust for the purchaser or his assignees, the amount for which the same was sold, together with interest thereon at the rate of two per cent per month from the date of sale, and the tax collector must give him a receipt therefor, specifying therein a description of the property redeemed, the name of the purchaser and the date of sale, and he shall credit the amount so paid to the purchaser and shall thereafter pay the same on demand to the purchaser or his assignee. The county recorder of the county in which is located the property redeemed shall, upon presentation of the tax collector's receipt for said amount, mark the word "redeemed," the date and by whom redeemed on both the record of the certificate of sale of said property and on the margin of the memorandum thereof made in the book kept for that purpose. If no redemption shall be made within said one year, the purchaser, or the district, if said property shall have been sold to the district, shall be entitled to a deed executed by the board of directors, and said deed shall contain all the recitals of the certificate, and when duly acknowledged shall be (except as against actual fraud) conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings from the assessment to the execution of said deed, inclusive, and said deed will convey to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, free of all encumbrances, except state, county, municipal or subsequent district taxes, and except when the land is owned by the United States or this state, in which case it is the prima facie evidence of the right of possession. All property sold for taxes to the district shall subsequently be assessed for district taxation as though it had never been sold, but it shall not again be sold for delinquent tax, as long as it is owned by the district. The title acquired by the district, in case it becomes a purchaser at a delinquent tax sale of the district, may, subject to the right of redemption herein provided, be sold at public auction or private sale, but such sale shall not be made for less than the reasonable market value of the property, or for less than the amount of the taxes levied thereon, plus any penalties that may have been added thereto.

Additional tax in case of failure or error.

§ 12. If for any reason any tract or parcel of land contained within the district shall not have been charged with its portion of any tax levied, or if the tax levied on any tract or parcel of land shall be adjudged invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, then such tract or parcel of land shall at the hearing in any subsequent tax levy be additionally taxed and charged by the board of supervisors of the county in which said district was organized in a sum which bears the same proportion to the total amount of said former tax as its then assessed valuation bears to the total amount of the assessed valuation placed on all the lands in the district at the time said former tax was levied.

Plan of irrigation works. Special bond election. Notice. Ballots.

§ 13. The board of directors shall, as soon after the organization of the district as is practicable, prepare and adopt a plan of irrigation works and shall estimate the cost of constructing the same and of acquiring the lands, property, property rights, water, and water rights necessary or proper therefor and to supply the lands contained in the district with sufficient water for irrigation purposes, together with every other expense of the district that it is probable will be incurred and become payable before the expiration of one year from the completion of said works, for which the funds of the district then in the treasury or thereafter to be received from a tax previously levied, are inadequate, including the interest on any bonds of the district due and payable prior to said date. Thereafter, when it is considered by the board of directors for the best interest of the district that bonds thereof shall be issued for the purpose of obtaining all of the money necessary to pay the costs and expenses specified in the estimate accompanying the plan of the irrigation works or when the holders of title, or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to a majority in area of the land contained in the district, shall sign and file with the secretary of the district a petition therefor, the said board of directors shall, by resolution adopted and entered in its minutes, order a special election to be held at the time designated by said board at which shall be submitted to the landowners the question of whether or not bonds of the district shall be issued in said amount. A notice of said election, specifying the time and place at which the same will be held, the amount of the bonds proposed to be issued, the interest rate and purpose thereof, shall be published once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located, and proof thereof must be filed with the secretary of the district prior to the date on which said election is held. The ballots cast at such election shall specify the amount and purpose of the proposed bond issue and the rate of interest proposed. If two-thirds of the votes cast thereat are in favor of the issuance of bonds, the board of directors shall cause bonds in the amount specified in the order for the election to be executed and delivered to the county treasurer of the county in which said district was organized.

Term, denomination, etc., of bonds. Interest. Coupons. Form. Form of interest coupons. Bonds placed to credit of district.

§ 14. Bonds of the district, when issued, shall be payable in gold coin of the United States in twenty series as follows, five per cent of the whole amount of said bonds at the expiration of eleven years and at the expiration of each succeeding year to and including the expiration of thirty years from the date of execution thereof; they shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; and they shall be signed by the president of the board of directors and attested by the county auditor of the county in which the district was organized. Each bond must be made payable at a given time for its entire amount and not for a percentage; shall bear interest at a rate not in excess of seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the dates therein named at the office of said county treasurer upon the presentation and surrender of the proper coupons therefor, and the principal thereof shall be payable when due upon the presentation and surrender thereof to said county treasurer by the holder of the same. Each issue shall be numbered consecutively and the bonds of each issue shall be numbered consecutively and bear date at the time of their issue. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to the bonds and shall be numbered the same as the bonds, and attested by the fac-simile signature of the county auditor of the county in which said district was organized.

The bonds shall be substantially in the following form:

"Issue No. For value received, water district situated in the county of, state of California, promises to pay the holder hereof at the office of the treasurer of said county, on the day of, 19..., the sum of dollars in gold coin of the United States with interest in like gold coin at the rate of per centum per annum, payable at the office of said treasurer semi-annually, on the day of and the day of in each year, on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached. This bond is issued pursuant to an election held by said district on the day of, 19..., authorizing its issuance, and by authority of an act entitled (specifying the title and date of approval of this act).

In witness whereof, the said district, by its board of directors, has caused this bond to be signed by the president of said board and attested by the auditor of said county, with his seal of office attached, this of, 19....

.....
President of said board.

Attest:

.....
Auditor of county."

The interest coupons shall be substantially in the following form:

"No.

The treasurer of county, state of California, will pay the holder hereof, on the day of, 19..., at his office in, dollars, gold coin of the United States, out of the funds of water district for interest on bond numbered of said district.

Attest:

.....
County Auditor."

The county treasurer of the county in which said district was organized shall, when he receives the same, place the said bonds to the credit of the district and he shall, in a book provided for that purpose, keep a record of said bonds and of the payment thereof and the interest thereon. When filed with said county treasurer, as above provided, the bonds of the district and the interest thereon shall be and remain until paid a lien on the lands of the district, and a lien for the bonds of any issue shall be a preferred lien to that of any subsequent issue.

Test of validity of bonds.

§ 15. As soon as said bonds shall have been delivered to said county treasurer, the board of directors, or any holder of title, or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to lands contained in the district, may, in order to determine that said bonds are a legal obligation of the district, institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of the county in which the district was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth that on a date therein named bonds of said district were delivered to the said treasurer, stating the amount of such bonds, and praying that such bonds be adjudged to be a valid legal obligation of such district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof shall have been completed and proof thereof filed with the court, any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. If no answer shall be filed within said time, the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California.

Issue of additional bonds.

§ 16. For the purpose of completing the irrigation works and of acquiring the lands, property, property rights, water and water rights necessary or proper therefor and to supply the lands contained in the district with sufficient water for irrigation purposes, or for the purpose of making additions to said irrigation works, or for the purpose of paying for and retiring any issue of bonds previously made, the district may, when it is necessary or proper therefor, issue additional bonds in the same manner as is hereinbefore provided for the original issue of bonds.

Sale of bonds.

§ 17. The board of directors shall provide ways and means for the sale of said bonds or for the exchange thereof dollar for dollar for bonds of the state of California. Said board shall in no event sell or exchange, as above provided, any of said bonds for less than the par value thereof, plus the accrued interest thereon, nor shall any of said bonds be sold or exchanged nor shall said treasurer deliver any of the same unless the total proceeds thereof, either in gold coin of the United States or bonds of the state of California at their par value, shall be at least eighty-five per centum of the total amount of said bond issue, nor unless said bonds shall first have been approved as provided in section eighteen of this act. When any of said bonds are sold by the board of directors, the county treasurer in which the district was organized shall transfer the bonds purchased to the purchaser upon receiving the purchase price, and the moneys received therefrom shall be placed to the credit of the district and in a similar manner bonds of the state of California that may be received for bonds of the district shall be placed to the credit thereof to be sold as the board of directors may direct, in no case, however, for less than the par value thereof.

Water district bonds lawful investment of trust funds, etc. Hydraulic engineer. Board of investigation. Approval of superintendent of banks. Expense of investigation.

§ 18. When approved as provided in this section the bonds of any water district issued in pursuance of this act may be lawfully purchased, or received in pledge as security for any money or deposits or for the performance of any act, by banks, banking institutions, insurance companies and trust companies and, when thereunto duly authorized by the court, by guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators. When requested therefor in writing by a majority of the board of directors of any water district formed hereunder, the governor must select and appoint one hydraulic engineer, who, with one such engineer appointed by said board of directors and one such engineer mutually agreed upon and jointly appointed by the governor and said board of directors, shall constitute a board of investigation to determine whether or not the total cost of acquiring the water rights and the system of works that may be necessary to supply the lands of the district with water in sufficient quantities for irrigation purposes will be in excess of one hundred per centum of the total amount of the bonds theretofore issued by such district. Within ninety days after the third and last member thereof is chosen, unless said time shall be extended by the board of directors, in which case within said extension of time, each member of said board of investigation shall prepare his separate written report and shall file the same with the state superintendent of banks and shall certify and file a copy thereof with the board of directors of said district, which report shall specify whether or not said cost will be in excess of one hundred per centum of the total amount of the said bonds so issued. If two members of said board of investigation shall find that said cost will not be in excess of an amount equal to one hundred per centum of the total amount of the said bonds so issued, the state superintendent of banks must, when so requested by the board of directors of said district, indorse upon the face of each of said bonds the word "approved" and shall affix thereunder his signature and the title of his office. The said district shall bear and pay for all expense incident to the investigation and the governor, before appointing any member of the board of investigation which he hereby empowered to select and appoint, may require that the said district provide, subject to his approval, a good and sufficient undertaking in an amount not in excess of six thousand dollars, conditioned that said district, or its sureties, which shall be two in number, will pay the salary and necessary expenses of that member of said board of investigation appointed by him, not to exceed, however, the total sum of five thousand dollars.

Destruction of unused bonds.

§ 19. Whenever there remains in the hands of the treasurer of the county in which the district was organized any unsold bonds of the district which it is not necessary to sell for the purpose of raising funds for the district, the board of directors may call a special election to determine whether said bonds shall be destroyed or not, or may submit such proposition at a general election. The notice thereof shall specify, in addition to the requirements therefor as provided in section twenty-three of this act, the amount of the bonded indebtedness authorized, the amount of the bonds remaining unsold and the amount thereof proposed to be destroyed. When the vote cast at said election is canvassed by the board of election, if a two-thirds majority of the votes cast shall be found to be in favor of the destruction of said bonds, then the president of the board of directors, in the presence of a majority of the members thereof, must destroy the bonds so voted to be destroyed and the amount thereof shall be deducted from the total amount authorized to be issued, and no part thereof shall thereafter be reprinted or reissued.

Use of excess money to redeem bonds.

§ 20. Whenever the funds of the district are in excess of the amount necessary to complete the construction of the irrigation works or to acquire the necessary water, water rights, property and rights in property therefor and to supply all the lands contained in the district with sufficient water for irrigation purposes and in addition thereto to pay every obligation of the district that is due and payable or that will become due and payable or that it is probable will become due and payable before the expiration of two years from the date on which the next preceding tax of the district was levied, the board of directors may direct the treasurer of the county in which said district was organized to pay with said excess (specifying the amount thereof) such an amount of the sold bonds of the district as said excess sum of money will redeem at the lowest value at which they may be obtained for liquidation, in no case for more than the par value thereof.

County treasurer to receive funds for district. Bond fund. General fund. Payments from funds.

§ 21. The county treasurer of the county in which the district was organized shall receive to the credit of the district and in trust for the uses and benefits thereof all the funds thereof, and all such funds or moneys belonging to the district, or to which the district is entitled, shall, when received, except as herein otherwise provided, be paid by the person so receiving them to the said treasurer. The said treasurer shall establish for the district two funds, to wit: a bond fund and a general fund, and shall apportion the moneys of the district to said funds, as follows: to the bond fund that portion of the moneys received from the collection of taxes or from the sale of property for delinquent taxes which bears the same proportion to the total amount so received from the collection of taxes or from the sale of property for delinquent taxes as that portion of the estimate of the board of directors (on which said tax was based) which is required for the payment of bonds and of the interest on bonds bears to the whole amount of said estimate; to the general fund, the balance of all moneys or funds so received. In case lands of the district, when sold for delinquent taxes, are struck off to the district as the purchaser, the tax collector of the county in which said lands are located shall, in making his accounting with the treasurer of said county, furnish a statement of the lands so sold to the district of the amount for which the same were sold, and said treasurer shall deliver the same to the treasurer of the county in which said district was organized and said last-named treasurer shall thereupon estimate that portion of said amount belonging to the bond fund and shall charge the general fund with said portion and shall pay the same from the general fund into the bond fund. The moneys placed in the bond fund shall be used for the payment of bonds and of the interest thereon, and, until the total bonded indebtedness of the district is discharged, shall not be used for any other purpose. The funds of the district shall not, except for the payment of bonds and the interest thereon, be paid out by the treasurer of the county in which said district was organized, unless a warrant therefor shall have been drawn and executed by the board of directors and approved by the board of supervisors of said county. Such warrants are and shall be considered as contracts in writing for the payment of money, and the period prescribed for the commencement of an action based thereon, or connected therewith, is and shall be the term of four years from the date of their issuance. In any proceeding for a writ of mandate to compel the board of directors to issue a warrant, the court must determine the controversy in the manner provided for determining controversies in other civil actions, and shall cause a writ to issue for such sum as may be found to be due.

Voters.

§ 22. Except as herein otherwise provided, every holder of title or evidence of title (including the aforesaid possessory rights) to land contained in said district, and no other, shall be qualified and entitled to vote either in person or by proxy at any election held by said district. Each person entitled thereto shall have one vote for each dollar's worth of land, the title to which is held by him as above provided. The next preceding assessment-book of said district shall, for the purposes of this section, be conclusive evidence of ownership and of the value of the property so owned.

Conduct of elections. Election officers. Polls open 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Australian ballot. Canvass of votes. Contest of election. Proxies.

§ 23. Except as herein otherwise provided, all elections held under the provisions of this act shall be called, held and conducted at the time, place and in the manner provided by the by-laws of the district; provided, however, that no such election shall be valid unless the place at which the same is held is at the principal place of business of the district and unless notice thereof shall first have been given in the following manner: by publication thereof once a week for at least two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located. The said notice of election shall state the time, place and purposes thereof. At least ten days before any election, the board of directors must appoint from among those persons qualified and entitled to vote at said election an inspector and two judges, who shall constitute a board of election, and three alternates who shall, in the order in which they are appointed, fill any vacancies on said board if any members thereof do not attend at the opening of the polls. Each member of such board of election, or his successor, must, before entering upon his duties as such, take an official oath as such member of the board of election, which may be administered by any officer authorized to administer oaths or by any landholder in the district. The inspector is chairman of the election board and shall appoint the necessary clerks, and if during the progress of the election any judge or clerk shall cease to act, he shall appoint his successor. The polls shall be kept open for the reception of votes from ten o'clock a. m. until five o'clock p. m., when the same must be closed. The election board shall, before the opening of the polls, post in a conspicuous place thereat a list of all persons entitled to vote at said election with the number of votes they are entitled to cast. The ballots used at the election shall be provided by the board of directors and one of the clerks of election shall deliver one of them to each person qualified to cast a vote or to his representative by proxy. The Australian ballot shall be used and the clerk of the election board at the time of delivering the same to the voter, or his representative by proxy, shall mark thereon in a place provided for that purpose the name of the person casting the ballot and the number of votes which he is entitled to cast. The person casting the ballot shall stamp a cross with a rubber stamp, to be provided by the board of directors, in the square behind the name of each candidate or proposition he wishes to vote for. The election board shall retain and file with the returns of the election all proxies presented at said election. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election, containing, the name of the voter and, if the ballot be cast by proxy or by the legal representative of the voter, the name of the person casting it; the number of votes cast; and how the person voted on the different matters presented at the election. At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result, and shall forward a certificate, showing the same and the number of votes cast for or against each candidate or proposition and shall forward said certificate, together with all ballots used and all documents and papers used at such election, to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was organized, and a duplicate copy thereof to the secretary of the district. A copy of said certificate, certified by said clerk of the board of supervisors, shall be by him filed for record with the county recorder of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located, and by him recorded in a book kept by him for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to said district. Any person interested may contest such election, within twenty days after the result thereof has been declared, by filing a complaint in the superior court of the county where such election was held, and if no contest shall be commenced within said time, the declaration of the result by the board of election shall be final and conclusive. No proxy shall be valid and no proxy shall be accepted or vote allowed thereon at any election held under the provisions of this act unless the same be executed in writing by the person or corporation who, according to the next preceding assessment-book of the district, is entitled to the votes for which the proxy is given. The said proxy shall be acknowledged before some person authorized to take certified acknowledgments of conveyances of real property and shall specify the election for which it is given and shall only be used at such election. Every proxy shall be revocable at the pleasure of the person executing it.

Rights may be exercised by legal representative.

§ 24. The rights, privileges and immunities created by this act in favor of any holder of title or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to lands contained in the district may for his benefit and on his behalf be exercised by, and are hereby extended to, his legal representative in all cases where said legal representative is an official of a corporation owning land within the district or is a guardian, executor or administrator of an estate who is appointed as such under the laws of this state and who as such is entitled to the possession of lands included within said water district belonging to the estate which he represents and who has been by the court duly authorized to exercise the particular right, privilege or immunity which he seeks to exercise; provided, however, that he must, before he casts a ballot at any election of the district, present the board of election or some clerk thereof with a certified copy of his authority, which must be kept and filed with the returns of the election.

Use of water for district declared public use.

§ 25. The use of all water required for the irrigation of the lands of any district formed under the provisions of this act, and for domestic and other incidental and other beneficial uses, within such district, together with the rights of way for canals and ditches, sites for reservoirs and all other property required in fully carrying out the provisions of this act, is hereby declared to be a public use, subject to the regulation and control of the state in the manner prescribed by law.

Power to construct works across streets, etc. Right of way through state lands.

§ 26. The board of directors shall have power to construct the irrigation works across any stream of water, watercourse, street, avenue, highway, railway, canal, ditch, or flume which the route of a canal or canals of said works may intersect or cross, in such manner as to afford security for life and property; but said board shall restore the same, when so crossed or intersected, to its former state as near as may be, or in a sufficient manner not to have impaired unnecessarily its usefulness; and every company whose railroad shall be intersected or crossed by said works shall unite with said board in forming said intersections and crossings and shall grant the privileges aforesaid; and if such railroad company and said board or the owners and controllers of said property, thing or franchise so to be crossed, cannot agree upon the amount to be paid therefor, or the points or the matter of said crossings or intersections, the same shall be ascertained and determined in all respects as is herein provided in respect to the taking of land. A right of way is hereby given, dedicated, and set apart to locate, construct, and maintain said works over and through any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state; and also there is given, dedicated, and set apart for the uses and purposes aforesaid, all waters and water rights belonging to this state within the district. The rights of way, ditches, flumes, pipe lines, dams, water rights, reservoirs and other property of like character belonging to any district organized under this act shall not be taxed for state and county or municipal purposes.

Condemnation proceedings.

§ 27. In case of condemnation proceedings, the board of directors shall proceed in the name of the district under the provisions of title 7, part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Officers not to be interested in contracts.

§ 28. No officer of the district shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded, or in the profits to be derived therefrom; and for any violation of this provision such officer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and such conviction shall work a forfeiture of his office, and he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Apportionment of waters. Penalty,

§ 29. It is hereby expressly provided that all waters distributed for irrigation purposes shall be apportioned ratably to each landowner upon the basis of the ratio which the last assessment of such owner for district purposes within said district bears to the whole acreage assessed upon the district. When the equitable rules and regulations for the distribution of water have been provided by the board of directors and published once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located, any violation thereof shall be and is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor, and the person committing the same shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.

No fees for services of county officers.

§ 30. No supervisor, recorder, tax collector, treasurer, auditor or clerk of any county shall receive any fee for any service required to be performed by him under the provisions of this act; provided, however, that the tax collector of each county in which any of the lands contained in the district are located, during the time for the collection of the taxes of the district, may require the board of directors to provide and pay for a deputy tax collector whose duty it shall be to care for the matters relating to the collection of the said taxes of the district.

In case of division of a county excluding lands of district.

§ 31. If at any time after the organization of any district hereunder, the boundaries of the county in which the same was organized shall be so changed or modified as to exclude therefrom all of the lands contained in said district, then in that event the records and documents of said district in the possession and care of the board of supervisors of said county, together with a certified copy of the proceedings had by the district under the jurisdiction of said board of supervisors, shall be transferred and filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which the greater portion of the lands contained in said district are located. All proceedings, petitions, orders or other documents which have been filed with the recorder of the county in which said district was organized, and which, or a certified copy thereof, have not been recorded in the county to which said district is transferred, shall be certified to by said county recorder and filed for record with the county recorder of the county to which said district has been transferred, and by him recorded in a book kept by him for the purpose of recording instruments and writings relating to said district. The treasurer and the auditor of the county in which said district was organized shall draw their warrant upon said treasurer for all of the funds of such district in the treasury of said county and the said treasurer shall pay such warrant and said funds, together with all unsold bonds of the district and the bond record kept by him, shall be transferred by him to the treasurer of the county to which the district has been so transferred. From and after the transfer in the manner above specified the board of supervisors of the county to which the district is transferred shall have and exercise all of the jurisdiction, power and authority over said district as was theretofore exercised by the board of supervisors of the county wherein such district was originally formed and thereafter any act or duty which is herein required to be done by the board of supervisors or any officer of the county in which said district was organized shall be performed by the corresponding board of supervisors or other official of the county to which said district has been transferred, and in general the said district shall thereafter conduct and manage its affairs through its proper officials and in conjunction with the proper officials of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located as though said district was originally organized in the county to which it was transferred.

Action for dissolution of district. Hearing.

§ 32. An action may be brought by the attorney general in the name of the people of this state, upon his own information, or that of a private party, for the dissolution of any district formed hereunder for a non-user of its corporate powers. In such action the complaint and summons shall be personally served upon said district by delivery of a copy thereof to either the president of the board of directors or the secretary of the district. When service has been made upon the defendant and an appearance has been entered or a default of the defendant entered, the court, upon the application of any of the parties, shall thereupon enter an order fixing a day for a hearing, which shall not be less than twenty-five days from the date of the order and shall, also, enter an order directing notice by publication to be given by the clerk to all persons interested in said district either as the owners of land or interests in land in said district or as creditors of said district, or otherwise, requiring them to be and appear on the day fixed for the hearing and show cause, if any they have, why the district named in the complaint as defendant should not be dissolved. The notice shall be published in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located, for a period of not less than twenty days. On the day fixed for a hearing, or some later date to which the cause may be continued, the court may proceed with the hearing, due proof having been first made of the service of the notice by publication for the length of time required by the order. Any person interested in the district that is defendant, shall, upon showing his interest, be allowed to file an answer or objections to the dissolution of the defendant and shall from the filing of said answer or objections become a party defendant, and be entitled to all the rights of a defendant in any civil action. If upon the trial of any such action it be determined by the court: that the district is not in debt, or if in debt, that all claims are barred by the statute of limitations and that in addition thereto said district, or the board of directors thereof, are not proceeding to place the lands of the district under irrigation and are not exercising the powers of the corporation and have not been so doing for a period of one year prior thereto, the court shall then enter a decree dissolving the corporation, or make such further order as may be deemed necessary to protect the rights of all parties interested.

Constitutionality of act.

§ 33. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each of said parts thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Nothing repealed.

§ 34. This act does not change, modify, add to or repeal any other act or law of this state.

County assessment roll may be adopted.

§ 35. The board of directors of any district hereafter organized hereunder may at their option adopt the assessment roll of the county or counties in which the land of the district is contained in so far as said assessment roll affects the lands in the district; and file with the clerk of the board of supervisors a certified copy of such assessment roll, in lieu of the assessment book mentioned in section eight of this act. [New section added May 13, 1917. In effect July 30, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1409.]

Sale of water.

§ 36. The board of directors of any district hereafter organized hereunder shall have the power to sell water to owners of land in the district and to fix rates for the sale of water, and such rates may vary in different months and in different localities of the district to correspond to the cost and value of the service, and to collect for all water sold and to use so much of the proceeds of the sale of water as may be necessary to defray the ordinary operating expenses of the district and any funds derived from the sale of water, in excess of the amount necessary for operating expenses, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which said district is located and applied upon the payment of interest on bonds or to create a sinking fund. [New section added May 13, 1917. In effect July 30, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1409.]

COUNTY WATERWORKS DISTRICT BONDS.

ACT 5508—An act relating to bonds of county waterworks districts, providing under what circumstances such bonds shall be legal investments for funds of banks, insurance companies and trust companies, trust funds, state school funds and any money or funds which may now or hereafter be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities, and providing under what circumstances the use of bonds of county waterworks districts as security for the performance of any act may be authorized.

History: Approved June 5, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1211.

Unsold bonds of county water districts.

§ 1. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county in which a county waterworks district has been formed and organized under and pursuant to the laws of the state of California shall by resolution declare that it deems it desirable that any contemplated or outstanding bonds of said district, including any of its bonds authorized but not sold, shall be made available for the purposes provided for in section seven of this act, the said board of supervisors shall thereupon file a certified copy of such resolution with the commission hereinafter provided for.

Report on district's affairs.

§ 2. Such commission, upon the receipt of a certified copy of such resolution, shall, without delay, make or cause to be made an investigation of the affairs of the district and report in writing upon such matters as it may deem essential, and particularly upon the following points:

(a) The supply of water available for the project and the right of the district to so much water as may be needed.

(b) The nature of the soil as to its fertility and susceptibility to irrigation, the probable amount of water needed for its irrigation and the probable need of drainage.

(c) The feasibility of the district's waterworks system and of the specific project for which the bonds under consideration are desired or have been used, whether such system and project be constructed, projected or partially completed.

(d) The reasonable market value of the water, water rights, canals, tanks, reservoirs, reservoir sites, rights of way, pipe lines, waterworks, buildings and machinery owned by such district or to be acquired or constructed by it with the proceeds of any of such bonds.

(e) The reasonable market value of the lands included within the boundaries of the district.

(f) Whether or not the aggregate amount of the bonds under consideration and any other outstanding bonds of said district, including bonds authorized but not sold, exceeds sixty per centum of the aggregate market value of the lands within said district and of the water, water rights, canals, tanks, reservoirs, reservoir sites, rights of way, pipe lines, waterworks, buildings, machinery owned, or to be acquired or constructed with the proceeds of any of said bonds, by said district, as determined in accordance with paragraphs (d) and (e) in this section.

(g) The numbers, date or dates of issue and denominations of the bonds, if any, which the commission shall find are available for the purposes provided for in section seven of this act, and, if the investigation has covered contemplated bonds, the total amount of bonds which the district can issue without exceeding the limitation expressed in paragraph (f) of this section.

Report filed with controller. When bonds may be certified. Preservation of reports.

§ 3. The written report of the investigation herein provided for shall be filed in the office of the state controller, and a copy of said report shall by the commission be forwarded to the board of supervisors of the county in which said district is formed and for which the investigation shall have been made, and if said commission shall have found, as set out in said report, that the waterworks system of the district and the specific project for which the bonds under consideration are desired or have been used, whether such project be constructed, projected or partially completed, are feasible and that the aggregate amount of the bonds under consideration and any other outstanding bonds of said district, including bonds authorized but not sold, does not exceed sixty per centum of the aggregate market value of the lands within said district and of the water, water rights, canals, tanks, reservoirs, reservoir sites, rights of way, pipe lines, waterworks, buildings and machinery owned or to be acquired or constructed with the proceeds of any of said bonds by said district, the bonds of such county waterworks district, as described and enumerated in said report filed with the state controller, shall be certified by the state controller, as hereinafter provided for. If the commission shall be notified by the board of supervisors of any county where a county waterworks district has been formed that such waterworks system has been found in such report to be feasible that the district has issued bonds and the commission shall find that said bonds are for any project or projects approved in such report and that the amount of said bonds does not exceed the limitation stated in such report, the commission shall prepare and file with the state controller a supplementary report giving the numbers, date or dates of issue and denominations of said bonds, which shall then be entitled to certification by the state controller as hereinafter provided for. Subsequent issues of bonds may be made available for the purposes specified in this act upon like proceedings by said district, but, after any of the bonds of a county waterworks district have been enumerated and described as entitled to certification by the state controller as herein provided for, it shall be unlawful for that district to issue bonds that will not be entitled to such certification. It is hereby made the duty of the state controller to provide for filing and preserving the reports mentioned in this section and, also, to make, keep and preserve a record of the bonds certified by him in accordance with the provisions of section four of this act, including the date of certification, the legal title of the district, the number of each bond, its par value, the date of its issue and that of its maturity

Form of certificate.

§ 4. Whenever any bond of a county waterworks district organized and existing as aforesaid, including any bond authorized in any such district but not sold, which shall be eligible to certification by the state controller under section three of this act, shall be presented to the state controller, he shall cause to be attached thereto a certificate in substantially the following form:

Sacramento, Cal. (insert date).

I,, controller of the state of California, hereby certify that the within bond, No. of issue No. of the county waterworks district, issued (insert date), is, in accordance with an act of the legislature of California approved, a legal investment for all trust funds and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings, trust companies, the state school funds and any funds which may be invested in county, municipal or school district bonds, and it may be deposited as security for the performance of any act whenever the bonds of any county, city, city and county, or school district may be so deposited, it being entitled to such privileges by virtue of an examination by the state engineer, the attorney general and the superintendent of banks of the state of California in pursuance of said act.

.....
Controller of State of California.

In case of a change in the constitution or any of the laws of this state relating to the bonds of county waterworks districts, the state controller shall, if necessary, modify the above certificate so that it shall conform to the facts.

Commission.

§ 5. The attorney general, the state engineer and the superintendent of banks are hereby constituted the commission herein provided for, and said commission shall elect one of its members chairman and may employ such clerks and assistants as may be necessary for the performance of the duties herein imposed, and may fix the compensation to be paid to such clerks and assistants.

Expenses.

§ 6. All necessary expenses incurred in making the investigation and report in this act provided for shall be paid as the commission may require by the county waterworks district whose property has been investigated and reported on by the said commission; provided, that the benefit of any services that may have been performed and any data that may have been obtained by any member of said commission or any other public official in pursuance of the requirements of any law other than this act, shall be available for the use of the commission herein provided for without charge to the district whose affairs are under investigation.

Bonds legal investments.

§ 7. All bonds certified in accordance with the terms of this act shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings, and trust companies, and for the state school funds, and whenever any money or funds may, by law now or hereafter enacted, be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts, or municipalities in the state of California, such money or funds may be invested in the said bonds of county waterworks district, and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities may by any law now or hereafter enacted be used as security for the performance of any act, bonds of county waterworks districts under the limitations in this act provided may be so used. This act is intended to be and shall be considered the latest enactment upon the matters herein contained, and any and all acts in conflict with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed.

WATER RESOURCES OF STATE—JOINT INVESTIGATION.

ACT 5517—An act to provide for the joint investigation with the federal government of the water resources of the state, and to make an appropriation for the expenses of such investigations.

History: Approved March 11, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 194. Prior acts on same subject matter: (1) Act of March 16, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 171; (2) Act of March 18, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 152.

Board of examiners to contract for topographic maps. Ascertaining methods of distributing water.

§ 1. The state board of examiners are hereby empowered to enter into contracts with the director of the United States geological survey for the purposes of making topographic maps, to the extent of thirty thousand dollars; also for the purpose of gauging streams, determining underground water supplies, surveying reservoir sites and canal locations, for the conservation and utilization of waters of the state, to the extent of three thousand dollars, provided, no work of the nature heretofore stated shall be done where the same will interfere with the water already appropriated or in reservoirs or now in use for irrigation purposes, or domestic purposes, under the laws of this state; also with the director of the office of experiment stations of the department of agriculture for the purpose of ascertaining the best methods of distributing and using the water, to the extent of fifteen thousand dollars; provided, however, that these expenditures for such purposes shall not be in excess of the amounts to be expended by the various departments of the federal government in the collaboration with the specific work named above; and provided further, that in case any of the departments of the federal government above mentioned do not contribute these funds for said co-operation, that the state board of examiners shall have power to enter into such contracts as may seem best to them with the lawfully authorized representatives of any of the departments of the federal government for the expenditure of said remaining balance; and provided further, that said last mentioned expenditure for such purpose shall not be in excess of the amount to be expended by that department of the federal government in collaboration with the state.

Powers of persons employed.

§ 2. In order to carry out the purposes of this act, any person or persons employed hereunder are authorized to enter and cross all lands within this state; provided, in so doing no damage is done to private property; it shall be a misdemeanor, punishable as provided in such cases, for any person or persons to wilfully and maliciously remove or destroy any permanent marks or monuments made or erected by any such persons.

Appropriation. When available.

§ 3. The sum of sixty-eight thousand dollars is hereby appropriated for the purposes specified in this act, and the controller of state is hereby authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such fund from time to time, upon the requisition of the state board of examiners and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants; provided, one-half of the appropriation herein shall be available in the fifty-ninth fiscal year, and the remaining one-half of said appropriation shall be available in the sixtieth fiscal year, except that one-half of the funds for making topographic maps shall be available during the twelve months immediately following the passage of this act, and the remaining one-half of this fund shall be available during the second twelve months following the passage of this act.

Duty of surveyor general and engineer of public works.

§ 4. It is hereby made the duty of the surveyor general and the engineer of the board of public works to render any assistance desired by the state board of examiners in furtherance of the aims of this act.

This act shall take effect and be in force on and after the passage of this act.

“MINER’S INCH” DEFINED.

ACT 5520—An act fixing and defining a miner’s inch of water.

History: Approved March 23, 1901, Stats. 1901, p. 660.

Miner’s inch of water defined.

§ 1. The standard miner’s inch of water shall be equivalent to one and one-half cubic feet of water per minute, measured through any aperture or orifice.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall be in effect and force sixty days from and after its passage.

1. "Miner's inch"—Seventy-five cubic inches of water measured under a four-inch pressure means nothing.—A miner's inch of water under the act is equal to one and one-half cubic feet of water per minute measured through an aperture or orifice, and the expression "seventy-five cubic inches, measured under a four-inch pressure" has no meaning whatever as applied to the measurement of a flowing stream. Lillis v. Silver Creek, etc., Co., 32 Cal. App. 668, 163 Pac. 1040.

2. "Miner's inch"—How proved.—To show the quantity of water diverted in miner's inches there should be evidence as to the measurement according to some prescribed method, or evidence upon which a definite calculation could be made.—Logan v. Geuchard, 159 Cal. 592, 114 Pac. 989.

3. Pressure—Judgment for 121.3 inches of water under four-inch pressure upheld.—It would be better that reference to a miner's inch of water should be "one and one-half cubic feet of water per minute," without specifying the pressure; but a judgment calling for a four-inch pressure was upheld notwithstanding the provisions of the act.—Barr v. Branstetter (Cal. App.), 184 Pac. 409.

4. "Three inches of water"—Indefinite and uncertain.—A judgment for "waters to the extent of three inches," is uncertain and indefinite in the absence of some qualifying or explanatory recital.—Logan v. Guichard, 159 Cal. 592, 114 Pac. 989.

ARTESIAN WELLS.

ACT 5521—An act to prevent the waste and flow of water from artesian wells, and prescribing penalties therefor, and defining waste and artesian wells.

History: Approved March 6, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 122. Amended March 25, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 749.

Uncapped artesian wells declared public nuisance.

§ 1. Any artesian well which is not capped, equipped or furnished with such mechanical appliance as will readily and effectively arrest and prevent the flow of any water from such well, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance. The owner, tenant, or occupant of the land upon which such well is situated, who causes, permits, or suffers such public nuisance, or suffers or permits it to remain or continue, is guilty of a misdemeanor; and any person owning, possessing, or occupying any land upon which is situated an artesian well, who causes, suffers, or permits the water to unnecessarily flow from such well, or to go to waste, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Artesian well defined.

§ 2. For the purposes of this act, an artesian well is defined to be any artificial hole made in the ground through which water naturally flows from subterranean sources to the surface of the ground for any length of time.

Waste defined.

§ 3. Waste is defined, for the purposes of this act, to be the causing, suffering or permitting any water flowing from an artesian well, to run into any river, creek, or other natural watercourse or channel, or into any bay or pond (unless used thereafter for the beneficial purpose of irrigation of land or domestic use), or into any street, road, or highway, or upon the land of any person, or upon the public lands of the United States or of the state of California, unless it be used thereon for the beneficial purposes of the irrigation thereof or for domestic use or the propagation of fish. The use of any water flowing from an artesian well for the irrigation of land whenever over 5 per cent of the water received on such land for such purposes is allowed to escape therefrom, is also hereby declared to be waste within the meaning of this act; provided, that nothing herein shall prevent the running of artesian water into an artificial pond or storage-reservoir, if used thereafter for a beneficial use; provided, such beneficial use shall not exceed one-tenth of one miner's inch of water per acre, perpetual flow, but such user of water shall have the right to cumulate the said amount within any period of each year. [Amendment. Approved March 25, 1909; Stats. 1909, p. 749.]

New offense.

§ 4. Each day's continuance of such waste shall constitute a new offense under this act.

Penalty.

§ 5. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall, for each offense, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than $25.00 and not more than $500.00, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All prosecutions for the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be instituted in the justice's court of the county in which such well is situated. Any fine imposed under the provisions of this act may be collected as in other criminal cases, and the justice may also issue an execution upon the judgment therein rendered, and the same may be enforced and collected as in civil cases.

Conflicting acts repealed.

§ 6. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

Act takes effect when.

§ 7. This act shall take effect immediately.

1. Constitutionality — Special privileges.

—No special privileges appear to have been granted by this act, and it is not unconstitutional on that ground.—Ex parte Elam, 6 Cal. App. 233, 91 Pac. 811.

2. Same—Uniformity of operation.—The act operates uniformly upon every one owning lands in an artesian belt as described therein, and is constitutional.—Ex parte Elam, 6 Cal. App. 233, 91 Pac. 811.

3. Same—Fourteenth amendment.—The act is not unconstitutional as violative of the fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution, or of any provision of the state constitution.—Ex parte Elam, 6 Cal. App. 233, 91 Pac. 811.

4. Ownership of subterranean water of artesian belt.—The ownership of subterranean waters in an artesian belt is in the portion of the public which owns the surface of such belt, and is subject to reasonable use by an owner interested.—Ex parte Elam, 6 Cal. App. 233, 91 Pac. 811.

5. Same—Commission of public nuisance.—Whenever such owner exceeds such reasonable use and wastes the water he commits a public nuisance, to which the police power of the state may be applied.—Ex parte Elam, 6 Cal. App. 233, 91 Pac. 811.

6. Same—Same—Scope of legislation.—An act of the legislature, such as the present, designed for the purpose of preventing such public nuisance is referable to the police power, and is constitutional.—Ex parte Elam, 6 Cal. App. 233, 91 Pac. 811.

Editor's note: Flow of water from—Prohibiting.—See 33 L. R. A. 781.

Discharge of mineral water from not enjoined.—See 41 L. R. A. 737.

FRANCHISES TO BUILD BOOMS.

ACT 5527—An act to authorize the board of supervisors of the several counties in this state to grant franchises and privileges to corporations, associations, or individuals.

History: Approved March 3, 1881, Stats. 1881, p. 25.

This act authorized supervisors to grant privileges to build booms to hold logs and timber.

Editor's note: The code commissioners say that this act was superseded by subdivision 35, section 25, county government act of 1897 (Stats. 1897, p. 466), and that it was afterwards repealed by the act of March 11, 1901 (Stats. 1901, p. 265). It was not so repealed in terms, and it is doubtful if it was either superseded or repealed as stated.

As to the grant of franchises in general, see Act 1601.

EXAMINING COMMISSION ON RIVERS AND HARBORS.

ACT 5529—An act to provide for the appointment of an examining commission on rivers and harbors, defining their duties and powers, and prescribing their compensation.

History: Approved March 19, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 420.

Appointment of engineers.

§ 1. The governor of the state, within thirty days after the passage of this act, shall appoint three competent engineers in good standing in their profession, to be known and called the "examining commission on rivers and harbors." The persons so appointed shall hold office until the first day of January, eighteen hundred and ninety-

one. In case any vacancy may arise in such commission from any cause, the governor shall immediately fill such vacancy by appointment.

Oath of office.

§ 2. Each of said commissioners shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, take and subscribe an oath of office. The said commission shall organize by electing a president and secretary.

Duty of commission.

§ 3. The said commission shall make a full and careful examination into the condition of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, and such other rivers and streams as they may select for that purpose. They shall determine what steps are necessary for the rectification and improvement of such rivers and streams, and shall make, or cause to be made, all such necessary and proper surveys, examinations, maps, designs, drawings, estimates, specifications, and exhibits as will enable the congress of the United States to clearly understand the condition of such rivers, and the cost and expense of properly rectifying and improving the same. The said commission shall, whenever requested by the governor, also make an examination for a similar purpose into such harbors as they may be so required to examine. Said commission shall have power to employ such persons at such compensation as they may deem proper, as surveyors or assistants in any of the work hereinabove specified.

Report of.

§ 4. The said commission shall make a full report on or before the first day of October, eighteen hundred and ninety, to the governor, on the matters herein specified, which said report shall be in such form and contain such calculations, specifications, and estimates as that it may be to congress as the basis of an appropriation by congress for the improvement of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, and other navigable streams of the state, and of such bays and harbors as may have been examined by said commission as herein provided. The superintendent of state printing shall print and publish as many copies of said report and exhibits as may be ordered by the governor.

Salaries.

§ 5. Each member of the said commission shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly, and his traveling expenses while engaged in the performance of official duties. Said salary and expenses to be paid out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

§ 6. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

MOORING OF HOUSEBOATS, ETC.

ACT 5532—An act to prohibit within certain limits the mooring and anchoring of houseboats in rivers and streams, and the maintaining of privies, vaults, cess-pools, sewer pipes, and conduits on the banks of rivers and streams, and providing for punishment for violation thereof, declaring such acts to be public nuisances, and providing for the abatement of such nuisances.

History: Approved March 6, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 140.

Houseboats, mooring of. Sewage, discharge of.

§ 1. It shall be unlawful for the owner, tenant, lessee or occupant of any houseboat or boat intended for or capable of being used as a residence, house, dwelling or habitation, or for the agent of such owner, tenant, lessee or occupant to moor or anchor the same or permit the same to be moored or anchored in or on any river or stream, the waters of which are used for drinking or domestic purposes by any city, town or village within a distance of two miles above the intake or place where such city, town or village water system takes water from such river or stream; provided, however, that in the transportation of any such houseboat on any such river or stream nothing herein contained shall prevent the owner, agent, tenant or occupant of such houseboat from mooring or anchoring the same when necessary within the limits herein fixed and established; provided, such houseboat shall not remain moored or anchored within such limits for a longer period than one day.

It shall be unlawful for any person to erect, construct, excavate or maintain on or near the banks of any river or stream and within two miles above the intake of any water supply used for domestic or drinking purposes in any city, town or village any privy, vault, cesspool, sewer pipe or conduit which shall cause or suffer to be discharged into said stream or river any sewage, garbage, feculent matter, offal, filth, refuse, or any animal, mineral or vegetable matter, or substance offensive, injurious or dangerous to health.

Penal clause.

§ 2. Any person who violates any of the provisions of section 1 of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor. Each day's violation of any of the provisions of said section 1 shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

Public nuisances. Abatement of.

§ 3. Any privy, vault, cesspool, sewer pipe or conduit erected, constructed, excavated or maintained on or near the banks of any river or stream within two miles above the intake of any water supply used for drinking or domestic purposes in any city, town or village, which shall cause or suffer to be discharged therefrom sewage, garbage, feculent matter, offal, refuse, filth or any animal, mineral or vegetable matter or substance, offensive, injurious or dangerous to health into such river or stream, and any houseboat or boat intended for or capable of being used as a residence, house, dwelling or habitation, which shall for more than one day be moored or anchored in or upon any river or stream within two miles above the intake of any water supply used for domestic or drinking purposes in any city, town or village are hereby declared to be public nuisances; and it is hereby made the duty of any and all sheriffs, constables, policemen and health officers to immediately abate said nuisance.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

APPROPRIATION OF WATER FOR POWER.

ACT 5534—An act regulating and limiting the appropriation of water and the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power; fixing the terms and conditions and providing the manner and procedure upon which water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power may be appropriated and providing for the renewal of licenses granted hereunder; providing for the issuing of licenses for water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power and limiting rights under such licenses; prohibiting the appropriation of water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power for a longer period than forty years; limiting the right to water or the use of water appropriated for generating electricity or electrical or other power to the specific purposes for which it is appropriated; declaring certain water to be unappropriated; providing for the granting of licenses to divert and store surplus and flood waters for generating electricity, or electrical or other power and declaring what is surplus water; reserving to the state the right to regulate and fix the rates of compensation for which electricity or electrical or other power generated by water or the use of water appropriated may be sold, rented or distributed; reserving to the state the right to impose charges for water or the use of water appropriated for electricity or electrical or other power and fixing fees and charges; preventing the combination or formation of any unlawful trust by appropriators of water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power and providing a penalty therefor; creating and establishing a state water commission; providing the powers and duties of said water commission and fixing their compensation; compelling persons, firms, associations and corporations supplying electricity or electrical or other power generated by the use of appropriated water to keep their plants and systems in repair and requiring an annual report from them to said water commission; providing for the appointment and compensation of employees and assistants to said water commission; limiting the expenses of said water commission and providing for the payment thereof; making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act; fixing the place of business of said water commission; declaring the diversion of water or use of water for generating electricity, or electrical or other power, otherwise than provided in this act, to be a misdemeanor and providing a penalty therefor, and also providing penalties for other violations of this act; repealing an act entitled "An act regulating and limiting the appropriation of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power; fixing the terms and conditions and providing the manner and procedure upon which water for generating electricity or electrical or other power may be appropriated and providing for the renewal of licenses granted hereunder; providing for the issuing of licenses for the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power and limiting rights under such licenses; prohibiting the appropriation of water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power for a longer period than twenty-five years; limiting the right to the use of water appropriated for generating electricity or electrical or other power to the specific purposes for which it is appropriated; declaring certain water to be unappropriated; providing for the granting of licenses to divert and store surplus and flood waters for generating electricity, or electrical or other power and declaring what is surplus water; reserving to the state the right to regulate and fix the rates of compensation for which electricity or electrical or other power generated by water appropriated may be sold, rented or distributed; reserving to the state the right to impose charges for the use of water appropriated for electricity or electrical or other power and fixing fees and charges; preventing the combination or formation of any unlawful trust by appropriators of water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power and providing a penalty therefor; creating and establishing a state board of control; providing the powers and duties of said board of control and fixing their compensation; compelling persons, firms, associations and corporations supplying electricity or electrical or other power generated by the use of appropriated water to keep their plants and systems in repair and requiring an annual report from them to said board of control; providing for the appointment and compensation of employees and assistants to said board of control; limiting the expenses of said board of control and providing for the payment thereof; fixing the place of business of said board of control; declaring the diversion or use of water for generating electricity, or electrical or other power, otherwise than provided in this act, to be a misdemeanor and providing a penalty therefor, and also providing penalties for other violations of this act; repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved April 8, 1911, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

History: Approved January 2, 1912, Stats. 1911 (ex. sess.), p. 175.
Prior act of April 8, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 813, was repealed by this act.

Period of appropriation.

§1. Water or the use of water for the generation of electricity or of electrical or other power shall not be appropriated for a longer period than forty years.

General application of act.

§2. Subject to vested and existing rights, in so far as such vested and existing rights are based upon actual needs and application to useful or beneficial purposes, the appropriation of water or of the use of water for the generation of electricity or of electrical or other power shall be made as provided by this act, and not otherwise; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed to validate any right or privilege now invalid or hereafter becoming invalid under any law of this state.

Restrictions on use of appropriated water.

§3. Water or the use of water appropriated for purposes other than the generation of electricity or of electrical or other power shall not be used for the generation of electricity or of electrical or other power except under a separate and distinct appropriation made as provided in this act for such purpose.

Declaration of what is unappropriated water.

§4. All water or the use of water which has been heretofore appropriated and which has not been put, or which has ceased to be put to some useful or beneficial purpose, or which is not now in process of being put to some useful or beneficial purpose with due diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the work necessary properly to utilize for the purpose of such appropriation such water or such use of water, is hereby declared to be unappropriated.

Right of state to fix rates.

§5. All appropriations of water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power shall be subject to the right of the state to regulate and fix the rates of compensation for which such electricity or electrical or other power may be sold, rented or distributed.

Application for permit to make appropriation of water. Wilful diversion.

§6. Any person, firm, association or corporation hereafter intending to appropriate water or the use of water for the generation of electricity, or of electrical or other power, before commencing the construction or enlargement or extension of any building, power house, ditch, canal or any distributing or controlling works, or performing any work in connection with said appropriation or proposed appropriation, shall make an application in duplicate to the state water commission, provided for in this act, for a permit to make such appropriation. No person, firm, association or corporation shall wilfully divert or use water or shall wilfully attempt to divert or use water for generating electricity or electrical or other power without first complying with the provisions of this act. The possession or use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power, except when a right to said water or the use thereof shall have been acquired in accordance with law, shall be prima facie evidence of such wilful diversion or use or attempted diversion or use of such water.

Contents of application for permit to make appropriation of water.

§7. Every application for a permit to appropriate water or the use of water for the generation of electricity or of electrical or other power shall set forth the residence, or principal place of business if the applicant be a corporation, and postoffice address of the applicant, the source of the water or the use of water to be appropriated or used, the nature and amount of the proposed use, the head of and amount of water to be utilized, the uses to which the water and electricity or electrical or other power are to be applied, the nature, the location (which may be changed by permission of the state water commission), the character, the estimated capacity, and the estimated cost of the works, and whether the water is to be and will be returned to the stream or source from which it is to be taken, and if so at what point on the stream or source it is proposed to return said water to said stream or source. If the application is for the construction of a reservoir for the purpose of storing water to be used for the generation of electricity or of electrical or other power, it shall give the estimated height of the dam and the estimated capacity of the reservoir in addition to the other requirements above set forth. All applications shall be accompanied by such maps and drawings in duplicate and such other data in duplicate as may be prescribed by the water commission, and such accompanying data shall be considered as a part of the application. A true copy of such application without such accompanying data and maps and drawings shall be recorded by the applicant in the office of the recorder of the county, or city and county, in which the proposed works are to be erected, within ten days after said application is filed with said commission.

Examination of application. Supplemental application.

§ 8. Upon receipt of an application under this act, it shall be the duty of the water commission immediately to cause to be made an indorsement thereon of the date of its receipt, and to keep the duplicate of said application and its indorsement on file as a record of the same. The water commission shall immediately examine the said application after it has been filed. If, upon such examination, the application is found to be defective, one copy of it and its accompanying data, maps and drawings shall be returned to the applicant for correction or completion, and the date of and reasons for the return thereof shall be indorsed thereon, and a record kept of such indorsement in the office of the water commission. No application shall lose its priority of filing on account of such defect; provided, a proper application is filed in the office of the water commission within thirty days of the date of said return to the applicant. It shall be the duty of the water commission within six months to enter an order directing the rejection of such application if after further hearing the public interests shall seem to the water commission so to demand. Applications may be approved for a less amount of water or the use of water than that applied for, if there exist substantial reasons therefor, but in any event shall not be approved for more water or the use of water than can be applied to the use for which application is made under an efficient and economical use thereof.

Indorsement of application. Duties and rights of applicant in case of approval.

§ 9. The approval or rejection of an application shall be indorsed thereon and a record made of such indorsement in the office of the water commission. One copy of the application so indorsed shall be returned immediately to the applicant in person or by registered mail. If said application be approved, the applicant shall immediately record said approved application, together with the indorsement thereon, in the office of the recorder of the county, or city and county, in which the proposed works are to be constructed, and shall be authorized on receipt of said approval and on recording the same, to proceed with the construction of the necessary works, and to take all steps required to apply the water or the use of the water to the purpose of generating electricity or electrical or other power, as provided in the approved application, and to perfect the proposed appropriation; provided, however, that no right in or to such water or the use thereof shall vest in or accrue to the said applicant until the final permit is issued as is hereinafter provided.

Approval of application may be revoked for failure to do work. Extension of time.

§ 10. Actual construction work shall begin within six months from the date of the approval of the application, and the construction of the work shall thereafter be prosecuted with reasonable diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the undertaking, and if such work is not so commenced and prosecuted, the water commission may revoke its approval of the application; and such work shall be completed within a reasonable time as fixed in the permit not to exceed five years from the date of such approval. Upon application of the proposed appropriator the water commission may for good cause shown extend the time within which such work shall be completed under any permit, but no such extension shall be for a longer period than one year beyond the period fixed in the permit.

Examination upon completion of works.

§ 11. Upon the completion of the works for the diversion and application of water or the use of water under this act, the holder of such permit, or his assigns, shall report such completion to the water commission, and the water commission without delay shall cause to be made a full inspection and examination of the works constructed and a report upon their construction and condition, and whether or not they conform to the terms of the application and permit and are adequate for the purposes intended.

Final permit. License.

§ 12. Upon the receipt of such report, the commission shall, if the law has been fully complied with, and if the work shall have been completed in accordance with the application, issue a license to the applicant or his assigns, allowing him or them to divert and use said water, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the use proposed, for a certain period of time therein specified, but in no case for more than forty years. Licenses granted upon application made under this act for water or the use of water shall be numbered consecutively as to each stream or other source in the order as to the dates when such applications are filed.

Contents of license.

§ 13. Said license shall set forth the name of the licensee, his place of residence, and if a corporation or firm or association the date of its organization and its principal place of business, the stream or source for which the water is to be diverted or used, the quantity of water the licensee is authorized to divert from the stream or source, the point or points on said stream or source at which said water is to be diverted or used, the location of the proposed works, the period of time for which the water may be used, which in no case shall be for more than forty years, by what means, and the purposes for which the licensee is authorized to use the same.

Rights of licensee.

§ 14. Any license issued as above provided for water or the use of water appropriated under this act shall vest in the licensee the right to the use of the amount of water mentioned therein for the period of time therein set forth, in the manner and for the purposes therein mentioned and not otherwise; provided, that such license shall not impair or affect any rights to water or the use of water which shall have become vested prior to the making of the application above provided for.

Renewal of license.

§ 15. Any appropriator of water or the use of water under the provisions of this act for the purpose of generating electricity or electrical or other power, or the successor or assigns of said appropriator, if a renewal or extension of the license herein provided for is desired, shall, not less than one or more than two years prior to the termination of the license granted as herein provided, notify the water commission that a renewal and extension of such license is desired. The water commission shall thereupon issue to said appropriator a renewal and extension of said license for a fixed period, but in no case for more than a period of forty years from the date of such renewal in compliance with such laws of the state as shall then be in force regulating the renewal, issuing and granting of any license for water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power.

Excess capacity of works.

§ 16. No license for the appropriation of water or the use of water as herein provided shall be valid as to any excess of the capacity of the works actually constructed.

Use of surplus water.

§ 17. The water commission may, upon application made therefor in the manner provided in this act and upon like procedure, grant to any person, firm, association or corporation a license to divert and store for the purpose of generating electricity or electrical or other power the surplus waters of any stream during floods or high water, or during those portions of the year when such water is not required or being stored for irrigation purposes, and for the purpose of this act all water which is not used during the season of flood or high water is declared to be surplus water.

Right of state to fix fees and charges to appropriators.

§ 18. All appropriation of water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power heretofore or hereafter made shall be subject to the right of the state to impose the fees and charges herein provided, and shall also be subject to the right of the state to increase or decrease such fees and charges from time to time thereafter.

Fee for applicants. Fee and charge for licensees. Disposition of fees collected.

§ 19. Every person, firm, association or corporation making application for permission to appropriate water or the use of water under this act shall, at the time of filing the said application, pay to said water commission a fee of ten dollars. Every person, firm, association or corporation at the time of receiving a license to appropriate water or the use of water, as provided in this act, shall pay to said commission a fee of one hundred dollars, and shall also pay to said commission when the said license is issued, and, in addition thereto and annually thereafter, shall pay to said commission a charge for each theoretical horsepower of the works estimated as follows: For the first one hundred (100) horsepower there shall be no charge; and for all above one hundred (100) horsepower ten (10) cents for each horsepower. All fees collected shall be accounted for at the following regular meeting of the water commission and paid by said commission into the general fund of the state treasury within thirty days thereafter.

Water commission, how constituted and term of members. Compensation.

§ 20. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, a commission, to consist of five persons, is hereby created and established to be known as the state water commission. Three members of said commission shall be appointed by the governor for a term of four years; provided, that the members first appointed shall be appointed so that one of them shall go out of office at the end of one year, one at the end of two years, and one at the end of three years. The governor and the state engineer are hereby made ex officio members of said commission in addition to the three members appointed by the governor. The appointed members of said commission shall receive as compensation for services rendered by them, as such members, the sum of ten (10) dollars per day for each day's service actually rendered.

General powers and duties.

§ 21. The water commission is hereby authorized and empowered to do and perform the acts and things required of it by this act and to adopt rules and regulations necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and it shall be the duty of the commission to provide for the public hearing upon the merits of all applications filed with the commission and to prescribe the rules of procedure to be observed at such hearings.

Authority to administer oaths and issue process.

§ 22. Every member of said water commission is hereby authorized to administer oaths and to cause the production of persons, papers, records and books in all matters of business transacted before said commission.

Record of commission.

§ 23. A full and accurate record of the business transacted or acts performed by any member of the water commission, and the proceedings of the meetings of said commission, shall be kept and shall be placed on file in the office of said water commission.

Power to employ assistants. Reappropriation.

§ 24. Said commission is hereby granted power to employ such persons and to engage such assistants, clerical, professional and other, as it may see fit, and at such salaries or compensation as the commission may determine. And for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act so much of the sum appropriated by chapter 406 of the laws of 1911, approved April 8, 1911, entitled "An act regulating and limiting the appropriation of water for generating electricity," etc., as may not have been expended is hereby reappropriated, and the state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants from time to time on the requisition of the state water commission approved by the state board of control and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants.

Payment of salaries and expenses.

§ 25. All indebtedness incurred for salaries, and all necessary costs and traveling and other expenses of said commission, and each of its members and persons employed by it, while actually engaged in the business of said commission, shall be paid by the state out of the funds hereby appropriated upon a sworn statement of the person or persons incurring such indebtedness and upon the approval of the water commission and the state board of control upon warrants drawn upon the state treasurer as provided by law for the payment of similar costs and expenses and the drawing of similar warrants.

Repair of plants and systems. Annual reports to commission.

§ 26. All persons, firms, associations or corporations generating electricity or electrical or other power by water or the use of water appropriated under the provisions of this act shall keep their plants and systems in proper repair, and shall upon the first day of January after the passage of this act, and annually thereafter, report to said water commission the condition of their plants and distributing systems, the number of kilowatt hours of electricity or electrical or other power generated during each month of said year, the number of kilowatt hours of electricity or electrical or other power rented, sold or distributed during each month of said year, and the names of the persons, firms, associations or corporations to whom said power has been rented, sold or distributed.

Office of commission, location.

§ 27. The water commission shall maintain its office at Sacramento, California. The superintendent of capitol building and grounds shall furnish and set aside in the capitol rooms suitable for offices for said water commission, and if the superintendent of capitol building and grounds shall make and file an affidavit with the said commission that it is not possible for him as such superintendent of capitol building and grounds to provide offices for said commission in the capitol, then the said commission may rent rooms suitable for offices in the city of Sacramento, and said rental shall be deemed a necessary expense of said commission.

Combinations in restraint of trade forbidden. Forfeiture of rights.

§ 28. No person, firm, association or corporation appropriating water or the use of water hereunder shall enter into any agreement, combination or trust in restraint of trade contrary to law, and if any of the works owned or operated by any licensee under his act or his assign or assigns shall be owned, leased, trusteeed, possessed or controlled by any device, permanently, temporarily, directly or indirectly, tacitly, or in any manner whatsoever, so that it or they form a part of or in any way effect any combination, or if it or they are in anywise controlled by any combination or conspiracy to limit the output of electricity or electrical or other power, or to increase the price at which electricity or electrical or other power is sold, rented or distributed, or to prevent the lowering of said price or in restraint of trade with foreign nations, or between two or more states or territories or with any state or territory, in the generation, sale, distribution of electricity or electrical or other power, all rights to the appropriation of water or the use of water shall cease and be forfeited to the people of the state by proceedings instituted in the courts for that purpose by the attorney general of the state either upon his own initiative or upon demand of the water commission.

Penalty for violations of this act.

§ 29. Any violation of the provisions of this act, or of any order or regulation of the water commission, is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand (5,000) dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one (1) year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. It shall be the duty of the water commission to enforce the provisions of this act, and to prosecute violations thereof by proceeding in a court of competent jurisdiction against any person, firm, association or corporation violating any such provisions, or failing or refusing to comply with any regulation or requirement of the water commission made pursuant to the provisions of this act.

Application of act to municipal corporations, irrigation districts, and lighting districts.

§ 30. None of the provisions of this act shall apply to municipal corporations, other than irrigation districts or lighting districts, nor to the use by any irrigation district of water for the generation of electricity, electrical or other power only for use and distribution within its own limits, and as subsidiary to and mainly for the purpose of serving and carrying out irrigation, nor to the use by any lighting district of water for the generation of electricity, electrical or other power only for use and distribution within its own limits; provided, however, that all municipal corporations, other than irrigation districts and lighting districts, desiring to appropriate water for the generation of electricity, electrical or other power, and all irrigation districts and lighting districts desiring to appropriate water for the generation of electricity, electrical or other power, and all irrigation districts and lighting districts desiring to appropriate water for the generation of electricity, electrical or other power, for the uses hereinabove in this section specified shall within ten days from the time that they post and record notices of appropriation, as required by law, file with the water commission a notice of said appropriation together with the name and postoffice address of the appropriator, the source of the water to be appropriated or used, the nature and amount of the proposed use, the head of an[d] amount of water proposed to be utilized, the uses to which the water and power are to be applied, the nature, location, character, estimated capacity and estimated cost of the works and whether the water is to be and will be returned to the stream or source from which it is to be taken and, if so, at what point on said stream or source. If the appropriation contemplates the construction of a reservoir for the purpose of storing water to be used for the generation of electricity or electrical or other power, the notices filed with the commission shall also give the estimated height of the dam and the estimated capacity of the reservoir in addition to the other requirements above set forth.

Liability of persons participating in violations of this act.

§ 31. Whenever in this act the performance or doing of certain acts or things by any firm, association or corporation is made a misdemeanor, and a penalty provided therefor, the person, officer, member, manager, agent, director or employee of any such firm, association or corporation who by vote, act, authorization, direction, order or request shall have caused such act or thing to be done is likewise and in the same manner guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished likewise and in the same manner as the person actually performing or doing the act or thing.

Repeal of prior act.

§ 32. An act entitled "An act regulating and limiting the appropriation of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power; fixing the terms and conditions and providing the manner and procedure upon which water for generating electricity or electrical or other power may be appropriated and providing for the renewal of licenses granted hereunder; providing for the issuing of licenses for the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power and limiting rights under such licenses; prohibiting the appropriation of water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power for a longer period than twenty-five years; limiting the right to the use of water appropriated for generating electricity or electrical or other power to the specific purposes for which it is appropriated; declaring certain water to be unappropriated; providing for the granting of licenses to divert and store surplus and flood waters for generating electricity, or electrical or other power and declaring what is surplus water; reserving to the state the right to regulate and fix the rates of compensation for which electricity or electrical or other power generated by water appropriated may be sold, rented or distributed; reserving to the state the right to impose charges for the use of water appropriated for electricity or electrical or other power and fixing fees and charges; preventing the combination or formation of any unlawful trust by appropriators of water or the use of water for generating electricity or electrical or other power and providing a penalty therefor; creating and establishing a state board of control; providing the powers and duties of said board of control and fixing their compensation; compelling persons, firms, associations and corporations supplying electricity or electrical or other power generated by the use of appropriated water to keep their plants and systems in repair and requiring an annual report from them to said board of control; providing for the appointment and compensation of employees and assistants to said board of control; limiting the expenses of said board of control and providing for the payment thereof; fixing the place of business of said board of control; declaring the diversion or use of water for generating electricity, or electrical or other power, otherwise than provided in this act, to be a misdemeanor and providing a penalty therefor, and also providing penalties for other violations of this act; repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved April 8, 1911, and all acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

§ 33. This act shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of this session of the legislature.

Bernardino. (Approved April 15, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 99.)

1. Code provision repealed—Section 1416, Civil Code.—The provisions of section 1416, Civil Code, so far as they relate to the time within which diversion works may be commenced after judgment in legal proceedings to determine the rights of the appropriator, were repealed by the act of 1911.—Silver Lake, etc., Co. v. Los Angeles, 176 Cal. 96, 167 Pac. 697.

CONSTRUCTION OF CANALS AND CANALIZATION OF RIVERS.

ACT 5536—An act to provide for the investigation of the practicability of the construction of canals and the canalization of rivers, their tributaries, and other waterways in California in aid of commerce; to define the duties of the department of engineering and of the governor, in relation thereto, and to make an appropriation to defray the cost of such investigation.

History: Approved May 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 1445.

Department of engineering to investigate practicability of canals along Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers. Subjects embraced.

§ 1. The department of engineering is hereby authorized and directed to investigate the practicability of the construction of canals, with dams, locks and other structures required for their operation, in, along, or adjacent to, the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, their tributaries, and other waterways, and of the canalization thereof, where necessary, and also of the construction of such canals, with dams, locks and other structures required for their operation, inland in the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Santa Clara valleys, with the view of determining the utility thereof in aid of commerce and navigation. Such investigation to be made as complete as possible and to embrace all of said rivers, their tributaries, and other waterways and all of said valleys, wherever therein, canal navigation can be maintained. The investigation shall also embrace the following subjects:

1. Water supply and sources thereof;
2. Duration of period during year when water would be available for canal navigation and other purposes;
3. Quantity of water obtainable by storage;
4. Feasibility of use of electrical energy for propulsion of boats in canal navigation and other purposes;
5. Probable depth obtainable for canals in the various rivers, waterways and sections to be investigated, and the cargo capacity of boats suitable for different portions of such canals.

Report.

§ 2. The said department shall complete such investigation as soon as practicable, consistent with efficiency and accuracy. Its report and recommendations shall be prepared in duplicate and one copy thereof transmitted to the governor on or before December 1, 1912, whereupon the governor shall submit the same with his recommendations thereon, to the legislature on or before January 10, 1913.

May confer with United States engineers. Construction of canals.

§ 3. The said department, when thereto directed by the advisory board thereof, may confer with the board of officers of the engineer corps, United States army, stationed at San Francisco, California, the California debris commission, and the official representatives and engineers of reclamation and drainage districts, concerning the investigation contemplated by this act. When appropriations are available therefor, the department of engineering, when thereto directed by said advisory board, shall proceed to construct canals and other works in connection therewith, in the manner and at the place, or places, specified by law.

Appropriation.

§ 4. There is hereby appropriated the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act, to be expended under the supervision of said department of engineering.

Controller to draw warrant.

§ 5. The controller of state is hereby directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein appropriated in favor of the officers of said department of engineering authorized by law to receive the same, in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

§ 6. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after July 1, 1911.

WATER CONFERENCE.

ACT 5537—An act providing for the calling by the governor of a conference on irrigation, reclamation, water storage, flood control, and drainage, and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof.

History: Approved May 18, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 514.

Conference on irrigation, water storage, etc.

§ 1. For the purpose of considering and recommending a unified state policy with reference to irrigation, reclamation, water storage, flood control, municipalities, and drainage, with due regard to the needs of water power, mining, and navigation, the governor of the state is hereby empowered to call a conference of properly qualified persons, consisting of the lieutenant governor, who shall be chairman thereof, the speaker of the assembly and the chairman of each of the committees of the senate and assembly of the forty-first session of the state legislature on irrigation and on drainage, swamp, and overflowed lands, the state engineer, the chairman of the state water commission, the chairman of the state reclamation board, the chairman of the state conservation commission, the secretary of agriculture, and six others to be appointed by the governor. Such conference shall first meet at the call of the governor, and shall meet thereafter during the years 1915 and 1916 at such times as the chairman shall determine. Not later than November 30, 1916, the conference shall report its findings and conclusions to the governor, together with any recommendations it deems desirable to make regarding legislation; and with the filing of its report with the governor as aforesaid its existence shall cease and determine.

Compensation.

§ 2. No member of the conference provided for in this act shall receive any compensation for any work performed in connection therewith other than as already allowed by law; but each member of such conference shall be entitled to receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses incident to attendance at regular called meetings of the conference or committees thereof; provided, that the traveling expenses of the members of the conference who become such members by reason of being members of a state department, board or commission shall be paid out of the funds appropriated by law for such department, board, or commission. The chairman of the conference is hereby authorized to employ such assistants as he may deem to be requisite to perform the clerical work made necessary by the proper performance of the duties of the conference.

Appropriation.

§ 3. Out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated there is hereby appropriated the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars to be expended in accordance with law in defraying the expenses herein authorized.

SUBTERRANEAN STORAGE ACT.

ACT 5538—An act to promote the utilization of the water of streams in this state and for that purpose authorizing the storage of the same underground and the damming of streams and the flowage of lands in effecting such storage for beneficial use.

History: Approved May 23, 1919. In effect July 23, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 826.

Storage of water under ground declared beneficial use.

§ 1. The storing of water underground by the owner of the right to the use thereof, and the damming of streams and the flowing of water on lands necessary to the accomplishment of such storage, if the water is to be later withdrawn by pumps, tunnels, or other suitable means for irrigation, domestic or other beneficial uses within the territory served by the owners of the water right, with water for irrigation, domestic or other beneficial uses are hereby declared to be reasonable, economic, and beneficial methods of taking and applying such water, if the water so taken is from time to time being put to the beneficial uses for which it was appropriated.

Previous appropriations validated.

§ 2. Each appropriation heretofore made or consummated in the manner and for the purposes hereby authorized is hereby recognized and validated to the same extent and with the same force as if made or consummated pursuant to the provisions hereof, so far as the same is possible without injury to existing rights.

Application of act.

§ 3. None of the provisions hereof shall apply to the use of artesian well water or affect riparian rights in any way.

RECORDATION OF WATER USERS' ASSOCIATION CONTRACTS.

ACT 5539—An act to provide for the recordation of contracts and subscription agreements to stock in water users' association, organized in conformity with an act of congress, approved June 17, 1902, and to regulate recorders' fees for filing, recording and indexing same.

History: Approved March 20, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 749.

§ 1. All county recorders in this state are hereby authorized and directed to accept from any incorporated water users' association, organized under the laws of the state of California for the purpose of securing the benefits of an act of congress approved June 17, 1902, known as the "reclamation act," books containing printed copies of agreements with the United States, or with such water users' association, in relation to the lands affected by the projects provided for by said act, and copies of blank forms of subscription agreements to the capital stock of such water users' associations, or the transfer thereof, or other documents necessary to be recorded by such associations and to use such form books or such form blanks for the purpose of recording the same; and recorders shall charge for filing, recording and indexing such documents, papers, writings or contracts the sum of seventy-five cents for each document.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CONTENTS OF CHAPTER.

ACT 5554. WEIGHTS AND WEAHERS FOR WAREHOUSEMEN AND WHARFINGERS.

5556. STANDARD OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES ACT OF 1913.

5557. PUBLIC WEIGHMASTER.

WEIGHTS AND WEAHERS FOR WAREHOUSEMEN AND WHARFINGERS.

ACT 5554—An act relating to weights and weighers for warehousemen and wharfingers, and matters connected therewith.

History: Approved March 24, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 387.

Designation of weigher. Oaths of weighers required. Form of.

§ 1. All persons now engaged in or who may hereafter engage in a general warehouse, wharfinger or storage business for the storage of grain or other commodities, which in the course of such business are weighed, shall, before they engage in such business, or within sixty days after the appointment of an inspector of weights as provided in section 4 of this act, designate in writing a person or persons as weigher or weighers for such business at the place thereof, and the person or persons so designated shall thereupon, and before they shall do any weighing for such business subscribe, before an officer authorized to administer oaths, the following oath, to wit:

“(I or we) designated as (weigher or weighers) will correctly weigh all grain or other commodities brought to (here designating the business and place of business) for storage or weighing, or which may be taken out from the same, and in all cases render to the person bringing or receiving the same, as the case may be, upon demand, a full, true and correct account of the weight thereof.”

Scales must be true.

§ 2. All persons engaged in the business in the foregoing section mentioned shall keep for and use in such business no other than true and correct scales and weights.

Designation and oath, recording of. No other persons to weigh.

Said designation and said oath shall thereupon and within the time aforesaid, be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which such business is to be or is being carried on.

No person, excepting the person or persons thus designated and subscribing and recording such oath shall do any of the weighing of such business.

True weights to be kept. To conform to United States standard.

§ 3. Every person engaged in the business in said section 1 mentioned, shall keep and use therein none but true weights, and scales; said weights must conform to the United States standard of weights.

Inspectors of weights and measures, appointment and duties.

§ 4. The board of supervisors of the respective counties of the state of California, hereby are authorized to appoint for their respective counties an inspector of weights and measures, who shall hold office at the pleasure of said board and receive such compensation as each board may allow, and whose duty it shall be from time to time to test and examine all scales and weights kept or used in the business in the foregoing sections mentioned, and report all violations of this act to the district attorney of such county, whose duty it shall be to prosecute all violations thereof.

Violation of statute, penalty.

§ 5. Every violation of this act shall be and is punishable as a misdemeanor.

Recovery for shortage.

§ 6. Besides the prosecution of the criminal actions herein provided for, every person defrauded by false or incorrect weighing shall be entitled to recover from the person owning or conducting such business as in the foregoing sections mentioned, in any court of competent jurisdiction, three times the amount of such shortage in weight of the grain or other commodity so delivered or taken out by him.

STANDARD OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES ACT OF 1913.

ACT 5556—An act to establish a standard of weights and measures in the state of California; to regulate weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices and providing for the inspection and sealing thereof; to prevent the use and sale of false weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices; providing for the inspection, measurement and weighing of goods, commodities, wares, packages and amounts of commodities kept for sale or in process of delivery; to prevent the sale of goods, wares and merchandise by false weights and measures; to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act; for the admission in evidence of copies of the state's standard of weights and measures; providing for the appointment of officers to enforce and carry into effect the provisions of this act, including a state superintendent of weights and measures and his deputy, sealers of weights and measures and their deputies; defining the powers and duties of such officers; and making an appropriation to carry this act into effect.

History: Approved June 16, 1913. In effect August 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1086. Amended (1) June 8, 1915, in effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1312; (2) June 1, 1917, in effect July 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1647. This act supersedes the act of 1911 (Stats. 1911, p. 383). It is an exercise of the power conferred by the amendment of 1911, to section 14, article XI, of the constitution (Stats. 1911, p. 1798), while the act of 1911 was enacted prior to such amendment. This act partly, if not entirely, superseded the act of 1903 relating to wharfingers and warehousemen. (See Act 5554.) It also superseded the act of April 6, 1891, Stats. 1891, p. 487, as to which the code commissioners say: "Of doubtful constitutionality, and has never been acted under. (Condict v. Police Court, 59 Cal. 278; section 14, article XI, state constitution; subdivision 5, section 8, article I, constitution of United States)."

Office of superintendent of weights and measures created.

§ 1. There is hereby created the office of state superintendent of weights and measures. Within thirty days after this act becomes effective, the governor shall appoint a suitable person as state superintendent of weights and measures. Wherever in this act the term superintendent or state superintendent is used, it shall be taken as referring to and meaning state superintendent of weights and measures.

Terms, etc., of state superintendent of weights and measures.

§ 2. The term of office of state superintendent of weights and measures shall be four years, or until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified, but he shall always be subject to removal at the pleasure of the governor. The salary of state superintendent of weights and measures shall be four thousand dollars per annum, payable in the same manner as other state officers are paid. Before entering upon his duties he shall execute a bond to the state in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1648.]

This section was also amended June 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1312.

Deputies.

§ 3. The state superintendent may appoint a deputy who shall have the same powers as the state superintendent. Such deputy shall receive a salary of eighteen hundred dollars per annum, payable in the same manner as other state officers are paid. He shall be at all times subject to removal at the pleasure of the state superintendent. The state superintendent may also appoint additional deputies from time to time to serve as sealers of weights and measures at the request of counties, as provided in section sixteen of this act. Such deputies when actually employed shall be paid at the rate of one hundred and fifty dollars per month by the county engaging their services and not by the state. They also shall receive their actual traveling expenses from such county. [Amendment of June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1313.]

Traveling and office expenses.

§ 4. The state superintendent and his deputy shall each be allowed their actual traveling expenses, to be approved by the state board of control in the same manner as other claims against the state. The state superintendent shall also be allowed necessary office expenses to be approved by the state board of control in the same manner as other claims against the state.

Standards of weights and measures.

§ 5. The standards of weights and measures received from the United States under a resolution of congress approved June 14, 1836, and such new weights and measures as shall be received from the United States as standard weights and measures in addition thereto or renewal thereof, and such as shall be procured by the state in conformity therewith and certified by the national bureau of standards, shall be the state standards by which all state, county and municipal standards of weights and measures shall be tried, proved and sealed.

Standards.

§ 6. The standards referred to in the preceding section shall be kept by the state superintendent in a safe and suitable place in his office from which they shall not be removed except for repairs or certification. He shall maintain such standards in good order and shall submit them at least once in ten years to the national bureau of standards for certification. Upon demand the secretary of state shall deliver to the state superintendent all standards now under the control and in the possession of the secretary of state in his capacity of ex officio state sealer of weights and measures. The state superintendent shall thereupon submit such standards received from the secretary of the state to the national bureau of standards for certification, and he shall replace such standards as are incorrect and purchase such additional standards as shall be necessary to complete and make up a complete standard of weights and measures as required by this act. He shall also purchase such apparatus as shall be found necessary to a proper prosecution of the work of the office. The state superintendent of weights and measures may establish tolerances and specifications for commercial weighing and measuring apparatus for use in the state of California similar to the tolerances and specifications recommended by the national bureau of standards, and he may establish a standard net weight, or net measure, or net count of any commodity, produce or article except any manufactured commodity consisting of four or more staple ingredients, and prescribe such tolerances for same as he may in his best judgment deem necessary for the proper protection of the public. Any person violating such standards or tolerances shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect August 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1648.]

This section was also amended June 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1313.

§ 7. There is no section of this number.

Copies furnished cities, etc. Testing.

§ 8. The state superintendent shall, at the request of the legislative body of any county, city, town, or city and county, furnish to said county, city, town or city and county, copies of the standard weights and measures of the state; such copies shall be furnished at the expense of the county, city, town or city and county requesting the same. He shall upon request of the legislative body of any county, city, town, city and county or upon the request of a sealer of weights and measures of any such county, city, town or city and county, appointed pursuant to the provisions of this act, test and accurately approve copies of the state's standards of weights and measures procured by any such county, city, town or city and county to be used by a sealer of weights and measures in the performance and discharge of his duties. Copies furnished under the provisions of this section or copies tested and approved by the state superintendent under the provisions of this section shall be true and correct; shall be sealed and certified to by the state superintendent and stamped with the letter "C." Such copies need not be of the same material or construction as the standards of the state and such copies may be furnished in any suitable materials or construction that the county, city, town, or city and county requiring the same may specify, subject to the approval of the state superintendent.

Inspection of standards used by cities, etc. Expense of testing. Complete set of copies.

§ 9. The state superintendent shall inspect and correct the standards used by each county, city, town and incorporated city and county of the state, and at least once in two years compare the same with those in his possession and keep a record of the same, and where not otherwise provided by law he shall have general supervision of the weights and measures and weighing and measuring devices offered for sale, sold or in use in the state. Sealers of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this act shall, upon the request of the state superintendent, deliver to the state superintendent at his office copies of the state's standards of weights and measures in their possession, and used in the discharge and performance of their duties, for verification and certification by the state superintendent. The actual expense of such comparison and verification shall be borne by the county, city, town or city and county whose weights and measures are compared and verified. In addition to the standards heretofore referred to and required to be kept by the state, the state shall also have a complete set of copies of said original standards of weights and measures adopted by this act, which shall be used for adjusting county and municipal standards by the state superintendent and his deputy in the performance of their duties, and the original standards shall not be used except for the adjustment of this set of copies and for certification purposes. Additional complete sets of copies of such original standard of weights and measures may be purchased by the superintendent when the same are necessary for use by any deputy state superintendent employed by counties under section 16 of this act. The state, however, shall be reimbursed for the purchase of such copies by the county in which the same are used, in the manner hereinafter provided.

Testing of weights and measures used by state institutions.

§ 10. The state superintendent or his deputy shall, at least once annually and as often as requested by the state board of control or the executive officers of the institutions herein referred to, test the scales, weights and measures used in checking the receipt and disbursement of supplies in every institution conducted by the state, and he shall report in writing his findings to the executive officer of the institution concerned and to the state board of control.

Inspecting work of local sealers.

§ 11. The state superintendent or his deputy shall at least once in two years visit the various cities and counties of the state and inspect the work of the local sealers of weights and measures, and in the performance of said duties he or his deputy may inspect the weights, measures, balances or any other weighing or measuring devices, of any person, firm or corporation. The state superintendent and his deputy shall have all the powers of sealers of weights and measures provided for in this act.

Sealers who neglect duty, etc. Hearing, etc.

§ 12. The state superintendent if he finds that any sealer of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this act, or any sealer or deputy sealer appointed by any city or county in this state, prior to this act, has refused or neglected to perform the duties of his office or refused to accept the recommendations and instructions of the state superintendent or is guilty of any malfeasance in office or who is incompetent, shall present to the body, officer or board having power to remove such sealer or deputy sealer of weights and measures a written charge and accusation based upon and clearly stating the alleged offense or offenses of such sealer or deputy sealer and request such body, officer or board to hear and determine such charge and accusation. Upon receipt of such charge and accusation, it shall be the duty of the body, officer or board with whom the same have been filed to make an order setting the same for hearing at a time which shall be not less than ten nor more than twenty days from the date upon which such charge and accusation shall have been filed, and shall in such order fix the time and place for such hearing. A copy of such charge and accusation, together with a copy of such order, shall be served upon the accused at least seven days prior to the time fixed for such hearing; provided, that in the event he shall absent himself from his usual place of business, or office, such service may be made by depositing such copies in a conspicuous place therein or by leaving the same at the last known place of residence of the accused, within the time above limited. At such hearing the accused shall have the right to be represented by counsel, if he so desires, and to produce witnesses and documentary evidence in his defense. If, upon such hearing, he be found guilty of malfeasance in office, or adjudged to be incompetent to perform the duties of the office; the body, officer or board before whom such hearing is had must forthwith remove him from office. If he be found guilty of any of the other offenses herein enumerated he may be punished by removal, or by suspension without pay for a period not exceeding thirty days, as such body, board or officer may determine.

If he has reason to believe that any such sealer or deputy sealer of weights and measures has committed any of the offenses specified in section seven hundred and seventy-two of the Penal Code, the state superintendent may, in his discretion, present an accusation to the superior court of the county in which the accused is employed, which shall thereupon be heard and determined by such court in the manner provided by law. The remedies provided in this section are cumulative merely, and shall not in any wise detract from the right of the appointing power to remove at will any such sealer or deputy sealer of weights and measures. It shall be unlawful for the state superintendent, his deputies, or any sealer of weights and measures to keep for sale, or offer or expose for sale, or to sell to any person, firm, or corporation, or dealer in goods, wares and merchandise, doing or intending to do business in the state of California any weighing or measuring instrument, or to be interested directly or indirectly in the sale of any weighing or measuring instrument. [Amendment of June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1313.]

Investigate conditions in state. Annual report.

§ 13. It shall be the duty of the state superintendent to investigate conditions in the various counties, cities and towns of the state in respect to weights and measures, and to the sale of goods, wares and merchandise, commodities and foodstuffs in containers. The state superintendent shall annually report to the governor, and shall prior to each regular session report to the legislature the work of his office, and shall make such recommendations as he shall deem proper and necessary.

Instructions to sealers.

§ 14. The state superintendent shall issue instructions and make recommendations to the county and municipal sealers of weights and measures, appointed under the provisions of this act, and such instructions and recommendations shall govern the procedure to be followed by the aforesaid officers in the discharge of their duties.

Record of acts done.

§ 15. The state superintendent shall keep in his office a complete record of all acts done by him and a record of all prosecutions for violation of the provisions of this act, and the reports of the various sealers of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this act, which records and reports shall always be open to the public.

Office of sealer of weights and measures created. Compensation. Deputies. Failure to appoint.

§ 16. The office of sealer of weights and measures is hereby created. Whenever in this act the term "sealer" is used, the same shall be taken to mean and refer to sealer of weights and measures. Within one hundred and twenty days after the approval of this act by the governor, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of each of the counties of the state except as hereinafter provided, to appoint a sealer of weights and measures for their respective counties; said sealer shall receive as compensation the sum of five dollars per day for each day actually employed in the service of the county, to be audited and paid as other claims against the county. He shall be allowed his traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties. The term of office of such sealer of weights and measures shall be four years, but he shall be subject to removal at the will of such board. A sealer appointed under this act may, with the consent of the board of supervisors of the county appointing him, appoint a deputy or deputies when necessary or expedient to carry out the provisions of this act. The compensation of such deputies shall be the same as the county sealer and paid in the same manner. Such deputies shall always be subject to removal by the sealer of weights and measures. In case the legislative body of that county or city and county shall not appoint a sealer for such county or city and county within thirty days after written request for such appointment by the state superintendent, is received, said state superintendent shall assign as soon as practicable a deputy superintendent who shall perform all the duties of sealer in such county or city and county as provided in this act to be performed by county or city sealers and to provide copies of the original standards of weights and measures for use by said deputy in such county. The actual cost of such services shall be paid by the county in the same manner in which other claims against the county are paid. The amount to be paid shall be at the rate of one hundred and fifty dollars per month for the time such deputy superintendent is employed in such county in addition to the actual traveling expenses of such deputy made necessary by such appointment. The county shall also stand its proportionate share of the actual cost of the set of copies to be used in such county by such deputy, at the rate of one-twelfth of the cost thereof for every month such copies are employed therein during the first year of their use, and in that event such county may at any time pay the balance of the cost of such copies and become the owner thereof, or the county may pay rental to the state for the use of such copies at the rate of ten per cent per annum of the cost price thereof. [Amendment of June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1315.]

Appointment of sealers.

§ 17. The legislative body of any county or consolidated city and county of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, and the legislative body of any city or town may appoint a sealer of weights and measures, fix his compensation and provide for the appointment by the sealer of such number of deputies as the said legislative bodies may deem necessary and expedient. Such sealer shall receive as compensation the sum of one hundred fifty dollars per month, or at the rate of one hundred fifty dollars per month for each month or part thereof actually employed in the service of such county or city and county, or city and town. He shall be allowed his traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties; and such deputies shall each receive as compensation the sum of five dollars per day for each day actually employed in the service of such county, or city and county, or city and town. They shall be allowed their traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties. The term of office of sealer of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this section shall be four years. He shall be subject to removal by the power appointing him. Deputies appointed under the provisions of this section by a sealer of a county, city and county, or city, or town, shall be subject to removal by the sealer.

In counties of second class.

In counties of the second class whose charters provide for a department of weights and measures, the appointment of a sealer and deputies, the number of such deputies and the term of office thereof shall be as provided in said charter; provided, that the sealer shall receive for compensation the sum of three thousand dollars per annum, and one deputy, to be known as chief deputy, shall receive as compensation the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. Deputies shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, each payable in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. In counties of the third class the sealer shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and deputies shall each receive as compensation the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, payable in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

Counties in which deputies appointed by state superintendent.

In all counties other than those of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, no county sealer or deputies shall be appointed by the legislative body thereof, but the state superintendent of weights and measures shall assign to such counties, or groups of such counties, such deputy superintendents as may be necessary, but not more than one to each of such counties. Such deputies shall have jurisdiction over such county, or group of counties, as the state superintendent may designate, except within the territorial limits of those cities and towns within which sealers have been appointed under the provisions of this act. They shall have all the powers and perform the duties of a sealer of weights and measures. They shall be paid by the county wherein employed, five dollars a day for each day employed therein, which shall not exceed one hundred and twenty days in any one county in any one year, and they shall also receive from such county their actual traveling expenses. The terms of office of all sealers and deputy sealers in all counties other than those of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, shall terminate when this section becomes effective. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1649.]

Jurisdiction of sealers.

§ 18. The jurisdiction of a sealer appointed or a deputy state sealer employed for a county shall extend over the entire territorial limits of the county appointing such sealer, except within the territorial limits of those cities and towns within which sealers have been appointed under the provisions of this act. The jurisdiction of the sealer of weights and measures appointed by the legislative body of any city or town under the provisions of this act shall extend over the entire territorial limits of such city or town.

Sealers appointed heretofore not affected.

§ 19. This act shall not affect the appointment of any sealer of weights and measures heretofore appointed for any city, town or city and county under any law, but such sealers shall perform the duties of the office under the provisions of this act, and shall possess the same powers and duties as sealers appointed under the provision of this act.

Copies of standards for counties, etc.

§ 20. Except as herein otherwise provided the board of supervisors or legislative body of each county, city, town and city and county of the state shall, upon the appointment of a sealer under the provisions of this act, provide and procure for their respective county, city, town and city and county, copies of the state's standards of weights and measures at the expenses of such county, city, town or city and county; such copies shall be verified and certified to by the state superintendent of weights and measures as in section eight of this act provided.

Copies to be tested.

§ 21. Sealers appointed under the provisions of this act shall, at least every two years, cause to be proved and tested by the state superintendent copies of the state's standards in their possession. If, upon such inspection, or any inspection by the state superintendent, the copies of the weights and measures tested shall be found to be incorrect, the same shall be adjusted, if the same are susceptible of being adjusted, but if not, new copies shall be procured and certified to in the same manner as original copies.

Copies deemed correct.

§ 22. In any prosecution for a violation of any of the provisions of this act any copy of the standards of weights and measures of the state furnished, procured and certified to under the provisions of this act, shall be admitted in evidence upon the trial, and such copy shall be deemed prima facie true and correct.

Duties of sealers.

§ 23. It shall be the duty of any sealer of weights and measures to carefully preserve all copies of the standards of weights and measures in his possession, and to keep the same in a safe and suitable place when not actually in use; and it shall be his duty annually and at such other times as the state superintendent may require, to file with such superintendent a written report of the work done by him of the weights, measures, weighing and measuring instruments inspected or tested by him and of the result of such inspection, of all prosecutions instituted by him for violations of the provisions of this act and of all other matters and things pertaining to his duties or which may be required by the state superintendent.

Dealers in weighing and measuring instruments to have same tested.

§ 24. Every person using or keeping for use or having or offering for sale weights, scales, beams, measures of every kind, instruments or mechanical devices for weighing or measurement, and tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures within a county, city, town, or city and county in which there has been appointed a sealer under the provisions of this act, shall within three months after the appointment of such sealer cause all such weights, scales, beams, measures of every kind, instruments or mechanical device for weighing or measurement, and tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures to be sealed and marked by the sealer of weights and measures of the county, city, town or city and county in which the same are used, kept for use or kept or offered for sale.

Instruments must be tested before sale.

§ 25. No weight, scale, beam, measure of any kind, instrument or mechanical device for weighing or measurement, nor tools, appliances or accessories connected with any or all of such instruments or measures shall be used, kept for use, sold, offered for sale or kept for sale in any county, city, town or city and county, in which there is a sealer appointed under the provisions of this act and in which for three months there has been continuously in office in such county, city, town or city and county a sealer, unless such weight, scale, beam, measure of any kind, instrument or mechanical device for weighing or measurement, and tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures shall have been sealed and tested as in this act provided.

Instruments which may be sold. Subject to inspection.

§ 26. When any weight, scale, beam, measure of any kind, instrument or mechanical device for weighing or measurement, and tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measurements have been tested and found correct by any sealer appointed under the provisions of this act, the same may be used, kept for use, offered for sale, sold, or kept for sale within any county, city, town or city and county of this state for one year without any further test. Any weight, scale, beam, measure of any kind, instrument or mechanical device for weighing or measurement, and tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures, which have been tested and sealed and certified to as correct by the national bureau of standards, may be kept for sale, sold or offered for sale without being first tested and sealed by a sealer as in this act provided. But all such weights, scales, beams, measures of any kind, instruments or mechanical devices for weighing or measurement, and tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures shall always be subject to inspection and testing as herein provided, notwithstanding that the same have been tested and sealed either by a sealer appointed under the provisions of this act or by the national bureau of standards.

Testing of devices which must be assembled before use.

§ 27. Any scale, beam or mechanical device for weighing or measuring, which, after being sold and before being used for weighing or measuring it is necessary to assemble or set up, may be sold, kept for sale, or offered for sale without first being tested and sealed as in this act provided; but such scale, beam or mechanical device for weighing or measuring, before being used for weighing or measuring, must be tested and sealed as in this act provided.

Testing upon request of resident. Testing upon request of firm, etc., using. Not relieved from violation.

§ 28. Upon a written request of any resident of a county, city, town or city and county, in which there has been appointed a sealer under the provisions of this act there appearing reasonable ground therefor, the sealer for such county, city, town or city and county shall test or cause to be tested, as soon thereafter as is practicable, the weights, scales, beams, measures of any kind, instruments or mechanical devices for weighing or measurement, tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measurements used in buying or selling by the person, firm or corporation, designated in such request. Upon the written request of any person, firm or corporation, using, having for use, selling, keeping or offering for sale any weight, scale, beam, measure of any kind or instrument or mechanical device for weighing or measurement, tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures, in any county, city, town, or city and county in which there has been appointed a sealer under the provisions of this act, the sealer for such county, city, town or city and county shall test or cause to be tested, as soon thereafter as is practicable, the weights, scales, beams, measures of any kind, instrument or mechanical device for weighing or measurement, tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures belonging to or used by such person, firm or corporation; but such written request shall not relieve the person, firm or corporation making it from any violation of the provisions of this act or of the responsibility provided in this act for using, keeping for use, selling or offering to sell, or keeping for sale, any false weight, scale, beam, measure of any kind, instrument or mechanical device for weighing or measurement, tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures.

Duties of sealers. Weigh packages.

§ 29. The sealer shall, within his county, city, town or city and county, inspect, try, test all weights, scales, beams, measures of any kind, instruments or mechanical devices for weighing or measurements, and tools, appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures, kept for the purpose of sale, sold, or used by any proprietor, agent, lessee or employee in providing the size, quantity, extent, area, weight or measurement of quantities, things, produce, articles for distribution or consumption, purchased or offered or submitted by such person or persons for sale, hire or award and ascertain if the same are correct; and he shall have the power to and shall, from time to time, weigh or measure packages or amounts of commodities of whatsoever kind kept for the purpose of sale, offered for sale or sold, or in the process of delivery, in order to determine whether the same contain the quantity or amount represented and whether they are being offered for sale or sold in accordance with law and may seize for use as evidence any such amounts of commodities or package or packages which shall be found to contain a less amount than that represented. He shall, at least once in each year, or as much oftener as he deems necessary, see that the weights, measures and all weighing and measuring apparatus, used in his county, city, town, or city and county, are correct. He may, for the purpose above mentioned, and in the general performance of his duty, without formal warrant, enter or go into or upon, any stand, place, building or premises or stop any vendor, peddler, junk dealer, driver of a coal wagon, ice wagon or delivery wagon or the driver of any wagon containing commodities for sale or delivery and, if necessary, require him to proceed to some place which the sealer may specify for the purpose of making the proper tests.

Violators prosecuted.

§ 30. Any sealer having knowledge of a violation of any of the provisions of this act, or of any law relating to weights and measures shall cause the violator to be prosecuted.

Marking weights and measures tested, etc. "Out of order." Removal of tags prohibited.

§ 31. Whenever a sealer compares weights and measures or weighing or measuring instruments and finds that they correspond, or causes them to correspond, to the standards in his possession, he shall seal or mark, under his name, such weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument with an appropriate device showing that the weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument is correct and the date of the inspection, which device shall be placed so as to be easily seen. He shall condemn and seize and may destroy incorrect weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments which in his best judgment are not susceptible of repair, but any weight, measure or weighing or measuring instrument which shall be found to be incorrect, but which in his best judgment are susceptible of repair, he shall cause to be marked with a tag or other suitable device with the words "out of order." The owners or users of any weights or measures or weighing or measuring instruments which have been marked "out of order," as in this section provided, may have the same repaired or corrected within thirty days, but until the same have been repaired or corrected and tested as herein provided the owners or users thereof may neither use nor dispose of the same in any way, but shall hold the same at the disposal of the sealer. When the same have been repaired or corrected the owner or user thereof shall notify the sealer and the sealer shall again test and prove the weight, measure, or weighing or measuring instrument, which had been found incorrect and marked as in this section provided, and until such weight, measure, or measuring or weighing instrument has been reinspected by the sealer and found correct, the same shall not be used or in any way disposed of by the owner. Any person who removes or obliterates any tag or device placed upon any weight, measure, or weighing or measuring instrument by the sealer as in this act provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. When any weight, measure or weighing or measuring instrument has been repaired and corrected, as in this act provided, and has been reinspected and found correct by the sealer of weights and measures, as in this act provided, the sealer of weights and measures shall remove the tag or device with the words "out of order," and shall seal and mark such weight, measure, or weighing or measuring instrument in the manner provided for the marking of the same where upon inspection they are found correct.

Penalty for using false weights and measures.

§ 32. Any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall use, in the buying or selling of any commodity, or retain in his possession a false weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument, or shall offer or expose for sale, or sell, except as heretofore specifically allowed in section twenty-seven of this act, or use or retain in his possession any weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument in any county, city, town, or city and county in which there has been appointed a sealer of weights and measures in accordance with the provisions of this act, which has not been sealed by a sealer within one year, or who shall use or dispose of any condemned weight or measure, or weighing or measuring instrument contrary to law, or any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall sell or offer or expose for sale or use or have in his possession for the purpose of selling or using any device or instrument to be used or calculated to falsify any weight or measure, and any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall sell or offer, or expose for sale any commodity, produce, article or thing in a less quantity than he represents it to be or contain, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Possession of any false weight or measure or weighing or measuring instruments or records thereof shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that they were intended to be used in the violation of law. [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1650.]

This section was also amended June 8, 1915, Stats. 1915, p. 1316.

Penalty for selling commodity at other than true net weight.

§ 32a. No person shall by himself or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another sell or offer or expose for sale any commodity, produce, article or thing at, by, or according to gross weight or measure, or at, by, as, of, or according to any weight, measure or count which is greater than the true net weight, measure or count thereof, or which is less than the standard net weight, standard net measure or standard net count, including tolerances, as such standards and tolerances are now or may hereafter be established pursuant to the provisions of this act. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1650.]

Power of peace officers.

§ 33. The state superintendent, his deputy, all sealers and their deputies, in the performance of their official duties, shall have the same powers as are possessed by peace officers of this state.

Hindering sealers.

§ 34. Any person who shall hinder or obstruct in any way the state superintendent, or his deputy, or a sealer or his deputy, in the performance of their official duties, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Refusing to exhibit weights or measures.

§ 35. Any person neglecting or refusing to exhibit any weight, measure, or weighing or measuring instrument of any kind, or appliances and accessories connected with any or all of such instruments or measures which is in his possession or under his control, to the state superintendent, or his deputy, or to a sealer or his deputy, for the purpose of allowing the same to be inspected and examined as in this act provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Refusing to exhibit commodities.

§ 36. Any person, who by himself, or his employee or agent, or as a proprietor or manager, shall refuse to exhibit any article, commodity, produce or anything being sold or offered for sale at a given weight or quantity, or ordinarily so sold, to the state superintendent, or to his deputy, or to a sealer or his deputy, for the purpose of allowing the same to be tested and proved as to the quantity contained therein as in this act provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Penalty for false sealing.

§ 37. Any sealer who shall seal any weight, measure, balance or apparatus before first testing and making the same conform with the standards of the state, or who shall condemn any weight, measure, balance or apparatus without first testing the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Violation of act a misdemeanor.

§ 38. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

“Person.”

§ 39. The word “person,” as used in this act, shall be deemed to include person, firm or corporation.

Duty of officers of corporations.

§ 40. It shall be the duty of all officers, directors and managers of corporations, whose respective corporations use or keep for use, sell or offer for sale, any weights, measures, or weighing or measuring instruments which are subject to inspection by the provisions of this act, to comply with the provisions of this act on behalf of their respective corporations; and it shall be the duty of all officers, directors and managers of corporations, whose respective corporations offer for sale or keep for sale any commodity, produce, article or thing which is subject to inspection by the provisions of this act, to comply therewith on behalf of their respective corporations. In case any corporation shall violate any of the provisions of this act, the corporation and the officers thereof directly concerned with the act or acts constituting such violation shall be severally guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sealing by state superintendent or deputy, effect of.

§ 41. Any sealing or testing of any weight, measure, weighing or measuring instrument by the state superintendent or his deputy shall have the same force and effect as a sealing or testing by a sealer or his deputy.

Appropriation.

§ 42. There is hereby appropriated out of the general fund of the state the sum of twelve thousand dollars for carrying into effect the provisions of this act.

Title.

§ 43. This act when cited or amended may be designated as the “weights and measures act.” [Amendment of June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 1650.]

1. Constitutionality — Act constitutional.—The legislature was empowered by section 14 of article XI of the constitution to enact the statute of March 18, 1911, authorizing the appointment of county and city sealers of weights and measures, and prescribing their duties.—Scott v. Boyle, 164 Cal. 321, 324, 128 Pac. 941.

2. Act not repealed or rendered inoperative.—The act of March 18, 1911, was not repealed or rendered inoperative by the amendment of October 10, 1911, to section 14, article XI, of the constitution.—Scott v. Boyle, 164 Cal. 321, 325, 128 Pac. 941.

3. Same.—In the absence of a later statute on the subject, the act of March 18, 1911 (384) remains in full force and effect, and officials appointed under its authority are de jure officials.—Scott v. Boyle, 164 Cal. 321, 326, 128 Pac. 941.

4. Freeholder charter city — Compensation of deputy sealer of weights and measures a "municipal affair."—The compensation of a deputy sealer of weights and measures of a freeholder charter city whose charter authorizes the fixing of such compensation, is a municipal affair, and the provisions of this act have no application, where such compensation has been fixed by ordinance.—Milliken v. Meyers, 25 Cal. App. 510, 144 Pac. 321.

5. County and city sealers.—The act provides for state sealer of weights and measures, and makes the appointment of county sealers obligatory upon boards of supervisors, or requires them to apply to the state sealer for the assignment of a local deputy, and the legislative bodies of cities the optional power to appoint city deputies.—Milliken v. Meyers, 25 Cal. App. 510, 144 Pac. 321.

6. Same.—Power of appointment.—The power of legislative bodies of cities to appoint city deputy sealers, under the act, is the same as if the charter made provision therefor, but it is to be exercised at their discretion, and such appointment becomes a "municipal affair" only to the extent of making the appointment and fixing the compensation.—Milliken v. Meyers, 25 Cal. App. 510, 144 Pac. 321.

PUBLIC WEIGHMASTER.

ACT 5557—An act defining public weighmaster; describing his duties; providing for rules and regulations governing the performance of his duties; prescribing a bond and fixing the amount thereof; and providing penalties for any violation of the provisions of this act.

History: Approved June 8, 1915. In effect August 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1288. Amended May 18, 1919, in effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 723.

Public weighmaster. Bond. Exceptions. Seals.

§ 1. All persons, firms, corporations, copartners or individuals engaged in the business of public weighing for hire, or any person, firm or corporation, who shall weigh or measure any commodity, produce, or article, and issue therefor a weight certificate which shall be accepted as the accurate weight upon which the purchase or sale of such commodity, produce or article, is based, shall be known as a public weighmaster, and shall file a bond with the state superintendent of weights and measures in the sum of one thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties, and shall obtain from the state superintendent of weights and measures a seal for the stamping of weight certificates hereinafter provided for, which shall only be in such form as such superintendent may prescribe; provided, that nothing in this act shall apply to any scales, or to the owner or lessee thereof, which are situated wholly outside of any incorporated city or town, except where said scales are being used in the weighing of any commodity which has been or is being purchased by the owner or lessee thereof, which are being used in the weighing of any commodity intended for storage for which a storage charge is made.

(a) The said seals shall be the property of the state and shall be forfeited and returned to the state superintendent of weights and measures upon termination of the performance of the duties herein prescribed as being the duties of a public weighmaster. Such seal shall be of a form and design prescribed by the state superintendent and furnished by him at the expense of the weighmaster. Said seal shall be a recognized authority of accuracy when applied to weight certificates. [Amendment of May 18, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 723.]

Weight certificates.

§ 2. The state superintendent shall prescribe a form of weight certificates to be used by all public weighmasters, which certificates shall be known as the "state certificate of weights and measures," and shall state thereon the kind of product, the number of units of the same, the date of receipt of the product, the owner, agent or consignee, the total weight of the product, the vessel, railroad, team, or other means by which the product was received, any trade or other mark thereon, and such other information as may be necessary to distinguish or identify the product from a like kind. No certificate other than the one herein prescribed shall be used by public weighmasters.

Records.

§ 3. All public weighmasters shall keep and preserve correct and accurate records of all public weighings, as provided by this act, which records shall at all times be open for inspection by the state superintendent of weights and measures, or his deputy.

Penalty.

§ 4. All state certificates of weights and measures, as provided by this act, shall contain the accurate and correct weight of any and all commodities weighed when issued by the public weighmaster.

(a) Any public weighmaster who shall issue a state certificate of weights and measures giving a false weight or measure of any article or commodity weighed or measured by him, or his representative, to any person, firm or corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and the state superintendent may direct and compel the return to him of the state seal, or declare his bond as public weighmaster forfeited, or both.

False or incorrect statements.

§ 5. Any person, firm, corporation, who shall reequest the public weighmaster, or any person employed by him to weigh any product, commodity, or article falsely or incorrectly, or who shall request a false or incorrect state certificate of weight and measure, or any person issuing a state certificate of weights and measures who is not a public weighmaster as provided for in this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment of May 18, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 724.]

Reweighing in case of doubt. Deputy weighmasters.

§ 6. When doubt or differences arise as to the correctness of the net or gross weight of any amount or part of any commodity, produce, or article for which a state certificate of weights and measures has been issued by a public weighmaster, the owner, agent, or consignee may, upon complaint to the state superintendent of weights and measures, or his deputy, have said amount or part of the amount of any commodity, produce, or article, reweighed by the state superintendent of weights and measures, or a public weighmaster designated by him, upon depositing a sufficient sum of money to defray the actual cost of reweigh with the state superintendent of weights and measures. If, on reweighing, a difference in the original weight is discovered as the result of fraud, carelessness, or faulty apparatus, the cost of reweighing shall be borne by the public weighmaster responsible for the issuance of such faulty state certificate of weights and measures. All public weighmasters employing or designating any person to act for them as deputy public weighmaster, shall be responsible for all acts performed by such person, and the public weighmaster shall forward to the state superintendent of weights and measures the name and address of persons so appointed. [Amendment of May 18, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 724.]

Lots shall be piled separately.

§ 7. All amounts, lots, shipments, or consignments of products, after having been weighed, shall be piled or stored separately, as near as can be, or in some manner marked in order that said amounts, lots, shipments, or consignments may be distinguished from each of a like kind. When any product is sold subject to public weighmaster weights, such weights shall be the true net weight of the product. Net weight within the meaning of this act shall be the correct or actual weight of the commodity excluding the weight of the container. [Amendment of May 18, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 725.]

Penalty.

§ 7a. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added May 18, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 725.]

Appropriation.

§ 8. There is hereby appropriated out of the general fund of the state, three thousand dollars, for carrying into effect the provisions of this act.

Conflicting acts repealed.

§ 9. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

ACT OF ESTABLISHMENT.

ACT 5581—An act to establish a state reform school for juvenile offenders, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Amended title.

An act to establish a school for the discipline, education, employment, reformation, and protection of juvenile delinquents, in the state of California, to be known as "The Whittier state school." [As amended March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 328.]

History: Approved March 11, 1889, Stats. 1889, p. 111. Amended March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 328; March 7, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 80; February 7, 1907, Stats. 1907, p. 3; April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 988. Superseded as to mode of commitment by the "Juvenile Court Law" of February 26, 1903, Stats. 1903, p. 44, and by all subsequent juvenile court acts. See, ante, Act 2341. Superseded as to the girls' department by the act creating the state school for girls. See, ante, Act. 676.

Change of name.

§ 1. There shall be established and maintained in this state, and located at Whittier, in the county of Los Angeles, an institution for the discipline, education, employment, reformation, and protection of juvenile delinquents in the state of California, to be known as "The Whittier state school"; and in all judicial, official, or other proceedings, and in all contracts, transfers, or other instruments in writing, the above name shall be deemed a sufficient designation of said institution. [Amendment approved March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 328.]

Board of trustees. Terms of office. Vacancy, how filled.

§ 2. The general supervision and government of said institution shall be vested in a board of trustees consisting of three citizens of the state of California, who shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. The members of said board shall hold their offices for the respective terms of two, three, and four years from the first day of March, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, and until their successors shall be appointed and qualified said respective terms to be designated in their appointments; and thereafter there shall be one of said board appointed in the same manner every two years, whose term of office shall continue four years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. If a vacancy shall occur in said board by expiration of the term of any such trustee, or otherwise, when the senate is not in session, the governor shall fill such vacancy for the unexpired term, subject to the approval of the senate at its next regular session. Said trustees, before entering on the discharge of the duties of their office, shall each take an oath faithfully to discharge the same.

Powers.

§ 3. The trustees of such institution shall be a body corporate and politic for certain purposes, namely: To receive, hold, use, and convey or disburse moneys or other property, real and personal, in the name of said corporation but in trust and for the use and by the authority of the state of California, and to control, manage, and direct the several trusts committed to them respectively, including the organization, government, and discipline of all officers, employees, and other inmates of said institution, with power to make contracts, to sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, to have and to use a common seal, and to alter the same at pleasure, and to exercise all the powers usually belonging to said corporations and necessary for the successful discharge of the obligations devolved by law upon said members of trust; provided, that they shall not have power to bind the state by any contract or obligation beyond the amount of appropriations which may at the time have been made for the purposes expressed in the contract or obligation, nor to sell or convey any part of the real estate belonging to such institution without the consent of the legislature, except that they may release any mortgage, or convey any real estate which may be held by them as security for any money or upon any trust, the terms of which authorize such conveyance; and provided further, that the legislature shall have power at any time to amend, alter, revoke, or annul the grant of corporate powers herein contained.

Selection of site.

§ 4. The said board of trustees are hereby empowered [invested] with full power and authority to select a site for the permanent location of said school in the county of Los Angeles. Said trustees shall, within thirty days after their appointment and qualification, examine the different sites offered by the people of the county of Los Angeles for the location of the said school, and select therefrom a suitable location for said buildings; and the site selected by them shall be and remain the permanent site for said school; said site to contain not less than forty nor more than one hundred and sixty acres, giving preference, other things being equal, to a location central and easy of access from all parts of the county or state; provided, that no buildings shall be commenced or erected in said county of Los Angeles until a deed in fee simple of the land selected by the said board of trustees shall be made to the state, and recorded in the records of the county recorder of said Los Angeles county, and said deed deposited in the office of the secretary of state. [Amendment approved March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 328.]

To adopt plans.

§ 5. The said board of trustees shall prepare and adopt plans for the grounds, buildings, and fixtures necessary and proper for such an institution, not in their judgment to exceed in cost the amount of money hereinafter appropriated, but if practicable of such description that other buildings can be added to or enlarged without injury to their symmetry or usefulness; and may let or make all necessary contracts, with the approval of the governor, for the construction of such buildings and fixtures and the improvement of the grounds according to such plans. Said board of trustees shall use all practicable diligence in the commencement and completion of said buildings and fixtures, and the improvement of the grounds, according to such plans.

Trustee or employee not to be interested.

§ 6. No trustee or employee of such institution shall be personally, directly or indirectly, interested in any contract, purchase, or sale made, or any business carried on in behalf of or for said institution. All contracts, purchases, or sales made in violation of this section shall be held and declared null and void, and all moneys paid to such trustee, employee, or any other person for his benefit, in whole or in part, in consideration of such purchases, contracts, or sales made, may be recovered back by civil suit, to be instituted in the name of the state of California, against such trustee, employee, or person acting in his behalf; and in addition it is hereby made the duty of the governor and the board of trustees, as the case may be, upon proof satisfactory of the fact of such interest, to immediately remove the trustee or employee delinquent as aforesaid, and to report the facts to the attorney-general, who shall take such legal steps in the premises as he shall deem expedient.

Meetings and mode of transaction of business. Furniture and apparatus. Deficiencies.

§ 7. The board shall make all needful rules and regulations concerning their meetings and the modes of transacting their business; shall take charge of said institution to see that its affairs are properly conducted, that strict discipline is maintained, and that suitable employment and education are provided for its inmates. They are authorized to make contracts for the purchase of furniture, apparatus, tools, stock, provisions and everything necessary to equip the institution for the purposes herein specified and to maintain and operate the same; provided, said board shall incur no expense nor contract any debt beyond appropriations made or donations given for the said school, and then only in such manner as may be prescribed by the act of appropriation or the instrument of donation. [Amendment approved March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 329.]

Annual election of officers.

§ 8. The board shall annually elect from their own number a president and a vice president, whose term of office shall be for one year, and until their successors shall be duly appointed and qualified. They shall also elect a treasurer, not one of their own number, whose term of office shall be for two years, and until his successor shall be duly elected and qualified, who shall be at all times subject to removal by the board for good cause. [Amendment approved March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 329.]

Superintendent and other officers.

§ 9. The board shall appoint a superintendent of said school, not of their own number, whose salary shall be fixed by said board, not to exceed three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and shall also appoint such other officers and such assistants as the wants of the institution may from time to time require, and shall prescribe their duties and fix their salaries, as may be reasonable. [Amendment approved March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 329.]

Report of trustees.

§ 10. Said board of trustees shall, on or before the first day of December every two years, make to the governor a full and detailed report of their doings as such trustees, and of the expense of said institution, with such other information relating thereto as they may think interesting or useful to the state; which report shall be communicated by the governor to the next succeeding session of the state legislature. Said trustees shall receive no salary for their services as such from the state, but shall be allowed all necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties.

Meetings.

§ 11. The board of trustees shall have a regular meeting once every three months, at such time and place as they may direct; special meetings may be called by the president of said board in all cases where it becomes necessary for such a meeting.

Duty of superintendent.

§ 12. The superintendent before entering upon the duties of his office shall take an oath faithfully to discharge the same and execute a bond with sureties to be approved by the board, in a sum to be fixed by the board, conditioned for the faithful performance of all his duties as such superintendent. He shall be a resident at the institution, and shall be ex-officio the secretary of the board, taking charge of all books and papers. He shall have charge of the land, buildings, furniture, apparatus, tools, stock, provisions, and every other species of property belonging to the institution, subject to the direction and control of said board, and shall account to the board in such manner as they may require for all property intrusted to him, and all moneys received by him from whatever source shall be deposited with the treasurer. His books shall at all times be open to the inspection of the board, who shall at least once in every three months carefully examine the same and all accounts, vouchers, documents connected therewith, and make a report of the result of such examination in a book provided for the purpose. He shall have charge of the inmates of said institution; he shall discipline, govern, instruct, employ, and use his best efforts to reform the children and youth under his care, and shall at all times be subject to removal by the board for incapacity, cruelty, negligence, immorality, or any good cause.

Duty of treasurer.

§ 13. The treasurer before entering upon the duties of his office shall take an oath faithfully to discharge the same, and shall execute a bond to the people of California with sureties to be approved by said board in at least double the sum of money for which he may be responsible as treasurer, conditioned for the faithful performance of all his duties as such treasurer; he shall take charge of all the funds of the institution, receiving the same and disbursing them on the written order of the superintendent, and shall account to the board in such a manner as they may require for all funds intrusted to him from whatever source. His books shall at all times be open to the inspection of the board and superintendent, who shall at least once in every six months carefully examine the same and all the accounts, vouchers, and documents connected therewith, and make a report of the result of such examinations. Such treasurer must be a citizen of Los Angeles county, and shall receive for his services a salary of six hundred dollars per annum.

Buildings and grounds.

§ 14. Said board of trustees shall arrange the building or buildings to be used for said school, and the grounds about the same, so that a portion thereof may be used for the proper confinement, care, and education of the male inmates, and the remaining portion for the proper confinement, care, and education of the female inmates, and to the absolute exclusion of all communication of any kind or character between the sexes. [Amendment approved March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 329.]

Age of boys and girls subject to admission.

§ 15. Whenever said institution shall have been so far completed as to properly admit of the reception of inmates therein, the governor shall make due proclamation of the fact, and thereafter it shall be lawful for said board of trustees to receive into its care and guardianship, boys between the ages of eight and nineteen years, and girls between the ages of eight and eighteen years, committed to its custody, as hereinafter provided. [Amendment approved April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 988.]

This section was also amended March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 329.

For what offenses may be committed.

§ 16. When any boy between the ages of eight and nineteen years, or any girl between the ages of eight and eighteen years, shall be found guilty of any offense punishable by fine or imprisonment, or by both, in any court of competent jurisdiction in the state, and who, in the opinion of the judge thereof, would be a fit subject for training in said school, it shall be lawful for such judge to suspend judgment or sentence, except when the penalty is life imprisonment or death, and commit such boy or girl to the custody and guardianship of said school until he or she shall become twenty-one years of age. [Amendment approved April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 988.]

This section was also amended March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 330; March 7, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 80.

Truant children, commitment of.

§ 16a. Any child between the ages of eight and fourteen years who wilfully and habitually absents himself or herself from school contrary to the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for violation of the act," approved March 24th, 1903, and as amended by an act approved March 20th, 1905, and as further amended by an act approved March 4th, 1907, may be committed to the custody and guardianship of said school by any superior court judge on the complaint of any peace-officer, teacher, parent, guardian or other person, under the same conditions and in the same manner as is provided in section 16 of this act. [Amendment approved April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 988.]

This section was added March 7, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 81.

Dependent and delinquent children may be committed.

§ 16b. Any child who comes under the provision of an act entitled an act defining and providing for the control, protection and treatment of dependent and delinquent children; prescribing the powers and duties of courts with respect thereto; providing for the appointment of probation officers, and prescribing their duties and powers; providing for the separation of children from adults when confined in jails or other institutions; providing for the appointment of boards to investigate the qualifications of organizations receiving children under this act and prescribing the duties of such boards; and providing what proceedings under this act shall be admissible in evidence, approved February 26, 1903, may be committed to the Whittier state school by any superior judge under the same conditions and in the same manner as provided in section sixteen of this act. [Added March 7, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 81.]

The original section 16b was added by Stats. 1893, p. 330; renumbered section 16c by Stats. 1905, p. 82, when the present section 16b was added; section 16c amended by Stats. 1909, p. 990, and renumbered section 18, q. v., post.

Conditions and manner of commitment.

§ 16c. Any judge of any superior court of this state may commit any boy between the ages of eight and nineteen years, or girl between the ages of eight and eighteen years to the custody and guardianship of the said school on the conditions and in the manner following:

1. On the complaint in writing filed and due proof thereof made, by the parent or guardian of said boy or girl, showing that by reason of the incorrigible or vicious conduct of such boy or girl, he or she is beyond the control and power of such parent or guardian.

2. On complaint in writing filed and due proof thereof made, showing that such boy or girl is a proper subject for the care and guardianship of said school, by reason of vagrancy or incorrigible or vicious conduct; or in cases where, from moral depravity or otherwise, the parent or guardian having control of such boy or girl is incapable of exercising, or unwilling to exercise, the proper care or discipline over such boy or girl, and in cases where such boy or girl has no parent, guardian or other protector.

3. On complaint in writing filed and due proof thereof made by the mother, or guardian when the father is dead, or has abandoned his family, or is an habitual drunkard, or does not support his family, and it appears that such boy or girl is destitute of a home and adequate means of obtaining an honest living and is in danger of being brought up to lead an idle or immoral life. § 16e. [Renumbered section.]

See, supra, note to section 16d, and, post, section 20.

Citation to custodian of child. Warrant for arrest of parent or custodian. Detention of child. Term of commitment.

§ 17. In all cases where complaint is made by another than the parent or guardian having the custody of said boy or girl, a citation shall issue requiring the person having custody or control of said boy or girl, or with whom the said boy or girl may be, to appear with him or her at a place and time stated in the citation. Service of such citation must be made at least twenty-four hours before the time stated therein. The parents or guardian of the boy or girl, if residing in the county in which the court sits, and if their places of residence be known to the petitioner, or if there be neither parent nor guardian so residing, or if their places of residence be not known to petitioner, then some relative of the boy or girl, if there be any residing in said county, and if his residence and relationship to such boy or girl be known to petitioner, shall be notified of the proceedings by service of citation requiring them to appear at the time and place to be stated in such citation. In any case the judge may appoint some suitable person to act in behalf of the boy or girl, and may order such further notice of the proceeding to be given as he may deem proper. If any person, cited as herein provided, shall fail, without reasonable cause, to appear and abide by the order of the court, or to bring the boy or girl, if so required in the citation, such failure shall constitute a contempt of said court and may be punished as provided for in cases of contempt of court. In case any such citation can not be served, or the party served fails to observe the same, and in any case in which it shall be made to appear to the court that such citation shall be ineffectual, a warrant of arrest may issue on the order of the court, either against the parent or guardian, or the person having the custody of the boy or girl, or with whom he or she may be, or against the boy or girl, or any of said persons; or if there be no person to be served with citation as above provided, a warrant of arrest may be issued against the boy or girl immediately. On the return of the citation or other process, or as soon thereafter as may be, the court shall proceed to hear and dispose of the case in a summary manner. Until the final disposition of any case, the boy or girl may be retained in the possession of the person having charge of the same, or may be kept, upon the order of the court, in some suitable place, provided by the county, or city and county, or may be held otherwise, as the court may direct. In all cases of commitment to said school the same shall be until said boy or girl is twenty-one years of age, and it shall be the duty of the court committing such boy or girl to such school to certify to the superintendent thereof, the date of birth or age of such boy or girl so committed, as nearly as the same can be ascertained by testimony taken under oath either before the court or in such manner as he may direct. [Added April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 989.]

Discharge of child.

§ 18. It shall be lawful for the board whenever it may deem any inmate of said institution to have been so far reformed as to justify his discharge, to give him an honorable dismissal and to cause an entry of the reasons for such dismissal to be made in the book of records prepared for that purpose. All persons thus honorably dismissed and all those who have attained the age of twenty-one years shall thereafter be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offenses or crimes for which they were committed. Upon the final discharge of any inmate as in this section provided, the superintendent shall immediately certify such discharge in writing and shall transmit the certificate to the court by which such inmate was committed. Said court, thereupon, shall dismiss the accusation and the action pending against said person. [Amended and renumbered. Approved April 19, 1909, Stat. 1909, p. 990.]

Right to parole.

§ 19. There shall be established in said school a system of marketing and grading upon merit or attainments in school and shop and general conduct, by which the boy or girl committed under this act may work out his or her way to parole and honorable discharge. When in the opinion of the superintendent a boy or girl, by the regulations established for that purpose, has earned a right to a parole, he shall cause to be obtained a reputable home or place of employment where said boy or girl may be employed and earn a living by honorable labor, and then shall recommend said boy or girl to the board for parole, and if the board is satisfied that it is for the welfare of such boy or girl to be paroled, it shall grant such parole under such conditions as it may deem best, which shall be continued until such boy or girl has proved his or her ability for honorable self-support, when he or she shall, upon the recommendation of the superintendent, be honorably discharged. Any boy or girl who, while on parole, violates any of the conditions of the parole may be returned to said school. [Amended and renumbered. Approved April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 990.]

Added as section 16c, March 23, 1893; Stats. 1893, p. 331. Section 16c renumbered 16d, March 7, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 82. Section 16d amended and renumbered section 19, April 19, 1909; Stats. 1909, p. 990. For the original section 19, see, post, section 21.

Incorrigible children to be returned to court.

§ 20. Any boy or girl committed to said school who, after due trial, is found to be, in the opinion of the superintendent, incapable of reformation, or so morally deficient or incorrigible as to render his or her retention detrimental to the interests of said school, or when it is ascertained by good and sufficient evidence, that said boy or girl has misrepresented his or her age to the court who sentenced him or her, or has been previously convicted of a felony, he may recommend such boy or girl to the board of trustees for return to the said court and if the said board is satisfied that it is for the best interests of the school that such boy or girl be returned, it shall so cause him or her to be returned to said court, and it shall be lawful for said court to annul and set aside the previous commitment to the said Whittier state school and resume proceedings where the same were suspended when such commitment was made. [Amended and renumbered. Approved April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 991.]

Added as section 16d, March 23, 1893; Stats. 1893, p. 331. Section 16d amended and renumbered section 16e, March 7, 1905; Stats. 1905, p. 82. Section 16e amended and renumbered section 20, April 19, 1909; Stats. 1909, p. 991. For original section 20, see, ante, section 16c.

Private examinations.

§ 21. All minors between the ages of eight and eighteen years who may be accused of any offense under this act shall, with a view to the question whether they ought to be committed to said school, be entitled to a private examination before the court, to which only the parties to the case and the parent or guardian of the accused and such officers of the court as he may direct, and such attorneys as may be engaged in the hearing, shall be admitted, unless one of the parents, the guardian or other legal representative of the minor demands a public trial; in such cases the proceedings shall be in the usual manner. [Amended and renumbered. Approved April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 991.]

Enacted as section 19, March 11, 1889; Stats. 1889, p. 116. Section 19 amended March 23, 1893; Stats. 1893, p. 333. Section 19 amended and renumbered section 21, April 19, 1909; Stats. 1909, p. 91. The original section 21 was enacted March 11, 1889 (Stats. 1889, p. 117); amended by Stats. 1893, p. 333; repealed by Stats. 1909, p. 992.

Record, what only to be made.

§ 22. In all cases where the commitment is executed by the official person, whose proceedings are usually evidenced by the record, or where the occasion of the commitment is a criminal charge or conviction against the infant, no other record shall be made (unless demanded by the infant, his parent, or guardian) than that, in substance, such infant (naming him), who on a day therein named was of the age of years, having been brought, before said court, or officer, and it having been ascertained by the testimony of the witnesses that such infant was a suitable person to be committed to the instruction and discipline of such institution, and in case of conviction for crime (naming the offense), therefore such infant was ordered to be committed to said institution.

Clothing, money, and transportation for those released.

§ 23. Upon the discharge of any person committed to said school, the superintendent thereof, under such regulations and restrictions as the said board of trustees may prescribe, may provide such person with suitable clothing and five dollars in money, and procure transportation for such person to his or her home, if resident in this state, or to the county to [in] which he or she may have been committed, [convicted,] at his or her option. [Amendment approved March 23, 1893, Stats. 1893, p. 333.]

Aiding escapes. Punishment therefor.

§ 24. If any person procure the escape of any person committed to the school, or advise or connive at, aid, or assist in such escape, or conceal any such person so committed after such escape, he shall, upon conviction thereof in any superior court, be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than two months nor more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment; or, if such person so convicted be under the age of sixteen years, then he shall be sentenced to the school, as in this act provided. [Renumbered. Approved April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 992.]

Enacted as section 26, March 11, 1889; Stats. 1889, p. 118. Section 26 amended March 23, 1893; Stats. 1893, p. 334. Section 26 renumbered section 24, April 19, 1909; Stats. 1909, p. 992.

Who shall execute writ of commitment.

§ 25. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of any county wherein an order is made or approved by a superior judge committing any minor to said school, to execute any and all writs of commitment issued or approved by said judge, and to receive as compensation therefor such fees as are now or may hereafter be provided by law for the transportation of prisoners to the state prison, provided, that in all cases where the commitment shall be made under section 16a, 16b, or 16c, of this act, the parent, guardian, or other protector of such minor may, at his option, and in all cases where he is liable, or where the estate of such minor is sufficient, execute said writ of commitment, after having been duly sworn therefor with like powers and with like effect as the sheriff would possess in such case, but without expense to the state; and further provided, that in the case of a minor female committed to said school, and there is no parent, guardian, or other protector of such minor, who, in the opinion of the court, is a proper person to safely conduct such female to said school, that then, in such case, the court shall appoint some suitable woman of satisfactory character and discretion, who shall take the custody of such minor female after her said commitment, and shall forthwith deliver her to said school, and be entitled to the same compensation therefor as is otherwise provided to be paid to the sheriff in all cases where, if such minor were a boy and were by a sheriff delivered to said schools, he, the said sheriff, would be entitled to receive compensation, under the terms of this act. [Amended and renumbered. Approved April 19, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 992.]

Enacted as section 28, March 11, 1889; Stats. 1889, p. 119. Section 28 amended March 23, 1893; Stats. 1893, p. 335. Section 28 amended and renumbered section 25, April 19, 1909; Stats. 1909, p. 992. Act takes effect when.

§ 31. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

1. Constitutionality — Title fully expresses subject of act.—The subject of the act is fully expressed in its title, and it is constitutional.—Ex parte Liddell, 93 Cal. 633, 29 Pac. 251.

2. Same—Same.—It is sufficient if the title contains a reasonable intimation of the matters under legislative consideration, and if it states the subject in the fewest words, according to general custom.—Ex parte Liddell, 93 Cal. 633, 29 Pac. 251.

3. Same — Same.—Numerous provisions having one general object fairly indicated by the title may be united in the act.—Ex parte Liddell, 93 Cal. 633, 29 Pac. 251.

4. Same—Same—General purpose of act.—When the general purposes of the act are declared the details provided for the accomplishment of that purpose will be regarded as mere incidents.—Ex parte Liddell, 93 Cal. 633, 29 Pac. 251.

5. Same—Longer term of detention.—The act is not unconstitutional because it authorizes a longer term of detention in the reform school than of imprisonment in jail or state prison for the same offense.

6. "Whittier reform school fund"—Trustees can not divert for the erection of buildings.—The trustees have no authority to expend the fund provided for the "support" of the school and the "care and keeping" of the minors committed to the school, for the erection of buildings, however much needed.—Mitchell v. Colgan, 122 Cal. 296, 54 Pac. 905.

7. Payment of one-half expense by counties.—It was the legislative intention of the amendment of 1893 of section 24 of the act that the counties should pay half the expense of keeping minors in the reform school, in all cases where the parents, guardians or other protectors were unable to pay such expense, and this imposition was not limited whether the minor was committed as incorrigible, abandoned or indigent minors, or for a violation of the penal statutes of the state.—Cochran v. Los Angeles Co., 117 Cal. 534, 49 Pac. 570.

8. Section 16 as amendment to Penal Code—Section not void.—The fact that section 16 was not enacted as an amendment to the Penal Code, as it might have been, does not render it void.—Ex parte Liddell, 93 Cal. 633, 29 Pac. 251.

9. Same—In case of conflict act must prevail over code provisions.—In case of conflict the act must prevail over provisions of the Penal Code.—Ex parte Liddell, 93 Cal. 633, 29 Pac. 251.

10. Power to lease conferred by act on board of trustees.—The powers conferred upon the board of trustees are sufficiently ample to include the power to make a lease, which was "necessary for the successful discharge of the duties devolved by law" on the trustees, and especially the duty imposed upon them by section 14 of the act.—Harvey v. Board of Trustees, 142 Cal. 391, 75 Pac. 1086.

11. Trial—Error to be corrected on appeal, not reviewed on habeas corpus.—The failure to give the defendant a private examination, or a public trial on the demand of his parents, is a mere error to be corrected on appeal and on review on habeas corpus.—Ex parte Liddell, 93 Cal. 633, 29 Pac. 251.

12. Commitment of minor under fourteen, accused of burglary, without trial by jury, and without notice to his parents, void.—Where a minor accused of burglary was presented to the court as a suitable person to be committed to the reform school, with a recommendation to that effect, and the court, upon receipt of such presentment, proceeded against the defendant's protest and objection that the court was without jurisdiction to act in the matter, to take testimony, and without other proceedings and without a jury trial committed him to the reform school during his minority, the judgment is void, his parents, his natural guardians not being parties to the proceeding, and the minor is discharged from custody.—Ex parte Becknell, 119 Cal. 496, 51 Pac. 692.

COMMITMENTS.

ACT 5583—An act relating to commitments to the state school at Whittier and to the Preston school of industry; fixing the authority to examine and commit to such schools with the superior judges of the counties, and fixing the responsibilities from which commitments are made to the state for maintenance of the persons committed therefrom; providing for the manner of payment thereof, and fixing the responsibility of the parents to the counties from which their children are committed.

History: Approved March 26, 1895, Stats. 1895, p. 122. Probably superseded as to commitments by the juvenile court law. See History of act, ante, Act 5581.

Only superior judges shall commit to Whittier and Preston schools. Parents shall pay.

§ 1. The superior judge of any county, and no other judicial officer, shall have power to examine, discharge, or commit any offender either to the Whittier state school or to the Preston school of industry; provided, that the superior judge shall determine whether or not the parent or guardian of any minor committed to the Whittier state school or to the Preston school of industry is able to pay to the county in which the commitment is made for the maintenance of such minor during the term of such commitment; and when the superior judge shall determine that said parent or guardian has the ability to pay as aforesaid for the maintenance of such minor during the term of such confinement, the parent or parents or guardian shall pay into the treasury of such county the sum of eleven dollars per month in advance; and in case of the failure to pay the same as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the district attorney of such county to proceed to collect the amount from such parent, parents, or guardian in the manner that other indebtedness against the county is collected.

Counties shall pay.

§ 2. For each and every person hereafter committed to either the Whittier state school or the Preston school of industry, the county from which the commitment is made shall pay into the state treasury the sum of one hundred and thirty-two dollars per annum, and at that rate for each fraction of a year.

Duty of clerk of court. Duty of county treasurer.

§ 3. It is hereby made the duty of the clerk of the superior court of the county from which such commitment is made, to certify to the county auditor the name, age, and date of commitment of each person committed by the superior judge thereof, and the amount due to the state from the county by reason of such commitments, and before the first day of May and December of each and every year to file with the treasurer of the county a statement of the number of commitments, with the date thereof, and the amount due from the county by reason of such commitments, to the state treasurer; and it is further made the duty of the county treasurer during the settlement or at the time of the settlement with the state during the months of May and December of each year, to pay to the state treasurer, through the state controller, the amount so found to be due to the state by reason of commitments to the state schools as herein provided.

Duty of superintendents of state schools.

§ 4. The superintendent of the state school at Whittier and the Preston school of industry are hereby required to transmit to the state treasurer a statement of all commitments to their respective institutions, showing the name of the person committed, the date of the commitment, and the county from which the commitment is made, and the amount due to the state from the county by reason of such commitments; said statement to be made quarterly, as follows: on or before the first day of January, the first day of April, the first day of July, and the first day of October of each year; and it is hereby made the duty of the controller of state to add the amounts due to the state from said counties such sum as may be shown to be due by reason of commitments to such schools, as in section two of this act provided.

Conflicting acts repealed.

§ 5. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Act takes effect when.

§ 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

ACQUISITION OF PROPERTY.

ACT 5585—An act to authorize the trustees of the Preston school of industry and the Whittier state school to acquire property by gift, bequest or devise.

History: Approved March 6, 1909, Stats. 1909, p. 149.

Receiving and administering bequests.

§ 1. The board of trustees of the Preston school of industry and the board of trustees of the Whittier state school shall each have power to receive by gift, bequest or devise any property, real or personal, and administer the same for the purpose of the school under the control of each of said boards, and in accordance with any lawful conditions attached to such gift, bequest or devise. The title of such property shall vest in the state, unless a different disposition is made in the instrument declaring such gift, bequest or devise.

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

DEPARTMENT FOR DEFECTIVES.

ACT 5586—An act authorizing the board of trustees of Whittier state school to maintain a department for the care and training of defective persons and for the study of mental defectiveness at the Whittier state school and to provide for the commitment of defective persons thereto.

History: Approved June 11, 1915. In effect August 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1439.

Department of Whittier for defectives.

§ 1. The board of trustees of Whittier state school are hereby authorized and empowered to maintain on the property of the Whittier state school a department for the care, training, confinement, discipline and instruction of defective persons, and for the study of mental defectiveness and the proper care of defective persons.

Management.

§ 2. Under the direction of said board of trustees the superintendent of Whittier state school shall have supervision over the said department. The trustees of the Whittier state school, and any superintendent whom they may appoint, shall respectively exercise the same powers with relation to said department for defective persons and the inmates thereof, as are now exercised by them under the law regulating the management of the Whittier state school.

Admission of defectives.

§ 3. Commitment or admission to said department for defective persons at Whittier state school may be made in the same manner and upon the same terms and upon the same payments by persons responsible therefor, or by the several counties, with the same provision for payment as now provided by law in the case of the Sonoma state home; provided, however, that no person ordered committed by the court shall be received except upon application first made to the trustees of said Whittier state school and the ascertainment that the person committed or to be committed will be received and cared for by said institution; and the said trustees are hereby authorized to reject said application and refuse to accept any and all such persons whenever in their judgment it is best or proper so to do, it being the intention that the said board of trustees shall determine the number and character and mental status of the persons who can best be cared for in said department for defective persons.

Committee to make recommendations.

§ 4. The superintendent and trustees of the said Whittier state school together with two persons to be designated by the Psychopathic Association of California are hereby authorized and empowered to prepare and present to the next session of the state legislature of the state of California recommendations regarding the establishing of an institution for the care, training, confinement, discipline and instruction of defective persons, together with recommendations as to the best methods to be employed in conducting the same, the character of buildings and equipment best adapted to the purpose, and as to a suitable location for such an institutions.

DEPARTMENT OF CLINICAL DIAGNOSIS.

ACT 5587—An act authorizing the board of trustees of the Whittier state school to maintain a department for the clinical diagnosis of inmates of the school and other state institutions, and to inquire into the causes and consequences of delinquency and mental deficiency, and related problems.

History: Approved May 11, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 422.

Department of clinical diagnosis at Whittier state school.

§ 1. The board of trustees of the Whittier state school is hereby authorized and empowered to maintain on the property of the school, a department for the clinical diagnosis of the inmates of the school, and of such other state institutions as may, from time to time, request assistance from said department, such request to be approved by the state board of control. This department shall also carry on research into the causes and consequences of delinquency and mental deficiency, and shall inquire into social, education and psychological problems relating thereto, and for that purpose may make such investigations and inquiries in the said institutions, when so requested, and elsewhere as may be deemed advantageous. The state board of control may apportion the expenses of the said department, among the different institutions receiving the benefit of the work of the department, in such manner as it may deem proper.

Clinical psychologist and assistants.

§ 2. The said department shall be under the direction of a clinical psychologist, subject to the control of the superintendent of the said school. The said psychologist shall be given a sufficient staff of trained assistants that the intelligence level of each inmate may be established through the standardized psychological tests, supplemented by personal and family history and data from such other lines of investigation as may seem advisable, and that such other work may be done as may be undertaken by the department. The said psychologist and assistants shall be employed by the said superintendent, with the approval of the said board of trustees and at compensation satisfactory to it.

SALE OF PROPERTY.

ACT 5588—An act empowering the board of trustees of the Whittier state school to sell all or any portion of the property heretofore acquired for the use of the Whittier state school, and to appropriate the proceeds for the purpose of re-establishing the said school elsewhere.

History: Approved May 27, 1919. In effect July 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1282.

Authorization for sale of property of Whittier state school.

§ 1. The board of trustees of the Whittier state school, subject to the approval of the state board of control, is hereby authorized and empowered to sell all or any portion of the property heretofore acquired for the use of the Whittier state school, being part of the Rancho Paso de Bartolo Viejo, and part also of the southeast quarter of section twenty and the northwest quarter of section twenty-eight, township two south, range eleven west, San Bernardino base and meridian, containing in all two hundred four and three hundred eighty-nine thousandths acres more or less, and now used and occupied by the said school, and also that certain tract in the city of Whittier known as "the old reservoir site" which is more particularly described as follows: Commencing at the southwest corner of lot five in block "C" of Pickering Land and Water Company subdivision and running north parallel with Greenleaf avenue two hundred feet to a point; thence running east at right angles and parallel with Hadley street two hundred feet to a point; thence running south at right angles and parallel with Greenleaf avenue two hundred feet to a point; thence running west at right angles two hundred feet to the place of beginning. Such sale shall be made only after said property shall have been appraised by three disinterested persons appointed by the board of trustees, and after publication for not less than thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation, published in the county of Los Angeles, which notice shall describe the property to be sold, and shall set forth the terms of sale, and the date on or before which bids therefor will be received, and where such bids will be received; and said board of trustees shall have the right to reject any and all bids, and call for new bids by like publication of notice.

Purchase of new site.

The proceeds from such sale or sales shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the contingent fund of the Whittier state school, all or any part of which may be expended with the approval of the state board of control in the purchase of a new site for said school and for the making of improvements, and the erection of buildings thereon; provided, however, that the Whittier state school shall not be discontinued at its present location unless another location is secured for it elsewhere in the state. The said site shall be selected by a site selecting committee composed of the superintendent and trustees of the Whittier state school, the state engineer, a member named by the board of trustees of the Preston school of industry and a member named by the state board of charities and corrections. The said committee, if they consider it advisable, and subject to the approval of the state board of control, may also purchase water rights, or make provision for the development of water for the use of said lands. The state department of engineering shall, at the request of the said committee, examine into the matter of water, light, power and sanitation and the engineering problems involved in connection with any site or sites the board may investigate with a view to purchasing and shall report thereon to the said committee with special regard to the suitability of such site or sites for the purposes of the institution.

Assistance from University of California.

The University of California shall render the said committee such reasonable assistance as the committee may desire in determining the quality and character of the soil of such site or sites for agricultural, horticultural and other purposes and its suitability for the purposes of the institution.

Expenses of investigations.

The said committee, the said department of engineering, and the said university shall be entitled to receive their necessary expenses in connection with such investigations and the selection and purchase of said site.

Plans for development of property purchased.

The said committee may also prepare plans for the development for state school purposes of such property as may be purchased and for buildings to be erected thereon.

ACT 5645. CESSION TO UNITED STATES OF EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION.

5646. REGRANT TO UNITED STATES.

CESSION TO UNITED STATES OF EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION.

ACT 5645—An act to cede to the United States exclusive jurisdiction over Yosemite national park, Sequoia national park, and General Grant national park in the state of California.

History: Approved April 15, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 74.

Jurisdiction over national parks ceded to United States.

§ 1. Exclusive jurisdiction shall be and the same is hereby ceded to the United States over and within all of the territory which is now or may hereafter be included in those several tracts of land in the state of California set aside and dedicated for park purposes by the United States as "Yosemite national park," "Sequoia national park," and "General Grant national park" respectively; saving, however, to the state of California the right to serve civil or criminal process within the limits of the aforesaid parks in suits or prosecutions for or on account of rights acquired, obligations incurred or crimes committed in said state outside of said parks; and saving further, to the said state the right to tax persons and corporations, their franchises and property on the lands included in said parks, and the right to fix and collect license fees for fishing in said parks; and saving also to the persons residing in any of said parks now or hereafter the right to vote at all elections held within the county or counties in which said parks are situate; provided, however, that jurisdiction shall not vest until the United States through the proper officer notifies the state of California that they assume police jurisdiction over said parks.

REGRANT TO THE UNITED STATES.

ACT 5646—To recede and regrant unto the United States of America, the "Yosemite Valley," and the land embracing the "Mariposa Big Tree Grove."

History: Approved March 3, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 54.

Yosemite Valley receded to the United States.

§ 1. The state of California does hereby recede and regrant unto the United States of America, the "Cleft" or "Gorge" in the granite peak of the Sierra Nevada mountains, situated in the county of Mariposa, state of California, and the headwaters of the Merced river, and known as the Yosemite Valley, with its branches or spurs, granted unto the state of California in trust for public use, resort and recreation by the act of congress entitled "An act authorizing a grant to the state of California of the Yosemite Valley and of the land embracing the 'Mariposa Big Tree Grove,'" approved June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four; and the state of California does hereby relinquish unto the United States of America and resign the trusts created and granted by the said act of congress.

Mariposa Big Tree Grove ceded to United States.

§ 2. The state of California does hereby recede and regrant unto the United States of America, the tracts embracing what is known as the "Mariposa Big Tree Grove," granted unto the state of California in trust for public use, resort and recreation by the act of congress referred to in section one of this act; and the state of California does hereby relinquish unto the United States of America and resign the trusts created and granted by the said act of congress.

Time of taking effect. Property to be held for public use. Cost of maintenance.

§ 3. This act shall take effect from and after acceptance by the United States of America of the recessions and regrants herein made, thereby forever releasing the state of California from further cost of maintaining the said premises, the same to be held for all time by the United States of America for public use, resort and recreation, and imposing on the United States of America the cost of maintaining the same as a national park. Provided, however, that the recession and regrant hereby made shall not affect vested rights and interests of third persons.

The Yosemite Valley and Mariposa big tree grove were ceded to and were accepted by the state of California April 2, 1866, Stats. 1865-66, p. 710.
